A TREMENDOUS VOTE POLLED THROUGHOUT THE BRITISH ISLES

Outstanding Feature of Elections is Sweeping Gains by the Labor Party—Conservatives Have Secured a Working Majority for Bonar Law.

RETURNS NOT ALL IN

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press.) — Prime Minister Bonar Law had secured a majority of twelve over all other parties in the new House of Commons when the returns for 545 of 615 divisions had been received late this afternoon. Inasmuch as there are three non-voting members, including the Speaker, thereby making the number necessary for a bare majority 307. The Conservatives up to that time had captured 319 seats.

This did not mean, however, that the Prime Minister already had obtained a so-called working majority, as support of some of the Conservatives will be limited on many questions, but Conservatives were looking to remaining 70 seats to swell their numbers and increase their lead over the combined opposition Thus far three members of Mr. Bonar Law's government have been defeated, namely, Sir Arthur Griffith Boscawen, Minister of Health, W. A. Watson, Lord Advocate, and Lieut.-Col. Geo. F. Stanley, Under Secretary of Home Office. In the case of Lt.-Col. Watson, it is announced that he will retain his office an another seat be found for him and it is assumed the same will be true of the others. The feature of the electoin was the number of seats gained by the Labor party, which enters the House with by far the largest number of members in the party's history. With 70 seats yet to be heard from, Laborites had rolled up the big total of 120 members as against 76 they had in the last House. Their gains were mainly at the expense of Conservatives and the Georgian Liberals. Opponents of Labor claim that the latter's successes were due to the split in the vote. On the other hand the Labor leaders assert that Labor is coming into its own and the result of its policies of working for poverty-stricken population and for the peace of the world.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(Special.)—A tremendous vote was polled throughout the British Isles, despite inclement weather in many districts, and the women outnumbered the men at the polls. Of the thirty-three women candidates, however, Lady Astor was the only one known to be elected up to noon to-day. Lady Cooper, whose husband retired in her favour, was beaten in Walsall.

Two outstanding features of the elections up to noon were the sweeping gains of Labor and the setback to Lloyd George's Liberals. The latter had lost between 25 and 30 seats, while Labor had gained 38. This latter phenomenon led to the much early talk of Labor having defeated Bonar Law, but Conservatives confidently expected that as the results from the outlying districts came in, the Premier would be found to have a sufficient majority, if not the large one for which they had hoped. First returns were from the large industrial districts where voting was done early and counted early, and this led to the initial display of Labor strength.

Here and there throughout the country there were Labor landslides, hurled notably in Glasgow, where Labor candidates won ten out of the fifteen seats, a net gain of 8 in Bonar Law's own territory.

Conservatives in Lead.

The Conservatives were well in the lead on a showing of votes counted at noon to-day, despite the Labor party's great inroads into normally Conservative territories. It was still doubtful this afternoon, however, if Bonar Law had obtained more than a bare majority.

There remained the result from 239 constituencies to be heard from on the early standing reported. The Conservatives had gained 13 seats and lost 32, Labor had gained 38 and lost 6, support of Asquith had gained 3 and lost 5; Lloyd Georgians had gained 3 and lost 25, while the Independents had gained 7 and lost 6. Lady Astor, former a Virginia beauty, was re-elected by a plurality of 300 over her Labor opponent, Captain Brenan, with the Liberal, Dr. Bayly, a poor third.

Premier Bonar Law was elected, Lloyd George was returned unopposed, J. H. Thomas, Labor leader, was "in" by a big majority.

Conservatives Safe.

LONDON, Nov. 16. —(Canadian Press.) — At 4.30 o'clock returns showed the Conservatives to have more than the necessary 308 for a

WANTS $5,000 FOR REMOVING 400 OFF BOAT

Hilaire Guerin Sues the Owners of the Rapids Prince—Refused a Bonus —Others Failed.

HAD A HELPER

MONTREAL, Nov. 16.—For the hazard and work in rescuing the 450 passengers from the Rapids Prince when she struck a rock in the Lachine Rapids on Sunday, July 10 last, Hilaire Guerin, the Laprairie boatsman who made 100 odd trips through the swirling whirlpool in a frail craft and succeeded in safely landing passengers and crew, is suing the Canada Steamship Lines, Limited, for $5,000. The action is set for hearing in Superior Court before Mr. Justice Cousineau to-day.

At the same time, Josaphat Cardinal, who assisted Guerin, asks for $2,500. Guerin states that while he is claiming only $5,000 for his efforts and as compenstaion for the risk he took, he considers his accomplishment as beyond all estimate. He was paid $15 a day for the two weeks in which he was employed by the company, he says, and the company offered him $500 as a bonus, which he refused.

Guerin, in his statement of facts, says that he is an experienced boatsman, having, since early childhood, piloted rafts down the St. Lawrence rapids between Kingston and Quebec as an employe of the noted lumber shipper Hiram A. Calvin. He thus mastered the intricacies of the seething currents, and particularly studied the Lachine Rapids.

Others Failed.

When, on the night of the accident, he heard the steamer's help signals, he was one of the first of twenty or more of the shore residents who volunteered to reach the boat in small craft of various kinds. However, such was the difficulty experienced in negotiating the stiff currents and whirling rapids that he only was enabled to reach the stranded steamer. He got aboard, and immediately took on one of the boat's officers, who asked to be taken to Montreal to report the accident. He brought the man to Victoria pier, where, he says, he met J. W. Norcross, vice-president of the company, who ordered, Guerin avers, everything possible to be done to bring food to the passengers on the ill-fated steamer. Accordingly he conveyed supplies to the boat throughout the night, and the next morning started to land the passengers.

By a stratagem initiated and tried out several times by himself, he succeeded in bringing every one of the 450 men, women and children ashore. On the return trips he would bring more food to the remaining excursionists. He estimates that 100 double voyages were made in this venture. The danger of the proceedings, which was to lower the people into a lifeboat secured by a hawser to the side of the steamer, and allow it to drift in the current out of the main whirlpool, where the other small boats transferred them to shore, is evidenced, he says, by the fact that one of the crew, a steward named Ross, was drowned in trying to reach shore.

Helped By Cardinal.

In his work he was assisted by Josaphat Cardinal, the only person beside himself who would dare to challenge the rapids. For over two weeks the two continued their work, lightering the steamer and supplying food to the crew. Guerin says that the crew refused to remain aboard unless he consented to remain there day and night, so he was obliged to sleep on the "Rapids Prince."

The company, in renewing its offer of $500 to Guerin for his work, denies that there was any convention between it and the men as to what they should receive, and deny Guerin's allegation that the president had promised him a bonus before he undertook the work. The company says this was done only after he threatened to abandon the project when about half the passengers had been taken ashore.

POISON DEATH CASE CLOSING UP FOR STATE

MARRIES AGAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 16. — Another section of the net of evidence which is slowly encircling two women, Mrs. Tillie Klimen and Mrs. Nellie Stermer-Koulik, alleged perpetrators of perhaps a dozen or more poisonings, was woven yesterday by the testimony of two mysterious witnesses.

The stories of these two witnesses, both women, came after Assistant State's Attorney William F. McLaughlin had announced that he already had enough evidence to go before the grand jury and obtain indictments on charges of murder. That the new witnesses are considered the most important development since the police first began delving into the ramifications of the poison mystery, which centers around the matrimonial ventures of the accused women, was evidenced by the great care used to keep the identity of the women secret.

Volunteer to Aid State.

The two witnesses voluntarily communicated with Mr. McLaughlin through a third party, and the prosecutor deemed the disclosures they promised to make so startling that he ordered them taken to the south side office of the state's attorney in the county building rather than to the Criminal court building, where the inquiry is being handled.

Notified that the women were ready, Mr. McLaughlin left his office without a word of explanation to the other investigators or the half a dozen witnesses waiting to be questioned and hurried to the south side office. He was closeted with the mysterious women for more than an hour and when he returned to the Criminal court building he refused to say where he had been.

Gets "Material Evidence."

Pressed for an explanation he admitted that he had conferred with two witnesses but refused to say who they were or what they had told him.

"All that I can say is that I have uncovered some very material evidence in the case," he said. "The publishing of the names of these witnesses would greatly hamper the state in its investigation of these crimes and undoubtedly would immediately close several important sources of information."

From other reliable sources, however, it was learned that the two women were former neighbors of Mrs. Klimek and friends of Mrs. Koulik, and their testimony had to do with the death of one of Mrs. Kilmek's husbands.

Buys Coffin Before Death.

They told the prosecutor, it is said, that while this husband was ill, Mrs. Klimek made numerous references to the fact that he was not going to live long. One day, a short time before he died, it is said, she talked with the two women and told them that she had bought a coffin and asked permission to store it in their apartment until her husband's death.

"My husband is not going to live much longer," she is reported to have said, "so I saw a coffin that was cheap to-day and I bought it. Can I leave it with you until he dies?"

Prepares Mourning Gown.

Permission was granted for the storing of the coffin, which, it developed, had been purchased from an undertaker for $30, and when the husband died it was moved into the house and the remains placed in it. Previous to the death, however, Mrs. Klimek, so the story ran, sat beside her husband, talking of his illness, assuring him that it was fatal, and calmly sewing on her mourning hat and dress. After the death and with the body still in the room, Mrs. Klimek, it is said, played dance music on the phonograph. Three months later she was married again.

In an effort to pierce the veil which clouds Mrs. Klimek's activities between 1914 and 1919, Lieut. Malone and Detective Sergeants Balata and Swenson yesterday brought in nearly a dozen witnesses for examination. It was in January, 1914, that Mrs. Klimek's first husband, Joseph Mitkiewicz, died.

Second Mate Dies.

In a few weeks she was married again and in May, John Rdszkakski, husband No. 2, passed away. A few months later came the death, under mysterious circumstances, of John Guszkowski, a sweetheart, to whom Mrs. Klimek is alleged to have confessed that she poisoned her two husbands and asked him to marry her. He laughed at her proposal and in a short time he too was dead.

From the death of Guszkowski to the marriage of Frank Kupczyk in 1919 there is an apparent blank in the life of the woman. Neighbors in the many places she lived during the intetrim tell of mysterious men who

FOUR BROKERS ARE ARRESTED

Charged With Conspiracy to Defraud the Public and Creditors of Half a Million.

TORONTO, Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press.) — Four men were arrested last night on charges of "conspiracy to defraud the public and their creditors of $500,000."

Charges arising out of the failure last March of the brokerage firm of Bryant, Isard & Co. One arrest was effected in Toronto and three in Montreal. Those held are: Adin E. Bryant, arrested in the office of Bryant Bros., C.P.R. building. Bail was fixed at $20,000.

Norris P. Bryant, brother of Adin Bryant, Chester G. Fickett, bookkeeper Andrew Dunn, alleged to have acted in an advisory capacity to the firm. Latter three were arrested in Montreal by Detective Sergeants Thomson and Koster, of Toronto. The firm of Bryant, Isard and Co. assigned on March 3 and the trustee named was John L. Thorne, of the firm of Thorne, Mutheil and Howson and McPherson, chartered accountants, Toronto. Mr. Thorne took possession of the books and it is alleged that investigation showed liabilities of $800,000 and assets of $300,000.

Investigation showed, the Crown alleges, that Charles Isard, of the firm, held a seat on the Toronto Stock Exchange. It is further claimed that Adin E. Bryant held a seat on the Chicago Board of Trade, and that it was through the Chicago connection the firm did most of its dealings. It is charged that $65,000 was lost dealing in Chicago. Norris P. Bryant was not listed as a member of the firm of Bryant, Isard & Co., but the Crown alleges that he was a member and involved in its operations. Fickett, the bookkeeper, is alleged to have made false entries for fraudulent purposes.

USE ARMOUR HILL FOR A MEMORIAL PARK.

With reference to the question of Armour Hill being converted into a Memorial Park by the city, T. Tooms, M.L.A., took the matter up with Mr. Zavitz, Chief of the Forestry Department of the Provincial Government, as requested by Mrs. R. H. Parsons, President of the East City Patriotic Association, which association is working in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce and the Horticultural Society in this matter.

Mr. Zavitz assured Mr. Tooms he would be pleased to come down and go over the ground with the representatives of these societies and city officials, to examine the soil and make recommendations; also the department would supply the small trees and shrubbery necessary for the reforestration of the park.

Mr. Tooms has requested Mr. Zavitz to state a date it would be convenient for him to come to Peterborough when the different organizations will send their representatives to accompany him over the ground.

THE WEATHER

Snow flakes gently descending this afternoon betoken the advent of colder weather. Several have questioned me as to when we should have our so-called Indian Summer. In former years it usually came between the 5th and 20th of November—after a fall of snow—and generally lasted for a week or ten days, and some years for two weeks. But like social, political, religious and economic conditions generally the weather has also got out of gear, and slipped a cog, so to speak. For the past ten or fifteen years Indian summer has appeared very irregularly, and during the last three or four it has failed entirely to come at its accustomed time—or at any time. — W. P.

STOLE GUN FROM THE POLICE STATION.

Tom Fallon Took Advantage of Kindness as a Night Lodger.

His theft of a revolver from the Police Station sharpened the sleuthing sense of the police in their search for Thomas Fallon, a young man, who was finally located early this morning asleep in a barn on Hunter Street, and remanded for a week.

Fallon was out of work and luck, as the police tell it, and called at the Station for a night's lodging, which was cordially given him.

Treating him in a kindly way he was permitted to sit in the guard room, and while Constable Puffer was called to the telephone, Fallon, it is alleged, sneaked over to the lockers and stole P. C. Puffer's "gat" and an issue of cartridges.

When the constable returned to the guard room to continue some secretarial work, he noticed nothing changed in his absence, and it was only after Fallon had departed that the revolver was missed. He was suspected of the theft, and when arrested the revolver was found in his possession and identified in Court this morning.

Attorney-General for Manitoba Makes a Statement on Temperance Issue.

OTTAWA, November 16. Canadian Press. — Hon. R. W. Craig, the Attorney-General for Manitoba, said this morning that the statements of Rev. C. W. Gordon, "Ralph Conner," before the Presbyterian synod of that province regarding the efforts of the anti-temperance interests to bribe members of the Provincial government, were made without his authority. Mr. Craig did not deny Dr. Gordon's statement that an offer of $50,00 had been made to him if he would let temperance law go. He had, he said, talked over certain matters privately with Dr. Gordon, but he preferred not to make any statement for publication.

REPRESENTATIVE PARTY TO VISIT SCENE OF FIRE

Presidents of Ontario Boards of Trade Will Accompany Relief Com. to Northern Ontario.

REPORT CONDITIONS

That the public of old Ontario and the Dominion in general do not exactly realize the magnitude of the disaster which has befallen fire-swept Northern Ontario, seems to be reflected in the organization of a party of representative men to visit the scene and report on conditions. This party include Northern Ontario Fire Relief Committee, Presidents of Boards of Trade throughout Ontario and the press. They will leave Toronto for the North on Friday evening.

President Joseph J. Duffus of the local Chamber of Commerce will make the trip in response to the following invitations from Premiers King and Drury and Lieut-Governor Henry Cockshutt of this province

"Jos. J. Duffus, Esq.

"I think it much in public interest that you should see actual conditions in Ontario devastated regions and would therefore recommend that you accompany Northern Ontario fire relief committee through fire zone on Friday night

"Mackenzie King,
"Prime Minister."

"Jos J. Duffus, Esq.

"You are invited to join party on special train leaving Toronto Friday night, November seventeenth to visit scene of recent fire. Returning arrive Toronto Tuesday morning. Your transportation from Toronto supplied; wire reply to North ern Ontario fire relief committee, Toronto

"E. C. Drury, Premier."

"Jos. J. Duffus, Esq.

"The disaster by fire in Northern Ontario has been so severe as to call for the co-operation of all citizens and I heartily agree with the suggestion of the General Committee in charge of relief that the Presidents of the Board of Trade throughout Ontario should visit the stricken areas by the special train which will leave Toronto on Friday evening of this week in order later on to place the great needs of the North properly before their communities.

"Henry Cockshutt,
Lieut-Governor of Ontario.

On his return Mr. Duffus will report to the Chamber of Commerce and the public here conditions as he finds them in the stricken areas, and suggest what measures should be taken to assure relief for fire suffers being adequate not only for the present, but for the coming winter.

HAMBURG MANAGER TO FORM A NEW CABINET.

EIGHT CHIMNEY FIRES HERE THIS NOVEMBER.

Six of Which, Fire Chief Says, Originated from Burning Soft Coal and Wood.

Yesterday morning at 11.02, the local fire brigade was summoned to 629 Downie street to extinguish a chimney fire. Out of eight alarms this month, six have been calls to chimney fires. The cause of so many of these fires stated Fire Chief George Gimblett this morning, is due to unclean chimneys caused by the burning of soft coal and wood. The soot accumulates quicker from the soft coal and wood fires than from the anthracite. It is considered a necessary precaution that chimneys be cleaned out oftener when burning soft fuel.

STOVE COLD AND NO FUEL ON HAND

That the poor are very nearly always with us may not be often impressed upon the general public, but it is a comparatively frequent experience of Relief Officer Miller's In several homes he visited this week he found conditions of extreme want, and perhaps improvidence as an underlying cause. In one house the stove hadn't known a fire that day, nor was there any fuel about the place. What food they had that day was cooked at the next door neighbour's. In another home, the husband was working but it was stated that his wages had been garnisheed, and there was no money left to buy food.

Mr. Miller reports that several applications of relief have been made this week by men who were kept by the public last winter. One of them declared that he couldn't get work, and when told that men were wanted in the shanties he said that his rheumatism would come back on him. Finally this man left a few days ago for the woods, but he intimated that he would probably be forced to give it up in a week. In other words he was trying to disarm the Relief Officer of his attitude that no man who is able to earn will get a toe hold on the city's relief this winter.

Prince Makes Late Dancing Popular In London City

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(Associated Press)—The popularity of the cabaret and the evening dances in London's fashionable West End restaurants is returning, and the reason therefore seems to be in no small measure due to the Prince of Wales and his brothers.

Immediately after his return from the Far East, the Prince appeared at several well known restaurants for the late supper and dance, accompanied generally by the Duke of York or Prince Henry, and a party of friends. Also since the return of the Prince from Scotland he has been seen at several of these dances, and so have his brothers.

The Royal visitors applaud heartily the entertainment and music, but only occasionally take part in the dancing. The mere fact that they are present, however, is enough for the West Ender, and the places are crowded nightly in hopes that some members of the royal family will be present.

Work of National Institution For Blind Extends Into All Provinces

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind has grown out of unco-ordinated work for the blind existing in various parts of Canada.

The Institute was incorporated in March, 1918, under a Dominion charter, and since then its activities have steadily extended.

Work for the blind had been carried on for many years by organisations in the Eastern Provinces.

These various activities have been concerned mostly with the education of blind children. With the formation of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, the work of educating and assisting the blind adults of Canada was consolidated and extended.

The Institute really had its beginning in the work of the Canadian Free Library for the Blind, which had a modest origin in the village of Markham in 1906. Distribution of literature from this centre increased so rapidly that in October, 1911, it was removed to Toronto and housed in the basement of the Western branch of the Public Library. In 1916, the present residence at 142 College Street, was secured and the work materially assisted by the Canadian Women's Association for the Welfare of the Blind.

The work of the institute now extends into all Provinces of Canada, while Manitoba and Saskatchewan have a local board with offices at Winnipeg, and the Maritime division is also locally organized with offices at Halifax. The head office of the Canadian National Institute is at Toronto. Here operations of a national and general character are administered.

It is in aid of this worthy institution that the public are asked to contribute generously on tag day, Saturday.

ONE KILLED AND TWO INJURED IN RAIL ACCIDENT

Head-on Collision Near North Bay Results in the Death of Fireman Gordon Kay.

TWO FREIGHTS.

NORTH BAY, Ont., Nov. 16. — (Canadan Press.)—Fireman Gordon Kay aged 32, of North Bay, is dead and two others, W. Ross, Engineer, and L. W. Brennan, are slightly injured as a result of a head-on collision between two freight trains at Mileage 68 on the T. and N.O. 3 1-2 miles south of Temagami at one o'clock yesterday afternoon. An investigation into causes of the derailment will be held in North Bay this morning.

The following official statement was Landed out by Chairman G. W. Lee, of the T. and N. O. Commission at 4.30 yesterday afternoon: "Engines 138 and 134 met in a head-on collision at Mileage 68 at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon causing a great deal of damage to both engines. Two cars are demolished and six derailed. The fireman on 134, Gordon Kay, is killed, Engineer W. Ross is slightly injured and Brakeman L. W. Brennan is also slightly injured. Two auxiliaries, one from Englehart and one from North Bay, are rushing to the scene of the wreck. We have run a special train from Cobalt to the scene with doctors and nurses. Extent of the damage will not be known for some time."

A later statement said that both auxiliaries had arrived at the wreck and it was hoped that the track would be cleared, the engines pulled apart, the cars rerailed and traffic moving by 10 o'clock to-night.

Details of the accident are that the engines of freight train No. 85 north bound, and a way freight, southbound, interlocked with terrific force when they met in a head-long impact. The trains were in charge of Conductors Kennedy and Courette respectively.

Gordon Kay, who was killed, leaves a wife and three children. He was born at Guelph, Ont.

Premier Bonar Law Won Majority Necessary To Form A Government

Results of the British Elections Are Turning Out to Be Much Closer Than Was Expected—Lloyd George Was Returned Unopposed—Extensive Gains For Labor.

BONAR LAW HAD 169 SEATS AT NOON AND WILL HAVE A CLEAR MAJORITY IN THE NEXT HOUSE

LONDON, November 16 (By Lloyd Allan, United Press Staff Correspondent). — Premier Bonar Law appears to have won the majority of Parliamentary seats his Government requires, but the results of the British general elections are turning out to be much closer than was expected.

Th division of seats in the new British Parliament on the basis of the returns received up to noon to day, including uncontested districts, was as follows:

Conservatives, 166.
Asquith Liberals, 29.
Labour, 68.
Georgian Liberals, 21.
Other Parties, 8.

Labourites' rally to the polls showed thoroughness of party organisation and keenness to carry their men to victory. Their success was striking in the northern industrial areas, espcially in Glasgow, where seat after seat fell to their attack.

It is noteworthy that their triumphs came in the constituencies where they were regarded as most likely, and it is expected that to-day's later returns will show similar gains as the rural districts are heard from.

Conservatives, although maintaining up to the present their majority over other parties, have already suffered very serious losses, these being only slightly fewer than Labour's gains.

Majorities by which the Conservatives were returned at last elections are also much reduced where they were re-elected, the case of Prime Minister Bonar Law being typical. The Premier yesterday was returned over the Labourite candidate in the Central Division of Glasgow by a margin of only 2,514, whereas in the previous election his majority was 12,915.

Of the women candidates, Viscountess Astor is the only one returned thus far, and her victory was won by a closer margin than when she was first sent to Parliament to represent the Sutton Division of Plymouth.

Lady Cooper, running as a Conservative to succeed her husband, Sir Richard Cooper, who retired to make way for her, was defeated by the Liberal candidate in Walsall by only 525 votes out of the 29,223 votes polled by the two candidates.

POLLING WAS HEAVY

Early returns indicate that the polling was much heavier than in the 1918 elections. There was a great increase in the Liberal and Labor vote, this being especially noticeable in Yarmouth, Barnsley and Oxford.

A heavy Labor gain was recorded in the Clayton Rivision of Manchester, and a recount is necessary because of the closeness of the candidates. In the last election the Unionist had a good majority over the Laborite.

Barnsley was a Labour gain, the Laborite, J. S. Potts, polling 14,728 against Colonel Maurice Moore, Georgian with 12,011.

Great Yarmouth registered the first change, the Liberal, Arthur Harbord, with 9,835, defeating Lieut. Col. G. Dew. Crookshank, Conservative 8,197 and the Labour candidate Arthur Whiting, 2,574.

Was Re-elected

Sir Robert Stevenson Horne, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, was re-elected for the Hillhead division of Glasgow by a substantial majority

In the Clayton Division, Manchester, the Conservatives gained the seat by a majority of only eleven, the figures being:

W. H. Flanagan, Conservative,—14,800; J. E. Sutton, Labor,—14,789.

John Robert Clynes, one of the prominent Labor leaders, was elected for the Platting Division of Manchester, with 15,683; Frank A. Holmes, Conservative, 14,814. Mr. Clynes was unopposed in the last election.

Joseph Devlin who formerly represented the Falls Division of Belfast, but on his withdrawal from that constituency was made the Nationalist candidate in Exchange Division of Liverpool, was defeated. The Conservative, Sir Leslie Scott, polled 15,650; Devlin, 12,814.

At Liverpool, Fairfield Division, Major J. B. B. Cohen, Conservative was re-elected, polling 14,316; G Porter, Labor polled 8,838. Major Cohen's vote was nearly twice that in the last election.

The Asquithian Liberal Lt.-Col. John Ward gained a seat in Stoke-on Trent, against the Laborite, J. Watts The vote was 16,885 to 10,722.

Huddersfield presented remarkably close voting with an Asquithian gain —Sir A. Marshall. Asquithian 15,879; J. H. Hudson, Labor, 15,673 Sir Charles Sykes, Georgian, formely Coalition-Liberal member, 15,212.

Battersea, North was a Labor gain —S. Saklatvala, Labor, — 11,311; Henry C. Hogbin, Georgian, 9,290; V. C. Albu, Liberal, 1,756.

LONDON IN BEST BIB AND TUCKER FOR BALLOTING

Large Crowds Gather at Early Hour to Await the Announcement of the Results.

LITTLE CHEERING.

LONDON, November 16 (Canadian Press). — Long before nine o'clock last night, when it was expected the first returns would be coming in, all the trains and buses from the suburbs were crowded with people going towards central London. They came partly to get the election results and partly for a night of general jollification.

Whitechapel and the East-end sent their tens of thousands, a majority of them young people in their best clothes.

Fleet Street, where the newspaper offices are clustered, attracted its full share of crowds; it was so blocked that wheeled traffic had trouble to plough.

Most of the revellers found greater attractions around Piccadilly Circus, but the big department stores, with various devices such as huge thermometers and electric schemes for displaying the news, appeared the mot popular centre. Famous newspaper cartoonists were employed by some of these to amuse the spectators with pictures on great blackboards between bulletins.

Motors of all descriptions rolled about the outskirts of the crowd, some with ladies in furs, others packed wit\ humbler suburbanites, nearly all of them flaunting placards with names of candidates.

There was a good sprinkling of soldiers from the different Guards regiments, who recentyl resumed the old custom of wearing their blazing scarlet tunics while off duty, many of them with girls on their arms.

Salvation Army bands took advantage of the occasion to hold meetings and street merchants and musicians of all types were busy almost beyond endurance. The absence of cheering for the parties was noticeable; party lines are so mixed that many of the citizens did not know just where they were so far as concerned partisanship.

Mid-London in nowise monopolised the interest; the headquarters of the candidates, particularly the election offices where the votes were counted throughout the London area, were scenes of excitement.

The candidates, with supporters and members of their families generally, gathered where the results were to be made known last night. These were the real theatres of interest.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil-lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U.S. Government and 35 leading universities, and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odour, smoke, or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, F. S. Johnson, 246 Craig Street, W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

WEDDING BELLS

CARRUTH—SHUNK.

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 15. —A quiet wedding of much interest to their many friends in town, took place in St. Paul's church on Monday morning, October 23, at 7.30 o'clock, when Miss Hazel Marie, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Shunk, was united in marriage to James Robertson Carruth, son of Mr. Robert Carruth, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Canon Quartermaine. The bride who was given away by her father, was tastefully dressed in a suit of navy blue tricotine with hat of dove colored duvetyn, fox furs, and wore a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses. After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, only immediate relatives being present. The happy couple left on the G.T.R. train for Montreal, the bride travelling in her wedding suit, and on their return will take up residence on Argyle street. The bride received many beautiful and useful presents.

ISMET PASHA SAYS TURKEY WILL NOT START TROUBLE

Head of Turkish Delegation to the Lausanne Conference Says His Country Wants Peace Because in Need of Reconstruction.

PARIS, November 16 (Canadian Press-. — Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation to the Lausanne peace conference, discussed with Premier Poincare yesterday the Near East situation. At the conclusion of his interview with the Premier, he declared:

'My three-quarters of an hour conference with M. Poincare was most satisfactory."

After a sleepless night and a busy day, Ismet received fifty or more correspondents at his quarters at the Hotel Crillon.

"It is not certain that I will go to London," he said; "so far, I have received no official invitation to do so."

"If there are any fresh incidents at Constantinople, it won't be our fault. We want peace also. You may be sure that whatever we sign we will not violate."

Ismet said he had been officially informed that the Lausanne conference was still set for 20th November.

While photographers were busy with flashlights, Ismet began a short speech:

"We want peace at Lausanne because we have a war-ravaged country in need of reconstruction. The world must not believe that we are militariats or that we are inflated by our recent successes. Mark my word, we are going to creat a new Turkey, in which there will be democracy as pure as in any Western country. We intend to live independent nationally, in every sense of the word Y.?SU;' in every sense, and the Turkish people will not renounce in any degree this independence for any reason."

In response to questions, Ismet reiterated the intention of the Turkish Government not to recognise the pre-war capitulations ,which, he asserted, had been non-existent since 1914.

BIG MERGER OF PACKING FIRMS IS LATEST PLAN

Owners of the Big Packing Houses Fear Legislation Which Would Make a Merger Illegal.

QUESTION ATTORNEYS

WASHINGTON, November 16th.—Canadian Press. — J. Ogden Armour head of the Chicago meat packing house of Armour & Co., presented yesterday to Attorney General Daugherty, for government approval, a proposal for merging through purchase the phyical assets of another of the "Big Five" national packing houses, with Armour & Co. Which of the concerns the Armour organization proposes to absorb was not disclosed, although both Wilson & Co., and Morris & Co., of the packing group have been mentioned in connection with the plan. Officials concerned refrained entirely from expressing comment or opinion in the matter.

Mr. Armour last night likewise declined to make any statement, except that he intended to remain in Washington for another day. It was assumed that a desire to determine the legality of such a merger in advance of taking any steps to complete it, had led to the consultation with officials.

Secretary Wallace, after his conference with Mr. Armour and several associates who accompanied him to Washington issued a statement saying that he had expressed no opinion upon the Armour plan, and it was indicated that Attorney General Daugherty had likewise withheld a decision, although immediate consideration was promised for it.

Somewhat similar approaches have been made to the government recently by heads of independent steel corporations contemplating merger, but Mr. Wallace's statement indicated that the packing industry because of the existence of special legislation providing for its specific regulation by the Federal government stood in a different position.

Secretary Wallace quoted from the recent packers and stockyard act, establishing this particular control, in pointing out that packers were forbidden to engage in any business practice creating a monopoly or fixing prices, while the Federal Trade Commission had been given authority to investigate their operations at any time. The legislation further gives the secretary power to supervise the business at all of its points of contact with either the producer or consumer and to correct unfair practices.

There is said to have been considerable discussion with the industry since the passage of these laws after a long period of agitation, backed by farm organizations, developing the suggestion that consolidations among the "Big Five" might be advantageous in a business way, and at the same time open to no public objection.

Negotiations were understood to have reached the stage where officials of national farm organizations have been asked to say whether such consolidations, considering the degree oi government control already in the field, would be regarded as hostile by other components of the livestock industry.

FRENCH DEMANDS.

FRANKFORT-ON-THE-MAINE, Nov. 15.—(Canadian Press.)— The Zeitung of this city said yesterday it has been definitely informed that the French Government is considering demanding 50,000 tons of potash, besides 200,000 tons of sulphite of ammonia, on the reparations account for the French devastated regions.

DIAMOND WEDDING MR. AND MRS. FALLS

BOBCAYGEON, Nov. 15.—On Saturday, November 11, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Falls, South Verulan, was the scene of a pleasant gathering, when their children, and grand children, together with a goodly number of neighbors, assembled to join wit hthem in celebrating the 60th anniversary of their marriage.

Mr. and Mrs Falls were united in marriage, November 11, 1862, by the late Rev. John Rogers of St. Paul's Church, Peterboro.

During the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Falls were preesnted with a well-filled purse and short address from the members of the family, who were all present with the exception of one daughter who resides in Vancouver, B.C., and three grand daughters and one grand son living at Duncan, B.C.

The many friends of the aged couple join in hearty congragulations on their long and happy married life, and tender best wishes for the future.

WOMEN TURN OUT IN LARGE NUMBERS FOR THE ELECTION

London Bobbies Hold the Babies While Mothers Go in the Booths to Vote

ETON BOYS OUT.

LONDON, November 16 (Canadian Press'. — The women voters turned out in large numbers in the numerous districts, many of them being among the first arrivals, while the majority of the voters during the noon-hour were women.

Not a few of them succumbed to the temptation to take their dogs to the polls with them. One political agent in Putney estimated that 40 per cent. of the women were accompanied by their canine pets.

The London policemen, who are world-famous for their courtesy, found a new scope for their chivalry in assisting mothers who appeared at the polls with babes in arms. Many of the "bobbies" could be seen standing outside the polling stations holding clumsily, but patiently, the infant offspring of women electors.

In the Eton and Windsor constituency, where one of the Eton masters was the Conservative candidate, an unusual lot of canvassers for votes were out in his behalf. They were Eton boys, who scurried about everywhere, looking for support for their candidate, in their short Eton jackets, eton collars and silk hats, many of which had seen hard knocks in the school scrimmages.

The fog continued heavy in many places, and the mists were so thick in some parts of London that the polling booths had to be artificially lighted all day.

Oxford, traditionally a Conservative seat, was won by the Liberal candidate, Frank Gray, who polled 12,489, over the Conservative, J. A. R. Marriott, member of the late Parliament, who polled 8,883.

ONTARIO HAS GREAT FUTURE IN MINING.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Nov. 16. —Canadian Press.—G. E. Godson mining commissioner for Ontario, who is hearing mining disputes at the district court house to-day, said he had every reason to believe North Ontario was just beginning to find its stride in mining. 'I base my belief on the rapid increase in the number of applications for adjustments reaching my department. We have much work to do and I feel confident in predicting that 1923 will see the biggest activty in mining in the history of the province."

THE CASE OF THE HOTELS.

Sam Clarke, M.P.P., declares that he wants the Government of Ontario to recognize that the hotel business is as legitimate as the business of selling flour and bread, and that the men in the business are just as honourable and do more for humanity at large than any other business in Ontario.

Mr. Clarke's remarks will be generally echoed and should be endorsed by action on the part of the Hotel Investigating Committee that will provide the measure of assistance to which the hotel trade is entitled.

No business renders so much service to the community without remuneration as does the hotel of today.

Its hospitality is often abused, its courtesy imposed upon, but in the majority of cases the proprietors have no redress.

They were summarily deprived of a large share of their revenue when the Ontario Temperance Act was passed, and so far have had no recompense. Some of them have had an uphill fight to keep running and to supply the accommodation demanded by the travelling public.

All these facts have no doubt been considered by the Legislature's special committee, and there is reason to expect that the committee's recommendations will place the hotel business on a sounder footing in the Province.

SAVE THE HIGHWAYS.

Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works, made a significant remark during the course of his speech at a banquet in Oshawa the other night when he declared that exceeding the speed limit on the Provincial highways if generally indulged in would double or triple the cost of maintenance.

That estimate is confirmed by road experts and should occasion some thought on the part of motorists.

They are keen for good roads and are getting them.

If they immediately proceed to damage the highways by speeding they'll either have to put up with bad roads again or they'll have to pay their share of the excessive cost of keeping the thoroughfares in shape.

The trouble is that most drivers when they reach a section of smooth level road are tempted to "step on" the gas.

They should remember that when they do so they are destroying the very thing they have had such a hard fight to get.

The old saw that you can't eat your cake and have it is repeated in the modern saw that you can't have good roads if you want to destroy them by racing cars over their surface.

Mr. Biggs' warning is timely.

No one loves a speed "cop," but they are doing a good service nevertheless in helping to preserve Ontario's highways from destruction.

VANDALS OF SENTIMENT.

Complaints are being made by officials of the Great War Veterans' Association of what they describe as vandalism of sentiment.

There is some reason for the Veterans' indignation over this matter, although the offenders are, of course, quite within their legal rights.

The Flanders' poppy was some time ago chosen as the "flower of remembrance," and the War Veterans inaugurated the custom of wearing poppies on Armistice Day as a tribute to those who lost their lives in the war.

Two objects were to be served in this way—honouring the memory of the unreturning brave and creating a fund for the relief of war veterans and their families. At the same time, it was arranged that the manufacture of the artificial poppies required for Armistice Day should be done by disabled veterans, the desire of the G.W.V.A. officials being that this course would establish an industry that would provide congenial and profitable employment for crippled soldiers.

Unfortunately, however, several firms, failing to recognize that it was peculiarly appropriate that the manufacture of poppies for Armistice Day should be left in the hands of the veterans, have commenced to make these flower, on their own account, entering into competition with the returned soldiers.

Legally there is nothing to prevent them doing so. There is no patent on the manufacture of artificial poppies.

Ethically, however, the action of these commercial enterprises is not so easy to defend, and it is to be regretted that they should enter this restricted field, made possible by the veterans, and to which they have entimentally at least a prior claim.

FIRE RISK MUST BE REMOVED.

The decision of the Ontario Government to appoint a director of colonization for Northern Ontario is announced as the first step in an immigration policy designed to populate that section of the Province.

The duties of the new official will be to superintend the welfare of the new settlers, rendering them all the assistance in his power and giving attention to the problems that will undoubtedly beset them on the start.

That there is work for such a director is undeniably true.

That Northern Ontario not only needs thousands of settlers but can offer them many advantages, is equally certain.

Yet the first step that should be taken is to inaugurate a policy of protection that will prevent a repeletion of the terrible fire which swept the Haileybury district this autumn.

Attempts to induce people to settle in the Northland cannot possibly succeed so long as the fear of a similar disaster hangs over the country.

There is no use in trying to populate that section of Ontario until it has been demonstrated that the fire menace no longer exists, and that it is safe to commence establishing homes there.

Infinite harm to the reputation of the district has been done by the Haileybury fire, and it is the duty of the Government to take such steps as will dissipate the idea that another such conflagration is possible at any time when the weather conditions are right.

When that has been done the Director of Colonization will have no cause to think that his position is a sinicure, for he'll have thousands of settlers to deal with.

Remove the fire risk and there is no doubt of the future of Northern Ontario.

CRERAR'S RESIGNATION AND ITS SIGNIFICANCE.

The resignation of the Hon. T. A. Crerar as leader of the Progressive Party, and later the decision of the members to "broaden out," brings the affairs of that organization right into the limelight.

While there were various business and domestic reasons for the retirement of the Progressive leader, the great underlying cause was bound up with this question of broadening out, and his inability to work in harmonious relations with the Woods and Morrisons, who dominate the Farmers' movement in various parts of the country.

The leader of the Organized Farmers in the West is H. W. Wood of Alberta. In Ontario, J. J. Morrison. These men have undoubtedly done a great work in breaking down the old narrow spirit of partyism, but there is danger of their substituting another fetish of partyism for the one they destroyed. They recruited a party from the disgruntled Grits and Tories, but they would have their new party set itself aside in a water-tight compartment and refuse to have any part or parcel with like-minded people in towns and cities. They wanted class government, while Mr. Crerar wants the Farmers to co-operate with Progressives in urban centres.

But Mr. Crerar was not alone in this. It is somewhat significant that every Parliamentary leader of the Organized Farmer wants to broaden out. Premier Bracken of Manitoba, recently chosen by the Farmers to act as Premier of that Province, is in favor of broadening out. Premier Drury of Ontario favors this movement. Premier Greenfield of Alberta and Mr. Crerar in the Federal House favor the broadening out policy.

While there is this fundamental difference between the leaders in Parliament and the leaders outside of Parliament, there is perhaps a more serious matter confronting the party. This has to do with the calibre of the men in the movement. The Woods and Morrisons apparently do not seem capable of retaining the services of big men, and therein lies the germ which will ultimately destroy the Farmers' party unless there is a change.

The success of any great enterprise lies not so much in the outstanding capability of any one leader as in his ability to attract and hold able lieutenants. Napoleon would never have won a hundred battles had he not a corps of brilliant commanders under him. Great captains of industry make a success of their undertakings because they enlist the support of big men. Laurier's first Cabinet was a success because he attracted the biggest men from every Province.

Wood and Morrison do not seem able to do this, and because of their failure in this respect the movement is on the down grade. In the past few months many men prominent in the movement have been forced out because of their inability to work harmoniously with the outside leaders. Mr. Norman Lambert, Secretary of the Canadian Cabinet of Agriculture, quit his post a few weeks ago. Mr. W. M. Irvine, M.P. for Calgary, was forced out several months ago. Now Mr. Crerar steps out. In Ontario a number of able farmers who were prominent in the various activities of the U.F.O., have quit in disgust, and as a result there is a slowing down of the whole machinery.

The Organized Farmers must realize two things. First, that there is no standing still. The movement must either make progress or it goes back. There must either be progression or retrogression. The leaders outside of Parliament do not recognize this fundamental fact, but try to confine the movement to the swaddling clothes of its babyhood. In other words, they fail to realize that the movement requires to grow or broaden out. Another important consideration is that they must do something to attract and hold big men.

The Farmer movement is at the most critical period in its history. Either it must expand and go forward or it will go backward and ultimately fail as the Grange and Patron movements failed.—Oshawa Reformer.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

"Now it can be told"—about the British elections.

Evidently J. J. Morrison is no more in love with the "broadening out" policy than he was when Premier Drury first suggested such a plan.

Of the British elections it can be said that the campaign was short even if the results were not sweet to everybody.

Senator La Follette's name is being mentioned as a possible nominee for the Presidency in 1924. Surely the American people would not seriously consider a man who declared that the American soldiers who went to war were "boobs."

The Provincial Treasurer of Quebec claims that nothing to equal the financial situation in that Province has ever been equalled by any other Province in the Dominion. And his figures certainly substantiate this claim.

Quebec not only had a surplus of over $5,000.000 in the last fiscal year, but promises to have an even larger surplus in 1923. Hon. Peter Smith should get into touch with Hon. Mr. Nichol and find out how our sister Province gets the results.

It is not too early to consider that matter of Christmas shopping. Yuletide is just around the corner.

The Dominion Fuel Controller reiterates the warning to use substitutes for coal. A lot of people have been doing that every year, although they paid for anthracite and thought they were getting it.

How many Andy Gumps' "one hundred per cent. for the people" will be found in Peterborough's next municipal campaign? And how much of that promised one hundred per cent. will materialize next year?

Admiral Sims says keeping the British Navy intact won the war. The ex-Crown Prince of Germany gives the credit to the United States. Judging by the way they are acting, the Turks have another theory. They apparently believe they won the war.

SELLS HERSELF FOR $5,000.00

Man Who'll Put Up Cash For Restoring Woman's Beauty May Have Her.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 16.—Who will wager $5000 on a gambling chance that it will restore the beauty of Mrs. Ruth Shoemaker Schermerhorn?

The man who will supply the money may take the young widow as payment, if the operation is successful.

Four years ago Mrs. Schermerhorn was a celebrated beauty. Today at the age of 26, she is a helpless cripple, sitting day and night in an invalid chair.

Physicians say that an operation can cure the paralysis afflicting her, and a few months treatment will bring the bloom of health and beauty back to the girl's cheeks. Hence her offer to sell herself to any person providing the $5000 for the operation.

Ruth takes it for granted that she will not be wanted in her helpless state if the operation fails. But even in that event, she is ready to do as her benefactor desires.

Pistol Shot Paralzyes Her.

Four years ago, the girl went from her Iowa home to Kansas City, meet and wed Louis B. Schermerhorn, also of Des Moines. A party was held in the Kansas City hotel before the wedding day.

The following morning, hotel employees found the bride-to-be shot through the neck, paralyzed from the shoulders down. For weeks she lay between life and death.

The girl talked of prosecuting Schermerhorn. Suddenly, she changed her mind and said she wanted to marry him.

Despite the doctor"s warning that she might be helpless for life, Schermerhorn married Miss Shoemaker, with the bride prone on a hospital cot. Two days later, Schermerhorn died of a sudden illness in the same hospital, leaving the helpless girl a $27,000 estate.

Now She Seeks Recovery.

Convinced she would never recover, the girl began enjoying life by buying everything she had ever wanted, say her relatives. The money dwindled to a few hundreds, and her mother had a trustee named to handle the remainder.

Then came the girl's appeal to find a benefactor.

"It is entirely a commercial proposition," says Mrs. Schermerhorn. It is not new. Only this time, the man has to take a chance on the $5000 restoring my youth, health and beauty, for I wouldn't be wanted as I am now.

"I believe in love, but I also believe two congenial persons can be happy in marriage without love. Matrimonial felicity is easier if one enters into matrimony without illusions rather than if one is impetuously in love.

"I promise to do my utmost to recover my health and beauty, and if I succeed, to be a good wife to the man financing my treatment."

AMATEURS MAY BREAK TRANS-ATLANTIC SET.

Radio Revolution Is Predicted By Radio Relay League.

Radio amateurs of America and Great Britain are preparing to break the record made last year when Paul Godley received messages across the Atlantic on low wave length and limited power.

This time, it is assured, no American will be needed to "rig up" a set in England in order to receive the signals from this side. For officials of the American Radio Relay League, who have charge of this test, report British amateurs have already heard Americans during the preliminaries that have just ended.

The tran-Atlantic contest will take place between Dec 10 and Dec. 30. During the first ten days Americans will transmit. In the remaining period they will try to receive British amateurs' signals.

What it Means.

The significance of these tests lies in the fact that the signals will be transmitted on a low wave length of 200 meters and under low power, whereas the daily messages sent across the ocean by commereial and government wirless stations get there easily because they go under high power and on a high wave length. It the amateurs succeed in their purpose, a revolution is expected in the present method of trans-Atlantic transmission.

That they are sure to succeeed is attested by the hopeful reports coming from England. During the preliminaries, when American amateurs had to qualify by showing they were received over a distance of at least 1200 miles in this country, reports came from England that some of these were taken down even there—3000 miles away.

Fifty American amateurs already have qualified for the final tests and officials of the A.R.R.L. expect as many more before the tests begin. Schedules are being arranged for them, whereby each amateur or group will be allowed 15 minutes for transmission, while all the other amateurs of the country will remain silent.

GASSED OVERSEAS SHELL SHOCKED AND RHEUMATISM

Mr. F. M. Blaquiere, Morinville, Alta., writes: "After three years service overseas I returned to Canada almost a complete wreck. I had been gassed and was suffering from shell shock and rheumatism, and was so nervous I could not sleep at night. I tried many medicines and doctors, but none of them did me any good for any length of time. I got so bad in the fall of 1919, my hands were so shaky I could scarcely hold anything, and it seemed as if I had a steel band pressing on my head. The least excitement would almost drive me into fits, and my whole system seemed to be in disorder. I had cramps in my legs nearly every night, and hot and cold chills running up and down my back nearly all the time. One day I decided to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after I had taken six boxes I began to feel better. I kept on using them and after a while I was completely relieved."

SURVIVES BATTLE TO BE HURT BY A PLOUGH

Ellis Cutting, Sole American Survivor of the "Light Brigade," is Still Active.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Nov. 16.—Ellis Cutting, sole survivor of the famous "Charge of the Light Brigade," rode unscathed through that gallant but futile action—to be hurt by a snow-plow near here.

Today, 68 years after the immortal execution of blundered orders, Cutting, 85, is alive and alert. He recalls as though it were yesterday the charge at Balaklava, in which he participated as a youth of 17, the charge Tennyson's poem immortalized.

With the Crimean war in progress —Britain and France allied with Turkey against Russia—the Russians attacked the allies at Balaklava Oct. 25, 1854, hoping to cut allied communications.

The "Heavy Brigade" of British cavalry made a furious charge, swept back the attackers and drove them back behind their own artillery.

Blunder Apparent.

The "Light Brigade," commanded by Lord Cardigan, then received orders to charge these cannon and prevent their removal. For cavalry, mounted and armed with lances and sabers, to charge cannon was plainly suicidal. Lord Cardigan read the order, questioned the aide delivering it, the latter, Captain Nolan, waved his arm down the valley toward the Russian cannon.

"Forward, the Light Brigade!" commanded Lord Raglan. Unquestioning, the 600 troopers galloped forward, guidons flying, sabers flashing.

Beyond the allied lines, Russ artillery fired point blank from three sides into the gallant horsemen. Captain Nolan, bearer of the note to charge, suddenly dashed across the front of the chargers, possibly to swerve the troops from the death trap. A shell made him the first to fall.

Guns Are Taken.

Straight at the enemy guns out in front rode Cardigan's command. The numbers dwindled rapidly as converged cannon fire swept them.

The guns were reached, silenced. Small parties even attacked the cavalry behind. But a battle against such overwhelming odds could only end in annihilation. Other cavalry arrived in time to hold the ground won by the Light Brigade.

Most historians say a third of the Light Brigade survived. Cutting, though, says only six came out alive. Lord Cardigan was one of these.

"I can't describe it, it's beyond me," says Cutting. "We were swept through that hell of fire and death hearing nothing, knowing nothing, feeling nothing but a desire to reach the Russians.

"Everyone hoped to pick a man. All I thought was to get him first.

Active Today.

"Instead of rushing in cavalry, Lord Raglan ought to have ordered an infantry manoeuvre. That would have saved hundreds of brave boys."

Cutting later served in the British army in Indian mutinies, in the Lucknow siege, in Egypt and in South Africa. The only wound he received was a bayonet thrust in one foot.

Coming to America, he became a fireman on what is now the Rock Island. was promoted to engineer six months later and served until pensioned in 1910.

Forty years ago, he was thrown 60 feet by a rotary snow-plow, and sustained several broken bones. Aside from that, he has never been hurt in railroading.

"Foin Tim" Cutting, the railroaders call him all over the Rock Island system. He reads newspapers without his glasses, and he walks two miles or more every time he goes downtown from his home.

Do not over exercise at first, but devote a few minutes daily to these efforts, and you will notice a decided improvement.

ECZEMA Was Incurable

—but he reckoned without Zam-Buk

Writing from Sweetwater, Tenn., U.S. Capt. Oscar V. Petty, says:—"For four years I had an obstinate dry eczema.

"My skin peeled off, and disfiguring splotches of the eruption appeared on my face and head. A well-known skin specialist said the eruption could not be cured, but friends out in Maine got me to try some Zam-Buk. To my great delight, I soon saw an improvement. The peeling skin stopped within a week. At the time I started with Zam-Buk the eczema had spread all over my body, so that it took reasonable perseverance for the balm to be thoroughly effective. However I am delighted to inform you, that now, by the use of Zam-Buk, my skin has been restored to normal healthy condition."

"I have a friend who also suffered from a similar distressing skin affection. In his case too, within a few days Zam-Buk was acting splendidly. He tells me that Zam-Buk beats anything he has ever known."

CROP REPORTS

Following is a summary of reports made by the agricultural representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

The mild and generally open weather of the last week has enabled the farmers to do a good deal of fall ploughing, root storing, and other clean-up work. Old timers all over the Province state that a better fall season was never known. Victoria says that most of the live stock are still out in pasture, as there is still considerable picking in the fields.

Fall wheat is still looking well as a rule, no serious injury from Hessian fly, wireworm, or other insect pest being reported.

Grey says: Some farmers have formed a local Apple Growers' Association which has affiliated with the Niagara Peninsula Fruit Growers. These men are securing from $6.00 to 6.75 for first-class Snows, Spies, and Kings. The association expects to handle several thousand barrels this year.

Lennox and Addington report: A number of farmers have brought samples of alfalfa and clover seed to the office for test and grade. One farmer sold 32 bushels of Grimm's alfalfa, which graded No. 1, at $20.00 per bushel. Some farmers reported selling No. 1 red clover at $10.00 per bushel.

The cattle feature of the week is the premium being set upon dairy cows. Hastings says that a number of farmers are purchasing milch cows, which they intend keeping over the winter. The excellent crops of roots and ensilage have supplied the majority of farmers with more roughage than they require.

Dundas states that fresh dairy cows and springers are selling at from $80.00 to $125.00, as they are comparatively scarce.

Carleton reports: Demand still is brisk for milch cows. At a sale held recently sixty head of grade milch cows averaged slightly over $100.00 a head.

Haldimand says: The demand is quite strong for feeders. One drover in the county has placed during the past week six carloads of feeders at prices ranging from $4.25 to $5.25. Practically all of these cattle have been from the Western Provinces.

Kent also says that a larger number of cattle than usual are being brought into that county for winter feeding.

Grey says: A farmer here has brought two carloads of feeders and one carload of 120 culled lambs from Toronto. These he hopes to feed until February. A number of other farmers have also brought cattle from the stockyards for feeding purposes.

Good grade breeding ewes are selling at $12.00 in South Simcoe.

The swine situation has much improved. Farmers are paying more attention to hogs than at any other time during the year.

Peel says: Farmers are quite interested in the grading of hogs which has just been put into operation at the stock yards. A large number have been down to the yards and much discussion has followed. The results noticeable already are that hog graders are marketing their pigs at a proper weight, instead of holding until many would go in the heavy class.

North Simcoe states: Hog-grading is the chief topic of discussion among farmers at present. One load this week from Stayner graded 40 selects out of 70 hogs netting to the farmer $10.20 per cwt. Improper marketing is causing a good deal of confusion.

Prescott and Russell says: Large quantities of live fowl have been shipped from this district this fall on a graded basis, especially from the Pendleton Egg Circle.

ARE FLYING AFTER FOUR HOURS OF INSTRUCTION

DAYTON, O.—And now they're flying after four hours of instruction.

Newest progress in perfecting a "safety plane" indicate that the air route will replace the flivver and the street car as the means of going to work in the near future.

The Dayton-Wright Company has just perfected the plane, known temporarily as the "Chummy."

With four hours' instruction, Kenneth Lane made a successful ascent, performed a series of stunts like a veteran airman and made a graceful landing. Other amateurs have repeated his performance.

Already, aeronautical experts are looking forward to "safety planes" being put on the market as pleasure ships, in competition with the automobile. Quantity production will result in their being marketed for $2,500, it is predicted.

1.—Simplified mechanism, enabling the flyer to let the ship fly by itself in midair, making constant holding of the controls unnecessary.

3.—Constructed so it cannot go into the "spins" which cause most airplane accidents.

In appearance, the plane is much like any other airship, Colonel V. A. Clark, its inventor, however, says it is not only "different," but its mechanism could not be installed in another type of plane.

Two occupants ride side by side. This aids the student in taking the abbreviated course. This feature, together with the fact the controls can be released, like the lines on the old-time horse and buggy, should make the plane a favorite with spooners.

FAMOUS DR. COOK NOW INTERESTED OIL WELLS

He Has Acquired One Hundred Companies so Far—Discovered North Pole.

FORT WORTH, Tex.—North Pole, Eskimos, gum drops and Copenhagen—

Memories of these aren't very unpleasant, apparently, for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the man whose announcement that he had discovered the north pole created an international furore a few years ago, will talk about them unreservedly if you mention them at his office here.

But mention an oil well or oil company that might be sold and Cook will do more talking. He has acquired about 100 companies so far, and he's in the market for more.

The former explorer has changed his vocation. He's a petroleum technologist now. For ten years and more, he has been fellowing the oil game.

"And it's like exploration, too," he says, cheerfully. "It has its ups and downs. Literally true—up for north poles, down for oil. f'instance.

Winner and loser of a couple of fortunes, according to his own story, "Doc" Cook now heads a merger of many oil-producing and stock-selling syndicates formed during the "boom days" under declarations of trust.

"Stepping-stones to greater results for small companies—sustained effort and assured returns to investors — conservation, economy — vigorous drilling activities." These are the promises the Cook merger holds forth.

The merger brought under Cook's guidance nearly 100 wells.

If fortune smiles on him again, Cook may head northward again some of these days.

"If I go again, it will be by airplane, though," he adds. "Six machines, all of the same type and working in pairs—that's the system.

"There's a lure about polar exploration. Then men who have gone north—I know them all—almost always want to go again."

Give him a moment to dream as he gazes out of his skyscraper office, and he'll tell you of the frozen north's value to the world. He'll tell you the world's fish food will some day come from Arctic waters; that in Greenland's mountains—which aren't always icy—roams animal life sufficient to care for much of the world's needs.

But right now, "Doc" Cook is in the oil business, and wants to buy more oil companies.

SCOTLAND YARD CHIEF TELLS HOW TO REDUCE UNSOLVED MURDERS

(By Norris Quinn.)

DETROIT, Nov. 16—How should a murder mystery be solved?

How can the increasing number of American murder mysteries that go down on the police blotter as "unsolved" be cut down?

These two questions were answered in an exclusive interview by one of the world's greatest criminologists, Sir Basil Thomson, K.C.B.

Sir Basil for years was head of the famous criminal investigation department of Scotland Yard, London, and during the war was British director of intelligence. He now is in the United States on a lecture tour.

Publicity Helps Detection.

The British criminal expert outlined the general principles of criminal investigation which he believes should be applied to mystery murders.

"The whole success of any murder investigation depends on the steps taken at the outset," Sir Basil said. "Three steps are most important.

"First is the examination of the scene of the crime. This should be done with especial care and, in some cases, the locale of the crime should be carfeully shut off so that evidence will not be destroyed or the investigators confused by curiosity seekers.

"Second is the holding of an efficient autopsy and the securing of reliable medical testimony. To my mind, the autopsy should be held open as long as possible, for fresh facts will always be uncovered.

"Third is giving to the public in certain cases most accurate knowledge of the crime. That means that many witnesses will be brought to light who otherwise never would have known their knowledge could be of any value to the police.

Sherlock Methods Not Used.

"The inductive methods of Sherlock Holmes and other fantastic detectives of fiction are generally useless in real criminal investigation.

"To detect real criminals one needs a thorough organization instead of the lone-hand activities of a Sherlock Holmes, hard work in place of cocaine and tobacco, full publicity instead of dark secrecy.

"Unsolved murders, you know, are very rare in England. I'll tell you how they're cut down there, though I want you to bear in mind that I am not trying to tell American police how to run their business.

"When a murder is committed, it is listed at headquarters. If it's still unsolved on the second day, it is listed in red ink. That red ink record stands until the case is solved if it takes years.

"Thats' why we do not cease activity in a murder mystery as soon as public interest wanes. You'll hear nothing about the case in the press for months — then suddenly there will be an arrest. We never forget a crime.

"One difficulty American police face is the enormous size of your country which enables a murderer easily to 'lose himself.'

Closer Co-opeartion Needed.

"You can overcome this by bringing about closer co-operation between police in different cities and I understand you are doing this. Close association and contract between police heads is desirable but contact between police subordinates is more advantageous.

"I brought this contact between subordinates about in England when I admitted provincial detectives to the London detective school where they studied side by side with London detectives. You are now doing things like that here and should continue to do it more."

Sir Basil has had a colorful career. Born in 1861, the son of an archbishop, he was educated at Eton and Oxford and called to the bar.

He entered the colonial service and became prime minister of Tonga, a Pacific island. He was governor of Dartmoor Prison, of Wormwood Scrubs Prison and secretary to the Prison Commission.

He has been in the criminal investigation department of Scotland Yard since 1913.

SOLVING A CLUELESS MURDER.

How Scotland Yard solved a seemingly clueless murder—told by Sir Basil Thomas, K. C. B., head of the famous criminal investigation department:

"On the night of an air raid the body of a young woman, headless and handless, was found wrapped in burlap sacking in a London square. The body bore but one garment, a piece of underclothing.

"Identification seemed hopeless. There was no face. There were no hands, which precluded the us eof fingerprints. The body bore no distinguishing marks.

"The locality of the find was roped of and carefully examined. The lone piece of clothing was scrutinized. It bore a laundry mark Within an hour we had located the laundry and knew who had brought the garment there— a young Frenchwoman, recently arrived.

"We checked up her friends. She had few. One was a butcher. We searched his home and found the slain woman's head and hands concealed in a tub of salt. He was hanged."

FIRST BROADCASTING STATION

NEW YORK.—An amateur's tinkering led to the development of radio broadcasting.

Unknown less than two years ago, it has grown to rival baseball, automobiling and the movies in national popularity.

M. C. Rypinski, electrical engineer, who was one of the pioneers in broadcasting, tells how this development came about.

"Frank Conrad," he says, "assistant chief engineer of the Westinghouse company, had a radio set in the loft of his garage in Wilkinsburg, Pa. After work hours he used to spend his time experimenting with the set. While flashing signals to other amateurs one night it occurred to him to try broadcasting a phonograph record."

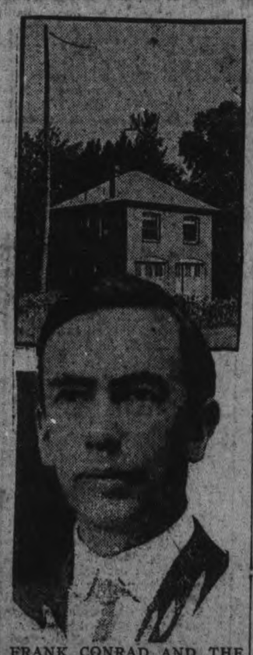
"It worked. He repeated the experiment from time to time. In the fall of 1920 he came to us with the suggestion that it might be a good stunt to broadcast the returns election night."

Mr. Rypinski, radio sales manager of the company at that time, was instrumental in arranging the experiment.

Election Returns.

"Station KDKA in East Pittsburg was rigged up," he continued, "and the election returns were flashed all evening. The success was instantaneous.

"Recognizing the commercial possibilities, we began to organize a definite program which was broadcast regularly.



FRANK CONRAD AND THE WORLD'S FIRST BROADCASTING STATION—HIS GARAGE.

"It was the beginning."

Now there are more than 400 stations in this country.

"This number," says Mr. Rypinski, "will probably be cut down to keep broadcasting at a high plane. Three large stations, one each in New York, Chicago and San Francisco, and their relay stations in the intervening centres could adequately cover the United States.

"Ultimately we'll have just two major classes of broadcasting—one for instruction and the other for entertainment.

Government Sets.

"I think that the national, state and municipal governments will play the important part in developing the former and private institutions will take care of the latter.

"Chicago, Dallas, Tex., and several other cities have already built stations. New York is doing it now. The movement is spreading. Eventually every municipality will have a set to disseminate reports of interest to its citizens.

"But radio will never replace any of the existing means of communication. It will simply supplement them."

Mr. Rypinski has been interested in wireless since boyhood. In 1900, while working with Steinmetz, he designed an electrical instrument for use with the first high frequency alternator built for radio transmission.

SWISS RAILROADS SEEKING ENGLISH TOURIST TRAFFIC

GENEVA, Nov. 16.—(Associated Press)—The tourist trade in Switzerland has fallen to such a low ebb that Swiss railroads are considering ways and means to revive it. To this end they have offered reductions in railroad fares amounting to 30 per cent to parties of English tourists, effective January 1. A similar reduction probably will be offered later to Americans.

THEATRICAL SLUMP IN OLD LONDON NOW OVER.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(Associated Press) — The London theatrical slump which caused heavy losses to theatre owners and unprecedented unemployment among the profession during the last two years is now over, if the present full houses may be taken as an indication. London theatre managers are of the belief that the worst of the depression is past, and that the pre-war packed houses and prosperity are re-appearing.

As a result of the outlook many managers have already announced extra week-day matinees and many additions have been made to various casts and choruses. The theatre owners association has announced that no increase will be made in the price of tickets, and that if conditions permit, reductions may be expected.

Unemployment among the actors and actresses has not as yet shown any marked decrease, but an official of the actors association stated that he has openings for 200 persons in prospect which will be filled within the next month.

At present the houses are crowded and many of the west end theaters are establishing records in the matter of long runs. The popular "Beggar's Opera" has now been running for more than two years, despite the fact that musical comedy has taken first place in the hearts of theatre goers. There are four musical comedies playing in London which are over the 300 performance mark, and they bid fair to continue for many months longer.

The autumn season will see eighteen new plays, in addition to seven which have opened since September 1.

American plays, which have always had an unusual popularity in London are somewhat crowded out of the lists this season, there being only two on the boards at the present time. American vaudeville acts however, continue to lead the bills at the variety houses, and jazz bands are the most popular tune.

AUSTRIAN RAILWAY FARES MOUNT AGAIN.

Raised 300 Per Cent. This Month, Are 24 Times What They Were in August.

VIENNA, Nov. 16.—(Associated Press)—Railway rates in Austria were raised by 300 per cent early this month, making them now 24 times what they were on August 1, 1922. Even with this heavy increase it is estimated that the deficit still will be about 1,000,000,000 crowns a day.

The passenger deficit is said to be due largely to the enormous amount of free transportation, or so called cost price fares, enjoyed by government servants. During the summer it was estimated that at least half the travel was of this class. So far the government has taken no steps toward abolishing the evil.

WEATHER IN FRANCE.

Farmers in France will learn of the coming weather by radio even though they may not have a radio receiving set. The idea is to install a set at a central point in each commune of France where weather reports would be received three times daily from the Eiffel Tower station in Paris. The information thus received could be broadcast to the farmers by means of signals from the local church bells.

RUSSIA AND SWEDEN COMING TOGETHER.

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 16.—(Associated Press)—A new Russian effort to establish closer financial and commercial relations with Sweden is seen in the arrival in Stockholm of Aron Scheinman, head of the Russian State Bank.

Mr. Scheinman has declared that the bank which he heads may place its foreign assets and clearing funds in Swedish banks, providing a safeguarding agreement can be arranged between the two countries. He has come here, he says, to enlarge the financial co-operation between Russia and Sweden. He considers Sweden one of the safest countries for the deposit of money owing to its independent position and its well-oredered conditions.

The Russian State Bank, declares Mr. Scheinman has acquired 36,000,000 gold rubles through its foreign exchange operations and the end of the preesnt year will add 50,000,000 to the total figure. The main purpose of the bank is to finance state industrial enterprises.

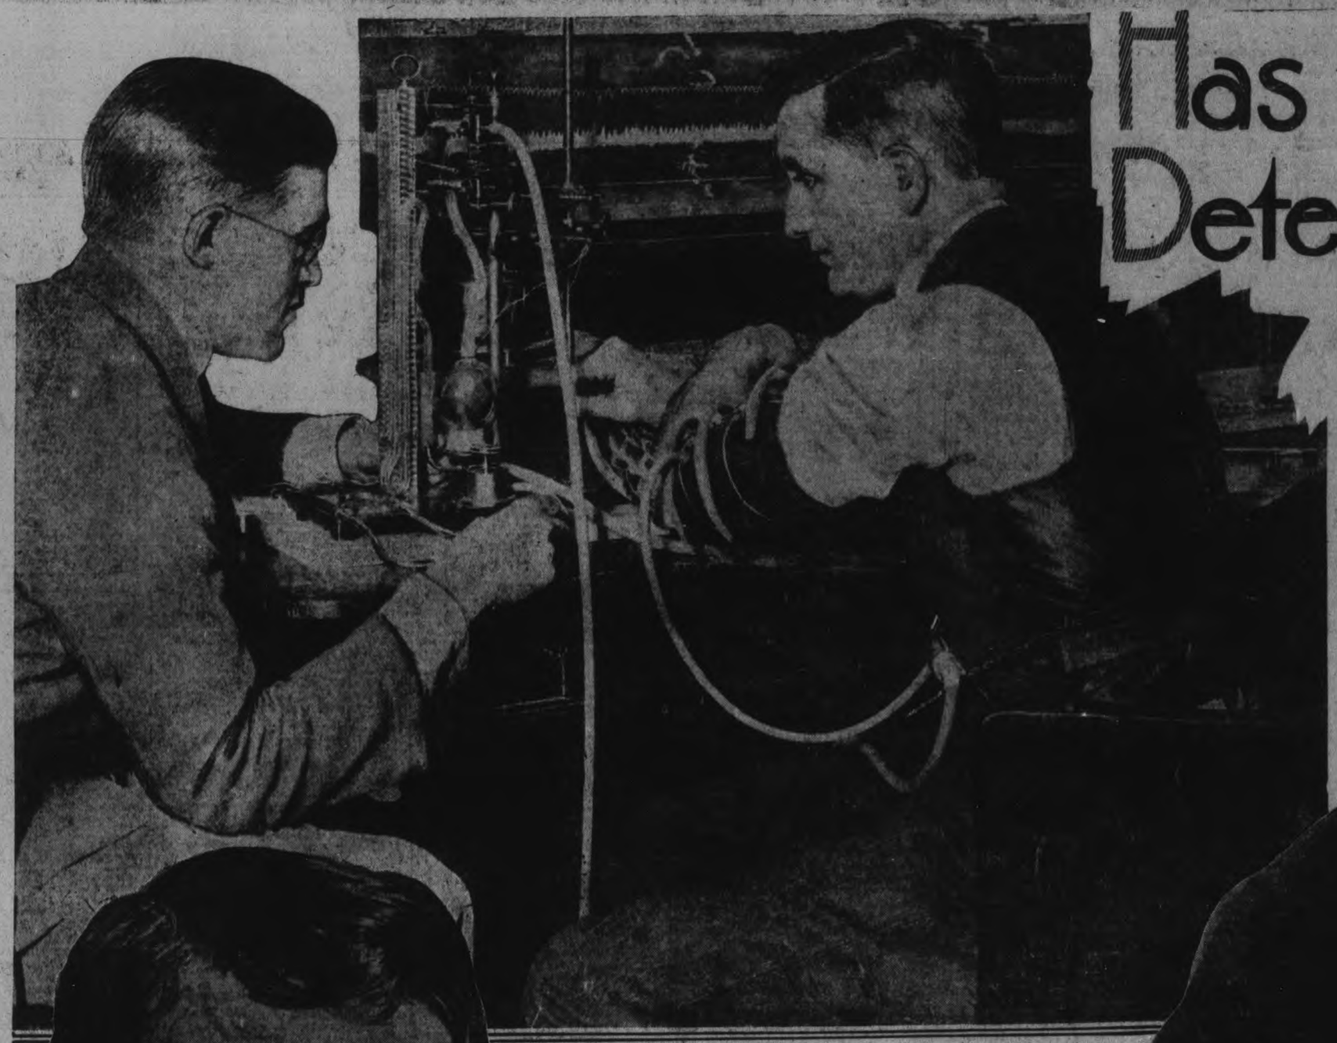
BROWNATONE

Has the "Lie-Detector" Lied?

The Quandary Raised When the Machine Invented to Detect the Veracity of Persons Under Examination Finds in Favor of Henry Wilkens Despite Human Witnesses Who Swore He Hired a Gunman to Kill His Wife.



Prof. John Larsen Giving the "Lie Detector" Test to Henry Wilkens, Alleged Wife Slayer, in San Francisco Police Headquarters, Which Resulted in Upholding Wilkens's Claim of Innocence.

Henry Wilkens, Whose Trial for Murder Questions the Value of Science's Latest Pet Invention, the "Lie Detector."

THE newly-invented "lie detector," known as the sphygmomanometer, gives scientific testimony that Henry Wilkens, wealthy San Francisco garage owner, is not guilty of having hired the assassin who shot and killed his wife.

Arthur Castor, under arrest for complicity in the murder, gives direct testimony to the police that Wilkens did order the slaying of his wife and that he paid Arthur's brother, Walter, for doing the job. Shortly after Arthur's arrest and alleged confession Walter committed suicide.

The San Francisco police reject the machine's evidence and accept the human testimony. Nevertheless, the charts of the "lie detector" went into the record when Wilkens was placed before the court.

The crime and its aftermath excel to date in melodramatic interest the best detective story ever written. Four human lives have been taken: Mrs. Wilkens, who was killed May 30 in the presence of her two children; Detective Sergeant Timothy Bailly and Mrs. Annie Downs Castor, who were shot down by Walter Castor, who then committed suicide early in August.

Is it possible that the "lie detector" was fooled by a dual personality so pronounced that the Wilkens tested by the machine was not the Wilkens of the Decoration Day murder?

PROF. JOHN LARSEN of the Department of Criminology, University of California, and member of the scientific department of the police of Berkeley, was about to test his invention, the "lie detector." He was seated at a table in Police Headquarters, San Francisco, whither he and his invention had been summoned to help the police of the city solve murder mysteries.

Seated beside him, his arm encased in the attachment of the machine, was Henry Wilkens, wealthy garage owner. The police had discovered discrepancies in Wilkens's story that he and his family had been held up in their automobile on a lonely spot on the road and that Mrs. Wilkens had been shot before the eyes of her two children when Wilkens had resisted the highwaymen. One of the discrepancies was that Wilkens had said that the murder car was a Dodge when another witness swore it was a Hudson. Moreover, he had failed to identify two suspects, Arthur and Walter Castor, arrested when they passed bills of $100 denomination, three of which Wilkens claimed had been stolen from him by the highwayman. Then, too, it had been learned that Mrs. Wilkens had filed a suit for separation, charging cruelty, and that he had attempted to force her to get a divorce.

Prof. Larsen leaned forward and turned a switch. Then he began to ask Wilkens questions. He fired them at him rapidly, unceasingly, crossing them with the skill of a veteran examiner. All the time he was questioning, a delicate needle attached to the machine made crazy-looking marks on a thin sheet of sensitized paper. It was recording the pulsation of the blood of the questioned man much as a seismograph records the earth tremors of a quake. For four hours the strange catechism continued. Then—

Wilkens, who had maintained innocence, was ordered discharged. He walked out of headquarters a free man.

The news went abroad that the "lie detector" had exonerated Wilkens. Scientists wagged their heads. Prof. Larsen went about the business of preparing for his wedding Aug. 9. The case seemed finished as far as Wilkens was concerned.

Then, Robert Castor, brother to the suspects who had been released, questioned about his brother Walter's whereabouts, disclosed that Walter had fled in an automobile purchased from Robert with money Wilkens had given Robert for Walter. Robert also revealed that the whole Castor family had known Wilkens for years. Records of a local garage showed that five years before Walter Castor had worked there under Wilkens, who was foreman.

The police rearrested Arthur and questioned him sharply. He broke down and made an alleged confession in which he implicated Wilkens. He said Wilkens had hired his brother, Walter, to kill Mrs. Wilkens.

Wilkens was arrested. He insisted on his innocence. He pointed to the record of the "lie detector." But the police kept him in custody. Yet even they were beginning to doubt their own case, when Walter Castor returned to his mother's home and, surrounded by police, killed Detective Sergeant Timothy Bailly and Robert Castor's wife, whom he accused of "squealing on him," wounded Detective Ernest Gable, and then committed suicide.

Did the "lie detector" lie?

The "lie detector" has the best sponsors. A few days after the murder of Mrs. Wilkens the machine was exhibited by Chief of Police August Vollmer of Berkeley, Cal., to the convention at San Francisco of the National Association of Police Chiefs. It was then hailed as the greatest invention of its kind. To test its efficiency it was introduced into the Wilkens case.

San Francisco was all stirred up about that murder. It occurred while the Wilkenses were motoring home from Felton, Cal., where they and their children, a boy, 8, and a girl, 6, had been spending the Memorial Day vacation period. As the Wilkens automobile neared the last hill beyond Colma, another machine ran alongside and ordered Wilkens, who was driving, to stop. This he did. A shot was fired and Mrs. Wilkens, in sight of her children, crumpled up, fatally wounded. The assassin then ran to his car, which contained another man, and made off. The murder car threw off the trail a pursuing machine driven by Jacob Gorfinkel, an attorney, who made a vain effort to obtain its number.

Wilkens told the police that his wife was murdered by automobile bandits who held up his machine and robbed Mrs. Wilkens of her valuable rings and took three $100 bills from Wilkens.

Two days later Walter and Arthur Castor were arrested by the police when they attempted to pass $100 bills in payment of a garage bill. They were questioned and denied knowledge of the death of Mrs. Wilkens and established to the satisfaction of the police that they were not in San Francisco on the day of the crime. Wilkens was called to police headquarters and failed to identify the Castor brothers as the bandits. He said he had never seen them before. Wilkens said the bandits overtook him while driving in a Dodge car. Gorfinkel, his wife and son, all said the bandit car was a Hudson.

Then it was found by police detectives that the Castor brothers had rented a Hudson car on the day of the murder and had returned it to the garage about a half-hour after Mrs. Wilkens was murdered. They were again questioned and held to their story that they were not in San Francisco. Wilkens again insisted that the hold-up car was a Dodge machine. Being a garage-man the police believed he knew the makes of automobiles. Then came the discovery that Mrs. Wilkens had filed a suit for separate maintenance in the superior court against her husband, charging cruelty, and that he had attempted to force her to get a divorce, but that she had refused. The net was gathering about Wilkens. Prof. Larsen and his "lie detector" again were called into the case to determine whether or not Wilkens had knowledge of certain events.

Larsen brought the "lie detector" from the University of California to the San Francisco detective bureau and the machine was attached to Wilkens's arm while he was questioned about the murder and asked specifically if he knew who had killed his wife. The machine failed to register the slightest degree of change in the pulse throb of Wilkens as he was interrogated on matters that were supposed to determine his guilt or innocence. In addition to hundreds of extraneous questions he was asked eighteen bearing directly upon the murder. In each instance the answer was reported veracious by the machine.

NEW ORLEANS TAKES A TURN IN LIMELIGHT

Society Woman Gives a Little Local Color to the Community in Which She Lives.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 16.—Last week, Atlanta, Ga., held the limelight in the jilting of Mrs. Onezima De Bouchel, beautiful New Orleans society woman. Now it's New Orleans' turn.

Said to represent the Candler interests, private detectives and other agents are reported to have been working here, seeking to gather evidence against Mrs. De Bouchel. By this, it is charged, the Candlers hope to bolster the charges of impropriety made by Asa G. Candler, millionaire coca-cola king, when he broke his engagement.

Even the offices of Mrs. De Bouchel's attorneys have been visited by these agents, it is alleged. Harold Moise, one of the woman's lawyers, alleges he caught a man leaving the Moise office with the last letters Candler wrote his ex-fiancee. A struggle ensued before Moise regained the missives, he says.

Meantime, New Orleans is militantly aligned with Mrs. De Bouchel in regard to the charges made against her. Her return from Atlanta was the occasion for hundreds of socially prominent people, leaders in woman's clubs, etc., to meet her at the station and pledge their confidence in her integrity and their aid in refuting the charges.

Mrs. De Bouchel is in seclusion here. Meantime, from all over the south, her friends are rallying to her support.

From Memphis comes new assistance in Mrs. De Bouchel's fight to vindicate her honor. George B. Bowling, who was adjutant general of the Sons of Confederate Veterans in 1919, says he saw Mrs. De Bouchel nearly all the time the Confederate Veterans were in session in Atlanta. He says he is ready to be a witness and testify the charges of impropriety against her are false.

FRENCH DEMAND GERMAN POTASH.

BERLIN, Nov. 16. — (Canadian Press.)—The report that the French Government was demanding of Germany 50,000 tons of potash on reparations account, was confirmed yesterday by the Potash Syndicate here. The Syndicate representatives added that the negotiations for this potash had been virtually completed.

The Syndicate considered the action of the French surprising, in view of the plentiful potash supply available from Alsace-Lorraine, but believed it due to the fact that the German product could be obtained more cheaply.

THE CANADIANS ARE REPRESENTED

Many Collections in the Museum of American, Indian, Heye Foundation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press)—Canada it well represented in the collections of the Museum of the America, Indian Heye Foundation, which late this afternoon was officially opened at a reception attended by officials from Washington, the governors of the various states, and many distinguished scientists and laymen.

The Museum which is situated at Broadway and 155th Street in this city was founded by Mr. George G. Heye, who is also its director, for the purpose of solving the problems of the origin of the aboriginese of the Western world. Much attention has been given to the culture, developed by the Indians of the Canadian Northwest as they form an interesting and important link in the investigations now in progress. The skill and ability of the Indian tribes of the north is well demonstrated in their handling of woods for they were good mechanics and artistic craftsmen. One of the most striking exhibits which attracted the attention of the guests at the reception was a series of carved wooden feast dishes such as were used by various tribes at the potlatches. Some of these vessels are the size of modern bathtubs or even larger. In them the natives placed enormous quantities of food used in the entertainment of their numerous guests.

Complete in every detail is a huge whaling canoe, fifyt feet in length which the indians of Vancouver Island and of northern Washington used int the pursuit of the Leviathans which appeared off their coasts. This canoe with the exception of the prow and the upper part of the stern wal, made from hollowing out the trunk of a tree which must have been fully five feet in diameter. At the bow, the ivory-headed harpoon is in place, and in the middle of the craft are the inflated floats of hide which are used in tracing the sea monster after it has been lanced.

Especially complete is the collection of masks used in the ceremonial dances of the Indians. There are also ornate helmets in brilliant colors which show that the aborgines of the Dominion could express their spiritual ideas in a very realistic manner.

Another exhibit shows the high artistic development attained by the Indians of British Columbia as workers of jade. They made arrow heads, axes, and also ornaments by cutting and polishing nephrite found along the course of the Fraser River. With infinite patience, they cut the hard green stone into strips and slabs with tools of sand and stone. The various processes of their art are shown by objects in every stage from the crude blank to the highly polished and finished product.

That these Indians of the open places of the great north had a vivid imagination is shown by the fantastic effigies which they carved for use in their religious rites. The array of staifs which were carried by medicine men or shamen, includes many carved images representing the spirits supposed to have appeared to those seers of the aborgines.

Do not put the Rinso direct from the package into the tub. Make the Rinso liquid first.

Mix half a package of Rinso in a little cool water until it is like cream. Then add two quarts of boiling water and when the froth subsides put it in a tub of cool or lukewarm water and you will have enough for a batch of clothes. If the clothes are extra soiled, use more Rinso.

WOMEN RIVALS SPHINX, SO POLICEMEN DECLARE

Is Charged With the Murder of a Yale Graduate—Upsets Traditions.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 16.—The "sphinx woman" the woman who held her secret despite all efforts of police, jail officials and interviewers, is on trial here charged with the murder of Thomas A. Connel, Yale graduate.

Connell was killed in a down-town cafe. Three shots were fired. When the smoke cleared the "sphinx woman" Mrs. Mabel Champion, was found holding the smoking revolver.

She was arrested. Every subterfuge was used in an effort to make hre disclose her past. She held silence. She was formally charged with the killing. Still she refused to disclose her indentity, or make any statement concerning the slaying.

The day of the trial drew near. Still upsetting traditions of her sex for inability to keep a secret, no one could learn anything from the girl of her past, nor, from her, of anything which occurred the night Cornell met death.

Even now, with the jury empaneled and the trial started, she keeps silence, refuses to say one word in her defense. It is believed she will say that smoking revolver was thrust into her hand, that she is innocent, perhaps disclose something of her past. But even this is not certain.

ARE PLANNING A BIG DRY CAMPAIGN

Religious Organizations Concentrating Upon a Policy Which Will Unite

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press)—Fourteen Christian Churches and religious organizations in this country, including Anglicans, Roman Catholics, Quakers, the Salvation Army, and all the great Free Church denominations, are planning a temperance campaign for the beginning of next year. The campaign will urge the following four points:

1.—No sale of intoxicating liquor to persons under 18 years.

2.—Local option for England a nd Wales.

3.—No sale or supply of intoxicating liquor on Sundays.

4.—Supply of liquor in clubs to be subject to the grant of an annual license by the local justices.

Prohibition is not included in the programme of the campaign, Rev. E. Benson Perkins, Honorary Campaign Organiser, said in a recent interview. The Temperance Council of the Christian Churches which is responsible for the campaign, he said, was concentrating upon an agreed policy, which would not divide but unite. Thirty-six Anglican bishops have promised their support in the campaign, including the Bishops of London, Manchester and Exeter.

ONE AERIAL CAN BE USED AT SAME TIME.

Two or More Concerts From the One Broadcasting Station.

Two or more concerts from one broadcasting station at the same time!

That is the possibility opened up for the future through the transmission on several wave lengths from one aerial. It is at present an object of study by wireless engineers.

The system suggested for the attainment of this multiple form of radio transmission is one of which a use is made of a filter at the transmitting and another at the receiving end. A filter is a combination of wireless devices which allows only waves of a certain length to go through it.

By this method, it is explained, a concert can be arranged to go out on a definite wave length for reception through a similar filter. At the same time, other filters could be fitted to transmit varying programs on different wave lengths, while through the corresponding filters at the receiving end only one concert would be heard.

In this way, also, it is believed programs would be seceret to those who have not the proper filters or the right combination to tune in.

ACID STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

The Real Cause of Indigestion

Acids in the stomach irritate and inflame the delicate stomach lining, sour and ferment the food, prevent proper digestion and lead to nine-tenths of all dyspepsia and Indigestion. Pepsin and other artificial digestents give only temporary relief and do not correct the cause.

Stomach acids should be neutralized daily, and the stomach kept sweet and clean after eating by drinking a glass of pure Magnesia water made from teaspoonful or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia, obtainable at any reliable drug store. This prevents food fermentation and your meals digest naturally and without pain. By following this plan you may eat almost anything without fear of Indigestion.

"DEATH VALLEY SCOTTY" BECOMES A MYSTERY MAN

DEATH VALLEY, Cal.—"Death Valley Scotty," that most spectacular and picturesque of prospectors for gold, has once more become a mystery man.

He has reappeared near the scene of his famed gold strike of some 20 years ago, which started his career for reckless spending of money.

His movements are again surrounded with secrecy. From time to time he takes a four-mule team and disappears into the hills, returning with nuggets and specimens of high-grade ore.

Is Scotty on the trail of a new bonanza? Is he back at his much discussed and almost mythical "mine?" Is he soon to come riding in from the desert with gold lined pockets? A dozen questions are raised.

Ostensibly Scotty is running a ranch and appearing as a movie actor. Some weeks ago Scotty appeared at the Grapeville ranch, which, it was announced, he would run for a Chicago capitalist. Then a movie camera appeared and posed in Death Valley scenes. With Scotty went Sam, his "Blackman Friday," and with whom he has been closely associated on all his excursions, enterprises and adventures.

In between ranching and posing he trekked into the hills with pack mule. Efforts have been made to track him, but never have succeeded in locating his cache, while Scotty has never revealed the location of his mysterious mine—or whatever it is. Indians of Death Valley fear to trail him, it is said. sleeps out of doors on a blanket each night, does his cooking in a tent and acts mysteriously.

LAST PARTICIPANT OF REIL REBELLION

Ambros D. Lepine Passed Away at Kenora at the Age of 94—Knew Burying Place of Thomas Scott.

WINNIPEG, November 16 (Canadian Press). — Credited with being the last of the participants in the Riel Rebellion to know the burying-place of Thomas Scott, who was executed at Old Fort Garry, 4th March, 1870, Ambrose D. Lepine, the insurgent leader's adjutant, is dead at Kenora at the age of 94 years.

Lepine was sentenced to death for his part in the killing of Scott, but reprieved by the Mackenzie Government, and later sentenced to a two-year term in the common jail.

Lepine, a French-Canadian half-breed of powerful build, led an adventurous life as a young man, and prospected in British Columbia. He was highly respected among his own people, and the visiting days of his term in jail were like holidays. His friends smuggled in whisky to the jail, and he was accorded many privileges which made his sojourn a pleasant one.

Reminiscences of the stirring times of the early days were recalled by Sheriff Colin Inkster to-day when informed of Lepine's death, who states there is only one remaining member of the Riel Provisional Government alive. He is Louis Achmidt, of Buck Lake, Sask.

The Sheriff says there is a possibility that Maxime Lepine, brother of Ambrose, now living near Wawota, Sask., may know of Scott's burying-place, but he considers this unlikely.

For the past forty years Ambrose Lepine lived on an island in the Lake of the Woods.

COMPACT SET PLANNED FOR NIGHT AIR MAILS.

To Make Flying in the Darkness Safe — Introduced By Post Department.

Night flying for the air mail service will be made safe through radio.

A report says the Post Office Department at Washington contemplates the introduction of the best wireless equipment possible in each airplane that will be employed when night flying is begun. This, it is expected, will not be before the spring of next year, but experiments are going on in the meantime.

To be sure of the safety of each airplane pilot at night, the officials are contemplating the use of a duplex communication system. Thus, both the transmission and reception of wireless messages will be possible from the airplane over a radius of at least 100 miles.

There are 15 radio-telegraph stations maintained by the Post Office Department between New York and San Francisco. These will have to be provided with radio telephone sets of the highest type for communication with the flying planes. The station at Washington already has one of these sets.

Plan Compact Set.

Government wireless experts are centering their energies on the design of a compact and light wireless instrument which would be carried easily in the airplanes in use to-day, and at the same time afford the highest proficiency in transmission and reception.

The aerial will consist of the regular type of trailing antenna with a fish like lead weight at the end. The antenna is held on a reel in the plane when not in use, and is let out to a length of 30 feet, for the reception or transmission of messages.

According to the press report from the government bureau:

Radio Fishing.

"If the Post Office Department adopts night flying, its air mail planes will go trolling very often with a bait in the shade of a little lead fish on the end of a 300 foot copper line. The air mail planes will not catch fish, but they expect to fish ether waves from the air which will tell them where they are or whether there is a storm raging over the field on which they are due to land."

With radio in each plane, the airships will be given their position while flying, just as ships at sea find their bearings between two transmitting stations. This system will keep the night flyers on their right roads at all times, whether there be storm or fog, and is expected to insure the lives and property on the planes.

since grandma's day, when she knit wristlets to meet the shortcomings of the mere wrist-length gloves. Gauntlet gloves are a modern improvement, so to speak.

A fine but heavy knitted pair have deep ribbs and possess not only a respectable but excellent appearance—fawn color with a wide brown band around the wrist portion. Priced at $1.75.

CITY WITHOUT A NEWSPAPER

Such Was the Position of Perth in Western Australia During August and September.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press)—Imagine a city of 150,000 population being without a newspaper for five weeks, not even a weekly newspaper—practically cut off from the world from that period—and you have some idea of the position of Perth, the capital of Westren Australia, during part of last August and September. Perth was not only cut off from news of the world outside of Australia, but it had no news from the neighboring states in the Commonwealth during this blank period.

The cause was the strike of the mechanical staffs of the paper. It arose over what at first was regarded as a comparatively trivial dispute in the printing industry, but it suddenly developed into a deadlock. The mechanical staffs of the West Australian and the Daily News ceased work. These were the only daily newspapers. The Sunday weekly and two mid-weekly journals weer involved, and a population of 150,000 persons was thrown back into tohe position of the earliest settlers, before the cable and land Telegraph linked them with their fellows beyond their borders.

In the middle of September the man in the street in Perth was ignorant of the trend of the reparations struggle in Europe, knew little o rnothing of Ireland's trouble, or of the Greco-Turk clash. Worse still to him, he could learn nothing, except by a tiresomely circiutous route, of the form of the horses then in active preparation for the Eastern States racing carnivals.

The only newspaper available which had a telegraphic service was the Kalgoorlie Miner, which was published 400 miles away from the Western Australian capital. This had a very liimted circulation in Perth, and the proprietors, avoiding any possibility of being made parties to the dispute between the printers and publishers in the metropolis were not trying to obtain a Perth circulation. The strike ended on September 24.

WORKS DAY AND NIGHT TO COMPLETE COURSE

In Spite of This Connors Manages to Tear Off a Little Sleep Each Day.

CLEVELAND, O. — Conviction that he was making a serious mistake in dropping his engineering course at Case School of Applied Science came to Thomas R. Connors just before the fall term opened.

All summer Connors had worked at an apprentice wage in a machine shop; he had no money saved to finance him through the college year. He called on O. L. Allanson, alumni manager of the college, just as a railroad called in looking for a graduate to care for one of the Cleveland stations.

A day's study and a night's work is a tough little combination, but Connors tackled it. He took the job.

Between 7 p.m. and 4 a.m., Connors sells tickets, calls trains and handles the other station jobs for the railroad. Then he puts in a day studying. Between the two jobs he manages to sandwich in a little sleep every time he completes each round of duty.

I'm wearing my first Corset and it's a MODART

And why should I choose a Modart? My excuse for choosing it would be because it is so dainty and pretty. But the woman who fits growing girls has other reasons. The Modart is properly constructed for the developing figure—giving it just the right support and helping it in the way it should go—she will tell you.

And then she puts it on you—shows you how easy it is to adjust on days when you want it loose or tight. For you see it laces in the front!

She proved to me that it was the corset I should have.

Large quantities of arsenic were found in the body of Kupczyk, while the remains of Mitkiewicz and Ruzkakski are being examined.

Glad He Didn't Wed Her.

One of the witnesses questioned by Mr. McLaughlin on the phase of the inquiry was John Jankowski, a er and decorator at 2431 Moffet street. Jankowski admitted that he had thoughts of marrying the woman ten years ago, but was now glad that he didn't. Since his own marriage, however, he has not seen Mrs. Klimek and could give the investigators little information of value.

In the meantime the two women have been placed in the county jail awaiting resumption of the preliminary hearings on the murder charges against them, which are scheduled to come up before Judge Schulman in the West Chicago avenue court on Nov. 23. They still maintain their innocence.

HIGHWAYS MINISTER OPENED BIG VIADUCT.

Formal Ceremony Near Oshawa by Hon. F. C. Biggs, Followed by Banquet.

OSHAWA, Ont., Nov. 16.— The viaduct over Highland Creek has been officially declared open to traffic by Hon. F. C. Biggs, Provincial Minister of Public Works, the structure 650 feet long, and 100 feet high, having been built in record time. It eliminates, according to Mr. Biggs, one of the most dangerous hills between Montreal and Toronto, and the last barrier to traffic between Quebec and Ontario.

Hon. J. L. Perron, Quebec's Minister of Public Works, and W. A. McLean, Ontario's Deputy Minister were present at the ceremony, and the gathering of hundreds included representatives of every municipality in York and Ontario Counties.

In the Oshawa town hall last night a banquet was held at which 300 representatives of the municipalities gathered to express appreciation of the work carried out by the Provincial Highway Department. Mayor John Stacey presided. The Mayor and Board of Control of Toronto had been invited but failed to appear Toward the close of the banquet Mr. R. J. Fleming arrived and spoke briefly.

A TREMENDOUS VOTE POLLED

majority in the new House. At that hour they had elected 319 members, Asquithian Liberals 55, Labor party 120, Georgians 38 and other parties 13. This made a total of 545 divisions accounted for, with many still to be heard from.

Premier Bonar Law is now certain of an absolute majority over all other parties combined.

Probable Line-up.

LONDON, Nov. 16.— (Canadian Press.) — No forecasts as to the probable line-up in the new British Parliament were ventured in the early editions of the morning newspapers. All election comment was in a cautious vein. The early edition of the Daily Mail said it seemed most unlikely that Bonar Law would gain a working majority. It is said that the government was losing seats all over the country, with only a solitary win here and there to compensate them. Lloyd George candidates, it added, are also being heavily defeated and the chances of even a sufficient number of them being returned to form a combined government with Bonar Law were growing remote. Labor, the Daily Mail stated, is gaining all directions, with Asquithians also capturing many seats.

The Morning Post said there was no decisive change, but Times emphasized surprising Labor gains. Several newspapers point out that the apparently poor showing made by Lloyd George cannot be taken as his strength in the next House, because many elected Conservatives like Lady Astor, will be strongly for him and his doctrine of coalition.

The Lloyd Georgian Chronicle simply features surpirse over Labor, Independent and Liberal gains, while the Daily Express in the same vein, accentuates the surprisingly poor showing made by Lloyd George.

Safe in the House.

Conservative headquarters stated to-day that so far as the voting in Parliament was concerned, the Conservatives were secure against the Labor party, because they could reasonably look for self support, Independent Conservatives, the Asquithians and Georgians.

On the whole the election was remarkable for its good humor. Old-time bitterness and flaunting of personalities were almost absent. Party colors were worn very little, but in one district a party went to the length of coloring two miles of streets, thus indicating to the electors their path to duty. Stories of babes and sucklings who accidentally were enrolled on the registers, and who were taken to the polls to exercise their franchise, multiply, while never before was there such a crop of centenarians as tottered to the various booths yesterday.

One of these veterans was Sergt. McCall, said to be the last survivor of the Siege of Lucknow. Another was Frank Draper, reputed to have been a friend of Charles Dickens.

A Parsee Elected.

Among the successful Labor candidates was Saklatvala, a Parsee, born in England, who regards himself as a "Member for India," although elected for the prosaic working district of Battersea, South London. He intends to look after the interests of Indian education.

Among the returns to-day was the re-election of J. H. Thomas, Labor leader for Derby.

Notables Re-elected.

Sir Robert Sanders, Minister of Agriculture, was elected for the Bridgewater Division in Somerset. Postmaster-General Neville Chamberlain was returned in the Ladywood Division of Birmingham, and C. S. Amery, First Lord of the Admiralty, was victorious in the Sparkbrook Division of Birmingham.

Minister Defeated.

Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscown, Minister of Health in the Bonar Law Cabinet, was defeated by his Liberal opponent in the Taunton division of Somerset.

The Second Woman.

The second woman to be returned to the new House of Commons, Lady Astor being the first, was Mrs. Margaret Wintringham, the present member for the South Division of Lincolnshire. Mrs. Wintringham retains her seat with 11,009 votes, against the Conservative candidate, Sir Alan Hutchings, with 10,736 votes.

Gain For Asquith.

J. H. Thomas, Labor, and Charles Roberts, Liberal, were elected for Derby's two seats. This is a gain of another seat for the Asquithian Liberals. So heavy was the polling that nine hours were required to count the votes.

Extensive gains for Labor and numerous losses for Conservatives and National Georgian Liberals feature the returns. The poll was remarkably heavy. In many constituencies more than eighty, and in some cases more than ninety per cent. of the electors voted, a very large proportion being women.

HIS DOGSHIP HASTENS TO DENY ALLEGATIONS

SAN FRANCISCO—This story is just to give "Tanky" a pedigreed Pekingnese purp a chance to deny a few things that have been printed about him.

"Tanky" has just arrived in America accompanied by Monsieur de Tallyrand-Perrigord, first Duke of Tallyrand, and Duchess de Tallyrand, formerly Anna Gould.

True he is of royal dog blood, but—

He eats plain meat.

He doesn't sleep on a fancy pillow, nor in a royal bed.

He is bathed only once a week (though he jumps in a puddle of mud whenever he gets a chance).

He mixes with common dogs when he slips out for a stroll.

He traveled a lot—but would rather stay at home if the duke and duchess would let him.

And "Tanky" sincerely hopes that this will correct all the rumors that he's a milk drinker and a lounge lizard, and put him in right with the democratic American dogs he expects to meet over here.

BLIND WORKER TO DEMONSTRATE

Mr. John Brownlee Will Give Exhibition of Work by Blind in Grafton's Window Saturday.

The citizens are again reminded of the tag day on Saturday, the proceeds of which are to be given to the blind, and the tag day itself is under the auspices of the four Chapters of the Daughters of the Empire, who are undertaking the work of carrying it through.

There are some 31 blind people alone in this district, and throughout the whole of Canada just as large a percentage of the population as it is here. Those who have their sight can hardly appreciate the disadvantage of not being able to see, but this handicap is being remedied through the Institute for the Blind, where industrial departments for men and women teach them how they can be employed.

Mr. John Brownlee, one of the blind in Peterborough, entirely trained by the Institute, will be in Grafton and Company's window all day Saturday and demonstrate to the public what can be accomplished through the teaching and care of the Blind Institute.

NEW YORK, November 16 (Special to The Examiner). — The price movement was extremely confused on the stock exchange to-day. Recovery went further at the opening, continuing for the first hour or so, with numerous sharp advances in the industrial section. Then operations for the decline were resumed, not against the market as a whole, but against individual stocks.

The effort to uncover weak spots was quite unsuccessful. A violent break in the shipping stocks evidently had as a basis the likelihood of the uncomfortable conditions in the ocean carrying trade having their effect upon dividends. A number of other industrial specialties was driven down sharply and non-dividend paying railway shares again proved rather vulnerable to attack.

What these individual downward movements signified apparently was that while the main liquidation had been completed in the decline earlier in the week, there was still a certain amount of left-over selling to be done.

The most remarkable happening of the day occurred outside of the stock trading altogether. This was a further and rapid recovery in foreign bonds, the course of which the French dollar loan sold three points and the Belgian 7½'s over three points above their extreme low of Tuesday, while there were similar gains in French municipals, and other foreign Government issues.

To some extent this rebound, as well as the strength of the foreign exchanges, was an expression of hope in the new German ministry, representing as it does the big industrial interests in the country. But the jump in Government securities was a reaction against excessive operations on the short side.

Very evidently the "bear" campaigners of the last few weeks did not overlook the possibilities of the Government bond market for the unsettling effect a slump in that quarter would have in other directions.

That the stock market had not yet fully recovered from the consequences of last summer's extravagances was made clear by its reluctance to respond to favourable items in the news.

MARKET STRONGER.

NEW YORK, November 15. — Sterling opened higher in response to a better feeling over the situation in the Near East and stocks continued recovery which preceded most of Wednesday's session. Baldwin gained a point, and Studebaker, Steel and other industrial leaders advanced fractionally. National Biscuit opened higher reflecting three dollar annual dividend established on the new stock which makes income on present shares $21 annually.

SIGNS INDICATE BEARS LOSING THEIR POSITION

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Wednesday's recovery of 1.50 in industrial average against only .22 in rails demonstrated the extent to which the scope of the rally was straightened by professional pressure on low-priced carriers, particularly New Haven but stubborness on the part of short interest after a bad break is just as familiar as the tendency of bullishly inclined to over stay their market. This fact caused cautious traders to attach less significance to the manner in which pace of recovery slackened. Secretary Mellon's continued opposition to soldiers' bonus measure in connection with the statement that Mr. Harding had not changed his attitude toward the bill, added to budget of favorable news which developed over night Large car and locomotive orders are pending and steel industry is operating at highest rate since January 1. Nine companies announced special dividends Wednesday and scores of others are contemplating similar action, suggesting industrial leaders are optimistic. General Motors expected to resume payments. Toward noon the list was somewhat unsettled by break in Marine Pfd to new low, but this decline was attributed to depression in shipping industry and was not regarded as bearing a close relation to general business situation. Moon Motors was active, reaching 10 3-8. In first nine months the company earned about $3.50 on common.

MICHAEL O'LEARY V.C. SUBJECT OF ENQUIRY

Concerned in a raid in Dunnville Hotel—Defence claims it was a Frame-up.

DUNNVILLE, November 16 (Canadian Press). — Chief Miller and Constable John Dunnville testified at the inquiry into the charge that Provincial Officer Michael O'Leary, V.C., had poured something from a bottle into a pitcher he seized when he, with Constable Wilmot, made a raid on Hyde's Hotel at Dunnville, that they heard that a frame-up was planned against the V.C.

The Chief swore that he had heard Joseph Eagon, the bartender, say that three men who swore at Hyde's trial that they had seen O'Leary pour something into a pitcher, were not even in the bar-room at the time of the raid.

Other witnesses testified against O'Leary.

The inquiry is proceeding this morning.

Five witnesses swore they had seen O'Leary pour the contents of a [illegible] from his pocket into a pitcher he seized in the raid on [illegible] Hotel.

Driving the Stradivarius Fakers Out of Business

How Tone Vibrations Led to Curious Discoveries by a European Who Is Industriously Buying Up Cheap Fifteen Dollar Fiddles, "Curing" Them and Making Them Sound Like Fifty Thousand

Dr. Fisher-Pescatore Pointing Out the Identical Spot on Violin Back Wherein, He Declares, Rests the Only Great Secret of Violin Construction Overlooked by the Famous Cremona Makers.

Planning Out One of the New Backs for a Violin in the Expectation of Adding About $10,000 to Its Stradivarius Tone Value.

A MODEST gentleman of Russian, Teutonic and Italian origin recently visited America with a black satchel containing a few simple violin maker's tools and a bottle.

He spoke no English, but managed to make the clerk at a big musical store understand that he wanted to buy an ordinary "green," unfinished fiddle—simply the white, wooden, unstrung, unvarnished "box."

It was the kind of box that sells for $15 or $20 in its crude form, and for not many dollars more when it is varnished and strung.

With his "box" and satchel he retired to a hotel room and shut himself up for a week. When he came out he sought introduction to the kappelmeister of one of New York's biggest orchestras, who owns and prizes a perfect Stradivari.

"I should like you to have your first violinist play for us a moment upon your Stradivari, and then play for us a moment on this fiddle which I have brought."

The kappelmeister granted the request. The violinist played. The kappelmeister grew violently excited. "My God!" said he (and his exclamation was prayerful rather than profane), "have I gone crazy or have I lost my ear? I can't tell the difference! My perfect Strad—this modern thing you have brought in with its varnish hardly dry—they sound to me exactly the same!"

There was a hasty calling in of experts and exchange of introductions. The gentleman from Europe was Dr. Hermann Fisher-Pescatore. You have never heard of him before, but he may, apparently, be heard of by everybody as the man who has at last succeeded in making a modern fiddle that is as good as the best of the old masters.

He has a copy of a French newspaper which says:

"In a comparative test at the Paris conservatory, two of Dr. Fisher-Pescatore's violins scored 1,090 and 1,004 points, respectively, as against 1,000 points for a genuine Stradivarius, with a Guadagnini next with 822 points. Fourteen violins in the contest were numbered and played by the same artist. The judges had no way of telling which was being played at a certain time except by the tones."

The more you know about violins, the more extraordinary this announcement is. Two hundred years ago, in Cremona, violin making reached its zenith. Stradivarius, Guarnerius, Amati and a few other craftsmen made fiddles which have since been the despair of all other makers. When they died their secret (if they had a secret) died with them. The violins made by these old masters, and by one man at the same period in Germany, are practically the only great violins in the world to-day. That's why they cost tens of thousands of dollars. For two hundred years the greatest scientific minds have been trying to solve the secret—to make violins as good as those of the old masters.

Their failure has been extraordinary and complete.

Failing to make violins as good as those of Stradivari, unscrupulous experts have tried to fabricate "forged" imitations of his originals, until the fake Stradivari industry has become as fully a recognized activity in the criminal world as forging masterpieces of art, bank checks and counterfeit gin labels.

Antonius Stradivarius made a lot of violins. He worked steadily from the age of twenty until he died at ninety. No one knows exactly how many he made, but experts agree it couldn't have been more than 1,000, and probably was less than 500.

Yet there are in the United States alone not less than 10,000 violins bearing the signature (real or false) of the great master. Less than 200 of these in America, it is believed, are real.

The Stradivarius forger works in two ways. One way is to get permanent or temporary possession of a real Strad, and then make a fiddle as nearly as possible like it in quality and grain of wood, shape, size, finish, varnish and other physical details. The other way is to take a good old fiddle made at Cremona by some lesser maker, picking one with the physical characteristics of a Strad. In each case a forged signature label is used. Old Stradivarius pasted a paper label, printed from a wood block with his name and sign, in every fiddle he made. Some of the fake labels are made with all the cunning of the professional counterfeiter. Others are crude and would fool only the uninitiated.

Only an expert can tell with absolute certainty. He decides, finally, by the feel of the wood, the appearance, the minute details of construction and, most important of all, by the tone. Thousands of people have been swindled out of millions of dollars in the past hundred years by these fakes.

Dr. Fisher-Pescatore is not interested in imitation Strads. He is making a new fiddle, by a new method, which some people believe is as good as a Strad. What effect his "discovery" will have on the real Strads and on the fake Strad industry is an interesting question. It will certainly have no immediate effect—for only the passage of years and the use of Dr. Fisher's instruments by great violinists in large concert halls will really determine whether his instrument is as good as some experts believe or not. If his instruments are as good now, will they be as good in a hundred years? The question can't be answered yet.

If they are, and if they last, it will probably have the effect of bringing down eventually—after many years—the price of real Strads, which now range from $5,000 to $20,000, and perhaps of destroying the fake industry completely, as there would no longer be any use to imitate them.

This discovery, like many great discoveries, is comparatively simple. Dr. Fisher-Pescatore has consented to tell about it for this page. Here, by his own statement, is what he has done:

1. He makes radical changes in the relative thickness and thinness of certain areas in the wooden back of the violin.

2. He "ages," seasons and hardens the wood of the entire violin box by an artificial process which takes only a few hours.

Both these processes he has explained in considerable detail, withholding only one or two essential secrets for his own protection.

A violin's value is determined almost exclusively by the beauty and volume of its tone. Strings scroll, neck, the fingerboard, etc., are practically alike in all good violins. They contribute little or nothing to toral difference. The tone is determined solely by the volume and quality of the vibrations that are set up in the wooden box by drawing a bow across the strings. These musical vibrations are based on the ordinary laws of physics, and it was by an application of modern physical laws with reference to vibration, unknown (unless understood by intuition in the day of Stradivarius), that Dr. Fisher-Pescatore made his discovery.

The back board of a violin is not of the same thickness throughout. Generally speaking, it is thicker in the middle area and thins off gradually toward the edges.

Dr. Fisher-Pescatore discovered that in practically all violins hitherto made, whether by old masters or modern workmen, the thickest point in the back was always the exact centre, the point immediately under the place where the bow is drawn across the strings. This thickest point, naturally, was a centre of vibration for the wood.

Inside every violin there is a sounding post. It is a small wooden pillar, like a sawed-off piece of lead pencil, placed upright between the front and back of the violin box, and this pillar is stationed not in the centre but slightly to the side under the end of the bridge across which the first, or E, string is strung.

This sounding post, solidly connecting the vibrating wood of the back with the vibrating wood of the front, Dr. Fisher reasoned, constituted a second centre of vibration.

Therefore in violins as heretofore made there were two vibration centres—one the actual centre of the back where the wood was thickest and one where the sounding post made contact.

"If I could merge these two vibratory centres and make them one," Dr. Fisher argued, "I ought to get a fuller and richer tone."

He discovered by experiment that moving the sounding post was out of the question. It was exactly where it ought to be and where it will always probably remain.

He couldn't move Mohammed to the mountain, so he moved the mountain to Mohammed. By thinning out the centre where it was thickest, and making the point just beneath the sounding post proportionately thicker in the structure of the back, he succeeded in co-ordinating the two points.

In other words, in any other violin the thickest part of the back is its centre, while in Dr. Fisher's violin the thickest part is immediately under the sounding post.

That is all there is to the first part of his discovery, except that he does not tell you exactly how he applies the law of physics to determine precisely how thick and how thin the various parts of the back of each violin should be. That is his own secret.

The second part of his discovery relates to "aging" and seasoning the wood. It is generally believed that one reason why the Strads and other old violins are superior is that the wood has been seasoned, hardened and rendered more resonant by generations of aging. To reproduce this condition artificially and in a short time was Dr. Fisher's aim. After many experiments he invented a preparation made from substances found in the heart of green wood. He doesn't tell us formula, but the assumption is it must be a combination of the resins, oils and juices in the wood. The inference is forced, because there isn't much else in wood except its pulp. Of the manner in which this is obtained and the method and proportion of its mixing he will not tell. That is also his own secret.

But he tells you how he applies it. He makes it into a solution with ordinary alcohol and soaks the different parts of the violin box in the solution. He lets it stand for hours. The cells of the wood "drink up" the solution, alcohol and all. Then, when the wood is taken out, the alcohol completely evaporates, leaving the cells of the wood impregnated, filled up with the secret preparation, hard, resonant, seasoned.

When this is completed Dr. Fisher varnishes the violin in the ordinary way, with the ordinary varnish, and has an instrument which, according to good authorities and famous concert players in this country and abroad, is marvelously improved in tone and volume—so marvelously improved, in fact, that it is comparable to the finest Strad.

Dr. Fisher-Pescatore is a modest man. He doesn't say, "My violins are as good as the Stradivari." He says, "I think I have accomplished something interesting and new. Here it is. Try it. Listen to it and form your own opinion."

Some of the biggest concert players and experts of this country are "trying it," are "listening" and are "forming their own opinions"—which, stated with the utmost conservatism, is that Dr. Fisher-Pescatore has discovered a secret which may add another glorious chapter to the art of violin building, in which no progress whatever had been made since the great Antonius Stradivarius died in his little workshop at Cremona in 1737—one hundred and eighty-five years ago.

Women in America Revolt And Set Up Own Skirt Lines

Rebellion in rampant in America!

America's women have revolted against Paris fashion dictates.

And in casting off their bondage to the whims of the French modiste, American women are creating distinctly American fashions.

These facts were obtained in a national survey made today by NEA Service for the Examiner.

Length of skirts caused it all.

The long period of "freedom of the knees" was decreed ended by Paris some time ago.

Furthermore, this long skirt renaissance was to be no halfway measure, declared the French fashion czars. "Clear to the ground," read the ukase.

The word was broadcasted throughout America. The modistes began designing them along "streamline" specifications. The department stores put the long skirt dresses and suits on display everywhere and began to stock up for the usual fall rush.

But the rush failed to materialize, today's survey shows.

Used to the comfort of free motion allowed by the short skirts, American women, in the main, have refused to don the clinging long-skirted Parisian creations.

A few bought them. Most women didn't. Furthermore, they say they won't, Paris or no Paris.

"The flapper type, knowing it will pass out of flavor with the lengthening of the dresses, is certain to fight tooth and nail against any move against the short skirt," declared one fashion expert a few months ago.

Many Defy Paris Dictators.

That expert spoke advisedly. Not only is the outspoken flapper aroused to action, but practically all of the clubwomen, society women, educators, professional women and women health authorities in the United States are supporting her in refusing to sanction France's whims.

All over the land are signs of insurrection.

"Preposterous," "just plain ugly," "unhealthy," "silly"—are the declarations of American women concerning the French skirts.

The final result is that at the period of the year when the women are usually garbed in accordance with the newest mode, shops are still stocked with extremely long gowns, and women are wearing just what length of skirt they please — and most of them are short.

Out of this chaos, however, comes America's first constructive individual style movement. For while American womanhood isn't going to let Parisian ateliers foist ludicrous dresses on her, neither, apparently, is she going to let the youthful flapper be the arbiter of the apparel question.

Seven inches from the ground—that is, the skirt length the American de facto style dictators have decreed. That's a big come-down from the demands of the flapper, but the result is a skirt that not only modifies the French styles, but retains the freedom of movement that was one of the greatest advantages of the abbreviated dresses.

War Raging on West Coast.

The most active warfare over the French skirt is raging in Los Angeles. Its beaches are bringing flocks of the fashionable and wealthy in for the winter. They favor the shorter skirts. Between these and the movie stars—who must keep ahead of the styles—the long-short skirt controversy is bound to meet an acid test this winter.

"Short dresses and their appropriate complement give a semblance of youth, and aging women will be loath to surrender this," declares one California modiste who knows human nature.

New York, however, sees a predominance of long skirts in the smart restaurants, at the new revues and wherever fashionable people gather. They range from ankle length to five inches from the ground. This, say Gotham's designers, is the reaction from the short skirt, and since it has been so well received by New York, they believe the rest of the country, will follow suit.

Parisian importers in New York bring first news of French modistes' surrender to Yankee resentment. Already, shorter skirts are being shown on the Paris boulevards, and the importers whisper confidentially that the long skirt is a temporary matter, to be replaced soon by a conservative length. This is considered a victory for American womanhood.

Generally throughout the south, the long skirt has been accepted as the mode—temporarily. But not, however, without open expressions of opinion that the seven-inch skirt would be more welcome.

She Condemns Long Skirt.

"The old skirt which swept germs from the ground certainly should be a horror of the past," says Mrs. P. J. Fredericks, President of the New Orleans Federation of Clubs. "However, skirts should be longer than many women wore during the last year."

Staid New England, seat of America's first revolt, is not taking kindly to orders from a foreign dictator this year either. Boston's prominent women agree with designers that the day of the extremely long skirt is past, but they refuse to accept the Parisian clinging gown as its successor.

"The new gowns, usually made to reveal rather than drape the figure, are far more shocking to morals than the short skirts," declares Miss Amelia Burnham, prominent in Boston's Professional Women's Club. She condemns the French creation also on the grounds of lack of hygiene and personal comfort, and favors a skirt not less than seven and one-half inches—and possibly a foot—from the ground.

Washington's social circles have accepted the long dress for afternoon and evening wear and a slightly shorter skirt length for street. But the thousands of young women in governmental employ ignore the decree—and Washington looks for return of the short skirt in the spring.

Philly Flappers Want 'Em Long.

Philadelphia flappers now want them as long now as they wanted them short a while ago, say modistes there. The older women, however, are in open revolt. They do not want the knee-length dresses, but they don't accept the kind that drag on the ground.

St. Paul women are taking kindly to the skirt lengthened to seven inches from the floor.

But they have issued a warning that any attempt to make them wear "street sweepers" will bring a revolt! They insist that this is the era of dress according to individual ideas.

Kansas City, Indianapolis, Ind., Helena, Mont., Portland, Ore., Seattle, Wash., and San Francisco are other cities reporting a revolt against the long, clinging Parisian skirts.

Down in Atlanta, Ga., the return of the long skirt has been hailed with delight. Many take it there as "the end of the jazz period in American history."

The lowering of skirts to the seven-inch height also is declared by some economic students to be a sign that the American woman, having won her long fight for the ballot, is now determined to do her own thinking regarding clothes.

CLARENCE IS HAVING A PRETTY HARD TIME.

Papers Comment on the Latest Campaign to Offset Ridicule of Name.

Evidently the campaign against the ridicule of the name of 'Clarence,' started by a young Toronto man of that name, has spread over a wide area. The Philadelphia Record remarks: "It is getting to be a pretty drab world. There is another thing you mustn't laugh at. That is Clarence."

The vim that inspired this widespread publicity to counteract the feeling of dislike of the name of Clarence, which the Toronto gentleman seems to thing is increasing, is worthy of encouragement. Probably some ill-natured person will comment that it requires a Clarence to get all worked up over his front name.

Cigarette Case and Holder Now Smoking Essentials

By Margaret Rohe.

My lady takes her powder puff
And powders well her nose,
And then she takes another puff
Which through her nose she blows.
Her life is just puff after puff,
She's all puffed up, Lord knows.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—It is true the blue laws are after my Lady Nicotine, but thus far the only thing blue about her is her smoke. Enter any up-to-date hotel, tearoom or restaurant around the lunch, tea, dinner and after-the-theatre supper hours and when you have penetrated the smoke screen you are sure to find a smoke queen.

To be sure, the dear girls are making an awful effort to get away from the pernicious cigaret—you can tell that by the length of their cigaret holders. Quite the swankiest ones are of tortoise shell, onyx banded in brilliants, or ivory banded in black, and they measure conservatively speaking, seven inches from tip to tip.

HER LIFE IS JUST PUFF AFTER PUFF,
SHE'S ALL PUFFED UP, LORD KNOWS."

Stunning Cases.

An artistic amateur is evolving stunningly original cigaret holders for his lady friends by winding plain composition holders with colorful silk threads like a fishing pole and then giving the whole thing a coat of shellac. Sounds a bit fishy to be sure, but with the bait of a scented cigaret in one end and a pair of red lips at the other this novel cigaret holder is a good thing to get a line on.

Given a glimpse into the ubiquitous bead or brocade bag of the smart maid or matron these days a cigaret case and holder are as inevitable a part and parcel of the accourtements as the duplex powder and rouge compact and the lip stick.

What every woman smokes is indeed an amusing study in contrasts. Where one or two go in strong for the smartly mongrammed cigarets, exotically scented ones or those erotically rolled in black or colored paper, the mass of feminine cigaret devotees have a penchant for the common or garden brands that father knows about or you'd walk a mile for.

"Lady Nic"

There is a swagger little shop just off the Avenue called "Lady Nic," where everything for and appertaining to the gentle art of smoking as practiced by the female of the species may be found. Such monogrammed, diversely tipped and subtly scented coffin nails, ornate boxes, artistic cases, swanky holders—to get all smoked up about and with. Yet strong men curse and weak men chew their finger nails while their favorite corner tobacco shops—those erstwhile sacred masculine sanctums are invaded three deep by vociferous females loudly clamoring for "Leanimas," "Hell Bells" and "Fortunate Hits."

No matter how plebian her taste in brands, however, given the combination of a pretty girl and a lighted cigaret and all our preconceived Mid-Victorian prejudices are bound to go up in the smoke wreaths curling from her incarnadined lips.

No longer is there a double standard for smokers—a sex distinction for cigarets—so smoke up, Tom, Dick and Mary, while the cigaret dealers all do a Russian business to say nothing of an Egyptian and a Virginian one.

Woman Photographer Who Prefers the Plain Faces

The most original woman photographer is Mary Dale Clarke, who specializes in the difficult subject.

While many photographers prefer the pretty face, Miss Clarke takes greater interest in the franky plain and the more than middle-aged and makes them as interesting in a photograph as they are to their best frineds.

Her success is founded on her unique working theory.

"There are two types of women, those who have beautiful faces, and those who have beautiful moments," she says. "Of the two, the latter class is most artistically pleasing.

"When a woman is regular featured and classically beautifully, you admire her but she does not pique your interest as much as the woman who may be plain ordinary but who becomes beautiful and radiant when she talks to you, or when her intereat and enthusiasm is kindled.

"Such a woman gives you a goal to work for. You know her possibilities and you want to realize them for her.

Secret of Appeal.

"Often you hear it said, "Why did that handsome man marry that plain-looking woman?"

"The point is, that she probably isn't plain to him because he is able to bring out her in face the beauty which to others is invisible. It has the charm of being his own individual possession.

"The beauty that comes from earnestness or interest, which flashes for a moment, dies out and returns again is much more vivid and striking than that of the even-featured variety, and such beauty is within possibility of everyone."

It is her ability to create "moments" for her sitters that has made Miss Clarke so successful with her "ifficult subjects" and has made her artistic studio on Fifth Avenue in New York the place where people of importnace are bound to come sooner or later.

How She Loves It.

She has a wide range of interests herself, and a tact and sympathy which immediately brings out the best in her sitters.

"The chief reason most women do not take good photographs is because they overdress for them and can't look natural," she explains. "A woman buys a new frock to have a picture taken in. That is so silly. She should wear something in which she feels natural and easy.

"I always urge my sisters to dress simply so that the interest will lie in them, not in their clothes. If they want photographs of a certain frock it would be better to take it alone and center the attention entirely where it is supposed to be."

Miss Clarke was a portrait painter until seven years ago when her eyes became too weak for such close work. So she taught herself photography and now does all her own printing, retouching and developing.

"I prefer photography to painting, she says, "because it gives one a chance to meet so many more interesting people."

THE FIRST AIDS TO ALL COOKING.

Cranberry pies, of course, have lattice-work tops, lemon pie crust is baked on a pan turned upside down—and there are many other important things to learn when one goes to cooking school.

However, not the least important thing that every young girl learns is the vast significance of the becomingness of one's costume. Here is a regulation set which will be made in white for cooking school classes (teachers do seem to insist upon it), but may be made of colored cretonne of the brightest pattern for use at home.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Relieved Her of Headaches

Headache seems to be habitual with many people, and some, if any, are seldom free from it, suffering continually, and wondering why they can get no relief.

In all cases of headache the treatment should be directed to the removal of the cause, and with the cause removed the headaches will vanish.

It is impossible to find a better remedy for headaches of every description than can equal B. B. B., acting as it does on every organ of the system.

Mrs. Douglas Riseborough, 280 McKenzie St., Sarnia, Ont., writes: "Having suffered from severe headaches for a considerable length of time I decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and found that it helped me wonderfully. It relieved the headaches, and I noticed a decided improvement in my health."

Burdock Blood Bitters is a remedy that has been on the market for the past forty-four years, so you don't experiment with some new and untried medicine. It is put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed With Sulphur it Darkens so Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural colour and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural colour and looks glossy, soft and beautful.

Lace on Underwear

The newest underwear is showing trimming of lace—not used in frilled and lavish fashion but put on without fulling.

Even on the flounces of petticoats it is laid in flat rows and this is doubtless due to the still skimpy lines of the fashionable silhouette which demand underwear with smooth, straight lines.

Creamy Valenciennes is used and the hand-made Irish and fillet laces are still good. Venise medallions are also effective and in demand.

Underwear that does not use lace for its adornment is trimmed with applique designs or pipings in a color other than that of the garment.

Lattice trimming, too, is very good. Both hand and machine embroidery is used, but only in plain white or flesh color to match the garment.

One of the newest nightgowns is illustrated—it has gone back to the old-time very high waist and has short lace-trimmed sleeves and a low-cut square neck.

Tailored lines are found in the new braissiere and step-in combination—a comfortable, convenient garment women have welcomed enthusiastically.

Society at Work

MRS. BELLE HOWELL BOHN

Time was when a society woman must find her career in balls and parties.

Today, both in England and America, being in society does not prevent any woman from being a professional or business woman as well.

Recently Washington society was startled to know that Mrs. Belle Howell Bohn, a daughter of the late Admiral Howell, had announced her intention of opening a tea room.

Now the "Yellow Dragon" is one of the most popular spots in the capital city and is frequented by the most interesting and prominent people there.

TALES FOR CHILDREN

To get material for the 4400 children's stories she has written, Mary Graham Bonner has visited every zoo in this country and has made the acquaintance of practically every species of wild animal.

She has just spent six months in the Canadian Rockies learning about bears, panthers, snakes and others in their native haunts, and since her return she has been almost a daily visitor at the Bronx Park Zoological Gardens and the Central Park Zoo in New York.

'Children are more intelligent than most people believe she says, "They are often more observing than their parents and more quick to sense inaccuracies. They are reading better books than ever before, and those who write for them must know their subjects thoroughly as well as be able to write interestingly about them."

Miss Bonner writes fairy stories and outdoor stories, but she says animal stories are the most popular with the majority of children.

Finally I ventured on a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and kept on using it. At last we were rewarded by the steady healing of the sores, and finally he was completely relieved of them. THE SEWING SHE LEARNED AS MOTHER BROUGHT HER BUSINESS WHEN IN NEED

By Marian Hale

When Flora Conried's small son outgrew his perambulator and began to take his daily constitutional about the block on his own short stocky legs he created a sensation.

Where, asked all the neighbors, following him as far as the eye could reach, discreetly ambushed behind curtains, had his mother bought his clothes? What new shop had she found?

A committee on investigation was named. It reported that the child's snappy coats and nifty hats were created in the home sewing room by Mrs. Conried herself.

There was nothing to be done. One couldn't ask her to take in sewing. But later, when her husband died and Mrs. Conried announced she was going to take up teaching as a profession to support her young son, the neighbors had their chance.

Wouldn't she make just one hat for Minnie, or one overcoat for Sammy, who was so fat he looked deformed in readymades? Every mother on the block put in an order.

Makes it Her Business

"Well—I love to sew, and I like to make children look as adorable as they really are, it's so easy," Mrs. Conried explained. "The first think I knew I had to postpone my teaching career for another year.

"When I had sewed up all the children on the block and their friends' friends, the Woman's Exchange began to order outfits. Finally there was nothing else to do but open a shop—which I did in New York.

But she didn't open up a regular shop. Here is a place where the high spots in the life of Little Bo-Peep and Jack, the Giant Killer are dramatically sketched on the walls, where there is an assortment of stuffed cats, dogs, and donkeys that could keep any child from being bored while his mother discussed price and practicability.

"Being a mother, I know what mothers want," Mrs. Conried explained as she showed me a smart little coat, beautifully interlined, with a deep hem that would keep up with at least two years' growth.

'And having a son, I know what little boys want. Mothers want good material, good cuts, linings that will wear, and clothes that are warm without being burdensome.

"Children want coats that are neither tight nor baggy, sleeves that don't 'draw', hats that stay on without hurting the head, and buttons that stand lots of strain.

"So I try to combine the wants of the mother and the child. At first, I just made toggerie for little tots, but lately I have had calls for outfits for older girls. I make many uniforms for exclusive boarding schools in the east.

"Though I now employ nearly 30 women in my shop to make up the clothes I still draft all the patterns and do all the designing myself.

"Since brown is the rage for grownups this season. I'm showing much rust, carmel, orange and yellow in my outfits. For trimming on the little girl's dresses I use hand run tucks, faggoting and tiny edgings of real lace.

"Oh, yes, I'm very glad I gave up the idea of teaching—sewing for youngsters is much more fascinating."

Fashion Hints

FANCY SLEEVES.

The only trimming on a draped gown of black crepe is seen on the sleeves. These are of white georgette crepe, heavily beaded in gold beads and embroidered in gold floss.

ORGANDIE AND LACE.

The most unusual cuffs seen on any of the new frocks are of organdie with ruffles of gold lace. They turn back from the wrist to the elbow with a decided flare.

FUR COATS.

Rich and elegant coats of broadtail or baby lamb are effectively collared with sable or chinchilla. The smartest fur coats are draped as softly and beautifully as fabrics.

VELVET LININGS.

The lining to a smart coat of brown duvetyn is made of alternate stripes of brown satin and brown velvet. Entire linings of velvet have been noticed in some silk wraps.

FOR AFTERNOON WEAR.

A black crepe de chine afternoon dress is embellished with small beaded motifs of small crystal beads. The long sleeves fit fbar over the fingers in a long, straight line.

SIMPLEST DRESS EVER MADE YET.

By MARIAN HALE.

Here's the simplest dress ever made! One of those convenient models that you can buy the material for in the morning and wear to tea in the afternoon.

A few snips of the scissors, a few stitches every now and then, and the finished product is before you.

A careful and critical analysis reveals to the serious searcher after truth that this charming frock is nothing more nor less than two circular pieces of cloth in which two central openings and two slashes have been made.

Just a Circle.

The skirt is a large circle. In the exact center a circular piece has been removed to make room for the waistband. The outer edge of the circle is bound, hemmed or picoted. When finished it gives the effect of having been cut in scallops, but these points are the result of the natural folds of the cloth, varied by the hip lines.

Equally simple is the waist. It, too, is a circle somewhat smaller than the skirt. In this case the neckline was cut square, but it might have been round to carry out the circular effect. Two slashes serve as sleeves and make the drapery that serves for sleeves.

Sides Hang Free.

This waist is secured to the skirt at the back and front. The sides are allowed to hang free, and do away with the problem of adjusting the belt. A braided band of the material passes around the waist showing only a little in the back and front.

This dress is of white kasha crepe and was designed for Betty Compson, the motion picture actress, to wear on her trip to Honolulu, where she is to make her next picture.

It was designed for her by Ethel Chaffin, chief designer of the Paramount West Coast studios. It could be copied in any soft material and embroidered or trimmed if one wished.

Miss Compson completes the outfit with a pink camellia, crystal beads and a silver mes hbag and one of the smart, new, white felt hats.

FEW HERE KNOW WHAT ARMISTICE DAY MEANT.

Occasion Was Better Observed in Toronto and Other Centres.

Toronto observed Armistice Day on Saturday with far more effectiveness than Peterborough. Poppies were worn everywhere, the scarlet splash standing out on coat collars and furs. Toronto's city hall was draped with quantities of flags and there was a perfect mound of memorial wreaths and flowers in front of the speaker's stand here also, with whole wreaths of the blazing poppy and of laurel and oak leaves.

Here, there were even inquiries as to what the whistle at eleven o'clock meant and few people on the streets paused for even a moment. However, there were probably plenty of quiet remembrances of the day. Ivah and Marion and Irene were three little tots on their way from the store, to buy something for mother, when the whistle for two minutes' remembrance blew. They remembered that they had been told to pray, and so the three little things stopped and bowed their heads for two whole minutes. When Ivah's mother asked her later what she said in her prayer, she answered, "Oh, I couldn't think of anything to say, so I bowed my head."

The event evidently impressed itself on many little minds as something out of the ordinary. 'Sonny' ran in from the street and remonstrated with his elder sister for continuing her sewing while the whistle blew, reminding her that she was "supposed to pray to God for all the poor soldiers, so he wouldn't let them die." But he got a little mixed later, and repeated the performance when the noon whistle sounded, thinking that every note of the siren was meant for the "poor soldiers."

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED—

You know women seldom make formal calls in the evening, though friendly, informal visits are entirely correct.

Men, however, are privileged to make their formal calls in the evening. In the city they may call as early as 8 or as late as 9.30 p.m.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE.

Among the Bedouin tribes polygamy is the general practice, but only one woman at a time is allowed the distinction of being the real, lawful wife.

Marriages are never contracted on the until-death-or-divorce-part-us basis, but for a certain given period—which is usually a short one, often less than a year.

YOUTHFUL STYLES.

Paris is sending over smart little dancing frocks of delicate-toned taffetas, trimmed only with large silk bows. One is worn on the right shoulder, and the other reaches from the waist to the hem on the right side.

Natural Feeding —Your Baby's Birthright

A Medical Authority states: "Maternal nursing is not merely one method of feeding an infant—it is the only right way." Natural feeding is, therefore, the duty of every mother and the birth-right of every child. Naturally-fed children are more robust and healthy and more immune from infantile ailments.

To ensure an adequate supply of milk, and to enable the mother to maintain her strength while nursing, "Ovaltine" should be regularly taken before the birth and continued throughout the nursing period.

"Ovaltine" is a delicious beverage which contains the concentrated nourishment extracted from ripe barley malt, creamy milk, fresh eggs, and is flavoured with cocoa. One cup of "Ovaltine" supplies more nourishment than 7 cups of cocoa, 12 cups of beef extract or 3 eggs.

RICKEY'S REASON'S FOR TEAM'S FLOP

Manager of the St. Louis Cardinals Thinks His Trouble Was Lack of Pitching.

"What was the cause of the failure of the St. Louis Cardinals to make a better showing in the National League?

Recently that question was put to Manager Branch Rickey of that team.

"Lack of pitching," was the immediate reply.

"The lack of pitching" continued Rickey, "was brought about by the absolute collapse of Willie Doak.

"Last year and the year before when Doak started a ball game I figured the chances of winning the game were greatly in our favor.

"On past performances I figured on Doak to be the ace of the Cardinals' pitching staff in 1922. Doak appeared to have his usual stuff last season, but he simply couldn't win.

"When the ace of your pitching staff goes wrong, you have suffered a real wallop. If our pitching had held up I felt sure we would have won the pennant."

There you have the inside dope on the collapse of the Cardinals when they seemed all set for the pennant.

VETERAN REACHES THE TENNIS FINALS.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press)—England's Grand Old Man of Tennis, M. J. G. Ritchie, recently celebrated his fifty-second birthday by passing into the finals in the London Covered Courts Lawn Tennis Championships a fine achievement indeed as the entry was of a very high quality. Ritchie is one of the most wonderful veterans who have ever graced English sport.

At 52 years of age he plays tournament lawn tennis practically every day of his life and thrives on it. Some people may think that a man is too old at 40 for such a strenuous exercise but Ritchie meets and beats good players thirty years his junior, and he keeps on doing it. He is slower than he was ten years ago, but a compensating asset in the subtle brain of a great lawn tennis "general."

That and a matchless steadiness, pulls the veteran Ritchie through. He gets everything back, and works with one object, to get his opponent out of position. That accomplished, he finishes the rally with a neat and reasonably hard shot.

JOHNSON SUGGESTS BOYCOTT OF MINORS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—A proposal that the American League boycott minor leagues which have held out against the draft will be made by Ban Johnson at the December meeting of the junior circuit in New York according to reports here today. This, it is said, is the bomb which Mr. Johnson said recently he intended to toss into the meeting.

Last year a proposal that the five minor leagues be boycotted failed at a meeting of the National League clubs. The five minors which are not bound by the draft agreement are: American Association, International League, Pacific Coast League, Southern Association and Western League.

Port Siders Are Getting Scarce

Pitching runs in cycles. The major leagues constantly vary as to their pitching strength.

Dick Kerr of the Chicago White Sox, perhaps the most valuable southpaw in the organization, spent last year in the independent ranks because of a salary indifference.

Heimach of the Athletics, Pennock of Boston, Prnett of St. Louis Mogridge of Washington and Oldham of Chicago are the best of a very ordinary lot.

There is no southpaw in the American League who registers up to the caliber of Cooper of Pittsburg Nehf of New York and Rixey of Cincinnati.

BILLIARD LEAGUE

The City Billiard League will very soon commence their annual series of games for the G. N. Gordon Cup. The games as last year will be played at the G.W.V.A. rooms, Monday and Wednesday evenings and at the Sons of England Club rooms, Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

The teams consist of four players each and any Fraternal Society, Club or Factory in the city may enter one or more teams. Last year the De Laval Co. was the only factory to be represented by a team It is hoped this year that a number of others will enter teams. The Societies represented last year were the Caledonian, Foresters, G.W.V.A. and the Sons of England. Other Societies in the city are urged to join this year and make the tournament the success it should be.

The cup donated by G. N. Gordon M.P., is a trophy well worth winning. It was won last year by the S.O.E., who will have to win again his winter or lose the cup as it is given for one year only and each year is open for competition again.

Anyone desirious of obtaining more information or wishing to enter a team should communicate with the secretary of the League, F. Eggleton S.O.E. Hall.

Willard Finds Golf Harder Than Dempsey

JESS WILLARD AND JIM SIMPSON.

Jess Willard who threatens to do a come-back in the fight game and prove that he is the master of Jack Dempsey has taken up golf as part of his training routine.

Willard has been doing his training in southern California. Recently he visited the Chula Vista Country Club near San Diego, and whirl at golf. Now he is a confirmed dog and rarely a day passes without him playing at least 18 holes.

Here and There in Sportdom

The Toronto Hockey Association has broadcasted a circular asking co-operation in the formation of the Ontario Ladies' Hockey Association and it looks like a splendid opportunity for the local ladies to continue the game. Last season great strides were made by the young ladies in developing players and this coming season should see even greater interest in the sport. It is proposed to call a general meeting of all clubs interested, in Toronto, early in December, to elect officers for the Association. There would be no trouble in forming a group in the Trent district, and this city would no doubt be an entry. The P.A.A.A. will likely consider the question at an early date.

Gladstones of Ottawa are out for the Junior O.R.F.U. title of Canada and are looking forward to meeting the Toronto winner or Peterborough. But as the Gladdies expect a game next Saturday, the opposition will not come from this city. The Collegiates are billed for Oshawa, where a very important game will be played. A win for the locals will give them the group championship. Parkdale won junior honors in Toronto yesterday.

Les Lang, who was one of the prominent players wtih the Strathconas here last Saturday, was given a set of cut glassware by his team mate on the eve of his marriage.

Dick Sheehy takes the Petes to Toronto on Saturday for the second game of the series with Strathconas, in which points count. The local dozen promise to make it an interesting battle, and if they can put a little more "pep" into their play, the Straths will have to go some to hold their lead. There is plenty of confidence in the camp of the Petes and the players are putting in a week of hard practice.

Belleville fans are being told that Batstone and Lancaster of the Hillcrests will spend next summer in Cobourg.

And while the Quinte town folks are trying to get acquainted with the doings in other towns, their own athletes are silently slipping away. Oshawa sportsmen will gather tonight to form an amateur athletic association. Good luck to the motor town.

Unlucky Larry Doyle Is Again Out of a Job

By CHARLIE GOOD.

Larry Doyle has not had much luck i his managerial ventures, and the former star of the Giants and ex-leader of the National League in batting may have to strike his old manager, John J. McGraw, for a job as scout or something now that he has failed twice as a field boss. Good players do not always prove successful as handlers of talent, that other Larry, Lajoie, for instance, not making much of a fist of the bossing end of it, though, like Doyle, he had no peer as a player. Lajoie, however, lande a championship for one of the two clubs that he was connected with, giving him an edge over his erstwhile Irish rival, who in his first year out failed dismally here and didn't do much better at Nashville the past season. Doyle has been released by the Southern League club, and is now a free agent. He lasted longer with that club than he did with the Leafs, but he was always in hot water just as he was here, and it would not have been surprising if he had been given his conge in mid-season.

Drove Doyle Out.

Doyle might have developed a winner in Toronto but for the fact that he antagonized some of the players, notably Blackburne, who had entertained hopes that he would succeed Duffy when the latter resigned. Things went from bad to worse, and finally culminated in Doyle being asked for his resignation before the campaign was half over. Blackburne edged into the berth, and in all probability would have continued in office this year but for his refusal to be bothered with baseball affairs during the off season. His independent attitude led to the appointment of Eddie Onslow, who did the best he could, but as a manager he was a good first baseman. Eddie will be back next year, but only as a supernumerary under Dan Howley. Onslow, Andy Anderson and Gonzales are the only players with the Toronto club now who were on the pay roll in Doyle's time. Blackburne, who was credited with leading the cabal which resulted in the ousting of the veteran and Devine, Snyder, Davis, Spencer, who played minor parts in the alleged conspiracy, are with other clubs. It can hardly be said that they have bettered themselves at that.

Moral Here Somewhere.

Spencer was recalled by the Giants, who transferred him to Indianapolis and then to the Coast League, is anxious to return. He now claims that Toronto is the best city in which he ever played, but he didn't sing that tune when he was here. Blackburne was only a utility infielder at Kansas City, which was quite a come-down for a player who was less than 12 months previous the active head of a club in one of the chief cities in minor league ball. Davis was more or less a failure at Columbus, and Snyder did not win many games for the same club. Devine talked himself out of his berth with the Leafs, and almost out of the league. It is a certainty that he is not enamored with his Newark affiliations. These players made it unpleasant for Doyle, and as a consequence have not had much fun since.

Red Sox Want Howley.

Dan Howley is being boosted for the management of the Boston Red Sox by some of his friends. Duffy is slated to go, though his contract wit. Frazee has still a year to run. The Toronto manager is very popular in Boston, not only through his connection with the Tigers, but because he lives in Weymouth, which is practically a suburb of the Massachusetts metropolis. Gus Rooney writes in the Sporting News under date of Nov. 6:

"Dan Howley is about the streets of Boston every day and there are thousands of fans who have wished him success with the Toronto club the coming season. Dan is so popular in Boston that he is eligible for a try-out as a big league manager here, but he will be overlooked just the same as Jack Slattery has been for years.

"Slattery is one of the smartest players ever in the game, but there has not been a Boston owner yet wise enough to recognize him as such, although his Harvard teams have shown that they know baseball from A to Z. Slattery would make a fine man for some club and Frazee would make a wise move in landing him for the Red Sox if he decides to break with Hugh Duffy."

The Slattery mentioned is the old catcher who was with the Leafs ten or twelve years ago.

Dan To Stay Here.

There is little chance, however, that Howley will be allowed to go by the Toronto club. He is satisfied here, and President Solman expects him along any day now to talk over prospects before the big minor league meeting at Louisville. Howley has not been idle since he left Toronto. He has lines out for several players, including a couple of big league pitchers, one who was a frequent winner in the American League last year, but who is anxious to play north. It is in the twirling department that the Leafs can stand strengthening most and Howley is devoting his greatest effort to remedying that defect. There is some talk of trading Thompson to the Augusta club of the Solly League for a pitcher who made a fine record the past season. The southpaw is booked to go in any event whether the deal goes through or not. He wants to play in the south, as he figures that the warm weather will benefit his arm.

Bentley To Pitch.

The story that Jack Bentley was purchased by the New York club for the purpose of making a trade with Cincinnati for Eddie Roush is denied by the boss of the Giants. "I needed another left-handed pitcher," said McGraw, in refutation of the absurd yarns, "and I've got him. Bentley, from all accounts, is a great all-around ballplayer. But I'm told that he will prove a consistent winner in the box and that is where I plan to use him.

"The fact that Bentley can play first base and the outfield makes his services all the more valuable in case accidents happen. But there isn't a chance of taking George Kelly out of his regular position, and as for centre field, we'll have O'Connel, Cunningham, Stengel and Shinners trying for that place at the spring training camp."

Garry Herrmann and Pat Moran, it has been stated on good authority, tried to lay their hands on Bentley. Hermann has been quoted as saying that he offered $50,000 cash and three players valued at $10,000 for the Baltimore slugger, prior to the closing of the transaction by the Giants. But unless McGraw is "spoofing", Bentley will not be allowed to get away from the New York club.

CARRIGAN MAY BE RED SOX MANAGER

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 16.—Bill Carrigan, former leader of the Red Sox, can manage his old team again next year if he desires.

Harry Frazee, owner of the Sox, admits that Carrigan is the man he is after to handle the local American League team.

The sorry showing made by the Red Sox last season demands action. No one realizes it more than Frazee. He feels that a managerial change is absolutely necessary.

Carrigan, a big favorite in Boston is the one man that could restore lost prestige to the American League.

The proposition has been put up to Carrigan, and it is up to him to refuse or accept the leadership. It is understood the money question will not enter into the affair. Frazee will pay any reasonable figure Carrigan demands.

Teh owner of the Red Sox believes that his team with a bit of strength added here and there would be anything but a last place proposition.

While fond of Hughey Duffy, Frazee believes the club needs a driver to get anywhere. Duffy is too agreeable with his athletes and they get away from him.

Bill Carrigan is the only manager who was ever able to make Ruth step the way he wanted him. When with Boston the Babe behaved himself.

WHAT TORONTO SAYS ABOUT CONNACHER.

A Montreal report says Lion Connacher may locate in Montreal. There may be more truth than poetry in that because Connacher is mighty sick of the picayune panning he has been handed by some local pin-heads. If Conny could only get a peek at some of these saps who pan him from the security of the crowd, he would be ashamed of himself for letting such half-wits get his goat. Most of them look as if they have only escaped that Orillia institution by a streak of good luck. Real fans are advised to take a look at the hammer-wielders the next time they cut loose on Connacher or any other real athlete. Their rage will be turned to pity. —Toronto Star.

SIKI'S LIFE STORY

By Battling Siki

As Told to Milton Bronner, NEA Staff Correspondent

CHAPTER THREE—Siki's Wartime Fighting

When the war broke out, I felt it up to me to do my duty as a French citizen. We of St. Louis, yes, we are citizens. We have the vote. We also have the duties.

I joined the Eighth Colonials at Toulouse. It was a regiment mainly made up of white men. There were only a few colored men. I perhaps was the only Senegalese.

My family did its duty. My four brothers also served and three were killed. I was in all the big early campaigns.

I got my only serious wound in the battles around the Somme in the summer of 1916. Bomb fragments went through both legs in the middle of the calf.

From the hospital I went to Toulon for training and wound up as a corporal in the 73d regiment of heavy artillery.

Used Crouch in War.

I was the champion hand grenade thrower of our corps while in the Colonials. I could throw them 75 meters. It was exciting.

I stooped and used what the sporting writers now call my jungle crouch, went that way some distance toward the German line, then let them have the grenades. For some of that I got the Croix-de-Guerre and Military Medal.

But French service wasn't all fighting and danger. There was an English corps near ours in the Somme district. Those English always have sports when they do not work at war.

One day I got leave, went over to the English and asked to box one of their men. They got up a contest and we had a merry go. Then they asked me to stay to lunch. We French had simplest food and not much of that. But the English—ah, such meat and butter and good things.

Boxes English.

Those Tommies said it was as funny to see me eat as fight. They stuffed my pockets with things to eat, so when I returned to my own lines, my comrades said I had grown fat, fighting the English.

But me, I say: "Mais non, mes comrades—it is the English, they have given good things to eat. See, we will have a picnic. Then I take those foods from my pockets and we had the grand picnic.

It was fun, I tell you, and I learned a lot. Those English boxers were not stylish but they could take a lot of punching and give a lot of it. I learned how to stand up to hard blows.

Siki's Famous Crouch.

And from those British I learned another thing. They don't get mad. They box for fun. They try to win, but they try fairly. When it's all over they are friends with you, win or lose. They don't remember you busted them in the eye and keep on being mad.

So now after a fight is over, I don't keep on being mad either. I am sorry for the fellow I have beaten. But there are only two in the ring, the other fellow and me. And I don't want Siki to be licked.

So I have to try to lick the other fellow.

SIKI BARRED FROM ALL BOUTS IN ITALY.

ROME, Nov. 16.—(Canadian Press)—Tentative efforts to arrange a match between the new European light heavyweight champion, Battling Siki, and Giuseppe Spalla, of Milan, have resulted in the closing of the doors of every boxing club in Italy against the Senegalese from Paris.

The Italian Boxing Federation, learning that Siki's friends in Milan, where he is well known and has appeared several times, were making overtures for a bout between him and Spalla, informed all promoters in Turin, Milan, Naples and Rome that their licenses would be revoked if they staged a fight in which Siki participated.

AIR OF MYSTERY IN THE QUEEN'S CAMP

Kingstonians Determined to Wrest Victory From Varsity — All Practices in Secret.

KINGSTON, Nov. 16.—There is a grim determination on the part of the Queen's rugby team this week, something like that of the old days when Queen's triumphed when they were up against it. It was recalled that in 1895 Varsity gave Queen's a drubbing in Toronto in the first of the O.R.F.U. finals. The score was 19 to 2. Next Saturday Queen's won from Varsity in Kingston 12 to 7, but as points counted in those days Varsity took the championship. The defeat of Queen's in Kingston last Saturday was no worse than that administered by Varsity twenty-seven years ago in the finals, yet the Presbyterians did a "come back" and in rain and snow at that. Those were the days when "Whiskers" Bradley was one of the mainstays of Varsity, and Cralis Fox, Hamilton, played quarter for Queen's.

The Queen's players had a hunch that they were going to lose last Saturday, for they told their friends that under no circumstance were they to wager any money on the game. The loss of Harding and the wet ground appeared to them to assure a Varsity victory. In Montreal next Saturday the Tricolor team expect to lead Varsity if the ground is dry, as they will depend upon their speed as they did in Toronto. Queen's will have no fear of Snyder on a dry gridiron.

Nothing can be learned this week as to whether the locals will play straight football or introduce some trick plays. An air of mystery prevails at the university, the practices are being held in secret.

Queen's are already looking ahead for the championship next year, if they miss it now. The present team will be practically intact and some new blood will be on hand. The wing line will be strengthened, of course, and there may be another surprise on the back division. Batstone came to Queen's when little expected, and it is whispered that Lionel Connacher might take a notion to become a playing comrade of Batstone, Leadley and Harding next autumn.

A Few Persons Who Don't Know Any Better Scramble Out As Though Place is on Fire

An irritation to most theatre-goers, with reference particularly to movie patrons, is the habit of many of those people who consider their own whim before the comfort or convenience of others, and persist in making a mad dash for the doorway any time during the final film. A peculiarity of these persons is the fact that they usually stand in the doorway to watch the last bit of the picture, after they have compelled possibly a whole row of people to stand and allow them to tramp their rough way out. Their idea, evidently, is to be able to get out first, before the crowd, and it works out that way, but the majority of normal theatre goers prefer to see the finale of any production they have paid for witnessing.

The type that gets out first, regardless of others, is usually also the sort that comes in late and that makes audible comments during the performance, but their final bit of boorishness is the hasty exit referred to. One of the sweetest and prettiest pictures seen here in a long time and shown at a local movie theatre recently, was aboslutely spoiled for many of the regular patrons by the headlong exodus of some twenty or thirty people during the final few reels. Possibly these are men and women who object to sentimentality, and refuse to witness the scenes which form the climax of many pictures, but, in this instance, the picture was not a 'mushy' one, and the very men and women who made their headlong dash halted at the entrance to witness the last scene.

PARIS RESTAURANT ORDERS NEW FRONT

Keeps Pace With Competition in Appearance of Local Cafes.

The recent liveliness among local restaurateurs who have been saying it with new store fronts and other improvements has broken out at the "Paris," who proprietors have engaged Mr. Wm. H. Barry, the architect, to keep them up in the front row of the procession.

It is understood that the "Paris" will be fitted with a front like a bank, the idea being suggested by one of the owners of this cafe, and that the changes will provide for interior improvements which, it is expected, will be greatly appreciated by the public.

REX BEACH PICTURE AND VAUDEVILLE AT CAPITOL

The vaudeville turn "The Menning Sisters" refined Musical Artists opened a three day engagement at the Capitol Theatre today. This musical treat is direct from Keith's the big time vaudeville circuit and has also played over the Capitol Entertainment Circuit. The Menning Sisters are exponents of the Harp and Violin, and their act includes solos, duets and concert numbers.

The Beach production was made under the watchful eye of the famous author himself. Every location was approved by him as being faithful to the Alaskan country in which the theme of his story is laid, and the all-star cast that portrays the leading roles and the incidental characters were approved by him before any of the scenes were made.

In reproducing the spectacular railroad construction scenes, Mr. Beach in close collaboration with Director R. William Neill elaborated on his original vivid descriptions, and the reported result is that the film version is twice as blood-stirring as the book.

Snow and ice, rain and that, and the feverish rush to lay the tracks of the pioneers railroad through the Alaskan wilderness before the terrific winter closed down on the workers, and the desperate opposition of enemies in human form a profusion of high spots that keep intense interest suspended from start to finish.

Those who have read the book and who are acquainted with the popular artists that play the leading roles, will anticipate the strength of this new production is visualizing Wyndham Standing as "Murray O'Neil," Thurston Hall as "Curtis Gordon," Reginald Deny as "Dan Appleton," Alma Teil as "Eliza Appleton," Harlan Knight as "Tom Slater," Betty Carpenter as "Natalie," Lee Beggs as "Dr. Gray," and Eulalie Jensen as "Mrs. Curtis Gordon."

The production was made under the direction of R. William Neill from the scenario of Mr. Beach's prepared by Dorothy Farnum.

AT THE ROYAL.

PRETTIEST GIRL IN TOWN MADE TO RUN FOR MAYOR

It is a commonly accepted theory that a pretty face on a woman precludes the possibility of brains behind it. Why should there be? She has never been encouraged to cultivate them. Isn't it possible that the present status of women may in time give the poor girl with a pretty face a chance?

"Woman's Place," Constance Talmadge's latest First National picture which will be shown at the Royal Theatre today with a Women's Political League which is trying to do just this. At their meeting the leader points out that in view of the crooked politics of the town there's nothing left for the women to do but to run a woman candidate for mayor at the next election. They decide to put up the most attractive woman they can find—brains don't matter much in a mayor, anyway, says the leader.

And so they select Josephine Gerson who looks like a magazine cover who has just returned to town with fourteen trunks of Paris clothes. Josephine is portrayed by Constance Talmadge, and the sort of campaign she conducts can well be imagined.

"Woman's Place" is an original story by John Emerson and Anita Loos. It was directed by Victor Fleming. Kenneth Harlan is Constance Talmadge's leading man. Others in the cast are Hassard Short Florence Short, Ina Rorke, Marguerite Linden and Jack Connolly.

GIBSON REAL HE MAN STAR

Busting bucking bronchos has been Hoot Gibson's long suit ever since he was ankle high to a grasshopper. He is the champion horse man of the screen and there is no one to say him nay.

"The Galloping Kid" is an entirely different brand of western. The central figure in the story is a tramp cowboy who unexpectedly falls heir to a job as chaperon to a girl who is far too pretty to live in the cactus country. So the chaperon marries her to save her from the rest of the desert galoots.

The leading feminine role is played by Edna Murphy who makes a very delightful opposite for Hoot Gibson. Others in the supporting cast are Lionel Belmore, Leon Barry Jack Walters, Percy Challenger, and Steve Clemento.

AT THE GRAND.

"PRINCE CHARMING JR."

Probably no one has contributed more to the entertainment of the Canadian people than has F. Stuart-Whyte, the pantomine producer; and the announcement that his latest and best musical play, "Prince Charming Jr." is to be seen at the Grand Opera House for two nights and a Saturday matinee, commencing Friday, November 17, will be greeted with genuine pleasure by his vast clientele.

"Prince Charming Jr." is described as a big music-box of fun, exploding with spontaneous mirth and tinkling with melody.

The book and lyrics were written by Pierre Bazyard, while the musical numbers were all composed by Lieut B. C. Hilliam, who was responsible for the score of "Buddies."

The production has been made along even more elaborate lines than any of its predecessors, while the costuming is the last word in georgeousness.

Among the featured members of the company the name of Zara Clinton has a thrill of pleasant memories all its own. Her role this season is that of a cockney kitchen maid, who meets a real prince; first, on the battlefields of France, where she served with the Salvation Army; and later at a Cinderella Ball in a famous Chateau.

The chorus has been chosen with a view of glorifying a Dominion's girlhood. In fact, "Prince Charming Jr." has been written, composed, built and assembled with an intimate knowledge of your requirements, by a producer who has spent a million dollars in Canada during the last ten years.

This season will mark the eleventh annual persentation of a Stuart-Whyte show on this side. He came here from England with his first company just twelve years ago, and last season was the only one in which he did not make at least one Canadian production.

During his absence from the local field, Mr. Whyte has been for the most part in London and New York gathering material for his future efforts and establishing himself in the theatrical world of Broadway where he retains several interests.

REPORT WILL BE MADE ON THE DELORME CASE.

Patient Will Be Again Examined by Medical Commission.

QUEBEC, Nov. 16. — (Canadian Press.)— A report will shortly be made to Lieut. Governor of the province on the mental condition of Rev. Adelarde Delorme by Dr. Brochum, Medical Supt. of Beauport Asylum and the appointment of an impartial medical commission to examine the patient once more is likely in view of the divergence of opinion between Montreal and Beauport alienists and decision this morning in Moncton by Judge Bruneau to interdict.

Information to this effect was obtained to-day from unquestioned sources though Dr. Brochum himself would make no comment as regard what action would be taken as a result of rejection by Judge Bruneau of certificate Dr. Brochum had already furnished and which expressed the view that Adelarde's metnal condition is such that he can manage his own affairs.

Was Interdicted.

MONTREAL, Nov. 16. —(Canadian Press.) — Rev. Adelarde Delorme at present interned in Beauport Asylum, Quebec, after being indicted by the grand jury on a charge of murdering his half brother Raoul, was this morning interdicted by Mr. Justice Bruneau and declared incapable of administering his large estate.

Judgment was given on the petition of Adelarde Tetreault, brother-in-law of Delorme, who acted on behalf of the Delorme family council.

Mr. Justice Bruneau denied cross petition of Leopold Houle, lawyer for the Abbe, who asked that court announce that Father Delorme was competent to manage his own affairs.

DARING RUM DELIVERY.

"Highjackers" Wearing Dry Agents' Badges Unloaded Big Cargo.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—With Government prohibition badges shining brightly and holsters protruding ominously, ten men swept into the Chesapeake and Ohio yards at the of East South Water street, showed their "credentials" to yard officials, and went directly to a car load of what was billed as "sweet potatoes."

As the raiders opened the car five large trucks pulled alongside and $125,000 worth of bonded whiskey was unloaded, while railroad employees stood by with bulging eyes. According to witnesses, the entire cargo was transferred with lightning efficiency and the trucks driven away before any one could gain sufficient composure to send a call for help.

COLLEGE FRATERNITIES BUILDING MODERN CLUBS

High Price of Lodgings Cause Collegians to Seek a Common Roof.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—(Associated Press. — College fraternity men are the latest New Yorkers to turn cliff-dwellers.

The high price of lodgings, which has driven many families from private houses into apartment houses, has caused members of various fraternity clubs to seek a common roof.

To meet this need the Fraternity Clubs Building, a sixteen-story structure, is being erected at Madison avenue and 38th street.

Members of the various clubs, nearly all of them college graduates, will have their own private club quarters and sets of sleeping rooms, but while they may lounge and slumber under the Greek emblems of their own brotherhoods, they will eat and exercise in a communal dining hall and gymnasium.

The house committee will comprise a representative of each participating club. National headquarters of several fraternities will be located in the building.

Serving on the honorary board of the housing committee are Newton D. Baker, former Secretary of War; Major-General Robert L. Bullard; T. Coleman DuPont; Byron P. Harrison; Will H. Hays, former Postmaster General; Secretary of State Hughes; Joseph E. Ransdell; Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires; Oscar W. Underwood and former Governor S. Whitman.

IN MEMORIAM.

CLARK — In loving memory of Thomas Clark, who died Nov. 16. 1921.

Just one year ago you left us,
How we miss your loving face;
But you left us to remember,
None on earth could fill your place.

He was a father kind and true;
A patient, loving father, too.
His memor is as fresh today
As in the hour he passed away.

O, for the touch of a vanished hand
And the sound of a voice that is still!
We do not forget him, nor do we intend—
We think of him daily, and will to the end.

We mourn him in sorrow and silence unseen
And dwell on the memories of the days that have been.
Dearer to memory than words can tell
Are the thoughts of him we love so well.

Dearest father, how we miss you,
Never shall your memory fade;
Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger
Round the grave where you are laid.

We think of him in silence,
And his name we oft recall;
But there's nothing left to answer

CAMBRIDGE AND OXFORD STUDENTS EXTRAVAGANT

Subject Gained Wide Publicity When One Suicided Because of Financial Difficulties.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—(Associated Press)—Much criticism has been directed against the faculties of Cambridge and Oxford, as being responsible for the extravagant life lead by many of the undergraduates of the universities. The subject gained wide publicity recently when a student committed suicide because of financial difficulties.

Dr. Farnell, vice-chancellor of Oxford University, in his address at the opening of the fall semester, said he had to admit that complaints, occasionally lodged against undergraduates of extravagant living, were not altogether without foundation. He blamed the local shopkeepers for giving students credit, and urged that students be limited in the amount of money allowed them.

Dr. Farnell pointed out that the days of "Pendennis" when undergraduates were allowed to have parties in their rooms and to be without restrictions out of school hours, had gradually come to an end, and he said that nowadays cases of drinking among students were almost unknown.

THE SULTAN FLEES

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 17. — Canadian Press. — An attempt by the Kemalists to run the interned Turkish destroyer Akhisser disguised as a merchantman ,out of the Golden Horn, past the allied control, was frustrated last night.

The Kemalists succeeded in getting up steam on the Akhissar, on which they had built a superstructure, and started from the slip where the destroyer had been interned since the great war. Before proceeding far the Akhissar was hailed b the allied control forces. The Kemalists on board replied declaring their craft a merchantman, but their disguise was too faulty to deceive the patrols, one of which boarded the craft, and ordered her to return to her anchorage.

The allies now have prohibited the repairs that the Kemalists were proposing to make on the other interned Turkish war ships.

DISGUISED BISHOP FINDS N. Y. SOBER

Danish Visitor Seeks Debauchery, Finds Goodness.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—An old man in rough clothes who has spent some time wandering about the streets of this city and Chicago dropped his disguise yesterday and announced his findings on prohibition as it affects the poor.

He is Bishop Anton Bast, of Copenhagen. He sails for Europe to-day.

"The only drunks I saw during my wanderings," the bishop said, "were four in a Ne wYork subway. On the Bowery, where I wandered on several occasions day and night, I saw no intoxicated men. But everywhere I found men sober, so much so that I believe New York is the most sober metropolis in the world.

"There is surely drinking going on here, but it is on the quiet, and the tales of wild debauchery told us in Denmark are without foundation, as far as the great metropolis is concerned."

CRASH! ABSENT HUSBAND FOUND AND CAT LOST

He Bobs Up Driving Car Which Hits Another; Now Cat is Missing.

DETROIT, Nov. 17.—A valuable Persian cat, an absent husband, a doctor and his wife, a few policemen and a Municipal Courts judge all figure in incidents which were the aftermath of an automobile accident on Baldwin avenue near Jefferson avenue yesterday.

Curiously enough, the cat and the erstwhile missing man changed places—that is, in police circulars—for the cat is now listed as missing and the man is recorded as found.

Police of McClellan station Wednesday had been asked by his wife to look for Clarence W. Hemenway, 42 years old, who is superintendent of the Canadian plant of the Maxwell Motor Co., and whose home is at 4763 St. Clair avenue. They were preparing to send his description to other stations when a report of an automobile accident on Baldwin avenue came in.

The Very Man.

Investigation revealed that a car owned by Dr. O. G. Peskin, 1370 Jefferson avenue east, which contained Mrs. Peskin and her valuable Persian cat, and which had been parked while the doctor was making a call, had been struck by another automobile. Dr. Peskin, hearing the crash, rushed from the house where he had been calling and after rescuing his wife, who was bruised, summoned the police. Patrolman John Robinson arrested the driver of the other car who, it developed, was Hemenway. He was taken to McClellan station and locked up. The police tore up the report concerning his disappearance.

In the meantime, Mrs. Peskin's cat, taking advantage of the excitement, disappeared into the night and hasn't been seen since. At the request of Dr. Peskin, police have listed pussy as missing and have sent her description to all the stations.

Cat Comes First.

To-day in Judge Pliny W. Marsh's court, Hemenway admitted he struck Dr. Peskin's car, and the judge adjourned the case until Nov. 29. Hemenway agreed that meantime he will recompense Dr. Peskin for the damage done his automobile.

Dr. Peskin says he is more concerned about the missing cat than anything else. He bought it two years ago as a present for Mrs. Peskin, who was greatly attached to it.

MARKED INCREASE LABOR MEMBERS

LONDON, Nov. 17.— (Canadian Press Cable.)—Up to an early hour to-day the recorded popular vote cast in the British elections was 13,444,809. Leaving out of account 56 acclamations, this resulted in the election of the following: Conservatives 305; Labor 138, Asquithian Liberals 57, Georgians 37, all others 14 making a total 551.

The popular vote thus included was divided as follows: Conservatives, 5,256,756, Labor 3,040,819, Asquithian Liberals, 2,327,774, Georgians 1,450,632. All others 670,819. Assuming for the moment that England and Wales, Scotland and Ulster had formed one single constituency, to which the principle of proportional voting was applied, the results would have been as follows: Conservatives 212, Labor 159, Asquithian Liberals 94, Georgians 59, all others 27.

This shows a remarkable increase of labor members at the expense of Conservatives, and no doubt is explained in part by the chief Labor strength coming from urban centres, where the proportion of vote cast is high, while the Tory strength depends very largely on the country ridings, where the agricultural vote is not so keen or so easy to get to the polls.

FOOTBALL NOTES.

The De Laval line-up for the Junior Football game with the C.P.C. juniors at Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon will be: Frick, Ashmore, Ward, Hayward, Cooper, Marchan, Bell, Elliott, Evans, Smith, Naish and Feeley.

The Election Results Satisfy the Old Country the Papers Declare

"Rid of Compromise and Subterfuge" Says the Westminster Gazette — Labour Journal Sees Prospects of a Labor Government in Near Future.

LONDON, November 17. Canadian Press. — Gratification is expressed by most of the morning papers as a result of the elections. This was of course to be expected from the Conservative press, in view of the retention of the Conservative majority, but some of the Liberal newspapers also find certain grounds for satisfaction, or at least compensation. They recognize that the outcome means a return to party government. "We are rid," says the Westminster Gazette, "of compromise and subterfuges, which have made Parliament most contemptible," while the Daily News says the election "has blown a breath of clean air into our discredited Parliamentary institutions," and rejoices at the establishment of "strong, effective and able opposition."

The Daily Herald anticipates another election within 18 months, and says that if Labor plays the cards carefully, we ought to have a Labor Government without doubt." The Times says the result demolishes the last argument for the maintenance of the coalition.

THE DETECTIVES PROVE OUT STORY HALL-MILLS CASE

Convinced Mrs. Gibson Tells the Truth After Going Over the Entire Ground.

CHECK UP DETAILS

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. — The authorities have made a test of Mrs. Jane Gibson's story of the Hall-Mills murder, and have satisfied themselves that their star witness could have seen what she says she saw on her return to the scene of the crime at 1 o'clock in the morning. According to Mrs. Gibson, the moon had just risen at that time, and she was able to see a woman in gray kneeling and sobbing beside Rector Hall's body—the same woman in gray Mrs. Gibson says she saw with a bushy-haired man in the glare of an automobile's headlights in De Russy's Lane before the murder.

The test was made this week when, the authorities say, atmospheric conditions were practically the same as on Septemebr 14, the night of the murder. The moon was practically in the same quarter as on the night of the murder, and the stars were even fainter than on that night. When the detectives went to the scene of the crime the stars were partly hidden by light clouds, whereas the night of the murder was clear, and was marked by shooting stars.

Detectives have made several trips to the Phillips farm to survey the ground and prepare evidence to be used to convince the Grand Jury and later, perhaps, a trial jury, that Mrs. Gibson was telling the truth in her story of seeing a man and woman in the glare of the automobile headlight, and of seeing the flash of pistol and flashlight, and hearing shots, the mention of a man's name, and a demand for an explanation of the love letters, in the group of four figures she saw dimly near the crab apple tree at 10.20 o'clock, before the moon had risen. Having prepared evidence to show that it was a physical possibility for Mrs. Gibson to have been where she said she was on those occasions, and to see and hear what she says she saw and heard, the detectives concentrated on showing the plausibility of her story of the return at 1 o'clock.

Inn Frequented By Napoleon Still Doing Business

AUGSBURG, Bavaria, Nov. 17.—(Associated Press)—The most famous inn in Germany "The Three Moors" at Augsburg, has been celebrating an anniversay of its founding 400 years ago.

Napoleon I spent some time in Augsburg with his staff, and the old guest-book of the inn held the signatures of Joschpine Beauharnais and Marie Louise. Next to them were inscribed the names of Metternich and Talleyrand, and of various princes and ambassadors enroute to the Congress of Vienna. Other noted guests included Wellington and Sir Walter Scott.

HIGH SKIRTS FINE SAYS CLEMENCEAU

Ah, Oui, but Higher Still, Chorties Tiger Aboard Ship.

ON BOARD THE S.S. PARIS, November 17. — Georges Clemenceau manifests a keen interest in the women in furs parading the deck, wishing to know who is who. He has already decided the dresses of the American girls, like skyscrapers, are not high enough.

When asked by a reporter to say something for the wireless, the Tiger replied:

"Follow my example. I founded a paper and never wrote for it for 13 years, sending all my contributions elsewhere."

Clemenceau is beginning to show testiness when bothered by persons introducing themselves. To a Frenchman who approachhint, saying, "You supported me for deputy 15 years ago," Clemenceau retorted, "Then I made a great mistake."

He already is deluged with wireless messages from America. He says he may speak as long as two hours in his first speech.

WILLIAM JOHNSTON FUNERAL YESTERDAY.

The funeral of the late Ex-Alderman William J. Johnston, conducted from the family residence, 641 Aylmer street, yesterday afternoon, under Masonic auspices, was largely attended, testifying to the high esteem in which the former capable alderman and exemplary citizen was held. The beautiful Masonic rites were conducted in a touching and impressive manner, both at the house and grave in Little Lake cemetery, by Rev. R. B. Grobb, Worshipful Master of Corinthian Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of which deceased had been a member for years. Rev. W. Harold Young, pastor of George street Methodist church, also conducted service at the family home and at the cemetery.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Harry Rush, Samuel Taylor, A. A. McIntyre, A. A. Fowler, Andrew Brown, William Hill, all members of the Masonic Order.

Among friends and connections present from out-of-town were J. Douglas Johnston, of Smiths Falls, only son of deceased; John Hutchison of Trent Bridge and Mrs. M. E. Knox, of Picton, uncle and cousin, respectively, of the late Mr. Johnston; and David Hoovey, of Toronto, brother-in-law to the sorrowing widow.

PROD A WHITE CORPUSCLE TO PROLONG LIFE

Tissue-Building Activities of the White Blood Corpuscles Explained by Scientists.

CAN PROTECT BODY

NEW YORK, November 17. — Discovery of the tissue-building activities of the white blood corpuscles, believed by scientists to point the way to the indefinite prolongation of human life, were outlined yesterday by Dr. Alexis Carrel, of the Rockefeller Institute, in an address before the National Academy of Sciences.

Dr. Carrel's statements were taken by many prominent scientists in his audience to indicate that the secret of longevity might be found through the discovery of a means of stimulating the activity of these corpuscles.

Dr. Carrel described the work of the white corpuscles, which experiments had shown, he said, protected the body against infection and also stimulated the growth of new tissues, and the regeneration of dormant cells.

He told of his experiments with animals which indicated that the white corpuscles stimulated the growth of new tissue "by setting free growth activating substances in the tissues."

Hideyo Noguchi, a Japanese scientist, who is also a member of the Rockefeller Institute, announced he had developed an anti-serum for Rocky Mountain spotted fever, which now has a mortality rate of 70 per cent. in the Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast states. He said his serum would prevent the disease if the victim was inoculated within four days after he had contracted it.

SOD BROKEN FOR THE NEW DIAMOND

Members of Exhibition Board Were Out Early This Morning—Tractor Helped.

Farmer members of the Exhibition Board turned out this morning at the Fair Grounds with a dozen plows, teams and other implements for churning up the earth, and by noon half of the rough preliminary work of building up a baseball diamond and outfield was completed. Four of the enthusiasts weren't far behind the seven o'clock whistle, and the others arrived shortly afterward. Mr. J. J. Duffus trotted out a Fordson tractor and drove it until noon. The urban members were also well represented, and if their efforts were not as effective as those of their farmer pals, they were willing and eager to help. The spirit of the Exhibition Board was illustrated by the fact that the agreement with the Peterborough Baseball Club was concluded only last night, and the members set to work this morning as though they were owners of the ball team with a championship in sight.

Farmers are asked to take notice that Duffus Motor Sales will give a demonstration by a Fordson tractor and disc harrow on the Exhibition Grounds to-morrow afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock.

Let every one do his and her bit to-morrow—Tag Day in the interests of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind—and a respectable sum will be realized towards lighteing the darkness of the sightless. This Tag Day is one means of fostering the work of helping the blind to help themselves by teaching them avocations which will render them independent of charity, and transforming them into contented and happy, industrious citizens.

Once, not long ago, they sat in their tragic darkness, pathetically idle and plunged in self pity—the blind men, women and children of Canada.

To-day, thanks to the splendid efforts of a group of untiring Canadians, and to this Institute, an ever growing number of the

A ray of light has come to them in their darkness and they are earning money—making themselves an asset, not a liability to the Nation.

ACCUSED GAVE EVIDENCE FOR LARCENY CASE

Interesting Case Opens To-day in Michigan Court—A Marital Tangle Involved.

POSED AS AN EARL

CHARLEVOIX, Mich., Nov. 17.—(Special).—After being in the witness box two days in his defence, A. J. Walker Greig, better known as the "Earl of Dunblane," on trial for larceny by embezzlement, was yesterday afternoon subjected to the commencement of the prosecution's cross-examination, a questioning which, in endeavoring to show his appropriation of funds, revealed unmercifully the complexity of marital relationships.

Long before the session in which Greig was to take the stand again the chamber was thronged. He proved to be a good witness for himself, and had ready answers for every question. He seemed cheerful. He would smile as he testified an almost cynical smile. To him all promises of a nerve-wrecking cross-examination appeared futile. And there was one other cheerful person, one whose smile of confidence caused much comment. It was the "Countess." Throughout Greig's defence she sat by his counsel.

The prosecuting attorney spared nothing. He questioned Greig on his parents, on his wives, on his families, on his life, of rumors of previous arrests on information regarding criminal records, on his travels, on his business in general, on his business in particular.

Greig told that his birthplace was Aberdeen, that he had gone to Aberdeen University, taken three years in law in Edinburgh and practised there for a year.

"And then," said Smith, "you went to Nottingham?"

Greig looked startled. "I object to that. It is irrelevant," said he, but Judge Sample ruled that he must answer it.

"I went to Nottingham about 1902," said Greig.

Smith continued his questions about Nottingham. Greig denied that he had anything to do with a secretary of the Scottish Union and National Insurance Company, but admitted assisting Sir Herbert Creft in organizing another insurance company there.

"Is it not a fact that you left England overnight with funds of that company, and that Scotland Yard officials were looking for you?" asked Prosecuting Attorney Smith.

"It is not so, it is not so," Greig vigorously denied.

Smith did not press the point, but questioned Greig as to his life in Canada. Greig admitted being in Moose Jaw, and later practising law in Regina, leaving there in 1916.

PUP GAVE BLOOD TO SAVE BULL TERRIER.

OAKLAND, Cal., November 17 (Canadian Press). — Blood transfusions from the veins of Apache French, a pedigreed pup, to those of Major, a Boston bull terrier, has saved the latter's life.

Major's illness was caused by swallowing two ice-cream spoons, which a veterinarian removed, but the shock and loss of blood nearly caused the death of the patient.

LORD SHAUGHNESSY TELLS OF IMMIGRATION PROBLEMS

Canada's Population is Far Short of What It Should Be, According to Vital Statistics.

CHANGE NECESSARY.

MONTREAL, November 17. — Lord Shaughnessy yesterday delivered an important address on immigration before the Kiwanis Club of this city. Lord Shaughnessy said:

"Practically nothing has been done during the past eight years to attract population. Of course the war interfered and during the period of the war it would have been impossible to bring people here; but four years have elapsed since the armistice and much might have been accomplished in those four years, were it not for unwise immigration laws, the practical abandonment of publicity work, and withdrawal of agents. We have been hiding our light under a bushel with the result that we have lost to other countries thousands of excellent settlers who should have come to us. Indeed it is worse than that, because the census returns show that in 1911 Canada had a population of 7,200,000, and the census returns for 1921 show a total population of 8,700,000, but in that period the vital statistics show that there was a natural increase of 1,836,000, and immigration into Canada from other countries of 1,975,000. Had we received no immigrants at all the natural increase should have given a population of 9,000,000, so that in these ten years we have apparently not only lost the equivalent of all the immigrants who came in, but did not even maintain, according to the census returns, the increase due to natural accretion, after making full allowance for our war losses.

"It goes without saying that many of those who left were foreigners, who were compelled to return to their own country on the outbreak of the war, so that the shrinkage was not an unmixed evil but it emphasizes the necessity of replacing them as quickly as we can.

Big National Debt.

"When we take into account the fact that the national debt which was $335,000,000 in 1914, has now reached the staggering sum of $2,380,000,000, or approximately the equivalent of $270 per capita of our population, a national railway system (acquired for reasons that are more or less defendable that with its annual deficits absorbs the greater portion of our rather burdensome income tax, with no prospect of immediate improvement, we must realize that the burden is too great for a population of 8,700,000 people, and that if we are to carry on without serious inconvenience, we must secure with all possible speed a very large addition to our population and to our productive. Great as is our national debt and serious as is the railway burden we have within our country in undeveloped wealth in our lands, our forests, our mines, our fisheries, and other resources, ample assets to meet all our present and future requirements, provided that by industry and development this hidden wealth be made gradually available.

"Plainly sketched, we have on one side these enormous national liabilities and a sparse population. On the other side we have vast areas of agricultural land in the western provinces within 15 miles of existing railway lines, only awaiting settlers to establish homes for themselves, and their families, and to make these lands productive for their own advantage and for the general financial advantage of Canada, and in Ontario, Quebec and the lower provinces, there is still room for a great many thousands of settlers.

Mineral Deposits.

"The mineral districts of our country thus far exploited are a mere patch on the great mineralized area of the Dominion, and our forests utilized in a sensible way will be a source of incalculable wealth. Clearly our policy must be to bring these matters under the notice not only of the people of Great Britain and the United States, but of many of the continental countries as well, and say to them: 'We want you to come to our country and enjoy opportunities and advantages quite beyond your reach in your own country. We shall not deceive you, nor shall we permit others to do so. You will be informed of the climatic conditions of the particular portion of Canada to which you wish to go, and incidentally we may mention to you that in every section of the dominion the climate is healthful and invigorating. With us you will enjoy the best form of government in which every citizen has a voice, without reference to his position in life. If you are a laggard, do not come; we want men, and women, too, who are industrious, and who realize that indolence or indifference will lead to failure here, as it will in any other white country. We expect you to become citizens of Canada and to take active, intelligent interest in Canadian affairs; to see that your children are not only educated, but by your example encouraged to lead clean, moral lives. It is not our intention when you land on our shores to turn you loose to shift for yourselves; we shall have bureaus or departments to take you in hand and advise and guide you until you have reached your destination."

Defeat of Lloyd George Was a Big Victory for Sir George Young--After Long-Drawn Battle

INTO WILDERNESS.

D. LLOYD GEORGE.

Conservatives Have a Working Majority Though the Party Did Not Make Any Surprising Gains — Labor Party Almost Doubles Previous Representation While Liberals Sustain Heavy Losses.

LLOYD GEORGE IS SATISFIED.

LONDON, Nov. 17.— (Canadian Press.)— The long-drawn out fight between former Premier Lloyd George and Sir George Younger has for the time ended with victory for the chairman of the Unionist Party. Younger and his adherents staked their political fortunes at the famous Carlton Club meeting which smashed the Coalition and sent Lloyd George into the wilderness on the conviction that the country was ripe for a return to straight party politics and in the firm belief that the nation would support their conviction by sending the Conservatives to the House of Commons with a good working majority.

Their confidence has been amply justified. Wednesday's elections have returned a Parliament with almost the same overwhelming predominance of Conservatives as the last Parliament, elected in 1918, on a wave of grateful enthusiasm to Lloyd George as "winner of the war."

While this cannot properly be described as a landslide, as the Conservatives at the time of the dissolution of Parliament numbered about 380, it amounts, considering the peculiar circumstances of the time and the high hopes held by the Labor and Liberal parties, of the return of the country to progressive views, almost to the same thing, and it may be supposed that the Conservatives themselves hardly expected such favorable results.

It means a Parliament with little changes except that Bonar Law replaces Lloyd George as Prime Minister and that the former's premiers attenuated following, reduced by the elections to under fifty, will presumably henceforth be in opposition, instead of working in co-operation with the Conservatives.

The downfall of Lloyd Georgeism is the outstanding feature of the elections. The Coalition-Liberals at the dissolution numbered 129; they are represented in the new Parliament by only 44 members. There will be many regrets among the former Premier's admirers, that he failed to take the advice of some of his well-wishers and retire for a time entirely from the political stage.

The Asquithian Liberals lately improved their position, rising from thirty-four in the old Parliament, to sixty-two in the new, but they did not do so well as they expected. On the other hand, Labor, although it failed to fulfill the high hopes the party entertained at the dissolution, has done exceedingly well, rising from 76 to 141 seats. It is generally believed that Labor would have done far better but for the tactical mistake in its advocacy of a capital levy.

While the strength of Conservatism in the country is a matter of surprise, perhaps the keynote of the elections is the decline of Liberalism, and the growth of the Labor Party. This seems to show that henceforth the struggle will be between the Conservatives on the one hand and the Labor Party on the other. The position now is that Labor is the second strongest party in the House, and in case of the Conservative Government being defeated in Parliament, it would be to the Labor Party that the King would naturally turn for a leader.

Many Women Voters.

One striking feature of the elections is that the women voters have taken an unexpectedly strong interest in the campaign, their participation probably accounting more than anything else for the exceedingly heavy polling. But, however keen their strength, they do not appear to be in the mood to elect women to Parliament, only Lady Astor and Mrs. Wintringham ,already in the House, being returned.

Estimates on the present distribution of parties in the House of Commons differ somewhat owing to a certain confusion in party boundaries and the number of isolated members, representing independent groups, such as "Co-operators." Included in the Conservative group are thirteen Ulster Conservatives.

There are still ten seats, the results of which were not announced last night, namely, some of the Universities and distant scattered Scottish constituencies, from which the results may not be available before Saturday.

There have been many noteworthy casalties among all the parties, the most striking, perhaps, being the defeat of Arthur Henderson, Labor leader, and Winston Churchill, former Colonial Secretary, and the overthrow of five members of the new administration, for whom safe seats will somehow have to be found.

Blow to Lloyd George.

The defeats of Mr. Churchill, Sir Hamar Greenwood, former Chief Secretary for Ireland, and Frederick G. Kellaway, former Postmaster General, were severe blows to Lloyd George, who, however, had the satisfaction of seeing his son returned by a big majority, while both his secretatries, Sir Edward M. Grigg, and G. H. Shakespeare, were elected.

Mr. Asquith himself had a somewhat narrow escape from defeat, and his chief henchman, Sir Donald MacLean and Walter Runciman, went down.

Major Lloyd George, the former Premier's son, had an enormous majority in Pembroke, his poll being 21,569 to 9,703 for the Laborite, Jenkins. But the Georgians continued to fare badly, and although Lloyd George was elected unopposed for Carnarvon, the Georgian candidate, Major C. E. Breese, was defeated for the County of Carnavon by the Laborite, R. T. Jones, by more than 1,600.

A noteworthy return was the re-election of the new Pensions Minister, Major George T. Tyron, despite the recent agitation against the proposed abolition of that ministry.

Numerous defeats were due to three-cornered contests, Labor suffered a bad one in the loss of Arthur Henderson, but, on the other hand, J. Ramsay MacDonald, Philip Snowden, Sydney Webb, chairman of the Independent Labor Party, and other Labor stalwarts have been returned.

A notable feature was the change in the attitude of the country towards men of pacific persuasion who were rejected in the patriotic war wave in 1918. Among these successful candidates are Ramsay MacDonald, Snowden, Arthur Ponsonby, Charles P. Trevelyan, Noel Buxton and George Lanebury, former editor of the Daily Herald.

Lloyd George Satisfied.

Lloyd George said last night that he was "quite satisfied" with the results, but declined to be interviewed. Mr. Asquith declined to express any opinion on the results until he had an opportunity to examine them in detail.

The Labor Party issued a manifesto stating that they find "abundant reasons for satisfaction," in their success and that their gains at the expense of both Liberalism and Conservatism, and declare that their party will constitute the most vigorous and efficient opposition that the House of Commons has seen for many years. At Labor headquarters the opinion was expressed that everything points to a Labor Government in the near future.

Labor's success is believed to be largely attributable to Sydney Webb who has been in great measure responsible for the campaign organization of the party for the past 30 years. Mr. Webb has been, with George Bernard Shaw, the leading spirit of the Fabian Society, which represents intellectual socialism and closely co-operates with the Independent Labor Party.

Frank Hodges, Secretary of the Miners' Union, expressed delight last night at the fact that with one exception, all the miners' candidates were successful, and predicted that Parliament would have to reconsider the question of nationalization of the mines.

The London crowds displayed renewed interest in the results of the polling, and similar scenes were witnessed yesterday as Wednesday, but on a much smaller scale, and the crowds rapidly dwindled last evening when the principal returns were known.

HIGH TARIFF IS CONDEMNED BY TRADE JOURNAL

URGES REFORM.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press.) —Severe condemnation of the action of the United States Government in erecting barriers against Canadian trade is contained in an editoral printed yesterday by the Journal of Commerce, which declares that "one of the most short-sighted pieces of legislation ever contrived by Congress was the application of our present tariff to Canada."

After pointing out the natural advantages for trading between this country and the Dominion, the Journal of Commerce expresses the opinion that it is not adequately recognized on this side of the border that Canada is the second best customer of the United States, ranking next to Great Britain. The paper then quotes statistics from recent trade returns showing the extent of Canadian trade.

"What real good does the present tariff do the United States?" the editorial continues "And how much concealed harm does it inflict? Granting that some favored interests benefit by present restrictions, is not the United States, especially the cities near the border, a big loser by shutting off the advantages of larger commercial intercourse with a nation so like ourselves, so rich in natural resources and proportionately as well equipped with brains and muscle as ourselves?"

The paper concludes with an argument in favor of taking down or lowering the existing tariff barriers on both sides, thus "permitting trade and industry to flow on the lines of least resistance for the benefit of all concerned."

UNITED STATES REFUSES CITIZENSHIP TO JAPS.

Supreme Court Has Given Important Ruling.

WASHINGTON, November 17.— Japanese can not be naturalised in the United States, and can not become citizens of this country, the Supreme Court of the United States has decided in its first construction of Federal statutes bearing on the subject.

The decison was the first delivered by Justice Sutherland as a member of the Court, and was handed down in a case brought by Takao Ozawa, who in 1914 applied for citizenship in Hawaii.

The ruling is expected to attract wide attention, not only in the United States, but abroad, notwithstanding the failure of the Court to make any reference to its diplomatic significance.

The case has ben long pending in the Supreme Court, and last term when reached for argument during the conference on limitation of armament and Far Eastern questions, its consideration was postponed at the request of the Department of Justice.

No reference is to be found in the decision to the "gentlemen's agreement" under which Japanese immigration into the country has been regulated.

Conservatives Have A Clear Majority

LONDON, Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press.)— Owing doubtless to the difficulty of classifying certain of the successful candidates, summaries of the state of the parties differ somewhat, but one of the most reliable authorities gives the Conservatives 345, the National Liberals or Georgians 52; Independent Liberals 57; Labor 141 and other groups 10 with 10 results yet to be announced.

INSPECTING THE FIRE AREA.

The organization of a representative party, including presidents of Boards of Trade throughout Ontario, to make a tour of inspection of the devastated area in Northern Ontario shows that the conditions there are far from settled, and that a large measure of assistance will still be needed by the people of the district.

A first-hand investigation of the situation by Board of Trade officials should result in the facts being brought home to the people of this province and in a renewed desire to render assistance to the sufferers.

It is the intention of course that after viewing the conditions for themselves, the members of the committee will go home to their respective boards and report as to what they saw in the north and as to what relief measures should be undertaken.

The true state of affairs will be more accurately and clearly revealed in this way than by any other method that suggests itself, and the tour, which begins to-morrow, should be of much benefit to Northern Ontario.

A MEMORIAL PARK.

The conversion of Armour Hill into a memorial park seizes upon the imagination, and Mr. Tooms, M.L.A., deserves thanks for the interest he has shown in this proposal and the steps he has taken to secure information and advice.

No better counsel could be obtained in this connection than can be offered by Professor Zavitz, chief of the Ontario Forestry Department, who is ready to come to Peterborough to consult with the local authorities.

The announcement that the Department will supply the trees and shrubs needed to re-forest the property should give impetus to the movement.

The East Peterborough Patriotic Association and the Chamber of Commerce and Horticultural Society, which have been co-operating in the consideration of the Armour Hill project, should have the assistance of other local bodies.

The proposal that the city should buy this property for park purposes was turned down when it was presented to the ratepayers some years ago, but there is every reason to believe that the majority of citizens would favor the turning of this landmark into a memorial park, dedicated to the memory of the Peterborough soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice in the world war.

A visit from Professor Zavitz would do much to arouse popular interest in the undertaking.

LARGE VOTE A FEATURE.

A striking feature of the British elections, from a Canadian standpoint, was the very large percentage of the total vote polled.

In some ridings as high as ninety per cent of the names on the list were registered, and the percentage was uniformly high throughout.

This showing, in the face of the description of the election as one of the quietest and tamest on record, is most surprising.

It is evident that the British people put a much greater value upon their possession of the franchise, and have a much keener sense of their responsibility as electors than have Canadians as a whole.

In no election in this country in recent years has there been any such vote polled as was recorded in England, Wales and Scotland on this occasion.

In fact, fifty per cent. of the vote on the list is a fairly high mark in Canadian elections, and in municipal contests the total rarely reaches that high.

It is difficult to account for the lethargy and indifference of a large proportion of the Canadian people towards this duty of selecting their municipal, Provincial and Federal representatives.

Possibly that indifference accounts in some measure at least for the fact that the net public debt of Canada—national, provincial and municipal—is estimated at $412 per head of the population.

SOVIET FINANCE.

A despatch from Moscow announces that the Soviet Government is about to issue gold coins of a value similar to those minted under the Czar's regime. This calls sharp attention to the financial and monetary mess which has been made in that great country by Lenin and his associates, says the Montreal Star. Since the passing of the Czarist regime two systems of currency have disappeared and a third, founded by the Communists, has been admitted by them to be a failure, admitted in actions which speak louder than words.

At the opening of the war the Russian ruble bore an excellent reputation, there being more than one hundred per cent. of gold behind it. Now it has fallen so low that it has ceased to be quoted on the exchanges. Even the German mark, which has so fallen from its high estate, is a plutocrat compared to the ruble. A well-informed French writer not long since quoted a Bolshevik estimate of 600,000 paper rubles to one gold ruble, which is equivalent to over a million paper rubles to the dollar. The Soviet Government itself has this last year started a new issue of notes, in which one ruble is equal to 10,000 rubles of all previous Soviet issues; and the relation of this new note to par has not as yet transpired.

A significant thing, too, to be noted in this despatch is found in the return by the Soviets to the coinage of gold in Imperial values. The purpose of this coinage, the despatch indicates, is partly to cover the State Bank note issue. Now the main object of this State Bank is to encourage the return to Russia of the "capitalist" whom Lenin set about to destroy. So this little item contains in its pregnant brevity a double confession of Soviet failure.

LIQUOR PROFITS IN QUEBEC.

For the year ended April last the Province of Quebec has a net profit of $4,000,000 in round figures from state operations in liquor, says the Ottawa Journal. The transactions of the commission amounted to $15,212,801, in addition to which beer was produced having a wholesale value of a further $15,050,819. Government sells spirits at a fixed advance on cost, but merely exacts a license fee for the manufacture of beer.

From the monetary point of view this was good business, says the Ottawa Journal, and Quebec, always conservative and prudent in her administrative policies, will probably be envied by those other Provinces which do not find it easy to balance their budgets. Yet to many the moral issue will remain. The commissioners have obviously had the aspect in mind, and in their report discuss the statistics relating to crime. They naturally conclude that the policy of the Province has been justified by results. They point to the sharp difference of judgment which prevails with regard to the matter of liquor. One class, they admit, believes strongly in total prohibition, while another favors restrictive selling. In defence of their own attitude they say:

"Such a change in the habits of a people is necessarily slow, and requires the use of means which are not oppressive, so as not to encourage a reaction, which reaction would mean a battle for another system. It is with this viewpoint that your commissioners accepted the responsibilities conferred upon them."

The report very plainly discloses that the Quebec policy falls far short of perfection. During the year 2,929 investigations took place, 1,600 cases were made out, 169 permits were annulled, and 850 investigations are still under way. With Hull right under our eye, no other evidence is necessary to prove laxity and glaring imperfection. In the ultimate reckoning many students of the liquor problem will demand something more than money profits to counterbalance the obvious loss of efficiency in any community which makes it easy to get liquor. Something is also to be said respecting the demoralization which accompanies the constant and flagrant breaches of even a restrictive law.

"HELP THEM TO HELP THEMSELVES."

Through the medium of a tag day the people of Peterborough are being asked to-morrow to assist the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

It would be perhaps more accurate to say that Peterborough is being given a chance to make some return for what the Institute has done and is doing for the blind of this city.

To-morrow's objective is $2,000, and it is safe to say that the Institute for the Blind has already spent more than that sum on behalf of local citizens.

The general public, perhaps, has little idea of the work that has been done in Peterborough in the way of home training and teaching.

For three years this splendid movement has functioned here, and during that time eleven blind adults have been given a complete course, have been afforded a new start in life and inspired with a fresh hope and a desire to live.

A resident teacher has been on duty in Peterborough, maintained by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, and instructions are given in basketry, rug-weaving, knitting, crotcheing and reading Braille.

At present eight of Peterborough's blind are receiving books in Braille from the Institute's library.

It is impossible to estimate the benefit that has been received by those citizens who have been taken under the wing of the Institute, but it should at least be evident that it is the duty of the community to show appreciation of the work that is being done and to assist that work when the opportunity is presented.

This is the first general appeal throughout Ontario since the Institute received its Dominion charter in 1918, and the response should be generous enough, not only to permit a continuance of the splendid movement but to show that the people of Ontario are grateful for what has been accomplished.

The Daughters of the Empire are in charge of the local tag day, and they confidently expect that the citizens of Peterborough will recognize the urgency of the call and the merit of the cause.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Judging by the election results, the people of Great Britain do not believe in the slogan, "Let George Do It."

British electors have given women candidates, with Lady Astor a notable exception, a mandate to "carry on" at home.

There may be Canadian papers not guilty of making a pun on the name of the new Progressive leader, but they are not on the Examiner exchange list.

"Help them to help themselves." A splendid slogan for a splendid effort, and Peterborough should respond liberally to the appeal of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind to-morrow.

Eleven of Peterborough's adult blind have been taught an occupation so that they are in a position to keep themselves. That is work worth while.

Voting in the British elections took place in a fog. And most Canadians have been in a similar atmosphere even since, trying to figure out the returns.

Many notable figures in British public life went down to defeat on Wednesday. It is a fate that nearly all statesmen and politicians too must expect to meet sooner or later.

That McGill student who walked to Syracuse to see a football game and then walked back to Montreal is surely entitled to be considered the champion fan of the country.

The old parties are not saying very much just now but they have difficulty in concealing their smiles as they read of the troubles of the Farmers' party.

Evidently the Kemalists have developed the spoils system to the limit. They are not satisfied with taking the jobs away from the opposition, but take their lives as well.

STILL—NOT SO BAD

A resident of Chicago made a trip into the Ozark mountains of southern Missouri and northern Arkansas last summer and was not very favorably impressed with the country. He inquired of one of the natives:

"What on earth do you do down here all summer long?"

The native eyed him in some astonishment.

This interested the Chicago man, and he pursued the subject further.

"What do you do in the winter time, then?" he asked.

"Stranger, in the winter time it's too durn cold to fish," answered teh native.—Kansas City Star.

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, Nov. 17.— (Canadian Press.)—A feature of the trade in cash grain in the local market yesterday was the good demand for American corn for domestic account but trade in oats was quieter. Business in potatoes was not large. The butter market was without special feature and trade in cheese was quiet.

FATTY ARBUCKLE FILMS SCRAPPED PERMANENTLY.

NEW YORK, November 17. — Motion picture films featuring Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle from which the producers had hoped to gain about $2,000,000, have been permanently scrapped, the Paramount Pictures Corporation announced last night.

The films, said to have been made at a cost of $500,000, were held up when Arbuckle was indicted for the slaying of Virginia Rappe, an actress, who died after a drinking party in Arbuckle's suite in a San Francisco hotel.

Although Arbuckle was acquitted, the Paramount management decided it would be unprofitable to release the films.

Aply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out.

Any breaking out of the skin on face, neck, arms or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. The pimples seem to dry right up and go away, declares a noted skin specialist.

Nothing has ever been found to take the place of sulphur as a pimple remover. It is harmless and inexpensive. Just ask any druggist for a small jar of Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.

WEDDING BLELS

MAGEE—FRANKS.

EMILY, Nov. 17.—St. James' Anglican Church, Emily, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on November 15, when Matilda (Till) second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Franks, became the bride of Stanley, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Magee. The Rev. E. R. Jones officiated.

The bride, who was unatttended, entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March rendered by Miss Marjory Franks. She was attired in French blue Canton crepe with silver trimming and silver hat to match and carried a beautiful boquet of Ophelia roses.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold pendant and to the organist a string of pearls.

The happy couple motored to their future home at Orange Corner's amid showers of confetti and good wishes.

Laxative Syrup Pepsin Helps Nature Give Relief

Try it when a Laxative is needed and see the wonderful results

IT is not necessary to take a violent physic for so simple an ailment as constipation. Yet many thoughtless parents give mercury in the form of calomel, and coal-tar in the form of phenol when a natural vegetable compound like Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin will do the work equally well and without danger. People should realize that mercury may salivate and in certain conditions loosen the teeth; that phenolphthalein, by whatever name known and however disguised in candy, may cause dermatitis and other skin eruptions; that salt waters and powders may concentrate the blood, dry up the skin and cause lassitude.

You can take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin yourself or give it to a babe in arms, as thousands of mothers do every day, with the confidence that it is the safest and best medicine you can use for constipation and such complaints. A teaspoonful will relieve you over night even if the constipation has been chronic for years. Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is a compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, and does not cramp or gripe. Every druggist handles it, and bottles are so generous that the cost amounts to only a cent a dose. You buy it with the understanding that if it does not do as claimed your money will be refunded. The names of all the ingredients are on the package.

Mrs. Geo. Reeve, of Galt, Ont., uses Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin with good results and is greatly pleased with it; and Mrs. K. Jennings, of Toronto, Ont., finds it very satisfactory. Bring a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin into your own home and let the family use it for constipation, biliousness, wind, gas, headaches, flatulency, and to break up fevers and colds.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try my Laxative Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 23 Caldwell Building, Toronto, Ont. Do it now!

LORD SHAUGHNESSY

Britain can furnish a very large number of settlers of the right class and for the first time I think in history, the British government is prepared to lend its assistance, financially and otherwise, to help these people to become established in one of the dominions.

Norway, Sweden, Belgium, Denmark, Holland and other continental countries can furnish us with thousands of rugged splendid people who are weary of the struggle at home, and wish to seek their fortunes in a new land.

We have a good government, indeed each successive government is good—in spots—beyond question, it is the aim of Government and all of the ministers to do what is best for the general interest of Canada; but governments are proverbially given to procrastination. The political effect of a policy cannot be put out of sight. Unquestionably the present government recognizes the vital importance of the subject that we have under discussion and had the best intentions in the world, but to get prompt and effective action there must be no relaxation of a campaign that has been and is being conducted by the press, trade organizations and the Kiwanias throughout the country.

To begin with, there should be some amendments to the immigration laws and regulations. The requirement of continuous passage from country of origin is surrounded by many difficulties. There can be no good reason why an Englishman temporarily living in Oregon, who had bought a ranch in Alberta, should under our regulations be denied admission as a settler because he came to us from Oregon instead of direct from England; nor should we be prevented from getting any settlers from the United States who not being naturalized United States citizens would be required under our law to return to their own country, and come from there direct to Canada en ensure admission.

TEAM SHIED AND BOLTED

Threw Owner, Wes. Oakley, to Ground—Death of a Former Hastings Lady.

HASTINGS, November 17. — An accident which might easily have proved more serious, occurred yesterday morning here when the team belonging to Wesley Oakley took fright and ran away. Mr. Oakley had been delivering milk to the cheese factory and was leaving for home, when a can falling off the waggon caused the horses to bolt, throwing Oakley to the ground.

Then the team set off at a rapid pace, collided with a telegraph pole, and getting free from the vehicle, started in the direction of home. Before they had left the village, their career was stopped by a citizen ere they had sustained any injury.

Mr. Oakley escaped with a bruised head and a general shaking up.

WEST FAMOUS AS THE LAND OF CORKSCREW

Speaker at Convention Says British Columbia Has Become Sink-Hole of Dominion.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press.)—Vigorously attacking British Columbia Liquor Act at a temperance convention here last night, Rev. A. E. Cook, Vancouver, president of British Columbia Prohibition Association, declared that the measure had made British Columbia the sink hole of the Dominion, plunged much of social and moral life into debauchery, was forcing the government deeper &iato the mire and made the name of Canada a by-word along the Pacific Coast.

Battalions of those who could not live a mile from a bung-hole had marched upon Vancouver and were still coming from all quarters, dragging Vancouver down to degradation. Organized fleets of whiskey boats were carrying crime, even murder down the coast.

The province, he continued, was becoming famed as the land of the corkscrew, where the government of fruit stood behind the bars and handed out liquor to all who had the price. Respectable apartment houses were selling liquor, public dances were becoming open scandals and young women weer carrying liquor in silver flasks to fascination parties. Rings of rum runners were doing their utmost to smash the laws and were endangering international relationship with the United States by carrying on an illicit traffic across the border.

The Mongols and many Polynesians and negroes do not kiss.

GOOD RIFLE SHOTS KNOW HOW TO WINK

Preparations For First National Rifle Match to be Held in Haiti.

PORT AU PRINCE, Nov. 17.—(Associated Press).—In preparation for the first national rifle match to be held in Haiti, the American officers of the Haitian Gendarmerie are engrossed in teaching their native riflemen how to wink. When rifle practice was taken up in earnest for the first time this year among the native troops, their instructors immediately were confronted with the practically universal failure of the gendarmes to close their left eye when sighting along the Springfield barrels. Experimnets showed that they were unable to close one eye without opening the other. At first, the expedient of putting a patch over the left eye, or tying a handkerchief across it, had to be resorted to. As this did not prove satisfactory, General Douglas C. MacDonnell, Chief of the Gendarmerie and a shot of national reputation in the United States, instructed his officers to teach the gendarmes the principles of winking.

At the recent departmental shoots, held to select eight man team for the national match, the scores made by the leading gendarmes would have compared creditably with that of the more experienced marines. The gendarmes are absorbed in their newly found skill, and the spirit of rivalry is so keen that President Borno has offered to the best individual shot a gold watch and a autographed letter of commendation. With that championship will go the unwritten title of the most expert winker in a country where winking has lost art until the last few weeks.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is Helping Sick Women to Health

The two letters which follow clearly show the broad field covered by this well-known medicine. Women from every section—you know some in your own neighborhood—praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a wonderful medicine for troubles women often have.

From Prince Edward's Island—East

Miscouche, P. E. I.—"I had female troubles for two years. I always had a headache and a pain in my side and sometimes I felt so weak that I could not do my work. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken six bottles of it. It has done me a lot of good and I am still taking it. I will tell my friends of your medicine and hope they will try it."—Mrs. Camille Des Roche, Miscouche, P. E. I.

From Saskatchewan—West

Wadena, Saskatchewan.—"A friend in Rose Valley recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and it has been a great help to me. I recommend it and you can use this letter as a testimonial if you wish."—Mrs. Perma Norris, Wadena, Saskatchewan.

PORTRAYS CONDITIONS IN WESTERN PROVINCE

Said to be a Mecca For All the Cut Throats in the Country.

WINNIPEG, November 17. Canadian Press. — Describing conditions in Southern Saskatchewan, where rum-running is said to be prevalent, H. J. Montgomery, a Delcraine man, told the delegates to the temperance convention held here yesterday, that all the cut-throats between the Gulf of Mexico and the 49th Parallel, are operating here. He appealed to Winnipeg to go to the rescue of the residents of Southern Manitoba by refusing to allow return to conditions in this province similar to those prevailing in Saskatchewan.

A special cream for the nightly cleansing

No matter what you do during the day, dust and fine particles of dirt bore deep into the pores. Ordinary washing cannot reach this deepest dirt.

To cleanse your skin thoroughly you must use a cream with just the right amount of oil to remove every particle of dirt from the pores and work out again. The cream with just enough oil to do this is Pond's Cold Cream.

This cream is neither too oily nor too stiff—just the right consistency. Creams with too much oil clog the pores and stiff creams stretch them.

Tonight after you have washed with warm water and pure soap, smooth a little Pond's Cold Cream on your face and neck. Let it stay a minute. It works its way into the pores and out again, bringing all the dirt with it. Such a thorough cleansing actually restores freshness and life to a fatigued and dull skin.

This cream is sold in jars and tubes for 50 cents each by all drug and department stores. It contains nothing that promotes the growth of hair. The Pond's Extract Company, 123A Brock Avenue, Toronto, Ontario.

To protect your skin against wind and cold you need an entirely different cream—Pond's Vanishing Cream, made without a drop of oil. Always apply it before you go out.

FOR QUICK CLEAN HEALING

GETTING HIGH PRICE BY FEEDING COCKERELS.

Coop Feeding Puts on Finishing Touches for Sale.

It is a waste to spend five or six months in growing chickens to weigh from four to six pounds, drive them in off the range, and sell them without first coop feeding to put on the finishing touches. Too often the poultryman never thinks of fattening his cockerels before marketing, but grabs up a dozen or two and sells them in order to have a little ready cash with which to buy feed. It usually costs more to feed chickens through the growing stage than he gets out of them where they are sold without first being fitted for the market.

The relative price of chickens and feeds makes fattening even more important this year than for several seasons. There is a good chance this fall for the flock owner who has chickens hatched after the middle of the summer to double the market value of cockerels brought in off the range. The late hatched cockerels are now old enough to sell at a good price if they are fed for a few days. Coop feeding will soon increase the weight and produce birds of much higher quality. They command a better price than the cockerel taken from the range and marketed without special feeding.

Coop feeding for ten days will add an extra pound to each bird's weight. Milk-fed chickens are in demand. Keep the cockerels in a pen or room that can be darkened between feeds. Here is a good fattening ration: Oatmeal, 50 pounds; shorts, 25 pounds; mixed with buttermilk. Use about 17 pounds of buttermilk to each 10 pounds of the mixture so that it will pour slowly from the vessel. Give three feeds a day, and limit each feeding period to fifteen minutes.

VIENNA SEEKS RETURN HISTORIC MEMENTOES

They Include Priceless Relics of Franco-Austrian Period of Napoleons' Time

VIENNA, Nov. 17.— (Associated Press.—In 1914 the municipality of Vienna sent to the Lyons fair a priceless exhibit of relics of the Franco-Austrain period of Napoleon's time. They included many mementoes of the French Emperor and of Mary Louise, and other articles of great historic interest.

The war came, and the collection is still in France. This week, the Mayor of Vienna petitioned the French Minister to restore it to the city. It is understood these articles are now in the hands of the French liquidator of alien enemy properties.

AVIATORS ARE READY TO FLY OVER THE POLE

Will Diet on Whale, Walrus and Reindeer and Not See Sun During Flight.

NOW MAROONED.

By ROBERT B. BERMANN

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 17.—A winter with only one white couple for companions, A diet of whale, walrus and reindeer meat. And never a sight of the sun during the whole period.

That is the program of Captain Ronald Amundsen, south pole discoverer, and his Norwegian flyer, Oskar Omdahl, while they are spending the coming winter at Wainwright, Alaska, pending their attempted flight "over the top of the earth."

Amundsen and Omdahl plan to hop off next spring for a non-stop airplane flight over the north pole. This is a reconnoissance mission for Amundsen's schooner Maud, now frozen in the arctic ice and well started on its five-year drift through the polar basin and across the north pole.

Brings Last Word.

The last word that will be received from Amundsen before he hops off on his death-daring flight was brought to Seattle by E. J. Ward, of the Federal Bureau of Education. Ward has just returned from Wainwright, where he was government school teacher until relieved by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cramer.

It is Mr. and Mrs. Cramer who will spend the winter with Amundsen and his aide. Otherwise, their only companions will be some 200 Eskimos, comprising the population of the entire community of Wainwright and two adjoining villages.

"It won't be so bad, though," said Ward. "They'll have plenty of food. The Eskimos recently killed two big whales and a number of walruses, and buried in the ice, this food will keep indefinitely. Also, there's the herd of 4000 reindeer, which the natives maintain.

School Serves Them.

"And when he wants anything—well, all he'll have to do is go to the school house. The government school in Alaska, you know, is the center of everything. It's the store, the postoffice, the church, the city hall, the coal mine and reindeer farm offices, the hospital — everything. People are brought into life in the school. The study there and later work there. They get married there too—and then, when they die, their funerals are held in the school."

Ward brought back the first explanation that has been advanced for Amundsen's decision to hop off from Wainwright, instead of Point Barrow, as originally planned.

"Some people think" said Ward, "that it was because Wainwright is on the same meridan as Spitzbergen, his destination—making it possible for him to fly absolutely straight—due north and then due south, straddling the meridan.

The real reason, in my opinion, is the fact that flying from Wainwright will give him 50 to 70 miles of grace from death. By taking a northeasterly course, he can follow the coast until he reaches Point Barrow—and thus have an opportunity to land safely if engine trouble develops early."

If Amundsen is successful, news will be flashed immediately from Spitzbergen. But the world will not know for two months and more if he falls and is killed.

"Wainwright" says Ward, "is so cut off from the rest of the world that even in summer times it takes two months for mail to reach the coast of Bering Sea, the nearest point from which any news can be broadcasted. Nushunginya, the Eskimo mailman, has the longest mail route in existence. It extends from Point Barrow to Kotzebue, 750 miles, and is covered only three times a year.

Plans No Stops.

"Even if mail happens to leave the very day of Amundsen's departure, the world won't know that he has left for weeks and weeks. If, by the time the news of his departure reaches civilization, no word has been received of his arrival in Spitbergen, it can be safely said that he is dead."

Ward said Amundsen is waiting until he can make the entire 1700-mile trip in daylight—and this season last only from May 10 to Aug. 5.

"He can't possibly leave until June however," Ward went on, "as weather conditions are so bad. Last July for instance, there were only four days when a blizzard wasn't raging. If he's lucky, though, he may get off by June 1."

LANTERN SLIDES OF VIEWS IN MOUNTAINS

Nearly one hundred very interesting lantern slide views of the Canadian Rocky Mountains have been recieved recently by Mr. H. B. Cowan of Peterboro, from the Canadian Alpine Club for lecture purposes. Mr. Cowan is an active member of the club, having made his graduating climb last year. Views of this character are loaned to members of the club for local use.

The views show scenes around Banff, Mount Assiniboine, Lake Louise, the Valley of the Ten Peaks, Mount Stephen, Paradise Valley and in the Selkirk Mountains around Glacier. Among the views are scenes of the Alpine climbers scaling difficult peaks, climbing glaciers, and showing other similar features of mountain climbing. Mr. Cowan has already shown the slides before the young people of St. Paul's Church, and expects to use them before several other organizations before returning them to the Canadian Alpine Club.

REBECCA OF PRUDENCE ISLAND AT THROTTLE

She is the Only Young Woman Licensed Ferry Engineer in New England.

PRUDENCE ISLAND, R. I., Nov. 17.—(Associated Press)—This island today boasts the only young woman licensed ferry engineer in New England, and possibly in the country. She is Miss Rebecca Chase of twenty-seven summers, and she rises early every morning to take her place at the throttle of the ferryboat Harvest, connecting the island with Bristol.

That she is at home on the sea is demonstrated by her license, which grants her the right to navigate a power boat. Frequently she directs from the pilot house, handling the Harvest with the skill of the ablest skipper.

Juast after America entered World War her grandfather, owner of the ferry, unable to obtain an engineer, called upon Miss Chase, who was an experienced automobile driver. She succeeded in passing the necessary examinations.

Miss Chase keeps her domain below decks spick and span. She believes in being a good housekeeper on shipboard as well as at home.

NEW STYLES ARE SET BY ROYALTY

Prince of Wales Introduced Checked Bow Tie and Colored Collars.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—(Associated Press)—The male members of the royal family have for generations, set the styles for masculine wear in England, and therefore indirectly for the entire world. This has never been more pronounced than at the present time, and the fashion makers watch with unweary eye for the least change or the appearance of a new style, in the royal garments.

It was the Prince of Wales who introduced the small checked bow tie, the colored collars, and the fancy socks so popular a few years ago Since the Prince first appeared wearing a morning coat, soft shirt, and turned over stiff collar, this has been the standard wear for the man-about-town. The Prince is in the habit of wearing his hat, particularly the silk variety, slightly tilted, and today old men and young men may be seen with headdress similarly arranged at any time of the day or night on the fashionable thoroughfares of the West End.

The latest contribution of the Prince to the fashionable world, however, is the dinner shit, or tuxedo, which has generally been avoided by the best dressed men as being too informal for formal occasions, and too formal for informal necessities. Few tuxedos have been worn in London in the past, as compared with their wide use in America and they were rarely used for the theatre.

The Prince appeared in one at a dinner party before his trip to the Far East, and since that time dinner jacket has made great inroads into the popularity of full dress attire.

His Royal Highness appeared a few weeks ago at a dinner dance attired in a dinner suit of black with a faint white stripe, vest of black silk trimmed with a fine white edge. Now the latest dinner suits shown are of this cloth. The dandies of the West End appear at their favorite haunts dressed in the Prince of Wales' latest.

The coat for winter street wear for the coming season will be of heavy material, linge collar and probably belted, for the Prince appeared in such a coat at a recent gathering in Scotland.

Golf attire is not ignored by the royal family and the newest outfit for the course is a knickerbocker suit of homespun, wool vest of brigh colors, and checkered cap. This is the attire wore by the Prince when he recently 'played himself in' at St. Andrews.

It is to be noted also that the three other sons of the King follow the lead of their elder brother, and appear in public dressed to the most minute detail after his example.

When the late King Edward was Prince of Wales, he was generally known as the best dressed man in Europe and thousands of men imitated the least change of style which he affected. It was King Edward who brought the grey ascot hat into such wide use, and white spats and the derby hat owe their popularity to him.

So closely was King Edward followed in the matter of dress, it is said, that the style to wear the last button on the vest unbuttoned, so universal in London twenty years ago, started from the fact that once at a house party the King, who was then beginning to take on his corpulent build, undid the buttom for the sake of comfort. That was enough, however, and from that time on the last button was only an ornament.

Nerves So Bad That She Would Sit and Cry

Mrs. Mary Hocking, Madoc, Ont., writes:—"Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done me a wonderful lot of good. I suffered from general weakness and was so run down and my heart and nerves were in such bad shape that I would sit down and cry and not know what I was crying about. I also used to have weak spells. Thanks to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, however, I am real well now. I shall always keep a box of the Nerve Food in the house, and recommend them to my friends; they are a wonderful medicine."

(Mr. J. W. Vince, Druggist, of Madoc, Ont., says: "I have sold Mrs. Hocking your Nerve Food, and the medicine has done her much good.")

THE DOUBLE STORE
GEORGE ST. PETERBORO

The Home Circle Column

They carried pie to the parson's house,
And scattered the floor with crumbs.
And marked the leaves of his choicest books
With the prints of their greasy thumbs

They piled his dishes high and thick
With a lot of unhealthy cake,
While they gobbled the buttered toast and rolls
Which the parson's wife did make

They hung around Clytie's classic neck
Their apple-parings for sport,
And every one laughed when a clumsy lout
Spilled his tea on the piano forte.

Next day the parson went down on his knees,
With his wife—but not to pray;
O no; 'twas to scrape the grease and dirt
From the carpet and stairs away.

Have you noticed how large a number of persons with whom you stop to have a little chat, speak of the dark blotches of human nature in the lives of someone? We will not except the person of the highest moral standing in the community. Nine out of every ten persons in a ten minutes talk will bring up the defects in some one's life, and out of a hunderd may possibly startle you by speaking of the good that may be found in most every individual. There is no life without its defects, neither without its excellencies, and what a different coloring it would give to humanity if the rule was reversed to what it is. And, reader, it rests with you and us to start the reform, and with such a good start as we may be able to give it, we are sure it will be contagious if we preserve. For when neighbours speak naught of ill and only laud the good that is in us we will not be far from that glorious period dominated by millenuim.

In many ways Thanksgiving is one of our most delightful events. It comes at a time when the rigors of winter are not yet at hand. We have at our disposal all the varied products of the soil and the time for a season of partial rest for the farmer is at hand. One of its most delightful features which has become quite general, is the gathering together under the old tree of all scattered sons and daughters on this day. Two three and sometimes four generations thus meet around the festival and hospitable table of the old homestead, and thus fraternal ties are strengthened and filial piety encouraged.

We have made of Thanksgiving a day of gratitude all untrammeled, a day of the accompaniments of which are merry as they should be. The reunion of families and of friends the feasting and the laughter, even the legend of the ennobled American bird, all combine to make of the day something genuine and religiously beautiful. There is the strain of the timbrel. Never was greater national holiday never one more perfect in its spirit. It is in itself one of the things to be thankful for to the power which has so blessed so vast a land.

When young people go into engagement for life as carelessly as they go to a picnic, they must expect to pay for their folly with their bitter experience. With thousands, a marriage engagement is a matter of boyish or girlish caprice. If wise marriages are made in heaven, then the hasty, loose selfish sort are the hand work of the devil. What is needed most of all in brining up children is example. What they see and hear and take in by absorption in their young years, will, in most cases, become the ruling traits of their lives.

Let the path of life start whence it may, and let the way be steep and thorny far up the heights for those who have faith and resolution to climb them.

In a world where God lets the sun shine, the birds sing and the flowers make happy love to each other, man should not be the only saddened object.

The strength of a nation is in the intelligent and well-ordered homes of the people.

No one is useless in this world who lightens the burden of it for another.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED—

You know that a man riding on an elevator in a hotel, club or apartment building removes his hat and holds it in his hand when a woman enters the car.

When he stops on the street to speak to his acquaintance a man of careful manners always removes his hat and remains hatless so long as he converses with her. Should he walk along with her he puts on his hat.

ADMIRAL SIMS VISITS COBOURG

Accompanied by Mrs. Sims—Impromptu Reception in Court House—Cobourg News.

COBOURG, Nov. 17.—The citizens of Cobourg, had an unexpected pleasure yesterday in a visit to the town of Admiral and Mrs. Sims, who came here from Port Hope to visit a relative, Mrs. Gifford. His Honour Judge Ward, who was presiding at Court, conceived the happy idea of asking Admiral Sims to address a meeting of citizens at 11.30 a.m. in the Court Room. Telephones were called into use and the result was that within about an hour's notice an audience assembled that taxed the capacity of the room.

The distinguished visitor and his gracious wife were escorted to the platform, where they were given seats an either side of Judge Ward, who made an efficient chairman. The mayor could not be reached in time to secure his presence and so to Lt.-Col. F. D. Boggs fell the pleasant duty of welcoming Admiral and Mrs. Sims to Cobourg. W. F. Kerr, K.C. then led in hearty cheers. In responding, Admiral Sims voiced the underlying principle of his life work, which is to bring all English speaking nations into a closer bond of union, so that they may present an impregnable joint against war and those things that tend to the destruction of national life and usefulness. He intended to do what he could, he declared, to bring these things about.

Crown Attorney Kerr moved and Col. Boggs seconded a hearty vote of thanks, the latter expressing the desire of the audience to hear Mrs. Sims speak. And so that gracious lady responded with a few friendly and appropriate remarks.

Wedding Bells.

A quiet marriage was solemnized in the Methodist church here (only the most immediate friends being present owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family), when Hilda, eldest daughter of Mrs. Warne and the late William H. Warne, Cobourg, was married to William Francis Bowden, of Oshawa. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Alma Warne, and a cousin, Everett Warne, acted as groomsman. Rev. J. S. T. Wilson conducted the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Bowden left for western points immediately after the ceremony. They will reside in Oshawa. Mrs. Wm. Warne and Miss Alma Warne are also leaving to reside in Oshawa.

News Nuggets.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Harrison, of Otonabee, were in town the first of the week to visit Mrs. Harrison's brother, John Hawken, who at present is confined to his bed by illness.

Mrs. Dundas, wife of Mr. A. R. Dundas, of the well known firm of Dundas Bros., is seriously ill at the present time. Mrs. Dundas was seized with a stroke when motoring Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. W. H. Dundas.

The Cobourg Town Council has acceded to the request of the residents in the west end of the town, who for some years have been asking for the construction of a sewer on King street west. At a meeting held last night a contract was let to Corran and Briggs, Toronto. The approximate cost is $9,500, about half of which will be paid by the town. The work is to be finished by Feb. 15, 1923.

An event which might very well be duplicated in Millbrook if the proposed Old Boys and Girls reunion is carried out next summer, was recently celebrated at the Central School, Port Hope, when Miss Mary Mouncey, for 43 years a member of the teaching staff of the public school, was presented with a purse containing $500, a gift from her former pupils now scattered to the four corners of the globe. Letters of congratulation were received from many Port Hope old boys and girls, who learned their "A.B.C.'s" in Miss Mouncey's room.

Special Meeting.

J. B. Hall Lodge A. F. and A.M., No. 145, held a special meeting on Tuesday, November 14th, at 7 p.m., for the purpose of presenting Wor. Bro. C. R. Spencer, the Chaplain of the lodge, with a handsome Pastmaster's Jewel, previous to his departure for his new parish at Shanty Bay in Simcoe county. A suitable address, couched in the language of Masonry, was made by Very Wor. Bro. A. Jemison, and the gift pinned on by Bro. T. A. Kelly. The recipient was deeply touched by the thoughtfulness and kind words of his brother Masons, expressing his pleasure in being associated with them, and his gratitude for kindly remembrance, now that his connection with them was about to be severed. Addresses were also made by other officials, including the Past Masters present, before the meeting adjourned to join the larger gathering being held in the armouries that evening for a similar purpose.

The November meeting of the Ministerial Association was held in St. Thomas' Sunday school hall on Tuesday, November 14th, at 9.30 a.m. the president Rev. S. T. Tucker, being in the chair. Members present included Rev. Canon Allen, Rev. C. R. Spencer, Rev. G. S. Gervan, Rev. H. Wilkinson, of Pontypool, Rev. J. E. Beckel, of Bethany, Rev. S. G. Rorke of Cavan, and Rev. G. I. Craw of Springville. The speaker for the occasion was Rev. A. J. Langford, of Trinity Church, Peterboro, who delivered a very fine address on "The Creative Christ," the book by that name written by Drummond, forming the basis of his remarks. An animated discussion followed, after which a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Langford for the service he had rendered the association in thus coming and addressing them.

Rev. G. I. Craw then presented the following resolution of appreciation to Rev. C. R. Spencer, Rev. J. E. Beckel seconding the same, and all present heartily endorsing it:

To Rev. C. R. Spencer, M.A.,

Dear Sir: This Ministerial Association having heard with much pleasure of the well deserved promotion which has been bestowed upon you in being appointed Rector of the Parish of Shanty Bay, in Simcoe County, we desire to place on record our appreciation of you and your services, while a member and officer of the Association. We remember with much just pride, the part you played in the world war, and when in the providence of God you were returned to your home and family and to your church, we rejoiced with them all that we would have you again amongst us. In parting we desire to assure you of our faith and confidence in you and trust that you may in your new field of labor find ample scope for your varied divinely bestowed gifts and graces.

Signed on behalf of the brethren of the Millbrook Assocaition,

S. T. Tucker, President.

G. S. Gervan, Sec.

It's Not Altogether the Quality of the Modeller's Clay That Makes His Work Renowned

It's his skill—the way he moulds the clay, the indefinable something he imparts to the inanimate objects he creates that makes them great achievements.

It's not altogether the quality of the goods that this Store sells that makes it a favorite shopping centre. It's the service it renders. Service—better service—is our aim.

The Cressman Co. Ltd.

Our $37.50 Coats

Carry Themselves with Distinction

Made of duvetyne and velour, but that signifies little. It's in the making and the trimming that their difference lies. They are far above the commonplace, yet the price is not at all high. Loose and belted backs adorned with strappings, stitchings and touches of embroidery. Nearly all boast of fur collars and cuffs. Shades of reindeer, elk and dark brown. Fully lined and interlined. Sizes 16 to 42.

Women's and Misses' Cloth Dresses $10.50

Nell, the Snatcher

the villainous woman who dashes across the screen and in the twinkling of an eye relieves some unsuspecting woman of her purse, would take a fancy to this new pouch-shaped bag, we are sure. Not that it is easy to snatch, but because its fine appearance would give promise of much loot.

A soft pliable leather, in black or brown, pouch shape, antique bonze finished frame with an open worked fancy metal ornament extending beneath the clasp. Price $4.50.

Quite a large shipment from the Madeira Islands reached us the other day. We are quite anxious for you to see them.

No Longer the Redmen Roam the Woods

at least not so many as in days of yore. Some have forsaken their wigwams for the villages, towns and cities. We know an ingenious manufacturer who has engaged several Indian men and women to make Moccasin Boudoir Slippers for him. At such work they are unequalled and these slippers bear witness.

Trimmed with fur and patterned with Indian bead work or colored porcupine quills. Women's, misses' and children's sizes. Priced from $1.50 to $3.

A letter from the Canadian Institute for the Blind, asking for assistance in their appeal for funds was read.

The agenda for the National Executive meeting to be held next week in Montreal was received. Mrs. Medd is representing the Local Council at this meeting.

Mrs. Stevenson reported that the Children's Aid Society had taken charge of the Edwards children and made them wards.

Mrs. W. R. Morris spoke of the coming of Mrs. E. Pankhurst to the city for the purpose of organizing a local Social Hygiene Council. The date is not yet definitely known. Mrs. Pankhurst will address three meetings, one on Sunday evening in the Opera House, one on Monday evening, in which the Young People's organizations of the city will unite, and one on Tuesday afternoon in the T.A.S. rooms, to which all ladies of the city are invited. A collection will be taken at each meeting to defray the necessary expenses connected with the organization of the Local Council of Social Hygiene. Mrs. Pankhurst will be the guest of Mrs. Morris during her visit to Peterborough. The arrangements for the Young People's meeting will be left to the Young People.

Mrs. Stevenson spoke of the splendid recognition that has recently been made of the work of the young Peterborough author, Gordon H. Graham, and on motion of Mesdames Stevenson and Medd, the secretary was instructed to write Mr. Grahame congratulating him on his recent successes.

WEDDING BELLS

DROPE—GOODERHAM.

A wedding which is of local interest took place in Toronto yesterday at St. Paul's church, Bloor street, when Miss Kathleen Isobel Gooderham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gooderham and John Harold Nelles Drope, son of Mr. and Mrs. Drope, of Grimsby, and formerly of Peterborough, were united in marriage.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a lovely gown of white bridal satin fashioned with long panels at the side and back and with a simple round bertha of rose point lace falling softly off the shoulders, the large veil which was edged with rose point lace, was sent to his daughter by Mr. Gooderham while on active service in France; the veil was caught by a small rosette of orange blossoms over each ear and fell over the shoulders covering the train. The train was very long and was finished and lined with chiffon and with silver lama lace in the centre. Around the point of the veil and in a double row over the end of the train were little orange blosom sprays which had been on the bridal dress of the bride's mother. The bride wore as her only ornaments a string of pearls and a bracelet of diamonds and pearls. Her bouquet was of lily of the valley centred with pale pink and mauve orchids, tied with long satin ribbons. The maid of honor, Miss Harriet Brouse, and the bridesmaids, Misses Katherine Christie, Helen Gooderham and Gladys Drope, wore gowns of deep cream lace with wide Grecian girdles and long trains of cocoa velvet. Their velvet hats were trimmed with soft feathers of deep cream and they carried bouquets of American beauty roses. Mr. Gordon Drope assisted the groom.

After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the New Art Gallery, where the reception was held because of illness in the bride's family. About four hundred guests were present.

The bride travelled in a brown duvetyn dress and coat with mole skin trimmings, with toque to match and a corsage bouquet of orchids. After the honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Drope will live on Crescent Road.

A SEETHING CAULDRON JEALOUSY IN FRANCE

TORONTO, Nov. 17.—(Canadian Press.)—Speaking at the closing session of the Canadian National Evangelical Conference here last night, Rev. T. Crawford Brown, Toronto, declared that there could be no permanent peace in the world until Bolshevism was abolished in all parts of the world. He further declared that France made millions out of the war and was now a "seething cauldron of jealousy and hatred toward Britain because Britain was unable to support her impossible foreign policies."

MUSSLINI DICTATES POLICY OF ECONOMY

ROME, Nov. 17.—(Special).—Musslini dictates a policy of economy and hard work for Italy, and warns the Chamber of Deputies they must obey him or be dissolved.

An Economical Corset

Is a corset which serves you more comfortably and lasts you far longer than the cheaper corsets you have worn before.

Corsets can be made as cheap as you wish, but unless the known standards for cloth, boning, stitching, hose supporters and other details are maintained, the corset cannot last or keep its original proper shape. It is economical to buy good corsets — corsets that are guaranteed.

Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets MADE IN CANADA

are not the cheapest corsets, but we believe them to be the most economical, at whatever price you pay. They are made as low as $1.50, and even these are guaranteed; but for maximum service, longest wear and most satisfaction we recommend styles at higher prices, up to six or seven dollars per pair.

It pays to buy better corsets.
It is economical to buy Warner Corsets.

Every pair guaranteed not to rust, break, or tear.

AND NOW FOR THE LONGED-FOR APPLE

Rosy-Cheeked, Thick-Skinned and Well Flavored. Fruit Eaters Will Welcome It.

Somewhere on a farm in the apple growing districts of Ontario there are rosy red seeding apples. Seeding apples that may have characters that would make them valuable commercial sorts, if such could be introduced to the public. True, there are thousands of worthless seedlings but some fence row or orchard area is now growing a tree or trees that produce a superior fruit.

Box Packing Apples at a Premium.

Ontario needs an apple suited to box packing, and it may be from an unnamed seedling that such wan will be supplied. If those having really good seedling apples would bring them to light so that their qualities might be judged by those competent to do so, an apple worth while might be unearthed and introduced to the public. Western apples shipped in boxes, have invaded the Ontario market because of their color and shipping quality. The bright red color attracts the buyer and the thick skin preserves the good appearance of the individual.

Thick Skins Most Desirable.

Thin skinned Ontario varieties will not stand the shipping and long exposure in the retail stores to t he same degree as the Western thick skinned apples. Western apples may go punky and become unfit for use, but still look well, as the exterior will stand alone. Ontario needs a good box pack apple, something rosy red of good quality, and a good thick protective coat.

Where, Oh Where, Is It Today?

Perhaps somewhere in a fence row such an apple may now be found. Who knows. What have you?—L. Stevenson, Sec. Dept. of Agriculture, Toronto.

Mine Host of Dunham Hotel Gets a Surprise Party — Lhe Work of Rev. W. E. Smith--News of Interest.

COBOURG, November 16 (Special to The Examiner). — A pleasant event occurred at the Dunham Hotel here the first of the week, when the genial host, Thomas Green, was honoured by a surprise party arranged by Mrs. Green.

While her husband was out with a friend she assembled a number of gentlemen in the dining-room.

Upon the return of the host a birthday cake, with fifty-nine candles, was brought in and placed before him. From an arch that surmounted it there was suspended a handsome gold watch.

The gathering took occasion, with Mayor Maher as spokesman, to present Mr. Green with a silver-headed cane. A very pleasant social time followed.

For Fire Sufferers.

The work for the fire sufferers in Northern Ontario is still being carried on in this locality. The Front Road District U.F.W.O., consisting of twelve ladies, held a sale of homemade cooking, netting over $60.00.

They sent $25.00 in cash to the Northern Relief Fund, and with the balance purchased the material for quilts, which they are now making. These, with a bale of warm clothing, will be sent in later.

Here From China.

The Cobourg Methodist District is enjoying a visit from the representative of the Young People's Societies in West China, Rev. W. E. Smith, M.D., who is home on furlough. Dr. Smith was for some years also the representative of the Cobourg and Peterborough Methodist Districts.

Dr. Smith went out to China in 1896 as the representative of the Epworth Leagues of the Cobourg District, and was the first foreign missionary sent out under the auspices of the Young People's Forward Movement for Missions. Some few years later, as Cobourg District was not contributing the full amount of Dr. Smith's support, the Epworth Leagues of Peterborough District associated with Cobourg in the good work. This was seemingly a fitting arrangement, as Dr. Smith's boyhood home was in these united counties at Elizabethville, while that of his late wife—before her marriage, Miss Grace O. Young—was at Rockwell, in Peterborough County.

At Port Hope in January, 1921, the Young People's Societies met and celebrated the silver jubilee of Dr. and Mrs. Smith's going to their life-work in China and of the inauguration of the Young People's Forward Movement for Missions, now almost world-wide in its scope. It was decided at that convention that a fitting momento of the occasion would be for Cobourg District to assume Dr. Smith's enitre support, and this they did.

Last year the Epworth Leagues and Sunday Schools surpassed their objective, raising over $1,800.00. A circumstance in connection with the silver jubilee was that a cable of congratulation was sent by the Cobourg District to Dr. and Mrs. Smith. It was received by them while the Chinese Conference was in session, and was read by Dr. Smith to that body.

The result was that the Chinese Conference decided then and there to inaugurate a similar Forward Movement among their young people. This has been done, and they now have their missionary in a foreign country.

As is well known, Dr. Smith has been bereaved by the death of his wife since returning from China to Toronto. He is now visiting the various circuits on the Cobourg District, where his story, all too modest as far as any personal reference is concerned, gives his hearers some idea of the great results that have attended his service, and that of his late wife, during the past quarter of a century. He is receiving a very hearty welcome.

It is noteworthy, too, that it was at a session of the Bay of Quinte Conference held in Peterborough in 1895, which Dr. Smith attended, that the sad message came of the riots in China and the destruction of the Methodist Mission property in West China.

It is stated that Dr. Smith had thought of Africa as the future scene of his life work, but seeing the need of workers in China, he told the late Rev. Dr. Sutherland that he was willing to go to China. It was a little later that the call came to go out as representative of the Cobourg District, and in the autumn of 1896 Dr. and Mrs. Smith sailed for the foreign field.

Among those who listened with interest to his address at the Methodist Church here was Miss Young, his sister-in-law, who is at present residing in Cobourg.

Resumes Pulpit.

On Sunday, Rev. J. S. I. Wilson, pastor of the Cobourg Methodist Church, was able to resume his pulpit duties after several weeks' illness. His father, Rev. John C. Wilson, of Toronto, who has been here assisting in postoral duties, has returned to the city.

FRANK BACON SUFFERS FROM A NERVOUS BREAK

Frank Bacon, shown here, co-author and star of the play "Lightnin'," has had to abandon his part after his recovery from a nervous breakdown.

Bacon is 58 years old and is one of the outstanding characters of Broadway today. "Lightnin'," his present production, has been considered his greatest success. He wrote it in collaboration with Winchell Smith and showed it for the first time in August of 1918. For the last four years he has been playing the lead in the play. After his recovery friends say, he expects to resume the role.

Besides this play, Bacon has appeared in several other successes, among them, "Alabama", "Pudd'nhead Wilson," "The Fortune Hunter" and "The Cinderella Man."

EXPANSION FOR THE BOY SCOUTS.

American Organization is Planning Four Big National Training Centres.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(Associated Press)—The National Council of the Boy Scouts of America, carrying out its programme of expansion, has announced its purpose of opening four big national centers for the expert training of scout executives.

Immediate plans are on foot to establish the first of these centers near New York, and the Council is already seeking ground for that purpose. It is hoped to establish other centers, probably one in the middle west, one in the far west and one in the south. This "headquarters in the field" will furnish an excellent training center, especially for courses in "How to Train Scoutmasters." If it is not practicable to bring the executives to the centers for training along these lines, it will be possible to move the head faculty to different parts of the country.

The scout executive is the salaried official of the big city, or community, who makes scouting his business, and directs the volunteer leadership of the movement. For many years there have been available in different parts of the country, various training courses for scoutmasters. The scoutmaster is the volunteer leader who takes charge of a unit called a troop.

Mortimer L. Schiff, who has served as vice-president of the National Council, has recently been appointed International Commissioner of the organization. He will devote his time to the international affairs of the Boy Scouts.

Since the beginning of scouting in this country over twelve years ago, a total of 4,777 eagle badges, the highest rank in scouting, have been issued. Of this number 1,477 have been alloted since the first of the present year.

It is considered remarkable that such a large proportion of these marks of distinction should have been given out in the past ten months. In order to attain this much coveted eagle badge, the scout begins as a tenderfoot and climbs up the ladder one rung at a time until he becomes a second-class, and then a first class scout. It is at this point that the boy begins to do his real climbing, which calls for training along special lines. After he is a first class scout, he may become a life scout, and then a star scout, and then comes the highest rank, which is Eagle. Eleven of the merit badges the scout must obtain to become an Eagle are specifically in the fields of first aid, life saving, personal health, public health, cooking, camping, civics, bird study, path finding, pioneering and athletics or physical development.

From now until next February the scout organizations will conduct a campaign for more members. It is hoped to increase the enrollment by 100,000 Scouts, or twenty-five per cent of the present membership.

THAT GOLDEN INCENTIVE LAYING BACK OF CANADIAN FUR INDUSTRY

Exhaustive Paper by Mr. Thomas Barrie on Early Fur History and Canada's Past and Present Resources in This Commodity.

Following is the illuminating address in full, as delivered by Thomas Barrie at last Rotary Club luncheon.

Furs and the fur business can be discussed from many view points all in their way interesting and in some respects even fascinating. Wild animal life from which the supplies are secured, their habitat and habits —the interesting and oftimes peculiar characters who hunt and trap —the native with their superstitions and their idiosyncrasies—the exploiters, the traders, and the adventurers, who harry forth into the earth's almost inaccessable regions and the seas most forbidding fastness—to listen to their stories and hear them explain the methods of killing and trapping and preserving the fur skins and the ways they reach the markets oftentimes taking months. The romance that still makes the fur trade what it has always been—the most picturesque and adventurous trade-game in the world.

We would consider the expert distinctions in selecting, grading, and valuing the varied and seasonable offerings and explain in a technical way wherein the different qualities arise and how much scarcity and rarity has to do with values; along with this the wonderful development in the dressing, dyeing, blending and manufacturing of fur skins—the modern artistry in manipulating designing and embelishing until furs are as flexile, as diversified, and more distinctive than the finest textiles.

Golden Incentive.

One could mention the golden incentive laying back of all this effort to secure and merchandise fur, as well as the spirit of adventure and sport which not only was the basiss of the opening up and the subsequent settlement of the North American Continent, but of many other world regions down through the history of the human race. The history of Canada and of the United States, the histories of the greatest and most enduring nations of Europe and Asia are replete with incidents and undertakings traffics and discoveries that were directly or indirectly connected with trade expeditions which had as their principle object trapping, collecting and merchandising of furs. As an instance, in 1670 Prince Rupert secured from his cousin, King Charles II of England, a charter for a company of Adventurers Trading into Hudson Bay, this being the official title of what is known as the Hudson Bay Company. It is to the energy, foresight, determination and fighting ability of the men that guided the destinies of this great organization throughout 250 years of its existence that the founding of the great American and Canadian commonwealth are in great measure due, and incidentally the success of the Hudson Bay Company made London the greatest raw fur market in the world and has been the principle contributing cause of its premier position as the financial and commercial center of the world for the past two centuries. The measure of success and the virility of the Hudson Bay Company in dollars and cents is evidenced in this year's statement recently published which shows a 45 per cent. dividend declared as against a 40 per cent. declared last year.

First Public Auction.

The first public auction sale of furs on record was held in December, 1671, by the Hudson Bay Company at Garroways Coffee House in London, and these auctions have been held every succeeding year since. There are today about ten large fur trading companies in London who gather the skins from all parts of the world and offer them at public auction in the months of January, April and October of each year. One could continue along this line and tell of the companies formed for selling the raw furs at auction and private bid in Montreal, Winnipeg New York, Seattle and St. Louis on this continent and the great annual fairs held at Nijini Navegrod in Russia, Irbit and Omosk in Siberia, and at Leipzig in Germany, but time will not permit, for it is a story by itself.

Fig Leaf Period.

It is hard to say just how long ago it is that mankind first began to wear furs,—fig leaves must have soon proved impractical and the only other then available article of durability was the skins of beasts—in Genesis, 3rd chapter, the 21st verse, we read: "Unto Adam, also unto his wife did the Lord God make coats of skins and clothed them", so that the fur business can rightfully claim that it was God ordained and instituted, we often wonder if this is the reason why His chosen people, the Jews, have a divine right to control this business.

The pre-historic men and women who came out of central Asia from a region known as "the cradle of the race" were protected against the climate of the southern latitudes by a heavy growth of hair. As these remote ancestors of ours wandered slowly over the continents of Asia and Europe they encountered the severe winters of the northern hemisphere and were forced in self preservation to utilize the furry and warm pelts of the animals with which they were forever at war. We know that the Picts and the Scots of Ancient Britain were roughly clad in fur skins, the Vikings of the North were clad in furs as were the Goths and Huns. The Phonecian traders when they piloted their vessels up the Seine or the Thames found that the wild Gaul and Saxon had little to offer in exchange for the rich fabrics and rare spices of the east, outside the furry pelts of wolves, bears and foxes, which at that time infested the forests of Ancient Britain and France. So backward, however, in the early arts and crafts were these people who inhabitated north western Europe that it was not until the fur skins had been dressed and made up by the skilled craftsmen of the east that these fur skins took on greater beauty and utility that heretofore In later years this skill in working furs spread throughout Europe and lead to the gradual development of the fur trade of today. After the discovery and the settlement of the northern part of North America, and especially after the great fur companies were formed, such as the Hudson Bay Co, the competing Dutch companies of New Amsterdam, now New York, the North West Co. with John Jacob Astor as its head with a complete chain of fur depots across northern United States to the Pacific, and others of French origin, the fur business received such an impetus through the excellence and beauty of the fur bearing animals found here as nowhere else,—the wearing of furs which heretofore had been confined to a few aristrocrats and the titled nobility, became a part of the habilments of the wealthier classes, and increased by leaps and bounds, until today the reason for high prices is that there are more wearers of furs than ever before. The Asiastic and South American nations are demanding furs. The more general distribution of wealth and the development of the artistic sense has been the great primal cause of this. Furs are being used for more purposes than in former years, the furrier sells capes and neckwear in the spring and summer, coats and wraps in winter, the cloak and suit manufacturer, the dressmaker and the milliner are all in the skin market buying large quantities for trimmings on their merchandise. The advent of the automobile has also increased the demand to a very marked degree.

Whenever fur prices decline severely as in 1914 and 1920 it is customary for many to declare that the prices will not return to higher levels, yet prices not only advance but they appear to be working towards a permanently higher level. High prices for manufactured products depend mainly upon the cost of a raw material and the labor that is used in making them, but furs are a natural product and there is no cost in producing them. The trapper or hunter who catches or kills them does so in his own time, and wages do not enter into the calculation. With the exception of silver and black foxes the only furs to be had are wild ones, unless we except rabbits and lamb skins. If fur prices are to be kept down someone will have to discover a new source of supply as practically the whole earth has been visited and its harvest of wild furs been garnered even to the depletion of the quantities yearly.

Our Fur Future.

This brings us to the matter which we wish to emphasize namely "What is to be Canada's Fur Future?" We have in the upper half of this continent the greatest natural fur domain in the world because furs are best from three sources, first, in a cold climate where the peltage is deepest and strongest, which is why the Canadian otter or mink is stronger, more lustrous and more durable than the same skins from Georgia or Alabama; second, in the vast quantities of fresh water in running streams and clear lakes affording food and health in plenty, third, in the timber and brushwood shade which keeps the fur protected from the severity of the constant sun fading and coarsening.

Only three domains in the world answer all these requirements, northern Russian, Canada and Alaska. From these domains must come the world's future furs of the best quality and commanding the best prices.

Lawless Hunters.

Russia may be written off the map for twenty years. The protective measures and the imperial monopoly of Russia's finest furs ceased when the Bolshevists assumed control. Every hunter has been a law to his own lawlessness, furs have been looted and slaughtered, prime and unprime, and sold for a song. It would not be surprising if by the time the Bolshevists finish Siberia and Russia her best fur resources could be written off as nil even as the Sea Otter is already all but extinct. Only seventeen came to the sales in 1920 compared to about one hundred thousand a century ago.

Alaska under the tutorage of the United States in conserving not only the seal industry but the native fox industry. The seal herds had become so depleted that the annual catch was but six thousand skins and the whole herd, old and young, is down from three million in 1867 to one hundred and ninety six thousand in 1912. Today there are over five hundred thousand seals on the seal island and it is computed that by 1926 the herd will be back to where it was in 1867. Also with blue foxes a protection and conservation scheme is being enacted whereby it is now assured that blue foxes which were sold at one time for eight to ten dollars per skin and reached three hundred dollars per skin through scarcity will be assured to all future generations.

THAT GOLDEN INCENTIVE, ETC.

The conservation and protection in Canada of our fur-bearing animals, our game and our fish as one of the greatest natural resources we have, should received every man's support, as not only can we gain a rich harvest from the sale of our fur skins and fish, but we are having daily evidence of a large influx of tourists since the motor car has come, and one of the greatest inducements to maintain and increase this money-spending sight-seeing and sporting tourist trade is to maintain and increase the attractions that are ours naturally, until they be the talked of an advertised allurement.

Canadas Resources.

Canada's fur-bearing animals have been most ruthlessly destroyed in the past and while better proctected now than ever before, yet are oftentimes severely depleted through lack of co-ordination and thought when the waters in our streams and lakes are raised and lowered at seasonal periods which means destruction of such fur bearers as muskrat and beaver and to the fish in spawning time. These we think could be overcome by a co-ordination of interest controlling out water powers, navigation and lumbering and the fur and game departments of our governments.

We believe, however, that furs in Canada have got to be farmed. That has been a success so far as tried requires no argument. We are the greatest fur farmers in the world today. The first experimental fur farming was started in Prince Edward Island in 1887 by an attempt to breed silver foxes. By 1920 there were 309 fox farms in this island with close to ten thousand foxes. The total number of fox farms in the Dominion at present the last records is 578—309 Prince Edward Island, 52 Nova Scotia, 57 New Brunswick, 77 Quebec, 41 Ontario, 4 Manitoba and Saskatchewan, 14 Alberta, 10 British Columbia, 14 Yukon. In 1920 the prices of live silver foxes ranged from one hundred to eleven hundred dollars each and the skins brought from seventy-five to seven hundred and fifty dollars each.

Six Mink Farms.

Outside of fox farms there are six mink farms, two racoon, one beaver, and one caricule sheep (Persian Lamb) from last reports. The total value of the fur bearing animals on these farms was four million seven hundred and twenty two thousand nine hundred and five dollars. The total value of animals sold and fur skins sold off these farms last year was one million one hundred and fifty one thousand five and fixty six dollars, with a number of skins on hand unsold. The value of the farms and farm buildings outside the animals is $1,202,591. Fisher farming is being attempted in B. C., where two generations have been raised successfully. Muskrat farming has not yet been attempted in Canada but has been successfully tried out in the New England States and Mich. Skunk has been successfully farmed for some years in several sections of United States but in Canada has only been tried out recently. Caricule Sheep or Persian Lamb were introduced into Canada in 1913-14 in the Maritime Provinces and in Alberta. It was found that to be successful the climate had to be dry with hot and cold extremes, so that the ranch of Dr. Young, 15 miles north-east of Calgary, has been the most successful. In 1920 he had eleven hundred head of sheep on this ranch, all excellent quality in skins and mutton. We dressed a few of the skins off this ranch and they were quite as good as any imported. There has been several attempts to raise these sheep in Texas and other parts of the United States, but outside of one ranch near Syracuse, N. Y., they have not succeeded. Our climate in Alberta seems to be the ideal one for this industry. At the present time a fur farm is being started north of Peterboro on the shores of Chemong Lake. An American visitor and a local man are interested in this I understand, and they are starting with fox raising. Belleville has also had recently a fur company organized for fur farming. This district is particularly well suited for raising the very best muskrat, beaver, otter, mink, coon, fox and fisher. The industry if properly managed will be a money maker. The increasing market for furs, the decreasing quantities available, means that if the taste and demand for furs is to be met, trapping must be supplemented by domestication. Canada is the natural home of the following furs of the highest quality, Hudson Bay Sable, Martin, Beaver, Racoon, Mink, Muskrat, Otter, Cross Silver Black Fox, Fisher, Lynx, and Skunk. The quality of Wolf, White and Red Fox, Squirrel and Ermine, is only surpassed in some sections of Russia. As the initial source of supply of raw furs of quality and quantity, Canada at present surpasses all others in the world. We exported over $20,0000,000 worth in 1920. Last year's report was less, showing a shrinkage of 18 per cent. in the number of skins taken and with somewhat lower valuation. We believe that this year's report will show a still further decline in quantity, but a raising in the valuation. To give one an idea of the rise in value, would state that in 1910 the total annual output of furs from Canada was valued at $1,927,550, with a catch very much larger than that of 1920, yet 1920 exports reaches over twenty million dollars as already stated. The home consumption, and the exported manufactured and semi-manufactured, does not enter into these figures but they represent a very large volume of money. Miss Agnes Laut who wrote the best history of the Hudson Bay Co., and has been very interested in the fur trade and its development in Canada states that the possibilities in furs, fur farming, and fur manufacturing in Canada can be made to reach five hundred million dollars per year, conditioned on farming he fur domains as carefully as she does her wheat and doing it before it is too late.

The World Trade.

To give also an idea of the development of the world trade in furs we would mention that in one year, St. Louis sold at public auction sixty million dollars worth of furs, that two years ago London, England used 90 million rabbit skins and that last year one Brooklyn Dyeing and Dressing House contracted to give the trade seven million Hudson Seal and Dressed Muskrat skins. With expansion such as this fur farming on a large scale in Canada must pay and especially is this true right here in our own district, where the finest muskrats in the world are naturally bred, the famous Rice Lake and Trent Waterway fur district.

In order to visualize the radical changes in values and conditions which the years bring about, our local records show that 30 to 35 years ago we were paying 8 to 12 cents for muskrats, while last Spring's price to the trappers averaged around $2.25 each, and in the sales held a few weeks ago in Montreal they brought $2.85 each. Mink at that time brought from 50c to $1.50, now $5.00 to $15.00. Otter $1.00 to $5.00 now $10.00 to $50.00. Fisher $1.00 to $3.50, now $20.00 to $100.00. Coon 25c to $1.00, now $3.50 to $10.00, etc. At that time Hiawatha Indians and Curve Lake Indians that trapped would have a catch of from 500 to 1,000 skins each; today the catch is large which touches 100 skins.

Fur Farming Method.

It was a question then if Fur Farming would pay, but with the changes that have come about since, it is no longer a question of pay, but of method, and means to produce the article. Bog and marsh lands practically useless for other purposes can be made the most valuable lands in the community for muskrats. Other districts all about us are the natural home of the other fur bearing animals.

There are "Acres of Diamonds" laying right about our doors if we have but the vision and the enterprise to grapple with the situation, and take advantage of what nature and environment has provided so richly and amply at our very hands. There is no reason why Canada should not develop this native and natural industry, not only in producing more of that which she is best fitted to produce, but centralizing the dressing, dyeing and manufacturing of this practical monopoly which she has and offer it to the world a finished product rather than as raw material. It rests with this generation if it is done or not.

What This Buffalo Physician Has Done For Humanity

The picture which appears here of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., was taken in 1910. As a young man Dr. Pierce practised medicine in Pennsylvania and was known far and wide for his great success in alleviating disease. He early moved to Buffalo and put up in ready-to-use form, his Golden Medical Discovery, the well-known tonic for the blood. This strength-builder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found most effective in diseases of the blood. It contains no alcohol and is an extract of native roots with the ingredients plainly stated on the wrapper. Good red blood, vim, vigor and vitality are sure to follow if you take this Alterative Extract. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery clears away pimples and annoying eruptions and tends to keep the complexion fresh and clear. This Discovery corrects the disordered conditions in a sick stomach, aids digestion, acts as a tonic and purifies the blood. Write Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., and receive confidential medical advice without charge. All druggists sell Discovery, tablets or liquid.

HOME CIRCLE

WINTER

On all thy trees, on every bough,
Thousands of crystals sparkle now,
Where'er our eyes alight;
Firm on the spotless robe we tread,
Which o'er thy beauteous form is spread,
With glittering hoar-frost bright.

Our father kind, who dwells above,
For thee this garment pure hath wove;
He watches over thee.
Therefore in peace thy slumber take,
Our father will the weary wake,
New strength, new light to see.

Soon to the breath of spring's soft sighs,
Delighted thou again wilt rise,
In wondrous life so fair.
I feel those sighs breathe o'er the plain,
Dear nature, then rise up again
With flower-wreaths in thy hair.

—Friedrich W. Krummacher.

WOMEN, NO SOULS?

Arthur Brisbane in Chicago Herald and Examiner:

George Harvey, ambassador and a wag, says that, according to the Bible, Koran and Talmud, women have no souls and the Ten Commandments were written for men only. He thinks that one or more commandments are needed especially for women.

Some of them, judging by recent shootings, might suggest "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's husband."

Harvey should realize that the Ten Commandments apply almost exclusively to men, not because women have no souls, but because men are naturally inclined to break the commandments and need them. If there were no men no Ten Commandments would be necessary.

We have heard a great deal in the past year about woman's mission and woman's sphere until between two contending forces we have begun to wonder whether woman really has any right to exist on earth at all. And yet each day is proving all these assertions, grotesque and otherwise, but mere misnomers, while woman continues to perform much the same mission that has fallen to her lot since the world began; doing it better in some cases than in others, more appreciated sometimes than others, but doing her mission and developing with the race and with the world into new opportunities, higher duties and greater privileges. It is an old teaching but one that we need constantly to call to mind, that the one who does that duty which is nearest at hand is the one who accomplished the most for the world. It is as true of classes as it is of individuals.

What a year of special blessing has been ours; what a year of fruitage; how the earth has yielded her increase and brought forth an abundance! How full the gathering has been, and how great a shortage we have! Truly our temporal blessings were never more full—our arms can carry no more; our greed could ask no more. And in view of all this will it be difficult to have a true spirit of Thanksgiving? Not if we have a moat of consideration alongside of the mountains of blessings that crown this year. Let us not become so absorbed in appropriating so much that is good that we will have no sense of gratitude, no appreciation, no humbleness at receiving so much.

The house and home require a head the same as any other business. No study is of greater importance to a girl; after marriage she often wishes she knew more of cooking and less of Latin. Money and love combined does not form a safeguard where there is domestic incapacity. A woman who is capable of filling her home in every sense of the word is worthy of more true applause than if she possessed many accomplishments.

How many hungry hearts there are in the world hungering for recognition, for a word or praise! The hungriest heart in this world is an unpraised woman whose husband never gives her a word of praise.

Times are not near so hard with some men when they want a plug of tobacco as when their wives ask for a pair of shoes.

Don't let all the sunshine in nature become cloudy since you are growing older.

JUSTICE MIDDLETON'S JUDGMENT IN CASE CURTIS BROS. VS. HAYES

This case was tried at Peterborough 19th, 20th October this year.

The action is to remove the price of certain brick. There is no question as to amount. If there is a right to recover against the defendant, the amount and price are not disputed. The plaintiffs' difficulty is to establish a contract on the part of the defendant to buy the bricks.

At the time of the transaction in question, the Red Arrow Tire Co., the owner of the building in question was assumed to be a wealthy concern. It has unfortunately proved to be insolvent, and the endeavour on the part of the plaintiffs is to fasten the responsibility for these brick upon the defendant, the contractor for the erection of the factory in question, and the endeavour on the part of the defendant is to show the brick were not supplied to him or upon his credit, but to the company, and upon its credit.

Facts Established

There are certain facts which I think may be taken to be well-established. When the company prepared its origmal plans it contemplated concrete foundations rising considerably above the ground and brick walls for the upper parts of the building upon plans and specifications calling for these concrete walls and the superimposed brick walls. Under these specifications he would have had to supply all the brick necessary for the erection of the upper walls. Subsequently the company changed its plans and desired that the entire [illegible] be erected of brick, this calling for a great many more brick than the original plan contemplated. Negotiations took place between the company and the defendant looking to the substitution of brick for concrete. The laying of brick would cost much more than [illegible] crete and the [illegible] while it would be comparatively easy to purchase in the local market the brick necessary for the upper walls according to the original plan it would be difficult, if not impossible, to buy in the local market the brick necessary according to the substituted plans. If brick had to be brought from a distance, freight became an important factor. He refused to enter into a contract for the construction according to the new plans, unless the company would undertake to supply not only the brick necessary for the original brick walls because he realized that if he and the company were both upon the local market competing, the price would advance, and he would be the loser. It was finally arranged that he should receive an additional $3500.00 as compensation for the additional expense of laying the bricks, and that the company should supply the entire brick necessary for the work, charging him on the final adjustment with $20.00 per thousand for the brick that he was relieved from supplying on the basis of his original tender. This took place before any brick was supplied.

All this is based upon the defendant's evidence, but it was not in any way contradicted, and I accept his testimony. No formal written contract was ever signed.

Admit No Contract

The plaintiffs admit that there was no contract with the defendant ever actually made, but they seek to substantiate a claim by asking me to find an implied contract arising from certain circumstances which unquestionably give some color to their contention. In addition to this the plaintiffs seek to support their case by evidence of some supposed admissions or statements of the defendant, testified to by his relatives and friends. These, I think, quite incredible, and I discard them entirely as worthless. They have every brand of fabrication, and I must admit that the plaintiffs' case is prejudiced to some extent by the bringing forward of evidence of this type. When it is deemed necessary to support a weak case by admissions or supposed admission, contrary to interest, sworn to have been made under improbable circumstances, and where the twisting of a word is sufficient to color the meaning of what was actually said, and evidence of this class is given by relatives and employees, it is to my mind a confession of the weakness of the case it is intended to bolster up.

It is said that before any brick was supplied, a message was received from the defendant asking that brick be delivered at once. I am clear that this was not intended by either party as the making of a contract and it is quite consistent with the theory of either party. If the plaintiff was supplying brick to the owner, nothing is more probable and reasonable than that the contractor might ask for delivery when he needed it on the work.

At the time of delivery, the fact of delivery was entered by th plaintiffs in a book. In this it was not charged to the defendant, but to the work. I do not regard this as of any great importance, as the book was simply a delivery record.

Just Delivery Slips

What is of more importance is that at the time of each delivery the teamster had a little book consisting of delivery tickets, and counterfoil. The teamster, as he took his load through the gate in the fence surrounding the work, presented this book to the clerk in the shed at the gate, who signed the counterfoil acknowledging receipt of brick and tore off the corresponding delivery ticket. These were stuck upon a file in the shed for the purpose of keeping track of the materials which went upon the work. The signed counterfoil is quite colorless, but the delivery slip was filled up in pencil upon a printed blank, the pencil and conspicuous part being "J. Hayes, Water street, 1334 brick." In small printing are the words: "Bought of Curtis Brothers."

These tickets were regarded by Hayes and his employees as mere delivery slips, for the purpose of keeping tab upon the actual amount delivered, and I am satisfied that that is all that Curtis ever intended them to be.

Account Question

At the end of the first month, when a very substantial part of the bricks had been delivered, an account is said to have been rendered by Curtis to Hayes, charging him with the bricks. It is none too clear as to whether Hayes ever saw this account, but he knew that there would be considerable money coming to Curtis for the brick supplied.

Hayes took active part in the arrangement for payment by the Red Arrow Company of $3,000 on account, and this payment was made by the Red Arrow to Curtis and accepted by him.

Each side relies upon this as important in support of his contention, but I regard the transacton as colorless. Clearly Hayes was not acknowledging any liability, and I do not think that Curtis cared very much where his money came from so long as he received it. I do not regard it as an acknowledgment by either party of a contract either with Hayes or with the Red Arrow Company, and I cannot attach any significance to the fact that almost contemporaneously with the making of this payment Hayes lent an equal amount to one of the promoters of the company.

Of far greater significance to me is the fact that Curtis admits having negotiations with the Red Arrow people with reference to brick, and giving them information as to the amount that he could supply, and the price he would charge and that he had no negotiations whatever with Hayes.

The brick went into this building, but I am unable to find anything which leads me to imply that there was a contract by Hayes to pay for them, while there appears to be ample evidence upon which I ought to imply an obligation on the part of the Red Arrow Company, but for the determination of this case I need not go so far. It is sufficient to say that I can find no contract with the defendant, express or implied.

Registered Lien

At the hearing it was shown that Hayes had registered a lien against the property for some $38,000, which did not include anything for the brick in question. The property was sold for enough to realize about 50c on the dollar of this lien. There were no other lien-holders. Curtis had not registered any lien, and I suggested as an honourable settlement of the dispute, that Curtis should be allowed to share in the proceeds of the sale in proportion to the amount of his claim, as compared with that of the defendant, but Curtis would not listen to this proposition. I venture to hope that, notwithstanding this judgment, the parties may be able to come to some such arrangement, for there is an element of unfairness in the fact that the proceeds of the sale of Curtis' brick will go to pay Hayes some part of his large claim. This would not have been the case had Curtis registered a lien, as he might have done, within the time limited by the Statute. This, however is for the parties to arrange.

In my view the action fails, and must be dismissed with costs.

HOT WATER FOR SICK HEADACHES

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headaches are caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head, producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilid, aspirin or the bromides, which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank before breakfast, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache, but will cleanse, purify and freshen the alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up in the morning with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness constipation, or sour acid stomach, begin the phosphated hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Gains 35 Pounds; Rheumatism is Gone

The wonderful reconstructive powers of Tanlac are again very forcefully demonstrated. In this instance the grateful beneficiary is John H. King, locksmith, living at 229 14th Ave., West, Calgary, Alberta, who declares:

"Tanlac built me up to good health, with a gain of thirty-five pounds in weight, over a year ago and I have been feeling fine ever since. Just after coming back from overseas, about two years ago, I was taken down with an attack of rheumatism that crippled me up so I couldn't work and sent me to a hospital for about ten months.

"During this long siege of rheumatism I lost fifty-five pounds in weight, going down from one hundred and sixty-five to only one hundred and ten. I was just a shadow of my old self and had no strength or energy left. I was terribly run down and felt tired out and exhausted all the time.

"Finally I resorted to Tanlac and got back on my feet so quick that it surprised me. It proved to be so well suited to my needs that by the time I finished the fourth bottle I was feeling a hundred percent well. As a medicine and tonic to build a person up and make them feel right I don't believe Tanlac has an equal."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

FOUND WONDERFUL RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION BY USING MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

Constipation is one of the most prevalent troubles the human race is subject to, and is the greatest cause of many of our ailments, for if the bowels cease to perform their proper functions all the other organs will become deranged.

Keep your bowels working gently and naturally by the use of Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and thus do away with the constipation and all other troubles caused by it.

Mrs. A. R. Spence, Springhill, N. S., writes:—"I have suffered for some time from constipation, and was advised by a friend to try Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills. After taking a vial of them I have found wonderful relief, and would advise all those who are constipated to give them a trial, for I feel sure they will also receive the same benefit I did."

WHAT LEADERS THINK OF ELECTION RESULT

Bonar Law Satisfied and Lloyd George Anticipated the Outcome—Asquith Blames Unemployment.

LONDON, November 17 (Canadian Press). — Following are the comments made by the leading figures in yesterday's general election in Britain:

David Lloyd-George — "I am satisfied. The results coincide with the anticipations of my headquarters."

Bonar Law—"I am greatly satisfied with the results of the election, demonstrating that the country is ready for a Conservative regime."

Herbert Asquith — "The enormous labour poll and the tremendous turnover in Scotland are due to the widespread unemployment and the consequent acute distress."

A Thought

Let not him that girdeth on his harness boast himself as he that putteth it off.—I Kings 20:11.

We want straight men in this age of light;
We want their counsel and sense of right,
Their valor and virtue and loyal sense
Of serving for only the recompense
Of seeing a duty that's done, well done—
We want straight men in the race to run!

(By Stuart P. West)

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(Special)—Judging from the action of today's stock market liquidation had been pretty well completed in some parts of the list, while others it had not.

..Professional traders working for a decline to-day were able to make some impression against the oil shares, against the Rubber and Tire stocks despite intimations of an impending advance in Tire prices against the independent Steels and against the rails.

It is not apparent that there has been any great quantity of investment selling of railway stocks and bonds because of fears of adverse legislation Still it is fact that uncertainty on this account has kept away new buyers for this class of stock and in this way has helped to make things easier for operators on the short side.

While weakness persisted in these directions, recent short sellers were busy taking in their contracts elsewhere Equipment stocks, shipping shares and the motors all did better from the start The prosperity of the motor industry was advertised in a remarkable manner by the exposition of General Motors Finances accompanying the restoration of the common stock to dividend basis. There have been few achievements in the history of our industrial corporations quite as striking as the reduction in two years of $110,000,000 of liabilities and the change from a company heavily loaded up with floating debts to a company entirely free from obligations to the banks.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

A USEFUL CITIZEN.

Toronto, Nov. 16, 1922.

The Edtior "Examiner."

Sir,—I have just happened to see in your columns a resolution passed by the Peterborough Ministerial Association in regard to the departure of Rev. J. R. Webb, which impels me to publicly express my admiration for the public service so long and unstintedly given by Mr. Webb and to note its value.

There is a wide and radical difference between a religious leader whose interest and work are restricted to the advance of his own particular congregation and one who clearly aims to serve the whole community. Mr. Webb's attitude was unmistakeable. His sympathies were broad and generous and as one for many years closely associated with him in the Ministerial Association I gladly testify to the large amount of work cheerfully and unselfishly done by him for the wider Cause of Religion and for the public weal. In particular I remember his enthusiastic efforts in arranging for large popular united services in the Week of Prayer on Good Friday and on various national occasions held in different churches, the armouries and in the parks.

This leads me to draw attention to the great advantage which Peterborough has derived from the striking an distinctive policy pursued for my years by the different churches of the city led by the Minister Association. They have successfully combined loyal allegiance to their respective positions and tenets with a broad, kindly spirit, a very real Christian fellowship and valuable co-operation for the general good.

This Association and the Board of Trade have formed two most useful, energizing centres in which the advance of the city, the welfare and needs of the community and the realizing of a healthy, intelligent and kindly citizenship have been discussed with a view to strong, united action. It is to be hoped that this sane and enterprising policy will be still further developed in the future.

As a religious leader who has worked on these lines, Rev. J. R. Webb goes to his new field of work with the appreciation and best wishes of the community generally.

Yours, etc.,
J. C. DAVIDSON.

THE LEOPARD'S SPOTS

"Can the leopard change his spots?" How often we hear folks say this in connection with spiritual difficulties. The answer is No; he cannot. (That which is born of the flesh is flesh), and will remain so. Well, then, is there no hope for man's improvement, for man's redemption. Certainly there is—by way of a New Birth; in other words, by receiving seed into the heart, which grows and grows till it chokes out the old thoughts and the old practices. This seed, you all know it, is the Word of God. You are Born gain as Peter says, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the Word of God, which liveth and abideth forever; and this is the word that by the Gospel is preached unto you. How significant was the answer of Jesus to Nicodemus, when he came to Him with questions concerning His works, His teachings and miracles. Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of God. Marvel not that I said unto thee, ye must be born again.

Oh wondrous word of gospel truth,
Hid deep within the breast,
In time thy plants shall be full grown,
And give the heart sweet rest.

HER THREE CHILDREN HAD WHOOPING COUGH

Many mothers make the mistake of thinking that whooping cough is not of serious importance, but it is one of the most dangerous diseases of infancy, and yearly causes more deaths than scarlet fever, typhoid or diphtheria, and is more common in female than male children.

DR. WOOD'S

is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble as it helps to clear the clogged-up air passages of the mucous and phlegm that has collected, and in this way brings on the "whoop" which brings the so-much-sought-for relief and heals and soothes the lungs.

Mrs. H. W. Mahar, Kentville, N. S., writes: "My three children had whooping cough. I tried every medicine I could think of until an old gentleman told me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Before they had one bottle taken the cough seemed better, and after two bottles they were about well. It loosened the cough and relieved them of that hard, distressing and strangling feeling that goes with it."

"Dr. Wood's" is 35c. and 60c. a bottle. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

RAYBESTOS ON TOP IN SOFT BALL BATTLE.

McLeod's Pitching Played Big Part in Victory Over Engineers.

The Raybestos nine came out with the large end of an 8 to 4 score in the Soft Ball League game with the Engineers at the Armoury last evening. McLeod who did the mound work for the winners was in tip-top form and fanned thirteen of his opponents. Langley also did good work and had nine strikeouts to his credit. The Engineers hit safely no less than eleven times, but were unable to bunch their wallops effectively. The players were:

Score by innings:

GUNNERS WERE EASY MARKS FOR ROTARY.

Rotarians Made a Great Show of Strength in Last Half of the Game.

Though the Rotarians made but little impression on the Gunners in the first four innings of last night's soft ball game, they went on a rampage for the last five frames and finished up winners with a score of 18 to 5. Piercy did the hurling for the Gunners and fanned fifteen, but he issued four passes and was hit hard at inopportune times. Matthews, on the mound for the winners, fanned six, but he got excellent support from his team mates. The players were:

Rotary—Primeau, s.s.; McDonald, 1b.; Matthews, p.; Young, 1b.; Dobbin, r.f.; Roy, s.s.; Graham, c.; E. Wright, r.f.; Belleghem, s.s.

Score by innings:

HIGH FENCE IS BAD NEWS FOR PHILLIES.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 17. —Home runs will not be so plentiful at the Philadelphia American League ball park next season. The low barrier at the left field bleachers has been raised until it is now eight feet from the ground. The intention is to have a wire screen perhaps six feet higher placed on the top of the barrier. No longer will ground balls strike in front of the barrier and bound into the bleachers for a home run as has been customary in the past.

No doubt the higher wall will play havoc with the popularity of some of the Athletics. Tilly Walker, Bing McCiller and a number of the other players got the big hand last summer when many a fly ball that would have been an easy out dropped into the left field bleachers for a home run. However, it will make for better baseball and will keep many a game from being busted up by a fluke home run.

COCHRAN WON MATCH.

NEW YORK, November 16 (Canadian Press). — Welker Cochran, the American star, defeated Erich Hagenlacher, German champion, 500 to 471, yesterday afternoon in the fourth match of the International 18.2 Balk-line Billiard Championship at the Hotel Pennsylvania.

Although defeated, Hagenlacher set a record run for the tournament, a closely compiled cluster of 178. His other runs were 140 and 72.

Cochran, coming from far behind in order to win, had high runs of 140, 82, and 69. His average was 33 5-15, and Hagenlacher's was 31 6-15.

Astronomers assert that there are no sounds, no floating dust, and no twilight on the moon.

MAYS WILL MOVE IS LATEST RUMOR

Has Been a Trouble-Maker Ever Since He Joined the Yankees.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Since the defeat of the Yankees by the Giants, rumors galore have been spread relative to changes that would be made in the club before the opening of next season. Some of these changes will no doubt materialize others will prove to be mere piffle.

However, of all the rumors circulated, one thing seems certain, Carl Mays will not be with the Yankees next year. Ever since joining the clubs Mays has been a bone of contention that has kept the team in a constant turmoil.

The purchase of Mays by the Yankees from Boston after President Johnson had suspended the pitcher caused a wide split in the American League that has not yet been healed.

The New York club in order to be able to play Mays went to the courts and had a permanent injunction restraining President Johnson from interfering with him in any way.

demanding that he be ousted. The other five clubs remained loyal. For a time it appeared as if the split might cause the formation of a third league.

Then came the unfortunate killing of Ray Chapman by a wildly pitched ball by Mays. At one time it looked as if the other seven clubs would go on strike unless Mays was removed from baseball.

Ruth and Mays have been at odds ever since they became members of the club ,and as a result discipline has suffered.

It is hinted that waivers have been asked on Mays and that all the American League clubs have passed him up. However, it is said that several National League clubs are willing to take him on. All of which makes it look as if Mays might drift out of the American League before the opening of next season.

Exchange of Letters Clears the Situation.

KINGSTON, Nov. 17.— Towards the end of October, when there was a stir over men joining the college rugby teams and questionings took place over relations of the new men to the college a report was sent out from Kingston intimating that Principal Taylor had said in an interview that Philpots of the McGill team had his board and fees paid.

This led to an exchange of letters between college heads, and quickly Principal Taylor repudiated the statement. He never made it. It was found that the statement had been added to the Taylor interview and had been credited to him, the quotation marks extending too far in the report. The statement has been accepted of Principal Taylor's declaration of innocence of reflecting on any players.

On the other hand Sir Arthur Currie's intimation that all of McGill's players are bonafide students has cleared the air, just as Principal Taylor's intimation has that Queen's players are without taint.

These declarations accepted, unhesitatingly, have restored friendly relations again in a heretofore disturbed atmosphere.

JERITZA WINS OVATION.

Grand Opera Opens in New York and Chicago.

NEW YORK, November 17. — To Marie Jeritza, the sensational singer from Vienna, who captured New York by storm last season, fell the honour of opening the 1922-23 Metropolitan Opera season.

Singing the title role in "Tosca," the tragic opera for many years linked with the name of Geraldine Farrar, the newer star earned a tremendous ovation from the first-nighters.

The Gentle Art of Hair Pulling Is No Longer In Favor With Women

LEFT TO RICHT, EMILY MATHIESON, MILDRED SOTO

By JACK JUGMEYER.
NEA Staff Correspondent.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 17.—Are we in for an era of female fisticuffians trained by fighting male relatives to carry on the gospel of the padded punch?

And what is to become of the gentle and time-honoured art of hair-pulling?

These stirring speculations are justified by professional entry of the ring by two fair Los Angelans, Mildred Soto and Mrs. Emily Mathieson, who challenges all womanhood to sample their boxing wares.

Both are daughters of fighting kinsmen. Both pack a mean wallop. Miss Soto, 19, is the ringside product of her father's training—Joe Soto, old-time bare-knuckel battler. She is said to have four knockouts to her credit. She fights at 120 pounds.

Mrs. Mathieson, 30, and weighing 119 pounds, has as her trainer, her husband, Walter Mathieson, former exhibition fighter with the Los Angelese Athletic Club; her brother John Orosco, the "Battling Lion" of Tucson, Ariz., and her uncle, Chief Orosco, former heavyweight champ of Arizona. She sports the proud sobriquet of "Battling Lioness."

The two are matched for an early go, the matron having accepted the defi of the miss.

Miss Soto had set out to fight life's battles as a stenographer and scenario writer. Success didn't match her high hopes and so she's fallen back on the fists her father has fashioned into cunning chin wallopers.

The ranks of girl gladiators are growing. Now who'll be the Tex Rickard of the first woman's heavyweight world's championship match?

Inability To Hear Signals Causes Many Teams To Confer on Every Play

By BILLY EVANS.

In every sport plenty of action, speed, is the fundamental feature it the game is to continue to meet with popular favor.

Since the introduction of the forward pass, which features the open-style game, football has rapidly advanced in public favor because the game has been speeded up.

The open game has supplied the element of uncertainity, it has enabled the spectator to more closely follow the ball, which, of course, means follow the play. The best of all it has speeded up the action.

The increased popularity of football during the past 10 years has caused any number of the leading colleges to build new stadiums that would house the crowds anxious to see the big teams in action.

These new stadiums have been a great thing for the spectator, but in one respect they have slowed up the game. I am wondering if there is any solution for it.

The acoustics of the football stadiums are such that when a crowd starts cheering it is absolutely impossible to hear signals called. The shout of the quarterback calling the next play fades into nothing before the yells of the rival students and alumni.

For that reason it is necessary that before each play the team having possession of the ball go into a close conference. At such a conference either through the use of the regular signals or in some other way the quarter unfolds to his team mates the next play.

It is possible that it doesn't take much more time to give the signals in this manner than by the ordinary lineup in which the signals are called after the players assume their respective positions. It seems twice as long.

However it is the looks of the thing that hurts. It takes you back to the days when rival teams would be selected from a bunch of boys, and, of conrse, having no set of signals, it would be necessary to hold a conference before each play and decide who should carry the ball and how the play would be attempted.

The idea of well-coached college football teams having a conference before each play certainly looks very amateurish.

To me there always was a certain thrill to see the teams line up, and then listen to the quarterback shout a jumble of numbers that meant little or nothing to the spectators, but carried a message to every player on the team in possession of the ball.

The acoustics of most of the new stadiums have eliminated that feature of play, which I am sure is far more pelasing to the eye than the next play conference as now held.

Another question arises with this new stadium condition which makes it impossible for those on the playing field to hear because of the shouts of their supporters. Just how much time shall a team be permitted to take in holding a conference?

If a team in a certain period had a brisk wind blowing against them there might be a desire to delay things as much as possible to kill time. Late in the game the same tactics might be adopted wiht profit. Several times Saturday I noted the officials warning the two teams about using up too much time in the before-play conferences.

However it seems to me the new stadiums, with all the advantages offered, have added one undesirable feature — these conferences. It wouldn't surprise me if this feature came in for some consideration by the rule makers.

YEOTES CUP FINALS ON SATURDAY.

The Junior League football game between the C.P.C. and DeLaval junior teams will be played at Riverside Park Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Packers team will be picked from the following players: Davidson, Curtis, J. Downer, F. Ball, Shadgett, T. Ball, Mitchell Anderson ,Edwards, Chambers, Haw Bradley, Lynch, Wilgar and Hardwick.

This will be the last soccer game of the season and it will also be the final game for possession of the Yeotes Cup, emblematic of the Junior Football Championship it is expected to be a lively contest and a good crowd is looked for. The cup will be presented at the conclusion of the game by Mayor Taylor.

SHORTSTOPS ARE SLOWLY SLIPPING.

Unquestionably the veteran shortstops in the American League are slipping.

A few years back the names of Scott and Peckinpaugh would be immediately mentioned if one was selecting the best shortstop in the Johnsonian organization.

Those days are over. Scott has gone back badly. He has slowed up. The spirit is there, but he can no longer cover the ground. In the series with the Giants a half dozen balls escaped him that would have been easy chances a few years ago.

Peckinpaugh is also going the other way, but not so rapidly as Scott. Peck can still cover the ground.

Walter Gerber of the St. Louis Browns is one of the old standbys who seems to be going as strong as ever.

The two most brilliant shortstops in the American League last year were youngsters, Chick Galloway and Rigney.

Joe Sewell, the Cleveland shortstop, who gave so much promise in 1921, had a bad year of it last season. He appeared to have lost a bit of his confidence.

SETS RECORD.

Edouard Horemans.

NEW YORK, Novemer 17 (Canadian Press). — Edouard Horemans, the Belgian, hung up a new record high run of 244 for the International 18.2 Balk-line Billiards Championship Tournament in his match against Eric Hagenlacher, the German, yesterday.

Horemans also had runs of 162 and 60, while his opponent had runs of 120, 78 and 44.

The final score in favour of Horemans was 500 to 301.

Horemans finished his string with an average of 35 10-14; the German's average was 21 7-14.

SIKI'S LIFE STORY

By Battling Siki

As Told to Milton Bronner, NEA Staff Correspondent

CHAPTER FOUR—Siki Resumes Boxing

When the war was over, my artillery regiment was sent to Versailles near Paris. I was demobilized shortly afterward.

I was Corporal Louis Phal, with two decorations and honorable wounds. Also I had no job and only 200 francs. But I wanted to be through dishwashing.

I asked for a job as waiter in a little restaurant. The owner was a good fellow. He saw my medals and gave me a chance even if I did break plates occasionally. His was a plain little place where you did not have to put on a lot of style. No; the work was much nicer than dish washing.

Two More Fights.

I had a couple of fights in 1920. I went on to Toulouse and beat Henrys in 10 rounds on points, and then knocked out J. Audouy in rounds after losing to him on points six years before.

One day I had my arm full of dishes and a man came to me and said: "You are Siki!"

I told him I was. He said he wanted me to fight in Paris against Derenzi, champion of the French army. The boss let me off to train, as he thought that it would help his eating place if I won or put up a good losing fight. The patrons would know Siki, the fighter, was waiting on them. Maybe he was a sly dog.

I knocked out Derenzi in three rounds.

Lacked Manager.

I may be a fair fighter but I am a rotten business man. I am almost ashamed to tell you how little I got for licking the army champion — 300 francs, which was only about $25 in American money then.

I don't think I only got little money because I am colored. No, I think it is because until I met Charley Hellers, my present manager, I never had anybody to advise me as to what I ought to get. Why even in my biggest fights with men like Journee and Carpentier I drew down small sums.

After beating Derenzi I could get other fights to carry me along until the next one. In the spring of 1920 I knocked out V. Marchand and Westbrook and won from LeFevre, J. Depaus, Rene Devos and J. Liggett.

"Meal Ticket" Days.

But I wasn't getting anywhere. I was only considered a fourth rater, fighting four raters. Nobody believed in me, and I was not ambitious. I liked eating and fighting and fought to eat.

I would fight anybody if a price was put up, not a fancy price either but one meaning food and drink for a month.

I eat lots of fish. I eat meat that sticks to the ribs. I like to gnaw the bones. It keeps your teeth white and strong. I don't drink tea, or coffee or milk. In France I drink wine like a Frenchman, in Holland I drink beer like a Dutchman.

Also I smoke a good deal. When not training I like to be out with men, smoking and talking and drinking. When I train I like lots of sleep. Sleep is good for a fighter. It helps build his body and quiets his nerves.

Third Base is Only Detroit Job in Doubt.

Ty Cobb says there is only one debatable position on his ball club, third base. Bobby Jones and Fred Haney will fight it out for that position. If Jones is able to keep physically fit, he will have the call. A bad stomach raised havoc with his game last year.

Haney, whether he wins the third base berth or not, is certain to be retained. He is a valuable man to have around for utility purposes. He can play any position in the infield and in a pinch do a pretty fair job in the outfield.

Blue will be at first, Pratt at second and Rigney at short. In the outfield will be Cobb, Heilman and Veach. Bassler, Woodal and Manion will look after the catching.

The pitching of course is a question. Cobb expects great things from "Rip" Collins, secured from Boston. Pillette should have another good season and Johnson should arrive With a bang in 1923. The rest of the staff is a bit uncertain.

TEXAN, WHO SAYS HE SAW WIFE KISSED, SLAYS MAN.

FORT WORTH, Texas, November 17. — A. C. Glenn, 35 years old, of Forest Hill, a suburb, was shot six times yesterday, and died in an ambulance en route to a hospital.

The shooting was perpetrated in the doorway of a department store in the business district.

H. B. Green, also of Forest Hall, was taken into custody and charged with the killing. He made a statement to the authorities in which he declared he had "caught Glenn kissing my wife."

Glenn and Mrs. Green were found not guilty of disorderly conduct recently.

CENTRAL LEAGUERS SHIFT TO THE EXHIBITION GROUNDS

Peterborough Ball Club to Have Park of Their Own Next Season, Entering Into Agreement With Exhibition Board.

WORK BEGAN TODAY

When the 1923 ball season rolls around the Peterborough Central Ontario League club will be found battling the invaders from Oshawa and Belleville and other Central League towns on a new diamond instead of the familiar ball grounds at Riverside Park.

Through an agreement signed by the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Board and the officers of the ball club to-day, the Petes will use the Exhibition grounds next season instead of the ball lot across the river.

No expense will be spared in making Exhibition Park a model ball grounds. The diamond will be laid out directly in front of the grand stand and there will be seating accommodation for 2,700 fans, with, of course, acres of room for parking cars.

So far as the players are concerner the new grounds will be the finest in the cricuit. Dressing rooms with shower baths, and lockers and toilet accommodation will be built under the grandstand, so that the players will be enabled to practise in uniform, a big advantage. Big league dugouts will be arranged and in every way Exhibition park will be converted into a modern ball park.

Work commenced on the grounds to-day with a big squad of the farmer members of the Exhibition park holding a bee. With the assistance of a tractor the grounds will be ploughed and harrowed, seeded and partly rolled this fall so that it will be ready early in the spring for the laying out of the diamond. It is likely that Charlie Maddocks, the veteran grounds keeper who for years was caretaker of the Toronto, Cleveland and other professional grounds, will be here in the spring to superintend the making of the infield and mound so that it will be correct in every detail.

The shift from Riverside Park to the Exhibition grounds was considered necessary in the interest of Central League ball. The uncertainty as to the Council's policy in regard to Riverside made it essential that other arrangements should be made and again sports has made so much progress in Peterborough that it was impossible for all the organizations to be comfortably accommodated at Riverside Park, and the Petes have been handicapped during the past season by inability to secure the grounds as often for practice as they required.

This difficulty will, of course, be overcome now that the Central Leaguers have a park of their own.

At The Theatres

ROYAL — Constance Talmadge in a truly remarkable presentation, "Woman's Place," also the Third Episode of Million Dollar Serial, "Buffalo Bill," comedies, and other features.

CAPITOL — Rex Beach's great thrilling production, "The Iron Trail," a sensational railroad melodrama. Other movie features and comedy. Also the Big Time Vaudeville, Menning Sisters, refined musical artists.

GRAND — Friday and Saturday, F. Stuart-Whyte's new musical fantasy, "Prince Charming, Jr."

REGENT—Hoot Gibson in "The Galloping Kid", George Walsh in "With Stanley in Africa' and the rest of a first class programme.

Capitol Entertainment

At the Capitol last evening, a packed house greeted the opening presentation of the "Iron Trail," featuring a galaxy of hand-picked stars. The picture is a Rex Beach production with lots of thrills. It connects the construction of a railway through the ice-bound wilderness of Alaska with a rival outfit trying to get "there" first. It required some tall thinking and quick action to outwit the rival organization and the last great fight revolves around the construction of a steel bridge and the breaking up of the ice and consequent danger to the structure. Rex Beach can usually be depended upon to turn out a good picture and his reputation in this regard has been well sustained in the "Iron Trail."

A pleasing feature of the new Capitol programme is a vaudeville turn by the Menning Sisters. Their work on the violin and harp was highly appreciated and they were obliged to respond to several encores. They play well and their appearance here for the remainder of the week will be good news to patrons of the Capitol.

A comedy rounds out a well balanced programme that should attract several more capacity audiences.

A JUDGE OF ANY "LEG"ALITY Will admit that F. Stuart-Whyte's slogan, "Glorifying a Dominion's Girlhood" is justified when they see "Prince Charming Jr." at the Grand Opera House for two nights and at Saturday matinee, commencing Friday, Nov. 17.

GIBSON REAL HE MAN STAR

Busting bucking bronchos has been Hoot Gibson's long suit ever since he was ankle high to a grasshopper. He is the champion horse man of the screen and there is no one to say him nay.

"The Galloping Kid" is an entirely different brand of western. The central figure in the story is a tramp cowboy who unexpectedly falls heir to a job as chaperon to a girl who is far too pretty to live in the cactus country. So the chaperon marries her to save her from the rest of the desert galoots

The leading feminine role is played by Edna Murphy who makes a very delightful opposite for Hoot Gibson. Others in the supporting cast are Lionel Belmore, Leon Barry Jack Walters, Percy Challenger, and Steve Clemento.

AT THE GRAND.

ERNIE MARKS COMING.

There is a treat in store for the lovers of popular priced amusement with the coming of the Ernie Marks Stock Company to the Grand Opera House next week. This well known organization needs no introduction to the theatre goers of Peterboro for Mr. Marks and his merry company have been coming here for years. This season he brings an entire new company with one or two exceptions, new scenery and new plays. Especial attention has been paid to the vaudeville portion of the program this season and he claims it to be the best ever carried by a popular priced company.

The opening play, "Putting it Over" is a late New York release for which Mr. Marks holds the exclusive Canadian rights. It is a play of mystery and the ways of big business. Around the personalities of two men who look near enough alike to be twins the author has built a most absorbing plot, one that holds the audience spellbound until the final curtain. The mystery of course is solved and everything ends happily as all good plays should.

WILL GIVE ADDRESS ON CIVIC AFFAIRS HERE.

City Clerk to Talk to Young Men's Section of Chamber of Commerce.

Acting President F. J. Overend has intimated to the Examiner that the executive of the Young Men's Section of the Chamber, is expecting a large turn out, this evening to hear Mr. S. R. Armstrong, City Clerk, who has kindly consented to give an address on Civic Affairs and their relationship to the Young Men, particularly bearing on the relationship of the various departments under the civic government.

It is evident that the Young Men's Section desires to secure first hand information on civic subjects and is drawing upon the best speakers in the city for this purpose. This should not only prove valuable to the young men but also of considerable value to the city.

Fundamental principles for successful business will no doubt come within the purview of the section and to the ambitious young man this should prove of inestimable value.

Beside the election of a nominating committee to-night, to bring in recommndations for the permanent executive, it is also probable that the two official representatives of the Section to the Executive Council of the Chamber of Commerce will be elected.

Mr. Overend states that the meeting is open to all young men interested.

FRENCH TIGER DROPS IN ON YANKEE EAGLE

Clemenceau Arrives in New York Today to See What Real Republic Looks Like.

SEEKS ALLIANCE

NEW YORK, Nov. 18. —(Associated Press.)—Georges Clemenceau the French "Tiger" who came to this country for the first time more than 50 years ago to "see what a republic really looks like," is back in town again.

He dropped in on New York from Paris today, ready to start out on a lecture tour of America, but he will remain here a little while first, for he has number of old metropolitan acquaintances to renew—some of them with persons, but more perhaps, with streets and places, and familiar old land-marks which he learned to know and to revere while yet a boy.

While here he will plead for co-operation between the United States, France and Britain. He denies that France is a militaristic power.

The maker and breaker of ministeries as Clemenceau has come to be known because of the tremendous power he once held in the political affairs of his country is here on his own hook and unofficially to present the case of France to the American people and this he will do in the languages of the masses for not only does he speak English but he speaks real American English — flawlessly and without effort He is a master of our idom and has kept up with American slang for more than five decades.

It was back in 1866 that young Dr. Clemenceau just turned 25.. first stepped ashore in New York. His meagre wardrobe spoke eloquently of his poverty, but the case of shiney new surgical instruments his only other possession hold his future— or so he though at the time.

In Prison Once

Back of him, he believed, lay his political career which was not much to boast of. He has served a short term in prison for activities in behalf of the Republic, and had been invited to leave France for failing to resist further temptations along the same lines upon gaining his freedom. After all he concluded, the medical profession which had supported six generations of Clemeneceau before him was superior to politics.

Promised a small monthly remittance from his father, the future war premier of France established himself in what is now the Greenwich Village section of New York and began to practice medicine. His field was the large French population then living around Washington Square and while he succeeded indifferently well in obtaining patients, his collections fell hopelessly below his needs.

This prompted him to communicate with the Paris Temps, for which he subsequently wrote a series of brilliant letters describing conditions in America. This correspondence bolstered up his income to a certain extent, but the remittance from home had stopped in the meantime, hence he still was in the meshes of poverty.

A Different Tact

Forced to strike out on a different tack he obtained a position in a

SIR ADAM BECK, G. N. GORDON THOMAS TOOMS ARE INVITED TO DISCUSS POWER QUESTION

Letter From Mr. R. R. Hall Received by Mayor W. H. Taylor--Is Peterborough to Be a Creat City or Remain in its Present Rip Van Winkle Stage?

Mr. Mayor and Gentlemen,

I beg to submit for your favourable consideration the advisability of calling a public meeting of the ratepayers for the purpose of discussing the question: Is it in the interest of the City of Peterborough to develop electric power on its own account from Dams Nos. 4 and 5 combined under one head, and from Burleigh Falls, with a sufficiently raised head to dispense with Lovesick Lock?

I would also suggest that Sir Adam Beck be invited to attend the meeting and be asked to show cause why this city should not be at liberty to develop electric power on its own account from these sources.

The Ontario Government own the Central Ontario Power System, which is now being managed by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

I would, therefore, further suggest that Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.P.P., be invited to attend the meeting to show cause why the Ontario Government should prevent the city from developing these water powers on its own account for the benefit of its own citizens.

The Dominion Government own these water powers and have the necessary power to expropriate lands for a new canal reach and lock on the east side of the River Otonabee, could dispense with Dam No. 5, and substitute one lock in the place of Locks 4 and 5, and by raising the Burleigh Falls Dam, Lovesick Lock and Dam could be dispensed with altogether. The Dominion Government are making no more use of these water powers than the Chippawa Indians did when Champlain passed over the Trent Waterway over three hundred canals purpose. The Dominion Government, by building years ago.

I would, therefore, further suggest that Mr. G., N. Gordon, K.C., M.P., be invited to attend this meeting to show cause why the Dominion Government should not co-operate with the city in the carrying out of these projects.

Your humble servant would also be pleased to be honoured with an invitation to show cause why these water powers should be developed by this city, and for this city, and to the advantage of this city, this Province, and this Dominion.

And lastly, I would suggest that the meeting be called as soon after the 4th of December as possible, and in a suitable place to accommodate a large gathering of ratepayers, for I can assure you that an immense number of the ratepayers of Peterborough will be delighted to hear Sir Adam Beck, Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.P.P., and Mr. G. N. Gordon, K.C., M.P., discuss the important issues involved, which mean: Are we to tend back to the old Scott Plains on the banks of the Otonabee, or are we to advance to be a greater city?

I have the honour to be, sirs,
Your obedient servant,
R. R. HALL.

SEES GREAT FUTURE FOR DOMINION OF CANADA.

Land Capable of Supporting a Population of a Hundred Million People.

LONDON, Nov. 18. — (Canadian Press).—Inspired by the speech of Lord Shaughnessy at Montreal, in which he said that selected immigration was imperative for the prosperity of Canada, the Daily Telegraph predicts a great future for Canada. The newspaper says the advance made by the Dominion in the past two or three decades may tempt it to be overcautious in adding to its population, but if Canadians cast up the balance sheet in calculative assets against liabilities they can face the future with confidence.

Canadians are heirs to the land, says the Telegraph, which in the course of a century can be made capable of supporting a hundred million people. It was a land which may yet run with milk and honey.

OIL FRAUDS IN U. S. ARE NOW EXPOSED

Threefold Inquiry is Being Made Into Doubtful Stock Deals in Texas State.

BIG CLEAN-UPS.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 18.—Threefold investigation of the flooding of many states with worthless oil stocks is under way in Texas.

Criminal prosecution of many oil promoters for fraudulent use of the mails, barring of their present business methods by the Federal Trade Commission, and exposure of these methods by the National Vigilance Committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America are among the results expected.

The investigations in Texas centre in Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston. Similar inquiries are under way or have been completed in Arkansas, another hotbed of bogus stock selling, and in Kansas City.

Evidence already has been uncovered showing the swindling of thousands of persons throughout the United States. Heavier even than at the time oil "wild-catting" was in its flower in Texas is the harvest of illicit gain which the promoters have reaped.

Make Big Clean-Up.

Publicity, either in newspapers specializing in oil promotion or in direct-by-mail canvassing of "sucker lists," has enabled the stock-selling promoters to make amazing "clean-ups" at the expense of the credulous.

"Declarations of trust," which the promoters hold are legal under the common law, are used by the oil men to enable them to evade prosecution in the state courts or suits in the civil.

Claiming the right under these declarations to exclusive and complete control of the affairs of the syndicates they organize, the promoters often pocket 50 per cent or more of the proceeds from their stock-selling campaigns as "organization fees," pay themselves handsome salaries and meet big expense accounts from the remainder, and spend little or nothing in actual oil operations.

"Mergers" Questioned.

From syndicates which have been milked dry by the original promoters, numerous oil "mergers" now flourishing in Fort Worth and elsewhere buy lists of stockholders and canvass these for more profits. The "mergers" write alluring letters offering to exchange their own stock for the stock of defunct companies, provided the holders buy 25 per cent. additional "merger" stock—for cash. Legitimacy of the "merger" promotions is being especially inquired into by the Federal Trade Commission.

Small dividends which the "mergers" pay from time to time come from the proceeds of stock sales, Federal authorities here believe.

STUDENTS IN BERLIN CANNOT FIND LODGINGS.

BERLIN, Nov. 18. — (Associated Press).—Hundreds of students attending the University of Berlin are without lodgings, according to the Rector of the institution, who has issued an appeal to citizens of Berlin to take in the homeless young men who have gathered here to attend the fall term.

The enrollment at universities in Germany this year has reached a total of 90,000, the highest since shortly after the armistice. Forty thousand students last summer engaged in manual labor to meet their living expenses, fifteen thousand of them finding employment as miners.

A German Enemy of Britain to Sit in the New Parliament

LONDON, Nov. 18.—(Canadian Press.) — The partner of Edwin Scrymgeur in the parliamentary representation of Dundee's two-member constituency, is E. D. Morell, who is described by Winston Churchill as follows: "Morell was before, during and after the war the most high-minded, conscientious, eloquent, sincere and persistent enemy of Britain and the friend of Germany."

Churchill thought it was wrong that that man, not British-born, should be elected to a British parliament.

FIGHT BETWEEN OLD CHUMS NO KISSING MATCH

Publisher White Declares Industrial Court Act Deprives the People of Free Speech.

KANSAS DIVIDED.

EMPORIA, Kas., Nov. 18.—There's going to be no shadow boxing when William Allen White, famous Emporia publisher, faces trial for violating a law he helped to frame—even though his arrest was brought about by his friend, Governor Henry Allen of Kansas.

Take it from White, also from Richard J. Hopkins, attorney general, there will be no gloves used. White has refused offers of continuance, declared the industrial court act as now interpreted deprives people of free speech. He's determined that it be fully tested.

Hopkins has accepted the challenge and he is making preparations to fight for the measure with all the resources at his command. And meantime, all of Kansas and many hundreds of people in other states are watching with interest the outcome of the now famous clash between the two bosom friends, who still retain their comradeship despite the fact that Allen caused White's arrest.

White faces trial Nov. 22, on a charge of "stopping trains on the Sante Fe Railroad," through his open expressions of sympathy with the striking railroad shopmen last July.

Poster Caused It.

White put up a poster in the window of his newspaper office asserting he was "50 per cent for the strikers," and each day thereafter avowed he would add 1 per cent to his sympathy. Opposed to him, in his views, was his pal, Governor Allen.

Governor Allen decided that his friend was violating the state law and had White arrested. Friend or no friend, the "baby" of Governor Allen and, strangely, of White himself hed to be kept inviolate. So White facing trial, finds himself in the peculiar position of testing the inviolability of one brain - child against the right of another.

The country-side about here has taken up the case and a friendly controversy exists among its inhabitants. It isn't the state against William Allen White, in the minds of those who know him, although that's the manner in which the charge against White begins. To the people of Kansas, it's Henry against Will.

There interest lies chiefly in the friendly wrangle between Governor Allen and White, two of the closest chums America has produced. White supported Allen, for the governorship, and especially in the passage of the industrial court act. Now they will go to the mat—once to "uphold the dignity of the law," and the other to "test the right of free speech" in Kansas.

It's a Finish Fight.

White declares emphatically that this is going to be no "kissing match." He is determined to test the strength and legality of the industrial court act in its relation to the freedom of opinion.

Families and clubs throughout Kansas are divided. Law and order advocates are pitted against those who insist on the rights of free speech. The strange feature about this is that those who want "free speech" to prevail are equally insistent on upholding "law and order."

White himself is one of these. As Allen puts it:

'If trouble should arise in Emporia, Will White would be a brigadier general in the posse which

LOCAL MARKET PRODUCED BIG FLOCK BUYERS

Supplies Plentiful With Prices Unchanged--Eggs Scarce and High in Price --Chickens Plentiful.

A BUGGY FOR $5.50

The market was very large this morning and the supply seemed almost beyond the demand though purchasers were many. Threatening weather had no effect on the crowd, and a cheery spirit prevailed.

There was an enormous quantity of fowl; geese at 25 and 30c per lb. were in demand, and the supply was ample; chickens at 20c a lb.; ducks at 30c and turkeys at 40c, the latter not plentiful. The turkey probably is waiting for the Christmas season, to appear in force.

Eggs were scare and high, 60 to 70c a dozen. They were passed by as luxuries by many buyers.

Honey in five pound pails at 14c per lb., was in evidence in small quantities upstirs, the outside market showing a larger stock at 10c and 15c.

Cream at 30c a pint was selling well. Butter was 35c to 37c for the best quality.

Hand knitted socks were in evidence and ranged from 50c to $1 a pair. Woolen mitts for the kiddies were 25c and 50c, the price varying according to size.

Handmade silk flowers at 25c and 50c a spray and woolen scarfs and tams were among the things noticed.

The Outside Market.

Outside the market was also large. Pork at 19c a lb. was plentiful, mutton at 10 to 15c was also to be found but pork predominated. One dealer had a few pairs of pigeons for sale.

The vegetable market was good and of great variety. Potatoes were sold in a few places by the peck at 20c but the larger number was sold in bags at 80 to 85c per bag. The supply was good. Cabbage varied according to size from 5 to 20c each, the red variety from 10 to 20c each. Onions, both red and white, at 40c a peck, and in a few cases at $2 per bag. Turnips at 25c per peck; parsnips at 30c per peck and beets and carrots at 25c were to be seen but not in very great quantities. Cauliflowers at 25c were scarce, and one dealer had a small quantity of spinach at 30c. Celery at 10c a bunch or 3 for 25c, was also in evidence; pumpkins at 5c each, were in demand the larger variety, at 10c were also to be found in limited quantities. Squash of all sizes were present, a large one selling for 40c; citrons at 10c each or three for a quarter, were to be seen.

Apples were to be found in nearly every stall, nearly all selling by the peck. Some of good quality but small size at 40c a peck. Spys at 60c and Greenings at 50c, While the Canada Red and Tolman Sweet were 35c. A few bags of Russets were to be found at $2.50. A load of Spys in barrels at $3.50 were to be found at the south end of the market.

Pears at 75c a basket were scarce and seemed to be overlooked as the season is late.

Live fowl were also to be found. One dealer had a pair of aristocratic looking Plymouth Rocks at $1.25 each while another lad had several crates of pullets of the same variety at $10 per dozen.

One dealer had a crate of perky looking white Leghorns and also several small pigs, slumbering peacefully and though possible purchasers were present the owner could not be found. This was a popular exhibit as the contrast between the very wide awake Leghorns and the somnolent porkers was marked.

Wood was in fair quantity, and many qualities. It was to be had ranging in price from mixed wood at $7 or $8 per cord, elm at $10, up to maple at $13 per cord. A load of basswood at $8 was to be seen. In spite of the apparent stress of the fuel situation the demand was small.

The auctioneers had a busy time in their stand. A buggy advertised as being an ideal conveyance for a family, brought only $5.50.

A FIRM STAND BY FREE STATE

Four Men Paid Death Penalty for Banditry in Dublin—Others Will Follow.

DUBLIN, Nov. 18. — (Canadian Press.) — Firm stand taken by a Free State Government yesterday when four paid the death penalty for banditry, appears to have met with the approval of the majority of Dublin citizens. People now realize that only by stern methods can the Free State government assert itself. Striking indication in the change of sentiment is seen in reversal of attitude of several who criticized the government on the executions in the Dail.

Tom Johnson, Labor and Opposition leader, censured the government for its drastic action, and after explanations had been made by Richard Mulcahy, Minister of Defence and President Cosgrave, he aligned himself with the government and declared he would concur in the most stringent measures in stamping out rebellion.

If De Valera is going to lead his followers to victory or extermination, it is the governments' duty to see that it isn't victory," said President Cosgrave.

"Anything that will shock the country into realization of what grave thing it is to take human life will do good in the country," declared Richard Mulcahy.

"People have been shot and so people have to be stern. Every man who goes around with revolvers seeking the lives of other men must be made to face the fact that in so doing he forfeits his own life."

MR. FRANK OLDFIELD AT ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

Mr. Frank Oldfield, baritone, of Toronto, will sing both morning and evening, and the following is a very fine and appropriate musical service for the day:

Solo, "Nearer My God to Thee" (Carey)—Mr. Oldfield.

Trio, "Praise Ye" (Attila) Verdi—Mr. and Mrs. Park, Mr. Oldfield.

Unaccompanied, "Evening and Morning" (Oakley.)

At the morning service Mr. Oldfield will sing "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," by Wilson, and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," Jude.

HEADS YOUNG MEN'S SECTION LOCAL BRANCH

New Department of the Chamber of Commerce Adopts Its Constitution and Elects Officers.

TIMELY ADDRESS

The young mens' section of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce held a business meeting last evening in the local Chamber rooms, President F. J. Overend occupying the chair. Several matters for discussion were introduced to the gathering and disposed of in a business way.

Meeting Nights Changed.

The meeting hour of 7.30 p.m. was changed to 8 p.m. for the convenience of the majority of those present. Also a resolution changing the regular meeting night from the second and fourth Monday in each month to the first and third Wednesdays was carried.

The important business of the evening was, however, the adoption of the constitution for the section. Each clause was read and explained by the president, F. J. Overend, and some amendments suggested and carried. Finally the constitution, as drawn up and amended by the section, was adopted, and the following officers elected:

Hon. President—J. J. Turner.
President—F. J. Overend.
Vice-President—D. Loucks.
Secretary—H. T. Theobald.
Treasurer—M. A. Fitzgerald.
Executive—Jas. Malby, J. E. Sullivan, Chas. M. Thornton and H. H. Munro.

Civic Affairs.

The young men were favoured by an address from City Clerk Armstrong, on the civic affairs and the welfare of this community at large. Mr. Armstrong intelligently explained the work of the governing civic bodies, including the activities of the present Hydro-Electric Commission.

At the close of his talk Mr. Armstrong was showered with a number of questions from his interested audience, which he cheerfully responded to.

Telephone Week.

Chas. M. Thornton invited all the members of the section, as well as those interested in it, to visit and look over the Bell Telephone Co.'s local exchange next week, which will be telephone week, in the interests of the public generally. Accepting this invitation, the young men will meet in the Chamber of Commerce at 7.30 p.m. next Wednesday, November 22, and make their tour of inspection of 'phone headquarters during a busy hour.

Further Proof

Last August Mr. F. E. Dunford sold, in Pembroke Ont. a Three Month's Treatment of Gallagher's to A. L. Appleby, 299 Church street, who had doctored, without relief, during two years for Gall Stones and Kidney Stones. On Mr. Dunford's return last week, he was shown and has in his possession, a Kidney Stone the size of a small bean of which Mr. Appleby was relieved. His health has returned and he was so delighted that he published a testimonial in the Pembroke Observer over his own signature. His case has resulted in large sales of Gallagher's Remedies in Pembroke and district.

Is this not further proof that Gall Stones and Kidney Stones may be removed without an operation.

Ismet Pasha Has Power To Conclude Peace Terms At Lausanne Conference

One of the Terms to Be Laid Down By Turkish Delegate Will Be British Withdrawal From Constantinople.

MAY HAVE WAR.

PARIS, November 18 Canadian Press. — Before leaving for Lausanne last evening Ismet Pasha, the head of the Turkish Nationalist delegation to the forthcoming conference, said that he had full powers from the Angora assembly to conclude terms of peace. It was apparent, however, that he was not sure he would be able to reach a satisfactory conclusion.

"Well, will it be peace or war?" he asked in the course of a conversation. "Will the Allies let us have peace?"

During his visit to Paris, Ismet has been much disturbed by reports that the allies were arranging peace before the opening of the conference, and that later they would merely present him with joint terms that would not permit discussion.

In many quarters there is apparently much speculation as to the eventual attitude of the British if the latter attempt to continue the occupation of Constantinople or to restrict Turkish control. The Turks freely assert that there is no solution other than war.

"My instructions on that point are absolute," Ismet said. "The assembly at Angora reasons not in terms of Europe but by its own logic. As far as the Straits are concerned we are indifferent. Whatever satisfies the Allies and others interested will satisfy us."

The Turkish spokesmen indicate that if the British wish to retain their present forces at Chanak, and if the French are willing, there will probably be no Turkish objection.

One significant fact advanced in connection with the possibilities in the Anglo-Turk relationship, is that the Angora government's treaty with Afghanistan provides for an offensive-defensive alliance against Great Britain. The signers of this agreement are obliged to assist each other in the event of a British attack.

Isit is entering the conference with the firm intention of obtaining a peace based in the main on the total independence of Turkey from outside political and financial control, and he is prepared to leave the conference if the terms of the allies conflict wtih this independence.

Ismet appears to be entering the parleys with reluctance despite his air of smiling confidence and cordiality. One of the factors contributory to this reluctance is a secret distrust of British intentions to keep the Turks embroiled in war.

It is certain that the Angora government will support Ismet in any action, for it places the fullest confidence in the intellectual powers of the man who organized the Turkish army and led it to final victory. It was Ismet who invented the Nationalist password: "If we do not win this year we will win next year or the year after."

One of the hopeful intimations that Ismet has received here is that the Allies will insist only on reparations for property losses suffered since 1914 by French, British, Italian and American individuals.

When it was pointed out to Ismet that the Allies would seek to secure themselves against a fresh German penetration of Turkey, he said — "What applies to other foreigners applies to the Germans and the Russians. We wish to live at home under our own guise, free from all illegitimate interference."

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Winners of Scholarships —Long Service in Wollen Mill--Personal Mention.

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 18. — The awards in connection with the Carter prize for pupils who attained the highest marks on the 1922 July Upper School examinations were won as follows in Hastings county:

1. Charles A. Sankley, Belleville.
2. Walter J. Rupert, Madoc.
3. Eileen E. Cullin, Trenton.

Long Service.

Mr. William Ashton, master mechanic of the Trent Valley Woollen Mills, recently taken over by the Barrymore Cloth Co., of Toronto, has the distinction of not only being one of the oldest employees, but the only one of the original staff, having been connected with the mill for the past forty-one (41) years. Mr. Ashton is hale and hearty and is on the job every day.

Does Advertising Pay.

The store windows around town are displaying some very seasonable goods at remarkably low prices, and while business in general has been only fair during the week, merchants look forward to a good Saturday. Those who have advertised are not only reaping the benefit but keeping the money to circulate at home.

Cheese Board.

At a regular meeting of the Cheese Board held in the Ferris block on Thursday morning, there were 556 boxes offered and all sold to the usual buyers. 22 1-16.

Radio Club.

The members of the Radio Club were well pleased with Thursday evening's programme and had the pleasure of hearing election returns as well as some good concert music, transmissions coming through very distinctly from Atlantic City, Chicago, Newark, Springfield, Davenport, Iowa, and Louisville, Kentucky.

Christ Church Men's Club.

A most interesting and profitable meeting was held on Thursday evening by the Men's Club in Parish Hall, when over sixty members were present. An excellent programme was rendered, consisting of the following: Solo by Mr. Robert A. Dunk; duet (piano and saxaphone) Messrs. Clegg and F. Peckett, both numbers being heartily appreciated; a humorous reading by Mr. J. H. Rogers was heartily applauded, as was also Mr. Alfred Maun's solo; address by Rev. C. E. Clark, M.A., "Stephen Leacock's Discovery of England," was much enjoyed. This was followed by an instrumental duet (piano and saxaphone) by Messrs. F. Peckett and L. Clegg. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in carpet ball, music and other games. The next meeting of the club will be held in two weeks and a most interesting feature will be a carpet ball match, Men's Club vs. Oddfellows.

At the meeting on Thursday, along with the transaction of the usual business, arrangements were made to hold a father and son banquet in parish hall in about a month.

The executive and members of the Men's Club are to be congratulated upon the success of their meetings.

Factories Closed.

Most of the cheese factories in the township have suspended operations for the season, the Trent Valley butter and cheese factory having closed on November 4th. Butter is now becoming more plentiful in town, some quoting 30c. per lb. Cheese sold on the board on Thursday morning for 22 1-16c. per lb.

Last Boat.

The owner of a motor boat, who was trying to make Trent Bridge for winter quarters on Friday had to seek shelter at McCullough's Island owing to the heavy sea running. Although a staunch little craft with a high powered engine, he found it impossible to battle with the waves and tied up at the landing until the weather moderates.

Heard by the Wayside.

There seems to be more interest taken in the coming municipal elections than usual and it is rumored that there will be some new faces on the council for 1923. One thing is sure, it is going to be a real contest.

No Co-operation Possible Between Law and George

Conservatives Have a Good Working Majority and Will Not Need Assistance From Any Other Party—Strong Labor Opposition is Developing.

LONDON, November 18 (Canadian Press). — Now that the elections battle has ended, interest turns rather on the future fortunes, first, of David Lloyd-George, whose star is temporarily eclipsed, and, second, of the Labour Party, than on that of the new Conservative Government.

Until the new Parliament is shaken down the exact strength of Premier Bonar Law's actual majority will not be known, but it probably will be about 80 votes, which constitutes a good working majority and renders the Conservatives completely independent of help from any other quarters.

The Government supporters no longer wiul want even co-operation from the Georgeite Liberals, and, although much was heard in the election campaign about possible pacts and co-operation when there was fear that no single group would be returned of sufficient strength to govern alone, it is safe to say that nothing more will be heard of such co-operation, and that Lloyd-George's small remaining group will be left entirely to its own resources.

It is already evident that the former Premier does not intend to be idle. He has taken up permanent political headquarters in London for himself and his chief supporters, Lord Birkenhead, Winston Spencer Churchill, and others who form a brilliant group. Mr. Churchill will not be long without a seat in Parliament.

The Labour Party is preparing to make an energetic opposition in the House of Commons. The Party will hold i's first meeting on Tuesday to elect officers.

It is expected that John R. Clynes will be chairman.

With the exception of Arthur Henderson, the Labour Party now has in Parliament its most able leaders, including J. Ramsay Macdonald, Philip Snowden and Sidney Webb, together with two important King's Counsel, Messrs. Hastings and Hemmerde, and may be expected to give account of itself in the new Parliament when it assembles for general business next February.

The session of Parliament beginning next Monday will be brief, and devoted entirely to Irish legislation.

An analysis of the voting in the elections proves that although the Conservatives have been returned in much strength in the number of seats won, the Party poll was in the minor. The total vote in the contested elections was approximately 5,300,000, while the combined vote of the Independent, Liberal, and Labour Parties was approximately seven million. This arose from the fact that there were so many three-cornered contests and split votes.

There is, therefore, already beginning strong agitation upon the part of th Liberal and Labour Parties for the introduction of proportional representation in order to secure a fairer representation in the nation's voting.

The Liberal press is bitterly lamenting the advent of a Conservative Government, which, it says, might have been prevented had the Labour and Liberal Parties agreed on a common election policy, instead of fighting each other.

NEW YORK CRITICS PRAISE CANADIAN AS A GREAT TENOR

Edward Johnson, Guelph, Is Given a Great Ovation By New York Music Critics.

AT METROPOLITAN.

NEW YORK, November 18 (Canadian Press). — The critics of the evening papers yesterday echoed the chorus of praise which was accorded by their morning paper confreres to Edward Johnson, the Canadian tenor, who made his initial appearance with the Metropolitan Opera Company on Thursday night.

Mr. Johnson sang the role of Avito in Montemezzi's "L'Amore dei tre re," Lucrezia Bori being the Fiora.

Mr. Johnson is no stranger to New York, having sung important roles here with the Chicago Grand Opera Company, with which he was associated for three seasons, but New York now claims him for its own.

Seldom has a new Metropolitan singer been given such a warm tribute, from both press and public as the Canadian tenor received yesterday. He has been busy throughout the day opening a flood of messages of congratulation from his fellow-musicians and the musical elect of the city, and there is not a dissenting voice in the chorus of praise from the professional critics.

Like the majority of Canadians who attain fame in New York, Mr. Johnson, though still a citizen of the Dominion, appears in danger of being confiscated by his American admirers. This is indicated in the remarks of some of the critics.

"We ought to be proud of this American tenor," declares Deems Taylor of the World.

"He has a beautiful voice, even by the Metropolitan's difficult standards; he has stature, grace, and looks, and he has dramatic talents that would take him far even on the spoken stage."

Richard Aldrich, of the Times, says: "Here is a tenor who is something more than a voice, who is an artistic personality."

The critic of the Globe, Pitts Sanborn, declared that Mr. Johnson's conception of the role, "a role which is not invariably impressive, was notable for vigour and dignity." The other musical experts wrote in similar strain.

Mr. Johnson is a native of Guelph, Ontario. He recently completed a concert tour of Canada which took him as far West as Regina.

CANADA'S SUPPLY OF HARD AND SOFT COAL DECREASING

Shipments From United States So Far Have Been Far Below Those of Previous Years.

WASHINGTON, November 18 (Canadian Press). — A large falling-off in shipments of coal from this country to Canada on account of the recent strike has occurred. This was made plain at the office of the Fuel Distributor yesterday.

It has come about, according to fuel distribution officials, not because they are in any way hindering the movement of coal to Canada, but because of the general shortage of coal the United States is suffering from this as well as Canada.

Fuel Distributor Spens has taken no hand in the movement of coal to Canada save to ask the anthracite interests here to take care of Canada as well as they do the United States on the ground that Caanda, especially Eastern Canada, has always been a good customer for United States fuel. This is being done, the officials say.

They add that the United States will be about one-third short its anthracite or hard coal supply this year, and Canada will suffer likewise.

With respect to bituminous coal, in spite of the fact that the fuel distributor has urged that coal be rushed to United States and Canadian lake ports before the freezing weather comes on, there is a much smaller movement to these ports than last year.

The Fuel Distributor's figures show that from 1st April to 31st October, the shipments of bituminous coal to Canadian ports amounted to 2,450,000 tons as against 4,450,000 tons the preceding year, and 5,260,000 tons in 1920 for the corresponding period. About the same falling off has occurred as to the United States lake ports.

For Your Breakfast
The Cream of the World's Oats

Do you know that you can build brain and muscle better by eating frequently and plentifully of oats than with any other food?

Do you know that Canada grows the best oats in the world—and that you can get the very cream of the oat crop for your daily breakfast porridge?

Every year the Quaker Mills field men find where the best seed, the most fertile soil and the most efficient agricultural care are producing the highest grade among all of Canada's wonderful oats. We secure these choice grains—yet in turn 45% of them are sifted away. Only the very finest, rich, plump oats—only the perfect ones—are good enough to go into the Quaker carton.

That is why Quaker Oats is the most popular cereal food in the world, why it contains more nourishment, and why it has such a distinctive flavour. Though priceless, Quaker is inexpensive. It costs less than a cent a serving.

The oat is a complete food in itself, and Quaker Oats should be the basic breakfast for your family. The sealed carton keeps the oats pure, fresh and flavoury. Milled in very thin flakes, Quaker makes the kind of porridge everybody likes. Sold at every grocery store in the Dominion.

If you have been using other oats try Quaker and see what the best oats are like.

A WARNING TO SPEEDERS.

The method chosen by Judge Bartlett of Detroit to impress upon reckless motorists the chances they take in careless driving may seem a little drastic, but it should get results.

Twenty-eight speeding automibilists who appeared before him the other day were escorted through the ward of the Receiving Hospital where twenty children injured in traffic accidents were lieing.

The effect, as described in newspaper despatches, was impressive.

Many of the men who had been sullen and bitter when they received their jail terms in the morning grew thoughtful, and some of them vowed audibly that there would be no opportunity for any one to arrest them in the future on a charge of speeding.

Next week Judge Bartlett has decided that speeders who appear before him will be taken through the morgue and shown the remains of people who have been killed by motor cars.

"When a man speeds in an automobile," the Judge declares, "he is a murderer in his heart."

His unique method of dealing with such cases, coupled with the fact that speeders are being given jail terms, is counted upon to make traffic conditions in Detroit much safer than they have been for some time.

There is reason to believe that similar methods will have to be followed in other cities, not only in the United States, but on this side of the line.

According to the Detroit Judge, the time for mercy has passed, and men who cannot govern themselves sufficiently to exercise reasonable care for the safety of others will have to be put where they cannot prove a menace.

There are such men in every centre—Peterborough not excepted—and they should not fail to heed the fact that the tide of public opinion is strongly flowing against them.

Reckless driving will have to be stopped—even if it is necessary to enlarge the jails and build more of them.

CANADA'S IMMIGRATION POLICY.

The Minister of the Interior, Hon. Charles Stewart, declares that Canada needs three or four million more people and promises to recommend to the Government within the next few days a comprehensive plan of immigration.

The last part of that statement is welcome news.

It is evident that Canada requires many new citizens if the burden of war taxation is to be relieved, and if the Canadian National Railways are to be made to pay.

We have been falling behind other British oversea Dominions in the matter of immigration.

Thousands of excellent settlers who should have come to Canada have been allowed to go elsewhere.

Indeed the situation is worse than that, for, according to Lord Shaughnessy, we have not only lost in the past ten years the equivalent of all the immigrants who came in, but did not maintain the increase due to a natural accretion after making full allowance for our war losses.

Nothing has been given out by the Minister of the Interior as to the policy to be adopted by Canada, but it is believed to include an arrangement with Great Britain by which Canada will unite with the Mother Country in paying a portion at least of the expenses of immigrants.

State-aided immigration will be a new experiment for Canada, and it remains to be seen how it will work out.

One thing seems certain, however, and that is, if Canada is to embark upon a really worthwhile drive for new settlers there will have to be a separate department of immigration with a live minister in charge.

It is too much to expect that one minister can effectually look after the affairs of the Department of the Interior and at the same time direct a vigorous immigration campaign.

The first step should be to place immigration matters in charge of a separate minister.

THE TIME TO START.

It is a timely piece of advice offered by the Financial Post in the following paragraph:

"Now, before civic election dates, is the right time for business men to indicate what they want in their local civic affairs. Business men should make certain that good municipal candidates are put in the field instead of sitting back and raging at the calibre of the men who ask to be elected to the 'highest honour in the gift of the pee-pul,' as a Mayor of a small Ontario town once remarked in all seriousness. And when their candidates are nominated they should work for them and vote for them."

For a number of years the Examiner has endeavoured to impress upon the people of Peterborough these points brought forward by the Post.

It is idle to wait until nomination day to ensure the presence in the field of good candidates.

There is much spade work that should be done now, and in the weeks that intervene before the official nominations take place.

The search for properly qualified citizens for vacancies in the municipal governing boards cannot be left until the last minute or it will fail.

The first point is to begin at once to secure the entrance into the municipal race of men capable of administering the affairs of the public.

And then having made sure of the nomination of such candidates it should also be remembered that it will be necessary to make sure of their election.

Good men have been lost to the city in the past because too many citizens failed to carry out their obligations and neglected to use their franchise.

If the mistakes of the past are to be avoided at the next municipal election, then it is ample time that the campaign was getting under way now.

A BETTER CHANCE.

Not only in its financial policy, the success of which is evidenced by a five million dollar surplus, but in many other way, does the Province of Quebec set a good example for the other Provinces of the Dominion.

Her new system of dealing with juvenile offenders is a forward step that might be copied by Ontario.

Reformatory schools, which have failed to do the work for which they were designed, are to be abolished.

In their place are to be established training institutions at which boys and girls will be taught as at any ordinary school and will be treated not as youthful criminals, but rather as youngsters who have not had a proper chance in life and who are entitled to such a chance in order to qualify as useful citizens.

It will be possible also by reason of a law that is to be passed for children from these institutions to be adopted into families who are willing to receive them.

In this way juvenile offenders, instead of being clapped into a reformatory and made to feel that they are criminals who have to be punished for their misdeeds, will be given a useful education and a chance for a permanent home afterward.

The majority of such offenders are not naturally vicious.

In most cases they have not had the advantage of proper home training and they, as a result, have started wrong.

Reformatories are just as likely to make criminals of them as it is to convert them into useful citizens.

The Quebec plan is promising enough to warrant serious consideration of it by the other Provinces—including Ontario.

A NOVEMBER HIKE.

In these rushing hurly-burly days of automobile and bicycles, the art of walking is fasting becoming a lost art, while the art of sauntering—which word is beautifully derived from the idle people who roved about the country in the Middle Ages, and asked charity, under pretence of going a'la Sainte Terre, to the Holy Land, till the children exclaimed, "there goes a Sainte-Terrer," a Saunterer, a Holy-Lander"—is almost if not quite a thing of the past. The only sauntering possible to-day is through the woods, along pleasant little paths half over-grown with shrubs, for any highway with any kind of a passable road-surface is made impassable to pedestrians by the clouds of dust caused by swiftly passing cars.

Oh the joy of seeing outlined against the blue autumn sky the tall pines that tower up from the river-side, of smelling the pine needles that carpet the ground, and of lying down and indulging in all sorts of pleasant day dreams. The graceful maple and elm, the lovely beech with its whitened leaves still clinging to its branches as though they regretted the fast-approaching winter days, all these trees are perhaps never so beautiful as when seen against the blue skies of November.

I think that I shall never see
A poem as lovely as a tree.
A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast;
A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;
A tree that may in summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;
Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.
Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

Thoreau, who was possibly the greatest exponent of walking of his day, says that we should go "forth on the shortest walk, perchance, in the spirit of undying adventure, never to return." That would be rather hard to do and regard walking as a pleasure. If with every step one took away from the pleasures of home, the thought that it might be the last time that its comfortable walls would ever shelter us obtruded at every step, it would hardly be a walk of pleasure, and one can imagine that the steps homeward would be far more joyful than those carrying one away from home.

Sauntering is all very well, so is walking for the joy of breathing the fresh air of the countryside, but to really enjoy a walk our modern ideas demand some kind of an object at the end of the trail. It need not be anything particularly material, but it should be something in the way of a definite object, perhaps a particularly fine view that gives a vision far beyond the rounds of every-day life, perhaps a fine old tree that has stood the blasts of many winters and seems little the worse for the experience, perhaps a grove of butternut trees where—if the squirrels have not been over-active—one may happen to find a basketful of nuts. Better possibly than all these, however, is the faithful kodak that preserves the shimmering blue of the lake with the silver birches edging its shores, the tiny brook that ripples over tiny brown stones, with ferns and the half brown leaves of the marsh marigold edging its banks, or maybe the pathway leading to one's favorite haunt, or a group or a single tree that is pencilled against the skyline. Memories are very pleasant things, but photographs make tangible the "roses of December" that one gathers by the wayside.

"So," says Thoreau, "we saunter toward the Holy Land, till one day the sun shall shine more brightly than ever he has done, shall perchance shine into our minds and hearts, and light up our whole lives with a great awakening light, as warm and serene and golden as on a bankside in autumn."—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Dundee marmalade must have a better taste for Winston Churchill.

With a prohibitionist elected in Dundee it would not be surprising to find anti-kilt candidates successful at the next election.

One surprise in the British elections was the small number of anti-waste candidates elected in Scotland.

Giving up seats to the ladies is not a popular pastime in either British or American political contests.

Evidently the British people liked the sound of that "It's time for a rest" policy announced by Bonar Law.

Although Lloyd George only resigned a month ago, the British elections are already over and the new Parliament meets on Monday. And yet John Bull is sometimes regarded as slow.

Great Britain has exchanged a Welsh Premier for a Canadian one. It is nothing new for Canada's Maritime Provinces to turn out Prime Ministers, but supplying one for the Motherland is a novelty.

STEER USES STOMACH BETTER THAN A BOY

Feed Tests Show Animals Are Superior in Metabolism, Academy of Sciences Hears.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—A steer is more careful of his stomach than a college student, according to Dr. Francis G. Benedict, director of the Nutrition Laboratory of the Carnegie Institution in Washington, D. C., who spoke at the opening autumn session of the National Academy of Sciences at Columbia University.

"The prediction of local New Hampshire farmers that the regime of half feed would seriously weaken the steers proved false. The animals regained their weight in pasture the following summer, were successfully fattened and sold at market. The experiment on its economic side showed that the high cost of feeding beef-producing animals during the winter could be reduced.

"The same experiment of undernutrition had been previously tried on a group of college students and Y.M.C.A. men, who suffered a certain lack of 'pep' from their half-feed, but whose physical and intellectual conditions were not adversely affected. One curious thing was that when the students went back to regular eating there were twenty-five cases of colic, but there was none among the steers. The animals' instinct as to their gastronomic welfare seemed better than the men's."

TALK FRANKLY TO EUROPEAN POWERS

Premier Mussolini of Italy Speaks His Mind to Great Britain and France

ROME, Nov. 18. — (Canadian Press)—Premier Mussolini of Italy after having inaugurated his policy of frankness in dealing with his parliament, wishes to speak with equal frankness to representatives of England and France, whom he will meet in Lausanne on Monday, it was stated here yesterday. He feels that the people of the world are tired of empty diplomatic hypocrisies, the atmosphere of suspicion, pin-pricks and intrigues which weaken and sometimes nullify the action of these powers, it was declared.

He thinks that Britain, France and Italy can earnestly and loyally agree not alone for their particular interests, but in the interests of humanity or disolve.

SEAGULLS HAVE A WING SPREAD OF SEVEN FEET

BURLINGTON, Vermont, Nov. 18.—(Associated Press)—The herring gulls of Lake Champlain left for the North earlier than usual this fall, and observers are wondering whether this means a long winter. The gulls are given protection on the Four Brother Islands, where they raise their young, and they are highly valued by the municipality of Burlington because of their usefulness as scavengers at the outlet of the city sewer in the lake.

The species of gull seen here is said to have been found farther south than Albany, N.Y. The Islands were purchased by Edward Hatch, of New York, a half century ago for the purpose of protecting the birds, and the Hatch family ever since then has maintained guards to prevent the stealing of eggs and killing of gulls. The average full grown gull here measures between five and seven feet from tip to tip.

The birds' shrill cries assist in scaring poachers away. If the nest of a setting bird is visited, the male gull will attack the intruder with his wings, which can deal a powerful blow. Scientists say that one of the gulls which comes to the islands annually is more than eighty years old.

MONTHLY SESSION HAVELOCK COUNCIL.

Grant For the Northern Ontario Relief Fund — Assessment Adjusted.

HAVELOCK, Nov. 19.—The regular November meeting of the Town Council was held here when all the members were present except Couns. Hooper and Sanderson.

In response to the appeal of the Northern Ontario Fire Relief committee the sum of $100 was granted on motion of Couns. Scott and Mattison.

Mr. H. Williams addressed the Council in reference to an error of $2,000 in his assessment, and on motion of Mattison and Scott, the treasurer was authorized to refund Mr. Williams $90.00 on the presentation of his receipted tax bill.

Officers of the W.F.W.O. addressed the Council asking for a rebate of hall rent in consideration of the fact that their fowl supper was in aid of the fire sufferers. No action was taken in the matter because the council wisely decided to allow no rebates for rent but instead contributed the $100 cash as stated above.

The Havelock Hydro Commission made application to the Council for the issue of $4,000 debentures at 6 per cent. for 20 years, to obtain funds to take care of the deficit on capital account, which has been running ever since the commission commenced operation and also to provide for recent extensions to the plant for power purposes.

On motion of Scott and Mattison the clerk was instructed to apply to the Hydro Electric Power Commission for permission to issue debentures for the $4,000 necessary and also for the approval of the application before passing the necessary by-law which in this case would not need a vote of the ratepayers.

Spence, when Mary Jane Tanner became the wife of Mr. Glenn Theodore Nicols of Chatham, Ont. The bride charmingly attired in a white crepe de chine dress embroidered with silver beads and carrying a bouquet of pink roses was attended by her sister Ada, and the bridegroom's sister, Margaret, and was given away by her father, Thomas Earl Tanner. The bridegroom was supported by George Tanner, brother of the bride. The church was decorated with banks of moss and festoons of pink and white roses. During the signing of the register, Miss Marjorie Spence sang "O Perfect Love," accompanied by E. L. Spence, who also rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march, the choir rendering the musical part of the service.

A reception was held in the bride's home later in the afternoon, attended by a large number of guests, at which the Rev. C. A. G. The Rev. C. THE BRITISH DUCKS MISS THEIR DAILY TOT OF RUM

LONDON, Nov. 18.—(Associated Press)—A flock of ducks was presented recently by Emmanuel College to the Cambridge University Botanic Gardens. After a few days sojourn in their new homes the birds began to lose their liveliness. They strolled about in a listless manner, refusing to be gladdened even by the appearance of their keeper with a supply of food.

Finally the veterinarian administered some liquor to the birds. The effect was remarkable. They resume their quacking and began flying about in a most gleeful manner.

The Emmanuel ducks have for some time had a reputation for inebriety. They had inhabitated an old-world garden, two sides of which are overlooked by the students rooms, and it has been a favorite sport of the undergraduates to feed them from their windows with cake soaked with alcohol.

COAL SEIZED ON GOELET ESTATE SOLD TO FUELLESS VILLAGES

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Continuing his search of wealthy homes in this section for coal supplies in excess of the quantity prescribed by the Fuel Administrator, investigators seized three carloads of chestnut coal on the property of Mrs. Robert W. Goelet, near Chester. Yesterday 353 tons were seized on the property of J. P. Morgan at Highland Falls.

The investigators found 50 tons of coal piled near the barns of the Goelet property, it having been impossible to house all of the delivery. William R. Perkins, the Orange County Fuel Administrator, directed a local dealer to distribute it in one-ton lots to residents of Chester and Florida, nearby hamlets, which had no anthracite.

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 18.—Unless there is commutation, Maurice Barrie will be executed at Belleville four weeks from to-day.

"Petitions have been freely signed this week," said Major Richard D. Ponton in reference to the forms which have been distributed asking for the commutation to the death penalty to a life term in the case of Maurice Barrie, who was convicted here less than two months ago of the murder of George Wesley Moult at his Tyendinaga farm on June 29th last. Barrie's counsel has had a good number of volunteer assistants at work this week and the forms are being passed about for signature.

There must be about sixty petitions out, Major Ponton said. Most people are willing to sign but it is the trouble of looking for the petitions that has caused some delay. I am making my final appeal through the churches on Sunday."

The petitions will be gathered up on Monday and forwarded to Ottawa the first of the week.

Barrie is one of eleven sentenced to pay the death penalty within the next eight week in Canada. The list of the condemned men follows:

Nov. 24—Harry Dent, Aremnian, Brantford, Ont. Circumstantial evidence.
Nov. 24.—Omar Roberts, Tuskat, N.S.
Nov. 30—Garfield Tebo, Littlebrooke, N.S. Age 18.
Dec. 14—Maurice Barrie, Belleville.
Jan. 4—Ralph Myles, Halifax, ex-soldier, who killed his sweetheart.
Jan 12— Double hanging, Nick Thomas and Harry Rulka, Welland, Ont
Jan. 15—Fred Baldwin, Port Arthur.
Jan. 19—Raoul Brodeur. Sweetsburg P.Q. Circumstantial evidence.
Jan. 25—Frank Branchi, Windsor, Ont.
Jan. 25—Frank Deal, negro, Vancouver, who killed a policeman.

At the present moment no fewer than eleven prospective hangings to be carried out in various parts of Canada, between November 24 and the end of January, are engaging the attention of the Canadian Prisoners' Welfare Association here—all being case in which the sentence of death has been passed.

THE RACE AFTER WORLD-PLEASURE.

Billy Matheson Holds Attention of Large Audience at Bethany Tabernacle.

Thursday evening in the Bethany Tabernacle Evangelist Billy Matheson delivered a powerful address on "Being Born Again" to a large and attentive audience. The speaker commenced his sermon by reading the first portion of St. John 3, where it states, Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews, came to Jesus by night and acknowledged Him as a teacher from God; "for no man can do those miracles that He hath done, except God be with him." And Jesus answered him "that except a man be born again, he cannot see the Kingdom of God."

In acknowledging the superiority of God, continued the speaker, it is like unto the inventor who is far greater than the invention; the man is greater than the house he built, therefore God, the Great Creator, Teacher and Physician is far greater than man whom He made in his own image.

We are all made of the world, states the evangelist, but by the loving power of Jesus, Christians are born again in the spirit of Christ our Saviour, and then are no longer of the world. When the spirit of the Lord is within us, it transforms us into new men and women, with new and higher ideals than held by the people of this world.

We are able to force ourselves into religion, but are absolutely helpless when we endeavor to force any man into the work of God. The Lord selects his own servants, and man fails in any effort to undertake God's choosing.

The speaker, referring to present day worldliness, asked his hearers what the Devil had ever done for them, what were the benefits received from Satan's hands? While on the other hand, continued the speaker, the Good Lord has made and blessed us everything, and yet we cling to worldiness and its sins, instead of to spiritual things. "I feel sorry for the people in the darkness" he asserted, but they love darkness better than light, and satisfy their appetites for the lusts of the flesh neglecting the needs of their own souls.

By accepting Salvation a sinner is not depriving himself of real needs but is gaining something to his own everlasting benefit.

This sham religion, the evangelist went on to say, which many of the so-called Christians exhibit, is sending many to hell; for being a church member will not save anyone from the Everlasting Pit except they are born again in the spirit of Our Lord Jesus Christ.

In conclusion the speaker advised his hearers, as Children of God, to bless their persecutors, and to always show the spirit of the Lord within them, under all trials and persecutions.

LITERARY SOCIETY'S OPENING MEETING.

The Literary Society of the local Collegiate Institute held their first meeting this term on Friday afternoon. The meeting was well attended, nearly all the students being present. The programme was good and much appreciated. and the meeting was conducted with a snap and vigour lacking in some of the meetings in previous years.

President Ian Munroe opened the meeting with a short talk on "School Spirit" and its application and results on the "Lit." Miss Agnes Logan, vice-president, spoke along the same theme — "Co-operation."

Ernie Legon and Martin Chenhall sang "Mister Gallagher and Mr. Sheen." Miss Gwen. Kelly gave a descriptive talk, "A Rural French Village of Modern Times." Miss Agnes Logan played a selection on the piano. Miss Breckenbridge gave a recitation, "A Dutch Woman at the Opera." The meeting closed with "O Canada."

This year's Executive, composed of Ian Munroe, Miss Agnes Logan, Miss Gwen. Kelly and Ernest Legon, are very capable, and with the co-operation of the pupils, should make the "Lit." a great success.

BEATING THE BOSS AT HIS OWN GAME

East African Superstitution and Ingenuity Amusingly Illustarted by German Colonel.

BERLIN, Nov. 18.—(Associated Press)—East African superstitution and ingenuity are amusingly illustrated in an incident related by the German colonel, Dr. E. Nigmann, in his memoirs of the days when he was in charge of colonial administration in that part of the world.

One of his most reliable aides, he says, was a native lieutenant-colonel who had lost an eye during one of the local expeditions, and wore a glass one in its place. This officer was assigned to superintend the erection of a post-office in a rural district. The inhabitants had long been delinquent in tax payments and consequently each male adult was required to meet his civic obligations by putting in a week's labor on the new government building.

One day while the native laborers were industriously at work under his vigilant watch, the lieutenant-colonel was temporarily called away. On leaving the building, he took out his glass eye, placed it on one of the walls, and announced to the workers: "Look here, my men. I must go now, but I am leaving my eye to keep tab on you and to see that you keep working while I am away." It was with considerable satisfaction that he returned to find his gang hard at work.

Next day the lieutenant-colonel had another summons to leave his post. Again he placed the glass eye in charge and left. Returning, he noticed from afar that building operations were at a standstill and all his dusky help snoring peacefully. Upon looking for his "foreman' eye, he found it carefully covered with an old hat.

When the blood becomes impure it is only natural that pimples, blotches boils or some other blood trouble will manifest itself by breaking out of the system.

There is only one way to get rid of these obnoxious skin troubles and that is by giving the impure blood a thorough cleansing by the use of a good blood purifier, such as

Burdock Blood Bitters

This remarkable remedy has been on the market for over forty years; is the best obtainable, and will do all we claim for it as a blood cleanser.

Mr. Albert R. De Witte, Lake Valley, Sask., writes: "I have suffered very much from pimples and unsightly blotches for the past fifteen years, and was so bad that I hated to go out anywhere. I tried many different medicines, but none seemed to help. A friend told me to use Burdock Blood Bitters. I have used three and a half bottles, and now I have a clear, rosy complexion."

FRENCH TIGER

library, where he remained for two years the happiest ones of his life, he said not long ago. Libraries were not used much in those days, and the young Frenchman had ample time to seclude himself among the books, reading the best philosophers and historians while he perfected his English.)

"There my mind acquired what it lacked, and my intellect completed is formation" he wrote years afterward.

In the evenings the young student would invariably be found at Plaff's, a famous old German restaurant in Lower Broadway, where in the early sixties met the little group of celebrities presided over by Henry Clapp. The days of Fritz James O'Brien, Walt Whitman, George Arnold and Charles Dawson Shanley at Pfaff's were gone but here still was an atmosphere of romance about the place that attracted a younger generation of intellectuals, and to this coterie Georges Clemenceau was introduced.

A few months before he had written to the Temps that „Americans had no general ideas and no good coffee." But now all this was changed. The chef at Pfaff's was the most marvelous cook extant he wrote, and the coffee brewed there was sublime. Ideas, too, he found aplenty. He grew to love New York, and even applied for citizenship papers.

Once he was tempted to do a little traveling in the New World. He went to the middle west and journeyed as far south as Richmond, Va., but did not penetrate farther into Dixie. The state of the country he said, just recovering from defeat in the Civil War, was so deplorable that it filled him with sadness.

Upon his return from the south he was introduced to a Miss Aiken, who had just started a school for girls at Stamford, Conn She offered him a position as professor of French which was to tempting to refuse, and for more than a year he was absorbed in what he found to be a delightful occupation.

Brilliant Scholar

It was here that his brilliant scholarship was of the greatest benefit, for in addition to teaching conversation French he did a prodigious amount of work for the school, giving lectures in literary history, both French and English, and translating several works of John Stuart Mill into French.

In connection with his work, he did some more traveling, going frequently to Washington, where he was often seen in the legislative halls, a silent observer of government in the making. He was particularly interested in the House of Representatives and in the Senate, which he hoped some day to see duplicated in France.

Miss Aiken, who was a practical soul discovered that Clemenceau was an expert horseman, and upon her suggestion a course in horsemanship was added to the curriculum, with the professor of French at its head.

Love at First Sight

Among his pupils was a Miss Mary E. Plummer, a very pretty girl whose father was a prominent physician of Springfield, Mass He has removed to Wisconsin where he died, and his daughter was placed in Miss Aikin's school by her guardian.

Clemenceau had fallen in love with Miss Plummer almost at first sight although he refrained from declaring himself until after she had completed her studies and gone to New York to reside with an uncle.

The young professor followed her there, pressed his suit with all the courtliness of a French grandee, and finally was accepted. As Clemenceau was a free-thinker, and had received practically no religious training in his boyhood, he desired a civil marriage. Miss Plummer likewise had no inclinations toward any religious sect, and therefore the religious ceremony was omitted. Several Tammany Aldermen witnessed the wedding, which took place in 1869.

Twenty-three years later, and after bearing her husband, three children, Mme. Clemenceau obtained a divorce and returned to the United States making her home in Illinois. The famous statesman's second marriage was to a Parisienne.

The year 1870 was to mark the beginning of stirring times for France. The power of Napoleon III was toppling, the Franco-Prussian war was in the air, and the hot blood of young Frenchmen the world over was stirred with patriotism. Clemenceau was among the first to hurry home, that he might be in time to share in the history-making epoch just ahead.

This was the beginning of one of the most remarkable political careers yet recorded in the archives of France —the career of a physician, editor politician, scholar, fighter, statesman and premier —rolled into one and served up with ever increasing interest for more than half century. But that, of course, is another story.

THE G.W.V.A. BAZAAR WAS VERY SUCCESSFUL.

Booths Prettily Decorated for the Occasion — Good Home-made Cooking.

The bazaar held under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the G. W. V. A., opened yesterday afternoon, will continue until this evening. The affair is being held in the G.W.V.A. Hall, which presents a gala appearance with its decorations of flags and bunting. Mrs. J. Mills, president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. W. R. Morris and Mrs. Angus MacIntosh are convenors of committees, and the arrangements reflect great credit on their organizing ability.

The fancy work booth, which has all sorts of dainty articles to make home beautiful, is in charge of Mrs. W. Hughes. The handkerchief and babies' stall is in charge of Mesdames McNeeley and Thorndyke, and is full of fascinating articles of babies' wear and dainty "hankeys." The table of boys' clothing is under the direction of Mrs. Tamblin and Mrs. L. Stanley. The table of bedroom accessories is the department of Mrs. Clarke and Mrs. W. Stanley, and both these tables have many articles which are of real practical use, displayed in a very attractive manner. Probably no table is as popular as the table of kitchen and pantry needs. Home-made bread of exceptionally fine quality has a place all its own and presents a most inviting appearance; cakes, pies, biscuits, fruit, pickles, relishes, all are displayed in profusion; this booth is the special province of Mrs. A. MacIntosh, who is assisted by Mrs. Hopkins and Mrs. Scholey. The apron table, which shows all kinds and conditions of aprons, from the humble but useful "overall" to the "dinky" little tea apron, was in charge of Mrs. Bugg and Mrs. Chambers. The doll table, which was particularly popular with the tiny girls, was in charge of Mrs. C. H. Porter. One especially novel idea was the dolls' sheets and pillow slips of white linen, hemstitched and embroidered, and a little "tie down" to accompany them. A set of wicker furniture was also a fascinating accessory to this table. The fish pond, which, of course, is a sealed mystery to the onlooker, is in charge of Mrs. G. H. Rowe and Mrs. Austin. Mrs. F. A. Rathbone was the presiding genius of the fortune-telling booth.

The tea tables were very inviting with their bouquets of flowers and dainty candle sticks. The committee in charge is: Mesdames J. Welsh, C. Wiggins and Mrs. Massey-Cook.

Business was very brisk, and the sale continued throughout the evening and will be continued to-day. The ladies were gratified at their success, which was well deserved. Last winter their relief work amounted to more than a thousand dollars, and the proceeds of the bazaar will be used for the same worthy purpose.

C. P. R. OFFICIAL LOUDLY PRAISES INTERNAL BATHS

A high official of the C.P.R. who has asked to have his name withheld, writes that the J. B. L. Cascade so restored him to health that he has persuaded a number of his friends to try Internal Bathing as a sure road back to their old vigor.

"I was a nervous wreck and in a very bad state of health when I heard of your Internal Bath," he writes. "It was a great blessing to me, and I am now in better health than for years. I lost no time in recommending the J. B. L. Cascade to every one I met suffering from similar trouble, and I have nothing but praise for it."

This letter is only one of thousands. As the J. B. L. Cascade strikes immediately at the root of 95 per cent of all human ailments which are attributed to the accumulated waste in the lower intestine, it value is readily recognzied. Don't let this waste poison your system. Here is the direct cause of most nervous breakdowns, a great deal of appendicitis. Remove the cause of constipation, piles, biliousness, headaches, stomach trouble, kidney and liver complaints, and kindred ailments, by bathing internally.

They will give free on request an interesting and helpful booklet by Dr. C. A. Tyrrell, "The What, The Why, The Way of Internal Bathing." It contains a surprising amount of information that the average man and woman knows little about. Write or phone for it to-day or send to Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute, 163 College St., Toronto.

would go out to protect law and order."

State Is Divided.

That is why the rest of Kansas is with White, although many have expressed their desire to see that the state law prevails in this as in other cases. They, as well as the governor, would like to see White acquitted. But if it would be at the expense of the industrial court law, they believe strict justice should be done.

White agrees with them. But he insists his purpose at the trial will be to test the constitutionality of the industrial court law as against his firm belief in the freedom of expresed opinion.

"This is a fight for the right to express one's own sympathies in one's own place of business," said White.

(By Stuart P. West.

NEW YORK, November 18 (Canadian Press). — Very little change occurred in any of the markets to-day. Stocks moved indecisively with the greater part of the list holding steady, yet with a sufficient number of individual weak spots to prevent any further recovery. Measured by recent standards, trading was dull, It was a condition where professional opinion was very much divided, but where the preponderance of belief was that the worst of the recent liquidation had been seen, and that brokers' loans had been brought down once more to conservative dimensions.

Weakness cropped out again in a number of industrial specialties, but this was to be set down as postponed liquidation in a class of stocks which could not be readily sold until the general market had steadied. Among these were the Pierce-Arrows, Harvester, Worthington Pump, and some of the motor accessories. The weakness in the latter group in view of the many proofs of prosperity in the automobile industry and in view of the optimistic expectations regarding the earnings of the Parts Co. was notable. It showed how little the recent liquidation has been related to business conditions.

This selling in special issues had no effect, as it did early in the week upon the general price list. In the last hour the market hardened all around, and this following the indifference shown to the weakness in specialties, was very fair proof of a strengthened condition. Neither railway stocks nor bonds did much one way or the other, but at least there was no further pressure to sell. Foreign Government bonds held their recovery of the previous days, but the foreign exchanges went somewhat lower.

Just before the close there was a burst of short covering which carried leaders of the list forward to the best prices of the day. The final tone was strong, but with the trading still quite light.

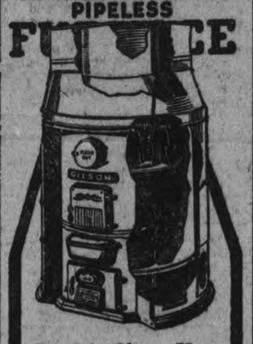
GILSON PIPELESS FURNACE



Let Me Show You This New and Better Furnace

IT will cost you less than any other efficient heating system. And I'm convinced. I can show you many features of superiority.

I'm enthusiastic about this Gilson Pipeless Furnace. It can be installed in any home, old or new, in less than a day. Only a small cellar is needed.

Instead of using dusty stoves that only heat one or two rooms and waste a lot of fuel, have the whole house heated costly with moist, warm air. The Gilson Pipeless Furnace will soon pay for itself in the fuel it saves.

Get in touch with me and I'll show you for how little money you can have your home heated properly by this modern heating system.

MARKET NEWS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Canadian Press.) — Canadian Pacific second week November $5,272,000, increase $506,000 from January first $154,892,000 decrease $9,688,000.

President Cantler of Coco Cola states no action contemplated by Government colony against the company for back taxes, a question involving only stock holders of old company that sold to new company in 1910. The company has four million dollars in the banks.

Manhattan Piggley Wiggley corporation fails with liabilities estimated at $1,280,000.

Merchants and jobbers in various sections of country report continuance of active demand for merchandise noted in past according to trade reports of mercantile agencies.

Bradstreets reports 378 failures in the United States this week against 374 last week and 474 a year ago.

THE COCA COLA DIVIDEND.

NEW YORK, November 18. — There is strong sentiment among some directors in favour of putting common stock Coca Cola on six dollar annual basis at next meeting in Atlanta. on 27th November. Southern interests are optimistic about the company and will dominate its policies through the new corporation to be formed to take over majority of 500,000 shares common. For the nine months ended 1st October, 1922, earnings were 6,186,808, equal, after preferred dividends, to $11.32 a share on common, against $5.34 same period 1921.

FACTORS IN THE MARKET.

Any one who goes about the Street these days asking the question, "What is the matter with the market?" gets a variety of response. The fact that business is good and that fourth-quarter reports are not going to furnish disappointments, appears to have been entirely lost sight of. The first answer one gets is that stocks were too high; that the series of stock dividends have done the market no good; that the international situation may develop into a serious crisis; that at present prices stocks have discounted all that can possibly happen this year; that Robert M. La Follette is to be the next Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee; that the taxation program for 1923 is going to make corporations throw up their hands; that the market is vulnerable because it is honeycombed with "stop orders." Yet there were also encountered yesterday those who said that the market is now entitled to a genuine rally; that the world as a whole has not gone entirely to pot; that earnings for the year's operations by most corporations will be better than in 1921, and that "strong hands" are taking stocks which are being sold at the market today.—New York Times.

BUSINESS IMPROVING.

NEW YORK, November 18th.—Reviews of mercantile conditions throughout country reported continuance of active demand for goods, further withdrawing support from the theory that the recent decline in security values was due to change in business trend. Stocks in general opened steady. BRT was a feature advancing fractionally at 14 1-4 on heavy volume.

Recent accumulation of stock has been based on the belief that selling in anticipation of reorganization of system has been greatly overdone.

MOTHER.

God lent an angel to the earth;
She came in lowly guise.
She was not even beautiful
To our unseeing eyes.

She swept and dusted, cooked and darned
For all the heedless throng.
And ever as she worked, she hummed
A little tuneless song.

She always had a healing word
For people in distress;
And though her hands were worn and rough
Their touch was a caress.

At last her hair grew thin and grey;
Her work took over long.
And oftentimes we did not hear
That little tuneless song.

God lent His angel to the earth
To ease its frequent strain.
But when He saw how tired she grew
He took her home again.

We missed her almost everywhere,
For with our opened eyes
We knew at last just who she was—
An angel in disguise.

Classic Concert

Music lovers of Peterborough had a real treat last evening at the concert given in aid of the Northern Ontario Fire Sufferers Fund by Dorothy Allan Park, Maurice Park, Frank Oldfield and Leslie Unitt.

The Conservatory of Music concert hall was filled and every number was appreciated as the applause showed.. The artists were generous in their response to encores, the offerings proved a genuine luxury. None of the contributors are strangers to Peterborough audiences and are all very popular singers. It would be impossible to select numbers which were better than others, as the programme was well balanced throughout. The numbers from "Rigoletto," Mr. Park's solo, "La Donna e Mobile," and Mr. Unitt's piano solo from the same opera, were especially well received.

Mr. Oldfield, whose magnificent voice was heard to great advantage in the solo from "Judas Maccabaeus," responded by special request with "I Passed By Your Window."

Mrs. Park, who wore pumpkin colored satin, with a black sequin and net tunic and a chaplet of silverl eaves, sang in splendid form, her wonderful voice showing to great advantage in her solo from "Elijah," "Hear Ye, Israel"; her lighter numbers which included a fantastic little negro melody, "Didn't It Rain," displayed her versatility of style.

Mr. Unitt, both as a concert pianist and as an accompanist, was deservedly popular.

The announcement that Mr. Oldfield will remain in the city for the week end and sing at both services in St. Andrew's church, was made at the close of the concert.

The following is the programme:

Part I.

"Watchman, What of the Night" (Sarjeant)— Maurice Park and Frank Oldfield.

"Arm, Arm Ye Brave" (Judas Maccabaeus) Handel — Frank Oldfield.

Part II.

ST. LUKE'S A.Y.P.A. VISITED NEW PLANTS.

On Thursday evening, the 16th, some fifty members of the A.Y.P.A. of St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, including a number from St. John's branch, who were the guests of the former, were met at the Post Office by Mr. R. L. Dobbin, superintendent of the filtration plant, and were taken by motor to inspect the new plant, which the young people found very interesting and instructive.

About 9 o'clock the young people returned to the Parish Hall of St. Luke's Church, where the report of the conference of the Anglican Young People's Association which was held in St. Catharines in October, was given by the secretary, Miss Helen Burgess, who represented the St. Luke's branch.

The rest of the evening was very pleasantly spent in music and games, after which refreshments were served.

PRINCIPAL R. B. TAYLOR AT GEORGE ST. CHURCH.

One of the Outstanding Figures of Canadian Life, in Education and Religion.

The people of Peterborough are fortunate in having the opportunity to-morrow to hear Rev. Principal Bruce Taylor, LL.D., of Queen's University, who preaches at both services in George street church. Principal Taylor is one of the outstanding leaders of Canada's life, both in education and in religion, and his messages to-morrow are certain to be vital and gripping.

Dr. Taylor has been in Canada about eleven years. He was born in Scotland, and began his ministry there, but was early called to London to become pastor of one of the most important Presbyterian churches of the city. Here he left his mark deeply on the city's life, being especially known for his defence and presentation of Christianity before audiences of sceptics and infidels, in gatherings under the auspices of the Christian Evidence League. His addresses were translated into many languages and widely circulated. He came to Canada to assume the pastorate of St. Paul's church in Montreal, and at once was recognized as a new and vital force in the religious life of the country. The public in general and students in particular thronged his services and felt his influence deeply in their lives. With the coming of the war he served for a time as chaplain to the Highland regiment in France and shortly after his return was called to the high position of principal of one of the three great universities of the Dominion.

At the evening service to-morrow he will have a direct and vital message for young men and no man could be better qualified to speak such a message. While his sermon will be especially for them, the service is open to all, and all will be welcome.

There are approximately 47,000 motion picture theatres in the world, of which America has 20,450 or nearly one-half.

It is estimated that last year the people of the United States consumed 12.3 pounds of coffee per capita.

NEED FOR REFORM IN THE LIVES OF MANY

The Passing of the Bright-Faced Teen Age Girl of a Decade Ago .

(Contributed.)

In these days when women's organizations are taking up matters of social and moral reform and are recognizing the needs of those in less fortunate circumstances than themselves, there is, one would think, need for reform in the life of many young girls. The bright faced, 'teen-age girl of a decade ago who could enter into the sports of h brothers, did her home work and practiced on the piano for an hour and went to bed before ten o'clock, has largely passed away, and we have in her place in too many cases the sophisticated young miss who knows all there is to know about everything and sneers openly at those who are set in authority—save the mark—over her. Her parents are "back numbers" and only useful to provide the where withal for her pleasure. School work takes a second place to amusement and her failure at examinations is due, of course,(?) to poor teachers. Sad to relate, some parents seem anxious in far too many cases to push their young daughters into the society whirl, which formerly followed their formal debut. Where will this end? One wonders what the next decade will give us. The direct effect is a disinclination on the part of women to enter the teaching profession and submit to the humiliations that these youngsters shower upon them.

An organization to bring our young girls up to the standard which will make for the best type of Canadian womanhood, would be of infinite benefit to the community and to our Dominion.

Rushing over the country with all sorts and conditions of boys and girls in motor cars to public dance halls night after night affects the health of the growing girl and gives a false idea of what life is. Parents too often are not aware of the company their daughters are in, and if there is any protest deception results in far too many cases. Pleasure, which destroys modesty, saps the vitality and draws the purse, is far too dearly bought, and a crusade for a return to simple pleasures should go far to making any community a better one and our standard for our daughters higher.

SAYS SOCIAL SERVICE IS A GAME FOR ALL

Dr. Dawson of McGill Presents One of the Day's Biggest Problems.

Dr. Dawson of McGill University, in an address on social service, says that the matter of social service is a game which affects us all whether we wish it or not, and he presents one of the greatest problems of modern times. In early times people remained in the community where they were born—in fact, steps were taken to keep them there—and as for the feeble-minded and aged, they ranked among the undesired and received no care whatever and were eliminated by exposure.

The crusades of the middle ages caused a good deal of moving about and the then known world was greatly stirred by the movement. The people became gradually roused to the fact that they had a responsibility toward the stranger within their gates, and that started the idea of "care for the traveller."

The war has had a great influence on the social service question, as the widespread interest shown in the welfare of the soldier has fostered an interest that has become permanent.

RICH, RED BLOOD NECESSARY TO HEALTH

Weak, Watery Blood Needs a Tonic to Build it Anew.

Why are we continually told that health-giving blood must be bright red? What has color to do with the quality? Just this—the oxygen in the air is the great supporter of all organic life. One function of the blood is to take the oxygen from the air—which it meets in the lungs and delivers to the tissues of the body. When the blood, filled with life-sustaining oxygen, is sent out by the heart, it is bright red. When it returns, impure and deprived of oxygen, it is dark.

You will see, therefore, that there are two prime requisites of health, pure air and bright red blood—the pure air to furnish the oxygen, the rich red blood to carry it where it is needed.

Pale, anaemic people, whose nerves are on edge, who tire out easily, and who suffer from frequent headaches, do so because their blood is thin and watery. All such people can improve their condition through a fair use of Dr. Williams' Pin Pills, which enrich the blood, thus enabling it to carry oxygen to the system. Among those who have benefitted from the use of this medicine is Mr. Charles A. Stayner, Glenholme, N.S., who says: "Some years ago I found myself badly run down. I tired very easily, and found it difficult to do my work. My appetite failed and I slept badly at night. I was taking medicine, but it was not helping me, and I was growing weaker and weaker. A friend who called to see me advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got six boxes and before these were done I felt better. Then I got six more boxes, and after taking them felt as well and strong as ever. Four years have passed since that time, and I have continued in good health and working all the time. I have recommended these pills to others and shall continue to do so."

These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SAFER IN NEXT WAR

Burying telephone wires behind the firing lines was an extremely dangerous occupation in the last war, and casualties among the signal men assigned for such work were high. In the next war there will be no telephone wires between division headquarters and the front lines, say army officials.

WHO IS THE ABLEST BLIND MAN IN WORLD

Perhaps Dr. Babcock of Chicago Who Lost His Sight When Fourteeen.

Who is the ablest blind man in the world? This question was once put to Sir Arthur Pearson, late President of the National Institute for the Blind.

"I have more than once been asked that question" said Sir Arthur.

"Ability is of so many varying descriptions that it is rather difficult to pick out an individual. "If I were to do this", Sir Arthur continued, "I should name Dr. Babcock, of Chicago. He is now sixty years of age, and lost his sight completely when he was fourteen.

"As he grew up he decided to enter the medical profession, in spite of the apparently insuperable difficulties involved.

"How Dr. Babcock overcome these difficulties is a long story, but the success with which he did so may be judged from the fact that he was for many years past been regarded as one of the leading specialists in the world on diseases of the heart.

"His book on this subject is regarded the world over as a standard work.

"In addition to his work as a heart specialist, Dr. Babcock has a large and lucrative general practice in Chicago."

Sir Arthur added that he had enjoyed a long talk with Dr. Babcock when he was in Chicago, and he was greatly struck by his charm and ability and the modest manner in which he disclaimed the idea of having accomplished anything at all remarkable.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED—

Dinner invitations should be answered immediately. Only a very good reason, such as sickness or an accident, can excuse a person's breaking a dinner engagement after accepting it.

To accept one invitation, and then refuse that one in order to take advantage of another which arrived later and seems to promise greater amusement, is extremely rude.

A TREAT IN STORE PETERBOROUGH WOMEN

Principal Taylor of Queen's University to Address Women's Canadian Club.

A treat is in store for the members of the Women's Canadian Club on Monday, when Principal R. B. Taylor of Queen's University, Kingston, will address them in the Public Library, at four o'clock. Mr. Taylor is well versed in his subject, "Problems of British Imperialism," and, a fluent speaker, he will no doubt engage the undivided interest of his audience while presenting to them phases of this Empire's imperialism which prove enlightening to most, if not all, present. The fact that the franchise has been extended to the woman means that she shares with man the responsibility of the country's welfare, and it is her duty to keep herself well informed on imperial questions of importance.

It's Fashion

"No other industry has been so illustrated—Fashion! No name ever took afar such celebrity and influence which were acquired in a sphere where it has always been dominating. More so, by the means of a most inventive appearing word, through that extravagant looking expression to the wise man's ears, through the name "Fashion," things attain a power which dominates Taste, it works riches, and transmits abroad a power of luxury and the fine art of how to dress."

So wrote, in the year 1834, the chronicler of the paper "Petit Courier des Dames."

At this time "La Mode" was an expression used to mean all necessities of clothing or attire; now it is only applied to the art of headwear or millinery.

Therefore, we will say a few words about headwear. Ancient people as Egyptians, Hindoos, Roumanians and Greeks wore wigs, hats or artificial flower headwear. All people, at all times, have used feathers as an ornament. So, "La Mode" was not invented by us; we only had it developed, and improved, by unceasingly creating new models, with the object to complete feminine beauty, and to hold the reputation of our styles in the world.

"La Mode" in the actual meaning of that word, only dates from the middle ages. Hats as we know them—that is, fully enclosing the head—seem to have originated during the fourteenth century. The constant need to create and produce, new things, has given birth to new industries such as "La Fantaisie pour Modes" millinery fancy accessories—which makes use of embroideries, special ornaments, feathers, etc.; creating many various articles, designed to adorn dressed hair, headwear and clothing.

How Fashion is originated and how it reigns for a year, a season of only a few days, is a mystery. If one would deeply look into it, he would find that it is the result of the combined efforts of a large number of industries or individual activities.—Catalogue du Train-Exposition Francais au Canada.

HELP THE WIVES OF FARMERS AND OTHERS

A Form of Social Service and Teaching Which Calls for Special Training.

In the three thousand counties of the United States, there are more than a thousand county agents helping farmers with their problems. There are about half as many Home Demonstration Agents to help farmers' wives as well as all other homekeepers of the county.

This work is a form of social service and of teaching. It requires a training in Home Economics, which may be gained in a four-year course at an Agricultural College. It also requires ability to teach, a pleasing personality, the knack of getting on well with people, and good common sense.

The Home Demonstrating Agent organizes women's clubs, or lectures at home, helps with programs, and fosters all public movements which make for community and woman and home betterment. She also helps individuals and visits them in their homes if needed. She may be a county worker, or she may serve the state through its Agricultural College. Her pay corresponds to that of a high school teacher, or ranges from $1200 to $1600, depending upon her ability and the county served.

This is a vocation with a future, as women's clubs, farm organizations and the Agricultural Department are working to have a home Demonstration Agent in every county in the United States, and many commercial firms are calling for Home Demonstrators to demonstrate some article of their manufacture.

RECIPES

1 quart or 3 dozen oysters
1½ cups bread crumbs (from the centre of a stale loaf)
1½ cups cracker crumbs
¼ cup melted butter
¼ cup cream
½ cup oyster liquor
Salt and pepper
Slight grating nutmeg

Pick over and drain from liquor the oysters. Add butter to bread and cracker crumbs. In the bottom of a buttered dish place a layer of crumbs, over this a thick layer of oysters, adding half the cream and oyster liquor. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Repeat and on top of the second layer of oysters have a layer of crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven 30 minutes.

Always have only two layers of oysters, as any more would leave the middle layer under-done, while the top and bottom layers would be over-cooked.

USE OF CHEESE.

Cheese is one of the most useful food materials, as it is always obtainable in all places, and can be made at home if one has a large quantity of milk.

What is known as American, or "factory" or "store" cheese, is different according to methods of making, and also varies according to age. An old cheese has a "bit" and usually can be grated. This cheese makes a better "rarebit," and is the best for macaroni, spaghetti and "au gratin" dishes.

The soft, mild cheese may be used for sandwiches or for dishes calling for milk, the cheese usually melting smoothly. For the soup and for many of the finest sauces nothing equals the Italian, Parmesan or Roman cheese. The Swiss cheese, having the large holes, is excellent for cheese sandwiches.

The cheese which is probably used the most for salads and is chosen as an after-dinner cheese is the Neufchatel, or cream, or cottage cheese, made from fresh or sour milk.

Many persons prefer a strong cheese with crackers, salad or coffee, and choose a Club, Roquefort or Gongongola, the last two being imported cheeses. Old Stilton (English) cheese is also used as a dinner cheese. Then we have the pineapple cheese, and the Edam or Dutch cheese. These are whole and one takes a piece out with a cheese scoop.

When cheese is used in a dish intended for a main dish one should always have a salad or fruit with it. The cheese dishes are a concentrated food and less is needed than with other protein foods.

It is a good combination to serve cheese with apples or apple pie.

Always save any hard pieces of cheese and grate them. Keep in a cool, dry place and use for scalloped dishes, marcaroni or spaghetti, rice, or left-over fish dishes.

Snowy white without boiling

THAT dull, grey, streaky look that you always had to boil out of your clothes is never there when you use Rinso. It soaks the dirt, softens it, loosens it so thoroughly that it all runs away in the rinsing, leaving the clothes sweet, snowy-white and fresh as new.

It's because Rinso is the new, modern scientific washing preparation that works in an entirely new way. It washes by soaking. It is altogether different from ordinary soaps and washing powders. So, it should be used differently. Do not pour Rinso itself into the tub. Make your Rinso liquid first, as per directions.

IF YOU USE A WASHING MACHINE

Soak your clothes in the Rinso suds as usual—for one hour, two hours, overnight, or whatever time is convenient. Then add more Rinso solution and work the machine. Rinse and dry—you'll have a clean, sweet, snow-white wash.

LOTS OF ACTION IN SOFT BALL LEAGUE

Some Fast Games Are Being Played at Armouries —The Team Standings.

The soft ball league is at present occupying one of the front seats in the city's sporting circles. Games are being played four out of the five week nights and on Saturday afternoon. The league is developing some star twirlers; McLeod, McLean and Dunkley can now put all kinds of "stuff" on the ball and Langley, if he keeps performing in the manner he did on Thursday night, will be soon in the same class.

Mayor Taylor's Cup, donated by him to the P.A.A.A., has been handed over to the Soft Ball League. The champion club of the League will possess the cup for one year. The club winning it three years in succession will keep it. "Chris" Graham is also offering a beautiful shield to the winner of the club section. These trophies are creating keen rivalry in all the games and every club is putting forth its best efforts.

In the Mercantile Section, perhaps the fastest section in the League, four teams are running close with the Raybestos in the lead. The Rotary Club and the Firemen are tied for the leadership in the Club Section, with the Knights of Columbus a game behind them. In the left over section, just newly formed, the Wild Cats are shaping up well, and will give some of the bigger teams a strong argument, if they reach the play off.

The Gunners romped home with a 14 to 7 victory over the Kiwanis in the Soft Ball League game at the Armoury last evening. DIRECTORS TURN OUT TO PLOW UP EXHIBITION PARK

Work Started Immediately to Get the Diamond Into Shape For Next Summer.

WORKING HARD.

Just the moment the agreement was signed up between the Peterboro Exhibition Board and the Baseball team word was sent to the Exhibition Directors who are farmers and yesterday morning the following were at work with ploughs levelling up the ground:

H. Webbe, W. Milne, J. T. O'Connell, C. E. Moore, W. Rosborough, R. Colon, Ormond Ball, F. Kitney, Smith Milburn, J. J. Duffus, President of the Chamber of Commerce driving a Fordson Tractor.

The whole of the grounds inside the race track is being ploughed, levelled and seeded, necessitating the taking down of the fence around the small ring. This work is being done by:

President R. Denne, Noble Kelly, I. Cox, Robert Grandy, J. Williams, Tom Brown and Webber Turner.

The latter gentlemen are with the help of a post-puller drawing up the posts that are in the way of the ploughman.

The Exhibition Board have always claimed that they have the best lot of working Directors of any organization in the County and this is a further practical demonstration of this fact.

Other Directors will be in next week to harrow and level what is now being ploughed.

'It All Depends" Says Coach Yost

What is the most thrilling play in football?

What is the most intense play in football?

Fielding H. Yost, coach of Michigan, replying to the first question:

"The most thrilling play of a game depends entirely upon the situation. Any play can be a thrilling play and the same play can carry no thrill at all. It all depends upon what the play means and what it results in.

"A simple play in midfield that gains nothing cannot hold any thrill. The same play resulting in a touchdown carries the thrill of the game. It all depends."

Regarding the most intense play:

"When your team is kicking from behind its own goal line you have football's most intense play.

"As the teams line up for the punt and you have in mind all the possibilities and the disastrous results of a blocked punt, you get about as much intensity as anything in sports can furnish."

BENTLEY OR RUTH?

(By Billy Evans.)

Is a slugging batsman who can hit home runs more valuable than a star pitcher who can win a majority of his games?

In a measure that question was answered five or six years ago by Ed Barrows, who was then managing the Boston team of the American League.

At that time Babe Ruth was generally considered the best left hander in the Johnsonian organization. He could be depended upon to win at least 20 games a season.

All of a sudden, Ruth began to show an inclination to hit home runs. The inclination grew until Ruth became the most feared batsman in the American League. His ability to hit home runs began to overshadow his pitching.

Fans Revel in Homers.

The fans enthused much more when Ruth broke up a ball game by hitting a home run with a couple on than when he scored a shutout.

That feeling on the part of fandom caused Manager Barrows to do some tall thinking. Would it be advisable to use Ruth every day as an outfielder and add his home-run punch to the strength of the team or use him every fourth day as a pitcher?

Barrows decided that Ruth, the best left hander in the American League, should forget his pitching and become Ruth the slugging outfielder.

A great many people ridiculed the idea. They thought Barrows was making a huge mistake in spoiling a great pitcher for an uncertainty as an outfielder and hitter.

Ruth Delivered Goods.

In the case of Ruth, Barrows was right. Babe soon became the batting sensation of the country. In 1919 he made 29 home runs, breaking the record of 27 that had stood since 1884. In 1920 he made 54 home runs and in 1921 59.

Just as Ruth, wonder batsman of the New York Yankees, begins to fade John McGraw of the New York Giants purchases Jack Bentley, the "Babe Ruth" of the minors.

Bentley is a crack left-handed pitcher, best known for his ability to hit home runs. His case is exactly similar to that of Ruth when he was in Boston.

Where will McGray use Bentley, as a pitcher or first baseman?

Will Pitch For Giants.

McGraw has already gone on record as saying that Bentley would be a member of the Giants pitching staff. If such is the case it is a certainty that he will also play the role of pinch hitter when not on the rubber.

Jack Dunn, owner and manager of the Baltimore team, who sold Bentley to the Giants, never could reach a decision in Bentley's case. As a result he had Bentley playing first when not pitching.

Last season Bentley took part in 153 games. He made 206 hits for an average of .349. Twenty-two of the hits were home runs.

As a pitcher he worked in 14 games, winning 13. The only defeat he suffered was at the hands of the Rochester club.

Years ago Bentley received a trial with the Washington club but was let out. In 1917 the Boston Red Sox drafted him but he entered the military service and was never taken on by the Sox.

SIKI'S LIFE STORY

By Battling Siki

As Told to Milton Bronner, NEA Staff Correspondent

CHAPTER FIVE—Dutch Romance and Fights

In 1920 life played another queer trick on me. It was a German dancer who took me from Senegal to France, and so to the war and the boxing ring.

It was a French boxing teacher who took me from Paris to Rotterdam. This led to marriage with a Dutch woman, battles in Holland and Germany, and finally, a chance at the big men in Europe.

Professor Mionnet, a French boxing instructor, had heard of me in Paris and saw me beat Derenzy. He was called to Rotterdam to instruct Dutch youths. Also, he got up boxing contests. He thought I would be useful, as the Dutch were willing to pay to see fights.

I got board with the Van Appelterre family, Dutch farmer folks who came to town to live. He was a wine dealer in a small way. They were nice to me and did not charge a large sum.

Marries Dutch Girl.

That's how I met my future wife—their daughter, Lynije. I don't suppose her parents were anxious for her marrying me. But I found she cared for me and as I cared for her, and we skipped over to Paris and were married by a magistrate.

We've got a baby that we named Louis. He is neither black like me nor white like his mamma. He's cafe-au-lait—coffee with milk in it. I don't know whether to make Louis a fighter, but if he has a punch later like he has lungs now he will be a champion.

The Dutch have been very good to me. They have been as friendly as the French. I have fought a lot of fights in Holland and the crowd always seems glad I won.

Dutch Fete Him.

They consider I belong to them since I married a Dutch girl. When I won my fight with Carpentier lots of Dutch sent me messages. After the fight, to get away from Paris and rest, I came to Rotterdam.

There was a big crowd at the station to cheer me. Afterward, some of the sport lovers gave a big dinner for me. They had a procession. They had me in a carriage drawn by four horses, and drove me all over the city like a regular negro king and people threw flowers into the carriage and cheered.

"Hurrah for France and Siki!" they cried.

After I won a lot of fights in Holland, I went to Germany. In January, 1921, I beat Breitensträter on points in 15 rounds. A month later, I beat Spalia.

I wasn't sure how I'd be treated in Germany. They remembered what fighters the Senegalese were, and there are a lot of colored troops with the French on the Rhine now. But I can't kick. They gave me a square deal. I couldn't ask better of a French or Dutch crowd.

And by the way, that's why I would prefer to meet your big American boxers over here. I understand American crowds are not friendly to colored boxers. I don't want the best of it, but I don't want to box before a crowd which would be yelling at me and showing they didn't like me.

THOMAS THE ACE OF CHICAGO IS A TOUGH MAN TO TACKLE

Is One of the Best Plunging Backs in the Game and Did Phenomenal Work in Game With Princeton, Scoring Three Times.

By BILLY EVANS.

John Thomas of the University of Chicago is the best plunging back I have seen in years.

The much abused and also used title of the human battering ram certainly applies to Thomas.

Against Princeton John Thomas scored three touchdowns, all of the points made by Chicago. True, he received much needed aid from his line, which opened up the holes, but to Thomas must go most of the credit.

Coach Stagg of Chicago uses Thomas in football much as does a baseball manager uses a batter known for his pinch hitting ability. Thomas is the man invariably used by Chicago when it is in striking distance of the opposition's goal.

Thomas runs low and fast, is a hard man to tackle, and has the faculty of shaking off tackler after tackler who seems certain to bring him down.

Thomas, after all, is only human. That was proved when in the final minutes of play and only seven yards to go and first down the Princeton line held against the Chicago demon bucker and took the ball on downs.

A glance at the statistics of the Princeton-Chicago game will give you some idea of what a remarkable man John Thomas is.

Chicago's first touchdown was the result of nine plays in which Thomas carried the ball eight times. About 60 yards were made in the nine plays and Thomas accounted for about 55 yards himself. Most of the plays were directed against Snively, the Princeton guard.

In making the second touchdown, Chicago carried the ball about 30 yards in five plays. Thomas handled the ball in four of the five plays and made most of the distance.

At this stage of the game, which was near the close of the second period, Stagg took his pinch bucker out of the game and sent him to the dressing room to rest up.

In the third period Chicago gained possession of the ball on Princeton's 28-yard line. Once more Chicago was in a position to score.

John Thomas, who had been sitting on the side lines next to Coach Stagg, was seen to hurriedly pull of his sweater and rush onto the field.

With Thomas back in the game Chicago immediately perked up and in a few plays the star of the Chicago back field had been pushed across the line for Chicago's third touchdown.

John Thomas is unquestionably one of the best backs the west has produced in years. He must be given much consideration when selecting an all-star team from the east or west.

There are some critics who argue that Thomas seldom plays the entire game. As a matter of fact, no Sunday being could do the things that Thomas does and go the route.

Thomas is so valuable a player that Coach Stagg uses him to best suit his plans. He yanks him when things look safe and rushes him into the fray when danger is imminent.

Thomas is the ace of the Chicago eleven. Chicago is a different team with him in the game. He is the big punch. Coach Stagg realizes this and conserves his strength whenever possible.

TWO NEW UMPS FOR AMERICANS

'Red' Ormsby and 'Ducky' Holmes Have Been Signed — Both Are From the Western League.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 18.—The signing of two new umpires by President Johnson of the American League is an indication that he intends to shake up the personnel of his staff.

The two new men signed are "Red" Ormsby and "Ducky" Holmes. Both men umpired in the Western League last year and gave excellent satisfaction in that circuit.

Ormsby is a product of the Chicago sandlots. He is a big, husky fellow, who gets his nickname because of the color of his locks. While he has only had a few years' experience in the minors he is regarded as one of the best umpiring prospects in the country.

Holmes, of course, is not the original "Ducky," as all players by the name of Holmes are known as "Ducky." Holmes was a good minor league player. He was a catcher. When his playing days were ended because of an injury he took to umpiring.

Holmes has worked in a number of minor leagues, among them being the American Association. A year ago he received a short trial in the National League and got along fine. The National League, however, refused to pay the purchase price asked and he lost his big chance.

President Heydler of the National Leagre says there will be at least two new men on his staff. A number of umpires were tried out by him near the close of the season.

Good umpires appear to be much harder to land than star ball players.

The branch is quite well aware that an evil exists and is endeavoring to bring about a remedy. It is proposed to have all athletes declare their age when first taking part in sports and to keep a record of every athlete.

Both Peterborough rugby teams are playing away from home to-day—the Peter against Strathconas at Scarboro Beach, Toronto, and the Collegiates at Oshawa.

It is significant that amateur athletic associations in Central Ontario are displaying more activity in hockey and baseball and the organization work now going on at Oshawa promises to produce some interesting developments.

Huggins May Now Agree To Trade Meusel

From now until the opening of the baseball season trade rumors will come thick and fast. Because of the poor showing of the Yankees in the big series a number of players on that club are certain to be traded over and over again during the winter.

In the early summer of last season the word was passed that a big deal was hanging fire between New York and Chicago. According to the dope New York was to get Collins and Faber for Meusel, Mays, Ward, a couple of others of less note and a wad of money.

The deal fell through, however. It develops that the main reason it "flivvered" was because Manager Huggins of the Yankees refused to part with Bob Meusel. Huggins has always been strong for Meusel despite the fact that he was well aware of Meusel's indifferent tactics.

No one is more familiar with Meusel's great natural ability than Huggins, and he felt sure that big Bob would sooner or later find himself and develop into one of the great stars of the game.

Meusel's failure to run out a hit, sacrifice on two occasions when that was the real play, coupled with several other mental errors, may have caused Huggins to weaken on him. So, after all, the talked-about Chicago deal may become a possibility, at.....

GIBBONS LOGICAL MATCH FOR JACK

Gibbons Has a Sensational Knockout Record Though Grebb Won From Him on Points.

By BILLY EVANS.

Why so much fuss about an opponent for Champion Jack Dempsey?

No heavyweight in the business is more entitled to a bout than Tommy Gibbons.

A year ago at this time Gibbons was regarded as the logical contender for the heavyweight championship. As a matter of fact, I understand that negotiations for a match between Dempsey and Gibbons had practically been closed.

Then came the big pugilistic upset, the defeat of Gibbons by Harry Greb.

Gibbons, because of his sensational knockout record, was then the most talked about man in the ring. New Yorkers wanted to see him pitted against a good man before taking on Dempsey.

Greb Hard to Solve.

Greb was selected to give Gibbons a real workout. Tommy had fought him before and experienced no great trouble taking care of himself.

No doubt the promoters figured that a meeting between Greb and Gibbons would whet the appetite of the fight fans for a bout with Dempsey.

I saw the Gibbons-Greb bout. Greb was at his best that night, Gibbons at his worst. Tommy never got started, while Greb threw a million boxing gloves at him.

While Greb did no particular damage to Gibbons because he seldom set, still Tommy was so badly outpointed that he lost much prestige and immediately the promoter who intended staging a bout with Dempsey passed up the proposition.

Just before the bout between Gibbons and Greb I had a chat with the latter. Greb appeared to be a trifle nervous. However, it was caused by a desire to get into action rather than any fear of Gibbons.

Says Gibbons Hits Hard.

"How do you like your chance, Harry" I asked him.

"Great unless I should happen to take a sock on the jaw. Gibbons can hit, and if he hits me on the right spot it will be the curtains.

"It is up to me to keep away from his 'kayo' punch. If I can do that I will win easily on points."

Gibbons was unable to reach a vital spot and true to his word Greb took down the decision by a wide margin.

After the fight I dropped around to see Greb.

"Well, he didn't reach you with a good punch" was my greeting.

"Yes he did," answered Greb, "he got me twice. I could hear the canarie singing in the second round, also later in the bout, but Gibbons was unable to press his advantage."

Greb Talks About Dempsey.

Then Greb made a statement that was very interesting to me, since Gibbons once again looms up as the logical contender for a fight with Dempsey.

"Folks may laugh at me for saying it, but Dempsey hits no harder than Gibbons, and if I could stay away from Dempsey as I did Gibbons I would be able to make the champion look as bad as I did Tommy."

Greb is one of the hardest fighters in the business to solve. Unless you knock him out you haven't much of a chance to get the decision over him. So after all, the showing of Gibbons was perhaps taken too seriously when discussing his chances with Dempsey.

IF KIDNEYS BOTHER CUT DOWN ON MEAT

Take Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You.

Too much meat may produce uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back, or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to help neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus often ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to help to keep the kidneys clean and active. Drink plenty of water at all times.

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, Nov. 18.— (Canadian Press.) — The trade in cash grain in the domestic market yesterday was quieter but a stronger feeling developed in the local market for spot oats with prices up one cent per bushel. A price advance of ten cents per barrel was noted in car lots of spring wheat patents. On account of continued active demand and limited supplies mill feed prices weer advanced another $1 per ton. Demand for rolled oats was firm with prices well maintained. A steady feeling prevails in baled hay. Prices were unchanged under a firm feeling in the egg market. Trade in potatoes continues slow. Price declines were shown in the butter auction sales, but none in wholesale prices. The cheese market is quiet.

HEART PALPITATED And Was Short of Breath

Through one cause or another a large majority of people are troubled, more or less, with some form of heart trouble.

Many people may be unaware of having anything wrong with their heart till some little excitement, over work or worry starts it to palpitate and throb, skip beats, beat fast for a time and then so slow as to seem almost to stop, then it causes great anxiety and alarm.

To all such sufferers

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

will give prompt and permanent relief. Mrs. Alice Bishop, 15 Hawthorne Ave., Hamilton, Ont., writes: —"I take great pleasure in recommending Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills to all persons troubled as I had been.

I suffered from palpitation of the heart and shortness of breath; my heart would skip beats, and in the night, at times, I would have to sit up to get my breath. I could not go up stairs without my heart fluttering, and my nerves were all unstrung, but since using your famous Pills I have felt like a different person."

IRISH REPUBLICANS' APPEAL IS DENOUNCED.

Bishop of Cork Declares Not One in a Hundred in Favor of Force.

CORK, Nov. 18. — (Canadian Press).—Bishop Cohalan, of Cork, preaching in the Cathedral yesterday, denounced the Republicans' latest appeal to force, and asked them to cast their lot with the overwhelming majority of the people.

"There is not one person in one hundred," he said, "who is engaged in or who is in favor of the military action of the irregulars."

He added that it was very wrong and a cruel thing for an organization that represented less than one per cent. of the population to continue the campaign of destruction which was ruining the country.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, this mixture saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant —children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out, and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

MEIGHAN LEADS BY POPULAR REQUEST

Big Picture "Manslaughter" Starts At Eight Sharp.

The selection of Thomas Meighan to play the leading male role in Cecil B. DeMille's new Paramount production of "Manslaughter" was the result of a widespread popular request, according to Mr. DeMille.

When it was announced that Paramount had secured the screen rights to "Manslaughter" critics and fans throughout the country showered both Mr. DeMille and Mr. Meighan with letters in which the writers pointed out the particular fitness of the latter for the part of Daniel O'Bannon, a district attorney.

Yielding to this popular request, Adolph Zukor, Jesse L. Lasky and Mr. DeMille decided at a conference held while Mr. Zukor was at the West Coast studio, to hold up the vehicle and permit the star to play the role. As a result, there will be either one less Meighan picture produced or the star will have to crowd in an additional picture on his production schedule.

Leatrice Joy was chosen by Mr. DeMille for the leading feminine role. Miss Joy's work in "Saturday Night" was responsible for this decision. The scenario was written by Jeanie MacPherson from Alice Duer Miller's novel of Saturday Evening Post fame. The scenarist recently underwent a severe prison experience in Detroit in search of atmosphere and local color for the screen play.

On account of great length of picture, we request our patrons to come early, Monday Tuesday, and Wednesday, to the Capitol, as the picture will start at 2.30 and 8.00 sharp.

AT THE REGENT.

GIBSON REAL HE MAN STAR

Busting bucking bronchos has been Hoot Gibson's long suit ever since he was ankle high to a grasshopper. He is the champion horse man of the screen and there is no one to say him nay.

"The Galloping Kid" is an entirely different brand of western. The central figure in the story is a tramp cowboy who unexpectedly falls heir to a job as chaperon to a girl who is far too pretty to live in the cactus country. So the chaperon marries her to save her from the rest of the desert galoots.

The leading feminine role is played by Edna Murphy who makes a very delightful opposite for Hoot Gibson. Others in the supporting cast are Lionel Belmore, Leon Barry Jack Walters, Percy Challenger, and Steve Clemento.

AT THE GRAND.

"PRINCE CHARMING JR."

After a year's absence from the Canadian stage, F. Stuart-Whyte, producer of musical extravaganzas extraordinary, is back again with his eleventh "musical box o' tricks," "Prince Charming Jr.," which opened a two-days' engagement at the Grand last night. Being a Stuart-Whyte show, it is bright, clean and lively, and while not the biggest production seen under the same auspices, contains much that is entertaining and enjoyable.

The plot, which is woven around the visit of the Prince of Wales to Canada, is slender, but it serves to introduce some amusing characters and to employ some effective stage pictures, something at which Mr. Stuart-Whyte has always been very successful.

The cast is headed by the vivacious Zara Clinton, her first appearance here since her serious illness, and by Billy Oswald, the droll Scottish comedian, who has always been a general favorite here. Miss Clinton gives a noteworthy characterization of a cockney maid, and, as usual, scores heavily in her song numbers, her "Reginald from Regina" being one of the hits of the evening. Oswald is as funny as ever with a new line of stuff and his own inimitable way of delivering it, and there is always plenty of laughter when he is on the stage. Another old favorite is Harry Hoyland, who does a splendid bit as a cockney iceman. Some really excellent dancing of an unusual kind is given by Miss J. La Forest, and Victor Binns and Frank Farr also win brackets in their dancing specialty. Miss Beatrice Carman sings nicely, and her imitation of a Hawaiian guitar is a novelty.

The chorus does some good work, the scenic effects are striking and the costumes bright and attractive.

"Prince Charming Jr." should be enthusiastically received to-night, when it will be again presented at the Grand.

Social Calendar

Mrs. G. Clifton Carruthers (nee Muriel Harvey) held her post-nuptial reception at her home, 205 Brock street, yesterday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock. The bride, who wore her wedding gown of white satin with pearl trimmings, looked very charming. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Harvey, gowned in gray satin and Mrs. Carruthers, in black satin and lace. The pretty reception rooms were decorated with yellow 'mums, while the dining room was a symphony in rose. The polished dining table was centred with a cut glass bowl of Ophelia roses with smilax, and at the corners silver bud vases containing pink rose buds. Rose shaded candles in silver stands gave a soft light and added to the artistic effect. Mrs. A. W. Cressman poured tea and Mrs. W. Harold Young cut the ices. Mrs. Ingall, Miss Ethel McKay and Miss Marion Harvey were in charge of the tea room, assisted by Miss Marjorie Ingall, Miss May Read and Miss Elva MacIntyre, all in dainty frocks of soft tints. Mrs. Kent and Mrs. R. J. Kidd and Mrs. Graham, of Toronto, were the assistants in the reception rooms. Little Miss Jean Howson and Miss Pearl Carruthers were also assistants. More than two hundred ladies were present, and all afternoon the rooms were thronged with the many friends of the young couple.

Mr. James Sutherland, 352 1-2 Water street, has so far recovered from his recent illness as to enable him to resume his business.

Mrs. J. Wells-Fraser returned yesterday from Niagara Falls where she has been for the last month, owing to the illness and death of her brother, Mr. Jack Burden, at the early age of 22 years. Mrs. Burden returned with Mrs. Fraser and will be here for a short time.

THE WOMEN MADE POOR SHOWING IN ELECTION.

The women made

LONDON, November 18. Canadian Press. — The weekly reviews are struck with the poor showing made by women in the elections. The Nation says the people are prepared to see women vote as part of the normal process of political life but are not accustomed to the idea of women in Parliament. The Saturday Review says the immediate effect of giving women the vote has been merely to increase the electorate.

FLANNERY. — In loving memory of our little son, Victor Thomas Flannery, who passed away, 19th November, 1921.

Often do our thoughts wander
To a little grave not far away,
Where they laid our darling Victor,
Just one year ago to-day.
Do not ask us if we miss him—
There is such a vacant place;
Can we e'rr forget his footsteps
And his dear, wee, smiling face.
Friends may think we have forgot you
When at times they see us smile;
But they little know the sorrow
That is hidden behind that smile.

FLANNERY. — In loving memory of my little brother, Victor Thomas Flannery, aged 6 years.

His pleasant smile and kind, wee face,
His fond little heart is still;
The little lips that spoke so loving to us all,

WEATHER IDEAL FOR THE RUGBY FIXTURES.

Visiting Students Paraded the Streets of Montreal This Morning.

MONTREAL, November 18. Canadian Press. — Somewhat dull, but otherwise ideal football weather will be prevalent for this afternoon's match between Varsity and Queen's at McGill University stadium. Visiting students from the two former institutions sporting the colors of their respective teams, paraded the streets throughout the morning.

Never in the history of intercollegiate Rugby has the game in this city attracted attention and enthusiasm that is everywhere in evidence. Nor has there been such a demand for seats and for this reason a record crowd is sure to be in attendance.

Local enthusiasts believe Varsity has the stronger team, McGill students in particular expecting a triumph for the Toronto aggregation; but others are equally confident in the strength and skill of Queens. Both teams will be at their full strength.

BELIEVES EX-PREMIER TO STAGE A COMEBACK.

Admirer of Lloyd-George Sees His Early Return to the Head of the Government.

NEW YORK, November 18. Canadian Press. — On his arrival here yesterday on his way to Canada Sir David R. Llewellyn, the Welsh coal mine owner, asserted that Lloyd George, although beaten now, would soon regain his former hold on the British people, and again would take the reins of the British government in hand. He belittled the Labor gains and stated that the Labor leaders expected more. From Lloyd George he said he had learned that the former premier expected only 50 seats, but he had won eight more.

IF YOUR BACK IS HURT

from a fall or if you have backache or spinal trouble of any kind, you should lose no time in investigating the merits of Chiropractic.

Four Great Chiropractic Truths

That an Innate (inborn) Intelligence builds the body and governs it through the Brain and Nervous System by means of Mental Impulses.

That a displaced Vertebra (small bone of the spine) pinches a Nerve and stops the flow of Mental Impulse to the organ or part of the body supplied by that Nerve.

That the interruption of the flow of Mental Impulse over a Nerve by the pressure of a displaced Vertebra is the cause of many disases.

That by adjusting the displaced Vertebra (putting it back to normal position) the Chiropractor relieves the Nerve pressure and health is restored.

Read these very carefully, let their significance sink deep into your mind. Then call on us and find out if this GREAT SCENCE is not what you have been seeking for years.

Rev. Dr. R. B. Taylor Delivers Timely Discourse at George Street Methodist Church.

TROUBLE ISRAEL

Last evening Rev. R. Bruce Taylor, D.D., LL.D., Principal of Queen's University, Kingston, delivered a thoughtful sermon to a large congregation in George Street Methodist Church. The doctor took for his text, I. Kings, xviii., vs. 17-18, where it reads that when Elijah returned to Samaria after a visit to that land in the time of famine, he met Ahaab, the king, who enquired of Elijah if he was the man who was troubling Israel. And Elijah answered, "I have not troubled Israel; but thou and thy father's house, in that ye have forsaken the commandments of the Lord, and hast followed Balaam."

Basing an interest-holding discourse on this text, "Jesus Christ," said the distinguished divine, "will be nothing else but a troubler to Israel as long as she remains in her present condition." Circumstances change with time, he continued, and we cannot expect to do the same now as men and women did in our grandmothers' day, on account of the change in conditions. But the spirit of Christ also changes with changing conditions in human life.

Our main trouble to-day, asserted Dr. Taylor, is that we are too satisfied with ourselves and do not hunger and thirst after religion. A religious life calls for more than going to church and acting the part of Christians. Real Christianity consists in being infused with the spirit of Christ, when all the other joys of life will be added. Nothing can be more beautiful than an upright Christian life with the happiness of the spirit of Christ flowing out therefrom.

Some worship money, continued the speaker, more than they do their God, while others are lost in a flood of worldliness, and are blind to the works of the Lord. But God's reproach is surely forthcoming, he warned his hearers.

Dr. Taylor here feared that the condition of the Church at the present time was far from being as uplifting and helpful as it should be. Its members do not go outside their own organization to comfort their neighbors and alleviate distress in that indiscriminate spirit which is expected from the followers of Christ. Other organizations are engaging in work which should be undertaken by the Church. And Christians must awaken to the sense of their responsibilities and recognize the truth that the Church must trouble Israel if it is to retain that high religious standard expected of the house of God. Churches, the speaker declared, must shoulder their share of blame of the condition of things outside of the Church.

Young Men Wanted.

Turning to the need for divinity students, Dr. Taylor stated that in Queen's, Kingston, there are far

Will Address the Kiwanis Club Here

The Kiwanis Club will be addressed to-morrow at the noon-day luncheon hour by Mr. Alfred Fitzpatrick, M.A., who has a unique experience in Canadian life. Twenty years ago Mr. Fitzpatrick came to the conclusion that men in lumbering, mining and construction camps and immigrants in along the lines of the frontier, were absolutely neglected. No effort was made to facilitate the education of them or to give training which would make them into good Canadians. He then dedicated his life to the work of extending the means of education to all along the line of our great Canadain frontier, and has been the means of sending out full equipment for teaching hundreds of University trained men into camps of all descriptions, where immigrants are found in large numbers. He has also instituted a number of community settlements for immigrants who have taken up land in Northern Ontario, and is the author of a number of books dealing with the problems of frontier life.

Mr. Fitzpatrick is now the principal of the Frontier College which has the status of a university, and will speak to-morrow on the subject "The Problem of Immigration as it affects Canada To-day." Mr. Joseph Wearing, before coming to Peterboro, was associated with Mr. Fitzpatrick in frontier educational work.

AN INCENDIARY SOUTH OF CITY

Shack Across the River Burned to Ground After Flames at First Extinguished.

Yesterday evening at 9.28 a great deal of excitement arose when the local Fire Brigade was called to a fire in a vacant shack, which is used as a store or booth during the summer months, across from H. B. Rye's Boot House, at the Street Rail way Wharf.

As the brigade were leaving the city limits for the fire, Chief George Gimblett, rang 2-1 to call the second platoon of firemen to the station and a crowd thinking that number located the fire, gathered at the corner of King and George streets, only to see fire apparatus rush by.

The fire itself is alleged to have been of incendiary origin, but was extinguished after the back room had been completely destroyed. After thoroughly soaking the building with water the Department left only to be called back early this morning at 5.54 when the building was burned to the ground.

The owner of the building, J. W. Devall, 514 Water street, stated this morning that on the night of October 30, the structure had been set on fire and was extinguished by the Street Railway men.

A CHIMNEY BLAZE

Yesterday at 12.32 p.m. the Department was summoned to 459 Stewart street to extinguish a small chimney blaze.

CENTER FIGHT ON NEAR BEER IN THE U.S.A.

Wets See Victory Through Gains in Congress--Want Whole Amendment Killed--Light Wines.

FOUR PER CENT. BEER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.— Four per cent beer.

Light wines of from 12 to 20 per cent. alcoholic content.

These are the demands now to be made of Congress by organized "wets" as a result of increased favor for modification of the Volstead law registered by voters in the recent congressional election.

Although "light wines" are always mentioned in all modification proposals, the one thing the wets have closest to their hearts and thoughts, however, is —beer. It springs from a belief that the expectation and demand of the rank and file who marked wet ballots on November 7 was for beer.

Whether an effort will be made to obtain modification at the hands of the present Congress will be determined at a meeting of officials of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment late this month.

Some members believe it would be "good politics" to give the present Congress a chance to act on modification in the light of popular will as expressed at the congressional election. Others feel this would be unwise, as they doubt that defeated "dry" members will feel any more kindly toward the measure, however much they might like an opportunity to drown their sorrows.

With the organization of the new Congress in March, however, the fight to overhaul and "liberalize" the prohibition enforcement act will get under way immediately.

Volstead Defeat Wet Victory.

The defeat of Andrew J. Volstead, father of the present enforcement act, is the biggest single aid to the wet programme. Although Volstead's successor is dry himself, Volstead's defeat removes him from the chairmanship of the Judiciary committee and puts in his place Congressman George S. Graham, of Pennsylvania, a wet.

This means that instead of proposals to modify prohibition being buried in committee, the measures will be heard and reported to the House for action.

Gov. Edward I. Edwards, newly elected senator from New Jersey, is expected to jump into the forefront of the fight in the Senate. As an experienced aid and a counselor wise in senatorial manoeuvring, Jim Reed, of Missouri, is counted on to be his chief assistant.

In the House, Gallivan, of Massachusetts, Hill of Maryland, Tinkham of Massachusetts, McLoud, of Michigan and Sabath of Illinois, are looked to as probable leaders.

Want Whole Amendment Killed.

"It doesn't really make any great difference whether the present Congress or the newly elected one passes a modification act," says G. V. Hinckley, head of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, who has directed the association's congressional drive. "What we are out to get, of course, is the repeal of the whole prohibition proposition.

"The results in the congressional election show the way the popular wind is blowing. Congress ought to be able to read the signs. If there is no modification, following the expression of the voters at this election, you may depend on it the voters will speak still more emphatically when they cast their votes two years from now—in 1924.

"Look out for a lot of the fellows who have been on the fence to fall off on the wet side.

"For years members of Congress in close districts have been terrorized by the Anti-Saloon League. They realized that unless they walked the dry chalk line the league could go into their districts and defeat them. There was no organization which could effectively combat the league in its drives to 'get' congressmen in close districts.

"As a result, these members have evaded votes whenever possible, or have reluctantly voted with the drys. That was demonstrated in the vote by which the Volstead act was passed over President Wilson's veto. Almost one-half the members in each house failed to vote. The bill was made law by the votes of an actual minority.

"We believe, however, that this association has now demonstarted that it can fight the league in its own field. As a result, these hidden votes will now—in large part—come out in the open. With the avowed wet votes, we believe there will be more than enough of these to modify the presetn prohibition act."

The local Chapters of the I.O.D.E., under whose auspices the tag day for the blind was held on Saturday, report $634.00 as the receipts from the boxes.

This morning that sum was augmented by a donation of $100.00 from the Red Cross Society.

It was hoped that a larger sum would be realised, but the disagreeable weather on Saturday was a handicap.

The demonstration given by Mr. Brownlee in the window of the Grafton Co. was a centre of attraction all day, and contributed not a little to the cash returns.

The I.O.D.E. wish to thank the Grafton Co. for the use of their window and also the Chamber of Commerce.

Any person who was not out on Saturday, but would like to contribute to this worthy cause, may leave subscriptions at The Examiner Office.

THE HUMANE PLEADER TO ELIMINATE CRUELTY.

Says Methods of Saughtering at Abattoirs Should Be Changed At Once.

The following from the Canadian Churchman of last week will be of interest to all lovers of animals:

"If the people knew the cruelty meted out to animals in some abbatoirs they would rise and demand that methods of slaughtering should be changed at once. Mr. J. M. Wilson, Secretary of the Toronto Humane Society ,who has been advertising the "Humane Pleader," for the past few weeks in this paper, is not an excitable man. He is a calm Soctsman, who carefully weighs his words, and is very sure of the truth of a statement before he makes it. But some of his stories regarding the cruelty to animals in Toronto are horriyfing. He mentioned one case, where his inspector made the manager of one of the slaughterhouses come out and see what was taking place. One steer was struck eleven times before it was killed. The man doing the killing was so overworked that he was unable to put enough strength into his stroke. The above case was not isolated, but repeated many times during the day. This cruelty is only tolerated because people know nothing about it, and our readers can be sure, therefore, that any subscriptions they may send to the Humane Pleader at 197 McCaul Street, Toronto, are being utilized to do good work. The inspection of abattoirs is only one small part of the Society's work. The 'phone bell at the Society's offices is ringing all day for officials to take care of or destroy horses working under pressure when they are not fit to live. So send a $1 a year's subscription to the Pleader and help along a good work.

EXECUTED EIGHT MEN IN CITY OF DUBLIN.

But Rumour That Erskine Childers Had Suffered Death Has Been Denied.

LONDON, November 20. Canadian Press. — The Evening News today printed a despatch from Dublin saying it was rumoured that Erskine Childers and eight other unnamed men had been executed. Shortly afterwards, however, another despatch from the Irish capital was received stating that the rumour regarding Childers had been officially denied.

When asked if the rumor regarding the execution of Childrers could be confirmed or denied the publicity department of the National Army replied that it had no statement to make on the subject.

ROTARY HEARS HOW QUEENS IS MADE SUCCESS

Sparkling Address From President Dr. Bruce Taylor on Operations of a Great University.

A FINE PERSONALITY

The Peterborough Rotarians heard a most interesting address on a somewhat unusual topic at their weekly luncheon to-day, when Rev. Bruce Taylor, LL.D., principal of Queen's University, spoke on the subject, "Running a university as seen from the inside." The result was an informative and breezy address that will long be remembered by the members who were fortunate to hear Dr. Taylor, whose winning personality, rich fund of Scottish wit and infectious laugh, indelibly impressed themselves upon the Rotarians.

Outstanding in Dr. Taylor's address was the evident pride of the speaker in Queens' University and his love for the work in which he is engaged. With the enthusiasm in his duties that he displayed on this occasion, it is not difficult to see why Queen's is forging ahead. Here is a man who not only believes in Queen's, but has the faculty of inspiring the same belief in others.

Dr. Taylor sketched the early history of Queen's from the reception of its charter in 1839 to the present, paying an eloquent tribute to the late Principal Grant, to whom much of the progress made in the Kingston University was due. For a long time, Queen's situated between the two other great Canadian universities, had a veritable struggle for existence, but had finally won out.

The speaker then passed on to show how a modern university is run, explaining the operations of the trustees, the method of financing, the salaries of the faculty and the fees of the students. Queen's, he said, at the present time had an enrollment of 1526 inter mural students, while great progress was being made in extra mural work. The trend, Dr. Taylor thought, was towards a greater development of extra mural work and the dividing of the college year into three terms, with the result that degrees could be obtained in a shorter time than under the present system.

Speaking of the arts course, the principal of Queen's remarked that it would, in his opinion, always be the most important in the curriculum of a university. It was there that the mind was broadened and a wider outlook upon life ensured, and while much of what was taught was not of itself important later on in life, yet the educational value of such a training could not be overestimated.

There was in a smaller university located in a small town, he declared, better opportunities for the development of a closer understanding between faculty and students than was possible in a larger institution, thus creating a wonderful spirit that was exemplified by Queen's.

"I do not look upon the Queen's football team as an entity," said Dr. Taylor, "but rather as a symptom of a general condition to be found at Queen's."

Incidentally the speaker could not refrain from frequent references to Queen's great victory over Varsity at Montreal and his delight over that splendid exploit was shared evidently by the majority of his hearers.

In conclusion he said it was a great thing to be at the head of such a university and to feel that one was building up something that would live. In eight or ten years the responsibility would be passed on to some one else, but in the meanwhile one had not only the joy of doing work that one liked, but had that sense of developing a great work that would be carried on.

Rotarian V. J. McElderry presided to-day and there were many guests, including Frank Whitehouse, president of the Kiwanis Club, Dr. E. E. Harvey, Jas. Maude, of Toronto, formerly of Peterborough, and Walton Stevens, of Peterborough.

EDISON SAYS COLLEGE MEN WON'T GET DOWN TO WORK

They Also Lack Imagination and Rarely Make Useful Suggestions, Inventor Finds—Says $10,000 a Year Kind Are Scarce

PRINCETON, N.J., Nov. 20.—Thomas A. Edison created much discussion in the faculty and among undergraduates of Princeton here, by his declaration that modern colleges are not what they should be. He made this statement in an interview granted expressly for the Daily Princetonian.

"I do not approve of the present day college graduate," said Mr. Edison, "for as a rule the right kind of men don't go to college. Take the average college man—his knowledge of his surroundings and environment is usually inadequate. What young men need is a broad, general understanding of every little thing in life such as would fit them to be able to answer my questionnaire.

"The main objection that I have against a college graduate is that the objects to work, especially if it is dirty."

"He does not want a job with much work to it and when he does get a position he expects to be appointed foreman at the end of the sixth week. Most of the men working for me have never gone to college. Those college graduates that I have usually show a lack of imagination. They scarcely have any suggestions to make in their daily routine which might lead to improvements in their various departments.

"College is a good place for the man who wants to work, but unfortunately there are very few of this type nowadays. If a man wants to succeed it is not a necessity that he should get his education at college. If he is to amount to anything he will broaden himself out without the need of college training What we need in America is more men with technical training, since we are a commercial country by nature. We have enough lawyers, doctors and literary men.

"There are plenty of openings for ambitious men in this country. Why is it that we have so few $10,000 a year men? It is not that there is lack of such positions, but rather that there is a scarcity of men of sufficient caliber to fill these openings.

"Every one in this world sets his own salary— that is my slogan and I defy any man to prove the opposite

"I have found out that whatever a man is during the first six weeks after he gets a job he will be the same after sixty years, and no amount of advice will have any effect whatever in changing him. When he is 21 years of age he is set for life, and if a dullard then he will continue so through life.

"The main quality for success, in my estimation, is ambition with a will for work."

THOMAS JOPLIN MAKES CONFESSION TO POLICE.

Supposed to Have Represented Shantymen's Organisation — Known in Peterborough.

WINDSOR, Nov. 20. — Thomas Joplin, who was arrested Friday afternoon for investigation regarding his collecting of money for a so-called lumberjack's association, has admitted that he was representing an unfounded organization, according to word received by Chief Daniel Thompson from William Henderson of the "Shantymen's Christian Association."

Following questioning Friday afternoon by Chief Thompson, Joplin was released. The Chief, however, was not satisfied with Joplin's attitud, toward the matter and ordered him to report to him again.

Shortly before noon the Chief received two telegrams. One was from Mr. Henderson, founder of the Shantymen's Association. The other was from Joplin.

Mr. Henderson's telegram stated that Joplin had come to his office and confessed to have collected money on false pretenses. Joplin promised to return all money collected. Mr. Henderson said, and that the matter would be dropped, without further investigation.

Joplin's telegram read:

"Came to Toronto. Told everything. Matter all settled."

Joplin is well known in Peterborough, having solicited funds here for several years.

REGULAR MEETING OF THE U.F.Y.P.O. BRANCH.

A regular meeting of the local branch of the U.F.Y.P.O. was held in the club rooms, Simcoe Street, on Tuesday evening, 14th November—Harold Lewis being in the chair.

After the routine business had been completed, the secretary read a communication from the Northern Fire Relief Committee regarding the forwarding of supplies to the fire devastated area.

Roy Sanderson's report of the Y. P. County Convention was received.

As this was the last meeting in the programme membership competition, excitement was at fever heat, and a good programme was run off.

At the close of the programme Mr. Shields declared that the team led by Roy Sanderson won the competition by defeating Stanley Grant's team by a narrow margin. The losing team are now making preparations for a fowl supper and full toast list to be held in their rooms on the evening of 28th November.

LABOUR MEMBERS GOT A WARM RECEPTION.

LONDON, November 20 (Canadian Press). — Wonderful scenes of enthusiasm marked the departure from Glasgow for Westminster of over a score of Scottish Labour members of the House of Commons.

"I don't glory so much in the defeat of our ordinary political opponents," declared Robert Smillie, President of the Miners' Federation.

"But I am glad that certain of their leaders were rejected. Winston Churchill was largely responsible for the cry that Labour was unfit to govern. He will now have time to think out new problems."

DENIES STATEMENT OF DR. G. W. GORDON

Attorney-General for Manitoba Issues a Statement Last Evening.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press).—Hon. R. W. Craig, Attorney-General, on his return from Ottawa last night, issued a statement denying the statement made by Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon at the Presbyterian Synod here last week that Mr. Craig had been offered $50,000 to "let up on the enforcement of the Temperance Act" and also denied that he had confirmed the report at Ottawa. Such an offer was not made to him, directly or indirectly, by any one, he said, and Dr. Gordon had evidently drawn an "unwarranted inference" from a "personal reference" he used as an illustration in private conversation with Dr. Gordon.

PETERBOROUGH HUNTERS HAD GOOD RESULTS.

Fitzgerald Party Brought Home Seven Deer and One Bear.

Another group of successful hunters returned with their booty last Saturday, when Messrs. J. E. Fitzgerald John Burketon, C. Elliott, J. J. Turner, Ray Best, G. W. Hall and Gus Cochrane returned with seven deer and one bear. The weight of the deer ran between five and seven hundred pounds while the bear weighed over two hundred pounds. The success of the hunters was mainly due to the excellent shooting of J. E. Fitzgerald, John Burketon and C.) Elliott.

The hunters left Peterboro on November 2, and spent some time at Fitzgerald's cottage before they proceeded to Bottle Lake for the hunt.

The roads are in a fair condition, reported one hunter, and bears are more numerous than previous years, while the deer are becoming scarcer. The weather was most ideal, and the water was fine, reported J. J. Turner, who went in bathing twice during their hunt.

INTEREST NOW CENTERING ON VISIT BY BIGGS

Minister of Public Works Here Wednesday to Hear Claims for Highway to Lakes.

INCREASE TRAFFIC

Considerable interest is centering upon the visit of the Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Works and Highways, Provincial Government, to this city on Wednesday next and the Examner has secured as much information as possible in reference to his visit.

Owing to the considerable increase of the number of automobiles in use and the marked increase in motor traffic it is evident that the Department of Public Highways is alive to the necessity of having a comprehensive system of improved highways throughout the province, not only for the benefit of the Ontario motorists, but also to secure as large a tourist traffic as possible for the province, particularly to our wonderful fishing areas, pleasure resorts, and the National Algonquin Park.

Tourist Traffic.

Among the resources of the province, fourth highest in producing revenue should be listed its scenic beauty, its historic charm the wonders of its virgin fr shness, and such other intangible assets as combine in attracting a purely tourist and holiday traffic to its confines.

Ontario's resources in this respect have only begun to be developed. In her climate her forests, her lakes, her big game, her fishing, she has natural attractoins capable of practically unlimited development.

As a result of the greater advertising done by Canadians, and no less that done by returning tourists, as well as the marked improvement of our roads, the past few years have seen a practically doubling annually of tourist traffic. A few figures published by the Dominion Government in reference to the Ontario tourist traffic will suffice to show the tendency of the American to enjoy our natural resources.

Registered for admittance into Ontario for touring Purposes:

	1919	1920	1921
One to 6 mos	794	1,479	1,710
2 to 30 days	23,979	36,981	49,090
24 hrs or less	177,646	439,414	487,753
Totals ..	202,419	477,874	538,559

In item one to six months, allowing for an average expenditure of $25 a day, including gasoline and garage charges for a first class car, an an average stay of 45 days this traffic represents an expenditure of $1,923,750.

In item 2 to 30 days, allowing for an average expenditure of $20 a day, on an average stay of 7 days, this traffic represents an expenditure of $6,873,440.

In item 24 hours or less, allowing for an average expenditure of $2 for each car, this traffic represents an expenditure of $975,506.

Taking the three classes this represents a total expenditure in Ontario of $9,772,696. Estimated on a five per cent. basis it means that improved roads are worth over two hundred million dollars to the province, without taking into account the service they render to Canadians themselves.

Tourist Attractions, Central Ontario

It is natural to assume that the districts in Ontario with good road and railway connections and natural attractions would be the districts most patronized. No more natural attractions can be secured in the province than in our Kawartha Lake district, with its attractive lakes, good fishing, and hunting, and natural scenery, a real mecca for the American desirous of obtaining a recreational period for each year. So anxious is the American to secure good travelling conveniences to our Central Ontario district, the Rochester Chamber of Commerce is enthusiastically endeavoring to secure a convenient automobile ferry service from Rochester to Cobourg. With a good permanent road from Port Hope through Peterborough to the Kawartha Lakes, the Americans in that district will be able to establish their summer cottages and send their families up for the summer, and at each week end come up themselves in about six hours and return in the same time— an opportunity that the public of Central Ontario should not fail to miss, so as to secure its fair proportion of the revenue obtainable from the tourist traffic.

The Proposed Extension.

The extension as proposed by resolution by the various city and county organizations to the Hon. F. C Biggs, recommends the taking over of the roadway from Peterborough to Nassau, thence east side of the Otonabee river and Katchewana lake to Lakefield and Young's Point, and thence west side of Clear Lake to Kawartha Park and Burleigh Falls, which would be ultimately extended to the Algonquin Park via Apsley, Cheddar and Bancroft.

The estimated cost made by a thoroughly competent engineer ac-

Make Your Products Just A Little Better, Her Policy

ADAH BYERS.

By MARIAN HALE.

The world's champion mouse trap maker would never be bothered with hewing his own paths, even if he lived in a forest, according to a philosopher.

And what is true of mouse traps holds true with bird cages.

Once demonstrate to a few people that you have a knack for making the most beautiful ones ever imagined, and the world will find you out though you have only a tiny shop on a side street in busy New York.

This actually happened in the case of Adah Byers.

Though an artist, decorator, maker of jewelry and connoisseur of beautiful things generally, she is forced to make bird cages to the exclusion of practically anything else—just because she makes them a little more exquisitely and painstakingly than anyone else does.

Her cages are all hand made, according to her exclusive designs, with an idea of making the bird comfortable as well as affording a bit of decoration to the sun-room or garden.

She sometimes expends as much as a month's work on a single cage, and when she finishes she has something that resembles a piece of jewelry rather than anything so utilitarian as a bird house.

The difference between her products and the average commercial ones is the difference between rare old lace and a five-cent machine-made edging.

Old bits of antique carving, Chinese figures, rare pieces of jade and ivory go into the making of these cages which sell at figures that sound exorbitant until you realize the exquisiteness of the materials and the beauty and finish of the work.

"I believe," she says, "that everything that goes into a home should be beautiful, but that the effect should be that of livableness and comfort rather than formality.

"I think birds and plants give to a home a feeling of life and activity that no static beauty can give.

"My cages are always designed for the spots in which they are placed and are mellowed down and worked with until they are a part of the room, never a conspicuous feature.

"Home decorations have improved greatly in the last decade, and I believe a much greater development is ahead. There will be less so-called 'interior decoration' and more individuality and comfort."

Styles in birds change from time to time, she states. At the present time the most fashionable birds are the finches, the strawberry or gold variety, and thrushes. The canary is a perennial favorite.

Her studio is one of the most artistic spots in New York, where she carries out her theory that everything useful may be beautiful as well.

Attempt to Straighten Near Eastern Tangle

Conference Will Open To-Day at Lausanne to Endeavor to Stabilize the Peace of Europe.

BALKAN TROUBLES.

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press).—Another attempt to stabilize the peace of Europe will be undertaken here today with the inauguration of the Near Eastern conference attended by practically all the powers of western and southeastern Europe.

Primarily summoned to establish peace between victorious Turkey and defeated Greece, the conference possesses vast importance to all Europe, as well as America. It must settle the various problems that have grown out of the Turks' return to the continent from which they were expelled after the Great War, as well as the all-dominant question of the freedom of the Dardenelles.

The conference must lay down Turkey's new frontiers and take up the delicate question of Turkey's capitulations, or concessions, whereby foreigners in Turkey, like those living in China, have been exempt from Turkish laws and free from taxation. Turkey demands freedom from these restrictions and clamors for national administrative liberty.

Without departing from her traditional policy of non-intervention in European politics, the United States has shown her interest in the forthcoming developments of the conference by designating three observers.

Recent events in London, Paris, Constantinople and Athens have demonstrated the delicate nature of the relations between England and France concerning this Near Eastern tangle, with statesmen of each of these countries striving for "unity of front," which will safeguard their separate national aspirations as regards commerce and their various "special positions."

The prediction is freely made here that the Lausanne conference will have a weighty bearing upon the future amity and harmonious cooperation between England and France in Europeon affairs.

The Fascisti of Italy, dedicated to a firmer foreign policy, will be here to demand equality of treatment and apparently strong in their determination to denounce the Italian-Grecian Treaty of 1920, whereby Italy agreed to cede to Greece the Dodecanese Islands in the Aegean.

Bolshevik Russia has been invited to attend the Dardanelles discussion but not the main conference where business is the revision of the Sevres Treaty.

Bulgaria will insist upon an outlet in the Aegean at Dedeaghatch, on the boarder-line between eastern and western Thrace, and Jugo-Slavia will undoubtedly demand assurance of commercial privileges at the Greek port of Saloniki.

Most of the neutral European States, perceiving the importance of the Lausanne conference, have asked permission to attend the meetings.

AMBASSADOR TO FRANCE.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press).—The Marquis of Crewe has been appointed Ambassador to France in succession to Baron Hardinge, who is retiring from the diplomatic service.

Ladies Who Know Say REINDEER is a Wonderful Flour and SOONER OR LATER it will be used IN EVERY HOME.

Rafet Pasha Has Renewed Demands On Constantinople

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press)—On the eve of the peace conference at Lausanne, Rafet Pasha, Governor of Constantinople, has renewed his demands for control of the police, magisterial courts, the telegraphs, passports and other branches of the civil administration.

Rafet insists that the Turkish police shall exercise control over all nationalities, while the Allied gendarmerie shall limit its jurisdiction to its own soldiers and sailors.

Rafet Pasha has asked the Allies to supress all foreign post offices in Constantinople. He has requested also that proposed British and French and United States colleges be placed under the Angora Government's regulations.

The Allied generals decline to relinquish their present control over foreign residents.

HUGE CROPS ARE REPRESENTED IN RAIL SHIPMENTS

Canadian Pacific Is Transporting a Large Bulk of Western Grain to the Seaboard.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press).—Exceeding by 13.4 per cent. the number of cars loaded from the commencement of the crop years, up to and including November 15, the total Canadian Pacific cars loaded in the western district with all grains in a corresponding period of the present season, is reported by officials of the company as having reached 79,365, as against 69,957 cars in 1915, and 53,492 cars in 1921. This makes a record average loading per day of 1,260 cars for that part of the crop year which has passed, the average holding record previously being 1,110 cars per day for the same weeks of 1915, the last bumper year. Taking the average capacity of cars as quoted for this season at 1,487 bushels, the number of cars loaded represents approximately 118,000,000 bushels, while shipments for the same period, 1915, totalled 94,092,165 bushels.

Cars loaded east of Winnipeg so far this year have totalled 77,204, as compared with 66,202 cars for 1915, and 53,812 cars in 1921. Grain marketed in these districts served by the western division of the railway also showed a substantial increase over the largest quotations previously recorded, which were for 1915. ince September 1st, 1922, there have left the farmers' hands 135,071,274 bushels, as against 122,948,000 bushels in 1915, and 83,969,332 bushels in 1921.

The aggregate of all grains recorded under Canadian Pacific inspection for the period under consideration in 1922 amounted to 76,758 cars, of which 67,249 were wheat, 940 cars oats, 2,625 cars barley, 758 cars flax and 3,196 cars rye. The largest inspections reported for the railway in any previous season amounted to 68,404 cars for all grains in 1915, and this total comprises: Wheat 61,064 cars, oats 5,445 cars, barley 1,433 cars, flax 409 cars and rye 53 cars.

More than 10,000 carloads and 12,775,000 bushels of grain have been moved by the Canadian National Railways this season in excess of the number of cars, and the amount of grain moved in the corresponding period of the 1921 season, according to figures. Since September 1 there were 61,885 cars and 78,948,000 bushels loaded, against 51,583 cars and 66,173,000 bushels in a corresponding period of the previous season. Thursday's marketings were 1,438,000 bushels, against 997,000 bushels on the same date last year, 1,020 cars against 829 and 1,288,000 bushels against 1,090,000. Car insnections Thursday were 738, against 611.

TELLER SAVED BANK'S MONEY FROM HOLDUP

Quick Action By C. H. Morrow, of Montreal, Prevented Bold Attempt to Rob Sterling Bank.

BANDIT ESCAPED.

MONTREAL, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press).—Quick action on the part of C. H. Morrow, formerly of Parry Sound, Ont., paying teller of the Sterling Bank, 120 St. James street, frustrated the effort of a bandit on Saturday morning to obtain a thousand dollars at the point of a revolver, Morrow turned the tables so quickly that the bandit fled without getting a cent. He was almost caught by a police officer, but just managed to evade the latter in the crowd on St. James street. The only damage was from two shots, the bullets from which smashed a plate glass window and lodged in the wall near the ceiling of the bank premises.

Stepping up to the wicket of the paying teller's cage about 11.15 in the morning, a man afterwards described by Morrow as short, stout and dark, and wearing blue glasses, presented for payment an old and crumpled blank cheque. On it was written, "If you make one move or shout before I get to the door I will shoot to kill. Give me a hundred tens." He pointed a revolver at Morrow, the weapon being wrapped in a handkerchief with only the end of the muzzle showing.

Morrow said: "I have not got that many tens here, but I have the amount in ones and twos."

"Give me those," said the bandit in a low voice.

Morrow began counting the bills and when he saw that the bandit's attention was directed to the pile of bills, he dropped suddenly behind his counter. He seized his revolver, and again facing the bandit fired two shots.

LONDON VISITED BY WEEK-END FIRES

Two Fires Cause Serious Damage and a Third Blaze Was Started By Children Playing With Matches.

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press.) — Two fires in the downtown and east-end business sections causing damage in the neighborhood of $10,000 and a small blaze in a house on St. Julien street, kept the fire department busy ovch the week end.

For a time a blaze which broke out in the basement of Mitchell's drug street, Dundas street, gave the firemen a hard battle. It had gained considerable headway before the department arrived. The fire, which had its origin in a furnace, believed to have become overheated, threatened to develop into a real dangerous one. Smoke was responsible for most of the $5,000 damage done to the stock in the store, and in the establishment of Miss Avey, milliner, and Hockin Brothers, grocers, adjoining the drug store.

At 3.50 o'clock Sunday morning fire completely destroyed English's auto wreckers plant, 729 Dundas street. The fire had a big start before the fire brigade arrived. Several old autos are included in the loss, the damage amounting to $5,000. The origin of the blaze has not been determined by Chief John Aitken.

Children playing with matches at the home of Mr. Noxell, 200 St. Julien street, set fire to some straw. An alarm was turned in, but the blaze had been extinguished without the aid of the firemen.

THREE MEN KILLED IN DUBLIN EXPLOSION

DUBLIN, Nov. 20. — (Canadian Press.)—Three men were killed and three badly injured by an explosion at Inchicore, Dublin, Saturday night. Just prior to the explosion a party of men was seen carrying a heavy article from the field beside the Naas Road.

The explosion was like a roar of thunder and was a ccompanied by a great burst of light. People living in nearby houses were considerably shocked by the violence of the detonation. The dead men were so badly mutilated that identification was impossible. Firearms and ammunition were found beside a wall near the scene of the explosion, and the belief is expressed that the victims were preparing an ambuscade.

DROWNED FROM DREDGE

GODERICH, Ont., Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press)—In making a jump from a dredge to a tug yesterday afternoon, Robert Irvine, about 22 years old, misjudged the distance and fell into the water and was drowned. The body was recovered in a few minutes after the accident but all efforts at resuscitation failed. Irvine was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Irvine of this town. He was employed on the Government dredge which has been working in the harbor here all season. An inquest was opened and after viewing the body, and adjourned until Wednesday, Nov. 22.

"DRYS" WILL DESCEND IN FORCE ON TORONTO

First International Convention of the World League Against Alcoholism Will Be Held in Massey Hall This Week—Opens on Thursday.

TORONTO, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press).—The 'dry" forces of the world will invade Toronto this week, when the first international convention of the World League Against Alcoholism will be held in Massey Hall here, combined with the conventions of the Ontario and Dominion Alliance. The conventions will open on November 23 and will continue until November 29. The first day will be devoted to the Ontario and Dominion Alliance meetings, then will follow the World League sessions.

It is expected that the World League convention will be attended by representatives from more than fifty nations, including those of Europe, India, Australia, the Orient, Africa, Egypt, South America and the West Indies. The convention will be open to all those in sympathy with the world-wide prohibition movement.

Men of international repute will address the gatherings, which doubtless will more than fill Massey Hall at all the sessions of the World League convention. There are three joint Presidents of the World League Against Alcoholism—Dr. Robt. Hercod of Lausanne, Switzerland; Right Honorable Leif Jones of York, England, and Dr. Howard H. Russell of Westerville, Ohio.

A large number of prominent women leaders will address the convention, including Miss Cora Frances Stoddard, Executive Secretary of the Scientific Temperance Federation, and Miss Mary Campbell of India. For the big meetings three Salvation Army bands will furnish music, and a massed choir will be led by Ernest Shildrick of this city.

The World League Against Alcoholism had its inception three years ago at the convention of the Anti-Saloon League of America in Washington, when delegates from foreign countries were present to study the progress and methods of the American and Canadian prohibition movement. It was decided then to widen the sphere of operations, so as to embrace the whole world, and representatives of twenty countries signed the constitution of the new organization. It is anticipated that the convention in Toronto will formulate even more ambitious plans for the furtherance of the temperance cause.

More effective law enforcement, it is expected, will be one of the subjects dealt with by the convention.

The national and world meetings of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, being held in Philadelphia, will close in time to enable the delegates there to attend the World League convention in Toronto.

STORMY MEETING WAS QUIET ONE

Duke of Devonshire Says All Was Peace and Harmony at Meeting of the British Empire Exhibition Board.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press)—A comminque has been issued by the Duke of Devonshire declaring that the statement published in London Sunday papers and sent broadcast that the executive council of the British Empire Exhibition had a stormy meeting on Saturday, is quite inaccurate.

The Duke of Devonshire, who presided says the council were unanimously of the option that there was no justification for the criticisms levelled at the exhibition management and they were strongly opposed to the suggestion for an outisde enquiry.

"We felt however" continues the statement, "that in view of the responsibility which the government has in reference to the exhibition, we ought to make perfectly clear that we welcome any investigation which the government might consider advisable and I, with two of my colleagues of the council was deputed to consult the president of the board of trade on the matter."

"The only possible justification" adds the communique, "for the description of the meeting as stormy was the natural indignation expressed by members of the council at the action of Robert Donald in publishing alarmist statements in the press in reference to his differences with his colleagues on the management committee without first appealing to the executive council.

Robert Donald resigned from the board some weeks ago as a protest, so he announced, against the proposal to buy certain supplies including some grades of lumber and flour from sources outside the Empire.

FRENCH CUSTOMS TO BE INCREASED

New Tariff Will Go Into Effect the First of Next Year With All Countries Except With Special Treaties.

PARIS, Nov. 20. — (Canadian Press.) — Information that an increase in the French customs duties on many articles will go into effect the first of next year has been communicated to the comercial attache of the United States Embassy by the French Customs service. The increases will effect virtually all imports from the United States, but will apply alike to all countries except those that have special treaties with France.

The customs officials explained that France had definitely decided not to retaliate against the new United States' tariff, and the fact that the new schedule would be applicable to many other countries was regarded as showing there was no intent to discriminate. It had been determined after careful study, however, that France was not receiving adequate duties on many articles, and it was declared that the fact that the study preparatory to tariff changes began about the time the new United States tariff became effective was merely a coincidence.

The new tariffs will not be announced until January, but it appears that in most cases where the duties have been based on the weight of the article the calculation will be changed to a cost basis.

U. S. SENATOR RESIGNS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press).—Truman H. Newberry has resigned as Senator from Michigan, effective immediately. The resignation was sent to Governor Groesbeck at Lansing under date of November 18, and a copy of it was delivered yesterday to Vice-President Coolidge with a request that it be read into the records of the Senate as soon as possible.

NO LEGISLATION TO PERPETUATE SALMON TRADE

State of Washington Waiting For Canadian Report Before Any Action is Taken Regarding Salmon Fishing.

IN PUGET SOUND.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press).—Regulations for the control of fishing for sockeye salmon in the waters of Puget Sound have not been formulated for next year, members of the Washington State Fisheries Board said Saturday when informed that a Canadian commission had recommended a five years' prohibition of sockeye fishing in the Fraser River provided Washington authorities adopted a similar rule for Puget Sound.

The board, it was stated, had not been informed of the findings of the Canadian commission and members declined to comment pending receipt of the full report.

Local fisheries men said yesterday that the rapid depletion of the sockeye salmon run through the waters of Puget Sound to the Fraser River had been a source of much concern for several years and that study had been devoted to plans to rectify the conditions.

Under the State law, regulations of fisheries within the waters of Puget Sound lies entirely within the State Fisheries Board.

Labor Party For First Time Is the Official Opposition

New British Parliament With Bonar Law as Premier Will Assemble To-Day—Elect Speaker To-Day.

SPECIAL SESSION.

LONDON, Nov. 20.— (Canadian Press.)—The new parliament which will assemble to-day will possess one novelty. It will be the first British Parliament in which the Labor Party has attained dimensions entitling it to be recognized as the "official opposition," with the certain prescriptive privileges in the amenities of the House attached to that position.

There are three possible claimants to the position of leader of the Opposition, namely Herbert H. Asquith, David Lloyd George and John R. Clynes, supposing that the latter, as is expected, is re-elected chairman of the Labor party. It is anticipated that the Speaker of the House will decide that Labor shall be the official Opposition, as the Labor Party far outweighs in strength either the Asquith or Lloyd George parties.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be occupied in the formalities of electing a new Speaker and swearing in the new members. The latter is a somewhat tedious task and will occupy two days.

The doors of the Commons will be open very early this morning, and there is likely to be the customary scramble of members to secure the rights to certain advantageous seats. The official hour fixed for both House of Parliament is 2.45 o'clock in the afternoon, when the quaint formalities attending the election of the Speaker will take place. T. F. O'Connor, as 'Father of the House,' will propose the re-election of the present Speaker, Right Hon. John Henry Whitely, and his motion is expected to be carried unanimously. The leaders of the different parties having congratulated the new Speaker, the House will proceed to swearing in the members and the other necessary formalities.

The formal opening of Parliament by King George with State ceremonial will take place Thursday, when the King will deliver a brief royal speech in which he will announce the assembly of the new Parliament and intimate that its principal business will be the ratifying of the Irish Constitution, which must be accomplished by December 6, or otherwise the Anglo-Irish Treaty will lapse. For this reason much less time than is usual will be occupied in debate on the address in reply to the King's speech.

Parliament will adjourn early in December, to reassemble in February, when the real business of legislation will begin.

It is not yet certain whether Mr. Clynes will secure re-election as Chairman of the Labor Party. The names of J. Ramsay MacDonald and Sidney Webb are now mentioned for that position, but if Mr. Clynes is chosen, Mr. MacDonald probably will become the Party's chief whip.

It is already evident that one of the Government's first difficulties will be the unemployment question. Many thousands of unemployed gathered in Trafalgar Square again yesterday, and, although quite orderly, displayed a firm determination to insist that Premier Bonar Law personally receive their deputation.

LAST SEAT HEARD FROM.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press).—The University of Wales has returned T. Lewis, Georgian, to Parliament by a vote of 497 over Sir E. J. Ellis-Griffith, Liberal, who received 451 votes, and Miss Wheeler, Independent, who received 309 votes. The Lloyd Georgian forces in the House therefore will number 48.

MR. BIGGS' VISIT.

It is to be hoped that as many motorists and other citizens of Peterborough and district as possible will assist in the welcome to the Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Highways, when he visits here on Wednesday to go over the route of the proposed extension of the Provincial Highway to the Kawartha Lakes.

This is a matter of the utmost importance to the whole district.

Not only would the suggested extension be a boon to our own citizens who have to frequently travel over the route, but it would mean a huge increase in motor tourist traffic to the Kawartha Lakes.

When the amount of money that is spent by such tourists is considered, it will be seen that Peterborough cannot afford to remain aloof to this matter.

With a Provincial Highway tapping the Kawartha Lakes and connecting with the main artery of traffic, the Kingston Road passing through Peterborough en route, there would be a steady stream of tourists during the summer months, and the whole district would materially benefit.

Every effort should be made to show the Minister that the extension is desired by the community generally.

CANADIAN PRODUCTIONS.

Canadians owe much to such theatrical organisations as the Dumbells, and Mr. Stuart-Whyte's company, the latter of which has just finished an engagement here, for giving us a Canadian and British atmosphere that is usually missing from stage attractions seen in this country.

Mr. Stuart-Whyte's productions always abound in Canadian references and allusions, and are never lacking in local colour in that regard, while the invariable practice of his companies in singing the National Anthem at the conclusion of the play is a refreshing novelty to audiences, who usually regard "God Save the King" as a signal to go home.

The Dumbells, too, can always be counted upon for a performance that is one hundred per cent. British; and they are doubly welcome on that account.

Most of our stage productions, of course, come from the United States. They are written and staged for American consumption, and viewed from that angle leave nothing to be desired.

Often, however, especially in musical productions, there are songs and allusions that seem strangely out of place in a Canadian theatre, so much so that one wonders why, during the Canadian run, the constant references to "Old Glory" and "God's Country," etc., are not eliminated.

The fact that they seldom are, makes a visit from an all-Canadian production a refreshing and appreciated occasion.

MUNICIPAL CANDIDATES.

The contention that there should be an early start in the campaign to secure capable municipal candidates is met by the objection that so long as half of the electors refuse to take enough interest in the matter to exercise their franchise, there is little use in trying to induce good men to offer their services.

Undoubtedly that is a serious weakness.

Citizens who are capable of good service in the municipal government hesitate to allow their names to go before the people, realising that many of those electors who should support them will neglect to vote.

Thus the opportunity to secure qualified candidates with business training and experience is often lost.

Cannot that handicap be overcome, as in the interest of Peterborough it should be overcome?

A ratepayers' association in each ward might do much to solve the problem.

If in each of the five wards of Peterborough a little coterie of public-spirited citizens could get together and plan out an organisation that would help to dig up good candidates, and then get the vote out and help to elect them, much might be accomplished.

The old haphazard method of letting affairs drift along until nomination day, and trust to luck that enough capable men will come along of their own accord to offer themselves as candidates has long outlived its usefulness—if it ever had any.

So long as we in Peterborough are content to adhere by that weather-beaten, moth-eaten, leave-it-to-Providence system, we cannot expect our municipal bodies to be even thoroughly representative, let alone capable and efficient.

WILL THEY BROADEN OUT?

The calling together of the Liberal-Conservatives of West Peterborough is only one indication among many that there will be a certain liveliness in Provincial political circles in Ontario during the next few months.

The chief interest lies in what developments may be expected in the ranks of the United Farmers.

It is claimed that the U.F.O. membership is dwindling, that interest is being killed, and that many of the farmers who were strongly in favour of the political aspirations of the Agrarians are drifting back to their old parties.

When the trumpets sound the "Fall In" for another trial of strength at the polls, it will be seen whether or not the wish is father to the thought.

Between Premier Drury's broadening-out policy and the class propaganda of Secretary J. J. Morrison there is a wide gap that will either be made wider still or closed altogether before the embattled farmers embark upon the next campaign.

Possibly the success of British Labour in the Old Country elections may suggest that the Drury plan possesses the most merit.

Had the Labour Party confined its candidates to Trades Unionists it probably would not have made such a showing.

Certainly it would not have had such an able representation in Parliament.

Candidates carried the Labour banner who could not in any sense of the words be called trade unionists.

There were numerous professional men, including two of the leading K.C.'s in the British Isles, and other prominent candidates of the same calibre.

There are many who believe that if the United Farmers have any hope of being again called upon to govern Ontario after the coming election, they will have to take a leaf from the book of British Labour.

It is an open secret that some of the Cabinet material at present in use is of mediocre quality, possessing neither administrative nor Parliamentary ability, and Ontario is not likely to fail to utilise the opportunity of getting rid of them.

"500 PER CENT. YEARLY—WITH SAFETY."

This heading is a quotation from an advertisement placed in Toronto papers by a company organized locally for the purpose of selling stock in an American oil enterprise, says the Financial Post. It is only a little worse than a number of other advertisements offering shares in oil and mining ventures which are either leading the people to put their money into well-blown bubbles, or, on the other hand, are causing investors to condemn other propositions which offer good speculative opportunities in the development of Canadian resources.

And the law in Ontario makes no discrimination—at least no discrimination which cannot be overcome. The Companies Act provides certain things, but unless the offering is made by the company itself, or by another company which controls more than fifty per cent. of the stock, the act does not apply. Thus an issue may be split or a subsidiary organized and the fleecing of the public goes on merrily. As a matter of fact Provincial authorities this week brought action against a concern doing a straight business which had not tried to evade the Companies Act, but had offended on a small technicality, while others which are getting the people to put their money into holes in the ground or weird inventions or new processes, sell through a subsidiary and get away with it.

The criminal code applies in case of fraud. If it can be proven that a prospectus contains an untrue statement regarding a material fact, then a five year sentence may be imposed. But promises have nothing to do with material facts and it is not difficult to make reckless and misleading statements which cannot be proven to be untrue.

There is evidently a need in Ontario for legislative action. The fraud legislation which was submitted at last session promises to give powers, which if properly exercised, would soon put a stop to many of the present obviously fraudulent offerings. It provides for the registration of complete information, it provides that all stock salesmen shall have a license and it proposes that there shall be appointed a commissioner of companies who will see that legislation and the law are lived up to. It should be passed when the Legislature sits again.

The Financial Post has never favored "blue sky" legislation of the type which is intended to tell the people what they shall and shall not invest in—what is and is not safe. No Government will ever prevent all the people from losing their money. No Government should discourage legitimate promotions of a speculative character. But the Government should endeavor to see that misrepresentation is not permitted and that people who invest or speculate may feel assured that their money will at least be employed in an honest effort, and not to line the pockets of pirating promoters.

A GASOLINE STANDARD NEEDED.

A Civic Committee is probing Ottawa gasoline prices. If this committee can manage to cut down the disparity between the prices in Ottawa and the prices on the other side of the line, they will have accomplished something worth while. Ottawa people are naturally interested as to the results which this committee may be able to achieve, as a reduction in price would mean much in the aggregate to Ottawa pockets. Ottawa, it is estimated, purchases well over two million gallons per year.

There is, however, another matter in the gasoline line which is rather outside the jurisdiction of any local committee, but which the local municipal associations might profitably press upon the attention of the Provincial and Dominion organizations and upon Parliament. We refer to the desirability of having a standard specification for gasoline established for Canada. The subject is not new. It has been under casual consideration for a considerable period, and it has within the past year been discussed by the Engineering Standards Association of Canada, with the various oil manufacturing companies, but so far the discussions are only in the preliminary stage.

At present, the man who buys gasoline has no definite assurance as to the character or quality of the gasoline he buys. He has to take the garage man's word for it. And there is no law to prevent the vendors of gasoline selling very poor quality gas, and branding it "high grade" or any other fancy name which suggests superiority. Today in Ottawa, and in fact all over Canada, gas is sold under a variety of names, all of which are calculated to give the public the impression that the gas is of high specific gravity and general high quality. But if the gas sold should turn out to be a combination of coal oil and casing head gas, the purchaser has no recourse, as there is no law at present which fixes a specification under which gas shall be sold, and the dishonest dealer cannot be prosecuted for fraud.

There should be a standard specification. And further it would be in the interest of all parties concerned, that only one quality of gas should be manufactured or sold. A single gas of a standard quality, would help to reduce the price of gas. A standard gas would result not only in a saving to the manufacturer, but to the service station men—and consequently to the public.

Gasoline has become a commodity of life. In Canada gasoline, as a commodity, is too dear. Dear gasoline reacts against the people in many ways. And not only the owners of motor cars are concerned.

Gasoline is one of the most difficult items of merchandise for the ordinary man to be able to get a "line" on. Even with a chemist's analysis in his hands the layman cannot tell whether he is being buncoed. Baume test, distillation, refractive index, specific gravity, absorption, etc., mean little to him. What is necessary, is a carefully chosen formula, prepared by Dominion Government experts, with which all gasoline sold in Canada would have to comply. Such a plan is feasible and will undoubtedly be adopted sooner or later. The thing is to set the ball rolling.—Ottawa Journal.

THE MILKMAN TO VANISH SOME DAY

And Grocer Fill the Place That May Never Know Milkman Again.

LONDON, November 20. Canadian Press. — Some day the milkman may vanish from the earth and the grocer fill the place that may never know the milkman again. Some day in the future the milk trade, as it is in these days, may be a thing of the past, and people may obtain their milk from the grocer in a dried form. Dr. Leonard Hill made the suggestion of this possibility at a recent sitting of the National Milk Conference in London.

Dr. Leonard Hill is Director of the National Department of Applied Physiology, National Institute of Medical Research, at Mount Vernon, Hampstead, and was formerly a member of the Army Meidcal Advisory Board. He was serious in his suggestion that dried milk might yet take the place of the lacteal fluid, and he expressed himself in favor of this.

Dr. Dreyer, Professor of Pathology at Oxford, also pronounced for dried milk. He said that it was the best way out for the mass of consumers in the large cities. This was in connection with a discussion on pasteurization on which conflicting views were expressed at the National Milk Conference. Dr. Dreyer leaned towards absolute sterilization and suggested that under such a system two of the vitamines would not be impaired. If the third suffered, he said, its place could easily be taken by a few drops of orange or tomato juice. The danger of pasteurisation, one of the speakers said, was in giving false confidence. The process should be allowed only under definite control and all pasteurized milk should be sold with its age stated on the bottle.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Straus, of New York, well known advocates of pasteurization, said that they had discovered in London so-called pasteurized milk which still contained dangerous micro-organisms.

Mr. Straus advocated the use of milk bottles with rounded ends, so that they could not be left to stand open exposed to the air. Several medical officers of health made plea for more investigation before pasteurization was decided upon.

Sir Daniel Hall, Chief Scientific Advisor of the Ministry of Agriculture, expressed the view that it was "easy to be unnecessarily scared by bacteria." "Dirt in milk was a bad thing," he admitted, but what the people need is more milk."

SEAL HUNTERS MAKE FOR DESOLATION ISLE

Is in the Indian Ocean Half Way Between South Africa and Australia.

PARIS, Nov. 20.—(Associated Press.)—Kerguelen Land or Desolation Island, in the Indian Ocean halfway between South Africa and Australia, is soon to have one of its infrequent visits from the white man.

A French expedition now is being organized for a six-months stay, bent on making the biggest possible killing of sea-elephants and sea-leopards, two types of large seals found in those waters. Opposition to the trip has developed among humanitarians and scientists, for the sea-elephant in particular faces extinction. The last expedition in 1908 killed 2,249 sea-elephants in ten days work, and brought back 150 tons of valuable oil.

Kerguelen Land has a curious history. Captain Cook, the British navigator while cruising in the Antarctic Sea suddenly came upon this dreary island covered with moss and unproductive, although long thought to be underlaid with coal-beds. He landed and was about to take possession of it in the name of his King, when he found a French flag flying, raised by De Kerguelen shortly before, probably about 1772. The British sailor swallowed his disappointment and in his log-book recorded only that he had landed on "Desolation Island," ignoring the French-man's visit.

Years later an inquiry reached the French naval office, asking for information about the island of Kerguelen. The naval department searched its records, high and low, but found nothing. The question was referred to the British Admiralty with a request for an answer, which came in a few days. The island was identified by the British as the one registered on French charts as Desolation Island.

American whalers visited the island early in the 18th century, for old blubber stations with cauldrons marked "New London", were found there in 1825.

EVANGELIST MATHESON'S WORK HERE

The Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I wish to draw the attention of the members of the different churches of the city to the mission being conducted by the Rev. Wm. Matheson, evangelist, in our midst. He has been two weeks with us and we are now able to judge of the character of the man, his message and work. His mission is intended to be interdenominational. He is not working in the interest of any issue, sect or local church. He is working for the good of all the churches and solely for the object of reaching the unsaved with the message of the Gospel, and of strengthening and reviving God's own people. Mr. Matheson had a Presbyterian upbringing. He was born in a Godly home of Highland Scotch parentage in Cape Breton, and in early youth was thoroughly indoctrinated in the teaching of the shorter catechism and the word of God. The scriptures were read and family worship observed in his home twice a day. This, in part, will account for his wonderful familiarity with the scriptures and the fact that every message is saturated with scriptural quotation and allusion. He swung away from these influences and lived a very hard life for a number of years, and then God in mercy and love saved him. The story of how God laid hold of him and how he became a saved man is just as wonderful and as miraculous as the story of the conversion of Saul of Tarsus. For twenty-six years now he has walked in the new way and has given himself unreservedly to the preaching of the Evangel of Jesus.

And what a preacher he is! His style is all his own. God has made no two men alike. No two leaves of the forest are alike. God loves variety. He preaches entirely without notes. He pours himself out in the most impassioned speech for an hour and sometimes an hour and a half. He preaches the old Gospel, without either frills or fancies, with unction and power. He preaches with conviction and intense earnestness. Possibly the outstanding characteristic of Mr. Matheson is his great big heart of love. He loves men. He loves God. One notices when he is speaking of the love of God, or of a poor unfortunate sinner away in the far land, that his voice will break and he cannot restrain the tears. This, I recall, was a characteristic of Moody, and was the secret, more than anything else, of his marvellous success and power over men.

I am writing this specially to ask the presence and co-operation of the Christian people of all our churches to make this mission a success. Who can tell but God may use our brother to inaugurate a real revival movement in our city which may spread far beyond Peterborough? Many parts of Britain, Scotland and Ireland are aflame with revival. The churches there have been taking very seriously the profund disillusionment which has taken place as to the good effects of the war on the spiritual life of the nation. And as a result, in many places they have betaken themselves to prayer. And God, true to His promise, has answered "Call upon Me in the day of trouble and I will deliver thee." Will the churches of Peterborough give themselves to prayer? Surely there is need that they should. Mr. Matheson preached in St. Paul's church yesterday with wonderful power and fervor. He will preach every night in Bethany Tabernacle, which he has engaged for his meetings, until the building gets too small to accomomdate those who come. I would urge upon all Christians who read this that they come to the help of the Lord in this campaign.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for this space, I am,

Your very truly,

ROBT. POGUE.

Mr. Porter, of Listowel, Left Cavan Fifty Years Ago — Guest of T. A. Kelly.

CAVAN, Nov. 20.—Mr. Porter, a former resident of Cavan, has been visiting T. A. Kelly for the past week. His father formerly owned the part of Mr. Kelly's farm known as the Porter fifty. The log house in which they lived in pioneer days still stands on the property. It stands on a pretty knoll overlooking the road and railroad, and is approached by a pretty lane with maple trees on each side of it. The lane would add beauty to any modern home. It is fifty years since Mr. Porter left Cavan, yet he finds a few of his former school friends in the vicinity and acquaintances among the members and adherents of the Presbyterian Church, Millbrook, which he then attended. At present he is visiting the Wood family, west of Millbrook. His present home is with his daughter in the village of Attwood, near Listowel. He has retired from farming.

William Coulter of Port Perry has been spending a few days with his sister, Mrs. Eber Syer, and visiting friends in Millbrook, Pontypool and Bethany.

IN MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT

Missionary Service in the Methodist Church — Work of Thirty Years.

MILLBROOK, November 20. — A very interesting and instructive missionary service was held in the Methodist church, on Sunday morning, November 19th, when Rev. G. E. Hartwell, a member of the first party of Canadian Methodist missionaries, who went to West China, in 1891 gave an outline of the work accomplished in that great field in the last 30 years. Speaking from the text, Acts 1:8, "Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost has come upon you; and ye shall be my witnesses." Mr. Hartwell said that all missionary endeavor can only be carried on in the great dark places of the earth through the power of the Holy Spirit, for truly we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places." Of the original force of eight workers, only two, Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell, now on furlough, remain in the service, but widening vision and loyalty in the church at home, has augmented the little group into a band of one hundred and seventy-five missionaries representing the General Board. When, 31 years ago last May, the pioneer group of workers arrived in Chentu, situated 2000 miles inland, almost upon the borders of Thibet, they found conditions practically the same as they were in the time of Abraham, for the province of Sze-Chuan is cut of from the rest of China by the mountains, and it is really a kingdom by itself with a population of sixty million souls, for ten million of which the Canadian Methodist church is now held responsible. Being probably the first Westerners ever seen in the city they were looked upon not only with suspicion which deepened into hatred in the succeeding ten years, for the Chinese could not understand that the missionaries came with love in their hearts to give them the gospel message; their experience in past ages from the the hordes of barbarians who swept down from the north upon them, having instilled into their hearts a feeling of hatred for anything foreign.

Their first baptism of sorrow came within a few weeks after reaching Chentu, when Mrs. D. Kilborn died very suddenly, a victim of the plague of cholera which swept the city, carrying off 40,000 of the people before its ravages were stayed. Within three years the title of hatred and suspicion burst forth in such fury that in two days' time, by fire and other means, every building erected by the foreigners, homes, chapels, dispensaries, etc., were completely destroyed and the missionaries' lives only saved through the kindness of their poor neighbors, who hid them until finally, bereft of their possessions they were escorted out of the city like criminals and sent to Shanghai. However within seven months they were again at work and in the next four or five years had the biuldings all restored; some of the Chinese had indeed suffered persecution for aiding the missionaries, particularly those who had taught them the language; and Mr. Hartwell remarked in passing that it is much easier for workers going out to-day to learn Chinese, because there are now trained teachers, and other helps none of which were available when the first party arrived.

The second outbreak came in 1900, when the Boxer uprising again brought destruction of property, and made flight necessary; but the term "rice Christian" died out then, for many of the Chinese, even the boys and girls, remained "faithful unto death" when asked to deny the Saviour. However when the Empress Dowager, in gratitude to the powers for restoring her to Pekin, granted to the missionaries official status, there was a changed atmosphere and scarcely a city or town in a district many miles in extent that did not send leading citizens as delegates asking that churches be opened up, stating their willingness to assume all financial obligation, and their readiness to be taught. This brought great responsibility to the missionaries since only five effective men were in the field, but in 1908 the West China Christians received their first Pentecostal blessing as a result of much prayer and careful planning in meeting the situation. The revolution occurred in 1911, and since that time there has been, and still is, political chaos; however the nation will yet be united into a strong confederacy because the Chinese are of a homogenous nature and cannot be permanently divided. That all hostility towards the missoinaries has been dissipated is evidence by the fact that they were now regarded as the friends of the people, who flee to them for refuge; and the mere sight of the foreign workers walking down the the street, even when conflicting armies are right in the city, has the effect of soothing the populace. Mr. Hartwell said he has evidence that the Chinese trust the Canadians more than any other nation, believing that as they are a self-governing dominion, they have no ulterior motive toward their country and this makes all the greater the responsibility resting upon the church. Through the splendid educational system organized by Dr. E. W. Wallace, the West China church can now take care or boys or girls from the Kindergarten to the to the large University, the objective being to have each foreign doctor or other worker, multiply himself many times through the graduation of native workers in all the fields of service.

Surely the church at home will not withhold the means of carrying on the work; will not shut the door in the face of the splendid opportunities now offering, but will bid the missionaries go forward until the great province of Sze-Chuan becomes part of the Kingdom of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ.

A solo, "There is an All-Embracing Arm," by Mrs. G. W. Sayles, followed the sermon, and the pastor explained that an increase of 25 per cent. on the objective of two years ago is being asked by the missionary board, before the offering and the special missionary subscriptions were taken up.

Re-roof with Vulcanite Hexagon Slabs

You Can't Get All of These Advantages in Any Other Shingle.

Vulcanite Hexagon Slabs make a beautiful roof. The attractive hexagon design—the soft red or green colourings—and the double butt exposure all combine to make them the preferred choice of architects, builders, and home owners.

And they are as practical as they are beautiful. Special construction makes them easy and economical to lay. They are fire- and cather-resisting—and, when applied, give a durable, lasting roof that is double thick in every place.

Most of these features are patented. You can't get them in any other shingle made. Let us show you the superior qualities of genuine Vulcanite Hexagon Slabs. Estimates for your home gladly given upon request.

Vacuum Tube Developed Into Huge Power Source

Out of the small vacuum tube of the radio set engineers will be able to produce wonders not only in wireless but in other electrical fields.

The extent of these wonders can only be deduced from the great achievements already accomplished while science is only at its initial stage. One of these—the latest—is the enlargement of the tube until it can include a power that will span the ocean with its radiated waves.

J. H. Payne Jr., resarch scientist for the General Electric Company, is the man to whom credit is given for the development of this tube. Before him Dr. Irivng Langmuir had brought out a tube, six of which were used recently in the transmission of high frequency waves to Nauen, Germany.

Immense Power.

Payne's product is said to be 50 times as powerful as Longmuir's. Its power output is 40 amperes under a pressure of 250,000 volts.

J. H. PAYNE JR. AND HIS MIILLION-WATT TUBE.

Which means its capacity is 1,000,000 watts.

To conceive the immensity of this tube it may be reduced into known terms. For example, the tube weighs 60 pounds and supplies enough energy to light 1500 average homes. Its filament of tungsten, if drawn into filament the size of that in an ordinary incandescent lamp, would supply enough for 175,000 such lamps.

This tube essentially is intended for the generation and transmission of high voltage direct current and for other engineering work requiring high electrical energy. It serves as a rectifier to change alternating, or low frequency to high frequency current.

Good for Radio.

Its efficiency is rated at from 70 to 80 per cent for radio transmission. For other electrical purposes, however, it is not so high.

What wil be the end of this development of the vacuum tube, none of the engineers in the General Electric laboratories could predict.

"The practical construction of powerful tubes giveing thoroughly satisfactory operation requires a great deal more of development work," explained Dr. Langmuir in discussing Payne's invention. "It would be rash, however, to predict the limitation of the ultimate use of the vacuum tubes in the power field."

FIRE IN BUNKERS.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press).—A wireless message received Saturday night stated that the British steamship Asian of the Leyland Line, which left Thursday night for Liverpool with a cargo of miscellaneous freight, was returning to this port with a fire in her bunkers, caused by spontaneous combustion. The message added that the vessel was in no grave danger. The vessel is of 7,000 tons and has a crew of 60 men.

SHOT DAUGHTER AND SELF

REGINA, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press)—On Thursday morning after firing three rifle shots at his little daughter Stella, one of which penetrated the back of her head, George Joseph Rodd, a farmer near Penzance, Sask., placed the muzzle of the rifle in his mouth and pulled the trigger a fourt time. He died in a few minutes. The girl was taken to Regina General Hospital where the bullet was extracted and she is now making favorable progress toward recovery.

"SATURDAY NIGHT" PRAISES LOCAL SHOW

Says Asa Huycke Shows Great Ability in Creation of Attractive Lyrics.

Toronto Saturday Night has the following eulogistic reference to Mr. Asa Huycke's production:

"The Message of the Bluebird," by a clever Peterborough composer, Asa Huycke, which made a favourable impression last spring, was repeated at the Grand Opera House in that city on 1st November, and delighted its hearers even more than on the first presentation. Mr. Huycke shows great fertility in the creation of attractive lyrics and the refinement of his melodies gives them an especial appeal. The music is woven about the love story of a shepherd boy and his sweetheart, and the libretto is a vehicle for charming dances as well as songs. The presentation by a large cast of Peterborough young people was notably speedy and efficient.

Charles Darwin, famous evolutionist was very delicate and considered his days work done at noon.

WHAT A RELIEF! SLEEVE AT LAST MAKES UP MIND

Sleeves have been in a wavering, undecided state.

Word came that they were creeping wristward.

Word came that they were receding past the elbow, almost out of sight!

Then sleeves themselves came in such a wonderful new style that the argument was settled by the charm of the sleeve itself.

Here is the sleeve that settled the question.

At a glance you can see that it is capable of settling not only the question of sleeves, but of the entire style of the dress.

It has the chic and charm of the unexpected. Some sudden whim of contrariness made it tight where it used to be wide, made it loose where it used to be tight and there you have the new sleeve.

Whether it is of contrasting material, whether it is embroidered elaborately, whether it is cuffed with braid, it remains for the season at least as the smartest sleeve your dress can have!

What Won't Radio Do?

Predictions of the future possibilities of radio are running wild.

Never before in the history of any other new science have so many applications been devised for it as for wireless. It has even reached the realms of the physic in its ever increasing list of uses.

It seems every time an "expert" or "authority" on the subject says something he finds some new use for radio. Many of these applications are obvious to the layman. But there are some which require the weirdest flights of the imagination, to conceive of their possibility.

Possiblities.

Some predictions already made for radio are:

The physicians will diagnose diseases from afar.

The school will be kept and sermons delivered by radio.

That light, heat and power will be derived from radio frequency waves.

That ships, submarines, automobiles—infact, every moving object—will be controlled by radio.

That the next war will employ radio waves to do their heavy work.

And so on. But would it not be just as easy to go a step or two farther with these predictions? For instance, housewives would be glad to have their work lightened as far as possible. Why could not radio be adapted to kitchen use? Just as easy as having the waves run a tractor?

Heaven on Earth.

Also a far seeing Ponce de Leon might discover the real fountain of youth in the mysterious bulbs and coils and motors that produce these wireless waves. Dangerous gland operations would be unnecessary and the age of Methuselah would be revived.

Let your imagination fly a little higher an dobserve the real kingdom of heaven on earth, when the blind will be able to see, the deaf to hear and the lame to walk!

Perhaps that's too far-fetched. But coming down a peg or two, couldn't the blind be made to hear what others see? Like the movies, for instance? And the deaf might be permitted to see the distant radio concerts that others hear!

As for the lame, with one's imagination at such heights, it ought to be easy to conceive of a radio machine that would furnish every person with a pair of good, strong, equal-sized legs!

CANADIAN PACIFIC IS NOT IN POLITICS.

President Beatty Says It's Too Busy Hoeing Its Own Row.

TORONTO, Nov. 20—(Canadian Press).—Sweeping denials of charges and statements that Canadian Pacific Railway was interfering in politics, taking part in the radial question as it effected Toronto, or influencing Toronto newspapers, were made by Edward W. Beatty, president of the road in an address at a luncheon of business men on Saturday at the Government House. Mr. Beatty declared that the Canadian Pacific Railway was "hoeing its own row", as a corporation selling transportation, and that it was not interfering or attempting to influence the decision of citizens of Toronto or Ontario on radials or other issues.

The Canadian Pacific Railway does not attempt to exert any political influence, said Mr. Beatty. He knew of no corporation, he said, that exerted what influence it had less frequently.

Emphatically Mr. Beatty said that there was not one dollar of Canadian Pacific money at stake in any Toronto newspaper, "I don't know who owns your newspapers," he said, "If we have any protests to make they will be made frankly, honestly and publicly, and the merits you can determine for yourselves. Political intrigues and machinations are not a part of our policy, because we live by the sale of transportation."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills The Great Liver Regulators

The duty of the liver is to prepare and secret bile and serve as a filter to the blood, cleansing it of all impurities and poisons.

Therefore when the liver is inactive and failing to secrete bile in sufficient quantity constipation and other liver troubles soon follow.

Mrs. H. D. Hutchinson, Peterborough, Ont., writes:—"I have been using your Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and they have done me a lot of good.

My liver bothered me a great deal; I was drowsy and tired all the time and didn't feel like doing anything, let alone my housework, I tried everything, but your Pills seemed to do the work for better than anything I had ever taken."

CHANGE OF DATES OF LECTURES

On Literary Aspects of the Old Testament.

Hereafter these lectures will be given on Friday evenings. There will be four more lectures as follows:

Friday, November 24th and Friday, December 1st — The Law Codes in Relation to the History.

Friday, December 8th — Prophecy in Israel.

Friday, December 15th — Philosophy in Israel.

The amount of evidence given in the last two lectures has been too extensive to summarize. To state the conclusions apart from the evidence would be useless, or harmful.

An interesting indication of the difference with which the translators of the Old Testament into Greek viewed the question of inspriation from the ordinary view since the Reformation, is seen in the freedom of some of their translations, e.g.:

I King 8:12, Hebrew and English reads:

"The Lord hath said He would dwell in the thick darkness. I have surely built thee an house of habitation, a place to dwell in forever."

Here the Greek translators gave scope to a poetic impulse and expanded, thus:

"Though He appointed the Sun in the heavens,
Jehovah saith He will dwell in the thick darkness,
Build me, a house, a house
Fitting for me to dwell in for freshness."

It is is evident that had these translators held a doctrine of inspiration, similar to that of the traditional school, they would not have dealt so freely with the Scriptures. The above is by no means the only case.

First Business Women's Style Show

MRS CAROLINE RADNER LEWIS.

(By Marian Hale.)

The first fashion show, by, for and with business women, was one of the novel features of the Women's Activities Exposition, which was held in New York from Sept. 18 to 23.

The mother of the inspiration was Mrs. Caroline Radner Lewis.

She believes that business women have come to be the best dressed women on earth, and that instead of taking what the designers offer, they ought to get together and tell the designers what they want.

With that as her working foundation, she has induced several wholesale houses to submit a selection of gowns suitable for business wear and has selected a number of business women to act as models, and has arranged to have several business women lecture to fashion designers on what the well-dressed business woman wants to wear.

"This show is not to uplift the business woman, but the manufacturer," Mrs. Lewis insists.

"Fashions are designed for flappers, debutantes, society matrons and sportswomen, but rarely for business women—and yet they represent by far the largest group.

"When women first went into business they made the mistake of dressing too severely, and ever since the idea of 'business clothes' brings up a picture of severe, masculine, unlovely attire.

"They used to idealize the severe tailored suit with the white tailored blouse— an impractical and not an economical style, for it requires a perfect grooming and an immaculateness quite impossible to retain during a day's work.

"Dark frocks of silk or wool, cut on the easy new one-piece lines are infinitely more comfortable and more feminine, and easier to keep in condition.

"We propose also to show women how simply the new frocks are made and how possible it is to have them made at home by a seamstress, thus enabling one to have better material and individuality at a lower figure than good ready-made clothes cost.

"Also we are going to show the possibilities of the interchangeable wardrobe, how foundation slips may be combined with different overtunics and draperies to produce variety.

"It is the aim of our fashion show to clarify womens' ideas about what they want and what they can get, and we hope these ideas may be a revelation to the men who sell clothing."

The exposition is under the direction of the Professional and Business Womens' League, an affiliation of women associated with almost every line of work into which woman has penetrated.

NURSE THINKS NOTHING BETTER

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Advised for all Women in Poor Health

Toronto, Ontario—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for years and it is the only patent medicine I ever recommend. I am a nurse and if I find a woman is in poor health I always tell her to take it. Although you know that doctors and nurses do not use patent medicines I must say that I think there is nothing better than your Vegetable Compound. When I first took it I was so tired when I got up in the morning that I could not eat, and when I went to bed I was too tired to sleep. My mother-in-law told me that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was just what I wanted so I tried it and only took two bottles when I felt better. Since then I have found that there is nothing that makes me feel so well, for it seems to build my system right up. I don't know any other medicine that has done so much for women."—Miss. W. H. PARKER, 19 Wellesley Ave., Toronto, Ontario.

Women testify again and again that they have been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound "after other medicines have failed." It has been tried for nearly fifty years and not found wanting.

If you are suffering from any of the various ailments which accompany female weakness try it.

Many experiments here and abroad have shown that liquid hydrogen is by far the lightest of all known liquids.

HOUSE BURNED SEYMOUR EAST

Property Owned By T. J. Horkins, of Campbellford — Social Events in Campbellford.

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 20.—A frame dwelling on the Stirling road, near the 5th concession of Seymour East, was totally destroyed by fire on Saturday morning about one o'clock. The house was formerly occupied by a dairy man named Josh Anderson, later on by a Mr. Rightmire, but has been vacant for some little time. The cause of the fire is a mystery. Councillor Richard Cole, with Freeman Bailey, of the Hydro staff, were soon on the scene with a gang of volunteer firemen, but the flames had gained such headway that their efforts were fruitless. The building was owned by T. J. Horkins, of Campbellford, and will be a total loss as it is understood that no insurance was carried.

Had Good Luck.

Messrs. Dave Mitchell and Frank Labrash, both members of the Sandy Lake Deer Club, returned on Saturday, the proud possessors of a deer apiece, which is just a little better than the average hunter can boast of this year, but they have got to be travelling pretty fast to get by this pair, and it's the same old story year after year. They always bring home the venison.

Good Radio Service.

Kenneth Cairns, chief operator at the Radio Club, was able to get excellent results in connection with the score and play, during the Queen's-Varsity game on Saturday, and when the final figures came through, enthusiasts wondered what had happened the steam rollers. In fact they are still wondering.

When Winter Comes.

Tom Thomas, the big husky defence man of Campbellford lacrosse fame, was a visitor in town last week. Tom was in Belleville on business and just couldn't resist running up to see some of his old pals and take a last look at the battlefield before returning to his winter quarters.

A Social Evening.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. George Thring, Rear street on Thursday, when Mrs. Thring was hostess to the girls of her Sunday school class, twenty-one in number. During the evening Misses Glennys and Margaret Longman, who were leaving on Saturday for Streetsville, were each presented with a Bible by teacher and pupils. A very pleasant evening was spent in games, etc.

Second Prize.

Friends of Mr. Ed. O'Connor of Seymour West, will be pleased to learn that he has received second prize from the Canadian Chick Hatchery for an essay on "The Successful Raising of Baby Chicks."

Mr. McGinnis of the Hydro staff, left by motor for Toronto yesterday.

The Girl Guides.

Miss Irene Davidson very kindly opened her home last week to the Girl Guides for their regular meeting which was held on Wednesday evening instead of Tuesday. Several ladies were also in attendance for the purpose of forming a local association. After the regular work was concluded Mrs. C. W. Turner was presented by the Girl Guides with the Girl Guides' Badge of Thankfulness in recognition of her willing and valued assistance in their social activities in the past.

Mrs. Turner, who was taken by surprise, replied fittingly, after which a hearty handclap was given for Miss Glennys Longman, who was about to leave for her new home in Streetsville.

Dainty refreshments were then served, and a pleasant and profitable evening was brought to a close.

Miss Mildred McNaughton has accepted a position in Dr. H. O. Richardson's office in the Ferris Block.

Miss Nellie Davidson motored down from Toronto, and spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Davidson.

Mr. David Mitchell, of Victoria Street, was home over Sunday, and leaves for Colborne on Tuesday, where he has secured another large contract for brick work.

Special Services.

Most successful anniversary services were held on Sunday in the Methodist Church, the pastor, Rev. H. B. Kenny, preaching very practical and helpful sermons at both services, his morning address being based on the words found in Ephesians, chap. 5, verse 14. 'Awake, thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light." The evening's discourse on "Great Principles by Which Men Live," was based on Deuteronomy 8, verse 3, "Man doth not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God doth man live."

Fowl Supper.

An anniversary fowl supper will be held in the Methodist Church on Tuesday evening, 21st November. The ladies are planning to make this supper the best yet.

During the supper the band will furnish suitable musical numbers, following which an excellent programme will be rendered in the auditorium, consisting of solos, quartettes, speeches. Rev. Harold Young, M.A., B.D., of George Street Methodist Church, Peterborough, will be the chief speaker, and a treat is promised all who attend.

WINNIPEG CATTLE.

WINNIPEG, November 20. Canadian Press. — Receipts were 300 cattle and calves and 250 hogs.

There was a comparatively light volume of trade being transacted on the cattle market this morning and the current sales completed found prices holding mostly in line over the close of Friday.

The hog market remained unchanged over the close of Friday; thick smooths weighing up at $9.50 and select bacon at $10.45.

There was practically nothing doing on the sheep market due to the lack of supplies. The few fair mutton sheep which passed over the scales were held over from Friday with prices from $4 to $5.

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, November 20. Canadian Press. — There was a steady demand for cash grain in Saturday's market here, but with no change in prices, which remained firm. There is nothing new in the flour situation. A good business prevails in millfeed and the rolled oats market was active. Trade in eggs was good. Total receipts to date have been 166,091 more packages than in 1921. The cheese market was quiet. The total receipts to date have been 368,680 boxes less than in 1921.

SAGE AND SULPHER DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Colour, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural colour and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, and attractive.

Royal suction gets all the dirt

NOTICE the illustration of the laboratory test-jar shown above. It was made from an actual photograph, and shows clearly how Royal's powerful suction thoroughly removes the two kinds of dirt in rugs. The dirt that harms your rugs most is not the light surface dirt floating on the top of the water in the jar. It is the solid mass of embedded dirt at the bottom. Just as this embedded dirt sifts down through water, it works down through your rugs. Much of it is finely divided grit which gradually "cuts" the fibres—all of it is unsanitary since it forms a germ-breeding bed.

To take out this embedded dirt (and no rug is really clean until this dirt is removed) requires powerful air suction applied directly to the rug-surface. Brooms and brushes—even if motor-driven—only pick up the surface dirt, and their constant friction wears down the nap of the rug.

The suction produced by the Royal Electric Cleaner is powerful and uniform all along the extra wide 14-inch nozzle. And this nozzle not only slips into corners and under furniture easily, but it can be quickly adjusted (by means of the Royal adjusting screw) to any floor surface—from thick Chenille rugs to bare hardwood or linoleum, even concrete!

The Royal weighs barely 11 pounds—a child can carry it up and down stairs, and large rubberoid wheels, that cannot mar or scratch, make it exceptionally easy to use.

Its attachments will clean your upholstered furniture, mattresses and hangings as thoroughly as the machine itself cleans your floors. And because it cleans by air alone, the Royal cannot possibly injure even your fine rugs or fabrics.

Think of the convenience of owning such a complete housecleaning outfit!

Let us demonstrate (without cost or obligation to you) that Royal suction really gets all the dirt from rugs and fabrics. Ask to-day for a home demonstration and the particulars of our deferred payment plan.

WOMEN'S CHARM LIES IN THEIR UNEXPECTEDNESS SHE SAYS

By MARIAN HALE.

Don't expect any radical new styles to issue from Paris for the next two months—there aren't going to be any.

Because Mademoiselle Cecile Sorel, star of the Comedie Francais, and darling of French theatre-goers, who has set the styles not only in clothes, but in people and art as well for the past 20 years, will not be there to start them. She is making a two months' tour of the United States and Canada, and France must hold up its sartorial activities until she returns.

"I have launched every new style for the past 20 years," she told me. "I give to Paris, and Paris gives to the world. I am responsible for the long skirts you are struggling with today, and for the short ones you have just discarded. In Paris, the dancing craze is over and there is no reason for short skirts now."

Asked to venture some information about what is in the future for us, she refused.

"Styles are like fascinating women," she replied, "their charm lies in their unexpectedness. Clothes are never so intriguing as when they are illogical—when they make you like them and want them, even though you disapprove of them.

"When I left Paris the finest artists, designers, jewelers and manufacturers submitted to me their choicest materials to select from. All France took it upon herself to see that the 34 costumes I brought to this country should represent the very pinnacle of French artistry in dress.

"French people have great respect for the taste of Americans. They know they want only the very best. And France does not want America to become independent in the matter of fashion.

"The most startling thing I brought with me is a hat of diamond and pearls, worth $100,000."

The gowns and hat were shipped immediately to Canada, in the care of two detectives, and New York gets no glimpse of them until she returns here for her month's engagement.

When I saw her at the Ritz she was reclining on a chaise longue, with the knowing grace of a woman who reclines because it is becoming, not because she is weary, attired in a negligee of blue and silver brocade and pink satin slippers outlined with pink swansdown.

About her throat were yards of pearls and on one hand she wore a ring with an emerald the size of a plum, on the other a pearl of similar outline. The only diamonds she wore were set in her pearl earrings.

Judged by our standards, she is not beautiful, but she has the vivacity, charm, assurance and the ready wit that characterize the women of her country.

"American women are beautiful, stylish and distinguished," she said. "They are so well groomed as well as well gowned. New York is wonderful. The most vivid sensation of beauty I ever experienced was when we came up the bay."

Mademoiselle Sorel is the first visitor from France who has not complained about our prohibition(?). "Why should you drink wine?" she asked. "There is champagne in your air.

"Do not worry about styles," she assured me in parting. "I originated a number of things before I left, and when I return, I promise you the most startling inspirations of my career."

New Beauty Came

A story that millions know

Millions of people have gained new beauty through a new teeth cleaning method. You see them everywhere. Their teeth now glisten, and they show them when they smile.

If you don't know that method, make this test.

Combats the film

It is film that makes teeth dingy—that viscous film you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms cloudy coats. Tartar is based on film.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film. Under old methods, very few escaped them. Beautiful teeth were less often seen than today.

Old ways failed

No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats film. So much film remained to night and day threaten serious damage.

But dental science has now found two ways to fight that film. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then dentists everywhere began to advise their use.

A new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. These two great film combatants were embodied in it.

Fights acid, too

Pepsodent brings other much-desired effects. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth before they ferment and form acids.

Those are Nature's great tooth-protecting agents. Each use of Pepsodent gives them manifold power. These combined effects mean a new era in dental hygiene. Careful people of some fifty nations now share it, largely by dental advice.

You'll be amazed

The effects of Pepsodent are quick and apparent. They will amaze and delight you. A short test will convince you that this method is essential, both to you and yours.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

Then judge by what you see and feel. Cut out the coupon now.

But Sir Arthur would not allow the poor farmers to comfort themselves with any false hopes.

"It would be dishonest to suggest," he declared "that at the present time either remedy is practical. The agricultural interests have a comparatively small representation in the House of Commons, which is permanently urban in character. The Government may adopt some palliatives, but it will insist that agriculture must work out its own salvation on an economic basis."

MOULDING SAYS IT IS HIS FAMILY MEDICINE

"Tanlac has done my wife and myself so much good that we have made it our family medicine," says Frederick Moulding, 2513 17th St., Southwest, Calgary, Alberta.

"As for myself, I had been feeling just about half sick for some time. My appetite was very poor, nothing tasted right, and what I did eat seemed to do me little good. Although I was working every day I never felt hungry and my energy and strength was slipping right away from me.

"Two or three years ago my wife was troubled somewhat the same way. She had no appetite, was all run down and very nervous. After taking a few bottles of Tanlac she was so improved that all the neighbors spoke about it.

"Knowing what Tanlac did for my wife I, of course, took it myself, and it has helped me just like it did her. I now eat three rousing meals a day and relish every bite and have an appetite that never fails me. That tired feeling is gone and my old time strength and energy have come back to me. My wife and myself both think Tanlac is great."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

LAKEFIELD HUNTERS HAD GOOD RUN LUCK.

Most of Them Brought Home Their Allotment of Deer and a New Crop of Stories.

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 20. — The hunting season of 1922 is now at an end, the hunters have acquired their allotment of game, and a brand new stock of hunting stories to regale their friends.

While some parties had good luck this year, others had very poor success, but the average was good.

Messrs. W. A. Payne, Walter Hamblin and John Botterill, who made their headquarters at the old depot on the Apsley Road, returned with two fine deer.

The Burleigh Ranch Hunt Club reported three deer about the middle of last week; they hope the last few days will see the number added to considerably.

The Fraser-Moore party, who hunted at Jack's Lake, had good luck and had eight deer when last heard from.

The Payne-Spence party, who made their headquarters at Pakesley in the Parry Sound district, returned on Friday with twelve fine deer.

An Apsley party, which numbered several Yankees, hunted at Jack's Lake with great success. Besides having their full share of deer, they also had secured three black bear.

The Lakefield members of the Toronto-Lakefield party, who for several seasons have hunted in the Parry Sound district, returned on Friday with their full quota of deer. The Lakefield men were: Dr. S. J. Gibson, N. Wannamaker, and A. J. Kidd.

John Blewett and sons, who hunted at Burleigh, had very poor luck this year.

VALUABLE DOG DEAD RESULT POISONING.

Was Used to Draw the Mail a Distance of Twelve Miles from Bala to Port Carling.

Mr. J. Martin, 138 Lock Street, foreman of the Ontario Public Works at Port Carling, lost a very valuable dog, through poisoning, last Wednesday.

The dog was formerly owned by a mail-carrier, and drew the mail from Bala to Port Carling, a distance of 12 miles, through every kind of weather. The dog was bought last spring for a companion to their little boy, and the two had become greatly attached to each other. He was brought to Peterborough Thursday, November 9, and because of his unusual size, Mrs. Martin had to pay 55 cents excess baggage.

The first time "Sport," who had given such excellent service in carrying the mail, was let out alone, he returned home very sick. Dr. T. Johnstop, V.S., was summoned and pronounced it a case of strychnine poisoning. Within a few hours he was dead. Little John Martin is inconsolable over the loss of his playmate.

CABIN PASSENGERS LINER MAROONED

Were Put Ashore on Grosse Island For Fear of Infection — Made Comfortable.

QUEBEC, Nov. 20. — When the Canadian Pacific liner Montclare reached Grosse Island from Liverpool it was found necessary that the cabin passengers be held temporarily for observation owing to case of infection being reported enroute Quebec. Every comfort and convenience being given cabin passengers. The Montclare will sail schedule time next Frday. When the cabin passengers were put ashore on Grosse Isle they found building for their reception not furnished and absolutely without proper equipment to take care of 220 cabin passengers. This was brought to attention of Capt. Latta, who immediately ordered necessary bedding transported to the shore, and not only this but he had to supply ship's stores for the feeding of these marooned passengers, and at same time send ashore the ship's cooks, stewards and nursing staff etc. This entails a very large expense on the company, but not withstanding that the Canadian Pacific waved all expense their first and only thought being the comfort and good accommodation of their passengers. The cabin passengers including many prominent Canadians were most expressive in their commendations of Capt. Latta and the officers.

ENGLISH FARMERS UP AGAINST IT!

Reported That Agriculture Cannot Be Made to Pay on Old Lines.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(Associated Press.) — "Agriculture cannot be made to pay any longer in England on the lines followed in the past under present conditions," said Sir Arthur Boscawen in the last speech he made as Minister of Agriculture. While he was talking to the members of the Farmers' Union about the hard times that were inevitably in store for the majority of them, Premier Lloyd George handed in his resignation to the King and Sir Arthur automatically became an ex-Minister.

His speech, as he admitted himself, contained only "cold comfort for those who had to get their livings from the land." Some farmers, he prophesied, would go under, and there would be acute distress in the country districts before prosperity could return.

"There may be a future for the dairy farmers," he said, "and live stock farming generally may be able to pay fairly well in time, but for the arable afrmers—the corn growers—I can see only a gloomy outlook." Referring to the views of one of his predecessors in office, he said: "Lord Ailwyn probably was right in thinking that much arable land will become grass; that the rural districts will be depopulated, and that there will be great misery among farmers and their laborers.

According to his own survey of the state of agriculture, its future seemed to lie in large farms in favorable districts, cultivated as cheaply as possible, with patches of intensively cultivated land.

"What can the government do?" he asked. "Theer are only two remedies—protection or subsidies."

The farmers showed plainly which of the two remedies they preferred by cheering loudly the mention of "protection," and greeting "subsidies" with vociferous cries of dissent.

New and Interesting Facts from Science and Life

Super-Microscope Is New Aid in War on Disease

The New Super-Microscope That Magnifies More Than Twelve Million Times.

DARK LIGHT" in the form of invisible ultra-violet rays has been recruited to the aid of science in its relentless warfare upon disease to reveal new knowledge about microbes. This powerful new weapon now at the disposal of scientists is used in connection with a super-microscope by which living bacilli can be magnified 12,250,000 times. This is more than twelve times greater than that of the previously most powerful magnifying instruments that could only reveal disease germs as dyed and shriveled corpses.

In the new instrument ultra-violet rays, produced by an electric spark, are condensed through a quartz lens, then split up by quartz prisms. One of the rays is then reflected upward through the slide to be examined by the microscope with the attached camera.

THE perfection of science's super-microscope by D. J. E. Barnard, who is at the head of the British National Institute of Medical Research, makes possible the study of microbe-bred diseases in a manner almost undreamed of. Only a short time ago the accurate results obtained by the newest super-microscope were considered just as visionary as these possibilities of the future may seem today. For years the microscope has been limited to a useful magnification of 1000 diameters, or an enlargement of a million times. Beyond that point it has started to break up light itself, giving a larger image but no more details.

How Dr. Barnard preserves details along with greatly increased magnification, is described in Popular Science Monthly by Wilfred S. Ogden. By the employment of ultra-violet light, the microbes are shown in relief, because they are less transparent to ultra-violet rays than to ordinary light.

Minute markings, never before disclosed, can now be studied. In fact, the results so far obtained by Dr. Barnard by the use of ultra-violet rays seem to open up possibilities for the observation and photography of figures and events in the mysterious microscopic realms of the universe.

In his experiments Dr. Barnard first used violet light, then the ultra-violet rays that gave him still better detail; and now he is experimenting with "soft" X-rays—weak X-rays that do not penetrate bone—the wave length of which is shorter than that of the ultra-violet rays. Possibly it will be only a matter of time before radiographs will be available, revealing heretofore hidden details in the structure of these microscopic enemies of man.

"Resolution depends upon two principal factors," explains Mr. Ogden. "One is the diameter of the aperture of the objective, which governs the amount of light admitted. The other factor is the wave length of the light used. The wave lengths of the different colors that constitute white light vary. As we approach the violet end of the spectrum the wave lengths become shorter. Those of ultra-violet rays are extremely short, and those of radium rays the shortest known.

"In his experiments Dr. Barnard met and overcame a number of obstacles. First, ultra-violet rays will not pass through ordinary optical glass, and it was necessary to construct all the microscope lenses of quartz or fluorite crystal, to permit their passage.

"Since ultra-violet light is invisible, its presence is only made manifest by its effect on a photographic plate or on a fluorescent surface. This necessitated a special eye-piece fitted with a fluorescent disk and (in the case of photo micrographs) specially prepared photographic plates with a minimum amount of gelatin on the surface, as gelatin is also impervious to the rays. Again, for certain powers of magnification, it was found necessary to insert glycerin between the object and the microscope, to occupy what would otherwise be an air space, thus providing continuity for the rays between the quartz condenser, the quartz slide containing the specimen, and the objective. Glycerin possesses about the same refractive index as quartz crystal, and permits passage of ultra-violet rays.

"To obtain an idea of the instrument as a whole, picture a powerful microscope, with all lenses and other portions through which invisible ultra-violet rays have to pass, of quartz crystal. Where in the ordinary microscope the eye-piece would be, is a camera, mounted on a vertical rod so that it can be swung round. On the same shaft is mounted a special eyepiece—known as the 'fluorescent ocular'—for the purpose of focusing.

"Dr. Barnard uses a two-inch electric spark between electrodes consisting preferably of cadmium or osmium, to obtain the ultra-violet rays. By means of a complex arrangement of prisms, not only is the visible spectrum of the spark obtained, but the ultra-violet rays, in which there is a considerable range of wave lengths, are separated so that rays of only one wave length may be employed.

"Thus, after the rays from the spark have been condensed through a quartz lens, they pass on through two quartz prisms that split them into their various wave lengths. One of the rays is caught and thrown upward into the microscope by a quartz reflecting prism and so on to the object under examination. The photo micrograph is taken by the camera in the usual manner."

World's Greatest City Is Richest Copper Field

THE richest copper mine in the world, with veins of pure electrolytic copper stretching in every direction, lies, not in South America, Mexico or the Rockies, but right under the streets of New York City. Proof of this statement was revealed at a recent electrical show in New York City, where a cross-section of a street corner gave a faint idea of the vast quantity of the red metal that has been put in the streets during the past forty years as the electric light service of the city has been extended. The value of this copper and of the lead sheathing that protects the circuits runs into millions of dollars. Add to this the value of the telephone and telegraph wires and the sum reaches stupendous proportions.

The cross-section of a city street shows a manhole, the ducts through which the cables are drawn, and reveals just how underground construction is carried out. Another underground section shows a sample of the first underground distribution system in the world, that put under the streets of downtown New York forty years ago when Thomas Edison built the first electric lighting station in New York. Compared with the present method this old exhibit seems crude indeed, but as a result of its success New York is now a city of clear streets, unencumbered by ... and overhead wires.

HAVE YOU a "HEARING" or a "SEEING" MEMORY

HOW do you do your remembering? Well, you just remember, or to be quite accurate, you sometimes remember, and that is all you know about it. Now "memorizing" is generally done in one of two quite distinct ways, either with a "mind's eye" or a "mind's ear." That is, while some persons, in "remembering" anything, say, the title of a book, try to picture a sheet of paper with the words on it, others imagine the words being repeated to them. Putting it shortly, some persons "hear" a memory, others "see" it.

Many are very proud of telling their friends what splendid memories they have, when as a matter of fact, they haven't! For instance, get someone to read over the first paragraph of this article to you if you have a "hearing memory," or have a good look at it, if you have a "seeing memory." Then try to write it again for yourself.

It is quite likely that you will get it more or less correct, but that will be due not to your memory at all, but to your reason, which will have thoroughly taken in its sense, and then helped you to put it together again.

What would have been a test of real memory and nothing else would be to get someone to translate the paragraph into a language you don't understand at all, look at it, and then write it down yourself.

It would make no difference at which end of the line you began, or even whether you started at the end, for your reason being able to give you no help with a language you didn't understand, you would have to rely simply upon your memory.

If you try to remember even four sets of three figures each, say 418, 549, 203, and 693, by the time you have set the last down on your mental slate the first will be very hazy indeed.

The trouble is that you have such a large stock of "memories" in your mind that when any particular one is demanded, say, the kind of silk your wife told you to get her, you have to fumble in the pigeon-holes of your mind before you can produce the right one.

Some persons have a trick of using words rather loosely. For instance, you may say: "I remember the scene quite well," when you mean either, "I have a perfect image of the scene before me," or "I can, if I wish, produce an image of the scene."

The difference between these is what scientists call a "memory act," and "dispositional memory." What you mean is: "In its proper pigeon-hole in my mind is a record of the scene. Shall I get it out?"

Have you ever thought of a "long-distance memory"? The writer met a man with whom he was at school 20 years ago. Instantly there came to him the sound—he has a "hearing" memory—of one particular line of Greek verse learned at school. The writer has forgotten his Greek—he doesn't know what the line means—and it is the only line he remembers, and then only after a lapse of 20 years.

The explanation is that the memory had some special reason for noting that one line in connection with that particular friend—perhaps just then they got caned, who knows?—but there across the gulf of years came floating the absurd ghost of one meaningless line, resurrected by the appearance of a friend with whom it must have been in some way associated.

How FLOWERS Tell TIME of DAY

THERE are several varieties of plants which foretell changes in the weather, while not a few of them indicate the time of day often with unerring accuracy. A botanist points out the following examples of time-telling plants:

When the flowers of the common chickweed expand fully, no rain need be anticipated for four hours or more. But should its small flowers be half-concealed, it is advisable to prepare for rain.

When the flowers of the Siberian sow-thistle remain open all night, it is a sign that rain will fall the following day.

If by 7 o'clock in the morning the African marigold has not opened its petals, prepare for rain during the day. The scarlet pimpernel and the convolvulus always fold their leaves upon the approach of wet weather.

The flowers of the alpine whitlow-grass, the feverfew, and the winter-green have a peculiar habit of hanging down during the night as if they were asleep. This act serves to protect the fertilizing dust from injury by moist air or rain.

In addition to these there is a variety of flowers that close and open at certain hours with remarkable regularity.

The flowers of the goat's beard open every morning at dawn and close regularly about noon.

In the Malay states there is a 4 o'clock plant which opens its flowers at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and closes them exactly 12 hours later.

The flower of the common dandelion possesses a peculiar means of sheltering itself from the power of the sun. It closes its petals entirely when the heat becomes excessive. It has been observed to open in summer at half-past 5 in the morning, and to collect its petals toward the centre at about 9 o'clock at night.

LIGHT COLORS the PEACOCK'S TAIL

A FILM of oil dropped on the pavement by an errant automobile contains the same color values as the highly decorative tail feathers of the peacock, according to Dr. Wilder D. Bancroft of Cornell University, speaking at a recent meeting of the American Chemical Society.

"Everybody has noticed the brilliantly colored patches on the pavements where automobiles have spilled oil," said Dr. Bancroft. "The colors range from red to gold to blue, and are very vivid or metallic. They change with the angle at which one sees them, and they are not due to pigments, since we have a thin film of a nearly colorless oil. These colors are due to the interference of light reflected from the upper and lower surfaces of the film, and they depend on the thickness of the film, which averages about one-fifty-thousandth of an inch. They are more vivid when oil is spilled on an asphalt pavement than when on a dirt road, because there is less disturbing light reflected from the black background.

"The brilliant colors of the tail feathers of the peacock and the apparently self-luminous reds in the throat feathers of the humming bird are not due to pigments. When one looks through a peacock's feathers one sees only a brown, due to the so-called melanin pigment, which is equivalent to the asphalt pavement. In all the iridescent feathers the barbules are flattened plates of brown, which therefore give the colors of thin films. The structure is so marked that an expert can pick out the iridescent feathers in the dark by the feel.

"It is possible to duplicate the color effects of the peacock and the humming bird by putting a very thin coat of varnish over any dark feather; but we cannot regulate the thickness with such accuracy as to produce the patterns of the peacock. When one considers that variations in thickness of a hundred-thousandth of an inch may change the color completely, it seems marvellous that all the tail feathers of all the peacocks can be so nearly alike.

"The neck feathers of the white pigeon show practically no iridescence because the dark background is lacking. If they are dyed brown, the iridescence appears in full force. On the other hand, the white peacock is not an albino in the sense of merely having no dark pigment. The whole structure of the feathers has changed. The barbules are not flat plates and consequently no brilliant colors can be developed by dyeing the feathers brown or painting the back with India ink."

CACTUS as FODDER

IN those parts of the country where, in the neighborhood of sugar factories, wide areas of land overgrown with cactus are available, the slicing machine and the pulp drier at the sugar works may be used for converting the cactus into a fodder.

The cactus is exposed to a torch to burn the thorns away and then carried to the slicing machine with specially formed knives. These slices are then dried, and if desired they may be ground to a coarse powder. During the slicing part of the juice is pressed out and may be collected separately. It can be converted to a substitute of gum arabic, which is probably a salt of the meta-arabic acid. The yield of dry material is about 11 per cent. of the raw cactus, according to the Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry.

MUSK as a MEDICINE

MUSK is used by Chinese apothecaries in compounding medicine, especially for children. It is also much in favor among Chinese as a perfume. As a base for general perfume it has the effect of making them more lasting.

While the musk pod is by far the most valuable part of the deer, yet its worth and utility does not end there. The venison is esteemed a great delicacy. Among other kinds of flesh, the Chinese place venison from the musk deer first. The hide is also of commercial value, being remarkable for its softness.

The musk ox of the north is destined, in the opinion of a celebrated arctic explorer, to attract greater attention as a useful animal. Its fleece is considered by experts to be of as good a quality as sheep's wool, and its flesh has long been known to be wholesome and palatable, and the only meat worth mention that is available to the few human inhabitants of the frozen plains of Greenland and the great barren reaches of the northern latitudes where the musk ox dwells.

To FLY from SAN FRANCISCO to NEW YORK in EIGHT HOURS

WILL it soon be possible to fly from San Francisco to New York in eight hours?

When Maj. R. W. Schroeder, who made the first really epoch-marking altitude flight in an airplane, he had an experience, flying regularly from McCook Field, Dayton, which is illuminative in this regard. He rose to an altitude of some six miles, and headed his plane due west. He flew for an hour and a half at 100 miles and more per hour, and when he returned to terra firma he landed—200 miles east of Dayton. This indicated a gale from the west of some 300 miles per hour at the altitude in question; and subsequent flights by Maj. Schroeder and others have verified that this wind always blows, and maintains an average speed of something like 250 miles per hour.

"By natural extension of the meaning of the term," a writer in The Scientific American explains, "this constant gale from the west at the seven-mile level has been termed the anti-trade wind, and the region of the atmosphere in which it is to be found the anti-trade zone.

"Maj. Schroeder now comes to the fore with a suggestion that practical use be made of this wind. He would start from San Francisco in an airplane, ascend to the anti-trade zone and head his ship east at all the speed of which it is capable. The air-line distance to New York would be 2600 miles. The most probable value for the average combined speed of wind and plane seems to be 346 miles per hour. At this rate the daring flyer could land in New York in eight hours—if he did not freeze to death en route. Oxygen tanks and all other appurtenances of this extreme high-flying would have to be carried, and the passenger-capacity of a trade-wind plane would be rather cut into by this necessity; nevertheless, if some daring pioneer like Maj. Schroeder should demonstrate that the thing is possible, we have no doubt that the means of carrying passengers in safety would be forthcoming, and, as well, the passengers to be carried. It would be quite a sensation to breakfast in San Francisco and dine the same evening in New York. Unfortunately, the return trip could hardly be made in the same time.

"Without going at all into details, we may say in a general way that the persistence of the trade and anti-trade winds is due in part to the heating of our atmosphere by the sun, and in part to effects of the earth's rotation. It is perhaps not altogether superfluous to point out that, save for its effect in working up a wind that blows steadily from one quarter at 250 miles per hour, the earth's rotation plays no part in aviation, and its velocity does not enter into the calculations of the aviator save as an insignificant second-order effect.

"Whether he stand beside his plane at the starting point, or sit in the cockpit in flight seven miles up, the aviator is part of what Einstein would call the 'earth-system,' and partakes in its motion. The only effect of his detachment from the surface is that he preserves the surface rotation-component of 1047 miles per hour, carrying this up with him into a zone where the 'circumference' is greater and hence the rotation slightly faster. As a matter of fact, at an altitude of seven miles the earth's circumference is about 45 miles greater than at the surface, and the speed of rotation hence about two miles per hour greater. The aviator would therefore, if all other influences were absent, fall only two miles behind (west of) his San Francisco starting point for every hour spent in the air."

P.C.I. Rugby Team Won Eastern Intermediate Championship

PETES PUT UP A GAME FIGHT BUT LOST OUT

Breaks Went Against the Local O. R. F. U. Team and Strathconas Broke Through to Win.

SCORE WAS 24 TO 1.

The overwhelming score of 24 to 1 which the Strathconas piled up against the local O.R.F.U. intermediates on Saturday afternoon was no indication of the game played by the Petes. Dick Sheehy and his gang played a good, steady game, and with the exception of three fumbles, every one of which proved costly, presented a stonewall defence. The line held well and tackled well and comment was heard from many quarters to the effect that the local boys deserved a victory rather than a defeat.

The first serious set-back for the locals came in the opening period of the game when Brooks received an injury that put him out of the play. Mike Sheehy was shifted to quarterback to fill the vacancy, and was himself replaced by McLeod later in the game. Both gave good accounts of themselves and both deserve credit for the manner in which they filled a difficult position.

Stewart's play in the first game with the Strathconas had evidently given them a good respect for his ability, for he was watched more closely than any other member of the Peterborough team, a fact which prevented him tearing big holes in the opposing lines in his usual fashion.

George Rutherford and Gifford showed some nice work on the line, while McLeod's work in the backfield was by far the best on the field. Northey, though he was only in the game for a short time, did some good work while he was there. Though these were the outstanding players, the whole team deserved credit, for they were right up on their toes all the time, and in spite of the adverse score put up a battle that the Strathconas will remember for some time.

One thing that the game showed above all else is the fact that Peterborough has the nucleus of a championship team. Saturday's defeat put them out of the running for this season, but with the present players and other material which is being developed next year's team will be one which will travel some distance on the road to Provincial honors. They played well together Saturday, and with but a little more seasoning will make a team to be reckoned with.

Line-up:

Strathconas—Flying wing, McCormack; halves, Harris, Lloyd, Virtue; quarter, McEwen; wings, Matheson, McBride, Lappin, Flint, Anderson, Hendry, McCraw.

Peterborough—Flying wing, McLeod; halves, Northey, Stuart, Sheehy; quarter, Sloan; wings, Turnbull, Batten, Gifford, Rutherford, E. Sheehy, G. Lyon, Pogue.

Referee—Briscombe.

Umpire—Bee.

DE LAVAL HUMBLED HIGHTY RAYBESTOS.

McLeod's absence cost the Raybestos another defeat on Saturday, losing to the hard hitting Separator gang by the score of 12 to 11. The Raybestos swung their bats in the first few innings in a manner which promised to spoil Pirie, the De Laval twirler's, afternoon. The Raybestos had chased ten runs when the De Laval bunch woke up. The De Laval opened up in the fourth inning, scoring four runs. The Raybestos scored what proved to be their best one in the fifth. The De Laval came back strong in the seventh, getting four more. In the eighth they sent two across, and in the ninth two more, winning the game.

The players were:

Raybestos—Ranger, c; Russell, p; Courcey, 1b; Wolfe, ss; Abbot, lf; Byers, 3b; Kay, rf; G. Russell, ss; Van Peer, 2b.

De Laval—Perks, ss; Fitzgerald, rf; Frick, 1b; Bell, 2b; Doughty, 3b; McGee, c; McIntyre, lf; Marchen, ss; Pirie, p.

Score by innings:

Raybestos ..... 330410000—11
De Laval ..... 000400422—12

YOST MAY RETIRE AS ACTIVE COACH

Rumor Has It That the Veteran Who Has Been Head Football Coach For 22 Years Will Retire.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 20.—Is Fielding Yost to retire as head football coach at the close of the present season? Gossip around the campus is in the affirmative.

Yost, who is now director of all athletics at Michigan, has been in charge of football activities as head coach for 22 years.

It is hinted that if all goes well at Michigan this year, and at the present time things are flourishing, Yost will turn the football worries over to his assistant, George Little. Of course, Yost will continue to act in an advisory capacity as director of athletics.

Yost has an enviable record as football coach at Michigan. He certainly put the Maize and Blue on the map from a sporting standpoint.

Yost came to Michigan in 1901. He probably won his greatest fame in his first four years at Michigan. His teams from 1901 to 1905 were practically invincible. Those were the day of the "point-a-minute" elevens.

Michigan in the first four years of Yost regime won 55 out of 57 games, tying one and losing the other. Minnesota in 1903 played the Wolverines to a 6 to 6 tie, while Chicago in 1905 beat Michigan, 2 to 0, because of a "bone" play on the part of Denny Clarke, which permitted Chicago to score a safety.

During his first five years at Michigan Yost's teams scored 2790 points to the opposition's 42, a most remarkable record, that probably will never be equalled in collegiate circles.

Thus it is easy to see that Yost has had more than his share of glory and he is willing, yes anxious, to step down when he finds someone he believes will fill the bill. Looks very much as if he had that man in George Little, his present assistant.

PACKERS WON FINAL SOCCER GAME OF YEAR

Yeotes Cup Was Presented to the De Laval Team After Saturday's Football Game.

TWO GOOD TEAMS.

The C.P.C. Junior soccer team, winners of the Burnham Shield, and the De Laval eleven, winners of the Yeotes Cup, met at Riverside Park Saturday afternoon for the final soccer game of the season. The honors went to the Packers, who pulled out a victory with a 2 to 1 score after a hard battle.

Both teams fielded their best elevens, and one of the best and fastest games of the season was witnessed by an enthusiastic crowd.

The C.P.C. commenced with a nice combination movement by Anderson and Mitchell, who played a good game together and tested Frick with some fine shots. Anderson found the net on one occasion, but was ruled off-side.

The De Laval, playing a long passing game, made an excursion into the Packers' territory and Wallace saved a dandy shot from Bell. In the next attack Feeley found the net for De Laval, the ball being too slippery for Wallace to handle properly on a difficult shot.

The Packers then took the offensive and Killenbeck scored, followed closely by Chambers, both men scoring with good shots after some fine play. The first half ended with the score 2 to 1 for the Packers.

On resuming play, the Packers again pressed the attack and found the net early in the play, only to be ruled off-side again. Frick, in this period, had a very busy time and in spite of a continuous bombardment of his goal put up such a wonderful exhibition that not a counter got past him. The De Laval failed to develop a strong attack in this period, and after strengthening their defence were able to hold the Packers at bay. The game ended with the C.P.C. in possession of the large end of a 2 to 1 score.

The players were:

C.P.C.—Wallace, Davidson, Curtis, J. Downer, T. Ball, Shadgett, F. Ball, Mitchell, Killenbeck, Edwards, Anderson and Chambers.

De Laval—Frick, Ashmore, Ward, Hayward, Cooper, Marchen, Bell, Evans, Smith, Elliott and Feeley.

Referee—S. Calladine.

After the game Louis Yeotes presented the Yeotes Cup to the De Laval team, who had won it the week before. He congratulated the winning team on the fine games they had played to win the trophy, and also congratulated the C. P. C. for the excellent spirit they had shown in the contest. Johnny Ward, captain of the De Laval team, received the cup, and in a very appropriate speech thanked the donor for the trophy and paid a fine tribute to the sportsmanship displayed by the Packers, even though defeated in the race for the cup.

P. C. I. CHAMPIONS OF EASTERN ONTARIO INTERCOLLEGIATE RUGBY

Defeated Oshawa High School at Oshawa on Saturday Afternoon in Fast Game.

SCORE WAS 17 TO 6.

The Peterboro Collegiate Institute team captured the championship of the Eastern Ontario section of the Interscholastic O.R.F.U. and qualified for the semi-finals at Oshawa on Saturday when they defeated Oshawa High School 17 points to 6 in the second game of the series.

It was a neat win for Coach Browne's clever outfit for the weather and field conditions were decidely against P.C.I. who depend a lot on speed and dodging ability of their back division. The game was played in a drizzling rain and the field was very greasy, the treacherous footing of the wet, slippery ball making the winners style of attack difficult to execute. On a dry field they would undoubtedly have won by a bigger margin for half a dozen times they skirted Oshawa's ends on combination runs only to have the ball carrier slip in the mud when he was clear away.

Oshawa put up a stubborn battle showing to much better advantage than in the first game at Peterboro. Williams improved their back division materially and Clarke's fine punting was of invaluable assistance. At half time P.C.I. were only a point in front with a 6 to 5 score and Oshawa tied the count early in the second half. From then on however, P.C.I.s' superiority asserted itself and they had the game well in hand until the final whistle.

In spite of the slippery going, Jack Fanning and Ernie Legon, who played back for Oshawa's kicks gave a grand exhibition of back field work. Each of them had a half dozen long runs to his credit and the manner in which they shook off or dodged tackles was a revelation to the Oshawa spectators. Fanning has improved a hundred per cent. since last season, while Legon is going in sensational style, and the work of the two is a treat. Mulholland's steady generalship, good running and fine punting were a great help and Bookhout's line plunging featured. Young gave a fine exhibition at quarter and the line were all good with Stacey's bucking and Johnston's tackling standing out. Johnston stopped play after play directed at his end by neat tackling, until Oshawa quit sending the ball carrier in his direction. The P.C.I. line had numerous occasions to show their defensive ability and they made good at every test. Four times they held Oshawa for downs when close to Peterboro's line, refusing to yield the few yards that would have meant a score for the losers.

For Oshawa, Clarke's good catching and kicking made him easily the most useful man on the line up. Williams who did not play in Peterboro was the best running half the losers had, but he seldom got away from the deadly tackling of the Collegiate crew. Jamieson, the little flying wing was the best tackler for Oshawa and he was down fast under every kick.

Referee Davis was late in arriving and Mr. Althouse of Oshawa High School, handled the game satisfactorily until the appointed official put in an appearance.

By periods the score was:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th
P.C.I.	6	0	5	6	—17
Oshawa	2	3	1	0	— 7

The teams:

Oshawa

Flying wing—Jamieson.
Halves—Clarke, Williams, W. Irwin.
Quarter—Bouckley.
Snaps—McKay.
Inside wings—Nott, Farwell.
Middle wings—Brown, Beath.
Outside wings—Grant, W. Hubbell.
Subs—D. Irwin, Jackson, Kohen, Miller, Sprung, C. Hubbell.

Peterboro.

Flying wing—Legon.
Halves — Fanning, Mulholland, Bookhout.
Quarter—Young.
Snap—Cowan.
Inside wings—Fleming, Eastwood.
Outside wings—Johnston, Hay.
Subs—McColl, Parrington, Maniece, E. Rye, W. Rye, Menzies.
Referee—Davis, Toronto.
Umpire—Kewley, Oshawa.

Oshawa were off-side on the kick off and the Petes were given possession of the ball at centre and immediately started to carry the pressure to Oshawa. Line plays and end runs made good gains, that were negatived by offsides that several times cost them fifteen yards. They continued to press, however, and finally from Oshawa's thirty yard line a combination run by P.C.I.'s back division enabled Legon to skirt Oshawa's right end and sift through three or four tackles for a pretty try, which Mulholland just missed converting. P.C.I. 5, Oshawa 0.

Play continued in Oshawa's territory, although Clarke was kicking splendidly for Oshawa. A spectacular run from Centre by Fanning carried the play to Oshawa's twenty five yard line, and after two line plays were stopped, Mulholland boote to the dead line for a single. P.C.I. 6, Oshawa 0.

Oshawa's gained their yards when they put the ball into play at their quarter and then when Fanning missed a long kick from Clarke, Oshawa recovered the loose ball at Peterboro's 40 and were in possesion for the first time in P.C.I. territory. The Peterboro crew stopped three line plays in great style, recovering the ball, but Oshawa regained the oval again when Mulholland's kick was blocked. Once more the Petes line held like a rock and Oshawa lost on downs when within scoring range.

A fumble gave Oshawa the ball at Peterboro's thirty yard line and a punt by Clarke, Peterboro recovered two yards from their own line. On the first down, Cowan snapped the ball over Mulholland's head, the mishap costing Peterboro two points for the ball rolled to the dead line and Oshawa were given a safety touch. P.C.I. 6, Oshawa 2.

Peterboro were in possession on their quarter line, when the second period opened and started off in great style, Legon shooting around the end and gaining thirty five yards and an extension run by the Peterboro halves gained fifteen more. A fumble, however, gave Oshawa possession and Clarke's long punt carried the play in Peterboro territory, where it remained for the rest of the period. Oshawa, however, could make little impression through the Peterboro line. William did squirm through once and carried the ball to Peterboro's ten yard line, but P.C.I. hurled back three plunges in the shadow of their own goal posts, and recovered the ball. Oshawa continued to press, however, and Clarke booted to the dead line for a point. P.C.I. 6, Oshawa 3.

A little later Clarke again drove a long one to the dead line. P.C.I. 6, Oshawa 4.

A combination run with Bookhout on the end enabled the Peterboro half to gallop thirty yards, but Referee Davis pronounced the last pass forward and the ball was given to Oshawa at Peterboro's quarter. Two delayed bucks failed to gain for Oshawa and on the third down Clarke punted to the dead line, P.C.I. 6, Oshawa 5. Half time was called a minute after.

Oshawa tied the score early in the third period when a badly snapped ball gave them possesion at Peterboro's quarter and Clarke once more hoisted one over for a single. P.C.I. 6, Oshawa 6.

Then Peterboro rallied and took command of the game again. They got a break when Clarke muffed Mulholland's long kick at centre and Young dropped on the ball. The Petes then started their march to victory. On a fake-play Young shot through the right side of Oshawa's line for twenty yards. On passing run, Legon tore round Oshawa's left end for twenty more. Fanning on the next play carried the ball to Oshawa's three yard line and on the first down, Stacey plunged over for a try. Mulholland failed to convert at a very difficut angle. P.C.I. 11, Oshawa 6.

From then P.C.I. had the game well in hand. There was no further scoring in the third period, but early in the fourth quarter, Legon added another point when he took one of Clarke's punts at Oshawa's thirty yard line and returned it over Oshawa's line, the Peterboro wings forcing a rounge. P.C.I. 12, Oshawa 6.

Beautiful runs my Fanning and Legon kept the play in Oshawa's territory but chance to score were spoiled by offsides or fumbles. Finally, however, Legon grabbed a punt at Oshawa's thirty five yard line and fooling the Oshawa wings by faking a kick carried the ball to Oshawa's three yard line. Fanning bucked over the first down but Oshawa claimed he advanced the ball after it was dead. Referee Davis allowed the claim and it was Peterboro's ball a yard out on the second down. Once more Fanning was called upon and he crashed through for a try. Mulholland did not convert, althought he made a good attempt from a difficut angle.

Time was called before the ball could be put in play again. Final—P.C.I. 17, Oshawa 6.

CARDINAL MERCIER ILL.

BRUSSELS, November 20. Canadian Press. — Cardinal Mercier, Primate of Belgium, is ill. He is suffering from a bad attack of influenza, which in itself is not considered by the attending physicians as dangerous but there is some fear by them of complications which, on account of the age of the primate, might give his case a more serious turn.

The Cardinal caught a cold at the ceremony of the entombing of Belgium's Unknown Soldier, on November 11th, and was forced to take to his bed the following day.

OAKWOOD HIGH SCHOOL TO PLAY HERE SATURDAY

Will Meet P.C.I. in Semi-Finals of Interscholastic Series.

Having vanquished Oshawa and captured the Eastern Ontario honors the Peterboro Collegiate Rugby team move into the semi-finals of the Interscholastic O.R.F.U., and on Saturday will clash with the Oakwood High School team of Toronto, the winners of the senior Toronto High School.

The game will be played at Riverside Park and should attract the biggest crowd that has seen a rugby game here since the old days when Peterboro used to win a championship every year or so.

This year's P.C.I. team is the best balanced crew that Peterboro has had in man a moon. They have in Legon and Fanning two of the best running backs in Interscholastic rugby and in Mulholland, formerly of Trinity College School, Port Hope, a good field general and a splendid punter. They have a strong wing line, effective both on attack and on the defensive and in three game in succession the ball has never been carried over the Petes line for a try.

The visit of the Oakwood team is the big event of the week in sporting circles and the game should bring out every fan in town.

PRINCETON WON BIG THREE TITLE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press).—An unconquered Princeton eleven yesterday won a niche in old Fassau's Hall of Fame such as few of its predecessors have gained—standing out as undisputed champion of the Big Three, and also as a strong claimant for Eastern titular laurels.

Fresh from a hard fought victory over Harvard the Saturday before 10 to 3, the Tigers Saturday capped the climax of their brilliant 1922 season by beating Yale, 3 to 0, and thus accomplishing the downfall of its two great rivals in succession for the first time since the spectacular Sam White crushed both the Blue and Crimson single-handed in 1911.

SIKI'S LIFE STORY

By Battling Siki

As Told to Milton Bronner, NEA Staff Correspondent

CHAPTER SIX—The Carpentier Fight

The long road to boxing glory and some money, came to a turning in December, 1921. I finally got into the ring with one of the big fighters of France.

It was Paul Journee. Sporting writers came to see him "kill the black." But I won on points in 13 rounds. Then, I had three fights which gave me the chance to force Carpentier to fight me.

In January, I be at Rogiers in 12 rounds, winning on points. I outpointed Journee again in March. Finally, on June 23, I beat Marcel Nilles, the real heavyweight champion of France, winning on points in 15 rounds.

Nilles was my most important opponent. He often tried to meet Carpentier, but Descamps always dodged him. They said after I beat him that Nilles broke both wrists punching my head. All I know is he is a game fighter and I learned a lot by fighting him.

Paris Laughs at Him.

That takes us up to the meeting with Georges. The Paris crowd laughed at me in the first two rounds.

Sporting writers said I was afraid, and that is why I crouched. They had said the fight would end in the first round. I made up my mind, no matter what happened, it wouldn't end in the first round nor the second.

I knew when it came to science Georges had me beat. I knew all about his swiftness. And they said he could punch awfully hard. I tried to square off in such a way that he could not hit me at all, and if he did he would hit my head in places where a knockout would not follow.

Well, Georges punched me a number of times when I thought he couldn't, and he gave me all he had, but I soon saw it wasn't enough. His punch wasn't going to knock me out. I had him sized up, saw that he had and believed my strength superior, my punch, at least equal.

Georges Goes Down.

I sailed in, and the rest you know. He was courageous, very courageous. He took an awful beating without a whimper, and kept coming in for more until he didn't know where he was at.

Beating him made me the champion heavyweight of Europe and the middleweight champion of the world

That talk about the fighting chimpanzee is crazy. The point is not the beauty or ugliness of my manner in the ring. The point is I won fairly by taking the best Georges could give and returning blow for blow when I saw the chance.

I want to meet more big men. I make no predictions. I simply fight my best. Who and where I fight next, that is up to Charley Hellers. He's my manager, and when he says fight, I fight.

Wants Dempsey Go.

If he says: "Siki, you must get ready to fight Jack Dempsey," I would get ready. Dempsey may be a mountain of a man and a wonderful boxer and a great puncher and quick as a cat and all the rest of it, but I would take a chance.

I would try to make it lively for Monsieur Dempsey. I would more. I would try to bring the world's championship to France, for me—I am French citizen.

I want to go on fighting and make money and save it. Then, some day, when I am beaten, as all fighters are, I plan to settle down in the country in France with my wife and money and save it. Then, some day, when I am beaten, as all fighters are, I plan to settle down in the country in France with my wife and be a farmer. I like to see things growing—calves, babies, chickens and trees.

THE END.

GREAT WELCOME FOR QUEEN'S TEAM

The Mayor, the Brass Band and Several Thousand Kingstonians Welcomed the Victors Home.

KINGSTON, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press).—Never in the history of the city of Kingston has a victorious team been given such a wonderful reception home as were Queen's rugby team, senior interbollegiate champions, when they were acclaimed by over 5,000 citizens and students, headed by the band of the P.W.O.R. For an hour before the train arrived, the streets leading to the station were jammed with people, and when the train pulled in bearing the victorious players a mighty Queen's yell filled the air. "Red" McKelvey, the husky captain, was the first to step off the train and he was given a wonderful reception. He was followed by Harry Batstone, Dave Harding, Bill Muirhead, "Doc" Campbell with his arm in a sling, "Bud" Thomas and the other players, and they were placed in autos gaily decorated. The crowds formed up in a parade and proceeded up Princess street, the band playing, "Hail, the Conquering Hero Come," "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here" and other appropriate selections. Behind the cars bearing the players were over 4,000 people, and they cheered themselves hoarse till they reached the Queen's gymnasium. At the gymnasium Mayor S. S. Corbet on behalf of the citizens welcomed the victorious team home and felt that next Saturday would see a repetition of celebration when Queen's come back winners over Argos. "We have been behind you all through," said Mayor Corbet, "in defeat through the years and in victory we are all with you."

J. T. M. Wilson, President of the Alma Mater Society, on behalf of the university thanked the citizens for their magnificient reception. He stated that Queen's won over Varsity in Montreal and next Saturday would show Argos how they did it.

None of the players were present at the gymnasium, they having been taken to their homes as they requested. Trainer Billy Hughes was on the job with Queen Boohoo and he was loudly acclaimed.

It was indeed a magnificient reception and one which will live long in the memories of the thousands who were present. Queen's will get right down to training this week for their game with Argos next Saturday and will be fully ready for a strenuous struggle.

Who Pays For Advertising?

THIS is a direct and reasonable question; and in the case of Daily Newspaper advertising, intelligently used, the answer is simple: Nobody. It pays its own way.

Nobody pays for the new carburetor that gives added mileage to your motor car. It pays for itself in the gasolene it saves.

Nobody pays for an improved cash system in a modern department store. It pays for itself in economy of human time.

Nobody pays for well planned and written Daily Newspaper advertising. It pays for itself by reducing the cost of sales and by increasing production. And it often receipts old bills for follies with advertising labels.

The advertisement in your own local Daily Newspaper tells you the best things to buy and where to buy them. Every new purchase helps the whole community to command cheaper and better goods.

Artificial Ice a Big Help To Western Hockey Teams

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 18—(Written for the Canadian Press by W. J. Finlay)—The introduction of artificial ice at the winter palace here this fall bids fair to revolutionize the grand winter pastime of hockey within the next year or so. It means that Winnipeg is to get hockey early in November while other years it was never possible to get under way until well into December, while good ice will be assured until April and later if necessary.

This is expected to work wonders for the amateurs and the simon pures reign supreme in the Manitoba Capital, where professionalism has not been allowed to leak in as yet. The installing of the artificial ice plant at the Ampitheatre rink this winter has meant a wonderful revival in interest in hockey in Winnipeg. The local puckists have been training for a month and should be ready for real strenuous play by the time the league opens on December 4. Owing to the early start the schedule has been enlarged to permit of six more games that last year.

Two of the teams from the Western Canada professional league expects to take advantage of the artificial ice to get in some advance practice on their rivals. The members of the Regina and Edmonton clubs have arranged for about ten days' workout. They are serving a double purpose as one of the teams is to battle the Toronto St. Pats here on the night of November 28 in their first clash of their western tour which will extend to the coast. It will be the first appearance in several years of an eastern professional team on Winnipeg ice and without the artificial plant it would be impossible to stage the game. The St. Pats are promised a right royal reception when they show up in Winnipeg, as this city is pretty well made up of eastern folk so that the World's Champions are sure of a kindly reception, even though they will be playing against former Winnipeg boys.

The season here will be opened with a special series with the crack Cleveland team from the United States amateur league with two games on November 20 and 22 against an All Star aggregation from the local leagues. The Cleveland aggregation made a big impression by their clever play here last year and are expected to prove a big attraction for the opening festivities. In Stewart, their lanky centre player the Cleveland team boasts of a player who has been sought after by several professional managers and Lester Patrick made a trip to his home in Cleveland only a few weeks ago but couldn't induce him to make the jump.

Though senior hockey enjoyed its poorest season last winter since the Allan Cup first came west, about twelve years ago, and for the first time during these years Manitoba failed to produce a finalist in the cup series, the outlook for a big winter's play was never brighter than this season. The continued raids of the Western Canada league into Winnipeg last winter pretty nearly wrecked every club here, with the result that the local clubs were pretty well shot to pieces and the fans refused to patronize mediocre hockey. But it looks as if the Manitoba league has outgrown these raids by the addition of new blood. Winnipeg has been noted for its rapid development of amateur hockeyists and there looks to be a bright crop for this winter's play.

The inclusion of the Port Arthur and Fort William teams in the Manitoba circuit is expected to do more than anything else towards reviving new interest in the thrilling winter pastime. The Thunder Bay teams will meet each of the Manitoba aggregations once on local ice while the Manitoba teams travel to the Head of the Lakes for a game with each team, one game to be played in each city during the trip in order to save expenses. The championship will be decided by points this winter owing to the fact that the Manitoba teams will play more game against each other than they will against the Thunder Bay teams. In order to even matters up two points will be allowed for a win when the Manitoba and Thunder Bay teams meet and only one when the teams of their own province clash. The first and second teams will then compete in a playoff for the championship. Brandon is expected to have another strong team while the Falcons, Winnipegs and Selkirk teams are well fortified with promising material so that the east may expect some warm competition for the Allan Cup when the final is played in the west next March.

Winnipeg is taking more than a passing interest ir the welfare of the Western Canada professional league which enters upon its second year as a professional organization. Practically every team includes one or more Winnipeg boys in its roster so that local fans will watch the outcome of the games with nearly as much interest as the followers of the game in the west. The Regina champions are practically an All Winnipeg team and they will have the support of local enthusiasts more than any other outfit, but Selkirk will be solid for Edmonton where the powerful Joe Simpson uncorks his famous corkscrew rushes to the keen delight of the Eskimo fans. Regina and Edmonton again look like the best bets in the league though Calgary and Saskatoon promise to provide better clubs than last year. The Calgary and Saskatoon teams will be made up of a number of youngsters just breaking into pro. company, but these lads may put the necessary pep into their work to upset the dope. Word from the western cities is to the effect that the two rinks will not be large enough to accommodate the crowds for the games this winter and that the league is here to stay.

KAMM IS PICKED AS CHICAGO STAR

Third Baseman From the Coast League Is Considered One of the Best in the Game.

Coast League players are confident that Willie Kamm will be a sensation in the American League in 1923.

Kamm, it will be remembered, is the player for whom Chicago paid something like $100,000 and gave three pitchers, Hodge, Courtney and McWeeny.

Kamm is a third baseman, and if he is nearly as good as his advance notices, will play that position for the Sox, supplanting Mulligan and McClellan, who divided the time around the difficult corner in 1922.

Frank Chance says there is no question about Kamm's fielding. There is a slight doubt as to his hitting, according to Chance. However, he figures Kamm will prove so valuable afield that he will be a great player in the American League if only able to hit around .260.

Oscar Vitt, a mighty good third baseman, who has seen much service in the American League, but who is now playing on the coast, is strong for Kamm.

"Kamm is a big leaguer right now. He doesn't need a bit of experience to polish him off. He will make good, from the opening game," says Vitt.

Umpire George Hildebrand of the American League staff, who lives in San Francisco and has often seen Kamm play, is another strong booster for the youngster.

"Kamm is one of the most wonderful fielders I have ever seen," says Hildebrand. "When he goes after a ball you are only surprised when he fails to get it. He makes the most difficult kind of chances look easy."

All of which makes it seem that Comiskey is to get his money's worth out of Kamm.

PETERBORO GIRLS LOST TO OSHAWA

TORONTO, Nov. 20. — Oshawa High School girls' basketball team won from Peterborough girls at the High school courts here Saturday afternoon by 15-13. This makes Oshawa double winners, as they defeated Peterborough in the Lift Lock City last Saturday. Oshawa scored eleven points to the Eastern girls' one in the first half, and four to Peterborough's one in the second half.

SISLER GRABS TWO OF COBB'S RECORDS

St. Louis Stick Artist Made One or More Safe Hits in Forty-One Consecutive Games.

George Sisler of the St. Louis Browns, who bids fair to usurp Ty Cobb's crown as baseball's greatest all-round athlete, erased another record last summer that the Georgian has held for years, the consecutive hitting record.

Last summer Sisler made one or more hits in 41 consecutive games, thereby just breaking Cobb's record of 40 straight games in which he had hit safely. Cobb's record was made in 1911. It stood 11 years.

In 1921 Sisler erased another Cobb record that had stood since 1911. In that year Cobb made 248 base hits during the season, the greatest total ever amassed by any American Leaguer. A year ago Sisler came through with 257 safe wallops, nine more than credited to Cobb.

Sisler began his consecutive batting streak on July 27 against New York with Bob Shawkey pitching. He broke Cobb's record on Sept. 16 against New York with Bob Shawkey again doing the pitching.

Joe Bush, pitching for New York, the following day stopped Sisler's batting streak, the star of the Browns being unable to get the ball out of the infield in four trips to the plate. Ed Walsh was the pitcher who stopped Cobb.

Cobb in making his record of 40 straight games batted .464, while Sisler hit .451. Sisler made two more runs and two more hits than Cobb, but was charged with nine more times at bat.

A perusal of the two records shows that Cobb made one hit in 15 games, Sisler in 17. Cobb had 16 games with two hits and Sisler 12. Cobb had seven games with three hits and Sisler 10. Cobb made four hits in one game and five in another. Sisler got four hits in two games but failed to register five hits.

The record for consecutive hitting is held by Willie Keeler, who, in 1897, went 44 games in which he hit safely. However, the foul strike rule was not in vogue then.

Bandsman Reg. Dyer was heard to fine advantage in a clarionet solo.

The attendance was large.

ALL THE FAMILY HAD BAD COLDS

"Did you ever notice that if one of the family contracts a cold it generally runs to all the other members?"

Many people when they contract a cold do not pay any attention to it, thinking perhaps it will pass away of itself in a day or two. This is a great mistake for before they know it, it has become settled on the lungs.

Never neglect the first symptoms: get a bottle of

and see how quickly your cold will disappear.

Mrs. A. Coghlan, Magnolia, Alta., writes:—"Last Winter we all had bad colds in our family, and I didn't know what to do. Some friends told me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I went and got a couple of bottles and in a short while our colds were all gone. Now we always keep a bottle on hand in case one of us might catch a cold."

"Dr. Wood's is 35c and 60c a bottle; put up only by T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto.

AMHERSTBURG, November 20.—Canadian Press. — A message received from Port Burwell last night brought news of the sinking in Lake Erie of the little wooden steamer, City of Dresden. All the members of the crew except a man named Kerr, were saved after a battle with the furious waves that swept the lake during a southeast gale. The Dresden sunk of Port Burwell, and the crew clung to the mast until they were rescued by a tug that put out to her assistance.

LEATRICE JOY IN HAIR-RAISING STUNTS.

The filming of serial pictures is regarded as the most hazardous type of picture making work. But Leatrice Joy believes differently.

The charming Cecil B. DeMille actress asserts that appearing before the camera under Mr. DeMille's direction puts to shame all serial thrills ever experienced. Here are some of the hair raising demands that were made upon her by her role in "Manslaughter" that opens a three day engagement at the Capitol to-day.

To race with a speeding train, attempt to cross in front of it, skid on to the wheel as the pursuing motor-matter of inches from annihilation.

To drive a car at a terrific speed in attempting to escape arrest for speeding, skid into a turn and cling to the wheen as the pursuing motor-cycle officer crashes into her car and hurtles across it to his death.

To spend a week of working days seated between two full grown Bengal tigers chained at her feet while cameras recorded a lavish reproduction of a Roman bacchanal.

To be tied by the wrists and dragged face down up a long flight of stone steps.

To suffer painful burns on the hands and arms in filming a series of scenes in a real kitchen while simulating ignorance of the science of cooking.

These are some of the thrills of the making of "Manslaughter." The preceding Cecil B. DeMille production "Saturday Night" recorded Miss Joy driving a roadster on to a trestle and and hanging suspended beneath it while a passing train crashed into the stalled train. Another series of scenes in the same picture depicted a thrilling tenement fire in which Miss Joy narrowley escaped death.

AT THE GRAND.

ERNIE MARKS HERE.

It would be a dull seasos indeed, theatrically speaking, that did not bring that Prince of Good Fellows, Ernie Marks, and his merry company to Peterborough. Mr. Marks has left nothing undone to make this the banner season of his career. He is bringing a new line of plays never before seen in the city, new scenery and new faces. The usual high-class brand of Marks' vaudeville will be given between the acts.

The opening play, "Putting It Over," is best described as "a play with a punch." The author has succeeded in doing the impossible, or nearly so, that of writing a play to please everybody. It is a mystery play, the solution to which keeps the audience guessing until the final curtain. To give an inkling of the plot would be to spoil your pleasure.

The company are at the Grand Opera House for the entire week, with a Saturday matinee, starting this evening.

AT THE REGENT.

"Gay and Devilish," a fast-moving comedy, brings Doris May again to the Regent Theatre, where her most recent R-C production will be shown for 3 days, beginning today. With the flapper craze sweeping the nation Miss May's popularity is soaring tot unprecedented heights everywhere. She is the most blithesome flapper of the screen and has won a tremendous following through her popular interpretation of this delightful character. Supporting Miss May in "Gay and Devilish" are Otis Harlan, Cullen Landis, Bull Montana, Jacqueline Logan and other prominent players who keep the fun bubbling from start to finish.

AT THE ROYAL.

CHARLES JONES IN NEW THRILLER COMING.

At the Royal Theatre for three days starting to-day is a new Fox picture starring Charles Jones. It is called "West of Chicago." Supporting Jones is the vivacious, winsome Renee Adoree, whose acting in Fox productions of late has been the subject of a great deal of very complimentary comment.

According to advance notices, this photoplay is filled with thrills. The action takes place near the Mexican border. To quote the producer:

"Startling scenes follow each other in rapid succession. A powerful sweep of dramatic strength carries the mind of the spectator right along to the end. Romance is deftly woven in the story, and there are many touches of comedy."

In previous photoplays Charles Jones' acting has been particularly noteworthy. If all the other elements required to make a good motion picture are on a par with the the work of this star, a night of real entertainment is assured theatregoers.

Adding up the advance news with the possibilities of the picture, the Royal Theatre should play to capacity audiences.

Denver has approximately the same number of telephones as Greece, Rumania, Central America, Luxemburg and Egypt combined.

CHINESE TAKE UP RADIO

more applications by students to study engineering, medicines, art and psychology than can be accommodated in the University; but, he regretted to say, that the number of students taking up ministry is only a handful to the facilities assigned for that course.

In conclusion, the eloquent divine spoke to the young men who were choosing, or about to select, a career, saying that there was no walk in life that would be more successful than that with the spirit and joy of Jesus Christ in it. Furthermore, no matter what career one takes up, one will find trouble ahead. But no job is worth having if it emanates from a soft and easy life, with no difficulties ahead of it. If the spirit of Christ is not in a man or woman's work, he or she have wasted their life in vain. Here Dr. Taylor advised young men not to take up any career in which they could not see and feel the joy of Christ, as such a course was sure to be a failure.

PETERBOROUGH MALE VOICE CHOIR.

The above musical organisation is switching over its regular weekly rehearsal to-morrow evening to one of lighter vein. The members — past, present, and prospective—are invited to a special get-together social to be held in the Sons of England Hall Hunter Street.

This innovation is a forerunner of several social events, and through these gatherings the members will get better acquainted with each other. To-morrow will be a favourable opportunity for anyone wishing to join the Peterborough Male Voice Choir, when choristers will be made heartily welcome. There is a bright, big programme of choruses for study this season, and it is hoped many will avail themselves of this chance to join such a live organisation. Old Country men who have recently arrived in the city, and are interested in such work, will find a nook for their ability in the Male Voice Choir.

OBITUARY

GEORGE E. WILLIAMSON

The sudden death of George E. Williamson is reported in Montreal. He was the secretary of the Brantford Y.M.C.A. The late Mr. Williamson was secretary of the Peterboro Y.M.C.A. from 1887 to 1907, when he left to take charge of the "Y" in Fort William, and latter in Brantford, where he has been for the last six years.

MISS M. H. WRIGHTON.

The death occurred on Friday, Nov. 17th, at Ontario Hospital, Mimico, of Madeline Henrietta Wrighton, daughter of the late William and Maria Haselwood Wrighton, of Peterborough. The late Miss Wrighton was born in Peterborough, her father being the late William Henry Wrighton, Clerk of the Peace and Deputy Clerk of the Crown. She was a member of St. John's Church, as also was her mother and her grandmother, Mrs. Haselwood. On her mother's side she was descended from the ancient baronial family of De Codin, her mother being a grand-daughter of the Baron de Codin of Demerara, Holland, and France. She was also a cousin of the great Charles Kingsley and double cousin to his brother, Henry Kingsley, author of "Ravenshoe," he having married his cousin, Marie Kingsley Haselwood.

The late Miss Wrighton spent the greater part of her life in Peterborough, but for many years has been at the Ontario Hospital in Mimico. A year ago she suffered a stroke, but partly regained her health, until last Thursday evening, when a sudden weakness came. Dr. Beemer at once sent for her nephew, Harry Haviland Grubbe, of Toronto. Shortly after his arrival at midnight, she became unconscious, and slept peacefully to her rest at four o'clock on Friday afternoon.

The funeral, which was strictly private, took place yesterday, upon the arrival of the noon C.P.R. train, to the Wrighton plot in the Little Lake Cemetery. The Rev. Dr. Blagrave, of St. John's, took the service.

KILLED BY A TRUCK.

TORONTO, November 20. Canadian Press. — Mrs. Mary E. Code was killed on Saturday night when struck by a truck when crossing the street. The driver of the truck, Geo. Parkinson, satisfied the police that he was not culpable.

INTEREST NOW CENTERING

quainted with the method of construction adopted throughout the Provincial Highway System is given as $350,000.

This cost would then be distributed as follows: 80 p.c. borne by the province, $280,000; 20 p.c. of the cost of five miles immediately adjoining the city borne by the city, $7,200; and 20 p.c. of the remaining section borne by the county, $62,800.

The Dominion Government, it is understood, pays 50 p.c. of the capital cost assumed by the province, making $140,000. The Provincial Government has capitalized a certain proportionn of the license fees paid by automobile owners yearly for improved roads. This therefore suggests that Peterborough county is requesting the Provincial Government to utilize its own money paid in license fees. If the revenue from license fees is to be used by the Provincial Government on improved roads, and more particularly the Provincial highways, the project resolves itself into the fact—shall this amount of money paid in yearly be returned to Peterborough county, or shall it go to other counties anxious to secure good roads. In 1921 there were 1,227 passenger and 56 commercial cars registered for the county and 949 passenger and 115 commercial cars registered for the city. Taking the average of licenses for passenger cars as $13,828 and $16,149 for commercial cars, the actual amount paid by the county automobile owners in license fees to the Provincial Government was $17,871 and the city $14,980.

Taking the $62,800 to be paid by the county, it resolves itself into an investment which will make a return of $350,000 in approximately five years. Using the assessment figures of the county as at 1920, showing $6,202,592 the actual added taxation covering the investment in one year would amount to 6.8 mills, and spread over the five years would amount to 1.36 mills on the dollar per year.

It is natural to assume that the greatest proportion of the cost of the proposed extension will be expended in the county, and it is quite obvious that if the amount of license fees paid in by the motorists of Peterborough county and city are not used for the construction of good roads in Peterborough, it will be used in other counties. Should Peterborough, therefore, pay for roads in other counties when by a further small investment secure it for this district.

THE PETERBORO COUNTY TEAM OFF TO TORONTO.

The Peterboro County judging team left the city for Toronto on the afternoon train. They intend entering the inter-county judging competition for the Jeffrey Bull Memorial Trophy which is being held in connection with the first annual Royal Agricultural Fair in the Coliseum, Toronto. This is the first time that a Peterboro team has entered a competition which is open to the whole province and it is expected that this will be the finest of its kind held in Ontario, thirty counties having entered. The Peterboro team, which has been coached by F. C. McRae of Norwood and F. Webster consists of Percy Gardner and Herb Knox of Norwood, Richard Graham and Fred Crowe of Lakefield and Norman McConkey of Nassau.

DEATH SENTENCE TO BE CARRIED THROUGH.

OTTAWA, November 20. Canadian Press. — The Governor in council has declined to interfere with the sentence of death passed upon Omar P. Roberts, Nova Scotian, aged 68 sentenced to hang November 24th, for the murder of his housekeeper, Flora Grey at North Kemptville, N. S.

There will also be no interference with the sentence of Harry Dent, the Brantford Armenian, who is also to hang November 24th, for the murder of a compatriot.

IN MEMORIAM.

Lines written on the Death of Mrs. David Forsythe, who died December 5th, 1921:

Yes, dear mother, how I miss you,
But you're gone to happy rest
Where the angels throng around you,
And they'll crown you with the blest.

You have gone to be with loved ones,
Who have gone on long before;
They are waiting, watching for you,
Over on that golden shore.

Though your place on earth is vacant
And you'll come to us no more;
Yet again we hope, dear mother, to meet you,
When our time on earth is o'er.

And in that land of song and beauty,
Parting hands are clasped no more,
When we meet again, dear mother,
'Twill be when parting all is o'er.

All your days of pain and sorrow,
All your weary nights are past.
All earth's trials for you are ended—
You are safe in heaven at last.
—Inserted by her loving daughter, Ellen Forsyth.

IN MEMORIAM

CROUGH — In loving memory of Oscar Crough, who died Nov. 20, 1920, age 20 years.

In loving memory of days gone by
And a sigh for a face unseen,
A constant feeling that God alone
Knows best what might have been
What would I give to clasp his hand
His cheery face to see,
To hear his voice, to see his smile,
That meant so much to me.
Inserted by a friend.

(By Stuart P. West.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(Special.)—In view of the supreme importance attached to the financial situation of continental Europe, all discussions of the outlook here, the principal point of interest in to-day's stock market occurrences, was the further recovery in the foreign exchange. French francs at one time were quoted over a cent above their low of 6.17 less than two weeks ago. In this fortnight they have retraced all the ground lost in two months. Belgian francs have had a scarcely less rapid rebound, while sterling above $4.49, where it was selling at one time to-day, was within a cents of the top of the year made last June.

In a broad way there was evidently some connections between the improvement in the exchanges and the hopes expressed that the new German minister if it is finally made up of the country's leading business men will accomplish something toward unraveling the desperate problem of reparations. It was significant that even the German mark went up to-day, although the latest Reichs bank statement showed all records of note inflation left far behind, with an increase in a single week of 65,000,000,000 marks. This brings the German note circulation up nearly 300,000,000,000 marks from where it stood on the first of October. The pace which expansion of the paper currency has now set is fully up to that of Austria a year ago and the Austrian sequel was that a halt was not called until through the influence of the League of Nations further note issues were prohibited.

There was no particular response in the market for foreign government bonds to the rise in the exchanges. French and Belgian issues were up slightly and United Kingdom 5 1-2's of 1919 drew well up to their highest for the year. On the contrary, the plain evidence that the short interest in the exchange was having difficulty in withdrawing from an over-extended position, had its influence upon speculators for the decline in the stock market. Prices opened higher and although trading was relatively small, indicating the lack of any new public interest, the liquidation and short selling of a week ago was wholly absent.

HIGHER PRICE LEVEL.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.— Short covering brought general higher level of prices among industrial leaders while exceptional strength was shown by Corn Products and one or two other issues which are expected to be benefitted by special dividend action.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. — Cont. Can made new high at 100 1-2 and Woolworth at 216. Corn Products made new high on move at 132 was made in face of complaint issued by Federal trade commission charging unfair competition. This action caused no surprise as it was known for some time that step was under consideration. Wall Street expects the matter to end about the way similar action initialled by same body have ended.

Western advices that negotiations were under way for about 50,000 cars was pleasing to Bulls on equipments. At present rate of incoming business while not great, car and locomotive companies are operating at caapcity. Baldwin reached a new high on recovery at 126 1-8.

NUDE WOMEN DANCED BEFORE BASEBALL CLUB

Scandalous Proceedings in Windsor Being Investigated by the Ministerial Association.

PLAYED STRIP POKER

WINDSOR, Ont, Nov. 21.—(Special).—Entertainments at which nude women perform fancy hootchy kootchy dances will be barred in the city henceforth. George Urquhart, Crown Attorney of Essex County said this morning, in announcing that he had ordered a investigation of what was described as a scandalous performance held in the Oddfellows' Temple Saturday night, under the auspices of a local Baseball Club.

M. Gordon Melvin, president of the Border Cities Ministerial Association, was informed of the affair to-day, and decided to call a special meeting of the clergy to discuss what steps should be taken to encourage the authorities to institute a thorough sift with a view to punishing those responsible.

Trustees of the Oddfellows' Temple are greatly exercised over the ups to which the auditorium of thear building was put and they are probing the circumstances with a view to drawing up a report for the commission of management.

And Liquor Too

Rumor has it that considerable liquor was consumed at the Exhibition. The four women who provided the features of the program which are objected to, were imported from Detroit, and are said to have been paid handsomly for their performance. They played strip poker and were consistent losers after which they danced in absolute nudity before the glee spectators.

Another sportsmen's banquet was to have been in the Masonic temple on November 23 but this was hastily cancelled when thep promoters heard the protests against the Saturday night smoker.

Midnight Shows

It is understood that a number of questionable entertainments have been staged in Windsor during the last year They take the form of midnight shows, where admission is strictly regulated by ticket. In most cases those who attended maintained such a profound silence about which what went on that the authorities had no excuse for holding an investigation.

PRELIMINARY ORATORY AT PEACE CONFERENCE.

LAUSANNE, November 21. Canadian Press. — Delegates to Near East Conference with preliminary oratory concerning the close relations of Britain, France and Italy behind them, met in private sessions this morning for the purposes of organizations and to start the actual work of making peace with the turk. Ismet Pasha and his associates appear less confident than when they arrived and the feeling is growing that they will reduce their programme materially in the hope of restoring peace and re-establishing trade relations with the outside world.

Shortly before eleven o'clock this morning the delegates began arriving for the opening session preliminary arrangements provided for organization of three conference commissions first on political and military matters with British chairman, second on economics, finance and public health, with French chairman, and third to deal with capitulations under Italian chairman.

Soviet Russians Seek Trade With Foreign Capitalists

MOSCOW, Nov. 21.—(Canadian Press). — Speaking at a great meeting in the Opera House last night, Premier Lenine declared that the Soviet Government must not be afraid to give concession to foreign capitalists.

"Russia is so big and has such wonderful economic possibilities that there is no reason to refuse any fair proposition from interests outside the country," he said.

"We will make such favorable arrangements that capitalists will be compelled to do business with us, despite their present enmity towards this country."

FORDNEY BILL IS DETRIMENT

United States Will Lose Out as a Result—Wall Street Journal Comment.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21—(Canadian Press).—The Fordney tariff has placed the United States in the position of the French hunter "who found it great sport to hunt Indian tigers, but terrible when they hunted him," the Wall Street Journal says to-day. The journal makes this assertion in commenting upon an article published recently by a Canadian paper which shows that overseas markets are being developed by the Dominion and the trade will be more with Europe.

"Canada is a large importing country in proportion to its population," it continues. "Last year its imports were about one and a quarter billion dollars; of this about eight hundred and fifty million came from the United States. It did this because it sold more of its goods here than to any other country. Where man sells, there will he buy.

"But with the tariff prohibiting Canadian imports into this country the situation was changed. The people on the other side of the line are just as active, aggressive and resourceful as on ours — and less mixed, in race and thought."

R. MacDONALD HEADS BRITISH LABOR PARTY

John R. Clynes, Former Chairman Parliamentary Party, is Elected Deputy Leader.

A GRACEFUL ACT

LONDON, Nov. 21.— (Canadian Press Cable.)— With reference to the acceptance of Laborites as the leading Opposition party in the House of Commons, much comment is being made regarding the graceful manner in which H. H. Asquith, former Premier, waved his privilege to Hon. J. R. Clynes to join the Premier in the procession to the House of Lords, thus relieving a temporary embarrassment, when the new Premier paused and looked around to see who, as leader of the official Opposition would walk side by side with him.

Later in the day Laborites interviewed the Speaker and claimed the whole front Opposition bench for their party. The Speaker ruled against them, as by an old custom, Privy Councillors in any party in opposition are entitled to seats on the front opposition bench.

Earlier in the day, Ramsay MacDonald was elected leader of the Labour party in the House.

John R. Clynes, former chairman of the Parliamentary party, whose election to leadership had been generally anticipated, was elected deputy leader. Arthur Henderson, long the Labor Party leader in the House of Commons, who failed of election to the House in the recent balloting, was made chief party whip, with Ben Spoor, acting chief whip in the House of Commons.

DECLARES ENGLAND DOES NOT NEED GULF STREAM

Again Science Comes Forward to Destroy Another of Man's Long-Cherished Illusions and Removes a Source of Anxiety.

LONDON, Nov. 21.— (Associated Press)— Science has come forward recently to another of man's long cherished illusions, but at the same time it has removed a source of constant anxiety to those who would attempt to understand the causes of climatic conditions.

M. Danois, the well-known hydrologist, who has made a special study of the waters of the Atlantic, has declared that the temperate climate of the British Isles and the northern coast of France does not depend on the Gulf Stream, and that its diversion would not therefore leave this section of the world in the grip of an Artic winter. M. Danois claims to have proved that the Gulf Stream, rising to the north of the Antilles, does not pass the Sargasso Sea, and the notion must be discarded that it traverses the Atlantic to bathe the shores of England and France.

He expresses the views that the Gulf Stream is merely the backwash of the equatorial currents. Summer heat provokes dilations of the heavily salted equatorial waters, which translates themselves into permeations of the more lightly salted Artic and Continental waters. It is these permeations in the eastern Atlantic which have been mistaken for branches of the Gulf Stream. They are, however, purely local currents and vary according to the season.

RETURNS FROM THE NORTH

Finds Conditions Very Bad—Will Bring Relief Fund Up to One Million Dollars—Relief Committee is Rushing Campaign Plans.

(By Staff Reporter.)

Returning to Toronto this morning from their week-end tour of the fire-swept areas of Ontario's northland, the party of municipal representatives from the southern section of the province dispersed as heralds and special pleaders for the forthcoming campaign to increase the relief fund to one million dollars. Approximately $400,000 has already been subscribed, and it is proposed to obtain the remainder by the voluntary and generous assistance of the municiaplities of Old Ontario.

The plan approved in a resolution by the mayors and reeves and members of Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce to the number of about one hundred provides for the allocation to each municipality by the Northern Ontario Relief committee the equitable amount of its donation in proportion to its assessment or population. The exact details of the scheme are to be worked out, but in its essentials it contemplates first of all voluntary giving by cities, towns and county councils of sums which together will provide the proposed total. Another feature of the plan is the desire that the subscriptions shall be made as nearly equitable as possible within the scope of the voluntary system.

Local Representatives.

And because it was felt that the people of this part of the province should be as fully acquainted as possible with the conditions throughout the burned zones between Cobalt and Englehart, this trip was arranged in order that municipal representatives, business men and the Press should be in a position to explain the need of raising a round million for the assistance of both urban and rural victims of the fire of October 4th last.

Among those who were invited from this district were Mayor Taylor and J. J. Duffus, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, Mayor O'Reilly, of Lindsay, and Mayor A. J. Meyers, of Campbellford. Their convictions are identical with the consensus of the entire party. The vast areas that were burned over the enormous property loss in the towns and villages and townships where farmers' homes and barns were levelled with those of the dwellers in Haileybury and Charlton. Perhaps the general imagination of the extensiveness of the fire-blackened and devastated territory visualizes a fairly true picture of the destruction and loss in any one town or township, but it is the succession of them as they roll past the car windows, once prosperous towns, hamlets and farm settlements obliterated and the pity and total of their loss intensified by the shacks and stables that somehow express the courage and determination and cheerfulness of the hundreds of families whose aggregate loss has not yet been compiled.

The Deepest Impression.

The deepest impression brought back by every one of the visitors who had never previously penetrated New Ontario was its splendid development in three basic industries, agriculture, mining, and lumbering, including the manufacturing of paper. But in the sphere of agriculture those strangers from the south were presented with hundreds of miles of fertile, well-tilled land, almost as thoroughly developed as their own. Great patches of the famous clay belt might have been favourably compared with many of the older-settled parts of Ontario and Quebec and above New Liskeard the land stretched off toward Quebec, dotted with farm buildings that seemed as numerous as in any part of Central Ontario.

Everywhere, however, the forests of spruce broke up the landscape, and in some sections extended for mile upon mile, green here and there, and only tall skeleton trees marking the paths of older fires elsewhere.

But the pathos of the fires and their consequent financial losses, discomforts, and other material setbacks was immeasurably intensified by the surprising appearance of permanence and progress of New Ontario's farming districts. The extensiveness of the fires, the agricultural development of agriculture and its future there, and the indomitable spirit of the people, these were the impressions which the Mayors and Reeves and business men have carried back with them, and which they will communicate to their constituents at the earlies opportunities.

Meeting Called by Wire.

Some of them wired last night from North Bay calling special meetings of their Council with instructions to prepare for public meetings in order that the imperative and distressing needs of Ontario's own people may be adequately provided for and fully financed.

The Relief Committee appointed by the Government is rushing its campaign plans, and in the meantime efforts will be made in all the southern part of the Province to acquaint the people with the condition of their fellow-citizens in the Temiskaming territory, where winter came on Saturday with frost and four or five inches of snow that has laid a shroud upon the calamity of sturdy and intrepid pioneers, who are not asking for charity from the rest of the Province but who are being given every assistance by Old Ontario, whose Government is anxious that sufficient funds for the work shall be raised as soon as possible.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARD ADDRESS ON LIVE ISSUE

Problems of Immigration and its Relation to Canada Discussed by Mr. Alfred Fitzpatrick.

GREAT NORTHLAND

Mr. Alfred Fitzpartick, M. A., principal of the Frontier College, was the speaker at to-day's Kiwanis Club meeting. Mr. Fitzpatrick discussed some of the problems of immigration and its relation to the development of Canada. The work of the Frontier College is undenominational, and the colleeg of which Mr. Fitzpatrick is the head, has the status of a university. The speakers numbered among his Peterboro friends of many years ago, the late Bishop O'Connor and the late Alfred McDonald. The latter established a night school in one of his lumber camps. It was a log structure and was one of a number established each year throughout the logging camps in all parts of Canada.

Introducing the speaker Kiwanain J. Wearing said he had travelled up and down the country in company with Mr. Fitzpatrick, and had given the speaker practical assistance in the establishment and the maintenance of many of his schools of instruction. To do this it was necessary to work with the men by day and instruct them in the evenings.

Mr. Fitzpatrick spoke of the agricultural possibilities of the Hudson Bay district and said he hoped the present government would see its way clear to extend the railway to this great inland sea. "If the government does not get there, the C. P. R. will," said Mr. Fitzpatrick.

The speaker characterized this territory as a greater promised land than the children of Israel ever came to. It has been predicted that the future will see a greater population north of the Saskatchewan watershed than to the south of the watershed. The speaker agreed with Lord Shaughnessy that it was necessary not only to select immigration but to direct it. To this end the government should exten its policy. If the C. P. R. passed through Northern Ontario it would prepare the land for the settler as it has done in the west by irrigation and other means. The land in Northern Ontario should be cleared of its timber and made habitable. In travelling over the recent fire zone it is apparent that the greatest fires are yet to come. It is unwise to take settlers to Northern Ontario and expect them to eke a living out of farming. Instead of establishing experimental farms in Northern Ontario the government should first establish and maintain land clearing camps. When the land is cleared the danger of frost will be largely removed.

In conclusion Mr. Fitzpatrick referred to the work of the Frontier College and the fine type of college students who enter the work.

A vote of thansk to the speaker was moved by Kiwanian Alex Dick. and seconded by Ki.. nian J. Middleton. It was carried in the usual Kiwanis style.

Kiwanian Jack aMrshall presided at to-day's meeting in the absence of President Frank Whitehouse.

To-day's guests included Kiwanian Frank Simpson of St. Thomas, an old Peterboro boy, Rotarian A. Brown, and Mr. Alfred Bruce, of Toronto.

GOOD HIGHWAYS ARE NECESSARY

Peterborough is Behind in the Matter of Good Mileage — Hon. F. C. Biggs Coming.

Commenting to-day on the coming visit to Peterboro of Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Highways in the Provincial House, Mr. T. Tooms, M.P.P., said:—Good roads confer national and local benefits to an extent and magnitude difficult to realize or compute. The benefits are interwoven with the three sources of national wealth, agriculture. industry and commerce, as an example let us look at the Toronto-Hamilton Highway. Before construction there was little through travel between these two cities; forty miles of clay and sand roads were a barrier rather than a means of communication. Since construction, motor bus and motor truck services has been established, the daily traffic ranges from 1500 to 3000 vehicles daily, agricultural development has been markedly benefited; a continuous line of houses are springing up. The residences of millionaires are to be seen, and commercial needs are being served.A Highway Improvement Fund has been established since 1920, consisting of the unexpended balance of monies previously appropriated for road purposes, which amounts to $3,000,000 annually for a period of five years.

Peterborough County has not been so fortunate in having many miles of the Provincial Highway run through the county as some have, but if the road from Peterboro to Burleigh Falls could be brought under the Provincial Highway, it would be a great benefit to county and city alike, as the county would only pay 20 per cent of the cost, as against 40 or 50 per cent they are now likely to be paying

Would Make a Good Road

It would be a splendid road in the heart of the county, and great draw for tourists to Kawartha Lakes. This is a matter for hearty co-operation by county and city alike, for it is interesting to note that their are a total of 2,176 passenger autocars in Peterboro; divided 1,227 cars for the county, and 949 for the city, showing that good roads would be to the common interest of all. The Provincial Highways Department is mapping out a plan for trunk roads, and through Burleigh Falls to Algonquin Park seems to be a practical idea meeting the coming tourist traffic, benefiting county and city alike, for it is interesting to note that the tourist traffic is at present the fourth best revenue producing business in the Dominion, this will increase a hundred fold with good roads. In my opinion the time is not far distant when the Government will have to relieve the counties of all financial obligation for the upkeep of provincial trunk roads, so the more the government takes into the Highway scheme in this or any other county, the better prospects of cheap roads in the future. A few things to be considered are: bad roads increase the cost of hauling; bad roads lower the value of property everywhere; good roads will help the growth of rural population; bad roads keep out of the country, foreign pleasure and health seeker, in fact bad roads lower the value of each citizen to the country as a whole, while good roads promote a better, broader-based citizenship. According to statistics gathered by the Dominion Government from all over the country, a cost of 12 cents per ton mile is saved in hauling each ton over a good road instead of a bad one. That means 12 cents saved per mile-haulage for each ton of farm products etc., to the market. Look what good roads would mean to the milk business which requires quick transit from farm to the city. The extra power or gas required for the car on a bad road. I have just read an account where sixty-eight families engaged in bona fide farming threaten to abandon the results of their pioneer work unless the present highway is extended into the district. Good roads improve social conditions, all things considered it is evident that good roads are a sound investment, which will return a very high percentage of profit to both rural and urban residents of the province. While talking of good roads and tourists, we should remember that often the tourist of to-day becomes the settler or manufacturer of to-morrow.

WAR MODIFIED PROBLEMS OF OUR EMPIRE

Dr. Bruce Taylor Gives Interesting Talk on Live Issues to Women's Canadian Club.

IMPERIALISM

Dr. Bruce Taylor, D.D., LL.D., Principal of Queen's University, Kingston, was the speaker at a largely attended meeting of the Woman's Canadian Club, yesterday afternoon, at the Public Library.

Miss Lancaster, president of the local branch of the club was in the chair, and before introducing Dr. Taylor, read a communication from the Woman's Canadian Club of London, re the narcotic drug traffic, which is so serious a menace to the social, moral and commercial world. The laws relating to the traffic are inadequate and the fine imposed is merely a license fee. In a letter addressed to Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, the Woman's Canadian Club as a whole, are urging for a repeal of this law, and ask that the punishment should be imprisonment for at least ten years, that the naturalization papers of offenders should be cancelled (most of those engaged in the traffic are foreign born), and that at the end of the term of imprisonment they be deported.

These strong measures strictly enforced, would go a long way in eliminating this evil.

The Address.

Dr. Bruce Taylor, who has spoken at four gatherings in two days, announced that he had little experience in women's Canadian clubs, as in his experience women's clubs were not apt to be very stable organizations. (Laughter.)

The problems of the great British Empire have been modified by the war, he said, as the motherland and her dependencies have been brought into closer person ' contact. Our Empire is not an empire at all judged by the standards of the old Roman Empire and the modern German empire, where the government was from a central point, Rome in the former case and Berlin in the latter—where the dependencies were liberal contributors to the Imperial exchequer. Our empire, with its self governing dominions, is a very different proposition. The Crown Colony of Newfoundland is nearly a Dominion, also Trinidad, Demerara, British Guiana and other dependencies.

The problems of Nigeria and Uganda, protectorates, where an enormous area is ruled by a handful of white men, and Borno, just emerging out of paganism, are very different. These are held together definitely under the Union Jack.

India is another problem. It consists of many races (it is said that there are 100 languages spoken and many creeds, and with always the hordes from the north sweeping down and conquering the tribes in the plains; the history of India has always presented complex problems.

The British entered India as a trading company in rivalry to the French; there were no British soldiers in India as soldiers till after the mutiny. After the mutiny India was taken into the British Empire, and with trained and reliable Indian troops supplemented with a small number of British, the country has been held. The percentage of British troops has never been more than 20. In the United States there are Hindu revolutionary clubs in which much of the discontent in India is hatched, just as in the case of Ireland.

Work of Agitators.

A poor class of Hindoo and Irish agitators have done a great deal of harm, continued the speaker. One of these societies was behind the effort to bring a shipload of Hindoos into Vancouver during the war.

Then Woodrow Wilson did a great deal of harm with his phrase of 'self

JOHN ROBERT CLYNES LEADER OF OPPOSITION

Merry Scramble For Good Seats When House Opened Yesterday — Whitely Re-elected Speaker.

LADY ASTOR ON DECK.

LONDON, Nov. 21.— (Canadian Press.)— John Robert Clynes, was recognized as the leader of the Opposition in Parliament yesterday after the members of the House of Commons had scrambled in good natured but intense rivalry to tag their favorite seats Prime Minister Bonar Law was given a great ovation by his supporters, and Clynes by his. When the Black Rod summoned the members to the House of Lords, the Prime Minister went first, but was joined immediately by Clynes. They shook hands cordially and walked out together. The significance of this was accepted at once as settling what has been a point in controversy since the election.

The Commons re-elected J. H. Whiteley as Speaker and then adjourned for the State opening of Parliament next Thursday. Even among the pleasantries of the occasion there were signs of tempers on edge. During the formal procedure in the House of Lords a Member of Parliament standing in the gallery shouted: "We'll sack the lot. There's an end of tranquility." Order was called.

When Clynes entered, a Commons supporter of his, cried: "That's the little man who worried them." There were cheers and jeers. Then in honor of Mr. Whiteley some new member shocked the House by starting to sing: "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," but was quickly hushed.

There was much tension in anticipation of the appearance of David Lloyd George, but he did not attend. A friend, however, tagged for him a coveted corner seat with the National Liberals in the two front benches below the gangway on the left. The Asquithians are behind them ,though Herbert Asquith took his old seat on the Opposition bench beside Clynes, Austen Chamberlain, on the Government side, opposite Mr. Lloyd George, is in the very seat his father took when he broke away from Gladstone.

Lady Astor left her house before her usual breakfast time yesterday morning to obtain a good seat in the House, but although she arrived about eight o'clock, she found that a number of her fellow members had inserted cards in the best seats. She hastily procured a card and stuck it into the corner seat on the Government side, where Carson once sat. Then the member for Sutton sat down ,and in a few minutes a colonel came in in such a hurry that he was almost breathless, and seized the seat next hers. Lady Astor was astonished to find it was Colonel John Gretton, champion of the liquor interests and hastened to remark: "I hope you don't mind my sitting here?"

"Not at all," replied the Colonel, whereupon Lady Astor voiced the opinion that "Nemesis attends all who come up against drink and women."

Lloyd George will make an important pronouncement on Wednesday, when his friends expect him to declare his policy regarding the Government. It is believed that he will make no effort to attack it this year, but will do his utmost to assure the smooth passage of the Irish bill. He is busy at his headquarters with many callers, and it is reported that an attempt is being made to reunite the Liberal Party.

While the Government hopes to find a safe seat for Lieut.-Col. Leslie O. Wilson, Parliamentary Secretary to the Treasury, within a couple of weeks, Winston Churchill is not planning an early return. As soon as his health permits he will visit Rome, expecting to be absent from the country several months, until the sting of his Dundee defeat is somewhat allayed.

Dan Cupid to Have Some Opposition

WINNIPEG, Nov. 21.—(Canadian Press).—"I want to make it hard to get married. We always shall have the poor with us so long as it is easy to get married, so long as people can go into the great adventure of life as they would into a picture show," declared G. B. Clark, Secretary of the Social Welfare Committee, in an address to the Winnipeg Ministerial Association yesterday. The likelihood of a request being made soon for legislation aimed at preventing too early and unprepared for marriages was foreshadowed by Mr. Clark. He stated fifty percent. of the girls who came within the scope of the welfare committee were married between the aged of 18 and 20, and the next group between the ages of 20 and 25

U.S Congress Was Opened Yesrerday

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21— (Canadian Press).—The Sixty Seventh Congress formally opened its doors yesterday fr the third session, but it did little more than actually get on the job. Its life as a special session will be only two weeks, but in that time, it is the hope of President Harding that substantial progress will be made on the Administration's Merchant Marine legislation and considerable advance work done on the armful of annual supply bills which must be handled in the regular session beginning December 4.

TRAGIC BEREAVEMENT REV. CECIL SPENCER.

Former Well-known Incumbent in Lakefield Suffers Double Loss.

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 20.—Word has just been received from England, via the London Press of a tragic bereavement that has befallen the Reverend Cecil Spencer, incumbent of Lakefield four years ago, whose faithful and devoted work as parish priest and especially as a worker among and leader of boys is well remembered by his former parishioners. Mr. Spencer's sister, Mrs. Samuel Stitt McNicoll, whose husband was an underwriter at Lloyds, was recently found by a servant who entered her bedroom as usual in the morning, lying unconscious in her bed, suffering from wounds by a revolver, with her husband dead from a shot by her side. Mrs. McNicholl died the same day. At the inquest it developed that Mr. McNicoll had been much disturbed over some financial troubles which had suddenly arisen, and these preying on his mind had led him to perpetrate the double tragedy of shooting his wife and himself. The verdict of the jury was murder and suicide, while in an unsound state of mind. Only a few days before the tragedy, Mrs. Mc Nicoll had made a will, she being possessed of independent means, leaving her property to her husband, and in case he predeceased her, to her brother. the Reverend Cecil Spencer.

RECOVERING BOOZE FROM WRECKED SHIP.

Hundreds of Quarts of Liquor in Bottles Being Carried Away in Cars.

SIMCOE, November 20. Canadian Press. — Reminiscent of pre-prohibition days is the scene to-day at the Cove, five miles west of Port Rowan, where the steamer City of Dresden, laden with 500 cases of Canadian whiskey, foundered on Saturday morning. The vessel which was bound for Port Huron, is fast disintegrating and hundreds of quart bottles of liquor are being eagerly captured and whole cases are being carried away in automobiles.

SEE TRAGEDY FARM AT 25 CENTS NOW.

An Enterprising Yankee Turns the Scene Into Museum.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J., Nov. 21—Morbid curiosity in the Halls-Mills tragedy is being capitalized further.

Walter Masterson, a carpenter, is erecting a high fence around the Phillips farm, the scene of the tragedy which, in the last few weeks, has proved a Mecca for motorists from a score of states. He is preparing a sign for the gate reading: "Admittance 25c."

Masterson, it was learned, had leased the farm for $30 a month.

It also became known that a decrepit piano and a venerable horsehair settee, which had formed part of the Phillips home furnishings, has been sold to a New York freak museum for $250.

Hucksters previously had taken bits of the crab-apple tree under which the tragedy occurred, hawking the souvenirs in New York and Newark at 10 cents each.

DOMINION WILL PARTICIPATE IN EMPIRE EXHIBIT

Canada Will Have Pavilion Covering 150,000 Square Feet — Same as Taken By Australia.

A GOOD SITE.

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.— (Canadain Press.)—Canada will participate in the British Empire Exhibition, to be held at Wembley Park, near London, in 1924, and will have a pavilion covering approximately 150,000 square feet of space, it was announced by Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, in his interview yesterday afternoon with Major E. A. Belcher, assistant General Manager of the Exhibition and head of the mission which has toured the provinces and placed the matter of participation before the various governments.

The amount of money which it is proposed to spend on the Canadian exhibit for the occasion was not stated. The space being taken however, is the same as that being taken by Australia, which is spending $1,250,000 on its display of Australian products for the exhibition.

Major Belcher expressed satisfaction with the result of his tour of Canada. The provincial governments he said, had all been enthusiastic in their support of the proposals placed before them and the government of Newfoundland, which dominion he had visited since his last conference with the government, had announced its intention of taking a pavilion of approximately 8,000 square feet at an expenditure of $50,000. One of the best sites on the exhibition has been reserved for the Canadian pavilion, Major Belcher stated and he was confident that the exhibit of Canada's products and natural resources would be one of the best on the grounds.

The exhibition will continue for six months from April 1923 and on a conservative basis it is estimated over ten million people will attend before its close.

Peace on Earth Object of Near Eastern Conference

Brief Session at Lausanne Yesterday—Real Business of the Conference Will Start To-Day—Representatives From Many Countries Present.

LAUSANNE, Nov. 21.— (Canadian Press.)— Hope that peace on earth would result from the labors of the Near Eastern conference was voiced by the speakers at the brief opening session yesterday.

This sentiment was voiced first by President Heab, of the Swiss Confederation, who presided over the opening plenary meeting, and it was dwelt upon by both Lord Curzon and Ismet Pasha in their responses on behalf of the numerous delegations asembled in the Lausanne Casino where the impressive inaugural ceremony was held.

Yesterday's sittings required but a short half hour, and this morning the business of the conference will actually be begun.

The prospects of United States' activity in the conference, which many of the foreigners appeared to interpret as the launching of a new American policy in Europe, and the presence of a strong delegation from far-away Japan, gave world-wide significance to the conclave.

Benito Mussolin, the new strong man of Italy, with his air of alert determination, drew all eyes as he moved to his place not far away from the white-haired and white-bearded Venizelos, whose activities and popularity practically forced the abdication of a Grecian King and who is here to apply all his diplomatic skill to save what he can for his country in the peace with Turkey which the conference is to formulate.

Venizelos sat inscrutable under the accusations of the chief Turkish plenipotentiary, Ismet Pasha, that the Greek army, without justification, had systematically devastated the Turkish countryside and made a million innocent Turks homeless, hungry wanderers.

The Ottoman nation wants peace with all its heart, Ismet told his hearers, but he warned them that lasting peace must be founded upon mutual respect of national liberty and independence.

Lord Curzon wanted Lausanne to make "a final peace of all." He pledged England's whole-souled support in this cause.

Ismet Pasha spoke almost inaudibly in French, but some were able to catch the declaration that the world war armistice of four years ago was "concluded on the basis of and faith in the Wilsonian principles."

It is announced that the establishment of a complete accord between Premier Poincare, Lord Curzon and Premier Mussolini on all matters coming up in the conference was celebrated last night by an Entente dinner of sixty covers, which M. Poincare and the French delegation tendered to the British and Italian representatives.

It is understood that the difficulty in satisfying Italy arose from the Italian contention that in the Treaty of Sevres, which the present conference must revise, Italy's national rights in the Near East were not sufficiently respected and protected. Italy will in the Lausanne negotiations insist on what she considers her legitimate aspirations, and above all, treatment on an equal basis with Great Britain and France.

SWITZERLAND IS HOST VISITING DELEGATES.

Conference to Deal With Situation in Near East Opens This Afternoon.

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Nov. 20.—Switzerland is once again host for gathering of diplomats who came to discuss one of the most important problems before the world at present time, the problem of Turkey and the Near East. Premier Poincare will attend for France, while Britain's chief delegate will be Marquis Curzon. Premier Mussolini, of Italy, may also be present. French, British and Italian statesmen, after a lenethy discussion, are said to be in agreement on their attitude toward the main problems to come before the conference.

Conference opened at 3.30 this afternoon.

During the proceedings, Ismet Pasha, chief Turkish delegate, read a prepared address in confident tone.

Armistice of more than four years ago had officially suspended hostilities in which his country was engaged, Ismet said. No peace had followed for Turkey, however, but instead there had been "unjustified attacks and sufferings, so that now more than a million innocent Turks were without food or shelter in Asia Minor."

OVERCOME BY GAS.

TORONTO, November 20. Canadian Press. — Overcome by gas from a defective Rudd heater, Ethel Cunningham, a 15 year old girl, was found dead in a bathroom of her home yesterday. She had evidently felt the effects of the gas and had tried to get out of the room. Her body was found just inside the door.

PARLIAMENT TO BEGIN BUSINESS WITHOUT DELAY

King's Speech at Formal Opening Will Be Delivered on Thursday — Debate Will Be Short.

SPECIAL SESSION.

LONDON, November 21 (Canadian Press). — The Kings Speech at the formal opening of Parliament on Thursday, it is understood, will begin with an unportant reference to foreign affairs followed by an allusion to unemployment at home as connected with the unsettled condition of Europe.

Legislation establishing the new constitution of Ireland will be mentioned, however, as the sole matter which necessitated the meeting of Parliament for the second time this year, and the House will be invited to pass upon it without delay.

The official view is that ten working days should suffice both for the debate on the reply to the Address from the Throne and the passage of the Irish Bill. but it is regarded as somewhat doubtful if the Governments programme for a very short session can be strictly adhered to.

Contrary to the usual experience after a general election, the Opposition, as represented by the augmented Labour Party, is in high spirits over the reinforcement of its numbers and is not likely to forego willingly the opportunities the debate will offer.

An amendment raising the problem of unemployment and enabling Labour proposals on this subject, it is expected, will be pressed upon the Government, and other amendments may be moved, while the benches will be crowded with young members from the North eager to address the House on matters in which they are keenly interested.

Robert Smillie, President of the Scottish Miners' Union, however, told his executive committee at Glasgow yesterday that although Labour now about 150 strong, they must not expect a millenium in the next few months, but they might look for a vast improvement in conditions for the workers.

The two Liberal Parties will also be active, and it may be necessary to offer special days for the debate after the Irish business is transacted.

Asked whether Newbold, the solitary Communist in the new Parliament, would take the oath of allegiance to the King, the Communist Party's Parliamentary secretary admitted that the oath did not accord with the principles of the Party, but added that "as a matter of expediency," no practical difficulty was anticipated.

VICTORY BONDS ARE TO BE PAID ON DECEMBER 1

Cash Will Be Paid to Bondholders at Any Chartered Bank in Canada.

SURRENDER BONDS.

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.— (Canadian Press.)—In a statement issued last evening, the Department of Finance announces that holders of 1922 Victory Bonds, due December 1, can have their bonds paid off in cash at any branch of any chartered bank in Canada. As the total amount of the bond issue maturing on December 1, is $178,000,000 and conversions totalled over one hundred millions, cash payments for bonds will be in the neighborhood of $78,000,000.

The statement from the Department follows:

"Under their terms, the principal of these bonds is payable only at the Department of Finance, Ottawa, and at the offices of the Assistant Receivers General at Charlottetown, Halifax, St. John, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, and Victoria. But, in addition and for the greater convenience of the public the Minister of Finance has entered into special arrangements with the chartered banks for the payment of the bonds through their branches, without expense to holders.

"In order that holders may receive cash promptly at date of maturity it will be necessary when dealing through a bank to deliver the bonds for examination and listing at least four days prior to December 1. Correspondingly, if bonds are presented to a bank on or after December 1, holders must be prepared to grant a few days for examination and verification before payment is effected.

"The banks have received full instructions as to the form of endorsement required from holders of registered bonds.

"Officials of the Department state that it appears from enquiries received, that some bond holders have the impression that the principal of bonds will be sent out by ... as the interest is in the case of reigstered bonds ... payment of the principal can be effected only on surrender of the bonds themselves.

"Attention is also directed to the fact that the bonds cease to bear interest, on the maturity date. If held thereafter, claims for further interest cannot be entertained."

TEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL CAUGHT SHOPLIFTING.

Magistrate Imposed a Unique Sentence—Had Made a Successful Raid.

WELLAND, November 20. Canadian Press. — When a ten year old Croatian girl toured this town on Saturday afternoon and made extensive raids on local stores, she laid herself open to a novel punishment. Magistrate Goodwin to-day sentenced her to visit each of the four stores plundered in company with a policeman and to return articles taken, with an apology to the proprietors. The child had been successful in three stores, and had even stolen a large mesh bag to carry her plunder when a $4.50 doll attracted her attention. It was too large to be hidden and the clerk in the store caught her and sent for a policeman.

WHAT THE HIGHWAY MEANS.

It is estimated that the proposed extension of the Profincial Highway to the Kawartha Lakes would entail an expenditure, so far as the County of Peterborough is concerned, of $62,800.

At first blush that sum might seem large.

But it is an investment that will bring returns of approximately $350,000 in five years, to say nothing of the benefit it will bring to the numerous citizens of Peterborough County who have occasion to travel over this route.

Using the 1920 total assessment as a basis, the added taxation caused by the extension of the highway, spread over five years, would be but 1.36 mills on the dollar.

The farmer with a $5,000 farm would only have to pay $6.80 a year for five years to secure the benefit of a Provincial highway, opening the way to the north and bringing the tourist traffic into this district in such numbers as to cause the whole section to feel the benefit.

Tourists spent practically ten million dollars in Ontario last year.

How much of that sum was spent in this district?

Certainly nothing like the amount that would have found its way into the pockets of the people had the proposed highway been ready for use.

The Minister of Highways comes to-morrow to look over the route. He should not be allowed to go away unconvinced of the demand by the people of this whole district for this highway to the Kawartha Lakes.

HELPING HAILEYBURY.

The announcement made by Premier Drury of the intention of the Provincial Government to asist generously in the rebuilding of Haileybury will be hailed with general approval.

The heroic spirit of the people of the destroyed town has captured the imagination of their fellow-citizens of Ontario.

The decision to assume the total bonded indebtedness of Haileybury for three years, restore the schools and public buildings and bear the loss of assets destroyed by the fire represents a generous offer from the Provincial Government.

At the same time it is a fine stroke of business.

As Mayor Heu of Haileybury points out, older Ontario's generosity has dispelled all talk of secession in the north.

It was manifestly impossible for the people of Haileybury, the majority of whom lost everything they owned in the fire that made a ruin of their splendid town, to assume the financial burden represented by the rebuilding of the schools, public buildings and utilities that will be needed.

The Government's offer is a solution of the financial difficulties that will be approved by the residents of Haileybury as well as by the people of the Province generally. And there will be widespread satisfaction that Haileybury is to arise from its ashes and become an even better town than the flourishing centre that disappeared in one terrible afternoon.

THE POLICE AND THE PUBLIC.

A scathing reference was made by Judge Deroche of Belleville during the course of the trial of a Belleville policeman charged with assaulting a prisoner, to those citizens who seem to take a delight in seeing a policeman in trouble.

"No man who likes to see a police officer in trouble is patriotic," declared Judge Deroche. "It would be a good thing if they were all deported, for the police are the defenders of the rights of the people. It has always been a queer thing to me to see people who pay taxes, part of which go to maintain police protection, set against the police."

The condition Judge Deroche complains of is not peculiar to Belleville.

We have it in Peterborough, as in every other centre.

Although we tax ourselves to maintain a police force to protect our lives and our property, it sometimes seems as if there are many people who enjoy seeing the same force baffled and humiliated.

The blue coats are the protection of organized society against those who seek to prey upon it.

Without the safeguard of a police force, life and property would constantly be endangered.

Yet there is a large measure of public opinion that, ignoring the fact that the police are only at war with the criminal class, seems to place the guardians of the law as enemies rather than friends of the people.

That is a rather ridiculous state of affairs—yet it exists as proven by Judge Deroche's denunciation of the Belleville offender and by observation of a similar tendency on the part of many local people who should know better.

PROBLEMS FOR THE ENGINEER.

The important place occupied by the engineer in our business, industrial and economic life is illustrated by the list of twenty problems laid down by Brigadier-General C. H. Mitchell at the recent dinner of the Peterborough branch of the Engineering Institute as challenging the ability of Canadian engineers.

General Mitchell's problems, difficult as some of them seem, are capable of solution, and many of them will be solved by the engineers of Canada.

The mere listing of such questions serves to call attention to the fact that Canadian engineers have triumphed over many problems equally as difficult and have as a result materially contributed to Canadian progress.

General Mitchell sets forth as the key problem the solution of the economic organization and operation of our national railways, and rightly declares that its correct solution will solve many more with ease.

Canada owes much to her engineerings, and incidentally Peterborough is fortunate in having such a live and energetic section of the Engineering Institute. The organization has kept its members in touch with the latest developments in all branches of engineering by bringing the leaders of their profession to Peterborough. At the same time, the branch has courteously invited the citizens of Peterborough generally to share in the benefit of the addresses delivered by the various visiting speakers, and in this way has contributed to the education of Peterborough along engineering lines.

It is doing a big work in a big way.

THE COST OF ROADS.

Judging by representations made by motor organizations and others using roads extensively this branch of public work is not receiving sufficient attention, says the Monetary Times. No better refutation of this view could be mentioned than some facts gleaned from a report just made by the Ontario Highways Department. Approximately $10,000,000 was spent by the province on road building during the past season, though only 300 miles were built. Of this $10,000,000 the province's share by virtue of the Dominion and Provincial legislation under which it operates is $4,000,000, or 40 per cent., the Dominion Government also being obligated to pay 40 per cent. and the municipalities benefitting from the construction being obligated to pay the remaining 20 per cent. It is stated at the Ontario Department, however, that the province's share will actually be more than its legal burden, in view of the Dominion Government's expected defalcation upon the score of its obligation. The Dominion Treasury, it is stated, has only the sum of $5,800,000 to devote towards all its good road purposes, so that Ontario will consequently be unable to collect the full share which is due her from this fund.

The Highways' Department summarizes its year's work as follows: Bituminous concrete pavement constructed, 44.9 miles; concrete pavement constructed, 43.25 miles; bituminous macadam constructed, 11.25 miles; waterbound macadam constructed, 107.4 miles; macadam base course constructed, 138 miles; grading finished, 487 miles; concrete culverts erected, 1,300; bridges built, 23; railway crossing subways constructed, 2.

We have had in Canada eras of canal construction, railway construction, and, so far as public works are concerned, the past few years appear to begin an era of road construction. In each of the previous cases the movement was carried too far for existing requirements, and changing economic conditions rendered some of the works of little or no value. Spread through the older provinces there are canals on which there is in some cases no traffic and in other cases insufficient traffic to justify their existence. The construction of railways was partly responsible for this loss of traffic.

In the same way the railways are losing traffic through the opening up of highways. It is impossible to foresee what future requirements may be, but a lesson might well be taken from the two previous cases.

THE SMILE OF A MURDERESS.

A Los Angeles jury has returned a verdict of second degree murder against a woman who deliberately plotted the murder of another woman, purchased a hammer, lured her victim into the country, and beat her head to a pulp with the instrument. Probably only the fact that the victim was another woman rather than a man prevented complete exoneration of the murderess.

The sentimentalists on the jury, with minds so distorted by unreasoning emotion that they could not see the murderess in the woman, were equally unable to see the single important fact that a life had been taken, arbitrarily and brutally. Their vision was clouded by the sex of the victim, as well as by the sex of the slayer. They found that a woman had killed another woman, not that an adult human being had wantonly murdered another adult human being. Therefore, they submitted to a compromise verdict, rather than a disagreement, subjecting the woman to a minimum punishment of ten years in prison instead of subjecting the murderess to the death penalty.

An Associated Press despatch from Los Angeles gives the reason for this sentimental miscarriage of justice. "She had the most appealing smile I ever saw," one juror is quoted as saying. One smile, and that juror was reduced to imbecility. All the evidence was wiped out of his mind, or what he is pleased to call his mind. He forgot the fact that this woman had deliberately purchased a hammer with the purpose of murder. He forgot that she had lured her intended victim into an automobile under false pretenses and taken her to a lonely spot to commit the murder. He forgot that she had attacked her victim with the savagery of a beast and beaten her to death. He remembered only the appealing smile, and voted to acquit her, to place law and justice in contempt, and to make her free to murder again if she should desire.

Those less weak minded and sentimental, including—be it said to their credit—the three women on the jury, managed to recall to the weakling and to the others reported in sympathy with him, that the sweet smiling murderess had killed another woman who might have smiled with equal sweetness. That was cruel. The sentimentalists were in a quandary. They got themselves out as best they could by compromise. Murder is partly but inadequately punished. The sentimentalists will rest easier.

But men and women throughout this country who depend upon the laws for protection will not sleep easier. Murder has been condoned. Their lives are in greater danger because persons who may desire to murder are given this public assurance that they have a chance to escape, through a smile or otherwise, the penalty of such a deed. Until sanity instead of sentimentalism rules juries society is in danger.—Chicago Tribune.

THE MYSTERIOUS SIGNS INDICATED PRESENCE RICHES

Secret of the Lost Aztec Wealth May Be Near a Solution.

OZARK, Ark., Nov. 21.—Is the long sought secret of the fabulously rich Aztec gold mines near a solution? Will interpretation of mysterious markings on the face of a cliff near here lead to a vault of gold and silver bullion worth $120,000,000?

The question has come to the fore again, as deep research is being made to determine the hieroglyphics, and as plans are going forward for the final search which is expected to end treasure quests over more than a century. A man who has searched for a quarter of a century and expended thousands of dollars, thinks that herein is the key, and that he will soon unlock the romantic mystery of the "Lost Louisiana" mines.

Tradition has it that the ancient Aztecs operated fabulously rich gold and silver mines in Mexico, using the metals for implement making, etc. With the coming of the Spanish conquerors, the mines were seized.

Twelve of the mines are said to have been located in the wild isolated parts of the Ozarks. The Spanish are said to have operated these with Mexican slave labor until 1793. Then came rumors of war with France.

Spanish Hide Treasure

Fearful lest their treasure-trove be seized, the Spanish are said to have stored all the gold and silver bullion in a secret vault and obliterated all trails leading to it and to the mines. For their future guidance, they are said to have left secret markings on the face of a cliff.

When the territory passed into French possession in 1800, French adventurers started the search for the treasure. After America acquired it by the Louisiana purchase, the search continued.

Now, after years of fruitless search by his predecessors, one prospector remains confident in his belief that he has finally struck the spot where the Aztec treasure lies hidden. He is Dr. Tobe Hill, a practicing physician of Mulberry, Ark.

Twenty-five years ago, a roving Spaniard divulged the secret of the lost mines to Dr. Hill and his father. He took them over the territory which the physician's father owns, and which, he says, holds the secret of this vast wealth.

Searches 25 Years

After these 25 years of unremitting search and the expenditure of between $15,000 and $25,000, Dr. Hill has succeeded only in reaching what he believes is the vault wherein the Spaniards buried the gold and silver they had unearthed from the Aztec mines. But he is halted at the opening.

There, on a ledge above the entrance to the natural vault, is what Hill believes is the open-sesame to the treasure. It consists of hieroglyphics or strange signs.

An accident led Dr. Hill to the discovery of the vault and its queer tablet. A ledge of rock near his father's home had long been the "rubbing post" for hogs. One day a neighbor noticed that in rubbing against the rocks the hogs had uncovered the graven figure of a bow and arrow pointing downward.

He told Dr. Hill and digging was immediately begun. Down and down went the workmen until they had uncovered an entire cliff, about 20 feet high and 100 feet long, its smooth face covered with the strange signs. Tunnels were bored and shafts sunk until water forced their abandonment.

To the right of this cliff, the natural vault was found which, it is the firm belief of Dr. Hill, contains the buried treasure. People about here now call it the "Tobe Hill mine." It is flooded with the waters of Mulberry Creek and no way can be found into it—unless its secret can be unfolded from the signs above its entrance.

Athletic Tournament By G.W.V.A. in Rink—Debating Society Organized—Personal Mention

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 21. — On Thursday evening the G.W.V.A. are holding an athletic tournament in the rink which will no doubt draw a good crowd. Two games of baseball are on the card. The Grove and Veterans teams will clash in the first game and a girl's clash will be the second event. There will also be races, which being of a decidely novel character, should attract many entries. Prizes are given for each event and each one is well worth winning. As this will probably be the last athletic evening in the rink before it is flooded for winter, hopes are entertained for a bumper crowd. The hunting season is now past and the men will be glad of a new attraction.

Debating Society.

On Tuesday afternoon, the High School Literary and Debating Society was re-organized for the coming season and the following officers elected:

The season of Christmas sales and bazaars is approaching and dates are already announced for two; the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid will hold theirs on November 29, in their school room and St. John's Anglican Church will hold a Yuletide in the memorial hall on December 5. The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church will hold an annaul Christmas bazaar, but have not announced a date.

Anniversary Services.

The anniversary services of the Baptist Church were held on Sunday. Rev. H. S. Bennett of Campbellford was the special preacher at both services. In the evening the musical part of the service was taken over by the choir of Gilmour Memorial Church of Smith. The evening service in the Methodist church was waived to allow the Methodists the opportunity of attending the Baptist Anniversary.

Hockey Prospects.

A meeting of those interested in hockey is announced for Tuesday evening in the council chamber.

As last year was the first winter in nine years that we had a ring suitable for a hockey match, Lakefield made a wondertully good beginning. It may have been rather too ambitious to enter two teams in the O.H.A. for the first season, but, however, both teams gave a good account of themselves and the prospects for the coming season are excellent. One of the stars of the senior team, Harry Blewett, is not available this year as he has accepted a position in Toronto.

What I Have Learned in 47 Years Practice

I HAVE been watching the results of constipation for 47 years, since I began the practice of medicine back in 1875. I am now 83 years old, and though from time to time the medical profession makes some wonderfully interesting experiments and tests, the fundamentals of causes and relief in this particular ailment are unchanged.

But the people take greater interest today in their health, in diet, exercise and the drinking of water. Constipation, however, will occur from time to time no matter how one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. I believe in getting as close to nature as possible, hence my remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It is made of Egyptian senna and pepsin with agreeable aromatics. Children will not willingly take bitter things. Laxative Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written me to that effect.

Over 10 million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin are now sold every year, and it is the most widely bought family laxative in the world. I say family laxative because all in the family can use it with safety. It is mild enough for the infant in arms, effective in the most chronic constipation of an adult. The formula is on every package.

Recently there has been a new wave of drastic physics. Calomel, a mercurial that salivates and loosens teeth, has been revived; salt waters and powders that draw needed constituents from the blood; coal tar disguised in candy form that causes skin eruptions. In a practice of 47 years I have never seen any reason for their use when a medicine like Laxative Syrup Pepsin will empty the bowels just as promptly, more cleanly and gently, without griping, and without shock to the system.

Keep free from constipation! It lowers your strength 28 per cent, hardens the arteries and brings on premature old age. Do not let a day go by without a bowel movement. Do not sit and hope but go to a druggist and get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. It is a generous-size bottle. Take a teaspoonful that night and by morning you will be well. The cost is only about a cent a dose. Use Laxative Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, piles, indigestion, loss of appetite or sleep, and to break up fevers and colds. Always have a bottle in the house, and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open.

CAMPBELLFORD AND DISTRICT

Water Let Out of Canal—Property Transfer—Deer Hunters Return.

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 21. — Chief Duncalfe, Frank Sarginson, Will Sarginson, Art Kelliher, Vince Farrell and Wesley Wannamaker have returned from Beaver Creek and report fairly good luck, getting five fine deer among the party and had all the partridges they wanted to eat during their stay in camp. The birds are fine and plump this year, but the absence of snow made it very hard to track the deer. However, all the members had a real good time and that is the main thing.

The season for navigation along the canal having closed, the water between Locks 8 and 9 has been let out, and everything is ready for the spring floods. There were not as many fish captured this year as last. Perhaps they are getting wise.

The work of installing the electric gates at the cement bridge has been completed and workmen are now busy erecting a shelter over them which will change the appearance of the scenery along this route.

U.F.O. SOCIAL HAPPY AFFAIR.

Farmers' Club in Bailieboro District Enjoy One of the Best Programmes Yet—News Paragraphs.

BAILIEBORO, Nov. 21.—On Friday, Nov. 17, the second fortnightly social evening of the Cavan and South Monaghan U.F.O. Club was held in the Council Hall at Centreville. There was a good attendance present, and the event proved a great success. A good programme was provided, and Fred Barnard acted as chairman. A trio given by Messrs. J. Isbister, Wm. Belch and Geo. Berry added considerably to the evening's entertainment, and each of their numbers was heartily encored.

The educational part of the programme was taken by Rev. A. H. McConnachie, who read an essay on co-operation, covering not only co-operation in Canada, but over the whole world. After this reading time was given for an open discussion, everyone having opportunity to criticize or ask questions on the subject. Mr. McDonald led in the discussion, giving reasons why co-operative stores are not successful in Canada and of how they are managed in the old land to assure their success. He also brought out many other good points on how co-operation could be improved.

After the programme a dance was enjoyed, everyone doing full justice to the good music provided by D. Stewart and C. Wood, of Fraserville and also by a Victrola.

At midnight a dainty lunch was served, several of the ladies and gentlemen helping to cater.

A social evening of this kind will be held every fortnight during the winter months. The programme will be varied each evening.

Crop Report.

Prospects certainly look good for a huge crop next spring, as the open fall has given farmers sufficient time to complete their fall plowing. Mostly all of the farmers have finished ploughing in the district, many turning over more land than they had intended owing to the weather staying open so long.

Threshing throughout the country is nearly finished, with the exception of an occasional farmer who does not believe in wasting time threshing until after it freezes up.

Provincial Highway.

Work is nearly done on the provincial highway for this season There are only a few teamsters drawing gravel, and the road is nearly all graded now.

The men who are planting trees along each side of the road are endeavoring to complete their job before winter sets in.

Many a bob white rounds out its full period of existence without ever going ten miles from the nest where it was hatched.

The throat, breathing passages and lungs are the weak spots at which colds strike. And these are the very organs most difficult to treat, because only a breatheable remedy is capable of reaching the trouble lodged there.

Peps provide a breatheable remedy, and their superiority over remedies which are swallowed into the stomach is therefore obvious. For convenience, this breatheable remedy is condensed into tablet form. To take the treatment, merely dissolve Peps in your mouth, and the medicinal vapor that is released is carried by the breath to the remotest parts of the breathing passages and lungs, healing, soothing and strengthening every part with which it comes in contact. At the same time, by destroying all disease germs, these medicinal fumes prevent the development of colds, coughs and serious chest trouble.

Carry Peps with you, and when you go from an overheated building to the bitter cold of outdoors, put a pastille in your mouth. Also as a protection against germs, keep a Pep in your mouth, when breathing the impure air of a crowded theatre or store.

For colds, asthma, or chest troubles, which have already developed, Peps are equally invaluable; also for bronchitis, sore throat, laryngitis, etc. All dealers, 50c. box.

PEPS

CASH GRAIN.

MONTREAL, November 21. Canadian Press. — Following an easier feeling in the Winnipeg cash wheat market and trade in cash grain here was quiet. There was no important change in the flour market. Trade in millfeed continues active with the tone of the market very firm. The demand for rolled oats was good. The market for baled hay was steady There was nothing new in the egg situation. The total shipments to date were 13,976 cases less than in 1921.

The market for potatoes was quiet with a steady undertone. An easier feeling prevails in the butter market with the prices down 1-2c a pound. The total shipments to date have been 252,247 packages larger than in the same period last year. The feeling in cheese was steady. Total shipments to date have been 251,710 boxes less than in 1921.

Four-Fold Protection

How to Safeguard The Future

When you think of possible deprivation of Income for your family, you perhaps consider only the possibility of your "death from natural causes."

But there are three other possible "routes to poverty" for your loved ones—and it is well to provide against them all.

There's Accident—which removes so many in the prime of life.

There's the loss of earning-power, caused by disability of the breadwinner, either through illness or accident.

And, finally, there is the retirement from life's activities when overtaken by old age, often without any savings.

Do you know that you can protect yourself and your family against all four of these contingencies, in one complete Policy?

Such a Policy is now issued by the North American Life Assurance Company—a Policy that pays four ways:

1 Death	2 Accident	3 Total Disability	4 Old Age
This, the fullest insurance covering available, would pay your beneficiary on a $10,000 contract—	At your death, $10,000. If death be accidental, $20,000. If you become totally disabled through accident or sickness, this $10,000 contract pays:—	(1) $100 to you each month for your lifetime; (2) All future premiums on your Policy as they fall due; (3) $10,000 to your estate at death.

The STORY of the BIBLE

By E.C. Braithwaite B.D.Th.D.

VIII. — FORERUNNERS OF THE AUTHORIZED VERSION

Tyndale's Bible was the first of many versions to appear in the next half-century. The next was by Myles Coverdale, issuer in 1535, the year before Tyndale's death and much of it was taken from Tyndale's version. Two years later appeared Matthew's Bible, a large part of which was also taken bodily from Tyndale. This may be called the first authorized Bible, it being "set forth with the kinge's most gracyous lycence." Tyndale's last prayer seems, therefore, to have been answered within about a year of his death

In 1539 came Traverner' Bible, The same year was issued also the Great Bible. a copy of which was ordered to be placed in every church These were sometimes chained to the desks and a few of these "chained Bibles" are still found in some of the old churches.

The Geneva Version, published in 1562 yas the next to appear, being the work of several who had fled during the story days of Queen Mary's reign to Switzerland, where they were in close association with John Knox who was then preaching at Geneva This was the first English version to use the verse-divisions, the first to be printed in handy size, the first to adopt the Roman type and the first to omit the Apocrypha. It was the popular Bible for nearly a century, maintaining a successful rivalry for first place with the King James version long after the publication of the latter, just as that version has been retaining its popularity over our latest revised versions

In 1568 appeared the Bishops' Bible the purpose of which was to counteract the influences of the Puritanical marginal notes of the Geneva Version. A little later came the Douai Bible, the first Rosan Catholic Bible in the English language; the New Testament being issued in 1582, the Old Testament and Apocrypha (two volumes) in 1609 and 1610, just as the King James version was being completed

Thus, in the space of forty-three years— from 1525 to 1568— seven different versions of the English Bible were published, an average of one in every six years, which is quite a unique event in Bibical history. It was just forty-three years ore before another version appeared under Protestant auspices.

When this new version appeared in 1611, it remained in the field two hundred and seventy years before its successor arrived upon the scene, and now after more than three hundred years in probability still more widely read than any other—another unique circumstances of Biblical history.

A Thought

The law of the Lord is perfect, converting the soul; the testimony of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes.—Psalm 19:7.

Much as I have seen of the world, of its triumphs, of its gaieties, and of its magnificence, I have never for a moment shaken the conviction that the best thing this side of heaven, the delight of life, its chief consolation, indeed the very charm of existence, is in kind affections.—Henry Colman.

Doll Bags Are the Style Now

If you notice all the grown-up women carrying dolls, don't fear they have entered upon their second childhood—they are merely carrying the very latest styles in handbags.

Some of these doll-bags exploit the latest Paris creations, others feature a native costume, as the one in the photograph, but all are elaborately lined and beautifully finished and swing from the wrist on a ribbon.

They are fastened with snaps neatly concealed so that it takes an expert to find the opening. They probably will be the despair of pickpockets.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE.

But the Chinese bride wears the favorite national color—yellow. She is entirely covered with a thick veil. Her attendants, usually matrons,

It's Easy to Make Your Masquerade Costume

No matter how inexpertly you may handle a needle and thread you can fashion a costume yourself for that will be much more appropriate than your new evening frock.

One of the simplest methods is to take an old slip or foundation made of cloth and then build on it an entirely new creation of tulle, crepe paper or cheesecloth.

A substantial foundation makes the whole work much simpler, and can be cut away where it is not needed.

At the favor counters you can get chargnim patterns for floral gowns and also for vegetable ones if you prefer to go as a turnip instead of a rose.

Decorated crepe paper, fringed and arranged about the neck and from the waist, gives a good copy of the Hawaiian dancer's costume.

Simple costumes of yellow or orange, decorated with black figures, pasted or sewed on at intervals, are always effecttive and easy to make.

Fashion Notes

SMART HAT

A smart hat is of emerald green velvet with a narrow brim and a soft crown. The only trimming is a huge pompom of very fine silk floss which falls over the brim on the left side.

EVENING WRAP

An evening coat of sapphire blue velvet, lined with silver cloth, has sleeves, trimmed with roses made of the velvet, and a full, ruffled collar of the silver cloth.

FUR TRIMMING

Fur trimmed hats are now being extensively shown. Gray felt hats have brims of gray caracul or squirrel and black velvet ones are frequently embroidered with bright colored silks and edged with skunk or doe. Brunne is, of course, lovely on black velvet.

TRIMMED WITH RED KID

A black velvet costume is originally trimmed with many rows of bright red kid. mall fan-like pleatings of the kid are the only other embellishments.

MOLE AND ERMINE

A muff from Paris is a round affair draped with three squares of fur in three different sizes, so that each piece shows the points of the one under it. Two of the squares are of mole and one is of ermine.

JEWELED BELT

On a short sealskin jacket is a rather wide belt made of large semi-precious stones, surrounded by small er ones. The collar and cuffs are of ermine.

MOIRE COSTUMES

Very lovely, picturesque frocks are made of moire, with full, long skirts and tight bodices. Frequently they have long sleeves and small collars of real lace.

UNUSUAL COLOR EFFECT

One of the most lovely importations from Paris is a gown of deep purple velvet lined with crepe of a particularly lovely shade of cerise. A finishing touch is a girdle of old gold.

EMBROIDERED CREPE

White crepe is one of the most popular materials of the moment. It is seen to excellent advantage in a peasant costume, elaborately embroidered in green and tan.

THREE-PIECE COSTUME

Wide bands of gray caracul trim a brown duvetyn three-piece costume that is embroidered with gold scrolls.

SAYS QUEBEC GOVT. CORRUPT

And Attorney General's Department Rotten to the Marrow.

MONTREAL, Nov. 21.— (Canadian Press.)—Every seat was filled with people who lustily cheered and gave vent to their enthusiasm of the moment last night when Armand Lavergne, K.C., gave them his version of the Blanche Garneau crime, upheld John Roberts as the shining example of public devotion, and characterized the Provincial government in general, and the Attorney-General's Department in particular, as "corrupt and rotten to the marrow." Police detective work was ridiculed by the speaker. "Sherlock Holmes detectives" of Quebec he blamed for thier extraordinary stupidity, and the corner's proceedings as farcical.

Mr. Lavergne apologized for "speaking from memory." He claimed that the archives of the police court in the case have mysteriously disappeared. Cries of "shame" greeted this.

"I do not think that Taschereau and his helpers are scoundrels, but they are certainly fit to be qualified as the most perfect imbeciles imaginable," exclaimed Mr. Lavergne.

MONTREAL POLICE THREATENED STRIKE.

MONTREAL Nov. 21.—(Canadian Press). — Evidence regarding hours of duty occupied the attention of the members of the Board of Arbitration appointed by the Minister of Labor to deal with the matters in dispute between the members of the Police Force of the City of Montreal and the Civic Administration, at the first session of the conciliation body held here yesterday afternoon.

If you had a fine dairy cow— just outside your kitchen door

Your milk supply couldn't be any sweeter, purer, or more rich and healthful than St. Charles Milk "with the cream left in".

In fact it wouldn't be as rich, because most of the natural moisture is removed from St. Charles Milk, which reduces it to the consistency of cream.

And the supply wouldn't be as convenient, for St. Charles is put up in "a size for every need". Never too much or too little.

A few tins on your pantry shelf ensure an always available supply of fresh milk from choicest dairy cows. Your grocer always has St. Charles Milk—give him your order today.

LOVE AND WEALTH FAILED AND THEN CAME DEATH

DETROIT, Nov. 21.—Death has broken a little family circle on the East Side that love and riches have failed to alter in 50 years.

In a shabby little house at 428 Division street Michael Sullivan and his sister, Catherine and Lizzie, have lived together for a span of half a century. Shortly after the Cival War, when Detroit was a dusty, uninspiring mid-western town, the Sullivans took up their residence in the little house. The days have passed, great changes have come and disolved under stress of still greater changes—Detroit is now a rushing roaring glant among cities but the house and the lives of the Sullivans have undergone no change.

Michael is a bachelor, the sisters spinsters. Love has appeared to them, of course, but never has it been strong enough to break their circle. The Sullivans owned property. As the city grew, the property increased in value, so that of late years each of them has been independently wealthy.

The money could have purchased them a fine home, servants and luxuries. But the humble house on Division street has always claimed their affections and they would not leave it. The sisters have always performed the tasks of the household. Of late years, Michael has been confined to his bed, but the sisters assumed the increased burden of his care without assistance.

Tuesday, Catherine, the 75-year-old elder sister, went to church as was her custom. After services, she attempted to cross the road at Adelaide and John R streets. Her sight was dim and the thickly falling rain did not help it. An autoombile came out of the mist suddenly, crushingly, and struck the old woman down. The driver, Theodore La Tour, 542 Elizabeth street east did what he could to help, but it was useless. She was dead.

So the little circle is broken Michael, 70 years old, lies in his bed, stunned by the disaster which has befallen. Lizzie, 72 years old sits in her aged rocker and gazes with tear-filled eyes out on a world suddenly becomes cold after 50 years of happiness.

Catherine's estate of $75,000 will be divided between the two, but that is of no consequence. Their circle is broken.

SOVIET PEASANTS FRAMING LAWS IN THE THRONE ROOM

Assemble in the Czar of Russia's Old Palace to Discuss Legislation For Proletariat.

MOSCOW, Nov. 21.—(Associated Press) — Russia's Parliament of Workmen and Peasants, in their picturesque garb, have assembled in the great throne room of the Czars' old Palace, within the Kremlin, to discuss new laws designed to benefit the proletariat.

The legislation to be considered includes the labor code of land laws, civil laws, and laws providing for unified courts of justice, all of which require readjustment owing to the new economic policy.

The Parliament, known officially as the All-Russian Center Committee, is the highest legislative body in Russia.

The throne-room, where more than 300 members from various parts of Russia have assembled, is virtually unchanged from the days of the reign of Emperor Nicholas except that the throne has been concealed by a white sounding board intended to improve the acoustics. Upon the walls, which are of light blue and gold, and upon the ten immense gilded pillars, still remain the arms of the Imperial family, and from ten enormous chandeliers scores of the old imperial double eagles, still look down on the lawmakers, four of whom are women.

The reception hall of the Empress, adjoining the throne room, is filled with telephones and noisy typewriters operated by short haired stenographers.

The room of St. George, of gold and white, the largest room in the Kremlin, with six chandelabra supporting more than 3,000 incandescent lights, is being used as a smoking room by the peasant lawmakers.

DOUBLED RADIO CALLS.

Two French radio engineers have perfected a system by which two messages can be sent through a radio instrument at the same time. No interference is experienced between them and each is sent out with the full power of the radio station. Thus a radio transmission station will be able to double its sending capacity.

PROBLEMS FOR THE ENGINEER

Submitted to Local Members of Profession By Brig.-General C. H. Mitchell.

Following are 20 problems for local engineers submitted to them at their recent banquet in the Empress Hotel by Brig.-Gen. C. H. Mitchell, M.E.I.C.

Problems For the Engineer.

The solution of the economic organization and operation of our National Railways. This is our Key problem and its correct solution will solve many more with ease.

The economic electrification of steam railways as distinct from the construction of new electric ones.

The economics of building new electric interurban and trunk railways alongside of or to feed existing steam roads.

Development of permanent highway systems, Provincial and National.

Profitable long distance electric power transmission. It is now two hundred and fifty miles, may it be five hundred miles or seven hundred miles in this country?

Means of getting cheap electric power delivered to farming communities.

The operation of hydro electric power plants in the very cold climate and frozen rivers of the far north from which with long transmission lines to centres of population we can distribute power to the vast West.

Recovery from our low grade ores and wastes from mines.

Electric smelting of our iron ores, especially in central Canada by means of water power at very low costs.

Continued intensive exploration, reconnaissance, appraisal and research of our national resources. What more can we learn for instance about the possibilities of:—oil in the great Northwest, copper and gold in the central North, diamonds in the clay of northern Ontario, iron and gold in Labrador?

Construction and surfacing of our highways which will stand up under extreme traffic without winter conditions.

The protection of concrete structures from attack by the alkali waters of the Western Provinces.

Development of cheaper motor traction for road, farm and industry.

Electric motor cars with light weight inexpensive storage batteries capable of operating over long distances.

The construction and operation of aeroplanes for very cold winter conditions.

The manufacture of motor fuels as substitutes for gasoline from agricultural products, such as wood corn and potatoes.

Wireless and radio development—at present only in its infancy.

The development of apparatus for using electricity for heating and heat processes in the manufactures (based on very cheap power).

The production of nitrogen and its compounds from the air by electric processes with water power, to make Canada independent, especially for fertilizing your Western agricultural areas. These are some of the things which we must set ourselves to solve, as a nation of energetic, alert people and it is clear that Engineering plays a most important part and must take its active responsibility in their solution.

It is our national duty at this times to look with cheerfulness on the future and to attack these problems with the best possible combination of our human and material resources.

THE SMILING VOICE

An unexpected but very sensible reply to the question of what he liked most in America was given lately by a Japanese newspaper man upon returning to his native land after a visit to this continent. Was it the huge buildings, the swift trains, the evidence on every hand of dynamic energy that won his highest administration? Were these the impressive things that will linger longest in his memory. Not a bit of it.

Separately and collectively he found much in their favor to say. He admitted that they were fine. But they are not the things which will haunt his dreams of America. What he remembers with most pleasure is the "unbelievably sweet voice, the constant sweet nature and the extraordinary resourcefulness of the typical telephone operator.

There will be general agreement that this Japanese visitor has paid a deserved tribute to a group of women whose labors in an often exasperating and always nerve staining occupation are performed usually with courteous patience and poise sometimes unappreciated. He is entitled to a floral tribute from the telephone woman. More than that, he is entitled to the thanks of all reasonable telephone users for reminding them from afar of an advantage they perhaps are inclined to overlook.

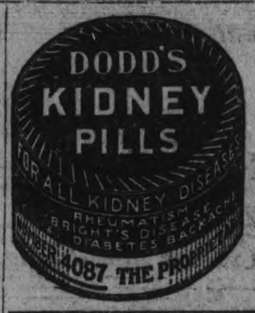
And more than that still, he has not only bestowed praise, where praise is due, but discovered something wholly new to say on a topic worn to a frizzle by countless strangers within our gates who have been harried with questions about it.

And so, the public here in Peterborough, when responding to the Bell Co's invitation to inspect their local exchange, this telephone week, while in active operation, may have opportunity to learn under what exasperating trials and difficulties the average operator at times answers with a smiling voice and courteous patience.

HEATING LARGE CHURCH WITH COAL OIL TANK.

Coal Shortage Problem Being Solved at St. Mary's, Lindsay.

LINDSAY, Nov. 21—(Special).—With a view to solving the coal shortage, Very Rev. Dean Whibbs is heating St. Mary's Church as well as the rectory with oil. A tank 20 feet in length and about 5 feet in diameter capable of holding 2,500 gallons of oil has been placed in the ground in rear of the church. The oil is sprayed into the large furnace under the church proper by a motor while the spraying is done in the smaller furnace heating the vestry and also the rectory by a water pump. The new system works satisfactorily and promises to effect a great saving in fuel.



Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome and too dangerous to force the weight down. Marmola Prescription Tablets overcome all these difficulties. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or exercise, and have the added advantage of cheapness. A case is sold at one dollar by all druggists the world over, or send the price direct to the Marmola Co., 4612 Woodward avenue, Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this, you have no excuse for being fat, but can reduce steadily and easily without going through long sieges of tiresome exercise and starvation diet or fear of bad effects.

SEAPLANE CARRYING LIQUOR FROM CANADA

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.— Thousands of cases of Canadian liquor are being landed on Long Island by a large seaplane which is operating daily between the Canadian border and the New York landing point, John D. Appleby, zone dry chief, said Saturday night.

One of the best known American aviators is alleged by dry agents to be piloting the rum running seaplane, which travels at a speed of almost 100 miles an hour. Six hours is required for the plane to fly over the Canadian border, take on its liquor cargo and fly back to its Long Island landing place.

IMPROVING THE SINK.

An old wooden sink was made handier by attaching a zinc drain board. Three shallow grooves were beaten into the zinc, and it was nailed to the wooden frame with a slight incline so the water easily drained back into the sink.

'BEST HOUSEWIFE' IS NOW THE 'FIRST LADY'

Husband of Mrs. F. W. Richardson Was Swept Into the Governorship.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 21.—California's "best housewife" has become California's "first lady."

"And now my troubles begin," sighs Mrs. Friend W. Richardson, whose husband was swept into the governorship at the last election.

It is traditional that, under such circumstances, the wife burbles jubilantly and dreams of social position.

Not so Mrs. Richardson. Note as a house-keeper-de-luxe, home body, cook and mother, she opines that "the governor's mansion will never seem like home."

"Yes, my troubles are beginning now," she said as she prepared to move into the stately mansion. "Now I'll have to have cooks and maids, and I've been doing my own housework all my life.

"Dear Me! Cooks!"

"Dear me! And I've always been told that cooks and servants are so much trouble. They never cook things the way you want them. They never do things the way you'd do them."

It has long been her philosophy that every woman should be sole overlord of her home.

"I've always thought woman's clubs and that sort of thing were waste of time. Women can find plenty to use up their time around the house if they want to," she holds.

The first duty of a governor's wife, as of every other wife, she believes, is to maintain her home ties against the encroachments of outside attraction. She believes that the "first lady" should always be the "best housewife."

"If a woman is really happy in her home she won't have much time for social affairs,' she avers.

"Now, I suppose I'll have to entertain. And maybe I'll find time now to pay a few calls. I haven't called at more than seven homes in 10 years. If a governor's wife has as much leisure as she's supposed to, I think charity questions should take up considerable of her time.

"And another thing: the matter of town morals needs attention. I intend to clean up this town and help clean up others. They aren't fit to bring up children in. Governor's wives could be a powerful influence for good, I believe."

The simple philosophy of the "best housekeeper" who became "first lady" was interrupted when, for the first time, she gave attention to her hat.

"Im afraid I'll have to buy a new hat now," she concluded. "My husband learned a lot about the government economy he expects to practice right in the home. Good home budgets would encourage good state budgets."

PENSION OF $25.000 FOR CABINET MEMBER

Does Not Have to Hustle For a Living When Ousted From Office.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—(Associated Press)—The Lord Chancellor, Lord Birkenhead, is financially the hardest hit of all the members of the cabinet who have to retire from office because Mr. Lloyd George has resigned the Premiership. In becoming an ex-Lord Chancellor he loses 10,000 pounds sterling a year and the handsome suite of apartments which the Lord Chancellor always occupies, rent free, in the House of Lords.

But he does not have to hustle for a living, as is usually the case with an ex-office holder in the United States. Anyone who has filled the exalted office of Lord Chancellor, for however short a period, is entitled to 5,000 pounds sterling a year for life if he chooses to claim it.

Ex-Lord Chancellors usually live long to enjoy their pensions. At the present time there are five of them in England, alive and hearty.

The Law Lords are really the equivalent of the American Supreme Court. They are the highest court of appeal. It is for these services the so-called pensions are paid them.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST HEALER

HUSBAND DIDN'T DARE LEAVE HER ALONE HER HEART WAS SO BAD

Those feelings of faintness, those dizzy spells, the all-gone sinking sensations which come on from time to time indicate a weakened condition of the heart and a disordered state of the nerves.

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

have no equal as a remedy to strengthen the heart, invigorate the nerves and build up the run-down system.

Mrs. C. Vanhorn, Eckville, Alta., writes:—"About a year ago I had heart trouble. My husband didn't dare leave me alone, and often I would just feel kind of faint and my heart would seem to stop beating. I would just faint away, and it would sometimes be an hour before they could bring me back to life. Someone told me about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I got three boxes I took them and felt much better, so continued all Winter, and now I ever feel any such faintness, I surely do appreciate the good they have done for me."

Price 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FARM TRESPASSERS SCORED.

Mrs. Bess Wilson editor of the Redwood, Minn., Gazette, very properly censures town people who drive through country districts and raid the farmer of his tame and wild fruit and other products. "Everything that grows on a farmer's farm belongs to that farmer," is the way the Gazette puts it. "To take even wild fruit without his permission is as much a misdemeanor as to take his corn, potatoes or chickens."

IN MILLBROOK AND DISTRICT

Literary Evening For the Young People's League — Visitors to Millbrook and District.

MILLBROOK, November 21. — A successful literary evening was held in the Young Peoples League on Monday evening, the programme being under the direction of the 4th vice-president, Mrs. Percy Stinson, who occupied the chair. A study of the life of Lord Tennyson was taken up under the title, "Where are the Nine" each person present being furnished with an attractive folder, prepared by Miss May Byam, ruled for ten facts re the poet's life, but only one of which was supplied, so each must by enquiry, find out the remaining nine items of information and enter them in the folder ;thus each had as a souvenir of the meeting a fairly complete biography of the leading events of the poet's life written by their own hand— a good method of fixing the items in the memory. The poems studied included: Enoch Arden, the Relief of Lucknow, and a portion of In Memoriam. "Crossing the Bar" was given as a solo, and altogether a very pleasant and profitable evening was spent. Next week the Citizenship Committee will have charge of the program. The Missionary Committee, under Mrs. G. W. Sayles are planning to hold their annual bazaar early in December and are busy preparing now for the event.

Work Progressing.

The many friends of Miss Bessie Hawken will be glad to learn that her missionary work among the Ruthenian colony of Smoky Lake, Alberta, is meeting with very encouraging results, the people being on quite friendly terms with the mission and paying the Home frequent visits. Smoky Lake is growing both in population and business enterprise, and the removal of the much needed hospital and nurses' home, from Pakan to this point has been a great boon: an unfortunate feature however is the growing popularity of the Sunday dance in many sections of the colony and the fact that "moonshine" has become almost a family beverage.

Miss Hawken's school consists of from 20 to 25 resident pupils ranging in age from 3 to 17 years, and several day scholars; last year five English children were taken in from poor homes but the school is of course chiefly for the education and moral training of the Ruthenian children, the only possible hope of winning the colony, which numbers about 60,000 of these foreigners, to Christianity and Canadian citizenship being through the children.

Mrs. Nellie McClung's S. S. class at Edmonton is paying for the education of one little boy, Peter Rahalski, known to many here through Miss Hawken's letters and 'snaps' which she has sent, and Wesley Church, Edmonton, loaned a tent in which one teacher and the resident pupils slept and ate at a picnic table under the trees, adding greatly to the enjoyment of the summer.

Owing to a strong national Ukrainian sentiment which has sprung up during the last year, the government schools have refused the missionaries permission to carry on Sunday school work in connection with their pupils as formerly, the leaders of the movement being in many cases, the Ukrainian teachers [illegible] in charge of these schools; hence the Sunday schools must now be held in the homes of the people as in former years. However in spite of some discouragements the workers are grateful for the opportunity of touching the children permanently in their four fold development for Christ and country. Two other workers are associated with Miss Hawken at the Kolokreeka Home and Boarding school but a fourth is urgently needed if the amount of visiting in the homes that is absolutely needed, is to be accomplished.

Died In Otonabee on Friday, Nov. 17th, Eliza Stewart in her 88th year. Deceased was a sister of the late Mrs. George Needler of Millbrook, and was also the last surviving member of a family of six sons and four daughters. The funeral will take place from her late residence, Monday, November 20, at 2.30 p.m., Rev. A. H. McConnachie of Centreville, having charge of the services. Personal Mention.

Misses Gertrude and Marian Spence, who have been spending the last two months visiting friends at Verdun, Man., returned home on Friday.

Mrs. W. J. Gardiner and Miss Estella Kennedy were visitors to Peterboro on Saturdayq.

Rev. C. R. Spencer's home on Bank street, has been purchased by Mr. David Hall, of Omemee, who has been spending some months in the west, but has now returned to Ontario. Miss Annie Hall resides with her brother, Mr. Stewart Hall, of Cavan, being another brother with whom Miss Hall, some years ago, made her home.

The many friends of Mrs. A. T. Armstrong, who is recovering from a broken arm, the result of a fall a few weeks ago, will regret to learn that she had again the misfortune to fall on the wet pavement near St. Thomas' church this week while returning from a call upon Miss O'Brian, at Mr. H. W. Johnston's, breaking her leg. The invalid is doing as well as could be expected considering her advanced years, and the fact that the first injury was still a cause of suffering when the second occurred.

Mrs. S. DeGeer of Oakwood, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. A. A. Birchard, the latter's brother-in-law also of Oakwood, being another visitor this week.

Dr. G. H. and Mrs. Chas. Needler, of Toronto, came down from the city on Saturday, remaining over until Monday and attending the funeral of their aunt, the late Miss L. Stewart of Otonabee, at the Little Lake Cemetery, Peterboro, on Monday afternoon.

Rev. G. I. Campbell of Ottawa, will preach in the eMthodist church on Sunday, November 26th, both morning and evening, in the interests of the Department of Social Service and Evangelism. Spiritual conferences will be held throughout the Peterboro district the following week to be addresse by Mr. Campbell and others to further this worthy cause.

There was also one car of cheese consigned to Montreal. Campbellford is rapidly increasing cattle shipments, on account of the high-grade quality raised in this district.

Address on "Cancer."

A very pleasant and profitable evening was spent by the very large number of young people of St. Andrew's Church last evening at their Endeavor, when Dr. H. B. Longmore gave an excellent address on "Cancer." Dr. Longmore impressed his hearers with the alarming prevalence of cancer, which each year causes more deaths than did the war. The theory of cancer is thought to be caused by irritation, and a downward growth of the cells of the body. The speaker declared it was not a skin or blood disease, and was not contageous, but urged his hearers to beware of warts or any growths which might seem harmless, but might develop into the much feared cancer. Cancer of the liver, the speaker asserted, could frequently be traced to excessive use of alcohol. Any pains in the stomach after a meal should be given attention as such might be a symptom of ulcer of the stomach or cancer. If taken in time, cancer is in most cases curable, but if allowed to progress it is fatal. The methods of treatment are X-Ray, radium and operation. Dr. Longmore urged upon his hearers the necessity of seeking medical advice in any case of suspected cancer while it is in its early stages, and stated by improved methods of treatment for cancer and antitoxins for typhoid, diphtheria, etc., that the average length of life might be greatly increased.

A very hearty vote of thanks was tendered Dr. Longmore for his very excellent educational address. Gilbert Stephen very efficiently occupied the chair, and during the evening Mr. John Storie, in his usual fine voice, rendered a solo, which was much appreciated.

Epworth League.

The Epworth League held their regular meeting last evening, which was in charge of Mr. Claude Duncalfe, who also has care of the social and literary department. A vocal duet, "Rock of Ages," by Mrs. C. W. Turner and George Lucy, was sweetly rendered and much enjoyed, as was also a solo by Mrs. Edward Bates. Harry Boyd gave a reading, which was heartily applauded. The topic, "Special Opportunities for Education," was ably taken by Miss Bertha Clark, who contrasted the educational privileges of former days with those of to-day, and referring to the Bible as the book of books, without a knowledge of which no one can be educated.

Personal News.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Beavis spent the week-end with friends in Peterborough.

THE 3-PAYMENT PLAN IS POPULAR

New Method of Paying Taxes in Peterborough Worked Well.

J. W. Green, tax collector, reports that the three-payment method worked out very well. It proved popular with many tax payers though there were also a number who prefer to pay the entire sum at one time and get a discount allowed.

A considerable amount was paid through the Bank of Montreal, especially the smaller payments. This plan saved a great deal of work at the tax collector's office and was a popular innovation with the public. Everyone realizes that the taxes must be paid, but the divided payments ar less of a burden to people of small means.

PETERBORO BOY AGAIN MISSING

Ran Away From Home a Second Time--Found in Lindsay.

LINDSAY, Nov. 21.—A Peterboro mother was in town to-day, looking for her boy, who ran away. She sought the assistance of the police in an effort to locate him. This is the second time he has disappeared within a week.

Last Monday night, the boy was picked up on the streets about 11.30 o'clock and taken to the police station. He gave his name as Delong and said his mother lived on Perry Street, Peterboro. He also stated that he had come to Lindsay to visit his aunt, who would not let him in that night when he returned from the picture show. Constable Porter with Ald Carew started out to look for the "aunt" but found that this part of the story was a frame up. The boy was placed in the Children's Shelter.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—(Special.) — An irregular, but in the main strong stock market, a reaction from Monday's violent upturn in the bond exchange: and a partial recovery of the previous day's decline in cotton, were the chief incidents in the financial situation to-day. Here and there individual weak points cropped out in the share list, but the more potent movements of the day were upward. Attention was especially directed to two groups, one the Motors, the other the Sugars, and both for reasons which were logical enough in view of all that is known about their present business and prospects for the next year. While it will be another month before exact data are obtainable regarding the 1923 orders for the automobile manufacturers the indications are that 1923 will be fully up to and quite likely ahead of the unusually prosperous season of 1922.

Several of the leading Cuban Sugar Companies will soon be making public the results of their fiscal year and these reports will tell a very different story from the dismal record of the twelve months preceding. But, as in the case of the Motor Companies, the sugar trade is looking forward to a still further improvement next year, and it is this which affords the motive for the recent buying in the sugar stocks.

The check to the advance in foreign exchanges to-day was natural enough in view of the fact that Monday's remarkable jump was due in large measure to the hasty retreat of an over-extended short account. It was quite to be expected that with this short covering over rates should have settled back. The downward turn was more apparent in French and Italian exchange than it was in sterling and once more it was significant of the hope inspired by the change in the German ministry that German marks should have risen despite the record breaking weekly increase in the Reich Bank note circulation.

Monday's decline in cotton had been due in the first place to the fear that the European demand had been overstated, and in the second place to the fear that too much store had been set upon the estimates of another short crop at home. To-day's recovery came promptly, following reassurance on both these points.

While the English market was decidedly better, the census bureau figures had the same testimony to bear as they had a fortnight ago that the crop of 1922-1923 will not exceed 9,500,000 bales, a total of course far below the average.

MARKET COMMENT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Explanation for recent strength of Midvale was found in expectation in trade circles that company would be acquired by Bethlehem on basis which would make Midvale worth around 34 dollars a share. Most active industrials were fractionally higher, but one or two weak spots were in evidence. Asphalt continued under pressure while U. S. Rubber made a new 1922 low at 49.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—General market developed strength around 11 a.m. Corn Products recovered 2 points from low at 128 and Asphalt 3-4 from 39. Reynolds B. continued active at record high. Stock dividend on both classes will be paid December 2nd in time for regular quartely dividend duly declared at December meeting and payable about January 1. Even if directors are not disposed to increase cash distribution of 75 cents quarterly at this meeting maintenance of rate would be equivalent of $4 a year on old capital before stock distribution.

Doughnut Recipes

Doughnuts need not be tough, tasteless, greasy and indigestible if you mix them properly and fry them the right way in the right kind of fat.

To keep doughnuts from cracking, the dough should be mixed very soft.

To keep the dough from becoming grease-soaked, two things are necessary: the recipe must contain enough egg in proportion to the flour, and the frying fat must impart its heat instantly to the crust. Then egg and fat combine to form a coating that keeps the fat out and the flavor in.

See that the frying kettle contains ample fat so that the heat will not be reduced below proper frying temperature when the cold, raw doughnuts are dropped in. Then the doughnuts will be cooked through. The fat should not smoke at frying heat, because when fat smokes it decomposes and forms an irritating, indigestible substance that is deposited on the food.

So the doughnuts will cook evenly and be fine in texture, turn them frequently after they rise to the top of the fat. They should be drained on soft paper, a process which leaves them as greaseless and dainty as cake, if the right kind of frying fat has been used.

Crullers or Fried Cakes.

One and a half cupfuls of sugar, one cupful of sour milk, two eggs, beaten light, one tablespoonful of cinnamon and nutmeg mixed, and two cupfuls of flour into which has been sifted a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder. Work in enough flour to make a soft dough. Roll out into a sheet nearly an inch thick, and cut into shapes with a cutter. Fry in deep cottolene or other fat.

two scant tablespoonfuls of melted butter, half a nutmeg grated, a large teaspoonful of cinnamon, a teaspoonful of salt and one of soda; make a little stiffer than biscuit dough; roll out a quarter of an inch thick, and cut with a fried-cake cutter, with a hole in the centre. Fry in hot lard. (Powder).

These can be made with sweet milk and baking powder, using two heaping teaspoonfuls of the baking powder in place of soda.

Bakers' Raised Doughnuts.

Warm a teacupful of lard in a pint of milk; when nearly cool add enough flour to make a thick batter and add a small cupful of yeast; beat it well and set it to rise; when light work in gradually and carefully three cupfuls of sugar, the whipped whites of six eggs, half a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a spoonful of milk, one teaspoonful of salt, a teaspoonful of ground cinnamon and half of a nutmeg grated; then work in gradually enough flour to make it stiff enough to roll out; let it rise again and when very light roll it out in a sheet an inch thick; cut into rounds; put into the centre of each round a large Sultana raisin, seeded and mold into perfectly round balls; flatten a little; let them stand a few minutes before boiling them; have plenty of lard in the pot and when it boils drop in the cakes; when they are a light brown take them out with a perforated skimmer; drain on soft white paper and roll, while warm, in fine powdered sugar.

Quick Doughnuts.

Cream one cupful of sugar with half a cupful of butter, add one cupful of milk, two eggs, beaten light, one tablespoonful of cinnamon and nutmeg mixed, and two cupfuls of flour into which has been sifted a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder. Work in enough flour to make a soft dough. Roll out into a sheet nearly an inch thick, and cut into shapes with a cutter. Fry in deep cottolene or other fat.

A La Carte

Which is your favorite labor saving device is—like your favorite child if any—difficult to determine. Our tea-wagon is one which, it seems to us we could hardly keep house with out yet we got along many years teacartless and had no idea what we were missing.

Ours is made for service a simple three shelves on wheels, and service it surely gets. When it is time to set the table it is wheeled before the cupboard and loaded with all the dishes needed on the table. These are wheeled to the dining room and transferred, and another trip to the kitchen in all the side dishes, the salad, and the hot food. After the meal the table can usually be cleared with one loading of the tea-wagon. If there is dessert it is placed on the tea wagon within easy reach and the dishes from the first course removed to this useful carry-all.

In dishwashing time, the tea-wagon is placed beside the drainpan and the clean dishes are put on the tea-wagon whence they can easily be rolled to the cupboard or wheeled into the pantry, out of the dust, and left ready for the next meal. In fruit canning season, or any time of extra stress when more table room is needed, the tea-wagn serves as a supplementary table and can be easily wheeled into any position where it will be most convenient.

For Sunday night suppers and little cosy times when someone comes and you want to serve refreshments the tea cart can be dressed up in clean linen and made to hold everything which is needful for a "buffet luncheon", or lap lunch, or as we prefer to call it, a meal "a la carte." If father and mother, or daughter and her company want to slip off for a little meal by themselves the tea-cart may be set and wheeled into the library, or any secluded nook. We think such meals very jolly.

With a soft blanket spread on top the tea-wagon, can serve as table for the operation of baby's bath.

A home-made tea-wagon can be constructed by using the wheels of an old baby cab Countless steps may be saved by letting the tea-wagon "save your heels". To move things wholesale, "a la carte", is much easier than the old way of carrying them on the installment plan.

ECZEMA

Hands Were Raw Would Crack and Bleed

Eczema or Salt Rheum, as it is commonly called, is one of the most agonizing of skin diseases. The intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when exposed to heat, are almost unbearable and relief is gladly welcomed.

The pre-eminent success which

has met with in permanently removing a disease of such severity is due to its wonderful blood cleansing and purifying properties.

Mrs. M. R. Willard, Dudswell Jct., Que., writes: "For about three years I had eczema, in a very bad form, on my hands. They were all raw and would crack and bleed so that I could not do my housework. I tried everything I could think of without any results. At last I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and when I had it about all taken I could see it was helping me; by the time I had taken five bottles my hands were all well again and I have not been bothered since. I cannot praise Burdock Blood Bitters enough."

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people wh. enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

ALL CHRISTIANS LEAVE ANATOLIA.

Greek and Armenian Refugees Crowd Black Sea Port.

ATHENS, Nov. 18.—The following communication has been received by courier from James H. Crutcher of Tuscaloosa, Ala., Director of the Near East Relief at Samsun, which is the most important outlet on the Black Sea for Christians fleeing from Asia Minor:

"Only those who, like myself, have now followed up the stream of refugees from source to mouth can fully appreciate the tragedy of this vast flight, which is destined to depopulate Anatolia of all Christians.

"I have been engaged for the last week in making the necessary arrangements for the removal of nearly 10,000 Greek and Armenian orphan children, who have been supported by the American people through the Near East Relief for the last three years. As soon as the Armenian and Greek populations learned that the Turkish authorities had given them 'permission' to leave the country by Nov. 30 they were seized with unreasoning panic and began preparations for flight. Our preparations to evacuate the orphan boys and girls only confirmed their worst fears. The great trek is in full flood. All the roads converging on Samsun are choked with lines of refugees. They have deserted homes and farms—everything they could not bring away on their backs or in oxcarts. Whole processions from the scattered villages in the hills are coming together in the main roads. They have no sense of personal loss, but press forward, regardless of fatigue, in their eagerness to reach the sea. Samsun has 10,000 of its own Christians waiting to sail away and there are ships in sight for only 2,000. There is an additional 40,000 refugees headed this way from the interior. They cannot possibly get away within the time limit unless a great fleet of ships is sent immediately from Constantinople or Athens. As the military are preventing the departure of all men from 19 to 55, only women, children and infirm males are reaching Samsun. Deprived of their breadwinners, the plight of these people in whatever is to be their promised land will be worsened unless the relief agency takes hold. The wet season is upon them, and thousands who survive the hardships of migration will perish of starvation in the winter.

"The Samsun authorities, apprehensive over the pitiful plight of the refugee population, are anxious to prevent continued overcrowding and threatened outbreaks of epidemic diseases which are certain to overtake the unfortunates as soon as cold weather arrives. The doors of our orphanage are crowded with orphaned children and with people bringing babies in arms, all begging to be taken in. Many harrowing scenes are acted daily. Women are giving birth to children in the main streets. Several brought children into the world while grouped with members of their families on the seafront.

"One group of fifty orphans arrived yesterday from the mountains. They were ten days on the road. All had bleeding and blistered feet, and their backs bore marks of the heavy bundles they carried. Many looked like skeletons from underfeeding, and others were close to death from illness.

"I am told that there are thousands of women and children hiding in the mountains, preferring to take their chances of eluding the enemy rather than face the dangers of the long trek to the coast and almost certain starvation at their destination."

HINTS ON HOW TO RUN EGG FACTORY

Valuable Instruction As To How to Make the Best of the Hen.

Every flock of hens is an egg factory. Like any other factory the flock can be given the best materials in the world to work on and still fail to produce enough to pay for running the plant. Good feed in sufficient variety is necessary for egg production, but the ability to manufacture eggs from feed must be there first.

It pays to cull out the poor layers any time to save the feed and labor they cost, but to make a profit on them it is best to cull in late summer or early fall, before the rush or spring chickens lowers the market price of old hens.

Shut up all the hens and pullets some evening. Count them and decide just how many can be readily kept during the coming year without crowding, for this is very likely to hurt egg production and increase the danger of disease. The next morning the flock is ready to be culled.

Cull

1. Poor layers and all old hens.
2. Cripples and hens with broken down abdomens or frozen toes.
3. The sick, quiet, inactive hens that spend much time on the roost.
4. All "crow heads" with long, slim heads and beaks.
5. The large, coarse-headed hens with sunken eyes.
6. All very short, stubby hens with feathers extremely heavy for their breed.
7. All late-hatched immature pullets and those that are early hatched but much undersized.
8. All hens that molt before August 1.
9. The persistent sitter.
10. All hens with solid, fat abdomens
11. All hens having bad habits (cannibals, feather-pullers, egg-eaters.)
12. All cockerels not needed for breeding purposes.

Keep

1. Strong, healthy, vigorous hens with short, neat heads and strong beaks.
2. The hens with long, deep, rectangular bodies and parallel top and bottom lines.
3. The hens with large, bright eyes, active appearance and short, well-worn toe nails.
4. The hens with dusty, worn, feathers, especially worn tail feathers, but having a bright healthy look
5. The hens that molt late.
6. The noisy, happy, friendly hens.
7. The early risers and those late to roost.
8. The vigorous hens with the faded beaks and shanks.
9. The hens with the soft, pliable abdomens.
10. The hens with the thin pelvic bones, spread wide apart.
11. The early hatched, well-grown pullets.
12. Large, strong, active, quick maturing cockerels of desired variety type and high-producing mothers.

There are five major factors in profitable poultry production—breeding, culling, feeding, housing, and care. These are the essentials; combined they will put the poultry business on a practical business basis.

In another column of this issue the Bell Telephone Company again invites the public to visit the Central office at 194 Hunter street, any afternoon or evening of Telephone Week, November 20th to 25th, inclusive. To the Examiner, Manager McHardy explains the idea behind Telephone Week as simply an effort after the highest standard of telephone service, through widespread public co-operation.

"After all," said Mr. McHardy, "the telephone user has no small part in determining the quality of his service. There are always three persons involved in every completed call—the calling party, the operator, and the person called. To ensure the best type of service all three must observe

Get The Most Value For Your Phone Rates

SHOPPING BY PHONE SAVES TIME.

Very few homes are without a Telephone to-day and certainly no merchant can afford to be without one. It is very hard to find a farm house to-day that has not a phone, which gives them direct connection with the city and places the country resident in as close touch with city life as the city dwellers.

Merchants can also ant' ipate sales by calling their customers when articles are received that they feel would appeal.

Shopping by Telephone saves time and weariness plodding in stores, and brings the home right to the door of the merchant.

Do you get full value for your money paid out in Telephone rates?

The answer to this is that some do, and some do not. Those who use their telephone for buying or selling receive, in most instances, more than full value, and those not using it in this manner are rapidly falling in line.

The telephone is nothing new, having been in use many years, but it seems that it has only been in the last few years that people have come to realize its true worth, and in this connection, as a ready buyer it stands first.

We have all passed well stocked and prosperous looking stores which were not crowded with customers. The secret of this store's success is that they had several telephones, they catered to the telephone trade, and they had steadily worked their customers around to the point where about the only time they entered the store was when their monthly bills were being paid.

But there are today hundreds of folks with the telephone in their homes who never think of ordering their groceries, or other goods, by 'phone. They do not know, or appreciate, the speedy and accurate little messenger they are harboring in their home. Many of them unable to leave their home to run to the corner grocery store, will delay dinner, till the time forgetting that a call to the telephone would bring the needed article in a twinkling.

HARSH TREATMENT BY U.S. OFFICIALS FOR EX-SOLDIER

Investigation Asked Into Case of Emanuel Joseph, Who, With His Family, Was Deported From U.S.

ENLISTED IN 1914.

SARNIA, Nov. 21. — (Canadian Press.)—Representations have been made by Wilfred S. Haney, local barrister, to the Secretary of State for the United States, and to the Canadian Minister of Immigration, for an investigation of the case of Emanuel Joseph, a Canadian citizen and ex-soldier, who with his wife and two children, was deported from the United Staes to this city recently. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph and family are practically destitute and are being cared for here by the Soldiers' Aid Commission.

It is alleged that the family was confined to the jail in Port Huron for 25 days prior to deportation and that owing to worry and privation, Mrs. Joseph, who was a prospective mother, gave birth to the child prematurely.

Joseph, who claims that he was deported because he failed to pay the head tax on entering the States, charges further that no medical attention was given to his wife during her incarceration and that repulsive language was used towards him by one Port Huron official. He claims that he was born and raised in Chatham, Ont., and in 1914 joined the army medical corps and served two years in France. Shell shocked and gassed he returned to Canada in 1916 and for a year was an inmate of the Guelph convalescent home. After his discharge from the hospital he resumed his pre-war occupation in Chatham and married a London, Ontario, girl. Later with Mrs. Joseph, he went to Detroit on a visit and learning of suitable employment in Sandusky, went to that city and obtained the position. Two months ago he was discharged. He came to Port Huron and obtained employment as a dock laborer. He claims that because he worked unceasingly and sometimes for fourteen hours a day he created antagonism among his fellow workers and finding that he was a Canadian citizen they reported him to the immigration officers and after being interviewed he was placed in jail until the deportation papers were ready, a period of 25 days.

certain quite simple, but vital requirements of good telephone practice.

"Now we have found from actual experience that when subscribers know something about telephone equipment, and the work that our operators are called upon to do in completing a call, they invariably use their instruments to better advantage, ensuring both for themselves and the community a service that cannot be improved upon. Obviously there is no place like our central office for showing people just what lies behind their telephone instruments, and our whole staff is hoping that every afternoon and evening this week will see a large section of our public honoring us with a visit. They will be heartily welcome.

ISMET PASHA RECEIVED ORDERS

The Turkish Delegate Has Been Instructed Not to Yield on Question of Capitulations.

PARIS, Nov. 21. — (Canadian Press).—Ismet Pasha, chief Turkish delegate at the Lausanne Peace Conference, has again been instructed by the Angora Assembly positively not to yield on the question of capitulations, according to authoritative information reaching Paris.

These instructions, it is said, were sent in view of the probability that one of the biggest battles of the conference will be fought over this point, the Turks insisting that foreigners be amenable to the Turkish laws and courts and the other nations declaring that their nationals be accorded extra territorial rights.

The custom of wearing rings upon the thumb prevailed in England until the close of the eighteenth century.

HAND-FEEDING LAMBS.

Lambs that have lost their mothers or have milkless mothers can be successfully reared by using goat or cows' milk in a rubber-nippled nursing bottle. The newly-born lamb requires a small quantity of milk at very frequent intervals. Two or three teaspoonsful every hour for the first day with a gradual increase as the lamb grows older. Many make the mistake of giving a newly-born lamb all the milk it will take at two or three feeds a day. This treatment is very frequently fatal. Keeping the feeding bottle clean and sweet and using the milk from a fresh cow and feeding every hour or two until the lamb is four weeks old will generally give good results. Milk may be continued as a feed as long as the lamb will take it. Should bottle-fed lambs develop scours, this condition can be checked usually by heating the milk to boiling point and then cooling quickly. A teaspoonful of castor oil given with the milk is also an effective remedy.—L. Stevenson.

MEASURING HAY.

The following simple and practical hints regarding the measuring of hay are worth noting and filing:

Tons of Hay In the Mow.

To find the number of tons of hay in a mow multiply the length by the breadth and then by depth of hay. This will give the number of cubic feet. Divide by 400, the resulting number will be the answer in tons. Hay varies in density due to the character of the grasses or clover from which it is made, the length of time it has been stored, the size and depth of the mow. Timothy and other grasses pack closer than clovers, shallow mows do not pack the same density as do the deep mows, so judgment must be used in selecting a factor above or below 400 when estimating. The hay in the bottom of a mow 20 feet deep will be packed into half the space observed in a mow only 10 feet deep. If the mow is only 10 feet deep the factor used should be 600, if 20 feet deep 350 will be nearer correct. A fair average for all conditions is 400.

Tons of Hay In a Stack.

To find the number of tons of hay in a stack, measure the overthrow distance of the stack and multiply by the length and breadth in feet, then divide by three. The resulting number will give the number of cubic feet. If the hay has been standing two months and the stock not over 12 feet high, divide by 500, the resulting number is the answer in tons.—L. Stevenson.

A Girl's World

by Jack Lait

SOME people are just people—they stand alone, and what they do neither affects any considerable portion of the population at large, nor does it point a parable nor illustrate a rule.

Some people are "types," and they illustrate groupes or clans or divisions, and they serve as samples to form a stencil or blueprint that may strike a basis for a formula as it covers the social sector which each typifies.

Others, again, are representative of vast classes, silhouetted against the immediate conditions, viewpoints, psychologies that at the moment affect such parties. They are of the progressive and aggressive sort who not only set themselves with others against some existing situations and for some potential development out of it, but who set themselves out even as against those others who are behind them, and become leaders—protagonists—disciples—bellcows—

Which reflections suggest inditing some light reading matter anent Sylvia Llewellyn.

Sylvia was petite and, though she would have clawed you if you said so, she was baby-faced. She was a born flapper who was fighting to drown her personality and "amount to something," whereas, to look at her, the unknowing would have said she was just the right little doll to make a bungalow complete, brush imaginary hairs from some big ex-football player's lapel, snuggle, cuddle, pout, vamp a wee bit and wear pink pajamas.

But Sylvia's soul cried out through all this toy exterior, for a place in the sun, even though she got her cute nose sunburnt.

And the issue which took the Great Hold on her, was Equality for Women.

Not mere "women's rights," that obsolete propaganda slogan which stood for the right to vote, with a far-off possibility of women holding public office. That was but a narrow chamber of this giant structure she wanted to see rise and help build, a monument which would stand eternally to mock the world-old savagery that the female was the weaker, the passive one, the wooed, the preordained mother and nurse, the gentle thing to be protected.

She wanted to protect as well as be protected. She wanted to woo, if she ever found her ideal. She wanted the struggle for the reward and the reward of the struggle. She asked none the best of it, but she wanted her full half.

Those readers who have already noted the illustration on this page (a pretty girl standing and clinging to a strap while a row of ungallant men are seated) have probably said to themselves already: "I see. The old gag—she was a hound for equality until the men didn't jump up to give her a seat, and then she burned up—and it served her right and taught her a lesson."

Sorry, but that isn't the story at all. Sylvia was a better sport than that, and wasn't to be whipsawed into as obvious a trap as this old "comeback." It was just such fallacious inconsistencies that she was combatting. She had no selfish idea of making the poor men the victims of all the old feudal knightlinesses, women's natural attractions, centuries of traditions, and the new system as well.

What she wanted was that when a policeman arrested Jane Doe she was to get the same treatment accorded John Doe—no more, no less; and when Jane owned property it was to be her property and not that of John Smith, whom she might marry; and if they were divorced, the court should decide that Jane should pay John alimony if she were guilty and he was dependent, just the same as vice versa; and that if Jane wanted a passport it should be granted or refused, according to who she was, not who John was; and that her name should be Jane Doe Smith and his name should be John Smith Doe after their marriage; and that husband abandonment be made a felony equally punishable with wife abandonment; and that women be taken seriously in commerce and professional life.

So, you see, she was not by several dimples and many mental wrinkles a mannish young woman of the burlesqued "suffragette" brand. She believed in love and marriage and babies and liprouge and those other elements that cement civilization and carry out the primary principles of human creation and propagation. In truth, Sylvia was wildly in love—and not a bit bashful about it.

The lucky dog was Chester Allister, who looked no more like his name than Sylvia looked like her principles. He was an upstanding he party with no affectations. He didn't even want to be known as a roughneck, though he was born to the plush and didn't enjoy the feel of its nap. He was just a natural, amiable, affable, likable chap with no championships and no pronounced vices. He drank a little, smoked a little, loafed a little, read a little, played some (not the ukulele), prospered in his own profession as an airplane engineer, wore conventional clothes neither fine enough nor sloppy enough to be snobbish, belonged to a disorderly collection of heterogeneous clubs, had rushed a few girls without ever being hooked or sued, paid all his obligations, and looked everybody in the eye—especially Sylvia.

The way Chester loved that girl was a crime.

He had known her all of her young life, and had been about her for years before he had ever noticed that she was beautiful or fascinating or different. Then it had chanced that he met her one afternoon at golf, and a rush of something had come over him that knocked him dizzy. He didn't fence or use diplomacy or "wiles" or even decent poise. He up and told her, to her complete and flabbergasted amazement, that he adored her and loved her and ached for her and was going to marry her.

Sylvia took another look, herself. She had always fancied Ches. She didn't flee or hide behind her brassie or yell for the police or say she would think it over. She said yes. She hadn't ever given it any concentrated contemplation, but it sounded bully. That was beating bogey by a whole courtship, a flock of finesse, asking a bunch of consents, a bushel of moonlight whispers, a hatful of doubts and sighs and a truckload of lost motions.

Ches drove her home in the twilight and kissed her at the first turn of the road. And she kissed him right back, which was in accord with her politics.

She Carried a Book on the Emancipation of the Geisha and How It was Accomplished Against the Front of Age-Old Dogma

Ah, yes—those politics!

The first four minutes of their engaged existence had been smoother than a fiction story writer should dare to confess. But they were the last of their unalloyed bliss for many a week that followed.

Ches hadn't kept in close enough touch to Sylvia to have any distinct idea of her missionary work. He didn't know, really, that she was occupied in any. And when she told him, not with any suggestion of an ultimatum, or even with any frightening prospects of a future that would be unnatural and hostile to domestic serenity, that she was committed to the movements above hinted at, Ches squirmed.

He had no set prejudices. Surely, he could have none if they were dear to the heart of the girl he worshiped. But he had a disinclination against any third hand at all in their twosome. He wanted Sylvia to live only for him—as he was willing and wild to live only for her.

He told her. He wanted his little darling to be just his little darling—no more; that was plenty. He wanted her to think of love all the time. He wanted her life, as far as it could be sanely so confined, to embrace two people only. Let others reform the errors of sociological progression, let others take up the crying needs of the advance toward perfection, let others lead the bohunks and the Czechs and the prohobitionists and the other oppressed and depressed into whatever promised land had been promised them. But let his Sylvia just play with her Chester!

His Sylvia was willing enough to play! But was that a woman's whole career? Was that her answer to this great, broad, inscrutable life, with its obligations and its preimposed responsibilities?

It was. It certainly was—Chester said. Let the professional downtrodden deliverers deliver the downtrodden. Good heavens—one mustn't rush into a hospital to tend the ill, no matter how ill the ill may be—there are trained nurses, in uniforms, for that; one mustn't give one's self—when that self didn't even belong to one's self—to a lot of ungrateful strangers, many of them yet unborn—that was what politicians and professors and preachers and journalists and old maids who couldn't get a hearing any other way were for.

Sylvia shook her head—in perplexity rather than in perversity.

No—we all were brought into this sphere with duties beyond the self-centred limitations of love, marriage, even parenthood—as lofty and splendid and beautiful as these essential and helpful estates and institutions surely were, in themselves. But there was a broader duty—a—

Chester kissed the rest of it down her throat and held her head down on the cushion, with both hands gripped firmly and fondly about her throat.

"Darling," he pleaded, "can't you see that I couldn't share you with any political economy transformation of society? It's such a big thing, and you're so little. If you must reform someone, reform me. I'm for anything you're for. I mean it. Only confine your arguments and your experiments to me."

"But," she choked, "the others. Who will advance the cause to them?"

"Their Sylvias. Why should any one have to cover so much territory? If this movement is so doggone important, why shouldn't each woman undertake to handle her own district? That would be a quick, comprehensive and effective method—founded on business sense."

"But not every wife, sister or sweetheart is public-spirited or broad-minded. The women must be enlightened and enthused on their status, their privileges, the just now awakening world consciousness that woman is not a plaything or a workhorse or a broodmare—that she is an individual, a citizen, a soldier, a worker, a person—just as good and just as bad as any other person—that she has no claims on men beyond those which she is able to earn, and that men have no claims on her beyond those they are able to enforce—that—"

"Oh, Lord! Must I have all that in my little house—the one we planned, with the pink roses in front and the little garden behind? Are you and I going to guide this intimate, individual love that is all our own—that nobody else on earth is in on or could ever understand—by issues affecting a hundred million of the riffraff that we don't want to mingle with and the superior who don't want to mingle with us?"

"I'm afraid so. This transcends the personal. It is like the air we breathe and the water we drink—something in which each must take a share of the taxes, the overhead that was a fixed charge before we were born."

"Well, we'll pay the taxes when the bills come due."

"They are due now. There are no bills—any more than there are for our payments in affection, gratitude or respect. Don't fight this so passionately, Ches—it's too big for you to lick. When you walk to the foot of a mountain you don't sneer at it and scold it—you either get your cleated shoes and start in for a stiff climb or you stand still—or you turn back. The mountain is here, and we're at its base. Let's go over the top together."

"Oh, all right—let's. If that's the way you're set to travel. I'll be at your side. I'll stick with you—and love it—with bleeding feet, if that's the only way you want to go."

"I must—my road lies over the biggest mountain ever thrown up by the prehistoric upheaval of prejudice and injustice."

"Very well. But I'd so much rather stay in the valley, where it's green and cool—with you. Won't you give it a chance?"

"I'd relish it. But—if we all chose the verdant valleys, who would ever strain and struggle over the mountains?"

"Who cares?"

"Civilization. We must cross, if only to find out what's on the other side."

"Let the professionals do it—they'll tell us when they get back."

"But the professionals have been over—and back—in this instance. And have told us of work to be done across the crest."

"All right, honey," sighed Chester, wearily. "Kamerad! You win. Make the terms as light as you can. Temper the rocks to my faithful dogs, man's best pal, after all."

"That's glorious. You shall climb with me—help me along—"

"Who! No helping along. That's out. Utter equality, you know."

"Right. I forgot. You see how much there is to be done when I have to even keep myself put? Side by side then, fifty-fifty."

"Yep. And all the way. . . . H'mph . . . that mountain crawling simile is a dandy to spring on an airplane engineer . . . I could go over the Matterhorn in twenty minutes."

"You could now. But if others hadn't worked and thought for generations, most of it unappreciated and some of it wasted, there would never have been an airplane. You see, you're more public-spirited than you think or would confess. Men like you make it possible to fly where once we had to—"

"All right. You're the bantamweight champion arguer of this team. And if you don't put this over, I wonder who will."

"No one person can. It must be co-operative—oh, vastly so—for generations to come."

"Oh, give me a kiss. I think I'm entitled to something on account, against the overhead and the underfoot and the boulders, eh?"

And Sylvia paid him and he even overdrew the logical advance. And then he cashed another draft, recklessly, against the good will and the undivided profits, and adjourned the meeting of the board.

It was early in the evening, and Sylvia had a little session ahead. In an apartment far uptown she was expected to officiate as corresponding and recording secretary to an association dedicated to the education of immigrant women in the constitution, history and principles of this great republic.

A democratic, plain-living girl, Sylvia took a public tram. She got on midway between the downtown rush-in and the remote beat-it, and so she had to stand. That was fair enough, as has been pointed out. She carried a book on the emancipation of the geisha and how it was accomplished against the solid front of age-old dogma in the most forward-going of the least advancing corner of the world.

It was a thrilling story, as are all stories which between two covers extract the results of long, arduous labors and cannot register those hidden dramatics of patience, determination, endurance. Sylvia gloried in its resume of the centuries during which the faint, glimmering light so slowly and so gamely flickered on and on until it became a vast and roaring conflagration, the flames of which were seen against the horizon of all the universe.

Just then the car stopped. A lame man hobbled in. He was soiled and shabby, apparently not a street-beggar, but surely poor and miserable. He doddered over beside her. The car started with a lurch and he all but fell in a heap, for he could not reach a hold. Half a dozen men reached forward at once and steadied him, and all stood and offered him their seats. One woman, too, was up, beckoning him toward the space that was hers by right of priority.

The girl's seat was the nearest. The cripple flopped into it. The girl stood beside Sylvia. Not a man of the lot tendered her a seat. Sylvia noted that she was pale and not robust. Something welled up in her. She leaned down and addressed the nearest man, a healthy-looking young fellow.

"Won't you give that girl your seat?" she asked, gently and without attracting attention over a wide range.

"For what?" asked he. "You women wanna vote an' run good union men out o' jobs an' have all the rights o' men. All right—have 'em. But that lets you out. I'm tired—I done a hard day's work, lookin' for a job. I'm a bookbinder—in the plant where I worked for six years they gave us the air an' put in girls. I got a wife an' a pair o' twins. My wife takes all the worst of it, at that—but you bet your life, lady, she ain't screamin' for no women's rights. She's got all the rights she wants. She wishes I had a few more. She knows if I had more, I'd give her more."

"But—this girl looks faint. She—"

"Oh, I didn't notice. If that's the case you bet she can have my seat—an' so can anybody what's more entitled to it than what I am."

And he rose, raised his hat to the girl, and took his strap.

Sylvia took her thumb out of the book on the emancipation of the geishas.

"'My wife takes all the worst of it, at that—but you bet your life, lady, she ain't screamin' for no women's rights'—" she whispered over to herself. If there were a woman under the sun who needed rights it would be the wife, the mother of twins, the partner of the man out of work with problems howling at her from every direction. And yet she was willing to sit at home and let the man go out and settle them for her; and if he couldn't settle them, that settled them with her, anyway.

"I see," she said to the bookbinder, "she is an old-fashioned sort, your wife. She lets the man handle the wage-earning and she looks after the home."

"What do you mean the man? HER man. And who wouldn't, if he didn't? You don't think she's gonna work half the time in a shop an' me watch the twins half the time at home, do you? Say—nature laid out our jobs for us. I'd be about as nifty in her line as she'd be in mine."

"Ah—but you say some girls did cut you out of yours. Is that right?"

"It's so—but it ain't right. But that's only half of it. You never heard of a man who could cut my wife out o' hers did you?"

Sylvia couldn't readily answer that. The one flat wheel below kept grinding and it seemed to her it was repeating "She's got all the rights she wants. She wishes I had a few more."

True enough, despite all the fine philosophy of bi-sexual equality. If he had more rights, what would he do with them? Give them to her. That was what he wanted the rights for, in the first place. "She knows if I had more, I'd give her more," clacked the flat wheel.

Here was one woman who didn't need equality. Here was a man who yielded it too her—more, he demanded it for her and was fighting to get it for her. Sylvia looked him over. He was no lowbrow, thirsting for moonshine or bolshevism, soured against the more fortunate—he was a man of ideals, of altruism: he wanted comfort and happiness for his woman and his kids. He more than willingly assumed the burden for four. Could his wife do that? Yes—in her way—not in his.

"I hope you find work," she said to him. "And if you don't, call up this number and ask for me," and she gave him her card. "I can get you some kind of work. I know one man who would do anything I'd ask him."

"Thanks, lady," he said, as she left the car.

"One man who would do anything I'd ask," repeated Sylvia, with an afterthought. "The first minute it comes to something specifically practical, I think of Ches. Why didn't I say I could do it myself?"

And she thought of the bookbinder—and the wife—and the twins.

The picture jiggled about in Sylvia's memory for many hours. She didn't see Ches again until next day.

"Well, sweetness—how's the li'l mountain antelope?" he asked tenderly, after he had kissed her.

"Oh, well enough. But I sort of—that is, I kind of—I want to amend my policies."

"No!"

"Yes. I think men and women should be equal. But I no longer think that they should be equal just because they are men or women. I think the treatment should not be too comprehensive—it should be more individual—that is to say—"

"Never mind what that is to say. I'm for it . . . Treat me individually, honey . . . and I'd like to see anybody on earth make me think he's my equal . . . or she's your equal . . ."

P.C.I. Rugby Team Won Eastern Intermediate Championship

Plenty of Opposition For New Welterweight Champ

By BILLY EVANS.

Mickey Walker, the new welterweight champion, is going to find plenty of opposition. The welter class has some mighty good men in it, and if Mickey is able to polish off all his challengers, he must be recognized as a real champion.

Walker makes no pretense of being clever, but he is strong, willing and aggressive. Walker can hit and is always trying. There are some who will ridicule the statement that Mickey packs a wallop since he failed to knock out the veteran Britton.

That is rather unfair to Walker, since in Britton he met just about the cleverest man in the ring. Only four months ago the brilliant Benny Leonard was unable to fathom Britton's air-tight defense with any degree of success.

In the twelfth round of the Walker fight, the referee, seeing that Britton was in none too good shape, suggested that he admit defeat. Jack merely smiled, however, and remarked that he would go the limit unless he got in the way of one of Walker's wild swings.

Britton Hard to Hit.

When Britton saw that he was in trouble, he simply protected himself in every way and made it almost impossible for Walker to reach the vital spot. Mickey uncorked enough punches to knock out a half dozen fighters, but Britton was always either picking them out of the air, or else blocking them in such a way that they never got home.

Dave Shade has already challenged Walker, and it is a certainty that Shade will make things most interesting for the new title holder. Then there is Jock Malone, who recently received a decision over Walker at Boston. Jock says that he is ready to repeat whenever given the chance.

To my way of thinking a welter who has not received the mention he deserves in connection with the welterweight class is Johnny Karr of Cleveland. This fellow Karr is a great fighter. Only recently he shaded Malone. It wouldn't surprise me a bit if Walker finds Karr far more troublesome than any other contender for the title.

Beckett Versus Siki.

While Jim Beckett of England is far rrom being classed as a great fighter, his meeting with Battling Siki will attract much attention, since it will give the public a chance to get a real line on Siki's ability.

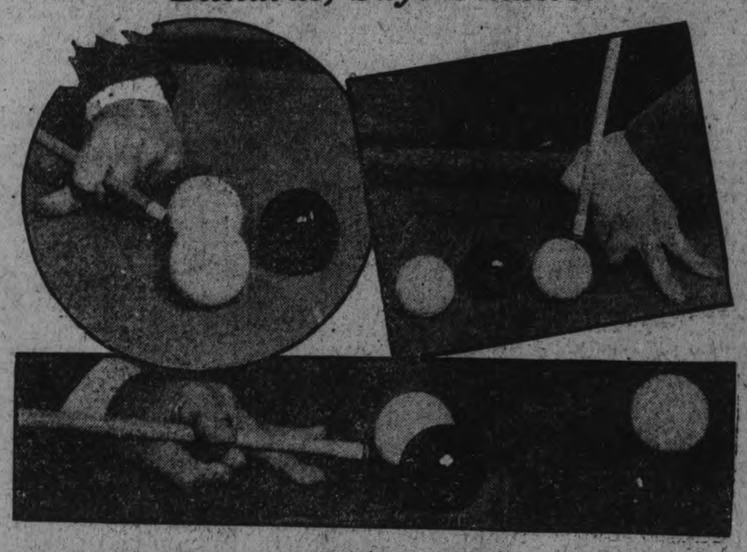
It is rather hard to figure the Carpentier-Siki fight. Possibly Carpentier's meeting with Dempsey ruined the Frenchman. It is also possible that Carpentier greatly underrated the singular Senegalese and was not in the best of condition. That is more probable.

Carpentier for several months had been acting in a movie feature and did no great amount of preliminary work for the Siki bout. In the early rounds he outclassed the battling person, but wore himself out and in the end proved easy for Siki.

During the world series I discussed the Carpentier-Siki fight with Dempsey. Jack was of the opinion that Carpentier used the wrong tactics. "Georges always favored that long right swing to the jaw," said Jack. "You can't whip those Senegalese guys with that kind of stuff. You must get in close and wear them down with body punching. They also tell me that Siki has very large feet. It wouldn't be a bad move to keep stepping on them every now and then. Nothing will put a fighter up in the air any quicker."

Boxing experts are inclined to the belief that a half dozen light heavyweights in this country could take much of the fight out of Battling Siki. The Beckett bout will be at least interesting because it affords a chance for comparison.

Position of Hands Means Much in Billiards, Says Schaefer



Position of the hands in making an ordinary billiard, upper left. Used for a continuous high run, upper right. This position of the hands is known as bridging, putting a high masse caroming around and completing the billiard. Lower: Position of the hands in making a draw shot, hitting low, drawing the ball back for billiard.

Jake Schaefer is the world's champion billiard player.

Schaefer won the title when he defeated Willie Hoppe, who has held the honor for 16 years.

He is now defending the championship against five of the greatest billiard players in the world, Hoppe, Conti, Horemans, Hagenlacher and Cochran, who seek to dethrone him.

Schaefer feels confident that he will retain his title. Form is everything in billiards as in every other sport. Schaefer is strong for style.

"Position of the hands is everything in billiards," says Schaefer.

In the above illustration Schaefer shows the proper position of the hands in executing three much used shots in billiards.

QUEENS READY FOR ARGONAUT BATTLE

Will Play in Toronto on Saturday—Injured Players Are on the Way to Recovery.

KINGSTON, November 21. Canadian Press. — The athletic Board of control of Queen's University definitely decided yesterday afternoon that the inter-collegiate champions will go to Toronto on Saturday and play the Argonauts for the Eastern Dominoin championship. They had a light work out yesterday and will get down to strenuous practice today. All the practices are to be secret.

With the exception of Bill Campbell, Queen's champions are in good shape after their gruelling match with Varsity on Saturday last.

Campbell had a small bone broken in his arm and is now carrying the member around in a sling. It has been giving him much pain but is mending fast. He however will not play again this season. Munday, who collapsed near the end of the game on aSturday, is in good shape again, while McKelvey and Evans, who were also injured, have recovered.

Former Chicago Manager May Try Umpiring

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 21.—Clarence Rowland, former manager of the Chicago White Sox, may be a member of the American League staff of umpires next year.

This will come a surprise to the ball players. Rowland, as a minor leaguer, made things hum for the umpires, but when he hit the majors the officials slowed him up a trifle.

The position has been tendered to Rowland. If he wants to take a whirl at the umpiring game President Johnson is willing to give him the chance.

President Comiskey surprised the baseball world in 1915 when he announced Clarence Rowland as the manager of the Chicago White Sox. Rowland was practically unknown in the major league circles. He came to the Sox from Peoria, where he had been a successful minor league leader.

In 1917 Rowland achieved the ambition of every major league manager, winning a pennant in the American League and then capturing the world series. He met with only fair success in 1918, severing his connection with the club at the close of the season.

Since then Rowland has handled several minor league clubs, among them being the Milwaukee and Columbus teams of the American Association.

Rowland was with Columbus last year, but is a free agent. Unless he gets a managerial job that appeals to him he will probably take a whirl at the umpiring game.

Getting the "Breaks" is Big Thing in Football

By "BO" McMILLIN.

What part does luck play in the winning or the losing of a football game? Oftimes the results are attributed to either good or bad luck.

If you will allow me to substitute "breaks" for luck I will agree with the sport writers in saying that the breaks in a game often decide the outcome.

In Centre's first game with Harvard I remember of hearing Fitzgerald, their quarterback, saying, "Wait for the breaks, boys, we'll get one in a minute." And sure enough they did.

Soon after the start of the second quarter Murphy, the lightest man to ever play in the stadium, was sent in to punt for us. The kick went straight up in the air and out of bounds on our own 30-yard line.

This was the break that the Crimsons were looking for. They had little trouble in carrying the ball over in successive plunges because the pep and fight was taken out of our men by such a poor kick.

Harvard Waits for Breaks.

If one will read the history of the Harvard victories he will note that the majority of their drives which result in touchdowns were inspired by a break in their favor. They are coached to hold their opponents and wait for the breaks.

In 1919 Centre won from the University of Indiana because we took advantage of a break. We had battled through three periods and there was only about four minutes left in the fourth. The score was 3 to 0 in favor of Indiana. The cadet band had formed to lead the victory march.

Just at this time an Indiana back fumbled on their 40-yard line and a Centre man recovered. I used a silent signal and shot a pass to Armstrong which gained 15 yards. Before the "Hoosiers" could recover from the shock of the fumble and the completed pass I had shot Roberts over the goal line in three plunges.

We made another touchdown in the remaining minute and a half on an intercepted pass and the final score was Centre 12, Indiana 3.

Now I do not think that you could attribute this victory to luck, for if we hadn't possessed the power and fight to take advantage of that break the cadets would have had their parade.

Success Depends on Subs.

When a good player is injured and has to be taken out of the game the coach often complains of hard luck, and if the game results in a loss for his team the sport writers will say that the winning team was a bit lucky.

Of course, this is an unfortunate circumstance, but the successful coach will be prepared for just such an emergency and will have a trained substitute to take his place.

I believe that the strength of a winning football team lies in the strength of the substitutes. If it had not been for the substitutes at Centre last year being almost as strong as the regulars we could not have had the success we did have.

I have noticed that a great many of our smaller college teams are built around one man and if he has to leave the game his team goes to pieces. A successful football team cannot depend upon one man, but must work as a machine to come out on top. It is true that all good coaches are not fortunate in having capable substitutes and he might go through several games without needing them, but in the long run he will feel the need.

I believe that it is folly for a coach to start his eleven best men in a game because he is sure to need a good fresh man when the breaks go against him.

Quite a few sport writers said that Centre was lucky to beat West Virginia in 1919. We unquestionably outplayed them in all departments of the game and the breaks were certainly in their favor. Once we were forced to punt on our 15-yard line. Roberts, who was doing our kicking in that game, dropped back about 10 yards. I blocked the tackle and looked around just in time to see Red completely miss the ball, something I have never heard of happening in a football game.

Had the "Mountaineers" taken advantage of this break they could have easily crossed our goal line. Instead, they foolishly called time out and allowed us to recover from the shock, which we did and held them for downs.

TOUGH LUCK IS NO BARRIER TO ROCKNE

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 21.—The loss of one or more star football players means nothing in the life of Coach Knute Rockne of Notre Dame. His team goes on winning just the same.

Last year his football squad lost a dozen regulars either through graduation or having them declared ineligible because of professionalism. That was quite a blow.

In one of the early games this fall his star tackle, Tom Lieb, suffered a broken leg, putting him out for the rest of the season.

The latest tough break for Rockne is the loss of his whirlwind halfback, Gus Desch. Rockne has declared that Desch is through for the season.

Desch, who is captain of the Notre Dame track team and a hurdler of Olympic caliber, injured his heel some time ago. The bruise continues very painful and refuses to respond to treatment. Rest seems to be the only cure and Rockne has decided to save Desch for track work rather than use him on the gridiron.

OWNERS MAY PUT BAN ON FAST BALL

Over 1,000 Home Runs Made in Major Leagues Last Season.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 21.—Officials of the factory in this city that supplies the major leagues with baseballs, hint that the ball may not be as lively next year.

The fact that over 1000 home runs were made in the two major leagues has caused certain agitation against the lively ball. Some of the magnates feel that the free hitting that has featured the games for the past three years will soon have robbed the home run of much of its thrill, since it's getting so common.

While it is conceded that the public like free hitting rather than air-tight pitching, the magnates seem to think the hitting end of the game is being overdone.

It is said the matter will be freely discussed at the coming major league meeting, and it wouldn't be at all surprising if the order went out to slow up the ball, which after all simply means that yarn will not be so tightly wound around the cork center.

It is the yarn and the way it is placed on the ball that produces the liveliness of the sphere rather than the cork center.

HOPPE MUST WIN ONE MORE GAME

Former Champion Defeated German Star Yesterday and is Certain of at Least a Tie For First.

NEW YORK, November 21. Canadian Press. — Willie Hoppe, former champoin scored his fourth straight victory yesterday in the International 18.2 Balkline Billiard Championship Tournament by defeating Erlich Hagenlacher German star 500 to 462.

The result assured Hoppe who has but one more match to play of at least a tie in the tournament.

Hoppe gained his victory in a match filled with a strange medley of poor and uncertam cueing. Hoppe had an average of 22 16-22 with high runs of 117, 92 and 90. On two occasions when juggling his cue for the shot, he had to step away from the table to steady himself before continuing.

Hagenlacher made two desperate efforts to win and but for wrong selection of shots might have done so. His average was 22 and his runs 160, 80 and 67. It marked the German's final appearance in the tournament in which he has not won a game in five starts.

REAR-ADMIRAL SIMS A RUGBY ENTHUSIAST.

Sent a Congratulatory Message to the Winners After Saturday's Big Game.

KINGSTON, November 20 (Canadian Press). — Rear-Admiral W. S. Sims was with the Queens on Saturday in their victory over Varsity.

There is no doubt about that. The following telegram was received from him shortly after the game:

To the President of Queen's University:

"There was once a great team of football
That defeat never upset at all,
For it came back this year,
Broke through with a cheer,
While their own line stood like a brick wall."

"If you don't like that, try this:

"There was once a great Queen's football team,
Kept for eighteen years under full steam;
And without fluke or luck,
But by pure pep and pluck,
Laid Varsity flat on their bean."

Congratulations. Signed,
"Rear-Admiral Sims."

Says the Wise Old Owl:

If Rip Van Winkle came and found
The new Improved Gillette around,
He'd certainly shed bitter tears
For all those wasted shaveless years,
And hustle to the nearest store
To make up for the days of yore.

JINX STILL DOGS PATH OF BRINTONS.

The Brinton softball team still has its pet jinx following it around. After putting up a game battle against the Engineers last night they went down to defeat with a score of 10 to 8. The Brintons started strong, but could not stand the pace. When the Engineers came to bat in the fourth frame the score stood 8 to 1 in favor of the carpet weavers. But this was the big inning for the Engineers, and when the smoke cleared away they had tacked five more runs to their score. They followed with two in the fifth to tie the score, sent the winning run across in the sixth and one more in the seventh for good measure. The Brintons failed to score after the fourth frame.

The players were:

Brintons—Ross, 1b; Corbett, lf; C. E. Shaughnessey, 3b; O'Dette, ss; Cripps, rf; C. C. Shaughnessey, p; Anderson, 2b; Rose, ss; Taylor, c.

Engineers—McCarney, rf; Methcrall, 2b; Carruthers, 3b; T. Jackson, 1b; Batten, ss; W. Jackson, lf; Langley, p; Burgess, ss; Munro, c.

Score by innings:

Brintons	132200000— 8

CASEY'S DAMPENED SPIRIT OF FIREMEN.

The K. of C. softball team went after the Firemen in great shape and handed the smoke-eaters a trimming to the tune of 13 to 3. The victors solved Dunkley's delivery and walloped the ball to all corners of the Armoury. Dick Sheehey's clout for three bases sent two runs across the pan, while Mike Sheehey and Rose both hit for two sacks. Chief Gimblet was the star willow wielder for the Firemen and socked the pill for three bases, while Carr got a double and two singles in four trips to the plate. They were, however, the only members of the team to connect with a safety.

The players were:

Firemen—Mason, ss; McBride, lf; Carr, 1b; Gimblet, c; Rose, 3b; Gimblet, 2b; Wilson, rf; Rollo, ss; Dunkley, p.

K. of C.—Primeau, ss; M. Sheehey, 1b; O'Hearn, c; R. Rose, ss; Murphy, p; D. Sheehey, lf., 3b; Grady, 3b; Corkery, 2b; Rutherford, rf; J. Rutherford, rf.

Score by innings:

Firemen	002000010— 3

SMALLEST BRITISH PARLIAMENT OPENS.

Labour Party Chief Contender for Post as Official Opposition.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—(Canadian Press).—Smallest British Parliament since the union with Ireland in which Ireland, with the exception of Ulster, is not represented and in which the labor party appears as chief contender for recognition as official opposition, opened here at 2.45 this afternoon.

After attending in the House of Lords the members of parliament gathered in the House of Commons for the election of Speaker. Here T. P. O'Connor, "Father of the House" proposed John Whitley for re-election and when this choice had been confirmed the House adjourned to receive the King's formal consent to its selection of speaker.

Question as to which party will be recognized as constituting official opposition remained one of paramount interest as parliament assembled. The Daily Herald, Labor's official paper, which may be assumed to know the intentions of the leaders of that party says that if the speaker does not concede the Labor party's clear title to the position of official opposition, Labor party should immediately walk out of House.

Formalities of swearing in the new members are expected to occupy Tuesday and Wednesday after the King's speech the Parliament will proceed to consideration of Irish constitution. Morning Post to-day suggests that Conservative "diehards" for whom it speaks may raise difficulties in way of ratification and declares that in some respects constitution actually violates Irish Treaty.

Rush of members to House of Commons to obtain their seats for opening was biggest since the war and long before eight o'clock, when the doors opened, small crowd had gathered to "peg laims" for favored places.

WAR MODIFIED PROBLEMS

determination.' In the case of India, what race, what nationality, what religion would determine? A withdrawal of Britain from India would plunge that country into chaos worse than that of Russia. Gradually the country is being taught to be self governing, as the natives are trained to take positions of responsibility, and a military school on similar lines to our own R.M.C. has been established for the training of native officers. If India could with any unanimity govern herself then the British would have to clear out.

Egyptian Question.

Our problem in Egypt is different. We got into Egypt when Nelson, at the battle of the Nile in 1798 smashed Napoleon. In 1876 the Suez canal was built as a short cut to India and for our own protection we must hold the canal. In 1878 the Nationalist movement came into being in Egypt. Then later came the Sudan flare up, when Gordon single handed was sent to the scene to settle matters. Whether wise or not it was an exploit of heroism that stirred humanity. As our powers in South and Central Africa increased we found ourselves joining forces with the Soudan and Egypt. Now Egypt has been made self governing but the British hold the Suez Canal and the Nile and reserve the right to send troops through them.

India, Egypt and Ireland are the negative problems of the Empire, and one notices that the latter country is not so much in the public press since it became a free state. They have asked for a large loan from Britain to carry on the government with. Home rule for Scotland has a small party in its favor but it is never seriously considered. Scotland never was a conquered country.

Positive Problems.

The positive problems of the Empire are Canada, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand. Germany never thought that they would enter the war, but they all got there jolly quick. Before the war there were many who had visions of a round table Imperial Conference at Westminster. Mr. Ward, premier of New Zealand, advocated this.

War brought a new national self-consciousness. They are no longer dependencies but nations in themselves, with still a great loyalty for the motherland, which is, after all, the great link of Empire. Australia is encouraging immigration of the best stock of the motherland to populate their country and hold down the menace of China and Japan. Canada is holding up the barriers against the yellow invasion. South Africa has its Hindoo menace, to say nothing of the black peril. Each one has its problems. We are bound, as long as we are free; if an effort was made to tie us the bonds would break. The real things come out with necessity; we are our own severest critics, and our habit is to understate cases in contrast to our American neighbors who always overstate.

Englishman's Word.

An Englishman's word, the doctor here went on to say, is always a good deal better than his bond, and that has aided in colonization work. One great asset of the Empire is the daring of the people who loved the sea and found their natural home on it. He here spoke of Livingstone and Shackleton, whose daring exploits on sea and land are bright spots in our history.

A point with the Briton is that when he leaves home he does not look back, but settles down in the new land to make a home. In India it is not possible to do this, of course, in the same degree as in other parts of the Empire, owing to climatic conditions, but just the same they go back to India generation after generation.

Bonnie Scotland.

On St. Andrew's Day, Scotchmen get together and talk about bonnie Scotland with a "tear in the e'e," but nevertheless they were never so happy as in this country.

The Englishman has an unquestionable sympathy with the dark races, in contrast with the Americans, whose viewpoint is formed by their nigger problem; the Englishman, though sympathetic, never takes the colored people too seriously. Nothing has done more for those people than the Britons' respect for the spoken word.

Swift Justice.

The stern swift justice of the British, asserted the speaker, gives the spectacular element that makes for righteousness. This is seen in the case of the North-West Mounted Police, who always get their man; they track down the evil-doer, no matter what the case. In the Winnipeg strike a few years ago, when the city police were helpless, half a dozen of the R. N. W. M. P. in a truck went to every pawn shop and hardware store and got all the firearms in the city, and no one dared to interfere.

We are proud of what we are, proud of our heads held high and of our standards of honor. We look back to the Old Land, not with a desire to return, but with affection and national unity with the dear old Motherland.

Mrs. Kendry, who moved a vote of thanks to Dr. Taylor, said she was never more proud that she was British than after hearing the address of the evening.

Mrs. A. Mowat, who seconded the motion, disagreed with Dr. Taylor on just one point—that of the stability of Women's Clubs. There was once in Peterborough a Men's Canadian Club. Where is it now? she enquired.

THE PROPOSED NEW HIGHWAY TO THE LAKES

Hon. F. C. Biggs and Party Will Go Over the Route to Burleigh Tomorrow.

LUNCH AT EMPRESS

The programme arranged for the visit of the Minister of Public Works and Highways, Hon. F. C. MOTHER!

Move Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels, and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful to-day saves a sick child to-morrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on the bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Nearly one-fourth of the apples shipped in the United States are consumed in the three cities, New York, Philadelphia and Chicago.

THEATRES

GRAND—Ernie Marks' Stock Co. with six big added vaudeville acts.
CAPITOL—Cecil B. De Mille's big production, "Manslaughter," with Thomas Meighan, Leatrice Joy, Lois Wilson. Also balance of premier Capitol programme.
ROYAL—Another special feature programme, including stupendous William Fox production, "West of Chicago," also first run comedy-drama and clean comedy.
REGENT—Doris May in "Gay and Devilish," and the rest of a first-class programme.

Capitol Entertainment

Patrons of the Capitol will find a real treat in store for them in the programme that has been provided for the first half of this week. The feature picture is "Manslaughter," in which Thomas Meighan, Lois Wilson and Leatrice Joy, play a conspicuous part. It is one of the best pictures shown here for some time and includes a thrill at every turn. Thomas Meighan in the role of district attorney, forced to prosecute his sweetheart for manslaughter, gives a faithful portrayal of a moral fight for right even at the expense of sending his sweetheart to the State penitentiary for a period of years. This review does not attempt to give a synopsis of what follows, but rather to comment on some of its features and to commend it to the movie fans of Peterborough. The interesting sequence of events can best be left to those who are fortunate enough to see the picture. It constitutes a spectacular romance of wealth, beauty and the law. Leatrice Joy has a very heavy part to play from the time she skids her high-powered car and brings death to the home of a traffic officer until the concluding climax which is happily worked out to the satisfaction and desire of the audience. The stage settings and costumes are gorgeous.

The programme also included the regular Pathe News which all picture fans like to see, and a short, snappy comedy that gives a zip to this high class programme.

AT THE ROYAL.

CROWDS CHEER JONES IN "WEST OF CHICAGO"

A large and enthusiastic audience greeted the latest Fox production, "West of Chicago," starring Charles Jones, which started a three day run at the Royal Theatre last night.

The action of "West of Chicago" takes place on the Mexican border. The story is exciting and exceedingly well told, the acting excellent, the direction praise-worthy, and the photography a delight to the eye. If you have seen Charles Jones in other films it is enough to say here that in his latest vehicle this excellent actor goes himself one better. There are swiftly running horses, quickly moving trains, and no end of excitement for those who love this form of entertainment. Renee Adoree, who support Mr. Jones, has a difficult role to play and she carries it through with all the charm that this young Fox actress has shown in the past.

The latest Fox production, which began so auspiciously last night, should play to crowded houses.

A ROMANCE DISCLOSED

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 20.—(Associated Press.) — The recent announcement of the engagement of Princess Dagmar, youngest sister of King Christian of Denmark, has disclosed a romance between a maid of royal blood and the poor scion of an ancient family.

The Princess, who is 32 years old, is understood to have been secretly engaged to her future husband, Jorgen de Castenskiold, for some time. He is a nephew of Grevenkop de Castenskiold, until recently the Danish ambassador to the court of St. James.

The engagement was officially announced late in October at Egeland, the summer residence of Dowager Queen Louise, mother of the Princess, in the presence of King Christian and Queen Alexandrine. All other members of the royal family and those of the de Castenskiold family were present.

Queen Louise rose at the end of the dinner and said: "It gives me great pleasure to announce the engagement of my beloved daughter, Dagmar, to Joergen de Castenskiold. May God bless them both."

The Queen then beckoned to Mr. de Castenskiold. He went to the Queen, who kissed him on the cheek, and then King Christian shook him heartily by the hand.

There was special warmth in the congratulations of Prince Aage, who himself a few years ago married a "commoner," the beautiful daughter of Count di Calvi, the Italian minister to Denmark. Before obtaining King Christian's consent, Princess Aage had to resign all claims to the Danish throne.

The marriage of the Princess is to take place the end of November. Wealthy members of the family have presented the prospective bridegroom with an extensive estate in North Jutland, and it is understood that Queen Louise has given the young couple an allowance of 20,000 crowns a year, for young de Castenskiold is only a salaried man. He was formerly an officer of the King's Guards, and later assistant manager of a salmon fishing enterprise in Alaska.

King Christian made it a condition, before giving his consent to the marriage, that the couple must have a country estate.

Ants had developed their present highly organized society long before our ape-like ancestors had settled down into communities.

Who Pays For Advertising?

THIS is a direct and reasonable question; and in the case of Daily Newspaper advertising, intelligently used, the answer is simple: Nobody. It pays its own way.

Nobody pays for the new carburetor that gives added mileage to your motor car. It pays for itself in the gasolene it saves.

Nobody pays for an improved cash system in a modern department store. It pays for itself in economy of human time.

Nobody pays for well planned and written Daily Newspaper advertising. It pays for itself by reducing the cost of sales and by increasing production. And it often receipts old bills for follies with advertising labels.

The advertisement in your own local Daily Newspaper tells you the best things to buy and where to buy them. Every new purchase helps the whole community to command cheaper and better goods.

MY WAY AND HIS WAY

By George W. Tuttle

I said: "Some great things I would do for Thee."
He said: "In small things thou best servest Me."

I said: 'Great victories I would daily win.'
He said: "Hast overcome thyself?

Look in!"

I said: 'I would lift up my voice in praise."
He said: "My son, learn first thy heart to raise."

I said: "I labor, but little do achieve."
He said, "Who sends the harvest? Just believe!"

THE COUNTY COUNCIL OPPOSE NEW HIGHWAY THE NORTH COUNTRY

Such Was Their Decision This Morning on Eve of Visit From Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Public Highways -- Want Roads Improved for Business and Not for Tourists.

APPLY FOR GRANTS

The county council will stand pat in its opposition to the proposed provincial highway from Peterboro to Algonquin Park. Such was their decision this morning, and although their thumbs are down on the major project they desire that this road through Smith and Douro be assumed as a county provincial road.

The difference is largely a matter of cost, and the members of the council believe that a county provincial road would serve the traffic practically as well as a provincial highway.

The resolution by Reeve Coughlin, seconded by Deputy-Reeve Anderson follows:

"That this council insist on the adoption of the road from the city limits by way of Nassau through Douro to Lakefield, and thence to Young's Point, through Douro, as a county provincial road; and also that the government be requested to grant $1000 a mile to the county for the improvement of the road from Young's Point north to Clysdale in Chandos township; and also that the attention of the Department be drawn to the necessity of a similar grant for the road from Buckhorn to the Catchecoma summer resorts through Harvey township."

One of the comments in the discussion this morning was that this question was primarily a responsibility of the County Council, and that its representations should be very seriously considered.

The council is cooperating with the city council in a reception to the Hon. Mr. Biggs, and fifteen of the members were in the party that went to Buckhorn this afternoon. They will also attend the banquet to the Minister of Highways at the Empress Hotel to-night.

CALGARY, Alta., Nov. 22—(Canadian Press).—F. E. Harrison, Dominion fair wage officer, lies in hospital, shot through the left breast and his wife, Zeta Mabel, is being held by the police. Harrison entered his office Tuesday evening, accompanied by a friend. They met Harrison's wife there and she requested the friend to leave. As the third person made his way downstairs he heard two shots behind him. Harrison staggered down to the street and was taken to the hospital. The police alleged Mrs. Harrison has shown signs of a disordered mind. She has been obsessed with the mania that her husband was on the point of eloping with some other woman.

WOULD DISCARD MANY OF THE PRESENT HYMNS.

OTTAWA, Nov. 22.— (Canadian Press.)— Seventy-five per cent. of the hymns in present day hymn books should be discarded because they only petitioned favors and praise, and congratulated church goers, instead of praising God, as originally intended, Rev. Dr. A. B. Winchester, of Toronto, said at a large meeting at Westminster Presbyterian church here last evening. He called upon the Lord to make few more saints or reformers to revise hymnology. Dr. Winchester's remarks were directed at hymns such as "And Sure Our Captain Can Depend on Me."

OBTAINED BOTTLE OF GIN ILLEGALLY

Charles Scriver of Hastings Also Operated Still --Fined $500.

Charles Scriver, of Hastings, was charged before Magistrate Langley yesterday with having liquor in a place other than the dwelling-house in which he resides.

The facts brought out at the trial were that on Sunday evening, Nov. 12, Scriver ran down William McKay, who with his wife and children in a buggy, was on his way to the Baptist Church in Norwood, overturning both the buggy and car, but fortunately hurting no one, although Mrs. McKay's baby was thrown some distance away out of its mother's arms.

Those who came to the rescue stated that a bottle produced in court was found among the things thrown out of Scriver's car, containing a small amount of apparently home-brew liquor, which on analysis proved to be over fifty per cent. proof spirits. Evidence was also given that the other contents of Scriver's car smelled very strongly of spirits of some kind. Scriver himself denied any knowledge of the bottle whatever and swore that he had had no liquor of any kind with him and that he had not drunk a drop of liquor for months.

Under cross-examination, Scriver admitted that he had pleaded guilty to having a still last January, and that he had obtained a bottle of gin illegally through a doctor last August.

In giving judgment the Magistrate stated that the prosecution had presented a complete chain of evidence connecting Scriver with the liquor, and that he had failed to give a satisfactory reason for having it in his possession. He was fined $500 and costs.

A further charge of being drunk in a public place was dismissed. Mr. Joseph Wearing acted for the prosecution and Mr. C. R. Widdifield for the defence.

TURKEY CLAIMS OLD TERRITORY WITHIN THRACE

Demand Firmly Opposed in Lausanne Conference by M. Venizelos, Delegate for Greece.

SYRIA'S STATUS

LAUSANNE, Nov. 22.—(Canadian Press).—The question of disposition of Western Thrace came definitely before the Powers to-day when Ismet Pasha presented to the Commission on Military and Territorial Matters, Turkey's claim to all the territory embraced within her frontiers of 1913.

M. Venizelos, for Greece, immediately opposed the claim and was supported by the Jugo-Slavs and the Roumanians, who favored maintaining the Maritza River the far western boundary of Turkey in Europe, and agreed with him that there should not ever be a prebiscite to decide the sovereignty of the disputed territory as Ismet suggested.

The delegation representing Syria arrived to-day, demanding that the conference grant independence to their country, which was given the status of a French mandatory state by the Allied Supreme Council at San Remo in 1920.

In presenting his demands for Western Thrace to-day, Ismet Pasha limited himself to the bare claim for territory and a vote by its inhabitants. Lord Curzon, who was presiding, pressed Ismet for an argument in support of his claim, but the Turkish delegate, while reinforcing his opening statement slightly, showed a disposition to wait until all the others had laid their cards on the table.

Broken Greece.

Ex-Premier Venizelos began his argument against this claim by feelingly contrasting broken Greece of to-day with Greece that, he said, had carried on war against Turkey for the Allies. Greece, after all, was one of the Allies, he declared, while Turkey was on the enemy's side.

The present conference was not being held simply to settle differences between the Turkish victor and beaten Greece, he pointed out, but to make peace between the Allies and one of the countries they had vanquished.

Outlet to Sea.

At this afternoon's session Premier Stambouliski, or Bulgaria, was prepared to present his views on this question, and also with regard to Bulgaria's claim for her promised outlet to the sea.

Ismet Pasha also was to present his reply to the arguments advanced by M. Venizelos.

It was remarked by observers that the presentation of Jugo-Slav and Roumanian views indicate the existence of an understanding among the Balkan States in opposiiton to Turkey's aspirations. Both Foreign Minister Minchitch of Jugo-Slavia Minister Ninchitch of Jugo-Slavia mania argued against permitting the Turks to go beyond Maritza, and urged that the neutral zone be established on either side of the river.

KIWANIS MINSTRELS TO APPEAR HERE NEXT WEEK

The Examiner will make no charge for obituaries for anyone who fails to survive Alex Dick's impersonation of Sinbad the sailor in the Kiwanis minstrels, which will make their debut in the Grand Opera house on Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

John McKone says every time he hears Joe Worth sing at the Kiwanis minstrels practices he runs around begging somebody to give him a drink.

So far the Examiner has not been admitted to a Kiwanis Minstrel practice so we are not in a position to say how bad it is.

Sufficient to say the public will have a chance to give it a once over on Nov. 29th and 30th in the Grand Opera House.

And remember, the proceeds will be devoted to the under-privileged youth of Peterborough. Book your tickets on Monday next and make sure of a good seat.

LONDON'S UNEMPLOYED PLOT A REVOLUTIONARY PARADE

Communist Faction Busy, But Authorities Take No Chances and Mounted Bobbies Swarm Thames Embankment in Great Numbers

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(Canadian Press).—Extensive precautions were taken by the London police to avoid trouble in connection with the proposed demonstration by unemployed, which morning papers declared was being plotted in Communist quarters with revolutionary intent.

Intervention by a number of Labor leaders, it was hoped, would result in abandonment of the plan for thousands of unemployed to march on White Hall for the purpose of forcing an interview with Premier Bonar Law in Downing Street.

The police were taking no chances, however, and when the hour arrived for the assembling of demonstrators on the Thames embankment, mounted police in great numbers were on hand there and throughout the White Hall area prepared for any emergency.

Shortly after noon a few demonstrators began to assemble on the embankment, some of them with red flags, and the police received reports that other bodies were marching in from the various suburbs.

The Salvation building and renovating scheme is nearing its completion, and the re-opening will take place on December 8th. Adjt. Smith the local officer is preparing an elaborate programme. This scheme has cost approximately $23,500.00, and will provide without a doubt the best equipped Salvation Army building in Canada.) Great credit is due to R. C. Adjt. Richardson, financial representative, who has been here for sometime, is anxious that the citizens of Peterborough come to the assistance of the Salvation Army in a very generous way, and a general canvass will be made under the direction of organized workers. There will also be a tag day on December 9. Everybody should assist this worthy effort of the Salvation Army as it means much the to welfare of the boys and girls and young people of this city. There will be two gymnasiums and also a good Samaritan room for police court detention cases and social welfare work.

DEPUTY LEADER HAS ISSUED A STATEMENT.

LONDON, Nov. 22.— (Canadian Press Cable.)—John R. Clynes, deputy leader of the Labor party, has issued a statement expressing his dislike for the procedure "by which a large number of new members decided for a change in chairmanship before a party meeting was held. Quarrels among leaders have been the curse of parties. I will never take part in them." He states his intention of heartily co-operating with Ramsay Macdonald, Labor chief.

Peterborough Was Silent

When Ontario Mayors Were Discussing Contributions to Fire Sufferers in North Country

With a composite picture of the ruined towns and farm districts of Northern Ontario indelibly stamped in his memory, Mayor W. H. Taylor intends to appeal immediately to local organizations for their active support in raising the money which the provincial relief committee will assess this city. His Worship informed The Examiner this morning that he would endeavor to enlist the Rotarians, Kiwanis, I.O.D.E., and kindred associations that have often shown their willingness to further community and patriotic enterprises. Personally Mayor Taylor believed that the money required for the assistance of the fire victims should be raised by the Government, but when the majority of the municipal representatives who visited Temiskaming, approved of the scheme proposed in a resolution by Mayor A. J. Meyers, of Campbellford, and seconded by Mayor Little of Owen Sound, that the financing of relief be assumed by the Northern Fire Relief Committee on an equitable basis of population or assessment, Mayor Taylor put aside his personal views, and determined to carry out, as far as he could, the funding campaign which will be launched here in a short time.

His Worship told The Examiner that at one of the sessions of municipal representatives, which was held on the journey for the purpose of discussing the question of the needs of the devastated townships and towns, he was hoping and praying that as the representative of Peterboro he would not be called upon. After he had heard Mayors and Reeves tell of their successful and even munificent contributions to the Relief Fund, Mayor Taylor realized that Peterboro's gift of about $1700 was conspicuously small and shabby in comparison with the exceedingly generous response reported by so many other towns and cities.

The trip was a revelation to Mayor Taylor, as in fact it was to the whole company, and it was freely admitted that had the people of Old Ontario comprehended fully the extent of the fire loss their aggregate voluntary contributions would have provided all the money needed when the fund was spontaneously opened on the day after the fire.

In connection with the Mayor's plans the people of this district will be informed by Mayor Tayler and otherwise of the actual needs of the north, and of the splendid spirit with which the farmers and townspeople have gone about the first rough plans toward rehabilitation.

THE NEED IS GREATER THAN FIRST REALISED.

Receipts for Fire Victims Are 1,093.78, But This Sum Should Be Considerably Augmented.

The village of Warsaw, having sent the substantial sum of $60.62 to The Examiner in contribution to the relief fund for Northern Ontario fire sufferers, the grand total received so far is now $1,093.78. But the need in the fire-stricken area being of a far greater magnitude than at first realised, it is hoped that Peterborough citizens will keep up their good work and considerably swell the amount sent into this office to date.

The fund now stands as follows:

Previously acknowledged	$1,033.16
Warsaw Village	60.62
Total	$1,093.78

HYDRO SHOWS HUGE DEFICIT FOR ONTARIO

But Rates in Centre of Province Never So Low as Given by Seymour Interests.

COMMISSION MET

TORONTO, Nov. 22. — Sitting yesterday at the Parliament Buildings for the first time since its presentation of the Nipigon report, the Gregory Hydro Commission reverted for the subject of its inquiry to the Central Ontario system. This unit is unique amongst the Hydro enterprises for being provincially, and not municipally, owned, and the trend of yesterday's testimony was guided with the two-fold object of revealing the reason for this distinction in the matter of ownership and of passing upon the Hydro's stewardship of the division since it had been placed under its care.

Peterborough's interests were represented in the persons of City Clerk S. R. Armstrong and W. H. Bradburn.

The first of the foregoing questions was answered by the joint evidence of Sir William Hearst, Hon. Howard Ferguson and Chief Engineer F. A. Gaby. According to them, the municipality of Peterborough had first urged the matter of public development of power in the district, which was already being served by the Seymour power interests. The Hydro made its investigation of the feasibility of the scheme, and finally decided that the size of the locality would prevent two power-generating companies from both operating successfully, but that the project might be profitable if the Seymour lines could be purchased. The Seymour interests refused to sell their holdings individually to the municipalities, so that the Government purchased the complete development and turned it over to the Hydro Commission for management in the interests of the municipalities involved.

Consumers Pay More.

The subsequent future of the system was told by the evidence of Mr. Gaby. Once again it was a story of Hydro activities from which the word "deficit" could not be eliminated, and in which increasing power costs were part of the situation. The system, from the years 1917 to October 31st of the present year, had an accumulated deficit of $207,000, and power costs to the municipalities between Kingston and Whitby had never been so low as when the Seymour companies had been operating. It was further stated by Mr. Gaby that the courts which would probably have to be followed when the system's bonds for the $8,350,000 purchase price should fall due would be to refund them.

Mr. Gaby contended to chairman that the system as a commercial enterprise had been profitable." It had, he claimed, paid its way and earned sufficient to meet the renewal fund of $1,250,000, which was obligatory upon it by the Government Act.

Chairman Gregory, however, quoted from the unit's balance sheets and showed that only in the year 1920 had there been a surplus earned. Even it had been due, not to the power project, but to an unexpected profit of $200,000 which a pulp mill, acquired along with the power properties, had returned.

Mr. Gaby thereupon argued that the renewal reserve which was required from the system was too high, and that the $1,250,000 which was to its credit should be placed against the $207,000 deficit. He admitted to Sir Adam, however, that this money had gone into renewals and line etxensions and that no sinking fund for the redemption of the outstanding bonds had been created. He considered that the re-funding of the bonds when they should become due would be the logical way to handle that end of the enterprise.

Diverted Government Grant.

The commissioners endeavored to probe one of the Hydro's irregularities in the matter of the expenditure of a grant of $1,700,000 which the Legislature had made to the Central Ontario system. Mr. Gaby admitted that the grant had been diverted to another Hydro unit altogether, although he stated that the money had later been returned to the Government.

"What," asked Commissioner Haney, "was your authority for diverting a Government grant from a Government enterprise to a purely Hydro enterprise?"

Mr. Gaby was of the opinion that at the time the Hydro Commission had not considered that it had needed any authority.

The old question of the Hydro's decided stand against making "fish of one and flesh of another" amongst its customers aws then brought up, Commissioner Lloyd Harris pointing out the diversity of contracts and rates which the various municipalities served by the Central Ontario system enjoyed. Mr. Gaby stated, however, that the Central Ontario system was not managed upon the basis of the municipalities being partners in the power undertaking, but strictly as a business concern of the Ontario Government. Certain of the municiaplities which might be enjoying favors to-day, he stated, might be paying more than cost for their

Father Asks Death For Deformed Baby

Doctors Refuse Plea, Assert Child's Brain is Normal

CHICAGO, Nov. 22. — A father's plea that his two-day-old deformed baby girl be scientifically put to death was overruled by physicians today.

The child, normal mentally, has neither arms nor legs. The father, James C. Lebrasca, begged that she "be not allowed to live", surgeons asserted.

The case of Baby Bollinger, who was scientifically allowed to die several years ago, after the the late Dr. Harry Haiselden, attending physician, refused to perform a simple operation that would have saved the child's life, was recalled.

Baby Lebrasca was born Saturday Dr. Benjamin H. Breakstone, attending physician, after a consultation with his colleagues, Drs. Mandel and Brownslein, ruled against the father's appeal.

"The child's brain is normal—it may become a mental genius —we have no right to cause her death," he said.

"The deciding point is whether the child if permitted to live will be a burden on the community. Society should be required to step in and care for such a baby, attend to its wants and educate it."

Children's Protection Act Has Been a Valuable Aid to Ontario—The Annual Meeting of the Children's Aid Society.

OFFICERS ELECTED

The annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms last evening, and was fairly well attended. B. F. Ackerman occupied the chair, and called on Rev. Dr. R. C. Blagrave to open the meeting with prayer. The secretary, John Edgar, read the minutes of the last annual meeting, which were confirmed. Mr. Ackerman, the president, gave a brief address, explaining his appointment, which was made in July to take the place of Rev. F. E. Malott, who had removed to Belleville. Mr. Ackerman paid a tribute to the work of Mrs. Rogers, the matron, who has done excellent work. The children are happy, but the condition of the building is most unsatisfactory, and it is hoped that a new building will be available very soon. Solos by John Ball and Miss Ruby Quartermaine, and a piano selection by Miss Ida Sanderson followed, and were much appreciated.

The treasurer's report, presented by C. S. Cummer, shows a balance on hand of $2,299.25.

Question of Finance.

The question of finance was briefly discussed after the adoption of this report, and the point was stressed that a new building, for the proper carrying on of the work, which is a very important branch of social service, was sorely needed, and that funds for that purpose were required. Walter Stocker suggested a better organization of outside points for tag day, and cited the case of one village where people waited with contributions and no one called.

Mrs. Stenton sang "The Garden of My Heart" in splendid voice, after which G. W. Powell gave the superintendent's report, which was satisfactory in every respect. The trust funds which Mr. Powell administers for the wards of the society are particularly worth mentioning, as this is not done in many places, and is a great asset.

Superintendent's Report.

The following is the superintendent's report:

Our society has had a very good year, only for a few cases of sickness that interfered with our children's schooling. In all, we were quarantined about 14 weeks, which interfered so much that most of them failed in June.

It also stopped our taking new children in, and we could not send them to foster homes. We are still without proper accommodation for our children, but hope next year the Board will be able to build and give us more room.

Our work has been increased this year by the bringing in of two new Acts by the Ontario Government. "The Children of Unmarried Parents Act"; under this Act I have had 19 cases since January 1st. Some have been settled, and some cases are still pending, and some have skipped the country.

"The Adoption Act," under which I have had some seven cases, most of them are placed in splendid

FOUND MISSING WIFE IN LINDSAY

But She Had Unlawfully Married a Second Time

LINDSAY, Nov. 22—Trailing his wife, who had married another man, from Victoria, B.C. to Lindsay, was the experience of a resident of that city, who is at present in this town.

Five years ago his wife, married a Lindsay man, who is in the theatrical business. She had one child at the time, and it is for the purpose of getting possession of this child, that the trip east was made

The lawful husband sought the assistance of Chief Short on his arrival here from Peterboro, where he believed the couple had located. The fact that the woman had been married before came as a surprise to the theatrical man when hubby No. one confronted him. After a conference with the Chief it was decided that the first husband should have the child. The woman, it is understood, was quite willing to go back to her first love. She has had two children by her second marriage and this complicated matters. Her husband, who is said to be a man of means, was quite satisfied to get possession of the child and get away back home.

THE WEATHER

The ground had a light mantle of white this morning, the first of the season. The snow's first appearance has come at a late date. Winter set in over the western prairies last Thursday and Friday and all northern Ontario was covered with snow by the end of the week. However, until the ground is thoroughly frozen here even if snow should come it will not remain. Last year the first snow fall came on Nov. 5th, and on the 9th sufficient fell for fair sleighing. In 1920, the first came on Nov. 10th. A very heavy fall of wet snow fell on Nov. 17th. Over 10 inches fell. There was sleighing until Dec. 7th, when it gradually disappeared. Winter began in earnest Dec. 27th.—W. P.

30 WITNESSES TOLD JURY OF MURDER CASE

The Hall Murder Mystery Occupies the Attention of the Grand Jury — Another Mysterious Witness.

EXPERT MARKSMAN.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., November 22. — Canadian Press. — Thirty witnesses had told their stories when the grand jury investigating the murder of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, finished its second session last night. The prosecutor stated that at least 25 more would be called.

The grand jury has learned that the minister and the choir singer were murdered; that the rector was shot through the head; that the woman was shot three times; that the shots were fired by an expert marksman; that the choir singer went by trolley and afoot to a trysting place with the minister.

It learned that the prosecutor believed Mr. Hall and Mrs. Mills were killed under the lonely crab apple tree on Philips Farm where their bodies were found.

George Sipel, the pig farmer, who on Monday night popped into the case after his wife announced that he was innocent of any concern in it, yesterday was ordered before the jury. To-day in all probability, the grand jury will have an opportunity to decide whether Sipel is a really vital factor or merely a pig raising farmer who has had business dealings with Mrs. Jane Gibson, the star prosecution witness, and has talked about them. Sipel yesterday went out into the country in his machine before daylight and was still there when the sun set.

The jury yesterday heard 18 witnesses. They heard doctors tell how Mrs. Mills' throat was found to have been cut when her body and that of Mr. Hall were disinterred for an autopsy.

Lausanne Conference Has Held Two Sessions--French Delegate Urges Secrecy Be Maintained

Eight Nations Will Have Full Voting Power But Many Others Will Be Represented.

RUSSIA NOT PRESENT.

LAUSANNE, November 22 (Canadian Press). — Two sessions of the Near Eastern Peace Conference were held yesterday. At the first the organisation of three commissions was arranged, the first on political and military matters, with a British chairman the second, on economic, finance and public health, with a French chairman; and the third on capitulations, minority populations, and similar questions, with an Italian chairman.

The afternoon session proved quite an informal affair, and was devoted chiefly to addresses in which a successful outcome of the conference was predicted.

The speakers were M. Barrere, of the French delegation; Marquis Di Garroni, for the Italians; Lord Curzon, for the British; and Baron Hayashi, for the Japanese.

M. Barrere's address was much longer than those of the other speakers. It smacked strongly of the old-time diplomacy and was a plea for negotiations in secret.

"Diplomacy, thank Heaven, does not seek publicity," the head of the French delegation declared. "It dislikes treating affairs too much in the market places, to have its work influenced by fluctuations of opinion ready to approve to-morrow that which it rejected yesterday."

Following the example of most of the other post-war conferences, the present gathering has agreed that the proceedings of the closed meetings shall be confidential except for such communiques as may be issued by the order of the general secretary.

Eight Powers Present.

Eight Powers are actually participating in the conference as full members. They are: Great Britain, France, and Italy, the inviting Powers; Turkey, Greece, Roumania, Japan and Jugo-Slavia.

When questions affecting the regulation of the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles are under consideration all the States bordering on the Black Sea may participate. This means that Bulgaria, Ukrainia, Soviet Russia, and Georgia will be given a vote in the Straits settlement if they so desire.

Bulgaria is already represented here, but the Moscow Government has declined to participate unless granted full powers on all the questions under consideration.

In view of the lack of representation of the Moscow regime or any of its federated states, the conference has decided that other countries not originally invited to the meeting may be admitted to ask information and discuss such matters as may affect their intererts. They will have no vote, however.

It is believed that many countries will avail themselves of this opportunity when abolition of the capitulations is under consideration.

Turkey went on record Tuesday as being opposed to dealing with these outside Powers in this conference; that is, the Turks are willing that they should be heard but insist that they shall not have anything more the consultative powers.

Neither Premier Poincare nor Premier Mussolini attended yesterday's meetings, as they are not members of the French and Italian delegations M. Poincare left for Paris last night and Signor Mussolini will proceed to Rome on Sunday.

Both apparently are satisfied that the understanding between Great Britain, France, and Italy is sufficiently well established to guarantee united action.

ROME, November 22 (Canadian Press) — Italy has watched with intense interest the developments at Lausanne, particularly the part played by Mussolini. The meeting of the Fascisti leader with old and trained diplomats in the discussion of one of the most momentous problems concerning Europe is considered to have put the youthful Premier's programme of foreign policy and the relations of Italy to the Entente to the acid test.

The Giornale D'Italia says that Mussolini went into the first council with as much confidence as heretofore came through a lengthy diplomatic experience.

The Premier adapted himself wonderfully to the circumstances, the paper adds, and created as great an impression by the contrast of his methods in the first meeting with Poincare and Curzon, as he did when he first faced the Italian Chamber.

In Peterborough Tuesday, Nov. 28

HON. G. HOWARD FERGUSON, Leader of the Conservative Opposition in the Provincial Legislative, will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Liberal-Conservative Association of West Peterborough, to be held in the Great War Veterans' Hall on Tuesday evening, November 28. The election of officers for the coming year will be held and general business of importance discussed. Several other prominent speakers will be present and matters of special interest to women electors are to be discussed.

OFFICIALS DENY EX-SOLDIER WAS BADLY TREATED

Immigration Inspector Says Story Was But An Effort to Send Family Back to United States.

CANADIAN CITIZEN.

SARNIA, Ont., November 22. Canadian Press. — Absolute denials of the stories of mistreatment told by Emmanuel Joseph and his wife following their deportation to this city from Port Huron, were made yesterday in statements issued by Sheriff Harrison W. Maines and immigration inspectors L. A. Kinstler and R. H. Merriweather, of Port Huron.

Sheriff Maines asserted that the story was without a word of truth, and was simply an effort of an attorney to get the people back to the United States. He said that Mrs. Joseph was never closely locked up, and was given the freedom of the jail.

Immigration Inspector Kinstler stated that Mrs. Joseph had told him that she had been well treated in the jail and that the couple and family were deported because of Mrs. Joseph's misconduct and because it was believed that they would not make desirable United States citizens. He added that Mrs. Joseph had been given Medical attention.

Inspector Kinstler removed the family from the jail and brought them to Sarnia and Inspector Merriweather conducted the investigation preceeding the deportation.

Joseph claimed that he and his wife had been held in jail for 25 days prior to deportation and claimed that the only cause for his austing from the United States was his failure to pay the head tax. He said he was a Canadian citizen and ex-soldeir.

PROTEST MADE IN U.S. AGAINST LECTURE TOUR

Lieut. Von Meuche Was Second in Command of German Raider Emden During the War.

NO ACTION TAKEN.

NEW YORK, November 22. Canadian Press. — Indignant United States citizens have protested to the New York office of the Federal Department of Justice against permitting Lieut. Captain Von Meu-ke, the second in command to Captain Muller of the famous German raider Emden, from lecturing in the Untied States.

Von Meucke landed here a day or so ago and went to Chicago to start his tour.

Those who object to Von Meucke say, that he would not be permitted to speak in Canada and they see no reason why he should come here to tell of exploits that injured the cause of the allies.

Because of the fact that peace has been formally arranged with Germany, no stigma attaches to any of the citizens of that country while they are in the United States. The Department of Justice is inclined to believe however that if the lectures incite to violence in any instance they can be cancelled. The German naval officer on his arrival in New York said that Germany was attempting to accept defeat in good grace and to "build from the bottom up."

MacDonald, Opposition Leader, Is Both Pacifist and Socialist Leader of the Labor Wing

Scottish Labor Members Swing the Vote in Favor of MacDonald By a Very Narrow Margin.

HIS RECORD.

LONDON, November 22 (Canadian Press). — It is a strange turn of the political wheel which within four years of the World War places James Ramsay Macdonald, a pronounced pacifist and opponent of that war, in the position of "leader of His Majesty's Opposition," in the British Parliament, and, in a sense, the prospective Prime Minister of Great Britain in the event of the present Conservative administration suffering a defeat in the House of Commons on any weighty question during the coming five years.

It is the custom when the Government resigns or is defeated in Parliament for the retiring Prime Minister to advise the King to summon the leader of the Opposition to form a new Government.

Mr. Macdonald's election was a surprise, the re-election of John Robert Clynes having been expected.

Mr. Clynes is considered very able and is highly thought of, but it is possible that his close connection with the Coalition Government as Food Controller during the war may have had something to do with the preference accorded the present leader.

The voting was exceedingly close, 61 for Macdonald and 56 for Clynes, and it is understood to have been the Scottish Labour members who turned the scales in favour of the former.

These Scottish members are for forcing the pace in Parliament on unemployment and other questions of interest to the Party, on which it is supposed Mr. Clynes would have counselled going more slowly.

There is little doubt that the Labour Party as a whole favoured Ramsay Macdonald, owing to his superior Parliamentary skill, his gifts as a speaker, and his extensive knowledge of foreign affairs, but there was a strong element in favour of re-electing Mr. Clynes, at least for the first session of the new Parliament, out of gratitude for his services to the party during recent years.

Mr. Macdonald, who thus for the second time has been elected chairman of his Party, is a strong Socialist as well as an anti-militarist. He has had a stormy career. He was rejected by a large majority at Leicester in the "Khaki" election of 1918, owing to his anti-war attitude, and was again badly defeated when he contested the Woolwich constituency in the by-election of 1921. Thus, he did not sit in the Parliament just dissolved.

He was re-elected for Aberavon by

$50,000 For a Single Strawberry Plant

THREE RIVERS, Mich. Nov. 22.—(Canadian Press)— Fifty thousand dollars for a single strawberry plant was paid yesterday by Frank Beatty, President of the R. M. Kellog Company, fruit growers.

The plant is to be known as "Rockhill" in honor of its breeder Harlow Rockhill, of Conrad, Iowa. The price is believed here to be the highest ever paid for a single strawberry plant. The plant bears in early summer and begins again in the late summer, bearing continuously until frost comes.

The purchaser said yesterday he believed the plant he had purchased would revolutionize the strawberry industry.

A CONFESSION TO THE FARMER

Provincial Government is Endeavouring to Improve Marketing Conditions and Immigration

TORONTO, Nov. 22.—(Canadian Press.) — Confession that agriculture in Ontario was far below what it should be was made last night before Central Ontario convention of Womenn's Istitutions by Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture. He chose occasion to put forward plans the government had formulated in regard to improved marketing conditions and immigration. He declared that he realized that agriculture in Ontario was inefficient when he saw on sale in Toronto imported apples of inferior quality. He also realized this fact when he saw Danish and Irish bacon selling at from three to eight cents a pound higher in England than Canadian bacon, which was of better quality.

GOVERNMENT TO PAY COST OF INSPECTION.

QUEBEC, Nov. 22.— (Canadian Press.)— The cost of inspection of manufacture of dairy products as well as the salaries of the inspectors will in future be entirely paid by the Quebec Government. A bill introduced in the House by Hon. Mr. Caron, the Minister of Agriculture, provided that all those expenses will henceforth be borne by the government, was given third reading and adopted yesterday afternoon.

TRADE TREATY WITH FRANCE IS NEARLY READY

Broad Lines of the Treaty Have Been Completed But Many Details Must Still Be Arranged.

IN THREE WEEKS.

PARIS, November 22 (Canadian Press). — The broad lines of a commercial treaty between France and Canada have been completed by the Canadian Ministers, W. S. Fielding and Ernest Lapointe, in conference with officials of the French Ministry of Commerce.

Announcement of this was made yesterday by the Foreign Office, and from present indications the treaty will be completed within two or three weeks. The terms already agreed upon are withheld, however, pending completition of the treaty It is believed that the effect of the new convention will be to increase trade between the two countries.

Messrs. Fielding and Lapointe are returning to Paris to-day from a visit to Verdun and other war areas as guests of the French Government. They will continue conferences with the French officials until the treaty is ready for signature.

The Near East crisis has delayed the negotiations to some extent, absorbing much of the time of the French Government.

The meetings this week will have to do with mutual concessions which must be made under the tariff. It is expected that there will be a number of these reciprocal clauses, as the officials of both countries are anxious to do all possible to facilitate commerce between France and Canada.

The Canadian Ministers have been extensively entertained while in Paris by Canadian and British friends. This afternoon they will be guests at a large reception to be given in their honour by the Canadian Commission in Paris and Mrs. Philine Roy, wife of the Canadian Commissioner-General to France.

LABOR CONVENTION ENDS IN RIOTING.

MADRID, Nov. 22.—(Canadian Press)—Rioting in which revolvers were used, resulting in the death of one Spaniard and the wounding of several, marked the opening yesterday morning of the labor union congress.

The trouble arose when Spanish unionists objected to the attempt of a representative of the Amsterdam Internationale to make a speech. The police dispersed the gathering.

Leon Jouhaux, president of the French General Federation of Labor, was one of the delegates.

IMPROVEMENTS TO HOUSE OF REFUGE COMPLETED AS PLANNED SAYS WARDEN

Explanation of Conditions Cited By Grand Jury Made By Warden Strickland in Opening Address at County Council's First Session — Work Had Been Delayed But Was Not Overlooked.

NO REFLECTIONS.

In his address to the County Council at the opening session on Tuesday afternoon, Warden Strickland referred to the Grand Jury's report on conditions at the House of Refuge a month ago during the week of the fall assizes.

After congratulating the chairmen upon their efficient and faithful service Warden Strickland said: "Having through the Press read the report of the Grand Jury, with the permission of the chairman of the Committee I take this opportunity of placing before the general public the exact condition of affairs at the House of Refuge.

"We appreciate the remarks of the Jury, believing that they reported in accordance with their duty.

"At the time of their visit or rather previous to it, heating and plumbing contractors had been authorized to make necessary repairs to the House along their lines. The I had only proceeded to a limited extent when they discovered the defects were very much worse than anticipated, hence the delay that resulted at the time of the mentioned inspection by the Grand Jury.

As the result of the unsettled condition of affairs, over $100 worth of clothes that had arrived for fall wear remained unpacked. These have since been distributed and are being worn by the inmates. I am pleased to assure the other members of the Council and the general public also that all plumbing, heating and sewage disposal have been attended to.

"There can be no reflection cast upon former Councils or Boards, from the fact that the County was providing for war emergencies, and prices also being almost prohibitive resulted in the same delay in improvements that could be seen in all other improvements or undertakings.

"It must be recognized by all that the responsibilities of the Council or municipality have increased from the standpoint of providing funds. As proof of this I would point to legislation creating a fund for Mothers' Allowance in order that the widowed mother may devote more of her time to the raising and educating of her orphaned children. No objection has been made, in fact all agree to such provision, realizing that the Canadian born children are one of Canada's best assets. Legislation for the better education of the young has resulted in an increase of considerable funds to be provided. Various other expenditures are statutory and beyond the control of the Council.

It must be a source of gratification to all members of the Council to note the remarks of those who frequently use the main roads as to their satisfactory condition, and also the reference of the Superintending Engineer of the Department of Highways. These speak volumes for the services rendered by the County Road Superintendent."

Warden Strickland said that the Council had closely observed their policy of economy, and in conclusion he expressed his appreciation of the harmony and unity that had prevailed throughout the year.

PREPARING TO OPEN NEW WAR

Tiger of France Charges Militarists of Germany With Preparing For Another Conflict.

NEW YORK, November 22. — Canadian Press. — Militarists in Germany already are preparing another war, Georges Clemenceau, the war premier of France, declared last night in the first address of his American tour.

"Don't you read the newspapers?" he demanded. "Don't you know what that means?"

The Tiger of France, speaking fervently before a packed house, reviewed the situation in Europe pointto the rapprochment of Turks and Soviet Russia as ominous war clouds.

In the meantime he declared Ludendorf and other German militarists were planning a coup against the democratic government there.

Describing the present time as the "greatest crisis" he urged that the United States should renew conversations with France and Britain which without definitely committing this country to any set programme would present to German eyes a picture of three unpleasant folks who faced her in war.

He said that sooner or later the United States would have to interest herself in post-war affairs of Europe because she could not continue to be comfortable and wealthy if Europe was covered with blood.

He expressed the hope that the United States might establish a plan as to what was to be done in carrying out the terms of the peace treaty and join with Britain and France in imposing it on Germany.

He was frank in his criticism of the United States post-war attitude, declaring America had had a large share in imposing the peace terms, and had duties to perform in seeing that they were enforced.

RALPH CONNOR'S STATEMENT.

There is considerable interest, not only in Manitoba, but throughout Canada, over the remark made by Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon ("Ralph Connor") at the Presbyterian synod in Winnipeg last week to the effect that Hon. R. W. Craig, Attorney-General of Manitoba, had been offered $50,000 to let up on the enforcement of the Temperance Act.

The Attorney-General declares that the preacher-novelist must have misconstrued something told him.

Hon. Mr. Craig explains that a "respectable citizen" informed him that he had been asked his opinion as to whether the Attorney-General could be influenced to let up on the enforcement of the Act if he were offered $50,000 to do so.

That explanation is interesting so far as it goes.

The trouble is that it does not go far enough.

The public would like to know the identity of the "respectable citizen," and they would like him to make known the name of the individual who was anxious to try the effect of a bribe upon the Attorney-General.

The whole matter is too indefinite as it stands now.

If there are interests with fifty thousand dollars to spend in an attempt to influence members of the Manitoba Government, it would be well to warn the public of such interests and to let the facts of the case be widely known.

Ralph Connor's original statement, while not correct in detail, has revealed enough to make the people want more.

TO-DAY'S GUEST.

The names of some members of the present Ontario Cabinet will be remembered long after those of the majority of the Ministers have passed out of public recollection.

Premier Drury and his "broadening out" policy, and the much-heckled Attorney-General have both been so prominently in the limelight that their names are likely to linger long.

But it is to be fancied that the name of Peterborough's guest to-day, the Hon. F. C. Biggs, will have more lasting fame than either.

The roads that Biggs built will not let the people of Ontario forget the Minister of Public Works and Highways in the first Farmers' Government.

Some people complain that the Provincial Highways cost too much.

That is a matter of opinion. Road making is not a cheap proposition at any time, and if the Biggs roads last as long as the engineers claim they will, their cost will be trifling in comparison to the benefits they are bringing to the people of Ontario.

Like everybody else, we in this Province are ready to pay for service.

The sample of the Biggs article in this section of Ontario, as seen in the Port-Hope-Peterborough Highway, has made us hungry for more.

The extension of the same highway to the Kawartha Lakes, and eventually to Algonquin Park, is the next item that Peterborough would like to see incorporated in the Biggs programme.

THE CAPITAL LEVY.

This sequestration by the State of large sums which are known as the Capital Levy is a proposal that the Government collect a special contribution on a steeply graduated scale on both individuals and corporations with a capital of over $25,000, rising to about 40 per cent., says the Montreal Star. It is argued by its advocates that there is an analogy in the Death Duties, but such a claim overlooks the fact that all rich men do not die on the same day in the same year, and, therefore, the transfer of capital to the State by the Death Duties is so gradual that it does not seriously upset the delicate machinery of industry.

Moreover, those who talk so glibly of a Capital Levy do not seem to realize that the capital of a business does not consist of a bank balance, upon which a cheque can be drawn on the appointed day, but is represented by plant and machinery, stores and warehouses, patents and trade marks, franchises and good-will, and to a large extent collectable assets in the form of due bills. Apart from the difficulties of collection, it stands to reason that few concerns in the world would be able to pay over to the State from 10 to 40 per cent. of their "capital."

In Switzerland, where it is proposed to bring the Capital Levy into effect next month, hundreds of citizens have withdrawn their money from the banks, realized on their shares and sent their money abroad for investment. How serious the movement has been may be judged by the fall in Swiss currency. Bolshevist Russia tried the experiment and failed. The Capital Levy is unsound economically, and a mirage in the benefits accruing. It would increase unemployment, curb personal initiative, check the flow of trade and dislocate our whole industrial system.

It is to be hoped that the mellowing influences of Westminster may have a beneficial effect on the proponents of these unripe and dangerous schemes.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING.

With Christmas a little over a month away, the season for the annual sermon on early Christmas shopping would seem to be at hand.

Newspapers have for many years endeavoured, not without considerable success, to induce people to clean up a lot of their gift buying well in advance of Christmas.

But there are still far too many people who leave it for the last week, as a result of which Christmas, instead of a time of joy for the store forces, becomes a season of long hours, feverish excitement, and vexing incidents with last-minute shoppers.

There are no new arguments to be advanced in favour of early gift buying.

They have all been used year after year, and fortunately many citizens have realised their reasonableness and have planned and carried out their Yuletide shopping on a schedule that did not leave everything until the eleventh hour.

The shopper who buys for Christmas now gets the benefit of full stocks of fresh goods, not shop-worn and showing the marks of frequent handling.

There is a wide field of selection, and the clerks have more time in which to give the benefit of their advice and counsel—something that is impossible in the mad rush of the last few days.

The advertising columns of The Examiner already abound in seasonable gift suggestions, and the wise shoppers will take advantage of the selection now offered.

Then when the stocks are depleted and the clerks are tired and the stores are jammed with jostling customers frantically trying to get what they want in a last desperate rush, they can indulge in a quiet smile of contentment and satisfaction.

LET ABILITY BE THE TEST.

That the old tradition that every Peterborough Mayor should be given a second term by acclamation is to be disregarded at the next municipal elections, seems to be assured.

At least one new candidate is grooming himself for the race, and it may be taken for granted that if Mayor Taylor wants a second term, he will have to get enough votes to give it to him.

There is little doubt that he will be opposed, and that being the case, it behooves the people of Peterborough to pay more than usual attention to the question of selecting a Chief Magistrate for next year.

There are certain qualities that, to The Examiner at least, appear essential to a successful occupancy of the Mayor's chair.

The Mayor of a city of this size should possess enough business ability and training to enable him to grasp readily the details of municipal problems.

He should be able to supply an intelligent and energetic leadership in the deliberations of the Council, and have enough backbone and determination to keep his aldermen to the point in their speeches and in their conduct, without, of course, trying to be a dictator.

He need not be an orator, but he should at least be able to express himself in public clearly and without murdering the King's English.

As the president, as it were, of the civic firm, he should have poise and dignity enough to receive without embarrassment the many important visitors who, in the course of a year, come to Peterborough, and to gracefully preside over public meetings and public functions of all kinds where the presence of the Chief Magistrate is desirable.

In choosing a Mayor, these are points that should carefully considered, for they form a test that if successfully met, should ensure the election of a Mayor worthy of a progressive city.

Mayor Taylor's opponent has not definitely announced himself.

When he does, The Examiner suggests that the standard set forth in this article be applied to him, as well as to the present Mayor.

If in the opinion of the citizens either of the two candidates passes the test with flying colours, then he should be elected.

But if the verdict is that neither Mayor Taylor nor the alderman who plans to be his opponent possesses those qualifications, we have outlined as desirable, then in the name of commonsense let Peterborough endeavour to bring out as a third candidate a citizen who has at least some of them.

Leadership at the City Hall is a vital matter, and should be treated as such.

Too long have we elected men as Mayor because they were good fellows or because while we did not know much about them we had a prejudice against their opponents.

In business it is usually the man who can deliver the goods who gets to the top.

Why not, for a change, apply business principles to our municipal elections, get away from such archaic customs as giving our Chief Magistrate a second term, whether they have earned one or not, and let ability be the test in selecting a Mayor for Peterborough?

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The whole district should be behind the movement to have the Provincial Highway extended to the Kawartha Lakes. It means much to this section of Ontario.

The hunters are back, some with a lot of venison and all with a lot of stories. As usual, the biggest ones got away.

The world will hope that the Lusanne Conference, which began yesterday, will settle the various problems arising out of the Turks' return to the Continent.

The Tiger of France has come to America to tell how the next war may be averted. It would be a good time for the Hearst papers to tell Monsieur Clemenceau who won the last war.

The new political developments in Pekin seem to be a sort of a Chinese puzzle.

Sir George Paish, noted financier, was among the candidates in the British elections who lost their deposits. Still Sir George should have little difficulty in financing the 150 pounds needed because of his defeat.

The advice to mail your Christmas presents early is as important as the counsel about early Christmas shopping.

The Fair Board's quick start to get the Exhibition Grounds in shape for next year's baseball flows that when action is required President Tenne has the livest squad of workers in the district at his command.

With only two contests out of five by-elections it looks as if there is tranquility in Canadian politics as well as in the Motherland.

"The motorist who kills and runs away is again in evidence," says the Globe. "Nothing but stiff sentences for manslaughter will bring that sort of criminal to his senses."

With hunger strikes, assassinations, official executions and a general atmosphere of intrigue and suspicion, the Irish Free State does not seem to find its new status any more beneficial than its former one.

It is understood that the chance to hear a sermon without having to pay any collection is making the radio popular with a lot of people—some of them Scotch.

MEETING OF NORTH MONAGHAN COUNCIL

Slate Cleaned of Routine Business—Object to Bills For Care of So-Called Indigents.

The North Monaghan Council met at the Court House, Peterborough, on Monday, November 20, all the members being present, with Reeve H. B. Ryan in the chair.

A communication was read from the Nicholls Hospital stating that Mrs. George Perry was an inmate of that institution and was a charge of this municipality.

Mr. F. A. Sanderson of Cavan was present and asked the Council for a donation to help out his expenses in connection with the opening of the Provincial highway. The members of the Council declined to do anything in this matter as far as they were concerned, as members of the Township Council, but agreed to and did assist Mr. Sanderson privately.

A communication was read from Mr. W. F. Huycke asking for payment of Dr. Young's bill for attendance on one Harry Corbin.

Dr. Galvin wrote asking permission to have Mrs. Joseph Curtain put in the hospital as a charge on this municipality as she is unable to pay.

Pay Accounts.

Moved by Mr. Lillico, seconded by Mr. Bell, the following bills be passed and paid:

Nicholls Hospital, $6; Nicholls Hospital, re the five Thompson children, $30.

Moved by Mr. Lillico and seconded by Mr. Barnes that Gordon McIntosh be appointed Road Commissioner for road division No. 3 in place of the late Robert Sanderson.

A resolution was passed that John Whitfield, Tax Collector for the current year, shall proceed and collect all dog taxes that appears on the tax roll; that he is instructed by the township of North Monaghan to take proceedings against owners who do not pay their dog taxes.

The municipality has received very large numbers of bills for what is claimed to be indigents' care from the hospitals. The Township Council is of the opinion that a large number of these cases could be treated at home, and that it is an injustice for the municipality to have to face so much charity in this way by these people being sent to the hospital by the doctors. The Reeve and the Deputy-Reeve have appointed a committee to take proceedings to collect the hospital accounts paid some time ago by the municipality and which the Township Council thinks they should collect from the parties contracting the same.

A Wood Account.

The Township Treasurer was authorized to open up a special wood account for all wood cut and handled by the township during the past year, and that all money received by those in charge be turned over to the Treasurer to be put to the credit of the said special wood account.

Bills Passed.

The following bills were passed and ordered to be paid:

J. W. Fitzgerald, inspection and report re drainage, $5; Daniel Mahoney, repairing sidewalks, $112.67; Jordan Brothers, floral design, $10; W. J. Byers, charity, Mrs. Woodcock, $37.41; W. J. Byers, groceries, charity account, $28.02; W. J. Fitzgerald, wood, charity, $9.

On motion of Messrs. Barnes and Lillico, the Clerk was instructed to notify the Road Commissioner for road division No. 5 to have the railing on Orphington road culvert replaced and the tiled culvert cleaned out.

The Clerk was instructed to prepare a bylaw authorizing the establishing of a suburban area commission for Browntown and Claraday districts, and that the Clerk advertise a public meeting, to be held at May's School House on Friday evening, next, November 24th, at 8 o'clock p.m. All those especially interested in improvements for the thickly populated district are asked by Reeve Rye to be present at this meeting.

The meeting then then adjourned, and the next statuary meeting will be on December 15, 1922, at 2 o'clock p.m., at the Court House, Peterborough.

CROP REPORT

Following is a summary of reports made by the Agricultural Representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

The unusually open fall weather has enabled farmers to plow a larger acreage than ordinarily, and also to do much more general farm work than usual. This, with the generous supply of fodder on hand, has to some extent offset the discouragement caused by decreased prices for farm products.

Fall wheat on the whole is looking well, although some reports of injury by Hessian fly is reported the most serious reports coming from Middlesex and the southern townships of Huron.

Kent says that but very little of this year's corn has yet been marketed. Corn on the cob is selling at 65c a cwt.

The threshing of beans is still under way. Elgin reports the yield at 20 bushels to the acre, and the quality good. Prices in that county and in Kent are around $2 a bushel.

Most of the farmers in Huron will feed all their turnips rather than take the offers of 8c to 10c a bushel that are being offered by shippers.

Kenora reports that alsike is yielding about nine bushels of seed to the acre, and is a first-class sample. Red clover is not so good in quality, and is yielding only about four bushels an acre, owing to a touch of frost in June.

Ontario farmers have not lost the old-time community spirit. The Lambton Representative says: "I noticed on Thursday morning a plowing bee in which there were nineteen teams plowing on the one farm. The man on whose farm the bee was held had been ill for some time."

Frontenac states that the marketing of live stock is made up chiefly of lambs, hogs, canners and store cattle.

Hogs are getting closer attention than for a year or two. Brood sows of bacon type are showing good values and little pigs are selling in Peel for from $10 to $14 a pair, and in Lennox & Addington at from $10 to $18 a pair. Bruce says: "According to Mr. Gavin Barbour of Ingersoll, 80 per cent. of the hogs marketed from Port Elgin recently would have graded selects had they been marketed earlier. As they were graded per cent. selects, the balance were thick smooths and the rest heavies."

Waterloo reports: "During the past two weeks a large number of feeders have been put in the stables of this county. Probably more feeding cattle have been put in this year than for some years back.

Huron claims that more cattle are going into that county than are being sent out.

York states: "Holstein cows and heifers which had been purchased on an average of $500 two or three years ago, averaged $100 apiece. These cows were of a good type and had good records. A seven-year-old Clydesdale mare sold for $130. A team of good working horses in good condition sold for $85."

Grey says: "One feeder and drover whom I visited recently had 52 head of cattle, none of which weighed less than 1,000 lbs., and all of them less than two years of age. He feeds the best bred stock himself. Others purchased are disposed of to less experienced feeders. It is an object lesson in the value of the use of purebred sires."

Bruce reports: "Sheep raisers are being well satisfied as a rule with the returns from sales through the Co-operative Wool Growers' organization, whose prices were from 18c to 20c a lb. for wool, compared with from 11c to 14c offered by others.

Leeds points out that a number of farmers are making from $11 to $15 per day teaming stone on the Provincial roads and are tempted to let farm work slide while prices are so low for farm produce.

HIGHWAY POLICY OF HON. BIGGS MAY WRECK DRURY GOVERNMENT

Reeve Fred. A. Eason of Otonabee Predicts That Minister's Programme of Construction Will Be Terminated By His Defeat in Next Election if Continued — Ontario's Needs Paramount and Not Tourists.

ROAD TO BURLEIGH.

The expansive policy of the Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Highways, unless checked or moderated, would be the downfall of the Drury Government, predicted Reeve F. A. Eason of Otonabee in a vehement criticism at Tuesday afternoon's session of the County Council, of the Minister who is the guest of Peterboro city and county today. His censure was evoked by the argument of a deputation to the effect that the Hon. Mr. Mills had decided to build a provincial highway from the lake front north to Algonquin Park and that its course would be laid through either Lindsay or Belleville and Foxboro if not through Peterboro. Hence it was contended by L. Fraser, speaking for the deputation, that Peterboro county should avail itself of this opportunity by urging upon the Minister his final choice of the local route by way of Burleigh Falls and Bancroft.

At the reiteration of the announcement that the Hon. Mr. Biggs was determined to build a provincial highway through central Ontario which, if designated through this city, would cost approximately $350,000 for the 26 miles from Peterboro to Burleigh Falls, Reeve Eason flared up with a rapid fire, ringing speech that was the feature of the opening session of the Council.

Speaks As "U.F.O."

Mr. Eason said that he had been very strongly attached to the U.F.O. Government and he was yet, but he was under the impression that the Minister of Highways was being led by the Automobile Association. Not two percent of the citizens of Peterboro would be able to use the proposed highway but the other 98 per cent. would have to pay for it just the same.

"We hear Mr. Biggs talk of getting produce to markets cheaper by good roads" said Mr. Eason, "but where under the sun are there enough products from Burleigh Falls and beyond. If the county of Peterboro wants to spend money for roads let it spend the money where it will yield the greatest results."

Otonabee's Reeve said that provincial elections were coming, "and Mr. Biggs will never see the back of his neck."

Plain-Spoken.

"I believe in speaking plainly" said Mr. Eason, and he added that the elections might decide whether the Minister of Highways would carry out the provincial highways he was determined to build. The ninety-eight percent of the people had ballots and could mark them. Affairs has reached the point where expenditures and taxes had to be carefully considered, and "we've got to build up this country for Ontario first and not for American tourists."

The deputation introduced by Mr. Tooms, M.L.A., was comprised of G. A. Gillespie, Thomas Barrie, C. E. Smith, R. B. Rogers, Wm. Thompson of Mount Julian, Felix Brownscombe of the Stoney Lake Cottagers' Association, Harry Beal of the Karwartha Park Association and Leonard Fraser of the Motor League and Chamber of Commerce.

Councillors Opposed.

Mr. Eason's strictures were preceded by Warden Strickland's declaration that he was not in favor of a Provincial Highway to Burleigh Falls. Most of the traffic, he believed would be only local, and the Warden felt that Mr. Biggs would not recommend a highway through this district.

"We want a road through here and a good one" he said "but not a Provincial Highway."

"We're going to keep away from a Provincial Highway as long as we can" was the blunt observation of Deputy-reeve W. A. Anderson of Otonabee.

Mr. Fraser pointed out that Peterboro county was not receiving a commensurate share of provincial highway mileage, and one retort was that Peterboro had all the provincial highway it wanted, and other counties were burdened with these highways.

Alternative Routes.

In a written explanation of the project Mr. Fraser said that the alternative routes for the extension to Algonquin Park were:—(1) From Belleville by way of Foxboro and Bancroft; (2) from Lindsay by way of Bobcaygeon; (3) from Peterboro by way of Burleigh Falls, Apsley, Cheddar and Bancroft. If the last course were finally designated the link to Burleigh Falls, would be constructed first, and the extension to Algonquin Park would be made later.

Of the estimated cost of $350,000 for this part of the highway 80 percent of $280,000 would be borne by the province, 20 percent of five miles or $7,200 would be paid by the city, and the remaining 20 percent, $62,800, by the county. This sum could be met in one year by a rate 6.8 mills, and in five years by 1.36 mills. A farm assessed at $2,000 would be taxed $2.72 under the five year plan.

Automobile license fees in 1821 from Peterboro county amounted to $17,871 for 1283 cars, and from the city $14,080 for 1064 cars.

Fowl Supper Was a Big Success—Motor Car Collision—News of Interest—Car Stolen.

CAMPBELLFORD, Nov. 22. — The fowl supper given in the Methodist Church last evening was from every standpoint an unqualified success. The ladies had every detail carefully arranged, and with tables that fairly groaned beneath their loads of appetizing viands, they catered in royal manner to the 600 or more persons who were in attendance, and, like the five barley loaves and two fishes of Bible story, their supply seemed inexhaustible, and they decided to give the Sunday School children a supper tonight at 5 o'clock. After satisfying the inner man, an intellectual feast lay in store for those present. Rev. H. B. Kenny, in his usual gracious manner, acted as chairman, and introduced the speaker of the evening, Revd Harold Young, M.A., B.D., of George Street Methodist Church, Peterborough, delighted his hearers with his excellent address, which was thoroughly permeated with ready wit and humor. Rev. Mr. Young carried his audience in rapt attention as he based his address on the writing of the American author, Therrow, "In My Cabin at Waldron Farm." I have three chairs, one for solitude, two for friendship and three for the crowds. The speaker emphasized the fact that a time for solitude is essential, if we would reach our best in life, and referred to these times of solitude in the lives of Jesus Christ, Paul, Martin Luther and Joan of Arc. Friendship and friends are necessary if one would get the best out of life, the friends in the home circle and friends outside, referring in this connection to Browning.

The chair for the crowds is also necessary in our lives, for by mingling with our fellows, doing the kindly act here and there, we gain a reward and a joy, nought else can afford.

Rev. Mr. Young is a young man of brilliant attainments, coupled with a saving sense of humor, and should he again return to Campbellford, he will receive a hearty welcome as an entertainer.

A couple of musical selections were well rendered by the choir under the capable leadership of Mr. R. T. Cowell, A.R.C.O., who also led the band as they played softly during the supper hour. Mrs. A. L. Malcolm and Dr. Lillian Young rendered a vocal duet, which was much enjoyed, as was also the vocal duet by Mesdames C. W. Turner and Edward Bates. Rev. Robert Fry, of Burnbrae, rendered a solo in his usual pleasing tenor voice, and being heartily applauded, replied by an equally charming encore.

It is expected that the proceeds of the supper and the thankoffering on Sunday will be much in excess of the $1,000 asked for the Board.

Motor Car Collision.

A large closed Sedan collided with Wm. Abernethy's truck near the bridge about 5 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. Fortunately, neither of the drivers were hurt, but, strange to say, the truck got quite a dint. The Sedan was owned by a Toronto party, who promptly settled for the damage.

REMARKABLE LETTER

Canadian Woman Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winnipeg, Manitoba.—"I can not speak too highly of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was a nervous wreck and I just had to force myself to do my work. Life was a misery and work was a burden. Even the sound of my own children playing made me feel as if I must scream if they did not get away from me. I could not even speak right to my husband. The doctor said that he could do nothing for me owing to my condition, but told me to expect another miscarriage. My husband's grandmother advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I started it right away and everyone noticed what a different woman I was in a short time. I went and engaged my doctor and he did not know me, I was so well. I was able to do my work once more and it was a pleasure, not a burden. Now I have a 'fine bouncing baby' to use the doctor's own words. I am able to nurse her and enjoy doing my work. I can not help recommending such a medicine, and anyone seeing me before I took it and seeing me now, can see what it has done for me. It can do the same for anyone in my condition. I am only too pleased for you to use my testimonial."—Mrs. Emily Davis, 721 McGee St., Winnipeg, Manitoba.

CHICKEN THIEF IN AND AROUND OMEMEE.

One Farmer Got More For His Chickens Than Prevailing Market Price.

OMEMEE, Nov. 22. —Whether the chicken thief, who has been visiting this neighborhood for some time, has been located or not, remains yet to be found out. At any rate, a farmer in this neighborhood had a number stolen in daylight. While he and his wife were absent, a dealer from Lindsay drove to his farm and after having made inquiry for the parent, told the children he had bought some chickens and proceeded to load up his rig. When the owner returned home he was amazed at such a story and early the following morning, drove to Lindsay, where, after much deliberation on the part of the dealer's wife, he located his fowl in the back yard. The farmer was well paid, the bill having been made up at 15c. per lb., was rapidly increased to 28c. per lb. in order to save further trouble.

TWO OMEMEE MEN WERE BURNED BY EXPLOSION.

Soldering Compound Exploded With Disastrous Results — Struck in the Face.

OMEMEE, Nov. 22.—Messrs. B Courtney and William Irwin, owners of a garage here, are badly disfigured as a result of an explosion which took place on Saturday. While at work babbitting the boxes for the shaft at the new elevator, the compound used in soldering exploded, just after it had been placed in the boxes, and struck both men in the face. Fortunately each managed to close his eyes, or their injuries would have been more serious, as the mixture was boiling hot, although Mr. Irwin is minus his eyelashes as a result of an operation to get the metal off.

THE FIRST SKATING FATALITY OF SEASON.

Lloyd Meyers Went Through Ice on Gilles Lake, Timmins—Companion Was Rescued.

TIMMINS, Nov. 22.— Canadian Press.)—The first skating fatality of the 1922 season in the Porcupine district occurred Monday night at Gillies Lake, near here, when Lloyd Meyers, an employee of Mirkyre Mines mill, was drowned. Near the victim was Miss Vivienne Thereault, of Schumacher, who was with Meyers when he went through the ice. She was rescued by George Field of the Hollinger Mines.

The accident occurred when the couple skated to the edge of broken ice on the lake. The ice broke under them and both were precipitated into the water.

REMARKABLE MOOSE STORY FROM NORTH.

Two Bull Moose Charge and Give Chase to Lonely Hunter in Canoe.

UNO PARK, Timiskaming, Nov. 22.—(Canadian Press).— A remarkable moose story has reached here from the north, and coming from a reliable source, it is considered correct.

Dave Duke, a well known prospector, while engaged with his comrades in developing some claims, went down the lake, in his canoe. Rounding a point he came suddenly in sight of two large bull moose engaged in combat. Duke paddled in quite close to see the scrap and sounded his usual coughing grunt challenge. To his consternation both warriors turned in rage and charged through the shallow water for the canoe. Unarmed, Duke dug for open water with all speed. One of the bulls immediately gave up the chase, but the other came driving on. When almost overtaken, Duke managed to seize the moose by the hair over the hips and hung on for dear life over the bow. With the moose plunging, Duke thought of his knife, and opening it with his teeth plunged its full length into the animal's back several times, finally connecting directly with the spine and rendering the brute paralyzed.

DROPPED DEAD AT MILLBROOK

John Richards Collapsed While Sitting by the Stove.

MILLBROOK, Nov. 22.—When seated by the stove in the office of the Millbrook and Omemee Mirror, of which his brother, C. W. Richards, is editor and proprietor, John Richards fell to the floor unconscious yesterday at the noon hour, and on Dr. A. H. Turner being summoned, life was found to be extinct. The cause of death is given as heart failure.

Deceased, who was a painter and decorator by trade, had been working all morning at A. A. Smith's law office, King Street, apparently in his usual health. He went to his dinner at noon, and on returning to work, dropped into the Mirror office, where death overtook him at about one o'clock. There was no one in the office at the time but John Beatty, a printer, who, on seeing Richards collapse, hurried called the unfortunate man's brother and nephew, C. W. and Edward Richards, respectively.

The late John Richards was between 50 and 60 years of age, and, being a bachelor, had lived alone since his mother's demise some years ago. His immediate survivors are Charles W., of Omemee, and two sisters, Mrs. Geo. McKim, of Peterborough, and Mrs. William Smithson, of Port Colborne.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

LIT MATCH NEAR THE SUPPLY OF GASOLINE.

An Accident in Omemee Instead of a Funeral — Lady's Coat Caught Fire.

OMEMEE, Nov. 22.—A man from Lindsay probably learned a lesson recently in Omemee, having nearly lost his car by lighting a match to see how much gasoline the tank contained, in front of Mr. W. D. Stinson's gas pump. The fumes caught on fire and were rapidly ascending the pipe, also the young lady who was with him had her coat on fire, and had to crawl out over the door through the side curtains in order to escape. Luckily, Mr. Albert Ford rushed across with his small chemical extinguisher, and soon the blaze, which might have been disastrous, was put out.

a large majority, despite the fact that Mr. Lloyd-George made a special journey to that constituency to speak against him and his war record, which the former Premier declared unfitted him for Parliament.

Mr. Clynes, in an interview, while deprecating the action of the Scottish members, professed his hearty dislike for Party quarrels, and declared his intention loyally to co-operate with Mr. Macdonald for the advantage of the whole Party.

In selecting James Ramsay Macdonald as its Parliamentary leader, the British Labour Party has picked a man from the more radical elements of its make-up, and one who in the past has taken an aggressive stand in pushing Labour's interests.

Macdonald is one of the picturesque figures in the Labour leadership. He is a man of much education, widely read, and himself a writer of reputation on political and economic subjects. As a debater he has the faculty for caustic and telling utterance, with what might be called a pugnacious disposition in political affairs and a readiness in repartee.

In his views Macdonald has been a Socialist of a rather extreme type, but not of Communist tendencies. For years he was a leader of the Independent Labour Party Group, the more radical wing of the Labour elements in opposition to the main faction led by Arthur Henderson and John R. Clynes. He started his political career as a member of the London County Council and in 1906 was elected to Parliament, serving continuously, including the war period, until 1918, when he was defeated in the general elections.

By kind permission of Col. A. W. McPherson, officer commanding the Peterboro Rangers the Sergeants of the battalion held a very successful social and at home in their quarters at the Armouries Monday night Cards and dancing were the order of the evening.

Miss Florence Muir gave a very fine exhibition of Scotch dances, including the Highland Fling and the sword dance. Miss A. Logan also gave a fine exhibition of an Irish jig and sailor's hornpipe. Both young ladies were greeted with hearty applause. T. Markham, the well-known comedian, delighted the gathering with several of his comic songs R. Fenton, a new comer to the city, also rendered a pleasing solo. Vice-President Sergeant Morall sang a very fine solo which delighted and surprised everybody especially so because nobody knew that he could sing.

The Sergeants wish to thank all those who contributed to the success of the evening and hope to spend other similar happy occasions in the near future.

POST OFFICE NOTES FOR CHRISTMAS MAIL

It is desired, that at the coming Christmas season the public should discontinue as far as possible the use of small cards and envelopes for the following reasons:—

As the result of the small size of the cards or envelopes, the Post Office cancellation mark frequently falls on the address, with the possability that the articles may be misdelivered or at least delayed. There is also difficulty in the Post Office cancellation mark frequently velopes of them passing through the stamp cancelling machine and falling out of the bundles of letters in which they are tied. Responsibility for loss misdelivery or delay as outlined above, arising from the use of small cards or envelopes rests entirely with the sender.

The Public are again urged to place their name and address on all mail matter before posting.

"I took very sick with my nerves and stomach, and seemed to be all run down. At times my heart would flutter and palpitate so and I would take such weak spells in the pit of my stomach that I sometimes thought I would never get better. I had almost given up hope when a friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I did not stop until I had taken twenty-five boxes. It has done wonders for me and I want to recommend it to everyone."

MARRIED WOMEN FIGHT TO RETAIN THEIR POSITIONS.

Teachers in English Public Schools Bitterly Resent Being Discharged.

LONDON, Nov. 22—(Associated Press).—The fight against married women acting as school teachers in the public schools of England, which has been going on for some time reached a climax when sixty-four married women teachers were discharged from their duties in one of the London suburbs.

During the war married women were practically the only persons available for teaching and since then they kept their jobs despite the efforts of many veterans associations to have them expelled in order to allow ex-service men and nurses to resume their positions.

An attempt was made recently to exclude married women from teaching in the schools of Middlesex County but they were able to take the case to Chancery Court, asking for an injunction against the school authorities. The case still is pending Efforts to have the married women excluded from the schools under the jurisdiction of the London County Council, however, have failed, and the Council has refused to pass a motion to this effect

TELEPHONES MAKE FARM LIFE MORE ATTRAACTIVE.

"To plough and sow, reap and mow," still covers the English farmer's boy's outlook on life. Uulike his Canadian brother, he has not developed the telephone habit. A recent report shows a small total of 4,400 telephones in the rural districts of Great Britain.

In the province of Ontario and Quebec alone, there are some 38,000 farms connected by telephone.

A recent study of the value of the telephone to the farmer disclosed that for an average cost of $2.30 the farmer enjoyed a service valued at $15.00 in time saving alone.

Apart altogether from the practical economy of a telephone to the farmer, its influence on the social life of the farming community is large factor in making farming an attractive occupation.

Apparent here, more than anywhere else, perhaps, is the significance of the remark, that the telephone has made neighbours of millions.

BANK MONTREAL MAKES REASSURING STATEMENT

Total Assets Amount to $713,569,566.—Liquid Assets Are Equal to 64.09 Per Cent. and Cash on Hand to 19.10 Per Cent. of Liabilities to Public—Total Deposits Now in Excess of $600,000,000.

The annual statement of the Bank of Montreal makes its appearance at a time when it can be of the greatest benefit to the country. At the moment Canada is obtaining the advantage of a bumper wheat crop in the Western Provinces. Then, again, the steady manner in which the Canadian dollar has reached better than par on the basis of American exchange indicates that the trade position of the Dominion has righted itself.

The position reported by the leading bank cannot but reflect the soundness of the country's banking position. Of perhaps greatest importance is that with its very ample assets the Bank of Montreal has been able to adequately meet the demands of industry and commerce and at the same time keep its liquid assets at a ratio of 64.09 per cent. of liabilities to the public.

At the end of the fiscal year to October 31st, total assets amounted to $713,569,566, and of this amount liquid assets were $417,819,493. Included in this, cash on hand amounts to $124,538,190, of which $47,244,865 is in gold and silver coin. Cash holdings alone were equivalent to 19.10 per cent. of public liabilities. In addition the balances due by other banks and call loans stand at $189,182,247.

Deposits bearing interest now reach a total of $440,870,730, while deposits not bearing interest stand at $164,747,019, bringing the total deposits up to $605,617,749.

During the year both the capital and rest account have been brought up to $27,250,000.

The profit and loss account reflects the larger business now being handled throughout the Dominion. Profits for the year amounted to $4,756,668. These permitted of the payment of the usual dividend and bonus to shareholders. After these payments and making provision for Dominion taxes, reservation for bank premises, etc., the balance carried forward amounted to $558,815.

PUBLIC MEETING IN MONTREAL RUNS WILD.

Utterances of Seditious Nature Marks Meeting of the City Council

MONTREAL, November 22. Canadian Press. — Public meetings, in which utterances of seditious nature were made, marked the meeting of the city council here yesterday, and the question of amending the bylaw to deal with such gatherings, was left for the special committee to decide.

Alderman Trepanier denounced the toleration in Montreal of semi-revolutionary groups which were permitted to parade in front of Catholic churches and in front of the University of Montreal. France, he said, would not tolerate the flying of the Soviet flag, as it was a revolutionary emblem. These people who came from Europe, were not in sympathy with British ideals, and they were trying to arouse feelings of enmity.

He uttered a strong warning to the effect that if they paraded in front of the University of Montreal next year they would get something more than an academic reception.

Alderman Jacobs advised prudent deliberation before taking action and Ald. Vaillancourt said the council should not do anything that would interfere with free speech.

OMEMEE BAZAAR A HUGE SUCCESS

Held Under Auspices of Presbyterian Church—Athletic Association Met.

OMEMEE, Nov. 22.—The Ladies' Aid and Mission Band of the Presbyterian Church held a most successful bazaar in the basement of the church on Thursday afternoon and evening. Before the appointed hour of four o'clock, a number of ladies gathered to view the fancy and useful articles of all sorts for sale at the different booths. As one entered the basement, which was gaily decorated, the fancy work booth was the first to behold, being decorated in red and green, with cedar boughs making a charming setting for the Christmas gifts. At one end, a stork was standing holding a celluloid baby, and many articles of wearing apparel for the tiny one. Mrs. S. J. Mackey, Mrs. B. Courtney and Mrs. L. A. Mahood were in charge, and did a thriving business until all the articles were disposed of.

Next came the booth called "Mother's Market Basket," where Mrs. E. H. Mitchell, Mrs. F. G. Sandy and Mrs. L. Windrim did a flourishing business in home-made baking, such as mother's bread and buns, cookies, cake, pies and cream puffs, chickens, dairy butter, cream, etc.

Right next door was situated the candy booth, in charge of Mrs. H. Lamb, and, needless to say, contained many varieties of home-made delicacies for the sweet tooth.

The fish pond was next in line, and was the centre of attraction for the younger folk, Miss Rhea Courtney being the supervisor, assisted by the smaller members of the Mission Band.

Afternoon tea was served from the small tables arranged artistically in the centre of the room, each holding a tiny vase of chrysanthemums and dainty menu cards. Mrs. D. Deyell, Mrs. A. R. Younie and Mrs. M. Parsons were in the tea-room, and were ably assisted by the older girls in the Mission Band, who served the following menu: Cream of tomato soup, pie, cake, sandwiches, and tea.

The amount of money realized was about $86, which is to be applied on the piano fund.

Athletes Meet.

A meeting of the Athletic Association was held on Monday evening in the Council Chamber, when a number of business items were discussed. Now that the new well is in good working order, it was decided to buy an electric pump for flooding. Since last season between forty and fifty dollars has been spent on levelling the ground, so that everything will be in readiness for a good sheet of ice when the season opens.

GERMAN PERIL STILL WITH US

Bishop Fallon Addressed Large Audience in Toronto Last Evening.

TORONTO, Nov. 22. — A dark and forbidding picture of the state of affairs in Europe, with the German menace undestroyed, with German influence behind destinies of Russia, with ferment in the Balkans and hate and discord in disrupted Austro-Hungarian Empire, was painted by Right Rev. M. F. Fallon, D.D., Roman Catholic Bishop of London, Ont., addressing a large audience here last night. The Bishop hinted at the dark and sinister influences and "hidden hands" which had been responsible for the state of affairs now existing, which, he said, would move inevitably and lead to further strife. The one bright spot in Europe to-day was Ireland. "The thing we fought against eight years ago," said the Bishop in discussing Germany, 'appears to be as powerful now as then, and back of it all is the hand of Germany over the whole Russian people, controlling them with completeness that could not be excelled. That is what we have done with the German peril." Regarding Ireland he said it must be remembered that for more than a hundred years the people of that country had been deprived of every vestige of self government. Was it quite a fair proposition to hand them over the entire control of reins of government and expect everything to proceed smoothly? In history of Britain there was spot after spot which could be described as almost nation-wide revolution. Ireland must be given time and a chance to establish herself.

NORTHERN ONTARIO

By T. TOOMS.

Not until one gets on the train and travels day and night can one form any adequate idea of the vastness of this Canada of ours, the Province of Ontario alone being three and a quarter times the size of Great Britain. We travel for a period of time through old Ontario, passing the most modern and up-to-date cities and towns, with the rythm of industry sounding in our ears, the electric street cars running to the different centres, to pass on to modern farm lands and beautiful rural scenery, only to emerge into a country of natural beauty in forests, lakes and rivers, all awaiting the pioneer woodsman and the axe. Interspersed is the rocky country, showing almost everywhere veins of mineral ore awaiting the prospector and the miner. Dotted miles apart are small hamlets of log huts where some settlers, more sturdy than lots of us, have given up the more modern comforts to try and make a homestead for themselves, which to the uninitiated would seem an almost impossible task, with no roads leading to any place—just a blazed trail. But today there is the single track of steel running by within a few miles of the homestead. The railway track is the usual walk or ride to get anywhere; and yet these hardy people in the North usually make a success of their undertaking.

I would suggest to anyone who thinks the human race to be degenerating in stature to get on the C. N. Railway from Parry Sound to Hornpayne and study type of manhood that gets on and off the train. It would make some city people feel regular pigmies alongside these giants of the North Country—tall, broad shoulders, muscular, healthy, perhaps a little rough, but more mannerly and polite than might be expected from their hardy exterior.

Here and there along the line you will see lumber camps, consisting of wooden buildings for stables, blacksmith shop, office and bunkhouses wheer the lumberjacks eat and sleep, fitted up with kitchen and cook complete. The bunks of the modern camps are of steel and springs and mattress and are really comfortable. These company camps are often situated two and three miles apart and numbered camp No. 1, 2, 3 and so on, located near a river to which the logs are drawn in the winter and floated down to the lumber mill on the breaking up of the ice, where they are cut up into merchantable lumber. Around these lumber mills small towns soon grow. While people of all nationalities work in these camps, the French-Canadian seems to predominate and appears much more accustomed to the pioneer work.

After the heavier timber has been cut the second growth and lighter timber is considered, and often a pulp mill springs into being, which keeps the men employed. Most of the lighter growth is on the rocky land. I saw where this was being cut, and mining operations for the more precious metals taking place. Heavy hydraulic pumps were pumping water at high pressure over the rocks, which uprooted brush and small trees, carrying all before it, leaving the bare, clear, clean rock and showing the white and grey veins containing the metal. And so the country is first being opened up.

I found the pioneers very loyal to their district—in fact, most of them, wherever they were situated, would say: "This is the best spot in Ontario." Such healthy optimism on the part of these men speaks for itself.

I travelled during the hunting season, when the trains were full of men carrying firearms going off to the hunt, and some returning with moose, deer and partridge. I had the good fortune to meet some trappers, several of whom had married Indian women. They were kind and courteous and showed me how they worked, trapping beaver and all sorts of fur-bearing animals. Theirs is a very hard job, travelling along unchartered rivers and lakes all winter, covering from 24 to 30 miles each day, with the weather often registering 40 degrees below zero.

I found the Indians to be genial and entertaining. I saw their moose man call the moose by using a small shaped cardboard megaphone, and also by rapping a tree with an axe.

The Canadian people indeed have a great heritage and a great future. We should try and get a better understanding of our great possibilities and responsibilities. It seems to me that any money spent on Northern Ontario with judicious handling would be but an investment, not an expenditure. But volumes could be written on Northern Ontario alone.

IF BACK HURTS TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

EAT LESS MEAT IF KIDNEYS FEEL LIKE LEAD OR BLADDER BOTHERS.

Most folks forget that the kidneys like the bowels get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing ocasionally, else we would have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment that you feel an ache or a pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few mornings and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also helps neutralise the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

power when the system became established.

Gaby Opposes Flat Rate.

"Would this district not be a good one in which to try out the flat rate system," inquired Commissioner Harris.

"I do not think so. I think that it would lead to discrimination,' returned Mr. Gaby.

"More discrimination than exists now?" asked Mr. Harris in surprise.

"Yes," stated Mr. Gaby.

"I would like to see the flat rate system tried out, and I think that this would be an excellent place in which to do so," declared Mr. Harris, adding: "If it would work here, it would work anywhere."

Mr. Gaby agreed with this latter statement.

Just before the afternoon session opened, G. T. Clarkson, the Hydro auditor, appeared before the commission and asked to be heard in order to correct a misstatement appearing in the Nipigon report. He was told, however, that this report must be a closed book to the commissioners and that any statement which he might wish to make must be made as a public one to the press.

It is understood that Mr. Clarkson's complaint concerned the fact that the Nipigon report referred to only one statement which he had given of the Nipigon deficit, whereas he had filed six. The commissioners, however, referred only to the one in which he had compiled a minimum deficit, and made him appear remiss for not including other items which he had included in other statements.

MALE VOICE CHOIR HAD AN OUTING LAST NIGHT.

The Peterborough Male Voice Choir under the able leadership of Mr. Renwick, the well known organist and musical director, held a very interesting and pleasurable meeting last evening in the Sons of England Hall. After a little friendly chit-chat some particularly tuneful four-part songs for male voices were rehearsed. These were followed by a number of popular songs, solos and choruses, in which all present took part.

The entertainment committee then appeared on the scene and a very elegant little luncheon of coffee, sandwiches, pies, ice cream, cakes, etc., followed. The "eats" having been disposed of, a box of cigars was handed round the contents of which were fully appreciated by the considerable gathering present. Then followed a social hour enlivened by tales, anecdotes and songs, until the public clocks announced the hour of eleven. The proceedings were then terminated by the singing of "Rule Britannia", "O Canada", and of course the National Anthem, "God Save the King", and a vote of thanks to the entertainers.

This undenominational choir meets every Tuesday night at Messrs. Greene's Music rooms on Charlotte street, where they will welcome any new voices interested in this work. Last night's gathering was a special one, being, as I once heard a Scotsman express himself on a similar sort of an occasion "one extra to the bargain. Everybody thoroughly enjoyed himself; it was one of the most pleasant evenings the writer has experienced for a considerable time.—F. R.

LIFEBUOY INDICATES A TRAGEDY ON THE SEAS.

HALIFAX, N.S., Nov. 22.—(Canadian Press.)—Marine and fisheries deaprtment has received notification from Margaree, Cape Breton, that a life buoy marked "S. S. Tarborleta, Sarnia, Ontario," has been picked up on shore and the beach for miles is strewn with spool wood. While further information is lacking, this find is thought to indicate an accident at sea and possibly a tragedy.

SAYS FARMERS MUST STICK TO THE SHIP.

CALGARY, Nov. 22.— Canadian Press.)—R. W. Wood, President of the United Farmers of Alberta, addressing conference of U.F.A. secretaries yesterday, stated that if farmer movement remained true to natural laws, gates of Hades could not prevail against them. But on the other hand, if they failed to stand by these principles, no power on earth could save them.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

AN ASSURED SAVINGS PLAN OPENED IN CITY

Will Be Operated by the Provincial Government—Office on Water Street.

The assured savings plan of the Ontario Government is now under way locally, in charge of Mr. E. A. Walpole, who recently arrived from Toronto to take up the duties of district manager for Peterborough and vicinity. A temporary office has been opened at Water street, where deposits will be accepted under this plain, pending the opening of a regular branch of the Ontario Government savings office in the city. A definite announcement of the opening of this branch will be made later.

A Savings Plan.

The assured savings plan provides one means of systematic savings at 40 per cent. compound interest, combined with protection for dependents in case of death. Any person accepted under this plan may commence a system of small monthly deposits in the Province of Ontario savings office, with the object of accumulating any sum from $1,000 up in the next 120 months. From the first deposit the depositor is protected to the full amount of his objective in case of death, and at the end of the period may withdraw the total amount he started out to save, plus the cash surrender value of his insurance policy, and dividends for the ten year period. In case of financial difficulties the plan may be discontinued at any time after the first few months, without loss to the participant. In the event of death both the savings and insurance is paid to dependents.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of Examiner,—

MR. BURNHAM'S REPLY

A few nights ago the views of over a score of prominent citizens were laid before Mr. J. H. Burnham ex-M.P., for his consideration and to them Mr. Burnham has made the following written reply. These views referred to the Separate School question and the coming election He said that he thought as he fancied most people did that if the old parties put candidates in the field who gave satisfactory replies to questions, asked them there would be no justification for putting an independent in the running. We have had enough free-for-alls and of go-as-you-please in Canada, and he thought it time that people got back again on the rails. "You will ask me," said Mr. Burnham, "how I who fought against Prohibition can swallow all my charges against it (there isn't anything else to swallow), and can now propose to adopt it. The answer is easy. We are all compelled to yield to the will of the majority and that will has imposed Prohibition on good and bad alike; on the man who had no control over himself or did not wish to have and on the highest type of manhood, the man who can and does control himself. But it was claimed that unless all were prohibited the weak would not be and could not be hence as Byron says of Waterloo we were all "in one red burial blent." This principle is a new one. Never before in Ontario were the people whom preachers and others are constantly trying to make decent told that it was of no use after all and that they would have to get the hook. This principle applies of course to everything which the majority thinks should be prohibited without regard to any "rights" that they used to have. Inherent or natural rights are now a thing of the pas and that fact applies to Separate Schools of course and to all things Protestant as well. Whatever it may be, from church union to needs upon the wayside, is now under the will of the majority and Catholics supported this principle as well as Protestants. Father Minehan is championing it at the present moment and is billed to speak with Protestants in favour of it at Massey Hall next week. So we must bow to it and neither Catholics or Protestants can complain or will complain if we do to them what they did to us viz: disregard their rights. It is the golden rule. In Quebec both Catholics and Protestants refused to adopt the principle of Prohibition hence their case does not apply to us in Ontario at all. A thing used to be right whether we wanted it or not. Now it's right if we want it and wrong if we don't. This is very far-reaching. But we must have principles. We couldn't admit that we are a people wholly without principle. Hence like others I have bowed to the inevitable, but I cannot say that I am prepared to go into a political campaign over it."

J. H. Burnham.

ACCUSES FREE STATE PURSUING A REBELLION.

DUBLIN, Nov. 22. — (Canadian Press.) — Republican proclamation issued to-day accuses Free State government of "pursuing rebellion against the republic." "It is decreed by the government of the republic," says the statement, "that all British courts purporting to exercise jurisdiction within the territory of the republic are hereby suppressed." It further states that any one taking part in such courts will be deemed an enemy to the republic.

TONNAGE OF OIL-BURNING VESSELS.

Marked Increase Shown For This Class of Merchantman.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(Associated Press.)—The total tonnage of merchant vessels afloat at the end of June, 1922, holding the classification of Lloyds Register, exceeded 27,000,000 tons, the highest figure ever recorded, according to the annual report of "Lloyds Register of Shipping." To these figures should be added 296 vessels of 1,524,913 tons under the heading of "class contemplated," which brings the aggregate to 16,325 vessels of 28,750,000 tons. On the first total 5,878 vessels of 13,724,562 tons are British, and 4,151 of 13,506,567 tons belong to other countries.

It is stated that disturbed political and economic conditions, disorganization of exchanges, and stagnation of international trade, provide adequate explanation for the continued falling off in ship building.

Vessels of all types of construction intended for bulk oil carrying, and built in the last 12 months, amounted to 114 of 602,309 tons. The progresive demand for oil carrying vessels is shown by the fact that the registered tonnage of these vessels has increased from 1,475,088 tons in July, 1914, to 3,062,699 tons in July, 1922.

Some 200 vessels of 1,395,920 tons were fitted for burning oil fuel during the year, and whereas in July, 1914 the vessels so fitted totalled 1,310,209 tons, the figures for July, 1922 were 14,464,162 tons.

The continued development of the use of internal combustion engine is commented on. In July, 1914, there were 297 motor vessels of 234,287 tons, while in July, 1922, there were 1070 vessels of 1,542,160 tons, including 66 of over 6,000 tons.

PROPER STEERING GRIP

When driving at a high rate of speed grasp the steering wheel in such a way that the fingers of at least one hand straddle a spoke. This is the safest position in case of a front wheel blow-out or an unforseen hole in the road, since the wheel is much less likely to slip out of the driver's hands.

EXCHANGE DEFENDED.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(Associated Press)—Lecturing at the School of Oriental Studies, Professor H. S. Foxwell defended the Stock Exchange from a charge brought by many people that it was little better than a gambling hell.

He said it was difficult to conceive anything more opposed to gambling thatn the speculations carried on the Stock Exchange. Gambling was based on ignorance, he said but speculation was based on intelligence.

What Men Admire Most in Women Is Perfect Health —the Sign of Strength

Barrie, Ont.—"I was suffering from a rundown system some time ago, was unfit to perform my daily duties, and was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Mothers, Advice for You!

London, Ont.—"I wish I could tell all the women in the world who suffer with woman's trouble, what a wonderful medicine Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is. My earliest experience with it was during my first expectancy. I became dropsical and my people were quite alarmed about my condition. The doctor's medicine did not seem to reach my trouble at all so my husband urged me to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and to please him I did Before I had finished the second bottle the distress and dropsy left me and I felt in absolutely perfect health I had no further trouble from that time on. I afterwards took Favorite Prescription whenever in a nervous rundown condition and it always strengthened and built me up."—Mrs. Lily Stoddart, 433 Ontario St.

A PRESENTATION TO MR. AND MRS. PERRY

St. Luke's Congregation Give Handsome Clock to Warden and His Bride.

On Monday evening the congregation of St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham, presented Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Perry, who were recently married, with a handsome mahogany clock with chimes. Mr. Perry has been a church warden for a number of years and has discharged the duties very creditably and satisfactorily.

The rector and Mr. T. H. Adams, the other church warden, called on Mr. and Mrs. Perry at their home, 454 Mark street, and on behalf of the parish, read the following address and made the presentation:

"Dear Mr. and Mrs. Perry,—

"The people of St. Luke's parish desire to take this opportunity of expressing their sincere wishes for your happiness during your married life.

"Mr. Perry, you have greatly won our esteem, not only as a man of sterling character, but also as one who has painstakingly and acceptably discharged the duties of the office of a church warden for a number of years.

"Mrs. Perry, we have not had the pleasure of knowing you very long, not as intimately as your husband Nevertheless you have won a place of deep regard amongst us. This we feel confident will increase as we get to know you better. Your marriage gives us this opportunity, and we welcome you very heartily into our parish. We hope you will find our services and the life of our parish a source of happiness and spiritual strength.

"As an expression of our good wishes for both we hope you will accept this token of the same, and as it chimes out the hours may you often be reminded of the many well-wishers in St. Luke's.

"Signed on behalf of the parish—Geo. J. Bousfield, rector; T. H. Adams, rector's warden."

Mr. Perry and his wife were quite taken by surprise. The former in a few well-chosen words asked the rector and Mr. Adams to heartily thank the congregation for them, and to say that a clock was something they needed.

The Hard Luck Love Tangles of the Soft-Drink Millionaires

Asa G. Candler, Who Said He Was Asked to Pay $500,000 as "the Price of Silence."

Georgia Society Gasped When Ex-Mayor Candler Accused Charming Margaret Hirsch of Attempted Blackmail, and Now Another Beauty Is Asking for $100,000 Damages From His Son.

Mrs. Onezima de Bouchelle, Beautiful New Orleans Divorcee, Reported Engaged to Asa G. Candler, Aged 71.

Mrs. Clyde K. Byfield's Suit Against Walter Candler Came as the Sequel to a Champagne Party.

The Thirty-Day Promissory Note for $20,500, Payable to Clyde K. Byfield and Signed "Walter F. Candler," Which the Latter Claims Was Obtained Under Duress.

Mrs. Walter Candler Driving One of the Candler Thoroughbreds on the Candlers' Private Racetrack.

Walter Candler, Whose Trouble With the Byfields Followed the Mid-Ocean Champagne Party.

Asa G. Candler's Million Dollar Home at Druid Hills.

WHAT a hard-luck tangle for a soft-drink Croesus and his millionaire son!

Asa G. Candler, of Atlanta, was rounding out his career as the richest man in the South, pillar of the church, "father" of a great university, director of banks and corporations, builder of skyscrapers, mayor of his city, brother of a bishop and a judge, when——

Fizz-bang! His soda-water millions frothed into a shower of trouble. A pretty society woman, he charged, tried to "shake him down" for half a million. He got a court conviction against her. Another beauty, a divorcee, got engaged to him over the protests of his family. And to crown his troubles his son, Walter, accused a business man of blackmail and was sued for $100,000 by the business man's wife—daughter of a city detective—who said Walter attacked her after a champagne supper on an ocean liner!

And all this happened to Asa Candler when he was past sixty and had just retired from business after working hard from sunup to sundown all his life!

Asa Candler was one of three brothers who started life on a Georgia farm. Warren entered the ministry and became the South's leading Methodist bishop. John practised law and rose to be associate justice of the Georgia Supreme Court. Asa went to work in a drug store and got more money and fame than any of them.

He started his career washing bottles and rolling pills for $15 a month. Then he discovered a formula for a soft drink. It made him rich. He put up office buildings in New York, Baltimore and Atlanta. He gave $1,000,000 outright to Emory University. He founded the Central Bank and Trust Corporation. He contributed to churches, hospitals and causes galore. The South hailed him as its own Rockefeller. Atlanta insisted on electing him mayor. He finally quit work—after giving $5,000,000 apiece to his four sons—the most envied, honored and respected man in Dixie.

"I have labored hard all my life," announced Asa Candler. "I am due a holiday."

And how did this "holiday" begin?

With a sensational trial in which he charged Mrs. Margaret Hirsch and "Handsome Bill" Cook with attempted blackmail.

"Handsome Bill" was a sportsman and man-about-town who "hit the trail" at the Billy Sunday revival in Atlanta which Asa Candler was instrumental in financing. Mrs. Hirsch was a petite brunette who first met Mr. Candler while he was Mayor and she was a Red Cross worker.

That was during the war and many society women called on Mayor Candler in the interest of various "drives." Mrs. Hirsch was among them. Once she and the Mayor were photographed together in a Red Cross group at Atlanta's exclusive Capital City Club, and once she visited him at his private office in the Candler Building.

This is Mayor Candler's account of what happened there: "I asked Mrs. Hirsch what I could do for her, and she told me she wanted to see me about Red Cross business. She seemed nervous. Suddenly she said, 'Oh, Mr. Candler, there's a man at the window.' I turned around, but saw nobody. When I turned back again Mrs. Hirsch had thrown off her hat and coat and had disarranged her blouse. The next minute the door burst open and a man stood there. He said, 'This is nice! Our honorable mayor and a little society lady!'"

The man was "Handsome Bill" Cook. According to Mr. Candler, Cook and Mrs. Hirsch demanded $500,000 as the price of their silence. Instead of paying the money Mr. Candler had them arrested as alleged "badger game workers."

The jury exonerated Asa Candler of Mrs. Hirsch's sensational charges and convicted her of blackmail. She was fined $1,000 and sentenced to a year in State's prison. Sentence was suspended on condition she would leave Atlanta. She did. Cook, found guilty, drew a year's sentence, but forfeited his bond and "skipped."

As if this wasn't enough excitement for a retired millionaire, Fate sent him romance in the person of Mrs. Adolph Roquet, famous New Orleans beauty, descendant of an old French family and queen of Mardi Gras.

Mr. Candler met Mrs. Roquet at the Confederate reunion in Atlanta, which she attended as sponsor for the Louisiana Division of United Confederate Veterans. There were balls, receptions, pageants, and the wealthy Atlanta widower succumbed to the sparkling eyes of the Louisiana belle.

The world knew nothing of this love affair until telegrams from Reno, Nevada, announced that Mrs. Roquet had divorced her husband and resumed her former name of Mrs. Onezima de Bouchelle. Almost simultaneously Mr. Candler admitted that he and Mrs. de Bouchelle were engaged to be married.

Announcement of the engagement created a sensation in Atlanta, especially in church circles, for Bishop Candler has ever been outspoken in his denunciations of divorce, and Asa Candler was as staunch a lay figure in the church as his brother was among the clergy. It was common gossip along Peachtree street, the South's Broadway, that the Candler clan was protesting against its seventy-one-year-old chief wedding a divorcee.

"When will the wedding take place?" demanded the newspapers. "Is it true that the engagement has been called off?"

"No, indeed!" declared Mrs. de Bouchelle in Reno. "The wedding will take place in San Francisco in the Autumn."

"I am quite sure Mrs. de Bouchelle has been misquoted," said Mr. Candler in Atlanta. "The wedding has not been scheduled, nor has San Francisco been selected as the place for the wedding. Beyond this I do not care to comment."

While the newspapers were still trying to reconcile these contradictory statements, another sensational knot was tied in the Candler family tangle by Asa's favorite son, Walter.

Walter, a widower like his father, had married a Titian-haired teller in the Candler bank, Miss Marion Penland. He had two children by his first wife and a third child was born of this second marriage.

Walter became interested in race horses. Since Atlanta has no big racing meets Walter built a private race track of his own in fashionable Druid Hills and invested in an expensive stable. Lullwater track became the scene of many society fetes.

Clyde K. Byfield, manager of an automobile company in Atlanta, also was interested in race horses. He had married Sarah Gillespie, and, although she was the daughter of a city detective, she was pretty and vivacious and did not find it particularly difficult to "crash" Atlanta society, including the race-horse set led by Walter Candler and his wife.

Mrs. Byfield posed as a cigarette girl at one of the Lullwater fetes. She and her husband were invited to the Walter Candler home. They chummed together frequently. When Walter Candler decided to sail for Europe this Summer he offered to pay the expenses of Mr. and Mrs. Byfield if they would go along. Mrs. Byfield, he said, could look after the children, as Mrs. Candler was going to visit her parents in California.

The Byfields, Candler and the Candler children sailed on the same boat. They returned on different vessels. And scarcely had Candler reached Atlanta again when he filed suit against Clyde Byfield to stop him from collecting on a note for $20,500 Candler had signed!

Said Walter Candler in substance: "The Byfields held me up. There was a champagne party our last night on board going across. I was intoxicated and don't know exactly how it happened that I got in Mrs. Byfield's stateroom. Byfield crashed in the door and demanded $25,000. He hit me and I hit him. I was dazed and submitted to his demand. I gave him a check for $25,000. In Paris I took it back in exchange for $2,000 cash and a note for $20,500. It was blackmail."

"That's false!" replied Byfield. "The last night on board there was a champagne supper, but nobody was drunk. I heard Mrs. Byfield crying out from her stateroom. I rushed in to find her struggling with Candler. I did my best to kill him with my bare hands. Afterward he came to me of his own accord, cringing and cowardly, and offered me the money. I took it because I was afraid he would leave me stranded in Europe. The letter I signed exonerating him of misconduct was false."

While these charges and counter-charges were being hurled the report came from California that Mrs. Candler was on her way to Honolulu and would sue for divorce. Then she cabled that she would stand by her husband. To add to the mix-up, Mrs. Byfield sued Walter Candler for $100,000, claiming he injured her and bloodied her face. "If anybody bloodied her face," replied Candler, "it was her husband. He gave her a terrific beating."

Behind this maze of alleged blackmail, champagne parties, fights and rumored divorce actions looms the slight figure of Asa Candler, Walter's father. What, asks Atlanta, does he think of this scandal? Or is he too much occupied with his own engagement tangle to think? Will he marry the New Orleans divorcee in spite of his family? Is he happy with his millions?

NEW PLAYING RULE ADOPTED FOR AMATEURS

Goalkeeper May Stop Puck in Any Manner He Chooses But Must Not Throw It.

PRO. QUESTION UP.

PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 22.—At the executive meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, held here Monday, with President W. R. Sexsmith of Portage La Prairie in the chair, the biggest change made in the playing rules was that which will allow a goalkeeper to go on to his knees, lie down in the net, or stop the puck in any way he wishes, the only limitation being that after stopping it he must not throw it.

The Manitoba suggestion to revert to two thirty-minute peiods received little favor and was not adopted.

Substitutes in various branch games may number three. it was decided, but in Allan Cup games only two substitute players will be allowed.

Intermediate hockey teams were made eligible to compete for and hold the Allan Cup. This decision will cover cases such as the Ontario Hockey Association and Northern Hockey Association, which have been the subject of much discussion in the past.

Owing to special circumstances in the small towns of Alberta and British Columbia, the residence rule in these Provinces was advanced for this season, from August to October 15, to allow the teams to participate in the Allan Cup playdowns.

Admission of the Port Arthur and Fort William clubs to the Manitoba Hockey Association for one year was approved.

After a long discussion dealing with the question of Canadian players going to the United States, a resolution was passed by which players so doing will be barred from the C.A.H.A. for a further year, should they return to Canada.

Secretary Fred Marples of Winnipeg was appointed a permanent governor of the Board of Governors of the A.A.U. of C., and to be the delegation's representative at the annual meeting. Mr. Marples is appointed in place of Governor Noble.

Firm Stand on Pro. Question.

The old question of allowing professional players of one line of sport to compete as amateurs in another was brought before the meeting, and W. M. Van Valkenburg, representing Saskatchewan, moved a resolution that "a man who is a pro. in one line of sport may compete as an amateur in another." The resolution was the signal for a spirited discussion, in which delegates were permitted to express their sentiments and air their views. It is a matter that has been before the C.A.H.A. at other times, and also before the A.A.U. of C., but no action has ever been taken.

Claude Robinson, Winnipeg, representing the trustees of the Allan Cup, said:

"The whole foundation of the A.A.U. of C. is based on the one and only foundation—it will have nothing to do with a pro. in any shape or form—a professional player in any line of sport has no place in the A.A.U. of C."

W. A. Fry, O.H.A., Dunnville, "to all of which I may say, hear, hear."

The West's Opinion.

W. M. Van Valkenburg: "We have camouflaged amateur hockey in the C.A.H.A. today, and we all know it. Alberta has been forced into professional hockey by public opinion because the people would not stand for any more camouflaged amateur hockey players, and it is only a matter of time before we have the same condition all over the country."

D. N. Gill, Ottawa: "The definition of an amateur is a little too strict if it is lived up to."

Sheriff Paxton, Whitby: "If you adopt this resolution you might as well make the whole thing pro. and let it go at that."

W. A. Fry: "I hope the day will never come when we shall make it possible to go to our boys in the schools and colleges and tell them, as they develop in sports, to go in for the line of sport they can make the most out of."

President Sexsmith ruled the motion out of order as it did not come within the jurisdiction of the executive of the C.A.H.A.

CALEDONIANS WON FROM SERGEANTS.

The Caledonians had quite a gathering of the clans when they met the Sergeants in the opening number of the Soft Ball League schedule at the Armoury last evening. The Scotsmen were the winners with a braw score of 18 to 3. The Sergeants never looked dangerous at any time and the Caledonians romped around the bases as fast and as frequently as they pleased. After being retired in order in the fifth the only inning in which the failed to score the Calleys leaned on the willow in the sixth with a result that netted six runs. The Sergeants pulled a good piece of baseball in the seventh when a snappy double play cut off an almost certain run.

The players were:

Sergeants—Scott p, R. Mitchell c, Wood 1b, Hensby 2b, Calladine 3b, Kitchen ss, Dyer rf, Mitchell cf, Varity lf.

Caledonians —Ackford c, McMillan p, MacKenzie 1b, Burgess ss, French ss, Thomson 3b, Jackson 2b, Veitch lf, Anderson rf.

JACK BRITTON IS INSOMNIA VICTIM

Offers $10,000 to Anyone Who Will Cure Him — Gives Walker Every Credit.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Jack Britton will give $10,000 to anyone who will prescribe a remedy which will make him sleep.

Not only his failure in the ring, but his health, depends on getting rid of insomnia which has bothered him for over a year, the former world's welterweight champion declares.

After losing the decision to Mickey Walker, which deprived him of his title, Britton went up into the Maine woods, but he found little relief. He returned to the city of a while, and he is now back in the wilds again.

"It is nervous trouble and not due to any organic disorders," Britton says. "I have been training for 20 years, and I guess the strain was too much.

"I first noticed the symptons of insomnia a year ago last August when I me Walker the first time. I couldn't get in shape and had to postpone the first date. It came on me again when I was training for the Leonard fight and later when I was in Havana.

"By going to be about midnight and sleeping through late the next morning was the only way I could get any real hest and I got into the habit of remaining up late. When I started hard training, which necessitated an earlier retirement, I couldn't sleep at all until it was almost time to get up.

"I have refused to take medicine because I think the trouble is but a natural condition and I want to overcome it the same way if possible.

"While I have no particular designs on getting the championship again, I do think that I have a lot of boxing in me if I can get back to normal. If I can't I'll be forced to quit."

Britton, by the way, says that little Walker was not given the credit due him for winning the championship. "He's the best fighter I've ever met, and he'll surprise all those heavy lightweights who are figuring on having an easy time getting the title from him.

"They're wrong when they say anybody could have beaten me that night. I could have beaten anyone who tried to box me, but Walker fought me, and I don't know of anyone else in the class who would have done that," Britton said.

BOWMANVILLE TO HAVE GOOD TEAM

Will Have Two or Three Good Hockey Teams on the Ice This Season.

A hockey enthusiast from Bowmanville, W. J. Challis, stated that Bowmanville fans expect to see two or three fast teams on the ice this season.

Every year the little town on the lake front has good hockey, and every year the clash between Whitby, Oshawa, Port Hope and Cobourg is very keen. This season, owing to the good showing of the Bowmanville boys in baseball, they expect to go in and win the group honors in hockey.

Last year's players are still in the burg, and several new players, including Chambers and Mills of Lindsay.

Mr. Challis states that Bowmanville citizens back their teams right royally, and whether winning or losing the teams always receive good encouragement.

America's Greatest Athletic Stadiums Are Small Compared With England's Latest

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Figures never lie. These statistics will give you some idea of the size of London's great sport stadium and also explain why it has already cost a million dollars and then some.

The outside wall of the stadium is a half-mile round and apart from the main exhibition front it is composed of 37 arches, each 45 feet high, with a 50-foot span.

In building the entrance structures and the seating arena 1400 tons of structural work were used, 500,000 rivets, 600 tons of steel rods for reinforcing the concrete and 25,000 tons of concrete. Workmen did 40 miles of terracing and laid 14 miles of concrete beams to form the terracing in the stand; 150,00 tons of clay were dug up and redeposited to form part of the terracing.

In making the grass turf for the football ground inside the stadium 5½ inches of turfing soil were laid upon a 10-inch foundation of ashes and clinkers. The turves themselves numbered over 76,000, each measuring 18 by 12 inches and being over 2 inches thick. The turves were cut from turf that was centuries old so as to give the football grounds a smooth, velvety appearance.

By MILTON BRONNER.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—In America we are always building something that is the biggest in the world, but in the realm of sports our British cousins have us beat a block.

Following closely upon their completion at Wimbledon of the biggest and finest tennis grounds in the world the English are now pushing to competion at Wembley, another London suburb, the biggest athletic stadium in the world.

It has cost well over a million dollars—just how much has never been given out.

The playing field will be big enough to take either association or Rugby football. A running track a quarter of a mile in length will encircle the football pitch and between this track and the seats on the north side there will be a straight 220-yard running track.

Greatest Seating Capacity.

The ground will provide accomodations for 126,500 spectators and over 23,000 of the seats will be under cover. Quarters will be provided for over 500 athletes, with all adequate lockers, shower baths and wash basins. There will be separate dressing rooms for the football teams, and connected with these will be training quarters with a gymnasium, plunge baths and recreation rooms.

For the geenral public there will be a restaurant seating 1000 persons at one time and capable of being converted into a huge dance hall.

This stadium is merely part of the property being erected by the British Empire Exhibition Company. The rest of the ground will house the great British Empire Exhibition which is to open in 1924.

Will Open in April.

The stadium itself will be opened in April next year by the king. The occasion will be the final match to decide the football championship of Great Britain.

The great football associations, which control all the principal football teams of Britain, will hereafter each spring have the final match at the Wembley Stadium, which is the only place capable of accomodating the vast crowds which clamor for admission.

As England, Scotland and Wales form a comparatively small country in area these great final matches always draw people from all over the United Kingdom, all the railways running excursions.

PRIVATES SWAMPED BY THE WILDCATS.

The Wildcats proved a little too wild for the Privates in the second game of the Soft Ball League schedule last night, and the game ended with the military boys holding the very short end of a 29 to 5 score. Though the winners showed a superiority all through the game they tore loose with a vengeance in the fourth frame and scored no less than eleven runs. Their next best innings was in the ninth when they sent five men across the plate. Through some oversight they failed to score in the second frame, but they made up for it in the later innings.

Miller did the mound work for the Wildcats and turned in a good game which coupled with excellent support from his team mates made a combination too much for the Privates. Thomas who pitched for the Privates was hit freely and received poor support.

Wildcats—Bradley ss, Delahaye c, Ward 1b, Whitehouse 2b, Elliott 3b, Cooper rf, Griffin ss, Cheu lf, Miller p.

Privates—Thomas p, Williams c, Grant 1b, LeBarr 2b, Morris 3b, Armstrong ss, McBride ss, Sommers rf, Hamblyn lf.

Score by innings:

Wildcats ..... 292 11 31325—29
Privates ..... 101 0 0 1 0 2 0— 5

GENE SARAZEN WILL LAST A LONG TIME.

Gene Sarazen, who has already won most of the 1922 honors in golf, seems destined to reign supreme for a long time.

Sarazen is young, takes the very best of care of himself and has not permitted his great success to change the size of his hat.

There is no nineteenth hole for Sarazen. When the game is over it is the showers, then the big feed for the present champ. None of the championship affairs resolve themselves into booze parties for Sarazen.

Gene takes the game seriously. He has already made a lot of money out of it and intends to make a great deal more. It is his livelihood and he means to nurse it.

The very fact that Sarazen eight days after his recent operation for appendicitis was strolling around a golf course is proof of the excellent health that he enjoys.

Sarazen looks like the one best bet to hold a high place in golfing circles for years to come.

GEORGE OWEN IS STAR OF HARVARD.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 22.—George Owen, star of the Harvard football team, is one of the busiest athletes in captivity. Owen, aside from being the big threat of the Crimson eleven, is also captain of the hockey and baseball teams.

Owen, after finishing the football season against Yale on Nov. 25, will two days later take up his duties as hockey leader.

The popularity of Owen at Harvard is proved by the fact that he has been honored in each sport by being elected to the captaincy. He is a star on the diamond, gridiron or ice, but has won his greatest fame as a football player.

Harvard will miss Owen on the football field when he graduates, as Harvard's offense for several years has been built around him.

While Owen has not been as spectacular this year as last, it is believed that he will again be an All-America selection.

RUGBY OFFICIALS REVERSED RULINGS

Should the Decisions of the Referee Stand Regardless of Whether They Are Right or Wrong.

By BILLY EVANS.

Within the last few weeks two football officials have reversed the rulings made on the field after the game was over and the result regarded as final.

Perhaps the most unusual reversal was that affecting the game between Columbia and New York University. When the game was over the crowd left the field feeling that New York University won the game, 7 to 6.

The students of New York University started celebrating immediately after the game and collected their winnings, proceeded to immediately spend them. Defeating Columbia was quite a trick for New York U. and the students made the most of it.

Then comes forth the referee who said that he had made a mistake in allowing the New York touchdown, that it should have been scored a safety, and the result of the game was really 6 to 2 in favor of Columbia instead of 7 to 6 in favor of New York.

In another game a college team left the field believing that it had scored a touchdown. Later said college was informed by the official that he had erred and the seven points credited were illegal.

These reversals on the part of football officials are a trifle unusual. It raises the question as to how far the jurisdiction of the football officials should extend.

In baseball when an official errs on a question of rule it is a very easy matter to correct the mistake. The game is thrown out and ordered played over. This, of course, is impossible in football. The schedules are short and playing a game over is out of the question.

Taking a victory away from a team three or four days after the When New York University made the touchdown that gave them the one-point lead over Columbia the New York team played an entirely different game than if a safety giving them only two ponits had been allowed.

It seems as if all decisions given on the football field should stand as final. In order to eliminate chances for a mistake the referee, umpire and field judge should confer on any doubtful point and the decision reached should stand. Also if a decision is given on the field and the captain of the team penalized accepts it without protest no afterthought protest should be given any consideration.

Football is a bit different from other sports in that it has a very limited schedule. Therefore the decisions made on the field should be final.

REGULAR WORK TO DEVELOP CASTOFF

"Lefty" O'Doul Was a Failure With the Yanks But the Red Sox Have Hopes.

Will "Lefty" O'Doul make good with the Boston Red Sox and thereby be able to give the laugh to the New York Americans and Manager Miller Huggins?

O'Doul after the close of the season was sent to Boston as final payment in the deal that brought Joe Bush, Sam Jones and Everett Scott to New York.

O'Doul has been the property of New York for five or six years. He was secured from the Coast League, and after warming the bench for several years, getting little or no chance to break in, he was sent back to the coast.

In 1921, as a member of the San Francisco club of the Coast League, he won 25 games and lost nine for a percentage of .735. In point of effectiveness he ranked second in the league, allowing only 2.39 runs per game. Vic Aldridge, who pitched fine ball for the Chicago Cubs last year, was the only pitcher to top O'Doul in that respect.

Aside from his pitching, O'Doul, who is a good hitter, was used in pinch roles at the bat. He had a batting average of .338. His record as a batter and pitcher was so good that he was recalled by the Yankees.

The New York club was without a southpaw and it was felt that O'Doul was just the man to fill the bill. For some reason O'Doul got very few chances, and when he did he usually flivvered.

As a result, he spent last year warming the bench, his usual role in a New York uniform. Now he is a member of the Boston Red Sox.

If O'Doul has it in him to be a big league star he will get the long-awaited chance next season. Boston is weak on pitching. O'Doul is a big, husky left-hander, who in his few starts has always been shy on control. He has attributed his wildness to lack of work, and probably he is right.

Approximately 1,000,000 marriages take place each year in the United States.

P.C.I. WILL MEET OAKWOOD AT RIVERSIDE PARK ON SATURDAY

Sudden Death Game For Semi-Finals of the Interscholastic O. R. F. U. Championship Series.

IN FINE SHAPE.

The P.C.I. rugby team will occupy the limelight in the local sporting stage Saturday afternoon when they will meet the Oakville High School team in the semi-finals for the Interscholastic O.R.F.U. championship The local boys have already given a good account of themselves and have in afct shown themselves one of the best teams that has come from the Collegiate in several years. Their exhibitions against the Lindsay and Oshawa teams have shown them to be of championship calibre.

The P.C.I. team this year has been blessed with the happy combination of fine natural ability on the part of the players and good efficient coaching. Coach Brown has drilled them thoroughly not only in the fundamentals of the game but also in all the details that are needed to put a finished team on the field. The results of his labors have been shown by the fact that in three consecutive games the Peterboro line has not been crossed for a try.

The locals have one of the best line aggregations in Interscholastic circles. A line which has shown exceptional ability in both attack and defence and the members of which are working together with the precision of a well oiled machine. The back positions are filled with boys whose fast and snappy playing balances well with the front line. They are speedy, quick to take advantage of the openings made by the line men, accurate in passing and good on kicking. An aggregation which Oakwood will have a hard time to beat.

The game will be played at Riverside Park Saturday afternoon. It starts at 2:15 o'clock and will be a sudden death affair, the winning team going directly into the finals The game will undoubtedly be one of the best rugby games to be played here this season.

DROVE OVER CASTLE WALL ON A WAGER.

By R. H. R.

Immediately after winning the Welsh amateur championship, Captain E. C. Carter won a sensational wager. He was offered odds of £100 to £1 by a well-known London golfer that he would not put a golf ball into Harlech Castle. The castle, which was built in 1284, and was used by King Edward I., stands on a huge rock overlooking the Royal St. David's course, and is 200 yards away from nearest point on the links. Its battlements are 200 feet above the level of the course. Duly appointed official witnesses gathered to watch the feat attempted, Captain Carter used a baffy, and succeeded in putting a ball into the castle grounds. He then repeated his achievement on two consecutive occasions and the fact that the performance had been accomplished was entered in an historic book and signed by those who witnessed it.

BATTLING SIKI NOW SELLS SHOE POLISH

Sengalese Has Been Permanently Banned By French Commission.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—His trade of passing out jaw and skull polish having been stopped by law, Battling Siki has accepted an offer to go into commerce as a shoe polish salesman, he told friends today.

Siki's only commercial experience in the past has been the trading of bullets at the front and the swapping of punches in the ring around Paris, but he said he had to do something to live.

Until he took a swing recently on the jaw of the manager of another boxer, Siki was sitting on the top of the world. Now he hasn't a thing. His titles were removed from him, and he was suspended for nine months from all activities in the ring for his first offense, and now it is understood that his career has been permanently terminated in France.

Since the first stroke of bad luck hit him, Siki has been trying to drown out his trouble, and he has been engaging in all manner of excesses so that he became almost a public nuisances.

His license has been revoked permanently by the French boxing federation to Petit Journal. The action was taken at a special meeting called to hear the complaint of twenty-five noted sportsmen on Siki's recent conduct in public places.

The details of the complaints were not made known, but they were covered with a blanket charge of overstepping the bounds of decency.

BILLY CUTT IS DOING WELL IN ROCHESTER.

Clever Boxer, Well Known Here, Would Like a Bout in Peterborough.

Mr. George Graham, of the Empress Hotel, has received a letter from Billy Cutt, who spent some time in Peterboro last winter and is well known in sporting circles. Mr. Cutt is in Rochester, N.Y., and is doing well. He has a good manager and trainer, Jim Stanton, who enjoys a good record. He encloses a clipping from a Rochester paper re a boxing show staged by the Knights of Columbus in Convention Hall last week in which he had a part: "The curtain raiser was one of the best bouts of the evening. Billy Cutt and 'Young' Angie whaled away at each other for four rounds. Popular verdict gave the bout to Cutt."

Billy likes Rochester very much but would like to fight in Peterboro and if there is an opportunity he would like to retire this winter if a bout could be arranged with Peterboro's best fly weight. His weight is now around 110 lbs. In a fight with an Italian recently he was awarded a popular decision by about 3000 fans.

MERCANTILE 5-PIN LEAGUE

The Mercantile Five-Pin League will hold their meeting to-morrow night, Thursday, at 8.30 p.m., and all captains should be on hand. Prudential Life, Westclox, Wm. Hamilton, Nashua Paper, Post Office, A.O.F., Bell Telephone, J. J. Turner's, and others wishing to enter a team should be at the meeting.

DEMPSEY'S DOPE PROVED CORRECT.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—When it comes to fighting you can't fool Heavyweight Champion Jack Dempsey. After Carpentier's defeat at the hands of Battling Siki, Dempsey remarked that the Frenchman had adopted wrong tactics in trying to knock Siki out by hitting him on the body. Here's the proof:

Scientists at Chicago University recently made a test of the skulls of the Senegalese tribe, of which Siki is a member, and discovered them practically impenetrable and capable of standing a great amount of jar and vibration.

All of which bears out the opinion of Champion Dempsey that Carpentier adopted the wrong methods by swinging to the jaw and forgetting the stomach, a far more delicate part of the Senegalese anatomy.

HUNT CLUB HOME.

Captained by Mr. Garret Spencer, the East City Hunt Club has returned home from Jack's Lake with their full count of six deer, and they report a good time.

Dr. Baker, the M.D. of the party, had the good luck to shoot the largest deer, and was highly complimented by the captain for his excellent shot. The remainder of the party, Messrs. Calder, Cooper, Coughlin and Gautnier, each made their kill.

The party are all in high praise of their captain and his dog, Jack, and claim they will back him against any hunter in the North Country.

CORNS
Lift Off with Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit. Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, and the calluses, without soreness or soft corn, or corn between the toes irritation.

RUPTURE RELIEF
Appliance Expert Coming

Rupture is not a tear but a distention of the membrane, developing into a swelling in the groin, therefore subject to retention. No need to suffer another day, correct retention with solid comfort will relieve you at once and afford lasting benefit. So says—Thos. Y. Egan, Surgical Appliances, 1087 College Street, Toronto, who will visit Lindsay, Benson House, November 24—Peterboro, Empress Hotel, Saturday, Sunday (all day and night) 2 days only, November 25-26.

Mr. Egan's new series of anatomical "Easyfit" retentive surgical aids (as used and approved) are nature's own method. They retain like the hand, permit free circulation, allow nature to close the opening in the shortest time possibel and cost little. Prepared to measure (Men, Women children, infants) for all conditions, before and after operations. The continuous dependability of these new surgical appliances is not a matter of chance, but the result of constant tests, ethical and scientific development and are effecting better retention than Old-fashioned trusses. Mr. Egan has local Canadian testimonials for your inspection. If interested now is the time to make yourself safe and comfortable for your work, so do not fail to call and have a free demonstration of samples right here and of your own suitable style, in full confidence that it is the most efficient and best in the world for you. You will save time, money and worry in the end, as there is bright hope for you no matter how long you have suffered from trusses. It costs you nothing to investigate the right brand for better service, viz. "Made in Canada". Note dates, tell others who you know to be interested, ask at hotel office for Mr. Egan's private sample room. Tear this out as a reminder. (Advt.)

"MY LIFE ON THE BURNING SANDS," BY WANDA HAWLEY

I recently spent three weeks in the Sahara Desert without leaving the borders of California. That beats the famed magic carpet of antiquity, doesn't it?

You see, we were making scenes for my new Paramount picture, "Burning Sands," and "Uncle George" Melford, the director, took the whole company down to Osnard, on the Pacific coast, where there are miles and miles of sandy area that you can't tell from the Sahara. It's the same place where "The Sheik" was filmed.

There we pitched camp and lived in the open. There were scores and scores of tents—the company and technical assistants numbered nearly two hundred. Our routine was like that of an army regiment. Reveille was blown at 7 o'clock. Then everybody rose and peeked out of their tents to see whether or not the sun was shining. If it was sunless and grey, we could turn in for another hour's snooze. That is, you could if your neighbors weren't confirmed early risers. Noise goes through canvas as it does through an apartment house airshaft.

We had a special big tent where we all ate breakfast, except the camels. Breakfast over, we were given an hour to make up. Milton Sills, my leading man, is very keen for exercise, and he always used half of his make-up time working out with a medicine ball. I joined him if I felt especially ambitious.

Our "set" was half an hour away from the camp—a desert oasis with palm trees brought all the way from Hollywood by the property department and transplanted. Luncheon was brought to us there, as it is important not to lose any valuable sunlight during the "shooting" of scenes.

Our average day of work was from 10.30 to 3.30, but much of the action in "Burning Sands" takes place at night, and we frequently were on the job from 7 in the evening until midnight or 2 or 3 in the morning.

"Burning Sands" comes to the Capitol Thursday.

AT THE ROYAL.

"WEST OF CHICAGO" MOVES WEST TONIGHT

Charles Jones will be seen for the last time tonight in the Fox production, "West of Chicago," which has met with noteworthy success at the Royal Theatre.

The theme of the story can be summed up in the words, "when rogues meet let honest men beware." The scenes are laid along the Mexican border.

Some of the outstanding points in this pleasing photoplay are Charles Jones' daring leap from a horse to a moving train and his laughter-provoking portrayal of a ghost, which sends some wrong-doers helter skelter up a dark road.

If you have not been to the Royal, don't miss this last chance.

Special high-class program for to-morrow — Corinne Griffith in "A Woman's Sacrifice;" fourth episode of Million Dollar Serial, "Buffalo Bill;" high-class Christie Comedy, "Any Old Port;" other Western Comedy. Don't miss tomorrow. Matinee and evening.

LAY RED FAILURE IN U. S. AT DOOR OF UNION LABOR.

MOSCOW, Nov. 22.—The Communist Party in the United States has failed to succeed because the Communists have not yet secured a hold upon the American Federation of Labor and other trade union members, asserted an American delegate to the Third Internationale, speaking upon capitalist attacks upon the workers.

The chief aim of the Communists in the United States, he added, was to gain a foothold among union members, where some already are actively engaged in creating a Left Wing.

Class differences may be expected soon, and the Communists must be prepared to put up a fight, and must also gain the confidence of the masses, inducing them to join in the struggle for the rights of the proletariat.

Why Corns?
Just say
Blue-jay to your druggist

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in a colorless clear liquid (one drop does it!) and in thin plasters. The action is the same.

CANON QUARTERMAINE SAYS GOVT. IS TO IMPROVE THE SCHOOLS

homes, and will relieve some of our responsibility in the future.

Our work has gone on as usual with an increase in the number of wards. There were in all 14 made this year. For the first time in five years we have had to send one of our boys to the Industrial School at Mimico.

During the year we have had 63 applications for children and placed 33 out.

Brought to the Shelter (not wards), 17.

Returned to their parents (not wards), 9.

Children involved during the year, 318.

Sent to Industrial School, 2 (one was a ward).

Complaints received, 46, investigations 37.

Mail received 473, sent out 474.

Number of miles covered during the year, 2,900.

Places visited outside the city, 25.

Police Court attendance, 47.

Wards in foster homes heard from, 74.

Wards visited, 79.

Three very bright children were taken into the Shelter while their mother was in jail, and when she was liberated she brought us the fourth child. Several girls between 14 and 16 years of age were taken over with very good results.

We note with pleasure the progress made at school by our little cripple boy, Everett Carruthers, whom we are sending to school from the Shelter. His general conduct has greatly improved. Through the kindness of the Hydro people, this boy is allowed to ride free on the streets cars, and wears a silver badge for that purpose. A number of large boys have left their places during the year, and one or two are still missing.

One of our splendid girls who has made good, will be married to-morrow, and will go to Northern Ontario to make her home. A large number of friends remembered her with presents.

Appended is a report of the children's trust funds.

In closing, I wish to thank all who have assisted me in any way during the year. Especial mention might be made of Magistrate Langley, Chief Newhall, City Clerk Armstrong and his staff, as well as all the police officers, the Board, and Mr. and Mrs. Rogers for support in my work.

C. W. Powell.

Resolutions Passed.

The following resolutions were moved, seconded and carried:

Moved by Mr. E. A. Peck and seconded by Mrs. J. Knox, that the thanks of our Society be given to those who assisted us in our work during the year. Special mention might be made of Drs. Buchanan, King, T. P. McCullough and Wood, also Dr. Moir, Dr. Lacey and Dr. Middleton for the eyes and teeth.

Moved by Father Costello and seconded by Mr. E. A. Peck, that the thanks of our Society are due and are hereby tendered to the Purchasing Committee, the Finance Committee and the Sewing Committee for their faithful work during the year.

Moved by Mr. F. N. Dobbin and seconded by Mrs. Welch, that the thanks of the Society be given to the Chamber of Commerce for the use of their rooms; also to the Union and Montreal Banks for use of their rooms on tag and other days, and to the auditors for their very efficient work, and that a c of the audit be sent to the City and County Clerks.

Officers Elected.

These officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Hon. Presidents—The Mayor of the City and the Warden of the County.

Hon. Vice-Presi nts—J. H. Burnham (founder of the Children's Aid Society in Peterboro), T. Tooms, M. P.P., Mrs. Birdsall, E. A. Peck, Jos. Wearing, Rev. C. J. Phelan.

President—B. F. Ackerman.

1st Vice-President—Mrs. Sanderson.

2nd Vice-President—Mrs. W. H. Gibbs.

Secretary—John Edgar.

Treasurer—C. S. Cummer.

Solicitor—Jos. Wearing.

Executive — Mesdames J. Knox, Stocker, Hopwood, Kimberley, Fanning, Wright, Welch, Hill, Devey and Darcy; and Messrs. F. H. Dobbin, F. H. Cowan, Parsons, Dr. King, Rev. R. B. Grobb, Rev. R. C. Blagrave, Mr. Sangster, Adjt. Smith, Dr Wood and Rev. Father Costello.

Canon Quartermaine, the general secretary of the Children's Aid Society of Ontario, was the speaker of the evening but owing to the lateness of the hour he felt he must curtail his address. He referred to the late Mr. J. E. L. Goodwill, who was the first provincial treasurer, and whose kindly personality won him many friends among his associates in the provincial work. The speaker is anxious that a juvenile court should be established in Peterboro as soon as possible. The year's work in this district was good and showed a kindly active interest on behalf of those in charge.

Speaking of Ontario's industrial schools there were four: One, St. Mary's, at Sunnyside, for Roman Catholic girls; one, St. John's, on the Kingston road, for Roman Catholic boys; one, on the Kingston road, in charge of Miss Brookey, for Protestant boys; and one at Mimico for Protestant boys.

There is no better class of men and women in Ontario than those in charge of these schools and no better work done under the conditions obtaining.

At St. John's school, which the speaker visited recently, he found 42 boys preparing for confirmation with a true spiritual anticipation of the great gift which would come to them in the holy rite. These boys, many of whom came from Renfrew and Ottawa districts, were sent to the school for punishment and to give them a better environment. The Brothers, who are in charge, are doing a magnificent work in spite of the lack of proper equipment. Miss Brookey's school for girls is across the road and it too has a magnificent record. There are over 100 girls and we must remember that they are our failures, sent there as incorrigible and it is greatly to her credit, and those assisting her, that 80 to 85 per cent. are turning out well. At the Boys' School at Mimico there are over 300 boys ranging from 10 to 18 years of age, some of whom are sent back for a second period. A gentleman in Barrie has offered a home for the smaller boys, which would not be exactly an industrial school. This would be of great astance as the mixing of the big and little boys is a very great disadvantage. A home in Peterboro or near by would be desirable. The work of the Sisters at Sunnyside is splendid.

Improve Cond: - s.

The Government of Ontario is going to do something to improve the conditions at Mimico and give greater advantages at St. John's. The Children's Aid Act, given to us in 1892, is one of the greatest things we have; since the inception of the C.A.S., we have had 18,900 wards and 1000 others provided with homes. Over 100,000 children have benefited by this Act. The other provinces followed suit and now Quebec is the only province in the Dominion which has not a Children's Protective Act; but don't work away with the idea that Quebec is not doing great work along these lines, as she has a Juvenile Delinquents' Act which is working well.

From the point of view of the Children's Aid Society, Ontario is far ahead of the United States, who, however are ahead of us in the Juvenile Courts which are excellently managed there. The State of Massachusetts pays for their wards, which are fewer in number than in Ontario, the sum of $900,000 per year. Ontario pays about $40,000. In Massachusetts the wards are boarded in private homes at from $4 to $7 per week. The spirit in Canada is much better.

Referring to the recently passed Unmarried Parents' Act, he said with between 1700 and 1800 illegitimate children being born each year in our province it is no wonder we began to regard the problem as serious. We were doing something but not enough and so we got information and prepared legislation and after three years of preparation the Act was passed in July, 1921. It may be five years before we begin to feel the actual benefits as we have not yet got all the machinery necessary. A system of compulsory registration will be, it is hoped, a restraint, and the Act will benefit the child, the mother and the whole province. There is a great need for workers in this field, not young people, but older people, who have a deep, sincere interest in the fallen. These cases occur in every class of life from the highest to the lowest; there is a great work and let us do it with the determination to improve conditions in the province.

A vote of thanks to Canon Quartermaine, the performers, and the Heintzman Company, for the use of the piano, was moved by Mr. Powell, seconded by Mrs. Knox. The singing of the National Anthem closed the meeting.

Sour Stomach

Best Relieved by Chewing a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet — No Water Needed — Carry Them Loose in Your Pocket.

What the average person needs in this day and age is the balanced stomach sweetener that he can take at any time, at any place and get relief right away. This effect is had with one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. No matter what you eat or drink, if the stomach sours, gets gassy, seems to bloat and press against the heart, if it belches and heartburn makes you miserable, try these tablets. The moment they reach the stomach they neutralize the acids, they give the stomach the alkaline effect it is craving for and thus you soon feel good, the stomach is settled and the faults of indigestion are thus corrected. You may now eat pie, cheese, sausage, pickles, if you get a 60 cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to-day at any drug store.

BUILD 10,000 MILES OF ROAD ON U. S. CASH.

States to Spend $742,000,000 in All This Year.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. — Ten thousand miles of Federal-aid highways were completed in the last fiscal year, bringing the total mileage to 19,308, says an announcement of the Bureau of Public Roads, Department of Agriculture. The year's work constituted a new record.

Texas leads in miles of completed Federal-aid roads with 1,733 miles, while Minnesota is second with 1,416. Texas is also first in mileage under construction with 1,406 miles.

Based on available data, bureau officials state, the sum to be spent this year on highways will total $742,000,000. This figure includes Federal-aid roads and projects built in addition by the states and smaller municipal units without the aid of Federal funds.

More than 30 miles of bridges have been built under the Federal-aid Highway programme since 1916.

IN THIRD PLACE.

Roger Conti.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(Canadian Press)—Roger Conti, of France yesterday defeated Edouard Horemans of Belgium, in the fourteenth game of the 18.2 Balkline Billiard Championship Tournament, by the score of 500 to 303.

By his victory, a match in which the Frenchman sustained his lead throughout, he upset the calculations of a triple tie. On games won and lost the French star and Horemans tie at three victories and two defeats, for third place, which is to be determined by the grand average or total points scored. Conti is conceded the winner of the place on his grand average of above 30, while Horemans' is 28.

Conti yesterday was in good stride all the way, his nursing being good, while Horemans missed frequently on his favorite masse.

FLIGHT OF CAPITAL BEFORE TAXATION.

Swiss Proposes to Impose Levy on Capital of the Republic.

GENEVA, Nov. 22.—(Associated Press).—Although the Swiss proposal to impose a levy on the capital of the republic has little chance of becoming a law, the mere thought of it has already cost the country $250,000,000, and has dealt a serious blow to its financial and industrial system, according to trustworthy information available here.

The scheme was proposed by the Radical Socialists in the National Assembly, but it will be put to a vote of the people early in December. The levy proposed is:

$10,000—8 per cent.
$120,000—20 per cent.
$300,000—56 per cent.
Over $600,000—60 per cent.

The national credit also has suffered from the news of the referendum. Following the armistice, and until a few weeks ago, Swiss securities were the highest on the European market. During the last three weeks their value has dropped from 20 to 40 per cent., and this is estimated to have cost the Swiss $250,000,000.

Capitalists are even now sending their money from the country at the rate of $20,000,000 a week, and already more than $400,000,000 has taken flight. The bulk of the money is going to the United States. All of the ready cash in the country is being hoarded. Trade is suffering, and merchants are adopting a conservative policy in the matter of buying.

GIRL DEFEATS 28 BOYS AS JUDGE OF CATTLE.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 22.—Miss Elizabeth Willerton, of Ohio, is champion junior judge of dairy cattle in America.

The young woman was awarded the prize at the national dairy show here. She was the only girl to compete for the honor with 28 boys. "I was reared on a dairy farm," Miss Willerton said, "and I know cattle just as a city girl knows the streets of her home town."

OBITUARY

ELIZA ANN STEWART.

On Friday, Nov. 20, the funeral of Eliza Ann Stewart took place from the family residence to Little Lake Cemetery, the service being conducted by the Rev. A. H. McConnachie. The large gathering testified to the affection and esteem in which the deceased was held by the entire community. Miss Stewart was born in Otonabee on Lot 16, Con. 16, on March 9, 1834, and died on the same farm on Nov. 17, 1922, having lived her 88 years in this same home, and was the last member of a family of ten. She had been an invalid for twenty years, and the sympathy of the community goes out to Miss Nellie Finnimore, who has been her companion and most faithful nurse through all these years. On the day of burial a short service was held at the house. The hymns sung were "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," at the beginning, and "Sun of my Soul," a favorite hymn of the family, at the close. The pallbearers were four nephews and two great-nephews of the deceased, namely, James R., George W., Ormiston and Frederick Stewart and Beecher Matchett and Bruce Savigny.

ROBERT DUNBAR.

Robert Dunabr died this morning at Bridgenorth in his 84th year. When a young man he had gone to Dakota where he lived for 38 years, returning to this district three years ago. He is survived by three brothers, John of Blind River, George of Kinmount and James of Parry Sound, and four sisters, Mrs. J. Edgar, of Bobcaygeon, Mrs. Gibb of Hamilton, Mrs. Ritchie in British Columbia, and Mrs. James Clark, of California. His wife predeceased him eight years ago. The funeral will be held at Bridgenorth on Friday at 2.30 o'clock with the service at the house at 2 p.m. by the Rev. Mr. Neville.

IN MEMORIAM.

NESBITT.—In ever loving memory of our dear granddaughter, Margaret E. Nesbitt, who departed this life Nov. 22nd., 1921.

Precious darling, you have left us
Left us, yes, forever more,
But we hope to meet our loved one
On that bright and happy shore.

Lonely the house and sad the hours,
Since dear Margaret passed away,
But oh! a brighter home than ours
In heaven is now her own.

Inserted by Her Grandfather and Grandmother Nesbitt and Family.

IN MEMORIAM.

NESBITT.—In ever loving memory of our dear Margaret, who departed this life Nov. 22nd, 1921:

Short and sudden was the call,
Of our dear Margaret loved by all,
The blow was great, the shock severe,
We little thought her death so near.

The golden gates were open
A gentle voice said "Come,"
And with farewell words unspoken
She calmly entered home.

The midnight stars are gleaming
On a lone and silent grave,
Beneath sleeps one we dearly loved,
But who we could not save.

The happy hours we once enjoyed,
How sweet their memory still,
But death has left a vacant place
That never can be filled.

By Stuart P. West.

NEW YORK, November 22. — (Special.) — The chief feature in to-day's stock market was the weakness of the railway shares. This had its effect upon other parts of the list although a number of the industrials stood up well.

Losses in the railway group extending from one to three points, were to be ascribed to several causes. In the first place, despite their substantial decline in October, they were not as well liquidated as other sections of the market. In the second place, banking interests and outside investors and speculators, who would ordinarily be attracted by the low selling prices compared with two months ago, are deterred from buying by the fear that campaigns will so amend the Esch-Cummings Act as to deprive the roads of their present 5 1-2 per cent. guarantee, and at the same time force a reduction in freight rates. In the third place there is a likelihood that in many cases the October operating expense accounts will prove to have been swollen by extra expenditures on maintenance growing out of the shopmen's strike, and in this way the earning results will not be as favorable as was anticipated.

Among the industrials the losses as a rule were not as large as in the rails. Still the unsettlement caused by the weakness in the latter emboldened a fairly general resumption of the professional selling which was halted towards the close of last week. At the same time speculative syndicates which had been working for higher prices in special stocks were inclined to suspend their efforts.

There was nothing in the outside news of the day to affect sentiment unfavorably. On the contrary, outside happenings were entirely of a helpful nature. The foreign exchanges after starting in lower went on with their recovery.

FEW CHANGES TO-DAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.— Further announcements of increased dividends and stock distributions excited speculative interest at opening in a few issues with similar prospects but general market continued dull and irregular. Renewed negotiations for a Cuban loan caused some demand for stocks of sugar producing companies like Cuban Cane, American but industrial leaders were either unchanged or showed only fractional variations apparently awaiting a new incentive to govern immediate course of their fluctuations.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Trading in first hour was conducted almost exclusively under professional auspices. Price changes in general list were without definite trend. Apparently representing undoing of short contracts in some sections of market and espousal of similar commitments in issues which were considered to have enjoyed sufficient recovery to make their technical position again vulnerable. Special moves in individual stocks constituted markets only feature

HOW TO DEAL WITH RUPTURE IN THE FOAL

Umbilical Hernia Not Usually Serious—Treatment of Scrotal Hernia Essentially a Surgical Operation.

The term Hernia, or Rupture, is applied to designate a condition consisting of the protrusion of a portion of the intestines or bowel from the abdominal cavity through a normal or abnormal aperture of the abdominal wall, which protrusion shows its presence by a lump or tumor-like mass, with the skin remaining intact as a covering or enclosing sac.

Umbilical Hernia.

In the case of Umbilical Hernia or rupture at the navel, the condition generally appears within a few weeks after birth. It consists of the protrusion of a portion of the bowel through the navel opening in the floor of the belly, the skin remaining intact, forming a covering sac or pouch. Its presence becomes noticeable by the appearance of a round soft lump, or tumor like mass, at the navel. Should doubt exist as to whether the condition is actually one of rupture, its true nature can be determined by placing the foal on its back and by pressing and manipulating the lump with the hand. It will be found that the bowel can be returned to the abdomen, leaving a somewhat loose pouch of skin, and the aperture by which the bowel protruded can be felt as an oblong or ring like opening, thus distinguishing it from any other swelling. As soon, however, as the foal is allowed to regain its feet, the bowel once more protrudes into the sac of skin and the lump or tumor like mass again appears at the navel. The size of the rupture varies from that of an egg to a large-sized ball.

Treatment.—As a rule, rupture at the navel in foals is not a serious condition, except when of large size. Those of small size tend to disappear in a large number of cases with growth and development of the animal. Recovery can be assisted by means of a truss or supporting bandage. The foal should first be placed on its back, and the lump or tumor manipulated with the hand to return the protruding bowel into the abdomen. To prevent the bowel from again escaping, a pad or small cushion is placed over the navel opening and retained in postion by a truss or supporting bandage, such as a feather band or canvas girth encircling the body, fastened up over the back, and prevented from slipping forward or backward by means of a breast band and breach band. The only objection to the use of a truss or bandage is, that it may chafe the skin if not properly applied. In the case of small ruptures, a good blister applied to the skin around the navel has a good effect as the swelling which it causes helps to close the opening and prevents the bowel from again escaping.

If the foal reaches the age of four or five months without showing any improvement and the rupture tends to enlarge instead of decrease, it may require an operation to overcome it. The most common methods of operation are by means of woode.. clamps skewers, and ligatures. In applying these, the foal must be placed on its back, and care taken to have the bowel contents of the rupture sac returned to the abdomen. The skin forming the pouch or sac should then be grasped by the hand and drawn out as far as possible from the body, and the clamps or ligature fixed tightly and securely over the skin, close up against the navel ring or opening. The clamps or ligatures are then allowed to remain in position until they slough and fall off together with the imprisoned skin and tissues.

Scrotal Hernia in Colts.

Scrotal Hernia, or rupture at the scrotum, affects male animals only, and may be present at time of birth, or appear within a few weeks thereafter this form of rupture consists of the protrusion of a portion of the bowel into the scrotum or bag, together with the testicles. Its presence is noticeable by the increased size of the scrotum.

Treatment.— The treatment of Scrotal Hernia in ordinary colts consists essentially of a surgical operation, the method usually followed being castration by what is known as the covered operation, which should be undertaken only by the veterinary surgeon. As a rule colts intended for work purposes, affected with this form or rupture, should be operated on early in life, and in most cases before the animal is much over one year old, as the chances of successful results decrease with age, while, the operation is invariably successful.

In the case or pure-bred colts, valuable for breeding purposes, surgical interference is warranted only when the hernia is a source or danger to health. The best plan in such cases is to allow nature to take its course in the hope that with growth and development of the animal the hernia will become reduced.—Dr. C. D. McGilvary, President Ont. Vet. College, Guelph.

IMPROVEMENT OF THE PETERBORO-BURLEIGH ROAD IS NOW ASSURED

Hon. Mr. Biggs Assured Deputation Yesterday of His Support When By-law is Passed by the County Council — Enjoyed Trip to Stoney Lake.

LIKE CHEMONG ROAD

In the lounge room of the "Bessie Butler," coming down through Clear Lake on Wednesday evening, the Hon. F. C. Biggs, Provincial Minister of Highways, assured representatives of the city and county that he would designate as a county provincial road the highway from Peterboro to Burleigh Falls, providing the County Council passed a bylaw assuming the link from Young's Point to the Falls as a county road.

As this offer falls in exactly with the wishes of the county council, the improvement which the council petitioned the Department for two years ago should be launched next spring.

At the opening session of the council on Tuesday afternoon a deputation conveyed certain information that the Hon. Mr. Biggs had decided to build a provincial highway through this district by way of Lindsay, Peterboro or Belleville, to Algonquin Park, and the Councillors bluntly declared their objections if the Minister was actually committed to a project that would cost about 30,000 a mile. On yesterday's trip, and while the Hon. Mr. Biggs was in Peterboro, he made no reference whatever to such a scheme, or in anyway indicated that he had any knowledge of it.

Must Pass Bylaw.

The county provincial road he promised from here to Burleigh is of the same standard as the road between Peterboro and Chemong, and this type was more than satisfactory to the county and city representatives who made the inspection trip over the road. There is no particular haste in the passing of the bylaw of acceptance by the County Council, and it will probably be deferred until January when it will be included with several amendments that are under consideration, and will likely be introduced.

An Enjoyable Outing.

With weather almost as bland as October, but with the crispness of November freshening it, the local party accompanying the Minister motored from Peterboro to Burleigh Falls through Lakefield an Young's Point. There they boarded the "Bessie Butler," which had been put at the disposal of the deputation and their guest through the good offices of Mr. G. N. Gordon, M.P., Mr. A. L. Killaly was in charge of this part of the outing, which, in its rather swift varieties, was most enjoyable. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon K. Fraser entertained the party for half an hour at his home, a short sail from Burleigh. Refreshments were served and the hospitality of the open hearted hosts proved a pleasant break in the journey.

The boat followed a circuitous route through Stoney Lake, past Viamede, Mount Julian, McCracken's Landing, Kawartha Park, and other populous sections for the purpose of acquainting the Minister with the importance of that section of the Kawartha chain.

On the Clear Lake leg of the home-bound sail, Mr. Biggs discussed with the party the road he had gone over and promised them every co-operation when the formality of designating the Young's Point-Burleigh link had been performed.

Those present in the afternoon tour were Mayor Taylor, Warden

LONDON, Nov. 23. — (Canadian Press).—The new British Parliament will be asked to continue and extend the ameliorative measures prepared by the Lloyd George Ministry as regards trade and employment, and also to guarantee a loan for the restoration of Austria, said King George to-day in his speech from the Throne, which officially opened the session.

The King expressed the hope that the Lausanne Conference might "result in the establishment of peace and restoration of security to inhabitants of those regions which have recently been the scene of so much suffering."

In opening his speech, the King said: "The constitution of the Irish Free State having been approved by the House of Parliament, established under the Irish Free State Agreement Act of last session, sitting as a constituent assembly, and it being required by terms of that Act that the constitution should come in force by December 6 next, I summoned you to meet in order that the legislation necessary to give effect to that constitution, and to make provisions consequential on the establishment of an Irish Free State, may at once be submitted for your approval.

The debate on the King's speech will probably continue into next week, when it will be interrupted to bring forward the Irish Bill, which will be pressed as an urgent matter. It is becomingly evident that the bill will not pass with smoothness, predicted a while ago. Ulster Unionists and English "die hards" have intimated strong opposition, but it is not believed their attitude will endanger the success of the bill.

It is expected that Ramsay Macdonald, as Labor chief, will call for alterations of distress arising from unemployment. It is understood that the Government has already decided upon measures for handling this question.

PAY PRISONERS FOR WORK IN THE JAILS.

Proposal Advanced by the National Council of Women at Montreal Meeting.

MONTREAL, Nov. 23. —(Canadian Press.)—Definite action in regards to an important phase of prisoners' welfare was taken last night by executive of National Council of Women of Canada, when they decided to place a petition before the Dominion government urging that State prisoners be given partial remuneration for work done during their term of incarceration, and money to go either towards the support of their families or, in cases where there are no dependents, to be given to prisoners on their release, to enable them to make a fresh start. Resolution was introduced by Mrs. Harry Carpenter, President of Hamilton local branch, his second wife.

Why Allied Statesmen Worry

The Turk infantry swings into Constantinople and announces to the world that the sick man of Europe has regained his strength. This picture shows the crack regiment, with Refet Pasha, military leader of the Kemalists, marching at its head. Enthusiastic crowds greet the conquerors of the Greeks and assure the Nationalists that they will have popular support against the allies. Inset shows Refet Pasha.

REFUSE GOODS GERMAN STAMP

Court Holds, However, That Origin is Not Justification of Refusal.

MONTREAL, Nov. 23.—The fact that goods are "made in Germany" is not of itself a sufficient reason to justify a customer in refusing acceptance of an order, it was held by Mr. Justice Martineau in the Superior Court in a judgment delivered the other day.

The action was one in which W. W. J. Arbentz, trading in Birmingham, England, under the firm name of "Adolphe Arbentz," sought to recover $654.32 from the Canadian Consolidated Rubber Company on an order of brass nails which the latter refused because the goods were German made, and because, they claimed, they were not in conformity with samples from which orders were made.

The local company stated that they had asked for a French make of merchandise, and that they had specified that these should be according to samples, but that when the shipment arrived they discovered that the nails were made in Germany and that some of them were not like the samples. They consequently refused the consignment.

Must Prove Defect.

The shipper argued that the fact that German-made goods were sent was not an excuse to refuse acceptance and that, moreover, only part of the order had been different from the order, and the consignee had no right therefore to reject the whole batch.

The court declared that only a substantial defect in the materials could form a reason for refusing an order, and that the country of origin did not materially affect the goods themselves. Consequently the shipment could not be refused on this score. As to the second contention, the court found that the order was divisible, as two different kinds of nails had been ordered. Only one of these differed from the samples, and the consignee could have refused these, but not the others which were as ordered.

The company was held liable for the value of the latter, $418.45. The court ordered Arbentz to indemnify the Rubber Company to the extent of $81.65, representing Customs duty which it paid on the rejected goods.

PROVINCIAL BOARD TO MAKE ALTERATIONS TO LABORATORY CITY HALL.

The Peterborough branch of the Provincial Board of Health Laboratories, are asking for tenders for alterations to the local laboratory in the City Hall. It has been stated that if these alterations can be made in the City Buildings satisfactory and at reasonable price, the work will be carried on, but if not the Board will be forced to let the laboratories remain as they are. The new alterations as specified will divide the laboratory and make additional rooms, so that different kinds of chemical work can be kept separate, and not all mixed together in one room, as at present.

PELHAM TOWNSHIP MAN FOUND DEAD

ST. CATHARINES, Nov. 23. —(Canadian Press). — Dwight Hilts, farmer, of Pelham Township, was found dead, evidently murdered, near the door of his barn. The body was found by his eight-year-old son. A blood-stained whiffletree lying nearby is believed to have been the weapon used by the unknown assailant. He was 43 years of age.

TEMPERANCE FORCES URGED NOT TO RELAX.

Provincial Convention Being Held in Toronto To-day.

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—(Canadian Press).—This is not the time for the temperance forces of Ontario to relax their efforts was the keynote of a speech made here to-day at the opening session of the Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance. This convention is more or less of a curtain raiser for the world convention of the league against alcoholism, which opens in Toronto. Although most of the delegates to the World Conference are arriving to-day, there was a fairly large attendance at to-day's sessions. Rev. Ben. Spence, secretary of the Dominion Alliance, spoke of the co-operation that existed between the Alliance officials and the Provincial Attorney - General's Department in the enforcement of the Prohibition Act. Information obtained by the Alliance, he said, was passed on to the Provincial officers, and splendid results had been achieved. Several of the delegates expressed appreciation of the manner in which the O. T. A. was being enforced.

Company Fears Total Loss of Life Will Reach One Hundred

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 23.—(Canadian Press).—At two o'clock this morning 83 bodies had been recovered from the Dolomite Mine No. 3 of the Woodward Iron Company, where 475 coal miners were entombed by a dust explosion yesterday afternoon, and officials of the company announced that they feared the total loss might reach one hundred.

HUNGER STRIKE DOES NOT GAIN SYMPATHY.

Neither Does Vigil and Fast of Mary MacSwiney's Sister.

DUBLIN, Nov. 23. — (Canadian Press).—The hunger strike of Mary MacSwiney at Mount Joy Prison and the vigil and fast of her sister Annie is maintaining at the gates, appear to be attracting less attention than has been accorded similar tactics by Irish political figures.

NEAR PARADISE IN CALIFORNIA

Miss Minnie Pool, Known in Peterboro, Describes the Sunny West.

Miss Minnie Poole, well remembered by many residents and friends in Peterborough, is now living in California, at Palm City, San Diego, California, and in writing to a friend in this city, tells of her life there and the surroundings, and incidentally mentions Peteborough people whom she has met. Her remarks follow:—

"I hear you are having nice weather, still, at home, which is unusual at this time of year. Away down here, on the border of Mexico, it is as near Paradise as I ever expect to see this side of the River Styx. Bright, warm sunny days, with a feeling of bouyancy in the air, and cool evenings, tho' I miss our (Canadian) twilights. Once the sun sets, here, the night falls, the day is done and "the darkness falls from the wings of night, as a feather is wafted downward from an eagle in its flight."

We motored from San Bernardino to Los Angeles. Spent a week there and then motored to San Diego. A most delightful trip, passing acres of orange groves, beautiful houses, hedges of roses in bloom, and later along the shores of the Pacific and through some of the smaller mountains.

San Diego is a city of hotels, hundreds of them, as it is really both a summer and winter resort. The rates are most reasonable and every comfort is provided. The "Sandford" for instance, is connected with the automobile club and one could not wish for anything better. Rates $1.50 per day for room, breakfast a-la-carte and luncheon, 50 cents, with dinner at $1.00. Or one can go to the fine cafeterias and choose for one's food and rate for service.

The "Bronx" is owned and run by Mr. Hammond and his neice, Miss Ida Lee, formerly of Peterborough. One can rent a room or suite of rooms from $25.00 a month up, and there is a community kitchen, $2.50 per month, extra. Lockers are provided and one supplies own foods and cooks at discretion, and when needed. A dining room, close at hand, provided with small tables. It is, I think, the only one of the kind in San Diego.

The people here are extremely friendly. The churches have large congregations. The M.E. has a large cross, illuminated, at such a height it can be seen for miles, and a beautiful chime of bells. The cross is rather an unusual sign for our people, is it not? But why should we allow others to monopolize it?

Today, Armistice Day, is being celebrated in many ways. A flight of airships is leading a procession out to Bilboa Park, where an all-day concert, led by the largest organ in the world and built in the town will be given. The parks are simply a dream of Paradise with their tropical growth of palms and acres of flowers and no dread of King Jack Frost. Guavas, tangerines and grape-fruit, oranges and lemons in absolute profusion, but scarcely worth mention. These fruits simply go to waste.

Living here is not any more expensive than at home and rents are much less. A comfortable single apartment can be had for $12.00 a month, furnished, with light and water extra. Indeed I am beginning to think that this is the part of the

OFFICERS SEIZE WHISKEY STILL NEAR HAVELOCK

Found Complete Moonshine Apparatus in a Little Log Cabin Built Recently in Swamp.

BIRDS HAD FLOWN

In response to the information received by Excise Officer W. H. Buller of the manufacturing of illicit spirits in a swamp, ten miles north of Havelock, Provincial Constable Geo. Cookman, License Inspector J. Stewart and Excise Officer W. H. Buller left at once for the scene of unlawful distilling.

The party arrived at the swamp at dusk, and with great difficulty proceeded through the extremely dense underbush. Their search was finally rewarded, when they found themselves at the door of a cabin, which had been previously described to them over the telephone.

Little Log Cabin

This cabin had just been recently constructed of logs, with poles across their top and moss carefully packed in between the logs which were then covered with tar paper. Brush completely covered the roof.

On opening the small door of the cabin the officers found the place completely deserted. The reason for this, stated one of the officers, was that the premises had been the talk of the district for sometime, and its occupants had left it, temporarily until the mash was ready for completing moonshine operations.

Found the Makings

On each side of this cabin of twelve feet by twenty feet, were a number of barrels on racks; and on investigation the officers found four barrels containing altogether about two hundred gallons of mash, two barrels of water and one barrel to be set up. Seven empty tubs were found, but a big boiling tank which occupied the middle of the floor was empty.

The mash was composed of composition of wheat, barley and water in steep. The officers found it impossible to convey the barrels through the dense thicket; and so, after taking a sample of their mash content, they destroyed it, breaking and burning up the barrels, together with other combustible parts of the distilling apparatus. However, they succeeded in bringing back to Peterborough, the large boiling apparatus and the bottle of mash.

Culprits Unknown

No information has been received yet of the parties, who are complicated in this case of illicit distilling, but the authorities have instituted a thorough investigation and search.

KIWANIS MINSTRELS TO APPEAR HERE NEXT WEEK

Mr. Martin Chenhall has successfully converted fifty local business men into one of the best minstrel shows that has come down the pike in many years. They are called the Kiwanis Club Minstrels.

On November 29th and 30th they will perform in the Grand Opera House, and the proceeds will be used for work among underprivileged boys of Peterborough.

Music critics in Toronto, New York, Lakefield, London and Scott's Corners are so impressed with the advance notices of tha Kiwanis Minstrels, they have decided to visit Peterborough on the opening night and write up the big show for their respective papers.

SAYS CANADA IS WELL EQUIPPED IN ASTRONOMY.

OTTAWA, Nov. 23.—Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of Harvard College Observatory at Camridge, Mass., in his lecture before Royal Astronomical Society here, last night paid glowing tribute to work of Dominion Observatory at Victoria. He said no other country was so effectively and successfully carrying on work of astronomy as was Canada.

WATCH FOR IT!

The readers of The Examiner will undoubtedly like the new story in 25 instalments to start on Saturday next.

This is a perfect detective story in the premier class, and credited by literary critics as being absolutely the best mystery yarn since Sherlock Holmes quit drawing on his versatile initiative.

"The Red House Mystery" is the name of this new murder serial of a novel by Heywood Brown, which, from the first chapter to the last, offers the expectant reader many a startling climax emanating from a practical application of the science of logical conclusion based on deduction.

And when such men as J. Pierpont Morgan, a financier wrapped up in economics, can find pleasurable relaxation in devoting an hour or two to "The Red House Mystery," The Examiner presents the same detective fiction to its readers, confident that thir verdict will commend the serial as being a good story well written, and in an interest-holding category of its very own.

ROADS SYSTEM EXPLAINED BY HON. MR. BIGGS

The Minister of Highways Warmly Welcomed by More That 100 Peterboro Men at Banquet.

HIS OWN SCHEME

In a comprehensive review that may also have been intended as a defence of his road building policy, the Hon. F. C. Biggs, Minister of Highways in the Ontario Government, gave an impressive and convincing account of his stewardship to a large assembly at the Empress Hotel last night. He was the guest of the city and county councils, and Chamber of Commerce, whose reception to the Minister was a notable success. Hon. Mr. Biggs revealed in his address a broad conception of Ontario's highway requirements, a grasp of the details of his department and its work, and an idealism that was indicated by his reference to the planting of parallel rows of trees along all the provincial highways.

He intimated in a modest way that when he was appointed to the Cabinet he decided upon a policy in 1920 which he had strictly adhered to, with the result that toward the end of 1923 the entire designated system of provincial highways will be completely installed. Mr. Biggs expressed a doubt as to whether the preceding government had a definite highways policy. He concluded his exposition with a survey of Ontario's rapidly increasing tourist traffic and its value to the people of this province.

Mayor Taylor presided with the Minister on his right and Warden J. C. Strickland at his left. Others at the head table Judge Huycke, T. Tooms, M.L.A., Ernest McDonald, M.L.A., J. A. Brethen, M.P., E. M. Elliott, H. J. Humphrey, assistant general passenger agent of the C.P.R G. A. Gillespie, G. K. Fraser, R. R. Hall, A. L. Killaly, J. J. Duffus, J. Patte.

The Toast List.

The Toast to the King, was proposed by Mayor Taylor, who also formally welcomed the Hon. Mr. Biggs to Peterboro. His Honor Judge Huycke gave the toast to the guest of the evening; "The Dominion of Canada" was proposed by Warden Strickland, and responded to by G. A. Brethen; "The Province of Ontario," proposed by Mr. Duffus, and replied to by Mr. Tooms and Mr. McDonald, and the last toast "Canadian Railways" by Ald. Turner, was responded to by Mr. Humphrey, Mr. Fulton, District Passenger Agent, and Mr. Main, Divisional Superintendent.

Snelgrove's orchestra played during the dinner, and the postorandial programme included several vocal selections by Mr. Douglas Carlisle, and piano solos by Mr. Leslie Unitt.

"The reception you gave me today was the kindest I could possibly expect, and I thank you most cordially for it," said Mr. Biggs in acknowledging the toast. Referring to Peterborough district, he remarked that the general improvement in the standard of roads and road

Chokers Again Popular

The latest fashion news from France stresses the importance of the collar. Sleeves, which held the spotlight for a couple of seasons, are still important, but now all the Parisian designers have begun experimenting with collars and necklines of various kinds.

Their early-season offerings—the V-shaped and the deep Bertha collars illustrated were enthusiastically accepted in America and are very fashionable for fall.

Now comes the news that high collars are advocated. Every designer seems determined to invent some sort of high collar that resembles the Victorian choker which our mothers wore. As yet they have been adopted only on a few dresses, a it coats and winter wraps.

POWERS STAND AGAINST TURKS AT CONFERENCE

Question of the Disposal of Western Thrace May Prove a Big Bone of Contention at Lausanne

NOT YET DECIDED.

LAUSANNE, Nov. 23. —(Canadian Press.) — Turkey found the Great Powers of Europe arrayed against her yesterday on the question of western Thrace, on which she demands a plebiscite, and Greece, helpless and beaten by the armies of the Ottoman State, left a rather heated afternoon session of the Near East Conference with the feeling that she is not so abandoned as she feared.

The Turkish plenipotentiaries returned to their hotel looking dejected. One of them said: "They were all against us on the Thracian issue to-day, but it is not yet decided; we shall probably have something more to say to-morrow."

The Bulgarian Premier, Alexander Stamboulisky, explained Bulgaria's necessity to have an outlet to the Aegan Sea at Dedeagatch, already promised by treaty. Greece has admitted her obligation to grant Bulgaria port rights at Dedagatch, but has explained that her war with Turkey prevented realization until now. Stamboulisky was inclined to support the idea of making western Thrace autonomous, but the trend of the Allied leaders' speeches was opposed to this.

While hostile to a plebiscite, the Entente favored demilitarization of a considerable zone on the right bank of the Maritza River, which divides western from eastern Thrace, so that danger of an armed conflict between the Greeks and the Turks in the future would be lessened.

The former Grecian Premier, Eliptherios Venizelos, was at his best in defending the interests of his country. He frankly admitted that Greec had made mistakes and added that she had suffered severely as a consequence of these mistakes.

The burden of the Turks' arguments was that possession of both eastern and western Thrace was necessary to make Constantinople safe for Turkey and prevent incursions into Turkish territory.

Lord Curzon, M. Barrere and Marquis Garoni spoke respectively for England, France and Italy.

The Thracian problem will be attacked again to-day by Ismet Pasha.

The arrival of M. Vorovsky, the Russian Commissary at Rome, indicates that Bolshevik Russia has accepted the invitation to come to Lausanne and discuss the problem of the Dardanelles. It is reported that Christian Rakovsky, president of the Ukraine Soviet Republic, and M. Tchitcherin, Russian Soviet Foreign Minster, will also come here.

SPEEDERS SEE THE SPEEDERS' VICTIMS

Seven Men Serving Sentences For Reckless Driving Were Taken Through the Morgue at Detroit.

DETROIT, Nov. 23.—(Canadian Press.)— In a patrol wagon that clanged its gong with the slow regularity of a funeral bell, seven men convicted as automobile speeders were taken yesterday to the County Morgue to view the bodies of three persons killed by motor cars.

The visit to the Morgue was ordered by Judge Charles L. Bartlett, who is furthering his drive against reckless driving, last week took a larger party to a hospital to view victims of less serious accidents.

None of the seven in yesterday's party had any connection with the mishaps that resulted in the deaths of the persons whose bodies they saw.

At the Morgue Judge Bartlett delivered a sharp denunciation of then were taken to jail to serve sentreckless motorists. The seven men ences of from one to ten days in addition to paying fines ranging from $50 to $100.

BRITISH INSURANCE COMPANIES IN LEAD.

Have Best of Business in China With Americans Good Second.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 23.—(Special)—M. Robjohn, a fire insurance agent from Shanghai, who arrived Monday night on the Empress of Asia, stated that fire fighting apparatus of most modern description had been installed in that city, where only motor equipment is used. In Kankow British, Russian, French and Japanese concessions maintain separate volunteer fire brigades. The British use practically all motor equipment. Mr. Robjohn stated that fire hazards in China were naturally very great, with whole streets of flimsy houses and never a fire wall. He represents a group of Norwegian Insurance Companies and will only accept hand picked risks. He states that British insurance companies have the strongest hold in China, with the United States companies a good second. His own companies have only been operating for three years with considerable success. In Shanghai a fire boat does excellent work in protecting the docks and shipping.

Sixty Known To Be Dead and Over Two Hundred Missing As The Result of a Terrific Explosion Of Dust in An Iron Mine at Dolomite, Ala.

Fire Followed the Explosion and Added to Horrors of the Disaster — Rescue Workers Are Busy Bringing Out the Dead and Injured—400 Miners Were Below Ground When Accident Occurred.

CAUSED BY RUNAWAY TRAIN.

BIRMINGHAM, Alabama, November 23 (Canadian Press). — Sixty miners are known to be dead and the fate of 215 others entombed in No. 3 Mine of the Woodward Iron Company at Dolomite, was regarded as uncertain by rescue crews, who early last night augmented their forces for exploration of all the entries of the pit.

One hundred and twenty-five men out of a total of 400 in the mine when it was partly wrecked by a dust explosion at 2.40 o'clock yesterday afternoon, were removed late in the day from the pit by means of a manway connecting Mines 2 and 3 of the Woodward Company.

Fifty of the men were reported injured, a few seriously.

Rescue workers reported that the number of dead would probably run high, it being believed that many of the remaining 215 unaccounted for would be found dead or injured.

Fire which followed the explosion hindered the work of rescue, and was believed to have been responsible for many deaths.

The injured among the first men rescued were removed to Bessemer hospitals.

Half of the men are white. As the work of rescue progressed, reports brought to the surface grew less hopeful. One squad of workers reported seeing bodies "strewn all along the main passageway."

As darkness came on, women and children, white and black, crowded closer about the mine anxiously waiting, in common horror, word from the pit. The injured were being removed by rescue crews, while the undertakers' assistants were preparing for the removal of the dead found in the entries nearest the manway.

No attempt at identification of the dead or seriously wounded had been made, the work of emergency relief claiming first attention. All the doctors and nurses in the community have been marshalled to care for the wounded.

The American Red Cross sent a corps of nurses and assistants to the scene of the disaster. Ambulance services armed with lung motors also joined the rescuers.

At the company's office it was stated that out of 475 men who checked in for work yesterday 400 were underground when the explosion occurred.

According to mine offirials, a broken electric circuit caused by the runaway of a train of trip cars was responsible for ignition of the dust.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., November 23 (Canadian Press). — Out of 400 men entombed yesterday afternoon by a dust explosion in Woodward Iron Company's No. 3 Mine, at olomite, 125 have been rescued.

Some of these are injured, a few seriously.

Of the 275 remaining in the mine, it was stated by rescue parties, that as many as 100 were probably dead and the remainder were believed to have been injured.

One miner rescued said he saw twenty bodies lying in the main entry.

The fans were reported working, and hopes were held out that some of the remaining number in the mine might be rescued alive.

Rescue work is under the direction of Ed. Flynn, head of the Safety Department of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company.

Frank. H. Crockard, president of the Woodward Company, is directing the work of rescue on the outside of the pit. A midway between No. 2 and No. 3 mines permitted the rescue workers to remove 125 men.

The injured were rushed to a hospital at Bessemer.

The Bessemer Fire Department was called to the mine, but was powerless to aid in checking the fire.

At the mine office it was stated that 475 men "checked in" yesterday morning. Of this number, it was estimated 75 worked on the outside of the pit.

The largest hospital at Bessemer received word to "prepare all available beds for the injured."

Ambulances carrying emergency crews and lung motors are being sent from Birmingham and Bessemer to the mine.

Rescue parties were instructed to remove the injured before removing bodies. This delayed the work of checking the dead.

Most of the dead are believed to be negroes.

Estimates at six o'clock were that 100 men were dead, and it was feared that many of the estimated 275 remaining in the pit were injured.

The accident was said to have been caused by a train of trip cars striking electric wiring while running wild.

Undertakers' assistants entering the pit through the manway between Mines Nos. 1 and 2 said they saw 40 bodies.

Women and children waited anxiously about the mouth of the mine for word of their loved ones.

Ascension Island is Not the Spot Wher Childers is Detained

LONDON, Nov. 23.— (Canadian Press.)—The Colonial Office yesterday afternoon denied that Erskine Childers had been sent by the Provisional Irish Free State Government to Ascension Island in the South Atlantic, as rumoured in Belfast, although the officials declined to state where he was being held.

"Ascension Island," is believed to be merely a slang name for one of the islands off the Irish Coast, which is being used by the Free Staters as a detention camp.

JAZZY MUSIC FOR SARNIA INDIANS

Dusky Braves and Squaws Celebrate the Sale of Their Lands By Lavish Purchases.

SARNIA, Ont, Nov. 23—(Canadian Press).—The celebration at the arnia Indian reserve continues following the receipt of $200,000 paid for land by the Dominion Alloy Steel Corporation divided among 345 members of the reserve. Braves and squaws alike are spending the evening hours listening to the latest jazz records on the victrolas which have found their way into a new field. One or two player pianos sold by enterprising salesmen have added to the melody with which the reserve is now flooded and several of the Indians have invested in automobiles. The city streets in the after-noon are well filled with Indian men and women who step out proudly in their newly discovered prosperity. The ladies flaunt their latest colors and styles in dresses and wraps and the men folk do not trouble to remove the bands of expensive cigars which seem to be very popular with them. There is $1,000,000 held in reserve by the Department of Indian Affairs, which cannot be spent, however.

MUSSOLINI WILL RETURN TO ROME.

LAUSANNE, Nov. 23.—(Canadian Press.)—Premier Mussolini left for Rome last night, Lord Curzon, M. Barrers and M. Bompard seeing him off. As he shook hands with Lord Curzon, the Fascisti leader said laughingly: "I shall not go to London until I have learned English, for I know you Englishmen don't like those who do not speak your language."

Signor Mussolini told the Italian correspondents that he left with a good impression and the hope that peace would soon be concluded. Speaking of the Brussels conference he said that Italy intended to make her voice heard on the question of reparations.

"Germany can, and must pay," he declared, and Italy will join with those who desire to compel her to keep their obligation."

Bishop Cohalan Says Hunger Strikers Are But Self-Murderers

CORK, Nov. 23. —(Canadian Press.)—Bishop Cohalan, preaching in the cathedral and alluding to Mary MacSwiney, characterized "hunger-striking unto death," on one's own private authority as self-murder and a grave violation of the Fifth Commandment, and declared:

"If the Sacraments have been refused her, it is on this account. Absolution cannot be given without the promise of amendment. Nevertheless, on the humanitarian issue, I am prepared to use the influence I may possess, consistent with my duty to the Government, to spare the city such a tragedy."

COAL ARRIVES FOR LAKEFIELD

Anxiety About Fuel Relieved — Taxes Being Paid Freely — News Notes.

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 23—David Saulter of San Francisco, Cal., was in the village on Sunday calling on the Misses Ray.

Robert Webster, collector of taxes is holding his semi-annual reception in the town hall just now and his genial smile upon the appearance of his numerous visitors makes it easier to part with the necessary cash, which for taxes is seldom a cheerful obligation. However, Collector Webster seems pleased and satisfied with the magnitude of his growing pile and the majority of the people one meets coming away from his office appear happy in the reflection of a duty performed.

Mr. W. J. Charlton reports the arrival of another consignment of coal and once more the anxiety about fuel is somewhat relieved, chiefly because there had been a well defined fear that the price of wood would rise in proportion to the scarcity of coal.

Miss Olive Dunford has returned home after visiting in Peterboro.

EMPIRE EXHIBITION IS GOING SMOOTHLY

Sir Edgar Walton Says Only Empire Products Are to Be Used in Connection With Exhibition

LONDON, Nov. 23.— (Canadian Press.)—Various statements in the press indicate that the affairs of the Empire Exhibition are now proceeding more smoothly. The high commissioners of the Dominions have been added to the management committee of the executive council and are thus able to submit their views directly to the executive.

Sir Edgar Walton who has been appointed to represent South Africa on the committee was interviewed yesterday by Reuters with reference to the recent discussions. He said a false impression had been created by statements in the press. Inquiries, he said, on behalf of the high commissioners into the work of preparation for the exhibition had removed any apprehension of danger that the interests of the Empire were being neglected.

"It is a British Empire exhibition," said Edgar, "and the rule has been laid down that only Empire products will be used in connection therewith."

Sir Edgar Walton, was pleased that the Duke of Devonshire had accepted a responsible position in connection with the undertaking. He was sure the Dominion high commissioners would loyally support the executive in bringing to a most successful issue this most promising scheme.

FEDERATION OF COLLEGES WILL SOON BE FACT

Plan Has Been Drawn Up For the Consolidation of All Colleges in Maritime Provinces.

TO BE ACCEPTED.

HALIFAX, N.S., Nov. 23.—(Canadian Press.)— Representatives of the Universities of Acadia, Dalhousie, King's, Mount Allison, Pine Hill, and New Brunswick, the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Halifax, and the Government of Nova Scotia yesterday agreed uopn a scheme of federation which while not binding upon the constituencies of each, would in their judgment, meet the requirements of all. In addition to the above announcement given out at the close of the concluding session yesterday afternoon of the two days' committee meeting held at the Province Building here, it was stated that the scheme agreed upon would be in the hands of all members of the general conference by November 28, two weeks before the scheduled meeting of that body on December 12. It will be the duty of the conference to pass on the scheme agreed upon yesterday, for submission to the governing board of the various colleges involved. While the details of the plan were not announced the opinion was freely expressed that a great step forward had been made in the development of the federation idea.

SAY EQUAL RIGHTS FOR BOTH SEX IN DIVORCE

Justice Galt Cannot See Why Same Rule Should Not Apply.

Justic Galt of Winnipeg contends that, with the franchise extended to women, placing them in many respects on the same footing as men, that the divorce law should give equal rights to both men and women. In the past a man could divorce his wife much more easily than a woman colud divorce her husband. This law is out of date says Justice Galt, for it is difficul to see why any different rule should be applied to a husband to that applied to his wife in deciding upon a question of his conduct.

WITHIN THIRTY DAYS.

When it comes to real democratic government and a quick response to the will of the people, it is evident that the British constitution is on a plane by itself so far as smoothness in functioning is concerned.

Within thirty days a Ministry which had long been in power has been overthrown, a new Cabinet selected, Parliament dissolved, an election campaign held and the new Parliament has come together ready to go on with the country's business.

It was as late as Oct. 19th when the Conservative support was withdrawn from Lloyd George. The Government at once resigned and Bonar Law was called upon to form a new Government. A few days later Parliament dissolved. The election only lasted two weeks, was carried out with a minimum of disturbance so far as business was involved, the people have made their choice and the new Government is firmly in the saddle.

It takes us in Canada longer than that to run a by-election in a single constituency, while a general election in the United States means uncertainty, turmoil, disturbance and uproar for many months.

The Mothers of Parliaments can still teach the world a lot.

A BOYCOTT WILL STOP HIM.

That American citizens are indignant over the action of the authorities in allowing Lieut.-Captain Van Meucke, second in command of the notorious German raider Emden to lecture in the United States is not to be wondered at, although the gall of this officer in attempting to commercialize a recital of feats which injured the cause of the Allies, perhaps is.

Van Meucke is to be permitted to give his lectures unless they result in disturbances.

It would seem the better policy to prevent disturbances rather than wait for them

However, the people of the United States need not resort to violence in attempting to stop this German commerce raider.

They have a much more powerful weapon at hand.

Let them remain away from Van Meucke's lectures and they'll soon put an end to his talking.

A conspiracy of silence on the part of the press and a general decision on the part of people to boycott Herr Van Meucke will effectually end the lecture tour.

It is a commercial proposition, and if the gate receipts are small not many cities will be bothered by a visit from this German propagandist.

THE SOUTHERN MIGRATION.

It is gratifying to hear that Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of Immigration, is considering the problem represented by the exodus of native-born Canadians to the United States, and that officers of his department are devoting much time to investigating the matter and seeking some means of checking the movement.

Canadians have migrated to the United States for the first five months of this year at the rate of 10,000 a month, and there is no reason to hope that the average per month for the whole of 1922 will fall below that figure.

It is a matter in which Canadians generally should interest themselves, for it is plain that there is little use in bringing in new citizens from overseas without trying to stop the drain upon our population caused by the expatriation of our own sons and daughters.

Like every other centre, Peterborough has felt the effects of this migration to the neighborly Republic during the past few months.

Scores, possibly hundreds, of Peterborough workmen have drifted to Detroit, Flint and other American cities.

Some of them come back from time to time as industrial conditions at home improve, but others are lost to Peterborough permanently—and Peterborough can ill afford to lose such citizens.

True, the problem cannot be called a new one, but it is present in an aggravated form just now, and if the Minister of Immigration and his assistants can devise some plan by which this exodus can at least be partially stopped, they will have done a splendid thing for Canada.

THE KU KLUX KLAN.

There is something fantastic about the state of affairs in Louisiana, says the Montreal Star. The recently resuscitated Ku Klux Klan, it appears, has been making efforts, partially successful, to terrorize the State Government into inactivity, terrify the courts into silence, and usurp all active functions of legislation, and hold certain territory in its "invisible grip." The Governor of the State has laid the facts before President Harding and is seeking Federal co-operation in crushing the Klan. But for the tangible evidence of the facts, it would almost seem as though we were reading a novel by Max Pemberton. There is something incredible about the whole story. It seems so far removed from possibility that in the great United States an invisible power, wielded by a secret organization, should be able to defy constituted law and authority and try to substitute its own arbitrary rule of terror. Yet that is exactly what is happening in the once proud State of Louisiana, according to all accounts.

It is undoubtedly no concern of ours if a number of gentlemen from Louisiana dressed in their spare nightgowns have frightened the Governor of Louisiana into seeking aid to discharge a job he was sworn—and paid—to do. Montreal's concern in the matter is confined to remembering that certain addle-pated citizens of this place are reported to have met half a dozen times in a north end quarry some months ago and organized, or attempted to organize, a branch of the Klan in Montreal.

Happily it came to nothing—happily, that is for the organizers. We in this country are not given to "Invisible Empires," "Eyes that Never Sleep" and similar clap-trap. Shirt-tail administration, with the silly mummery of the burlesque-melodrama page do not greatly appeal to us. The time to stop that sort of potentially dangerous balderdash is before it starts.

MOB VIOLENCE.

In another article in this column today reference is made to the exodus of Canadians to the United States.

Undoubtedly the Republic offers many advantages to its citizens, but there are times when it seems as if every Canadian should be thankful that he is living in a country where law and order prevail and where mob rule is unknown.

The American record in this respect is not one in which a great deal of pride can be taken.

Although the United States is supposed to be a law-abiding country, respecting the liberty of the people and recognizing the right of every man to have a fair trial, figures gathered by the American Civil Liberties' Union as to mob violence in the twenty-one months between Sept. 1, 1920, and June 1, 1922, seem to indicate that a large section of the American people seem to have forgotten the liberties and rights of others.

In that period no fewer than 800 people were the victims of attacks by mobs.

Eighty-five were murdered by lynching parties, 51 were tarred and feathered, 127 were flogged and the remainder escaped with forcible deportation.

Chivalry did not enter into the proceedings at all, for it is recorded that five victims of mob violence were women.

Nor is the somewhat general idea that only negroes in the United States are in danger of attacks of this kind confirmed by the official figures, which show that fewer than one-third of the total were coloured.

We should be thankful that under the Union Jack there is none of this sort of thing.

Canadians have confidence in the administration of the law and are satisfied to let justice take its course, realizing that mob judgment is not to be relied upon, nor is mob justice to be regarded as a desirable substitute for the ordinary brand.

AGENTS OF PEACE.

Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States, speaking at the 25th anniversary celebrations of the Victorian Club in Boston last week, declared that "indefinite continuance of peace on earth depends on the unity of the English-speaking nations." The President of the club had proposed the toast of "The British Empire," a toast which Sir Auckland said he more enjoyed responding to when in the United States than any other, for it gave him "an opportunity to thank the founders of the United States for founding the British Empire." The British Empire, he said, rested upon the battle of Yorktown, the most decisive battle the world had ever known. It was not till the thirteen colonies had gained their firm government that the British Empire was really founded. "The rulers of that day were at last convinced that what they had been trying to do was impossible. Before that, there had been many British territories partly peopled in different parts of the world, but from that moment the British Empire has gone forward. And it was well, from the point of view of the English-speaking people over all the vast extent of territory which they occupy today, that there was a separation—that there were two centres of English-speaking culture established—two centres of expansion of the English-speaking peoples instituted."

This is the viewpoint of a generous-minded British statesman, which admirably expresses the real sentiments of the two countries at the present time. Apart from the irreconcilable element—the unappeasable Anglophobes—the feelings of the people of the United States, the true Americans, are sympathetic to the historic ties which bind them to the parent stock. Co-operation between the Empire and the United States, in the way Sir Auckland Geddes mentions, is recognized by an important section to be essential to the fulfillment of the great work which the English-speaking nations are destined to accomplish. The growth of democratic government and personal liberty is the common contribution of the English-speaking peoples to mankind. That work is not yet consummated, and it requires the joint effort of all branches of the family group to bring it to completion.

Each race, along its own distinctive path, has pressed forward to the goal. Britain has learnt much from the United States, and the United States has made good use of the heritage it acquired from Britain. "It is easy to overlook the debt to the English-speaking culture that has grown from the British centre," said Sir Auckland Geddes; "it is easy to overlook the debt the British commonwealth of nations owes to the United States. It owes a tremendous strengthening of its own understanding of liberty under the law, developed because of the force of tradition and the existence of the ancient institutions. We have also to recognize that into the common stream of ideas about the treatment of the less advanced peoples there has come a great contribution, especially in the later years, from this country. The British Empire has benefited enormously from those ideals."—Hamilton Spectator.

It is claimed that the Edmonton rugby team will be "pie" for Eastern teams—probably "Eskimo pie."

A Michigan man has just paid $50,000 for a single strawberry plant. A box of berries from a plant like that would be about the same price as radium.

Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the British Labour party, may have been a pacificist during the war, but he is likely to prove a fighter in Parliament.

His American audience on Tuesday night found that Clemenceau is after all "The Tiger of France" for he told them a few plain truths, rather more frankly than they have been accustomed to have such matters referred to by public speakers.

HAPPINESS.

I asked a sage old man who had lived a hundred years,
Who knew our human pleasures and who knew our human tears,
To explain to me the riddle of every clime and race:
Why happiness is often found in an unexpected place.

But he only made this answer as he smiled with kind old eyes:
"Fools alone are happy—and the very wise."

CHICAGO WHEAT.

CHICAGO, November 23. Canadian Press. — Wheat underwent a decided setback in prices yesterday, owing largely to an unexpected decline in Liverpool quotations as well as New York Stock Market weakness and disquieting reports about British unemployment conditions. The close was unsettled, 1c to 1 7-8c net lower, with May $1.16 5-8 to $1.16 3-4, and July $1.08 to $1.08 1-8. Corn lost 7-8c to 1 1-8c and oats 3-8c to 1-2c. In provisions the outcome varied from 5c decline to a rise of 2 1-2c.

Weakness developed at the outset in wheat because Liverpool advices showed that the market there was antagonistic to an advancing tendency which values displayed yesterday on this side of the Atlantic. Bearish reports about the domestic winter crop outlook counted further as a weight on the market. Nevertheless rallies gained considerable impetus in the middle of the session as a result of predictions which were circulated that comprehensive plans would soon be announced for United States government assistance in disposing of surplus food products abroad.

British Tribute to The Unknown Dead

WASHINGTON, November 23. — Canadian Press. — Among the fading tributes to the Unknown Soldier laid on the tomb at Arlington cemetery on Armistice Day, more than a week ago, is one great wreath bearing the legend "In Undying Memory" and below the inscription that it came from the British Embassy. And only now has it become known that with solemn ceremony on that day the British Officials paid the tribute to the heroic dead.

The visit to the tomb of the American Unknown was unheralded, and timed exactly to coincide with the ceremony of the day at Westminster Abbey. For two minutes the group stood rigidly at attention at the grave of the United States comrade in the great fraternity of hero dead, then turned back to the ordinary things of life.

When Jack Frost Speaks--

When Jack Frost speaks, it's time to go back again to vests and top coats.

So it is with the car user; open car driving ceases to be a pleasure soon after the first appearance of frost.

Do with your open car the same as you do with your straw hat and Palm Beach suit—lay it up for the winter.

Buy a Ford Coupe or Sedan and ride in comfort all winter. The cost is low and the upkeep is nothing compared with what it would cost to run a big car all winter. Terms if you desire.

SCHEDULE FOR DEBATING BY THE U.F.Y.P.O.

Competitions Arranged For the Coming Winter in East Peterborough—Time and Place.

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 23.— East Peterborough County United Farm Young People found so much fun and instruction in their debating competition last winter, that at their annual convention on November 11, arrangements were made for another competition in the same class.

Topics were chosen by number from the leaflet "Debates, Plays and Community Music" prepared by Prof. O. J. Stevenson of the O.A.C. copies of which can be gotten from the Department of Agriculture, Toronto, Ontario.

These topics were arranged in a unique manner. The numbers were written on small slips of paper and shaken up in a hat. The representatives of the visiting team in each debate drew a slip containing a number. This number was that of the topic (from the leaflet "Debates, Plays, etc.") for that debate. It had been previously arranged that the visiting team in each debate should have the affirmative side of the topic.

Eight of the ten clubs in the County have been included in the schedule.

"Dear Mr. and Mrs. Moore—We, the members of the choir and of the Willing Workers' Bible Class, gather here to-night to express, in some way, our appreciation of your help and faithfulness in the past. We have all missed you, Mrs. Moore, from the choir, as you were always present to sing God's praises. We sincerely hope you will continue to take an active part in the work of the church. It may cause you, at times, effort and inconveniences, but you will be rewarded some day.

"We ask you to accept this clock and fern-pot, as a token of our love and in rememberance of the good times we have spent together. And may our Heavenly Father guide you both, in each step of life's remaining path.

"(Signed on behalf of choir and class.) Mrs. George Taylor; James Hawthorne."
